Jesus was able to be tempted just as we are. The devil tempted Him in the wilderness for forty days (see Matthew 4:1-11 and Luke 4:3-12). "For we have not an high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin" (Hebrews 4:15). That Scripture should be a tremendous encouragement to you if you are struggling with an area of sin in your life! Jesus, who now lives inside you, faced that temptation and overcame it. He obviously knows how to overcome it, and He will help you overcome it.

Hebrews 2:16-17:

For verily he took not on him the nature of angels; but he took on him the seed of Abraham. Wherefore in all things it behoved him to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people.

If Jesus ministered in ways that you never could, He was not made like unto His brethren in all things, but only in some things.

If Jesus ministered as God, there would have been no need for Him to pray! Why pray to seek God's will if you already know everything? He would not have found a solitary place to pray (Mark 1:35), stayed up all night praying before choosing His disciples (Luke 6:12), or prayed in the garden of Gethsemane (Luke 22:41, Luke 22:44). In particular, he would not have had to deal with His body that did not want to be tortured and crucified.

Philippians 2:7 says that Jesus "emptied Himself" (this is the basic meaning of the Greek word that is translated "made himself of no reputation" in the King James Version; most other translations, including Young's Literal Translation, actually use the words "emptied Himself") and took upon him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men. He emptied Himself of any advantage He had as God. He was still God when He walked the earth, but He was not allowed to take advantage of that fact during His walk here. He had to be under our limitations.

Jesus said that the Son could do nothing of Himself, but what he saw the Father do (John 5:19). That could not have been true if He ministered as the omnipotent God.

God had to anoint Jesus with the Holy Spirit and with power (Acts 10:38). If He ministered as God, this would have been unnecessary. He could have just done whatever He wanted anyway with His infinite power.

If He Did It, You Can Do It

Now that we have established that Jesus ministered as a man anointed by the Holy Spirit, we should consider that the same Holy Spirit who anointed Jesus is now in us. That is why we can do the works of Jesus.

His Disciples Healed, but They Were Not the Son of God

The Twelve were not the Son of God, but they healed the sick everywhere. Peter was not the Son of God, but people got healed when his very shadow passed over them (Acts 5:12-16). Paul was not the Son of God, but when even handkerchiefs and aprons were taken from his body to the sick, they were healed (Acts 19:11-12). Every sick person on the island of Melita was healed through Paul (Acts 28:8-9). Philip was not the Son of God, but he got many lame people healed in Samaria (Acts 8:5-8). Stephen was not the Son of God, but he did great wonders and miracles among the people (Acts 6:8). The disciples whom Christ commissioned healed in His name, but they were not the Son of God themselves. Therefore, it is not necessary to be the Son of God to perform healing miracles. Therefore Christ's miracles did not have to be done on the basis of His being the Son of God. He did what He did through the "finger of God" – the Holy Spirit, who is the same Holy Spirit who indwells believers today.

You Have the Same Faith that Jesus Had

God gives to every man the measure (a fixed portion) of faith (Romans 12:3). Jesus had to play by our rules when He became a Man. If God gave Jesus more faith than He gave the rest of us, God cheated and Jesus was not truly Man, so we could never hope to do what He did. But the FACT that you have the SAME measure of faith that He had is yet another reason that you can do what He did. Jesus may have USED His faith more than you have so far, but that doesn't mean that you can't start using it more now!

You Are A Son of God

You are not THE Son of God, but you are A son of God if you're a believer! God is your Father too! That is why Jesus can call you His brother (Hebrews 2:11) and why God can call Him the firstborn of many brethren (Romans 8:29)! Jesus showed what was possible for a child of God to do, and now that you're a child of God, you can do the works that He did!

He Said to Do It!

Jesus' clear command was that we were to lay hands on the sick as He did. Signs and wonders are to follow the preaching of the gospel. The preaching of the gospel is still for today, so signs to confirm the gospel are still for today as well.

This is why Jesus said that it was expedient that He go away so that the Holy Spirit would come (John 16:7). Now we can be everywhere doing the works that He did through the same Spirit. If this were not so, it would not have been expedient for Him to go away, and the sick would have been better off if He were still on the earth!

Objection: We Cannot Heal as Jesus Did Because He Had the Spirit without Measure, While We Have the Spirit Given by Measure

In the verse that the objector used to “prove” this, the King James translators added a couple of words that are not in the original Greek. The verse taken as-is without the embellishment actually tells us the opposite of what most people think it says:

John 3:34:

For he whom God hath sent speaketh the words of God: for God giveth not the Spirit by measure unto him.

The original Greek says simply that God does not give the Spirit by measure. “Unto him” was an idea that the translators added and so admitted by italicizing the words. Most translations other than the King James Version (including the NKJV) correctly omit the words unto him. So the verse actually says the OPPOSITE of what the King James Version says when it comes to having a measure of the Holy Spirit.

Since when is the Holy Spirit divisible? You either have the Holy Spirit or you don’t. The fact is that the same Holy Spirit who worked through Jesus works through you if you are born again and baptized with the Holy Spirit. You do not have some watered-down Holy Spirit Lite. You don’t have a 2.86% measure or a 53.17% measure or any other partial measure of the Miracle-Working Holy Spirit! You have the same Spirit who did miracles through Jesus Christ and raised Him from the dead! God wants you to walk full of the Spirit, not half-full or full only to a measure.

The conclusion you would reach from the misinterpretation of this verse is that we could perhaps collectively do the works of Jesus as a body, but not individually. Yet Jesus definitely applied this individually in John 14:12-14. He said, “He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he [not ye collectively!] do also.” This does mean that you will do them all day long, but it definitely means that you can do the works that He did.

Another wrong conclusion would be that Jesus healed all because he flowed in the gifts of healings without measure, but no individual minister today can expect to see all healed. That flies in the face of the Bible records of Peter getting all healed in Jerusalem (Acts 5:12-16) and Paul getting all healed on the island of Melita (Acts 28:8-9). These men, supposedly (per the objection), had the Spirit only by measure, yet they got “all” the people healed just as Jesus got “all” the people healed in some places where He ministered. When you see what John 3:34 really says, it makes sense. They had the Spirit given to them just as Jesus had the Spirit given to Him, so they had the same results.

When Jesus sent His disciples out to preach, He gave them authority over all diseases. He did not delegate authority over certain diseases to certain disciples. They all had authority over all of them.

Jesus did not promise that everyone would be called to a healing ministry like His, but He did promise that a sign that follows them that believe is that they will lay hands on the sick and they shall recover (Mark 16:18). God uses certain people to minister healing a lot because He called them to that ministry. However, God can still work healings and miracles through you. Stephen was a deacon whose job involved only natural responsibilities. Yet He did great wonders and miracles (Acts 6:8) without an ordination because he was full of faith, power, and the Holy Spirit.

Not all will flow in the gifts of healings or working of miracles, but all who believe have the right to lay hands on the sick and expect them to recover. Not all will be called to have a ministry majoring on healing, but all have the right to do the works of Jesus, including healing the sick. You can see some marvelous results simply by laying hands on the sick in faith, without any special manifestation of the gifts of the Spirit.

Objection: 1 Corinthians 12:10 Says that Today Only SOME Receive Dunamis (Power)

The objector knows enough Greek to get himself into trouble but not back out again. The “rational” reasoning could be, “Because the word dunamis is translated power, and 1 Corinthians 12:10 says that to ANOTHER is given dunamis, it must be mean that only some, not all, receive dunamis as the Spirit wills.”

The weak Greek argument comes from not actually checking out the usage of the word dunamis in the New Testament. It CAN be translated as power, and it is so translated about 2/3 of the times when it appears. But it is also translated “mighty deeds” or something similar quite a bit also. 1 Corinthians 12:10 does not say that to another is given dunamis (power). It says that to another is given the working of miracles, where the dunamis is the word translated miracles. The word translated working of (energema) means “operation” – it is the same word used in 1 Corinthians 12:6 that is translated operations. So 1 Corinthians 12:10 does not mean that only some people receive dunamis – it means that some people have a special grace given as a gift, operated as the Spirit wills, to perform special miracles – to “operate” miracles.

However, Jesus made it clear in Acts 1:8, where the word dunamis is translated power, that any believer who receives the baptism with the Holy Spirit receives power (dunamis). This is available not just for some, but for all – “even as many as the Lord our God shall call” (Acts 2:39). While there will be some operations distinctive to certain individuals, ANYONE can receive dunamis.

It is true that only SOME receive it, but not for the reason the objector claims. It is just that many Christians never receive the baptism with the Holy Spirit, so they live powerless lives when they could be walking in the same power that flowed through Jesus during His earthly ministry.

At least this objection is an improvement over many objections that claim that NO ONE has dunamis (power) anymore!

Objection: Teaching that YOU Can Heal Is Heresy that Deifies You – Only GOD Can Heal

Anyone who believes this belies his own objection when he goes to the doctor! If only GOD can heal, going to a doctor is useless – you would have to go only to God, who alone can heal. Yet some of these objectors claim that divine healing has passed away and that today, God only uses doctors. How pitifully inconsistent!

I can hear them now, “All healing comes ultimately from God, so if a doctor cures you, God still gets the glory because He used that doctor.” Well, why not be consistent for a change and allow that we could say, “All healing comes ultimately from God, so if a Christian cures you, God still gets the glory because He used that Christian.”

If only God can heal, teaching doctors to heal people for years in universities is heresy that deifies them. We can throw this same argument back at the objector. The doctor does not have to be God to give you natural medicine to heal you. The Christian does not have to be God to minister supernatural healing in the name of Jesus. We certainly make no claim to deity – the three positions of the Trinity are filled and there will never be any openings there.

I think what irks those with this objection is the idea that WE heal people in the name of Jesus. Yet that is exactly what Scripture teaches. It does not say that GOD heals when we ask Him to heal. Asking Him to heal is inconsistent with Scripture anyway. Scripture says that WE heal the sick. I know that this is a hard statement for people from traditional backgrounds to follow, but I can absolutely back it up with a lot of Scripture. And I did so in my article YOU Can Do Miracles, so rather than duplicate the proofs cited there, I'll refer you to that article for the sake of space.

Objection: Christ's Healings Were Mostly Instantaneous; We Cannot Claim to Be Able to Do His Works When We Have So Few Instantaneous Miracles

Jesus said that if we believe on Him, we will do the works that He did and greater (John 14:12). If we are not doing His works, the problem is not with Jesus or God; it is with us. Our collective failure to do the works of Christ is not God's fault. This objection must have been written by someone who has not been to any overseas healing crusades in places where they don't listen to ignorant radio programs that attack healing ministers. Go to some third-world countries and preach healing and you'll see plenty of instantaneous miracles. I've gone and I've seen them. So have some of my friends. Perhaps if we are not seeing signs and wonders confirm the gospel, either we are not going anywhere or what we are preaching is not really the whole gospel and God cannot confirm it.

The people who raise objections like this probably never see instantaneous miracles at their own churches. If their teaching consists of objections like this, it is not hard to understand why.

Of course, the works of Jesus were not simply miracles. They also included preaching and teaching. Jesus taught at Nazareth even though He could do no mighty work there (Matthew 13:54-58). Many of us today have to teach at modern-day Nazareths until people drop their traditions of men and believe the truth about healing. A servant is not above his master. You are not going to get Capernaum results in a place where the people have Nazareth faith.

Another problem with this objection is that the New Testament teaches that something you receive by faith now may manifest later. It is not always instant. If it were, there would be no need for patience; faith alone would inherit the promises rather than faith and patience (Hebrews 6:12).

Jesus Himself did not guarantee the instant manifestation of what you receive by faith. In fact, he taught the opposite. Mark 11:23-24 makes it plain that first you believe that you receive and then later you see it. Remember the context of these verses. Jesus cursed a fig tree. It began to wither from the roots immediately, but there was no outward manifestation right away. By the yardstick used in this objection, Jesus Himself was a failure because what He spoke in faith did not fully manifest for a full day. I do not believe that Jesus was a failure because of that.

Do not get all worked up over not seeing an instant healing. There were cases in Jesus' ministry where the healing was not immediate:

In Mark 8:22-25, a blind man received a partial healing and had to be ministered to again before he received a total healing.

In Luke 17:12-19, ten lepers were healed not instantly but "as they went" in faith to show themselves to the priests so that their healings could be confirmed.

In John 4:46-53, the boy “began to amend” (as opposed to receiving an instantaneous miracle) when Jesus spoke in faith.

In John 9:1-7, the blind man was not healed instantly when Jesus ministered to him, but was healed as he obeyed Jesus’ instructions to go and wash in the pool of Sent (Siloam).

At least this objection admits that some healing miracles do occur. (Unless you live in a cave, you have heard about such miracles, too.) The gripe is that there are not more instant miracles. I submit to you that unbelief has polluted much of the land the way it did at Nazareth. With all the books and broadcasts produced against receiving healing by faith, which teach traditions of men instead of the gospel concerning healing, it is amazing that anyone gets healed in some places! Where there was such unbelief, not even Jesus Himself could do miracles. A servant is not greater than his master. If Jesus could not do miracles in the face of unbelief, we cannot do them either. You can counteract ignorance with teaching, but unbelief is a matter of the heart.

Let’s thank God for the instantaneous and more gradual healings that take place, and let’s work to bring our experience up to the Bible standard, rather than excusing ourselves by lowering the Bible standard. We should be seeing more instant miracles today. If I can have anything to do with it, I would like as many people as possible to find out the truth about divine healing so that they will cease to act like the folks in Nazareth and start acting like the ones in Capernaum.

Objection: John 14:12 Does Not Mean that We Can Heal as Jesus Did because NO ONE Has Ever Duplicated His Ministry

By this logic, no one can ever have the dramatic healing ministry that Jesus did, because NO ONE has ever duplicated it so far. So we should throw up our hands and say that healing as Jesus did is unattainable.

By this same logic, we can't expect to be as loving and compassionate as Jesus is, because NO ONE has ever shown as much love and compassion as He did so far. So shall we throw up our hands and say that having the mind of Christ is unattainable because no one has followed in His steps perfectly in the areas of love and compassion? Based on this objector's logic, yes!

By the same logic, we can't expect to walk in total victory over sin, because NO ONE has ever duplicated Jesus' sinless earth walk so far. So shall we throw up our hands and say that the promise of sin having no dominion over us is not really for church people today because no one has followed in His steps perfectly when it comes to resisting sin? Based on this objector's logic, yes!

Even though NO ONE so far has ever measured up fully to Jesus' example, His example should still be our goal. We are supposed to be conformed to Christ's image \(Romans 8:29\). He left us an example, that we should follow in His steps (1 Peter 20-23). We have the same Holy Spirit who did miracles through Jesus. Why would we not expect Him to do them through us?

The fatal weakness of this objection, shared by many other objections, is that it is experience-based. Rather than seeking to elevate our experience to the standard of God's Word, we lower the standard of God's Word to match our experience. If the people in the days of Azusa Street reasoned that no one around was speaking in tongues, so therefore it must not be possible today, there would have been no great revival of the Holy Spirit back then. If Martin Luther reasoned that no one around was getting born again, so therefore that promise was unattainable, there would have been no Protestant Reformation, and the standard today would still be buying indulgences to try to ransom deceased loved ones out of a nonexistent place called Purgatory.

If the reformers of old didn't take the status quo and decide that Scripture was good with it, why should we? It doesn't matter if we've EVER seen a church person heal ANYONE in our day – it would still be right to lay hands on the sick in faith because Jesus said we can do it. His word has to be more convincing to us than human experience so far.

Ministering like Jesus may seem to be a tall order. God doesn't expect someone called to the business world to go around in full-time ministry like Jesus. That individual may not reflect the full ministry of Christ, but corporately, we are to fully represent Christ and all that He did. Not everyone will be called to be a Biblical evangelist and travel around healing the sick as a primary profession. But Christ's Body on the earth is the "fullness (not the partiality) of Him who fills all in all (Ephesians 1:23)! Collectively we should present nothing short of what Jesus presented to the world. We should proclaim that the kingdom is here now and demonstrate it.

I would rather aim for the stars and at least get to the moon than aim for nothing and successfully get there.

While no single person has yet demonstrated the ministry Jesus had, I daresay that His Body on the earth today is collectively getting more sick people healed every day than He did when He walked the shores of Galilee.

Another thing you have to realize is that in Jesus' day, the rule was that "the common people heard him gladly" (Mark 12:37). The best meetings I've ever done are in places that were not part of American mainstream culture where the people heard me gladly. When people hear the Word gladly, there can be all kinds of miracles. But at places like Nazareth, there will be NO miracles, no matter how good or anointed you are. If Jesus COULD NOT do miracles in a place like Nazareth, neither can you, but that does not negate Jesus' promise. Many places today have become such modern-day Nazareths that Jesus Himself would not get any miracles accomplished there. Sometimes it amazes me that ANYONE gets healed given how much unbelief walks around the church world today (at least in some countries) when it comes to healing. Healing is easier in countries and cultures where people are more receptive.

NEVER get your doctrine from other people's experience, even collective experience that is so below the Bible that it seems ridiculous that it could ever change to match Scripture. Scripture, not experience, should give us the sole target to aim at. You may find that God raises up modern-day Luthers to "raise the bar" of Christian experience – in this case, in the area of healing. Better still, perhaps you will be one of those people He raises up!

Objection: John 14:12 in the Greek Is Collective – We Collectively Do Jesus' Works but No One Person Will Do Them

The objector gets an "A" when it comes to realizing that Jesus' works are to be done today by believers. This puts him far ahead of most other objectors. Unfortunately, he gets an "F" in Greek.

I am unaware of even ONE translation (at this writing) that supports this "collective" idea by translating the passage as "they who believe" as opposed to "he who believes." Young's Literal Translation, a good first check for Greek claims, says "he who is believing in me."

But it's not my style to just take Young's word for it. So I checked the Greek word in John 14:12 and the word in John 7:39 translated "they that believe" and found that they are indeed different Greek words. The root word is the same but the ending is different. Greek is a precise language, so if Jesus meant "they that believe" instead of "he that believes," we would expect to see the same word there, and we don't.

We can cite another example without even leaving John 14:12! This verse contains the phrase "shall he do" which is a translation of a certain Greek word with a future active indicative tense. If we look at 1 Corinthians 15:29, John 15:21 and John 16:3 in a Greek New Testament, we find "shall they do" in the first case and "will they do" in the last two. The word once again has a different ending from the word translated "shall he do" in John 14:12 despite the fact that these other 3 words also have a future active indicative tense. So without leaving John 14:12 we can prove not just once but twice that the objector is simply wrong about the Greek – it is NOT collective but refers to any single person.

Also, exactly the same Greek word translated "he that believeth" in John 14:12 is also translated "he that believeth" in John 3:18, John 3:36, John 7:38, 1 Peter 2:6, 1 John 5:5 and 1 John 5:10. (These verses are shown below.) Go check it out for yourself in a Greek New Testament if you don't believe it! I don't know anyone who would claim that any of those verses are "collective" either, but maybe someone who really wants to believe that John 14:12 is collective will try to convince us in the future (in vain) that these other verses are collective too:

John 3:18:

He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.

John 3:36:

He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him.

John 7:38:

He that believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water.

1 Peter 2:6:

Wherefore also it is contained in the scripture, Behold, I lay in Sion a chief corner stone, elect, precious: and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded.

1 John 5:5:

Who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God?

1 John 5:10:

He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness in himself: he that believeth not God hath made him a liar; because he believeth not the record that God gave of his Son.

I don't see anything collective here. Do you?

This is really just another experience-based objection hiding behind a flawed statement about the Greek. Jesus meant "he who believes." If our experience does not match what He said, we need to upgrade our experience to match what He said, not water down what He said to match our experience.

Jesus didn't imply that all of us will quit our jobs and go out and have full-time healing ministries, doing nothing other than preaching to the sick and healing them in His name. But He surely indicated that everyone who believes in Him should expect to do the same works He did and greater, even if not in the same quantity that He did them as a full-time preacher.

Objection: Christ's Disciples Were Told to Heal EVERYONE. No One Does This Today, So We Cannot Say We Have the Same Authority They Did.

This objection's foundation is faulty. If you read the New Testament carefully, you'll see that Jesus did not say that His disciples could heal EVERYONE. That would not make sense because a servant is not greater than his master, and Jesus could not do miracles at Nazareth. Jesus taught that His disciples would have similar experiences. Let's look at this passage carefully:

Luke 10:8-11:

And into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you, [Now here follow the instructions on what to do in cities that receive you] eat such things as are set before you:

And heal the sick that are therein, and say unto them, The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.

But into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you not, [Here follow the instructions on what to do in cities that don't receive you] go your ways out into the streets of the same, and say,

Even the very dust of your city, which cleaveth on us, we do wipe off against you: notwithstanding be ye sure of this, that the kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.

Jesus told the disciples that they could heal in the cities that received them. In the cities that did not receive them, Jesus did not tell them to heal anybody. He commanded them to wipe the dust of those cities off their feet and go elsewhere! If people in the cities wanted healing from Jesus Christ, they needed to receive Jesus Christ. When you reject the messenger sent to preach Jesus Christ to you, you are rejecting Jesus Christ Himself, because the gospel is about Him. When you reject Jesus Christ, you reject His benefits, including healing.

Jesus did not say that His disciples could heal everyone, everywhere. Those who were open to Jesus Himself could be healed; those who were closed could not be healed. They disciples had the same authority Jesus had over all sicknesses, but it would only work where they were received.

Jesus said that we would lay hands on the sick and they would recover (Mark 16:18). This is a sign to follow the preaching of the gospel. If no one stays around and wants to listen to you preach the gospel, there is nothing for God to confirm. Things really haven't changed.

Furthermore, Stephen was not an apostle and he was not with Jesus, but he did great signs and wonders among the people (Acts 6:8). Philip was not an apostle and he was not with Jesus, but he went to Samaria and got many people healed (Acts 8:5-8). (There was an apostle named Philip, but the apostles asked to have deacons appointed to free them up to pray and study. The Philip who went to Samaria was one of these deacons.) Paul was not one of the ones commissioned in the verses in Luke above, yet he had wonderful healings in his ministry. Even when Paul preached, some believed and some disbelieved (Acts 28:24 says this explicitly and we can see it elsewhere).

In light of the Great Commission, if we do not see the same results today, the fault is ours, not God's. It is just like when the disciples could not cast out a demon out of a boy after Jesus authorized them to do it. The problem was not what Jesus said they could do. The problem was the disciples' unbelief. If we do not see results today as we should, we are the ones who must change. God is fine the way He is; He does not need to change.

However, you can hear many testimonies of men who have gone to the far corners of the world and conducted marvelous healing campaigns that were no doubt similar to the ones put on by the original apostles. It is too late to tell these men that they can't do it today – they've already done it. Just because you haven't done it doesn't mean that it can't be done.

Objection: THIS MOUNTAIN in Mark 11:23 Refers to the Temple Mountain and Symbolically the Jewish Worship System

JESUS already did away with the old Jewish worship system, under which no one but the high priest could ever enter God's presence, when He established the New Covenant in His blood. There is no need for "whosoever" to do it. "Whosoever" can't accomplish that any more than "whosoever" could pay for all of mankind's sins. Furthermore, the idea of saying that ending the Jewish worship system would be based on some believer speaking to it to be gone and not doubting in his heart that it would happen is rather ludicrous. This objection is another "grasp at straws" attempt to explain away the plain words of Jesus. His words make a lot more sense as they stand than twisted to mean something "spiritual."

Besides, the Temple Mountain is NOT the only mountain that can be removed according to Scripture itself! Paul put mountains in the plural in 1 Corinthians 13:2: "...and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains...". If you could remove more than one mountain, Jesus could not possibly have referred to the one and only Temple Mountain. That alone is enough to shut down this objection.

Objection: If We Really Had Authority over Sickness, We Would Not Need GIFTS OF HEALING

At first this seems like a logical argument – if ANY believer can take authority over ANY disease, why would the Holy Spirit need to use some believers in a special way to heal the sick? In other words, why would there be a special “grace gift” to do what all believers can do anyway?

The problem here is a misunderstanding of what happens when “gifts of healings” are operating.

It is a true statement that all believers have authority over all diseases. We tread on snakes and scorpions and over ALL the power of the enemy, including sickness (Luke 10:19). However, the people who need healing still have a part to play in this. They need to believe in this authority too. Otherwise, the fact that you are anointed to heal the sick will not help them.

A servant is not above his master. Jesus COULD NOT do any mighty miracle in a place where everyone was in unbelief, so you won't be able to do any mighty miracle under those circumstances either. Is there any question that Jesus had authority over all sickness when He went to Nazareth? After all, when He went to places that believed that He is the Anointed One, people were ALL healed. The difference was not in Jesus' anointing; it was in the people. They were “bad ground” at Nazareth and they rejected Him. In other places, people received Him and received from Him and He declared that their faith had made them well. So faith or unbelief in a person is what makes the difference. Jesus was, is, and always will be the Anointed One. And so it is today – it is up to people whether they will receive or reject what God offers.

However, there will be cases where someone will get a “freebie” from the Lord without exercising faith. These are the circumstances related to gifts of healings. For example, the man at the Pool of Bethesda did not seem to be exercising one bit of faith, but he was healed anyway. Sometimes God will make an exception and heal a person irrespective of his faith (or lack thereof). I have seen God heal people in cases where I know they were not believing much of anything. When “gifts of healings” are in operation, the Holy Spirit will sometimes use a believer to bring about a cure in someone's body whether the sick person is in faith or not.

This is a different situation from taking authority over sickness in someone's body. I do not just run around finding sick people and randomly command sickness to leave their bodies. You need the consent of the sick person first. While we have authority over sickness, we do not have authority over someone else's free will. Some people want to stay sick to get attention, get government assistance, or even because they actually want to die. We cannot heal such people; God honors their choice.

Please understand that if someone is sick, it does not mean that he has a sinister reason for wanting to be sick! Most sick people want to be well. The exorbitance of the time and money they spend trying to get well attests to that. However, it is important to preach the Word to the sick so that they have a basis for faith so that they don't just expect you to do everything. In the case of a nonbeliever or a new believer, if you can just get the person into "neutral" to allow you to exercise your God-given authority over sickness, you can see results. However, God expects that believers will grow in their faith. If you have a young child, you do not have an issue with tying his shoelaces for him. However, if Junior is now 34 years old, it would be unreasonable to tie his shoelaces for him. That does not mean that you love Junior any less! You just have different expectations. You don't expect Junior to have other people do what should be his work for him for the rest of his life.

This is why "gifts of healings" seem to be directed mostly toward unbelievers and new believers. Some believers get upset when a healing minister "calls out healings" for people who are known sinners while the more mature Christians don't get called out. God doesn't love mature believers less than other people, but He has higher expectations for them.

Even people who have been believers for a long time but are weak in faith will find that God doesn't offer "gifts of healings" freebies much. Ignorance is not bliss. You can't just leave your Bible on the bookshelf collecting dust and then think that God must heal you through a special manifestation of "gifts of healings" because you don't know the Word well. You would be accountable for not taking the OPPORTUNITY to spend time in the Word and learn what it says. That is different from someone who isn't a Christian or just became one and hasn't had time to read his Bible much yet.

Ideally, EVERY believer would take authority over EVERY condition in his own body, as he has the right to do. (He could speak to the sickness, or He could lay hands on himself if he is "the sick" and believe Jesus' promise that he will recover, or he could believe that he receives the healing that Christ already provided for that sickness when he prays.) But not everyone is ready to operate at that level. So thank God, He made provision to minister healing in some cases by the Holy Spirit when people are not at that level.

The Holy Spirit can and does use some people along these lines more than others. We ALL can share the Word, walk in faith and command sickness to leave people with their consent in the name of Jesus, but that doesn't detract from the idea that the Holy Spirit will use some people more than others to bring healing in cases where the person's faith isn't always involved. Taking authority over sickness and ministering through "gifts of healings" are two separate things that don't contradict each other. We all as Christians DO have authority over ALL diseases, but only some Christians are specially used to minister healing even when the recipient isn't really aware of how healing is supposed to work. God has the right, but not the obligation, to heal some people just as a sign and a wonder even if they were not believing for much of anything.

As believers, we do not need gifts of healings to get healed. We can believe for and receive our healings by faith. If we are having trouble, the gifts of healings may then get involved so that we can get healed anyway even if we are not in faith. But the fact that there are gifts of healings in no way denies our authority over sickness. These gifts simply provide an alternate means of getting healed when faith is not present to do the job.

However, you can NEVER be sure that healing will be ministered to you through the gifts of healings, even if you go to a service where someone who flows that way is preaching. You can ALWAYS be sure that healing can be received by FAITH. Thus, receiving by faith is far superior to expecting to receive through "gifts of healings."

Objection: Only Some Receive GIFTS OF HEALING; This Proves that Healing Is a Gift Bestowed as God Wills

This objection is based on a misunderstanding of 1 Corinthians 12:8-11 and 1 Corinthians 12:28-30. The objector reasons that gifts of healing are healings that are bestowed on individuals as gifts. That is not true, as is clear from the context. These passages talk about spiritual gifts that are used for the benefit of others in the body, not for one's own benefit. In other words, gifts of healings are graces to be used in ministering healing to others. They have nothing to do with receiving a healing for yourself. The healings may be gifts to the people who receive them, but they are not gifts to the person operating in the gifts of healings.

Consider especially 1 Corinthians 12:28-30. God has set in the church apostles, prophets, teachers, miracles, gifts of healings, helps, governments, and diversities of tongues. These all speak of people flowing in ministry gifts and not of things you receive from God during a service. Just as God has anointed some to be teachers, God has anointed some to flow in miracles and gifts of healings.

Now consider 1 Corinthians 12:8-11, especially the part about “to another the gifts of healing [literally healings].” If the gifts of healings were healings that take place during a service, they would be given to others (plural), not another (singular). This passage speaks of a person being used to minister healings (in the plural) to others in the service.

1 Corinthians 14:12 tells us that the gifts are for the edifying of the church. They are to bless others. They are NOT blessings that you receive for yourself. “Even so ye, forasmuch as ye are zealous of spiritual gifts, seek that ye may excel to the edifying of the church.”

Some people are spontaneously healed in services. I have seen people all over the room healed without the laying on of hands. However, “gifts of healings” would not refer to healings that are received in such a way, although perhaps you could say that the minister flowed in them.

Objection: Only Those with Gifts of Healings Receive the TEMPORARY Right to Speak Directly to an Illness

We ALL have the power of death in our tongues. While Proverbs 18:21 is often used to exhort people not to make bad confessions that lead to death (and that's a legitimate use of the verse), another good use of it is to show that we have the power of death in our tongues so that we can speak death to cancer and other illnesses, and they must die! This right comes not by having "gifts of healings" but rather by having a tongue.

Mark 11:23 says that whosoever speaks to a mountain to be cast into the sea, and believes in his heart that it will happen, he will have whatever he says. He did not say that "some" could do it when it was God's will in a special case. In this context, it was about having faith in God. ALL of us, not just people with healing ministries, should exercise faith in God. (If your faith isn't in God, you'll think that "your" power has to move the mountain rather than trusting God's power to back your words. In other words, you'll think that you have to move it all by yourself. That won't work.)

Likewise, when He talked about commanding a tree to be uprooted and cast into the sea, there was no hint that you had to pray about the matter first or that only people who would get baptized with the Holy Spirit and flow in gifts of healings could actually act on His statement. It was another statement for "whosoever" without restriction.

There is such a thing as the gift of faith coming on you and you suddenly curse the illness and command it to leave even when you weren't planning on doing things that way. Perhaps the objector has seen this kind of manifestation in action and thinks that this is the ONLY time when you can speak to an illness. However, I have spoken to illnesses and they've left WITHOUT any prior direct word from the Lord to do so. I acted in faith on the GENERAL Word that God has already given.

James makes it clear that ANYONE can set the course of nature on fire with his tongue, but he can also use his tongue to bridle his own body (James 3:2-6). That certainly was not restricted to those with gifts of healings either.

Take a look at how Jesus commanded His disciples to go out and preach. You'll see that He gave them power over ALL sicknesses and over ALL demons (for example, Matthew 10:1). They did not have to wait to see if "gifts of healings" manifested as a "temporary" right – they had the ongoing right to command ALL sicknesses to leave. That is still true today.

Objection: Healing is a GIFT (1 Corinthians 12:28), Proving that It Is Not Earned by Our Works or Our Faith, Which Would Be Pelagianism

Ah, there's nothing like a nice scary theological term that few people outside of seminary would have heard to add credibility to an argument. Pelagianism! Eek, that sounds awful; better stay away from divine healing, then! Now what is it, anyway?

A man named Pelagian (you probably guessed that) who lived a long time ago is blamed for spreading the heretical idea that you earn your salvation through good works. It is unclear whether he really preached all the bad stuff that he got blamed for or if people just kind of "hung it on him." But anyway, Pelagianism is a Galatian-style heresy that would send people to hell who believe it, as they will see no need to trust Jesus' work to save them when they can supposedly save themselves.

Is believing in divine healing really in that category? We'll see.

First, the objector would have been better served by studying the Word more and studying the history of little-known heretics less. If he had, he would know that the "gifts of healings" in 1 Corinthians 12:28 refer to a ministry office (the office of evangelist would equate to this) along with that of apostle, prophet, teacher, etc., and not to people receiving healing as a "gift" – even though it is a gift of God's grace. So right off, the very first premise of this argument involves a completely misapplied Scripture. For more on this, see the related objection.

The objector only gets half of the rest of it right. If we earn salvation – any aspect of it – with our works, that is indeed Pelagianist thinking. But the difficulty comes in the objector's self-contradictory assertion about "earning" something by faith. Faith by definition doesn't earn anything; it receives what God's grace has already provided.

Let's apply The SAVED Test to this and see what happens:

"Salvation is a GIFT! Earning your deliverance from hell by grace and faith is heretical Pelagianism!"

This helps you see the problem with this objector's logic. To believe the quoted statement above, you'd have to think that God just flows in "gifts of salvations" and just drops salvation on you irrespective of your faith. But the Bible does not teach that God just zaps people with salvation. We are saved by grace through faith. A person must exercise faith in what God's grace has provided before he can enjoy it.

So why is it unreasonable that healing would be any different, especially when the same word sozo (see the article Saved!) is used for both physical healing and spiritual salvation? God does not drop healing on you irrespective of your faith. The Bible does not teach that God just zaps people with healing. We are healed by grace through faith. A person must exercise faith in what God's grace has provided before he can enjoy it. If you are OK with the paragraph above, why would you not be OK with this one?

Faith is not “works” in the Bible sense, but some people think that anything involving the slightest effort is “works.” Well, James would have no problem with the idea that faith INVOLVES works because he said that faith without works is dead (James 2:14-26). The works don’t earn you anything (sorry, Pelagian) but real faith is always expressed in works. But seeing faith as “works” is a common theme among healing objectors. If you have to apply any effort, supposedly it isn’t grace anymore.

Let me ask you something, then – does it take any WORK to put the flesh under and run the race in such a way as to win it, pressing forward toward the high calling of God? No one ever said that being a Christian would not involve any work! (No one with any sense, at least.) You hear of people in the New Testament who “labored” in prayer. Prayer can be work, even though it is a delight to fellowship with God. Your flesh will fight you, and it takes effort on your part to put your flesh under. Now there is the “effortless” aspect to changing – AFTER you do some real WORK getting into the Word, you’ll find yourself changing seemingly automatically because that Word becomes such a part of you. But even then it takes EFFORT to study the Word. God never told Christians that everything would just be dropped on them without their faith or involvement. Although healing is actually very easy to receive, we have an enemy who runs around trying to trick people out of their inheritance in Christ. It involves effort to resist his thoughts and replace them with Bible thoughts.

So if you can labor in “works” in these other areas, why isn’t it reasonable to assume that you have to do something to receive healing rather than have it dropped on you? It’s still a gift provided by Christ, but you may need to make some effort to learn the Word on the subject before you act in faith – just as you might have to learn the Word on other subjects (marriage, money, etc.) before you can act in faith.

Let’s be clear that the objection is misleading – faith by its very definition does not earn anything. It receives something that is given for free. But you still have to exercise your faith, just as you had to exercise faith in Christ’s atonement to be born again. That isn’t Pelagianism, that’s Christianity!

Objection: Gifts of Healings Can Refer to Extraordinary Medical Skill

This is no better than the parallel argument I've also heard that tongues are extraordinary abilities to learn languages. Extraordinary indeed; the night before I wrote this section, I spoke some words in a Native American language that I've never learned, and one of the few hundred people on earth who still speak that language was present and understood what I said. (On another occasion, someone else who didn't know that man's language prayed in his language, and he started believing in tongues that day!) While someone may indeed have a natural endowment to learn languages, the gift of tongues allows the speaker to supernaturally speak in a language he never learned!

We can see from various instructions in 1 Corinthians 14 that when you speak in tongues, your mind does not understand what you're saying. Thus it is absolutely certain that "tongues" refer to supernatural utterance and not languages people learned, in which case their understandings "would be fruitful" as far as what they were saying. This thought will come into play in an important way below as we discuss gifts of healings.

1 Corinthians 12:7 says that the manifestation of the Spirit is given to each person for the profit of all just before "gifts of healings" are listed in 1 Corinthians 12:9. So like tongues, this is a spiritual endowment for believers, not a natural gifting. An unbeliever might have unusual medical skill. This could be a God-given talent, but that is different from a spiritual gift. A doctor can use his gift at will, but spiritual gifts only function as the Spirit wills (1 Corinthians 12:11).

1 Corinthians 12:28-30 lists job functions that God has set in the church, among them "miracles" and "gifts of healings." This is very obviously talking about something unique to the church, while extraordinary medical skill exists both in and outside the Body of Christ. An unbeliever can become a doctor without God "setting" him into that position within the Body of Christ.

While doctors are good and we are certainly not against them as believers, they usually practice medicine in offices and hospitals, not in church in the middle of services! We see instructions given at length in 1 Corinthians 14 about the proper use of tongues, interpretation and prophecy in church services (and by implication other "revelation gifts," as Paul talks about what to do if something is revealed to a prophet during a service in 1 Corinthians 14:30). Gifts of healings are in the same list as tongues, interpretation and prophecy, so they are clearly related to a function of Christ's Church (whether inside or outside of a formal church building), not some secular ability.

Since we have already demonstrated that tongues are supernatural above, and tongues are in the same list of manifestations of the Spirit as gifts of healings, it would be unscholarly and unreasonable to insist that "gifts of healings" are something natural when the other things in the list are clearly supernatural.

So Paul could not have referred to extraordinary medical skill in this chapter.

Objection: Getting “Healed by Faith” Is Too Difficult

It wasn't too difficult for the people who were healed in Jesus's ministry. It wasn't too difficult for the multitudes who were healed in Jerusalem in Peter's ministry. It wasn't too difficult for the people on the island of Melita who were healed in Paul's ministry. The truth is that it is not “difficult” to believe that you receive something that is freely offered. Receiving healing is just as easy as receiving the new birth – once you see that you can. The biggest challenge we face today is renewing our minds to the Word so that we can see what has already been freely granted to us. The truth is that WE are the ones who make it difficult to get healed by faith with our wrong thinking.

In fact, part of this wrong thinking is the very objection itself that it is difficult to receive healing by faith! If you're convinced that it is difficult, you will probably struggle and strive and get frustrated. If you are convinced that only those who reach some lofty pinnacle of faith can ever be healed, you will assume that healing takes more faith than you will ever muster and you'll probably not even try to get healed God's way. Or else you will put unreasonable demands on yourself, thinking that only extreme efforts to read the Word and pray will produce results, and even then maybe it would take years. However, the people in the Bible did not have years to “build their faith.” A man crippled from birth in Lystra listened to Paul preach and he got “faith to be healed” right away (Acts 14:7-10). So we must be missing something here. It can't be that hard!

One wrong thought that can hinder you is, “Healing was easier back in Bible days. God just doesn't make it that easy today.” If you believe that lie, you will think healing is hard today, and you will act on what you believe – and struggle! GOD certainly never said that healing would be harder in the day when people could be born again and baptized with the Holy Spirit than it was in the day when neither was possible!

How Serious Are You?

Most people will put forth far more time and effort to be healed through natural means than through divine means. If a doctor says that someone needs to take a certain pill six times a day, the person makes sure that he keeps doing it – even if he doesn't see any instant results. He understands that man's medicine can take time to work. Yet if he doesn't see immediate results after praying, he's willing to scrap the whole idea of being healed by faith. God's Word is the ultimate medicine – it is health to ALL your flesh (Proverbs 4:20-22). But like natural medicine, it's no good to you on the shelf! You have to get it inside you before you get any results. You must take it diligently, not just “try” it once or twice. Imagine how the doctor would glare at you if you told him that you “tried” the pills he prescribed once or twice and then quit because they didn't seem to be helping. Faith is a lifestyle, not a Band-Aid.

Under the Old Covenant, God told Joshua to meditate (think on and speak to himself) the Word day and night (Joshua 1:7-8). People were commanded to write the Word in places around their houses where they would see it (Deuteronomy 6:9). God made it clear that the blessings only came when people ACTED on the Word.

For some reason, some Christians think that they can just coast along, skip church, ignore their Bibles, not pray, and then claim healing for anything when the need arises. It doesn't work that way, folks, even under the New Covenant! If you are unwilling to take the time to read the Word and think about it and say it out of your mouth, your faith will be too weak to accomplish much. Under what conditions did Jesus say that you would ask what you will and it would be done for you? There were conditions, you know. He said it would happen if you abide in Him and His words abide in you (John 15:7). You have to abide in Christ and give His Word a prominent place in your life to satisfy this condition. Otherwise, you don't qualify to ask what you will and have it be done for you!

So you may think some of us are nuts when we spend a lot of time in the Bible when we could be watching send-someone-home-this-week reality TV shows and talent competitions. You may think we're nuts when we pray or listen to Scripture in the car instead of just vegging out or listening to worldly music every time we get behind the wheel. But when it comes time to get healed, guess what? You will be the one with the two-bit virus that everyone else is getting and we will be the ones who rebuke it and get rid of it. We have a saying in the computer business: "Garbage In, Garbage Out." If all you listen to is daytime TV self-help doctors, all you'll have to fall back on in a pinch is their worldly self-help, which has no spiritual clout. Fortunately, it works just as well the other way – Word In, Word Out. Put the Word in and it will come out when the pressure is on. When Satan squeezes you, all that comes out of you will be a barrage of Scripture, and he will take off running because he has no defense against God's Word.

Someone objected to me that I was preaching works by talking this way. Yes, you must do certain works to build yourself up in the Lord. You can't do God's part and God won't do your part. He has given you His Word, but it's up to you to do something with it. The person was upset because it sounded like you could take credit for your healing. Well, Jesus gave credit to people! He said that their faith had made them whole. If their faith could make them whole, my faith can make me whole. I'm not boasting in myself. It was God's idea. He put the laws into motion. But I have to do something myself. If I sit around watching TV and neglecting prayer and the Word, I will have myself to thank when I get sick and stay sick because I'm firing blanks at the devil and he knows it. If I regularly take in the Word that is health to all my flesh, I will have greater health in my body because of what I did. I didn't bear my illnesses on the cross; Jesus did that. But my decisions do affect my health, and so do yours. You can't just say that it's all up to God.

How much do you want to be healed? Demonstrate it by pursuing the Word and prayer with that amount of dedication, and you will conclude that healing is not quite so hard after all!

Walking in Love Can Be Difficult, Too – But It’s Still God’s Will

Here is an elaboration of the objection we are dealing with as it is usually presented:

“Do you know anyone who walks in health 100% of the time? No, you don’t, and neither do I. See, that proves that walking in health is just too difficult and God can’t really expect that of us. To preach walking in health all the time sets the standard too high. No one ever does it all the time, so walking in health must not be the will of God in every case.”

Let’s extend this bad argument to the area of walking in love:

“Do you know anyone who walks in love 100% of the time? No, you don’t, and neither do I. See, that proves that walking in love is just too difficult and God can’t really expect that of us. To preach walking in love all the time sets the standard too high. No one ever does it all the time, so walking in love must not be the will of God in every case.”

Get the idea? God never said that everything in your Christian walk would come easily, whether health or walking in love. Yet, substitute the word health for the word love in the paragraph above, which applies exactly the same illogic, and most people swallow it. You would be laughed out of any Christian event for preaching the paragraph on love, but they might give you your own “Mr. Expose-It-All” radio show if you preached the paragraph with health substituted for love.

The Bible is full of sayings that are not easy for your flesh to accept. Denying yourself and taking up your cross daily are God’s commands even if they challenge you every day of your life. These things must all be possible, seeing as Jesus never said, “TRY to deny yourself and TRY to take up your cross daily.”

You have the love of God shed abroad in your heart even if you never walk in the fullness of it. You were healed by the stripes of Jesus and possess healing as part of your inheritance in Christ whether or not you ever walk in the fullness of it.

Is God Unfair?

God has a right to expect faith from believers. Is it too much to believe that God can and will heal your sick body based on the finished provision of Christ? Even under a worse covenant based upon worse promises, look at the faith that God demanded from men who weren’t even born again! He expected that the Israelites would believe that they could go possess Canaan and kill off the giants in the land. Two of the spies believed it and the other ten let the natural impossibilities mean more to them than what God said. God was furious with the ten and they died of sickness as punishment for their unbelief. Was God being unfair? If you want to be the clay telling the potter that He’s unfair, that’s your privilege – and risk. God is just. He has a right to demand that people believe His words.

God expected Joshua to believe that He would deliver the fortress of Jericho to Israel. That's a more impossible mission than you'd even make a movie about! God expected the singers to go ahead of Jehoshaphat's army into a battlefield! What would you have done under those circumstances? Protest that God was expecting too much of you? Is God unfair? No. God has a right to expect that you will believe and act on His words, no matter how much they may contradict natural circumstances. That is not asking too much. Is your sickness as difficult or as hopeless as the situations just mentioned? I doubt it. God has a right to expect you to believe that He is who He says He is – The Lord Who Heals You (Exodus 15:26), who doesn't change (Malachi 3:6). God still places a high premium on faith. If you don't walk in faith, you can't please God. It doesn't matter how "good" you are if you don't exercise faith. Hebrews 11:6 tells us something that really is impossible – pleasing God without faith! If you want to please God more, walk in faith more!

You can either be like the Israelites in the wilderness, complaining that God has asked something too hard from you, or you can be like Joshua and Caleb, believe God's words, and possess what God has promised you.

Objection: Mark 16:18 Does Not Say, “They Shall Recover IF They Have Enough Faith,” Yet Faith Healers Blame the Sick for Not Believing

First, this paints an unfair picture of healing ministers as being uncompassionate, finger-pointing faith judges. While there may be a few like that, that image doesn't apply across the board. A good minister of healing will encourage people to believe, not beat them up for not believing. Would the objector go around “blaming” a sinner for not believing instead of preaching the good news about the new birth? Well, neither would a good healing minister go around “blaming” a sick person for not believing instead of preaching the good news of divine healing.

Two people's faith gets involved when we lay hands on the sick – the person laying hands and the person having hands laid on him. God's kingdom works by faith, and the more faith there is between the two participants, the better the results will be. Jesus made it clear that people were healed by their faith in many cases, so the recipient's faith certainly does matter. When the disciples failed to get a demonized boy set free, Jesus did not blame the boy or the boy's father in that case; He laid the blame squarely at the feet of the disciples. So the minister's faith matters too. However, He did tell the father of the boy that all things are possible to him who believes, so He wanted the father to be in faith too (Mark 9:23).

Too often, people just want God to do something irrespective of their faith or knowledge of the Word. That isn't how things work. Paul said that God did miracles among the Galatians by the hearing of faith (Galatians 3:5-6). He also taught that grace provides and faith receives – to use his words, we have access by faith into this grace (Romans 5:2). God will never force His precious gifts on anyone, not even the new birth and healing. The person must decide to receive what He offers. So Paul was clear that the faith of the recipient DOES matter.

The fact that God promised something does not mean that it happens automatically, much as we'd like it to be so. God told the Israelites to go possess the Promised Land, but that word did them no good, “not being mixed with faith in them that heard it” (Hebrews 4:2). God's promises are Yes and Amen in Christ by us (2 Corinthians 1:20) – our faith is involved.

So faith is required to receive from God. John 1:29 says, “The next day John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world.” But that does not mean that everyone goes to heaven. We are saved by grace through faith (Ephesians 2:8). If faith is lacking, the person involved goes without receiving the grace that he could receive. 1 John 2:2 declares that Jesus is the propitiation for our sins, and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world. But Jesus said that few would find life (Matthew 7:14), so not everyone is saved even though Jesus paid the price for everyone to be saved. Those who receive the gift of eternal life by faith are those who spend eternity with God.

The MANY promises that God made in the Bible are not given with the footnote, “If you have enough faith.” Do you honestly think that the faith that God gave you (Romans 12:3, Ephesians 2:8-9) is NOT enough to get the job done? The issue is USING the faith that you already have.

So while we're not going around "blaming the sick," the fact is that the promises of God depend on the faith of the receiver. In the case of laying on of hands, the minister's faith is involved as well. If you want to call that blaming the sick, then the Bible "blames" the sick and the unsaved. However, our message is not how we can blame you, but rather how we can encourage your faith so that you receive what God has provided for you in Christ.

Objection: Mental Illness is Treatable but Not Curable

This LIE has kept countless people bound by mental illnesses while slashing their bank accounts to pay for seemingly unending prescription drugs that only claim at best to “treat” but not “cure” mental illnesses. The companies that make the pills want you to believe this lie because you will keep thinking that you need their drugs for the rest of your life to avoid the symptoms of mental illness. It’s faster and easier for a doctor to prescribe pills than to get to the real cause of someone’s problems and fix them, and many doctors would never even consider the spiritual side of things.

The drug industry has gone to great lengths to indoctrinate TV viewers with the idea that depression is caused by chemical imbalances in people’s brains. That’s so nice to hear – depression isn’t your fault and it has nothing to do with your wrong thinking and dwelling on things that are the opposite of what the Bible tells to you dwell on. That would involve your responsibility and then your effort to reach a cure by changing what you think about. No, you poor innocent thing, it’s just a chemical imbalance in your brain – a physical condition over which you had no control. Maybe your brain just doesn’t make enough serotonin. You’re physically sick, so you need a physical way to treat your symptoms – ask your doctor if Happiex is right for you, but don’t take Happiex if you’re allergic to Happiex.

But the Bible NEVER makes any kind of statement to the effect that a chemical imbalance causes depression, but it DOES appear to say that anxiety produces depression:

Proverbs 12:25:

Heaviness in the heart of man maketh it stoop: but a good word maketh it glad.

The Hebrew word translated heaviness above is also translated fear, sorrow, care or carefulness. Stoop means to bow or crouch down. The NKJV renders this verse, “Anxiety in the heart of man causes depression....”

So the Bible indicates that having a bowed-down heart (which probably does mean depression) comes from other mental issues. There is no mention of any physical chemical imbalance being the cause of depression. (We could debate whether being depressed will CAUSE a chemical imbalance, which is a different matter altogether.)

However, if anxiety has led to depression, does it makes sense that the BEST course of action is to take well-advertised pills with cute but weird names to manage “YOUR” depression? Wouldn’t it make more sense to learn not to be anxious, and thus depressed, in the first place by casting your cares on the Lord? Doesn’t it make more sense to look for a CURE for a mental illness rather than just treating its symptoms?

Today it seems like antidepressants are being given out like candy – to Christians as well as unbelievers. Have you ever seen so many ads for them? Yet it's known that it can be dangerous to just stop taking them cold turkey once you're on them. Why would that be? My guess would be because these drugs actually do alter the chemical balance in your brain. Once you get on them, you may indeed have a chemical imbalance. Why should your brain work to produce things that are now supplied in pill form without having to be manufactured internally?

I'm not purporting to be a doctor, but I challenge you to find in current medical literature anything that convincingly proves that the CAUSE of depression is a chemical imbalance. It will open your eyes if you start searching on this topic! What is being advertised and what is accepted as medical truth are very different. You'll probably find what you could have figured out anyway – depression tends to be linked to having “depressing” things happen to you without knowing how to deal with them according to the Word. You would be hard-pressed to find someone living a wonderful life who just suddenly needs psych drugs because he suddenly developed a “chemical imbalance.”

You may occasionally hear a famous person share an “encouraging” word that goes like this: “Are you depressed? Well, that's okay, because I suffer from depression, too.” I was once present at a concert where the artist shared this, and frankly it was a rather depressing concert! No one got healed or even saved that night. My primary emotion was wanting to leave, but I kept hanging around in the vain hope that things would get better toward the end, which they didn't. I concluded that my free admission was overpriced, though I didn't allow myself to get depressed over it.

So many Christians have fallen for the world's low standard! They sound like those TV ads about how people manage “their” depression. (The first step to beating depression should be to quit claiming ownership of it every time you talk about by calling it “your” depression. Healing is YOURS in Christ; the cause of depression is not.) They have come to believe that because they have a chemical imbalance or even a neurological defect that they were born with (which wasn't their fault in that case), they will have to allow that awful condition to be their “constant companion” and just “manage” it or “cope with” it.

The WORLD tells you that mental illness is treatable but not curable. Actually, you could go to a Christian website and hear that, too. But the WORD tells you that with God, all things are possible (Matthew 19:26, Mark 10:27) and that with God, nothing shall be impossible (Luke 1:37). Many more Bible statements to the same effect may be found in the FIRST BASE section of The Baseball Diamond of Healing, so I don't need to repeat them all here.

The Word further tells you that Jesus healed ALL manner of sickness and ALL manner of disease, which would include ALL manner of neurological issues, mental issues, chromosomal issues and any other kinds of issues! The Word tells you that God and Jesus have never changed and never will change (Malachi 3:6, Hebrews 13:8). So what was God's will and Jesus' will then still is Their will today – the complete healing of EVERY condition.

Some forms of depression even find their way into Deuteronomy 28:15-68, a passage that lists the horrible things we deserve if we do not keep the Law. Thank God, it is ALSO a list of things from which Christ redeemed us (Galatians 3:13)! Because depression is in there (wishing it were morning in the evening, wishing it were evening in the morning, having your life hang in doubt before you, being driven insane by what you see, etc.), it means that Christ HAS redeemed you from depression. Therefore, you have the right to receive YOUR healing for SATAN'S depression. (Satan is experienced in handing out depression – he has plenty of it to give. How depressed would YOU be if you knew that you would be tormented day and night in the lake of fire and that there was NOTHING you could ever do about it because Jesus only redeemed mankind, not fallen angels? Satan knows a thing or two about depression.)

The statement at the top of this section may be true from a NATURAL perspective. I do not question the premise that aside from supernatural help, certain conditions can only be treated but not cured. But you aren't without supernatural help! I have known quite a few people whose NATURAL prognosis was a painful death from cancer or other fatal conditions, but whom Jesus healed! Jesus is not bound by doctors' reports, and you should not be bound by them, either.

It is not helpful when well-meaning but immature Christians think that EVERY mental illness is caused by a demon that needs to be cast out. While mental institutions have plenty of demonized people, not everyone who has seizures or uncontrollable twitching needs to be delivered from a demon! It probably makes things a lot worse for such people when the "Christian" response is to cast a demon out that isn't there. When I pastored, I had to stop people from casting out spirits that weren't there, as leaving the situation alone could have really hurt the person who was being "ministered" to. We saw a man who was catatonic set free and able to function in society – without ever casting a demon out of him. So be careful about that if you're ministering to the mentally ill. On the other hand, when I visited a psych ward once it was kind of a giveaway when a woman suddenly said in a low voice, "You can't cast me out! You don't have enough experience!" I was somewhere else where in the same room as the person we were ministering to, there was a woman in another bed who didn't seem to be able to talk at all, but when we started praying in the Holy Spirit, she suddenly started yelling at those of us who came, "Take your religion and get out of here!" You may have such experiences too – don't "freak out" if they happen. Jesus did not "freak out" when demons manifested – He knew His authority and kept His cool, and so should you. The demonized boy was foaming, and Jesus was just having a nice calm conversation with the father, asking him "How long has he been this way?"

And you should not insult the mentally ill with the attitude or overt words, "What's wrong with you? You should be in faith for healing!" Unless, of course, you'd like it if other people say that to you the next time one of the devil's cheap colds gets on you. People need to be encouraged, not torn down.

Now there ARE mentally ill people who play the victim card and say, “It’s my chemical imbalance and it has nothing to do with anything I do” when all they’ve done is listen to depressing things all day. I majored in TV and radio broadcasting in college and we were taught the maxim, “If it bleeds, it leads.” In other words, the most horrific story should go on first to get the maximum ratings for the newscast. I don’t think things have changed since then. But if all you dwell on is negativity, you’re doing to become negative and then possibly depressed.

That’s one reason why the Bible admonishes us to think on GOOD things, not BAD things (Philippians 4:8).

It shocks me how many Christians today are on antidepressants, but it probably should not shock me given the depressing version of the gospel most of them are hearing – how they are undeserving, unworthy little worms, that God is mad at them for their sin, that they’d better “fess up” or they won’t be forgiven, and so on. They aren’t hearing anything that will do something for them that the best medical professionals can’t do for them. Most of them are never told from the pulpit that God wants to heal them and that He sent His Son to pay the price so that they can receive their healing right now.

If you already deal with a mental illness, the important thing is to look to your Solution. There were plenty of people in the Bible, including some heroes of faith, who battled despondency and despair at one time or another. David did (his soul was “cast down” – Psalm 42:5-6, Psalm 42:11, Psalm 43:5). Elijah did (he got so “down” soon after a great victory that he wanted to just die – 1 Kings 19:4). Even the great apostle Paul said that in Asia he was pressed out of measure, above strength, and he despaired even of life (2 Corinthians 1:8-10). But those Bible heroes didn’t STAY cast down, and you don’t have to, either. They looked to God, and that is what you must do. He was THEIR Healer and He wants to manifest Himself as YOUR Healer, too. In David and Paul’s case, the CURE was pointed to – hope and trust in God. Also, these Bible heroes did not go on and on suffering from depression as people think of it today. They were just really “down” at certain points, but it never turned into a depressed lifestyle.

You may think, “Well, those were some tough circumstances, but ‘my’ depression is due to a chemical imbalance so it’s worse than what they dealt with.” Even if that’s true (and I’m NOT agreeing with you that it is), the same God who lifted them out of despondency is the same God who is willing and able to do it for you. If it were really were a physical issue, you would have the right to receive the paid-for healing for that physical issue anyway.

Meanwhile, there is no condemnation for you from God (and there should be no condemnation from fellow Christians) if you take antidepressants for now. There are plenty of Christians who use cough drops if they have a cough. If they can get natural medical help, so can you. But there is healing available for the depressed as well as those who have colds and flus. At this point, natural medical help doesn’t cure any of those conditions; it just alleviates symptoms. You should continue with any prescribed medication until your doctor certifies your healing, but don’t “turn off the switch of faith” just because you are still taking medicine.

When I saw a certain pastor post on Facebook, "Remember, mental illness is real," I commented, "Remember, Jesus' ability to HEAL mental illness is real." We can get way too caught up in the world's attitude toward mental illness and forget that Jesus is the HEALER of mental illness! That healing is part of the New Covenant and it belongs to you.

The key point is that you must look to what the Bible says, not what the clinical "experts" say. You can get so caught up in the mechanics of how a certain illness works that you forget that God can overrule ALL those mechanics. For example, you could think, "This is a chromosomal issue; God would have to change zillions of DNA strands in my body to cure me." SO? Is God unable to do that? The Scriptures referenced above prove that He is well able to do that and more. Rather than dwell on medical textbooks that will keep concluding, "Nothing can be done. Learn to cope with it and treat the condition with prescription drugs," dwell on the Word that tells you that Jesus is the same today as He was when He healed ALL conditions that He encountered, which would include chromosomal issues, neurological issues, chemical imbalances (if they were ever actually the problem) and everything else!

Objection: Preaching Divine Healing Shipwrecks the Faith of Many

This objection usually goes something like this:

THE DOCTRINE OF "FAITH HEALING" SHIPWRECKS YOUR FAITH

by Lorelei Felsen

John and Mary were good Christians who believed their pastor's teaching on "receiving healing by faith." When Mary got sick with cancer, the church encouraged her to believe that she was healed by Jesus' stripes. She did all the right things and got medical help, but the doctors couldn't treat her. She died. John was devastated. He reasoned that since the faith he was taught for healing didn't work, the faith he was taught for anything else didn't really work either. He reasoned that he must not really be saved, and he couldn't believe the Bible or trust preachers anymore. He went back into the world. He and his drinking buddies ended up starting a strip club with their meth revenue. John was just one of many whose faith was shipwrecked by the doctrine of faith healing.

Peter's son was paralyzed in a car accident. The heartless faith people tried to tell him that it was his fault for not believing Psalm 91. Then they condemned them both for not believing in healing. There was no compassion, only judgment. Some members of the church started avoiding Peter because they were embarrassed to be around "faith that wasn't working." Noting their obvious lack of love, Peter and his son left the church. For a while, they avoided church altogether. Then they went back to the same non-Bible-believing fake "church" they went to as children where they aren't even told that new birth is a necessity for salvation and their slogan "Come as you are, stay as you are" is painted over a rainbow. Peter and his son are still not serving God in any meaningful capacity today. The doctrine of faith healing shipwrecked their faith.

Get away from the doctrine of faith healing before it sinks your boat, too.

It is ironic that people say that teaching faith shipwrecks faith when the only reference to "faith" in conjunction with "shipwrecks" is in 1 Timothy 1:19: "Holding faith, and a good conscience; which some having put away concerning faith have made shipwreck." In other words, they did not hold to their faith and they decided to just live any old way, and they shipwrecked their faith. This would indicate to me that you want to hold to faith, not run away from faith teaching!

But regardless of the words used, there are people out there writing books and articles like the one above. It usually boils down to two cases, both of which are included above. The first is the man who "tries" faith healing and is disillusioned with Christianity in general when it "doesn't work," and the second is the man who is mistreated at a "faith church" and stops believing in faith and church altogether.

The first-case scenarios always try to impress you that the people did everything “by the book” and still got nothing. I don’t know why the person died and neither do you. The writer wants you to assume that the only possible explanation is that the doctrine of faith healing is flawed and that the person did everything right. (I heard of a book that insists that a couple did everything exactly as they were told by a certain named faith teacher, but they lost their child by refusing medical help. That’s silly, because the faith teacher in question does not teach avoiding medical help. If they didn’t listen closely when it came to that, they probably weren’t listening too well to the rest of what he said.) It’s presumptuous to think that you know everything that’s in everyone’s heart. God isn’t going to reveal everything to you, either, He said Himself that the secret things belong to Him, but that which is revealed belongs to us (Deuteronomy 29:29).

However, AS ALWAYS, an argument from experience is useless when you’re discussing doctrine. I could tell you how God healed me supernaturally of an untreatable condition in my left eye that was ruining my eyesight. I simply believed I that received when I prayed, and then I held fast to my confession for almost two weeks until my healing suddenly manifested. My testimony could be used to “prove” that the doctrine of faith healing works. Testimonies of all kinds can be used to make opposing points. Why did it work for me and not for your cousin Mary? I don’t know, but I’m not going to stop believing that I receive when I pray just because your cousin Mary didn’t receive anything. Why should I stop doing something that’s working? If you want to discuss doctrine, discuss Scripture, not experience.

There are true stories like the one above. Plenty of people have left churches over this very thing. I can understand why this happens, but what are we supposed to do – undermine everyone else’s faith by preaching that healing is not for all today? This would lead to a lot more unnecessary premature deaths. Dare we take sides against Jesus when He said we could believe we receive when we pray and have what we asked for? The case of the disciples who could not cast the demon out of a boy does not prove that they could not have done so or that anything was wrong with the doctrine of casting out demons in the name of Jesus. Jesus said they could have done it and then He did it Himself. The failure of His “top guys” to believe in their authority did not negate the fact that they had that authority. Yet the “experience” objectors would cite this as proof that healing was not intended for that boy and that the disciples really didn’t have the ability to do anything. They would conclude in error that Jesus should not have taught them that impossible faith stuff.

Always remember: Experience never proves or disproves doctrine!

Now on to the second-case scenario. There are bad apples in some bushels, and I’m sure that there are “faith churches from hell” that point fingers and condemn people. As long as there are immature believers, such things will happen, and there will always be immature believers as long as people continue to get saved! Some pastors are immature, too. Not all churches get started with a divine mandate from God! Some churches start because someone in another church got offended, split the church, and dragged some of the members out to start his own new church. You’ll certainly find immature pastors at those places! Some ministers out there don’t have any compassion. I’ve met some! It is always sad to hear the outcomes of people’s experiences with such churches and people.

No sensible person is going to go up to someone with an injured child and say, “This wouldn’t have happened if you just believed Psalm 91, you know. Why don’t you just believe God for his healing – don’t you have any faith?” The good “faith churches” (and there are plenty of them, regardless of the picture that the opposers paint) do demonstrate compassion for the sick and injured. They not only provide spiritual support and encourage these people in faith, but they also provide natural assistance as well. The people who are embarrassed to be with anyone who stays sick more than a day after praying are those who are themselves insecure in what they believe.

If you have any acquaintances who relate stories to you like the ones above, I would not rush to any conclusions unless you check the church out personally. For some reason, people like to rush to the side of a person with a sad story of emotional abuse by a church. There is often another side to the story, and you won’t get it from them! We live in a victim-oriented society where most people just automatically take sides with an individual against an organization. Sometimes the church did abuse people emotionally, and sometimes the person who left just had an attitude problem! From what I have seen, a lot more people leave churches for the second reason than for the first.

The fact that there are sad stories like these should warn those of us who do believe in divine healing to make sure that our faith is working by love (Galatians 5:6). We do need to guard against being so lopsided on faith that we neglect love and compassion and mercy and become like the Pharisees whom Jesus rebuked! It is your responsibility to make sure that you stay balanced instead of spiritually one-sided. Your pastor is responsible for feeding you a balanced diet, too, but the buck stops with you. Don’t just listen to one preacher’s tapes or read one author’s books. Read the Bible – all of it, not just the parts that a certain faith teacher quotes a lot.

In closing, let me say that there have been plenty of “faith churches” that have been ruined, not by any problem with the teaching, but by sin! (This is true of other types of churches, too. It is not exclusive to “faith churches.”) They taught faith for healing, but they did not live their faith as far as their dominion over sin was concerned. Remember – a man’s moral failure does not invalidate his teaching. You get doctrine from Scripture, not from the moral track records of people espousing different doctrines. (Jesus said to obey the Pharisees’ teaching but not to imitate their conduct. Some of their teaching was correct, and that fact wasn’t invalidated by the fact that they sorely lacked mercy and failed to “walk the walk.”) You cannot reach a conclusion about a church’s doctrine just because of the way some of its people act.

Objection: Jesus Turned Down Requests to Stay and Heal More

An objector wrote that Jesus refused to heal more people in a certain city on one occasion. There is no such statement in the Bible. When I asked the gentleman for proof, he cited Luke 4:42-43: “And when it was day, he departed and went into a desert place: and the people sought him, and came unto him, and stayed him, that he should not depart from them. And he said unto them, I must preach the kingdom of God to other cities also: for therefore am I sent.”

There is no mention of anyone needing healing who was turned down. Besides, if other people wanted to be healed, they could just follow Him to wherever else he was going, as happened on several occasions. Jesus was simply saying that he needed to preach in other cities. Wouldn't you want such an anointed preacher to stay in town? Of course!

The person said that because healing was a trademark of Jesus' ministry (at least he admitted that much), it must be implicit that they wanted Him to heal more people in that city. That makes no sense in light of the many passages where people brought the sick out into the desert where Jesus was. If there had been more sick people in the city, the people could have simply brought the sick with them into the desert where He was in these verses and they would have been healed!

The one place in the Bible where Jesus did (initially) turn someone down who wanted a healing (for her daughter) is discussed in Objection: Jesus Told a Greek Woman NO When She Came for Deliverance for Her Daughter. Note that in that case, the person still got her miracle, so it makes a very weak objection. In fact, it is no objection at all when you understand the context.

Objection: It's Not Always God's Will to Heal – He Didn't Heal Many at Nazareth

Every now and then, someone embarrasses himself with an objection like this one. Saying this proves only failure to read Matthew 13:54-58. Mark 6:1-6 tells the story without explicitly citing the reason, though Mark notes that Jesus marveled at their unbelief, but it's silly to use a story as an objection until you've read all the accounts of it. Matthew is clear: "And he did not many mighty works there because of their unbelief." That settles it right there. Matthew declared that the people's unbelief, not God's unwillingness to heal, stopped the miracles from happening at Nazareth. (If you think that it was God's will for the people at Nazareth to be full of unbelief, you should probably switch to a different religion, like Christianity.)

Objection: Some “Faith Healers” Have Been Exposed As Greedy Charlatans

So what? That doesn't prove that “faith healing” doesn't work. It only proves that there is sin on the earth today. Yes, I heard the story about the guy with the little speaker in his ear and the person in the back room who read him information. Yes, I heard the one about the guy who read people's names from their Bibles before services and then “supernaturally” announced them in the service. Yes, I heard the one about the lady who used sleight-of-hand to make miracles seem to happen. I'm not an eyewitness to any of these so I can't vouch for the stories. I really don't care if they find out that there are 2,000 fake healing ministers and their names and faces all appear on your favorite tabloid TV show. That still does not prove that there are not real ones out there, any more than the fact that there are fake home alarm companies out there proves that there are no real home alarm companies.

How many fake $30 bills have you come across? None! No one is going to counterfeit something that doesn't actually exist and have real value. Satan counterfeits healing ministry, but that is only because healing ministry does exist and it has real value.

I suppose that some people have attended healing services only to find out that the minister was exposed as a fake. I can understand their disappointment. If this is you, please do not abandon the idea of divine healing over it. I heard of a singer who used to travel around the country giving altar calls at his concerts. He went out in his bus and smoked marijuana after his services were over. He was not even saved until the Lord dealt with him and he actually responded to his own altar call and got saved one night! People responded and got saved because he preached the Word, even when he was a sinner. Likewise, people can get genuinely healed by the power of God even at meetings run by pious frauds, especially if they preach the true gospel, which can be true in some cases.

There have been preachers whose personal lifestyles left much to be desired whom God has used mightily in healing services, at least for a while. It is the message, not the messenger, that sets people free! The Word is still the Word even if it is preached in pretense, which Paul said that it sometimes is (Philippians 1:18). (There is nothing new under the sun!) Paul rejoiced in this, no doubt because he knew that the Word would bear fruit regardless of who preaches it. God confirms His Word; He doesn't confirm the preacher. God's gospel is still His power unto salvation, no matter who is sharing it. Corn doesn't care who plants it – it grows anyway, even if the planter runs a protection racket and has an illegal back-room casino going on the side.

I knew a suicidal man who went to a drinking party. He got so drunk that he couldn't walk straight, but he had heard the gospel and he shared it with his drunken buddies at the party. He could articulate it as well as I could, but they listened to him whereas they might not have listened to me. They asked him if he had followed the instructions himself, and he said no, but he was going to. He decided not to kill himself and instead he followed his own instructions and got saved. The Word is anointed, no matter who preaches it, even if it's a sinner doing it!

The very fact that fakes can preach the Bible and get results is a testimony to the power of God's Word. It proves that the power is in the Word and not in the preacher. God's Word will work for you if you believe it and act on it, no matter where you hear it. Don't let stories sour you on ministers. Plenty of preachers don't get in the scandal sheets – because they don't do anything wrong! They are not all money-grubbing charlatans. I'm not making any money off you through this book, am I? It's my gift to you to read for free. So you can't say that all preachers are just after your money.

Objection: Faith Preachers Are Extravagant-Living Money-Grubbers

This objection makes three key blunders. The first is overgeneralization. You hear a report that some preacher is doing something that you consider outlandish and wasteful with his money, and you assume that ALL faith preachers are like that. That isn't fair. I could probably point to someone within the objector's denomination who did something awful, but that doesn't mean that everyone in the denomination is like that.

I am a faith preacher, but I'm sure that quite a few people who read this live in fancier houses and drive fancier cars than I do. I'm a lot more interested in getting the gospel out than in trying to impress you with my possessions. So I could "live it up" more than I do. In Christ, I'm delivered from what you or anyone else thinks and judges me for, to echo Paul's sentiment on the matter. Thus, I don't feel the need to wear the latest tie, watch, shoes, suit jacket or whatever just to let the rest of the world know that I've "arrived" as a faith preacher. (In some circles, there are "faith preacher" status symbols like expensive watches, suits, and alligator shoes; a private jet would prove that you are truly an A-list preacher. More recently, expensive sneakers have become the hot thing. It will probably be something else soon.) On the other hand, I believe that I'm redeemed from the curse of poverty; I'm debt-free and I'm definitely doing all right.

The second blunder is that "extravagant" living is somehow sinful. Making money and prosperity my primary goal would qualify me as an idolater and Scripture warns me that I could pierce myself through with many sorrows if I became a lover of money (1 Timothy 6:10). Becoming a lover of money would Biblically disqualify me for any ministry position (1 Timothy 3:8, Titus 1:7). However, as I've sought the kingdom first, I've prospered, and I'll never apologize for it to try to convince you that I'm "humble." The precise definition of "extravagant" varies, but it always refers to someone who has more than you do, but not to you yourself! Go to some of the third-world countries I've visited and you'll realize in a hurry that a normal person (possibly you) in a first-world country lives "extravagantly" by third-world standards, even if you're on public assistance! That doesn't mean that you're in sin.

The Lord is magnified by our prosperity as long as we don't make it our god. (Interestingly, the shalom that Jesus' punishment bought us in Isaiah 53:5 is the same word used for prosperity in Psalm 35:27: "Let them shout for joy, and be glad, that favour my righteous cause: yea, let them say continually, Let the LORD be magnified, which hath pleasure in the prosperity of his servant.") Prosperity honors God as long as your heart is right. It is never right to take jealous pot-shots at preachers who live better than you do. Before you even say it, let me point out that it's unfair to assume that their opulence is because of what they're doing with the offerings that you send them! I've made some good money outside of the ministry, and I have some nice things that I bought with the money I made, not the money that came from offerings and partner donations. Therefore, I should have the right to enjoy that money any way I want to without criticism, just as any doctor, lawyer, judge or plumber can. If you didn't pay for something, you don't have the right to complain about it! Besides, some fancy things you see some preachers with were given to them as gifts. What do you want them to do, turn down the gifts just to please you? Given that the main thrust of this objection involves ministers who you think did things with people's offerings, I'd caution you to not reach conclusions when you know nothing about the matter. Leave that between the preacher and God; it's none of your business. If someone's lifestyle just really annoys you, you can give to a different ministry without getting judgmental (possibly unfairly) about it.

The third blunder is the personal insult part of this objection, namely that there is a character flaw in any minister who lives very well. You can live very well without being a money grubber. I've spent some time with a Christian who through the Lord's help became a billionaire, but he is definitely not a money grubber – he gives a lot more to the gospel than he keeps for himself, while deliberately maintaining a low public profile. He's a big giver and a big receiver. So if you see someone with a lot of fancy toys living well, it's unfair to impugn that person's motives when you know nothing about that person's giving. If someone gives money by the hundreds of millions, I won't get upset if he reaps billions, and neither should you.

Do you think that a certain preacher is excessive? It's better to leave that matter between him and God and mind your own business. There are much bigger concerns you could have, such as the people around you who are on their way to hell without Jesus. No one appointed you to be a Prosperity Policeman who gets to judge what's OK and what's not.

One objection I hear is that faith preachers promise you a 100-fold return in order to get your money, and then you don't get your 100-fold return after all but they're not going to refund your money. I do know preachers (not including me) who preach that any offering you give should get a 100-fold return. (They usually don't mention the persecution that goes with that, and the verse in question is about leaving everything for the sake of the gospel, which few people would even qualify for.) If I could really get a 100-fold return, I'd cycle that through about once a year and I would end up owning the entire planet. I did the math once. Ironically, a very famous faith preacher did the math too (though I was saying it long before he said it), and he concluded that the 100-fold return was beyond Scripture, only to have some of his own former students want to lynch him for it (and some did, verbally and publicly). So let's be clear that I don't promise my partners a 100-fold return, DESPITE the fact that I've had a couple times in my life where I actually DID get a 100-fold return on my giving almost right away. I won't preach it just because I did it a couple times – it hasn't been ALL the time, and besides, I want to be the first to say that I won't base my preaching on experience – even mine! If I can't be sure that I can back something with the Word, I won't preach it.

One final thought while I'm at it – if you're always criticizing people who have a lot of money, you can forget about ever being a person with a lot of money, as you'll never become what you say you hate. Usually this kind of "discernment" would more accurately be described as "jealousy."

Objection: We Should Avoid Faith Teachers Who Live in Mansions Who Suppose that Godliness Is a Means of Gain

Determining whether or not to listen to a certain faith teacher should be based on what he's teaching and not based on whether or not he lives in a mansion. (Not all faith preachers live in mansions, you know.)

Watch out! You can start slandering God's anointed if you're not careful! This objection makes an unfair supposition – that any faith teacher who lives in a mansion MUST just be in it for the money. Furthermore, another supposition is that he got the money for that mansion from his supporters through their offerings for his ministry, and thus he spends too much ministry money on himself instead of on ministry.

How do you know?

He could have inherited the money that got him that mansion, or inherited the mansion itself.

An even richer person might have given him that place because he liked the preacher's ministry so much.

He could have had a business on the side that provided the money to buy that place.

You don't know that it came from the offerings taken up in meetings or mailed in by partners.

Besides, a preacher has the right to live from the gospel (1 Corinthians 9:14), so some of the supporters' money had BETTER be going to him personally to provide for his finances!

My wife and I don't live in a palatial estate, but we have a nice house in a very desirable and sought-after neighborhood. We also have a nice summer place on the ocean. I'll never apologize for them. If I live somewhere nice, does that mean that I just suppose that godliness is a way to make money? I don't know how you're going to accuse me of that when this book is yours to have for free! I wrote it to bless you, not to get your money. The fact is that I've also made millions of dollars apart from ministry and THAT is why I can have nice places to live, while sometimes doing meetings absolutely free without even taking offerings! (Some people have thought I was weird doing some meetings without taking offerings when actually behind-the-scenes partners took care of everything. But if you think that's weird, you must think Jesus is weird, too, because that seemed to be the ONLY way He operated. So it can't be THAT weird.)

And be careful of criticizing ministers who have airplanes – for the same reasons above! Or nice watches, which might have been gifts from grateful listeners. (Don't send me one – I don't like to wear a watch while I'm playing the piano, so I don't wear watches when I minister.) Besides, if your living depended upon doing a lot of literal sprinting through airports to barely catch connections (or barely miss them), that might get old after a while and you might want to see what other options you had.

God doesn't enjoy having His people set themselves up as judges who take personal pot-shots at others, sometimes in the name of having a "discernment ministry." If someone is REALLY a dangerous heretic, then by all means follow Paul's example and expose him publicly by name. But you'd better be sure that they're preaching doctrine that's sending people to hell and that you aren't just jealous of their lifestyle or their large following. Otherwise, go ahead and confront whatever doctrinal issues you disagree with on the basis of Scripture, but don't make it personal.

Everyone will have to answer to God for his own actions, and we should be too busy doing what we're supposed to do to get involved in taking swipes at people just because they're living well and they're in the ministry. I'd also add – it's idiotic to complain about what someone has when you don't know his giving history, which he probably won't broadcast. The biggest givers are the biggest receivers. Because I've been involved in the financial world, I had a business client ask me what the best investment was that I'd ever made. I didn't even have to stop and think. I said that giving to the gospel is the best-returning investment I've ever made. He said, "No, I'm talking about how to GET money, not how to SPEND money." I said, "So am I." You can't outgive God, and you don't want to criticize people just because they are now receiving with the same large measure they've been giving with!

Objection: Some “Faith Healers” Have Gone to Doctors and Demanded Secrecy, then Denounced Doctors while Preaching

The objector may or may not have any proof that these events actually happened, but let’s assume for the sake of discussion that they did. I don’t know any healing preachers myself who have ever demanded secrecy at a hospital or denounced doctors while preaching. I know one healing preacher who was made an OFFER of secrecy at an Emergency Room, but he said that it was unnecessary. Perhaps that was because other preachers who were there before him wanted some kind of “Hospital-Gate” cover-up.

I for one would not hide it if I went to a doctor, and I never denounce doctors while preaching (or while not preaching, for that matter). If it weren’t for doctors, I would have died in the third grade of a serious lung problem, long before I ever knew about Jesus and the New Covenant’s inclusion of healing. I am glad that doctors are available. MANY other Christians are still alive today because of them.

The objector is taking some true events (we assume) and attempting to “project” them onto all divine healing preachers as if we all have things to hide and hate doctors. That isn’t fair. It would be like me stating that ALL people who write books against divine healing personally attack healing preachers by name in a rather nasty manner. While that actually is the case (in my opinion) with this particular gentleman’s book, that does not mean that anyone who is against divine healing is nasty and attacks and defames people personally in an effort to stop their particular ministries.

The presence of one bad apple in a bushel doesn’t mean that all the rest of them are rotten too.

I don’t approve of the behavior above and I don’t engage in it. So I, at least, am exempt from this objection, and so is this book, which is not against doctors either.

Objection: Some Healing Ministers and Their Families Have Gotten Sick

Let's get it straight. Some healing ministers have gotten more than sick; they have dropped dead of illness. I can think of at least one internationally known healing minister who died because of illness, and our friends who object to healing can probably cite some more.

You cannot base doctrine on a man's experience. You base it solely on the Word of God. Any other basis is insufficient. Your favorite preachers still preach holiness in conduct even though they sin sometimes, don't they? Are we going to throw out the whole idea of holy living because of their mistakes?

When it comes to family members, everyone is responsible for believing for his own healing. Just because someone's wife gets sick does not mean that the preacher is preaching untruth or is not in faith. You can believe and receive for yourself. Whether or not your relatives do so is between them and God. It is not a reflection on you.

Some people raise a specific objection that a famous faith preacher's daughter was deaf and he "could not heal her." Well, there have been some preachers' children who have ended up being hooligans, at least for a while, and that is not a reflection on the preachers' faith. Would the objector say that they "could not save them?" Everyone has a free will; you cannot blame one person's actions on another.

One objector wrote that healing ministers are modern-day Pharisees, heaping a yoke upon us which even they themselves cannot lift. I would beware of such generalizations, because there are healing ministers out there who don't get sick. The healing objectors only make a big deal out of the ones who DO. Most healing ministers out there can give you their personal testimony of healings in their own bodies through faith in the very gospel they are preaching. They can tell you first-hand that it works.

Rather than making a big deal out of healing ministers who get sick, why not make a bigger deal of the ones who receive divine healing through faith? Why broadcast the failures instead of the successes? If you kept pointing sinners to preachers who fail morally, they would be led away from developing faith to be saved. If you keep pointing the sick to preachers who fail to receive their healing, they will be led away from developing faith to be healed. That would be a shame.

If you are going to throw out doctrine because of the personal failings of the man preaching it, do not ever read the book of Psalms again, because much of it was written by a known adulterer and murderer. And rip the book of Proverbs out of your Bible while you're at it, because the man who wrote most of it didn't follow his own advice and ended up turning from God and building heathen temples for his ridiculous number of wives! Then there's Moses, who was a murderer. I guess we should throw out the first five books of the Bible, too, because Moses wrote them.

Then get rid of First and Second Peter, because Peter sided with the Judaizers and Paul had to set him straight. Besides, Peter seemed to blow it every time he turned around in Jesus' ministry anyway, to say nothing of the fact that he denied the Lord three times. And forget the gospel of John, his three epistles and Revelation, because he forsook the Lord along with the rest of them when Jesus was led away to be crucified. Matthew's gospel must go for the same reason. And because we assume that Mark's gospel was written by the noted ministerial deserter John Mark, we'll have to pitch Mark's gospel too.

By now, you should get the point. If we aren't going to throw out the doctrine that God spoke through men in the Bible due to their personal failings, why should we throw out God's doctrine when it comes through other fallible men? The only question is, is it in the Bible or isn't it? The fact that some people get sick has nothing to do with it. You don't know anyone who doesn't sin. You still believe in victory over sin anyway, don't you? The fact that people sin does not prove that we don't have victory over sin.

If you have an issue with doctrine, you have to disprove it with Scripture, not experiences! Experiences neither confirm nor disprove doctrine.

Objection: I've Seen "Healing Ministers" Push People Down and It Was No More God than It Was Santa Claus

Guess what? I've seen this too. And frankly, it stinks. There is no record that Jesus ever pushed anyone over. Jesus said that his disciples would "lay hands on the sick," not "shove the sick over like tenpins."

However, I've seen plenty of cases where people fell over when the minister did not even touch them with enough force to make them unsteady. The rest was the work of the Holy Spirit. It is Biblical for people to fall over when the anointing hits them. It is not Biblical for a minister to make it look like it's the anointing when he's just shoving people down. I can tell you from personal experience that some ministers are good at subtly throwing people off-balance to get them to fall. I've been shoved plenty of times myself. But that doesn't mean that the real thing doesn't happen.

In some of these cases, people have complained about how hard the minister "shoved So-and-So down," when anyone near the scene at the time could tell that this was not the case. Beware of being too quick to criticize God's servants. I have NEVER shoved anyone down or even "helped them fall over" in multiple decades of ministry, but I have been accused of doing so – even when I never even touched the person in question. Because the anointing was so strong, the person just "fell out" before I could even touch him. (God THREW one woman about eight to ten feet before I could even touch her. I couldn't have thrown her like that if my life depended on it!)

I don't stop using my driver's license because some people make fake ones. The fact that there are frauds in healing ministry should not stop you from attending healing services. (You might want to check out the speaker before you go, of course.) If there were no REAL healing services, the frauds would never make it, because all such meetings would be frauds and people would figure that out quickly.

I've also seen preachers lean on people for money in inappropriate ways. This does not make taking up offerings a sin! It just means that some preachers are greedy or use no wisdom when taking up offerings or when trying to set realistic budgets for the locale where they're preaching.

Any REAL objection to healing ministry must be founded on Scripture. You cannot derive doctrine from people's actions. Either something is Biblical or it's not. Inappropriate behavior by a minister does not invalidate God's promises of healing and His use of gifts of the Spirit.

Finally, some truly anointed ministers just like to push people. They have valid ministries and miracles follow them. They're just pushy in the prayer line. I don't condone this, but the person is not necessarily a false minister just because he pushes people when he lays hands on them.

Objection: People Falling Down in Meetings is a Clear Sign of DEMON POWER at Work

Do you believe that demons were responsible when the Roman soldiers fell backward to the ground when Jesus announced “I AM?”

Do you believe that demon power was at work when the disciples fell on their faces on the Mount of Transfiguration?

Was it the work of demons that caused the guards at Jesus’ tomb to fall over and be like dead men?

Did demons make Paul fall to the earth when he had a personal encounter with the resurrected Jesus on the road to Damascus?

Did evil spirits cause John to fall before Jesus in the book of Revelation?

Was it the work of evil spirits when Ezekiel and Daniel fell over?

If you would say “no” (and I hope you would) to every question above, you cannot maintain that falling over is a “clear” sign of demon power. The fact that people might fall over at demonic rituals does not mean that demons are the ones knocking believers over in Christian gatherings. Warlocks and witches shop at grocery stores. Is it a clear sign of demon activity if a believer shops at a grocery store because that is what warlocks and witches do?

I think I’ve demonstrated amply from Scripture above that falling over is NOT necessarily demonic. But if that’s not enough to convince you, you can read Why Do People Fall Over in Healing Lines? for even more thoughts and examples along these lines, along with a lot of specific Scriptures.

Objection: If Faith Healers Were Real, They Would Heal People with Birth Defects. Instead, They Tell Such People Not to Come Up and Instruct the Cameramen Not To Show Sections with Such People.

I don't know what cave the objector lives in, but people with birth defects ARE being healed today! I've seen it myself, and so have some other healing evangelists whom I know personally. Crowds of people present at the time can vouch for it. That is to be expected, because Jesus said that we would do the works that He did and greater, and He healed people with birth defects. He did not turn such people away or tell people not to pay attention to groups of people who had birth defects.

I saw a baby with no arches and feet at a 90-degree angle to where they should have been healed under a tent after I laid my hands on that baby. I laid hands on woman who was unable to hear properly in one ear because she was born without part of her eardrum, and she was completely healed and able to hear normally. I'd WANT to have some cameramen around to record things like that! Just because someone else doesn't want to minister to people with birth defects doesn't mean that nobody does. Too many people assume things about ALL healing ministers because of an issue they had with ONE healing minister.

I can't say for sure if any people with healing ministries actually tell cameramen to avoid sections with people who have birth defects. Maybe some do and maybe it's just a potshot at people with healing ministries. I think it's a dubious claim because I've never seen any instructions at any crusade that tell people with birth defects to all sit in the same "Birth Defects Section!" Just because someone might have instructed cameramen to aim away from sections that CONTAIN one or more such people doesn't mean that everyone does that or that there are no healing ministries seeing success with birth defects. For that matter, some healing ministries have exposed as total frauds, but that doesn't mean that there are no real ones. The anti-healing books always like to find one bad apple, but you can find bad apples in any class of people who don't represent that class's beliefs and practices accurately.

I personally know a woman who was born with noticeable defects and was in a service with a famous healing ministry. (Don't ask – I don't name names if I don't have something good to say. I'm not out to trash other ministers' reputations, whether I like how they do things or not.) People were being encouraged to believe God for healing for all kinds of conditions. So she started going up to have hands laid on her. But then the speaker stopped and said that the line was NOT for people who had birth defects, so if you were coming up for a healing of a birth defect, go back and sit down.

She was heartbroken. First, she was flabbergasted because this ministry was very well-known for healing miracles. Second, she was crushed that she was not allowed to go up in the healing line just because her condition was something she was born with. Besides, the whole affair was rather embarrassing for her! Perhaps that particular ministry has no success with birth defects, but you certainly won't have any successes if you don't allow such people to receive ministry!

The Lord has since changed her body and she has bones she never had before, but it wasn't because of the ministry in question!

So I'm not denying that there are true stories like that. What is not fair is when someone takes a true story and then tells the world that "all" healing ministries are like that when that simply isn't the case.

I will say as I do throughout this book – experience does not determine our doctrine. I've seen people "fake it" by shoving people down and I've been the shove-ee myself. But that doesn't stop me from believing what Jesus said. You can tell me true accounts of bad healing ministry, but I can tell you true Christ-exalting stories of good healing ministry – the kinds of stories you'll never read in the anti-healing books. I don't get my doctrine from people's stories; I get it from the Word that tells us that there are ministries of "gifts of healings" and "miracles," and that we will do the works that Jesus did and greater.

I preached at a church that was founded when a healing evangelist saw an instant healing of a serious birth defect in a meeting in the town's soccer stadium. People all over that town were eyewitnesses to what happened, and I enjoyed hearing people share what they saw that day.

I know a man who ministered to a grown woman who had the mind of a 2-year-old due to her particular defect. She was instantly healed in front of a crowd and she immediately started speaking TWO languages and using college-level words! That exalted Jesus and definitely multiplied the crowd size after that night.

I personally know people who have had children who were supposedly going to be unable to function in society due to their defects – who are now functioning in society even though it was "impossible" after their parents stood in faith for their children. It's way too late to tell me that God doesn't heal birth defects!

The nice thing about the healing of birth defects is that no one can deny that something happened. If people testify of being healed of migraines or back pain, that's wonderful, too, but you can't see migraines or back pain, but everyone can see deformities and everyone can see when they aren't there anymore!

Perhaps we should pray for more boldness when it comes to people with birth defects so that we won't shy away thinking that we'll just be embarrassed – after all, what if nothing happens? Well, "nothing" is what is SURE to happen if you don't lay hands on someone. What if something DOES happen?

Objection: Jesus Did Not Have Healings of Backaches and Headaches – Non-Organic Diseases that One Can't Verify Visually – But Claims of Such Are Common with Faith Healers Who Lack His Power

The statement about Jesus is, first of all, an attempted argument from silence, which is shaky ground to begin with, as the Bible itself claims that it did NOT document all of Jesus' works. The very last verse in John's gospel says, "And there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which, if they should be written every one, I suppose that even the world itself could not contain the books that should be written. Amen." (John 21:25).

Worse yet for the objector, Scripture is plain from Matthew's gospel alone (we could go elsewhere) that Jesus healed "all manner of sickness and all manner of disease" (Matthew 4:23-24), "all that were sick" (Matthew 8:16-17), "every sickness and every disease" (Matthew 9:35), "their sick" (Matthew 14:14) and "all that were diseased...as many as touched Him" (Matthew 14:35-36).

Now you must either believe that headaches and backaches are diseases or that they are symptoms of some other diseases. In the first case, it is plain that Jesus healed those diseases as well as all others. In the second case, it is clear that Jesus healed whatever diseases could possibly cause headaches and backaches. In fact, even the maimed were healed in His ministry (see Matthew 15:30-31), so even headaches and backaches caused by accidents (as opposed to diseases) were also healed.

So I have to conclude that headaches and backaches, along with any root causes, were healed in Jesus' ministry.

Now to the issue of "non-verifiable" cures in healing crusades. First, it would be no small thing to me if I were the one with the headache or the backache, especially if the condition were chronic due to a migraine issue or a misaligned disc. I've seen people healed of such things, including a person who had a three-month headache from an injury to her head! She was VERY glad that Jesus still heals headaches today just as He used to.

But I understand that such things would not be visible to outsiders and that such healings could be "faked." But then again, there have been cases of sham healers who faked "organic" healings where people who were not in wheelchairs before the service got into them and then got out of them during the service. You could "fake" almost anything, but that doesn't mean that the real doesn't happen – Jesus didn't have to fake any healings!

So why are there so few verifiable, dramatic healings today compared to Jesus' ministry? I've put down some thoughts on that matter elsewhere in the form of what we could do so that we DO see more such healings. But as I say throughout this book, we must not drag the Word down to our experience level, but we should always strive to bring our experience level up to the Word.

“Yes,” someone will say, “but shouldn’t there at least be SOMEONE with Jesus’ level of consistent and notable miracles?” I would say in all fairness, NO ONE, not even JESUS, would see the miracles that He saw in some places in most places today, which resemble Nazareth as far as lack of faith goes. It’s unfair to blame the preacher in a town where everyone is convinced that Paul’s thorn in the flesh was a horrible case of ophthalmia that God wouldn’t heal, just as it would be unfair to blame Jesus when He visited His own hometown and was received quite badly, though not as badly as the first time when they tried to kill Him by throwing Him off a cliff!

In fact, to echo F. F. Bosworth, a famous healing minister during the first part of the 1900’s, the objectors to divine healing are largely responsible for creating the very atmosphere of unbelief that creates the lack of miracles to which they object!

Objection: Faith Healers Use Hypnosis and Psychological Techniques to Get People Healed

A famous objector claims that healings in healing services are the result of hypnosis and psychological manipulation that could be performed by unbelievers. He cites the case of the late Franz Mesmer, who would point at his followers and they would start to twitch. Mesmer, who was certainly not practicing Christian healing, even saw some physical ailments healed through “the power of suggestion.” The objector goes on to assert that no “organic” (physical) illnesses are healed in today’s healing meetings.

It is too bad that he apparently hangs out in circles that have never seen birth defects healed, limbs grow out, and so on. He wasn’t there when I saw God heal them. He wasn’t there when I watched a man with AIDS get out of a wheelchair and walk – and soon after that be declared HIV-negative. What kind of hypnosis technique can cure AIDS? If the objector wants to blame it on hypnosis, why doesn’t he go around getting people healed of AIDS that way? In fact, if “mesmerism” is so effective, why don’t divine healing critics take “hypnosis and psychological techniques” to the world and get people set free from all kinds of ailments?

I’m aware that people can shift their backs in a way that makes it look like their legs are different lengths or the same length, but someone I worked with who saw a LOT of miracles where legs grew out (I was right there in front of the people who got healed) always insisted that people sit straight back on a hard wooden chair so that everyone could see there was no “back shifting” going on. One case at our church involved a woman’s leg growing out INSTANTLY when we laid hands on her, which was rather startling for all of us. It was definitely not caused by back-moving shenanigans. No back shift would have caused the blink-of-an-eye results. And certainly no form of mental gymnastics could account for such a thing.

I’ve heard the complaint that people fall over in healing meetings due to the power of suggestion, and I’m not denying that it happens. In fact, I’m convinced that it DOES happen more often than we’d care to admit. The reason we have “catchers” is to catch such people. (When the Holy Spirit causes someone to fall over for real, He doesn’t hurt people. I went backwards onto a concrete floor in a meeting once without a catcher and wasn’t hurt, and I was definitely trying not to fall over because I knew there was a hard floor and no catcher.) If people think they’re going to fall over (or are supposed to), they usually do, whether the Holy Spirit is really doing anything or not. I actually wish such people would NOT go down, as it just makes running the service harder. We never tell people that they should fall over and we most definitely never push anyone, subtly or otherwise, which I know for a fact goes on in some meetings—I’ve been a “push-ee” plenty of times! The people who fall under “suggestion” are falling because of their OWN suggestion, not ours. However, there are cases where people fall over and it IS the action of the Holy Spirit.

Perhaps one reason why people blame psychology for things at healing meetings is the fact that we encourage people to believe that they will receive their healing when we lay hands on them. But this is not a psychological ploy; it is in attempt to get people to believe Jesus' words that "they shall lay hands on the sick and they shall recover!" Besides, what are we supposed to do, tell people, "Expect to stay sick! Don't expect anything to happen. That will prove that we are not trying to psych you into getting healed?"

I could go on and on about seeing stage 4 cancers healed, diabetes healed, heart issues healed, amputations canceled, gangrene disappearing, and many other things that are not possible through psychological techniques. But if an objector wants to stuff his head in the sand and never be around places where the works of Jesus are being done in public, I can't make him change. A teacher doing all his ministry around "denominational" people who don't believe that God heals today will probably miss out on a lot of opportunities to see the risen healing Jesus at work!

Objection: Faith Preachers Pronounce Mean Divine Judgments on Those Who Disagree

SOME faith preachers have done that, and it makes me cringe when I see it. I've been around a while and I've seen quite a few doom prophecies over the years made against critics of divine healing by preachers whom they attacked. In many cases, the attackers claimed that the faith preachers preached "a different gospel" and are therefore heretics. Claiming that their brothers in the Lord, who confess the risen Jesus as coming in the flesh as well as they do, are actually hell-bound certainly isn't very nice. But that never warrants retaliation in kind. Jesus taught us to love our enemies. Paul's hope was that the opposers would come to their senses, not that they would incur horrible judgment on themselves.

I've been called some things, too, but I've never pronounced any kind of supposedly divine judgment on my detractors. Instead, I've been nice to them and have spared them the public humiliation they tried to bring on me. I ended up getting along with a couple in my area (at the time) because they came to see after getting to know me better that I wasn't an apostate after all.

This objection makes the mistake of overgeneralization by implying that because some faith preachers heap woes upon their detractors, that ALL do it. I don't, and I'm a subset of ALL, so not all faith preachers do this – particularly not the wise ones!

If you as a faith person are attacked personally, respond in love. If the doctrine you preach is what is being attacked (that's different), you need to respond with correct doctrine, not with a personal attack, which would say to the world that you are ducking the issue because you know you don't have a good answer. (After reading this book, I'd hope that you WOULD have a good answer!)

Objection: Faith Healers Take Credit for Cures of Things that Would Have Gone Away on Their Own Anyway

I'm sure that people can find "testimonies" of healings that would have happened anyway through natural means, but I wouldn't consider those to be convincing testimonies either. Jesus said that SIGNS would follow us, and it isn't a SIGN if a condition is cured that would have gone away anyway even if the person were an unbeliever who never went to a healing service. This should be a warning to those in healing ministry to be careful about promoting such testimonies. Claiming that a "flu" was healed within 2 weeks after you laid hands on someone would be a laughable example.

However, when something would have gone away over time anyway, but it's INSTANTLY cured, that IS something worth reporting. For example, a woman with a sliced hand was INSTANTLY cured in one of our meetings so that you couldn't tell that anything had ever happened to it. The same result probably would have occurred over a period of weeks or months, but it would NEVER have occurred naturally in an instant.

I had my wisdom teeth out many years ago and I was in a LOT of pain afterward. The day after the extractions, I went to a famous healing evangelist's service. The pain left and never returned, and I was plenty hungry because I hadn't been able to eat for a day and a half, so I "pigged out" pain-free after the service. Now the problem WOULD have gone away naturally over time, but it wouldn't have been an instant thing.

You may wonder, "Well, if you're such a faith guy, why didn't you believe to save those teeth so that they didn't have to come out?" That's just not where I was at the time. Much later, I was able to believe God and keep a tooth that the dentist told me would have to come out within a week at an oral surgeon's office or I would be in excruciating pain begging to have it yanked. (That was years ago when I lived in Maine.) I wasn't just trying to save money because I was a Yankee – I was trying NOT to be a typical Yankee. (The oral surgeon would have been the Yanker and I would have been the Yankee.) The bigger issue was that I had lost other teeth and I was just tired of losing teeth! Sometimes when we get more desperate, we start seeing better results because we really mean business!

I agree with the objector that we should not attribute "cures" to miraculous power when they would have happened anyway in the same amount of time. But some "self-curing" conditions can be healed in a miraculously short period of time, and that is worth reporting.

As one final note, we should give JESUS the credit for any notably miraculous healings anyway. While we do have authority to heal the sick, and it is actually perfectly biblical to say that you healed a sick person, we should emphasize that it is only through Jesus' power that we can do anything. After all, we preach Jesus, not ourselves, as Paul said:

2 Corinthians 4:5:

For we preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus the Lord; and ourselves your servants for Jesus' sake.

Objection: “Faith Healers” Call Attention to Man and Thus Rob the Lord of Due Glory

This is like saying that every preacher who proclaims the new birth robs the Lord of due glory because people pay attention to him. Of course they pay attention to him! Paul said that they wouldn't hear without a preacher. Preaching of the Word has always been part of God's plan. It is the only way men get saved. Angels are not allowed to preach the gospel to the unsaved. The angel who visited Cornelius could not tell him how to be born again. He could only tell him to send for a human preacher who could explain the plan of salvation to him.

A reputable preacher of the healing portion of the gospel will always give out the Word of God so that people can believe on their own, rather than depending on him. He does not want people to feel that they must attend his next miracle rally the next time they get sick. He wants them to know how to appropriate healing for themselves without a healing service.

Despite this, there are always some wags out there who feel that it robs the Lord of glory when a man is used as the instrument for transmitting the healing anointing. I suppose that they must be especially mad at Jesus, then. By their standard, He robbed God of glory every chance He could get. He did not simply say, “Believe God!” (although He did teach that), but He also laid hands on the multitudes. At times, the multitudes were the ones laying hands on Him to receive from the anointing that was on Him (Acts 10:38). He definitely got a lot of attention, too.

It amazes me that otherwise sensible Christians are offended at “assembly line healings” at healing rallies and say, “The Lord should be allowed to do the healing.” Again, I suppose that the person who said this would have been very offended at Jesus' ministry, where it is obvious that rapid-fire healings were occurring. God's anointing had to be strong enough so that the needs of multitudes could be met in a single evening. Jesus did not just sit back and lead everyone in worship and say, “Well, let's allow the Lord to do the healing.” There are cases where this can work when the Holy Spirit directs it, but it is not the Biblical norm. Paul did not sit back on the island of Melita and wait for the Lord to do the healing.

Furthermore, Jesus told you to actively lay hands on the sick, not wait for the Lord to do the healing! It is tragic that those Christians who are not doing the works commanded by Jesus are the first to criticize those who actually do them!

Of course, the objectors are upset that many of those prayed over do not receive their healing. But surely, more people get healed through such ministers than through those who object to them. If we are still learning and we have not arrived, I would rather see 5% of the people get miraculously healed in one night while we do our best to obey God rather than see 0% of the people healed because we give up in frustration because of those who are not healed.

If you want to mock healing preachers today for their lack of results, trade places with them for a day or so and see how many people you get healed under the same circumstances. You would quickly stop saying, "If he were really anointed, they'd all get healed."

When it comes to the issue of Jesus getting glory, the objectors would surely say that it was different with Him because He is a member of the Trinity and He should get glory anyway. But Jesus did not minister and live as a member of the Trinity (although He was), He ministered solely according to human limitations. He also said that He did not seek His own glory (John 8:50).

In Matthew 15:30-31, the multitude glorified the God of Israel, not the preacher (Jesus), for all the miracles that were done. People also glorified God in Mark 2:2-12. The man who was healed when Jesus saw his faith and the faith of his friends glorified God, not himself or the preacher (Luke 5:17-26). In Luke 13:11-16, the woman who had been sick for 18 years glorified God, not the preacher, when she got healed. In Luke 17:12-19, a leper who was healed glorified God, not the preacher, with a loud voice. In Luke 18:35-43, a blind man who was healed gave glory to God, not to the preacher, and all the people gave praise to God, not to the preacher.

Jesus' example therefore proves that it is possible to be used in big healing crusades without seeking your own glory, and thus robbing God of the glory due Him. Jesus did it. So can we.

If any healing minister out there does not run his ministry reputably, he may indeed attempt to steal God's glory. (That is a good way to die young. God will not give His glory to another.) I am not defending all healing ministers out there. Even if one of them blows it and calls excessive attention to himself instead of Jesus, that does not negate that it is possible to preach and minister healing without stealing any of God's glory, as in Jesus' example.

The truth of the matter is that God is glorified when either laymen or preachers minister healing. According to Jesus' words in John 15:7-8, God is glorified when you ask what you will and have it done unto you. Far from robbing God of glory, healing gives God glory because it demonstrates both His power and His compassion on the earth today.

Besides, did you know that some of God's glory belongs to us now as the Church? Jesus said, "And the glory which thou gavest me I have given them" (John 17:22). Jesus washed us with water by the word so that He could present a glorious church to Himself (Ephesians 5:25-27). Whom He justified, He also glorified (Romans 8:30). "But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord" (2 Corinthians 3:18). The apostles were referred to as "the glory of Christ" (2 Corinthians 8:23). God has called us to glory and virtue (2 Peter 1:3). I think you get the point. We are not unworthy little worms crawling on the earth. We are the glorious Church! There is a certain glory that we should walk in!

Healings and miracles done in the name of Jesus glorify God. To preach healing and lay hands on the sick does not rob God of glory; it gives Him additional glory in the earth. Let's give Him all the glory we can!

Objection: If Faith Healers Were Real, One Would Have Won a Million-Dollar Prize Offered by a Renowned Skeptic for Proof of Supernatural Ability

Someone reading this objection might conclude that a great miracle could take place in a healing service, such as some of the things I cite in this book as an eyewitness, and the healing minister could go to this skeptic with medical documentation and collect a million dollars. (The skeptic's offer is no longer valid at this writing.) That would certainly be nice!

I even thought that I might make a quick million by submitting my wife's testimony that lots of people in her home town could confirm. She needed a machine to keep her alive for years, was given up to die multiple times by doctors, had "the lungs of an 80-year-old woman" and struggled to breathe. Her doctor told her that the sooner she accepted that she was going to die, the better. A pharmacist in town was witness to the hundreds of dollars of medications she needed monthly. But Jesus healed her, and she has 100% normal, healthy lungs today. The people in her town were shocked. She had X-rays and everything. Time to start living the lifestyle of the rich and famous with that million bucks! Well, maybe not.

You see, "challenge" was never set up to allow such a thing to qualify in the first place. Not only would the healing would have to take place under the skeptic's conditions and controlled environment, but there were some other onerous prerequisites like getting a letter from a recognized academic institution to assert your credentials to even qualify to take the challenge. You also had to prove some degree of notoriety first, which would eliminate a lot of people from ever applying for the prize. And anything that happened in your meeting was off-limits because that was your environment, not his – no past miracle qualified, even if you did have ironclad documentation from doctors and experts that a miracle occurred. It had to be something done while the skeptic was watching – not exactly a good environment for the manifestations of the Holy Spirit to flow.

In an ironic twist, this very same skeptic who purported to expose "liars" posing as healing ministers boasted that he once tried to prove his point by lying himself! He went to a famous healing minister's meeting and went up with a bogus testimony that a nonexistent body part around his knee had just been healed. He even made up a fancy-sounding fake medical term, and got by a couple "screeners" with his phony. He didn't actually get the chance to share his phony (probably a good thing for him in light of Acts 5:1-11), but he had every intention of doing so in order to embarrass the preacher and "expose" him as a fraud. However, he would have been exposing HIMSELF as a fraud in the process! Can no one see the irony of alleging that someone is a liar when you are a liar yourself? Would you trust a known liar to willingly hand over a million dollars in response to his challenge? The fact that his "healing" was fake would not constitute proof that the other healings weren't real anyway! (I got healed for REAL in one of that same healing minister's meetings.)

As discussed elsewhere, Jesus has never been in the business of “performing” miracles in front of skeptics to prove Himself. When He was asked to do so, He didn’t. We can’t go any farther than He did because we’d be going beyond the Word. So we have no right to go “perform” a miracle to prove something to a skeptic either. Besides, I’ve been down that road before, and the skeptic will just keep introducing more excuses to not believe that anything really happened (incompetent doctors making false diagnoses in the first place, swapped X-rays, and so on). When someone really doesn’t want to believe, you’re not going to convince him of anything. Jesus did not waste His time with such people. Neither should you.

Objection: Unlike Faith Healers, Jesus Took People Aside to Heal Them

While there are instances of people being led aside, the norm was for people in large crowds to be healed without being taken aside. There are so many Scriptural proofs of this, I won't even bother listing them all. You will encounter the following in the book of Matthew alone, which should be sufficient to disprove the statement from this objector (who just had something against "faith healers").

Matthew 4:23-24

Matthew 8:16 -17

Matthew 9:35

Matthew 14:14

Matthew 14:35-36

Matthew 15:30-31

Matthew 19:2

Objection: There Is No Evidence that the Churches to Which the Apostles Wrote Ever Had Healing Meetings

First, there were plenty of spectacular things going on outside of church, such as ALL being healed when they brought the sick to the streets in Jerusalem, and ALL the sick people on the island of Melita being healed. You can say correctly that such occurrences were outside of church (they didn't have church buildings anyway), but many healing meetings today are outside of church buildings, too.

Second, if we take this argument to its intended conclusion, we should not have evangelistic meetings either, because there is no evidence that the churches to which the apostles wrote ever conducted modern-style evangelistic crusades. In fact, we should not have altar calls either, because no modern-style altar calls ever appear in the Bible. There is no record of worship teams in church meetings, so maybe we should do away with them too. There weren't any church buildings, either, so maybe they should be next on the chopping block. There is no evidence that there was "Sunday school" for the kids, so that should stop next. The churches in Acts NEVER celebrated Christmas or Easter—they were pagan holidays that were "Christianized" much later, so I suppose any special Christmas cantatas and Easter sunrise services must also stop. Next we can get rid of bulletins, pulpits, altars, greeters, info centers, sound booths, visitor packets and many other modern fixtures that don't appear in Scripture. We might not have recognizable modern churches left if we got rid of everything we don't explicitly see in Scripture! Maybe that would be a good thing to shake the tradition out of everyone, but I still had a pulpit, bulletins, greeters, and so on when I pastored. There is certainly no PROHIBITION against such things in Scripture and I'm not against anything I listed in this paragraph. METHODS can change, and that's OK as long as the same PRINCIPLES in Scripture still apply.

Third, the churches to whom the apostles wrote certainly did practice divine healing even if it was not done in a modern crusade format. It doesn't have to be done that in that format today, either, though the Lord is not against anything that obeys the Great Commission by preaching to the lost and healing the sick. Paul told the Galatians that God did miracles among them. We know that the Corinthians "came behind in no gift," which would include gifts of healings and working of miracles, so they had healings and miracles, too. This book has numerous Scripture citations of other places where signs were being done.

Fourth, there will always be some people who have ministries flowing in “gifts of healings” and “working of miracles” as Paul made clear in 1 Corinthians 12:28. These gifts will not be done away with until the “perfect” has come when we will know everything instead of seeing everything “through a glass darkly.” Because that is their ministry, special meetings held by these ministers where the sick are healed should be held until the Lord returns. Even some “faith people” seem to think that the “day of the healing evangelists” was in the 1940’s and 1950’s when large tent crusades were done, and that their “day” is over now. In fact, I’ve heard people say that God is done with healing evangelists because the whole BODY is being raised up to minister healing. I agree that the whole BODY should minister healing, but given the fact that there will ALWAYS be some people with a special gifting for that (as we just saw), the “day of the healing evangelist” is EVERY day! The gift of evangelist, which biblically would always be healing evangelist because God doesn’t call non-healing evangelists, is to endure as long as pastors, teachers, prophets and apostles. We shortchange ourselves by looking back at the past and thinking how wonderful those days must have been, while thinking that today we’re just out of luck because we’ll never see anything like that – or better – again. God hasn’t taken these giftings out of the Church just because there is more widespread revelation of ALL Christians being able to do the works of Jesus. The fact that these giftings exist is enough proof to me that there WERE “healing meetings” of some variety in New Testament churches.

Finally, the Internet and modern books will never replace live meetings. I’d like to think that you can learn a lot from this book, but I’m not going to stop doing meetings just because I can spread information on the Internet. There will never be a substitute for live, Holy Spirit-led, anointed ministers who minister to the sick in person, if for no other reason than the fact that you need live services for the manifestations of the Holy Spirit to flow. You CAN get healed reading and acting upon the information in this book without going to any meeting, mine included. However, it’s EASIER for a lot of people to get healed when there are anointed meetings set aside for that purpose and the Holy Spirit can move on people in ways that He can’t over the Internet. I can teach you over the Internet but I can’t lay hands on you over the Internet.

Objection: The Day of the Healing Evangelist Is Over – ALL Christians Should Heal

What makes this “objection” unique is that it comes from “faith” circles as opposed to traditional churches (which don’t believe that ANYONE should heal anymore). Like most objections, it comes from looking at circumstances and creating doctrine from them.

Anyone who studies church history knows about the great healing crusades done in the 1940’s and 1950’s. God used certain men to heal large numbers of sick people. Because we don’t see such meetings today, we assume that God has a different way of doing things now. This is a half-truth. There was unmistakably a “wave” of healing that was followed by a “wave” of gifts of the Spirit in traditional churches, which was followed by a “wave” of teaching on faith, which was followed by a “wave” of teaching on grace. However, healing, gifts, faith and grace are not “movements” but rather fixtures in the lives of believers. The Holy Spirit emphasized different truths at different times but these truths did not BECOME true just because there was a special emphasis on them at a certain time. They didn’t CEASE being true after a particular “wave” was over.

We should be clear from the start that the term “healing evangelist” never appears in the Bible because it is a redundant term like “wet water.” God has never called anyone to be a non-healing evangelist. There have been many non-healing evangelists, some of whom have gotten large numbers of people saved. Thank God for that, but it was NEVER God’s will to send anyone out to preach the good news without signs and wonders following. Such men could have been far MORE effective if they had healings and miracles following their ministries. Philip is the only person in the Bible explicitly referred to as an evangelist. Acts 8:6-7 shows that he was a signs-and-wonders guy.

So stating that the day of the healing evangelist is over is the same as saying that the day of the evangelist is over, which means that we have only apostles, prophets, pastors and teachers today but no evangelists. Yet all these offices were given until we come to perfection, and that certainly hasn’t happened yet. (See Ephesians 4:11-16.) So the day of the healing evangelist cannot be over!

I agree that ALL members of the Body of Christ should offer healing to the world. Part of the purpose of this book is to facilitate that. However, that doesn’t mean that there are no people who flow in gifts of healings, working of miracles and special faith to a greater degree than others or that no one is specifically “set apart” for the work of Biblical evangelism with signs following.

Besides, some of the people who were called “evangelists” during the tent revival age were really prophets or even teachers. People in ALL ministry offices should expect signs to follow them, though the office of evangelist in particular should see a consistent flow of the “power gifts.”

You have to be very careful about making statements that a certain “age” is “over” because it splits the Church Age into different sub-ages. There is NEVER a valid reason to do that. It’s making the same mistake that our denominational friends make when they say that the “age of miracles” is “over.” It’s also the same mistake that “faith people” make when they say that there is coming a great revival when the rules will change and things will be like the early church! There are no rule changes in the Church Age, earlier, now or later. Period. The only difference is people’s knowledge (or lack thereof) of what they are supposed to do and their willingness to act on unchanging truth.

It is good to see an emphasis in this day that all believers have the right to lay hands on the sick and see them recover (Mark 16:18). However, that doesn’t mean that the Body of Christ has no further use for healing evangelists. Why would God have certain “gifts” to do miracles if He intended for everyone to just go out in faith without any demonstrations of gifts of the Spirit?

If you mean that “the day when the healing evangelist is the prominent office in the public eye is over,” that’s OK. I can agree that the “wave” of emphasis on tent healing crusades in the 1940’s and 1950’s is over. However, here’s the danger. Pastors could all start believing that the day of the “healing evangelist” is over. So what will they do? They will stop inviting evangelists to minister at their churches and just bring in teachers or other speaking gifts. However, no church will be properly balanced if evangelists never speak there, any more than a church would be properly balanced if it never invited in an apostle, a prophet or a teacher. Because ALL these ministry gifts were given to build up the body, continued failure to bring in people who stand in a particular office will make the congregation lopsided in the long run. If the Body of Christ in general shows no interest in evangelists, their gifts will go unused or underutilized and few people will ever WANT to become evangelists even if the Lord is calling them to that office. They could get “starved out” and turn back to secular work! The office of teacher is very much in vogue today in faith circles, but the need for real Biblical signs-and-wonders evangelists will never go away. Most teachers do not have the same passion for the lost that evangelists do because reaching the lost is not the primary area where God has gifted them. (Of course, we should ALL share the gospel regardless of what we are called to do.) If all we do is “teach, teach, teach,” we will end up with well-taught people who aren’t fervent about reaching the unsaved.

Here is a dangerous idea: “If we just get the right teachers in and get the right teachings, ALL of us will go out and heal and we will not need any healing evangelist to come in.” What that misses is that fact that evangelists have a special equipping from God to do what they do. You won’t duplicate that gift just by having great teaching. Not everyone is a signs-and-wonders evangelist even though ALL can do miracles.

So let's not kick one of the five ministry offices to the curb just because teaching is more of an "in" thing. The day may come when there is another wave of evangelists. The public could get all excited that healing services are the "next big thing" and people could make the opposite mistake they make now by thinking, "Who needs teachers? We can all read our Bibles for ourselves and have the Holy Spirit teach us all things. What we really need is some EXCITEMENT that will grab the public's attention!" If you're reading this and such a day has come, please don't kick teachers to the curb. We will always need them to teach the body. We will always need all FIVE ministry offices throughout the Church Age! The "day" when we don't need them will come when we're taken to be with the Lord forever.

Objection: The Signs of an Apostle Do Not Refer To Signs, Wonders and Mighty Deeds, But Rather to Suffering or Perseverance

The interesting thing about this particular objection is that you can hear it from BOTH the denominational anti-healing crowd and from “word of faith” preachers who are what I call “business card apostles.” The latter are people who do NOT have prodigious signs, wonders and mighty deeds following them, but they hand out business cards stating that they are apostles. I suppose these cards are necessary because based on Biblical criteria, you’d never have guessed that these people were apostles! When I pastored, I even had someone in one of my services handing out cards (without my permission) declaring him to be an APE – Apostle/Prophet/Evangelist! He tried to prophesy to people without my permission, too, and I had to shut him down even though another prominent faith church in the area thought he was the real deal. After he proceeded to try to prophesy on the way to the parking lot (also without my permission), he continued to show his true colors. A TRUE apostle would know enough to submit to the authority of the local pastor. However, a business card apostle believes that only apostles should run churches and that you’re a “bastard church” if you’re not “properly submitted” to “apostolic authority.” (They’ve not realized that “governments” of churches and “apostles” are SEPARATE entries on Paul’s list in 1 Corinthians 12:28-30!) Unlike Paul, who had only BAD things to say about “superapostles” who tried to take over a church that someone else planted, they think they have the right to take over other people’s churches in their “apostolic territory.” Beware of such scoundrels and never let them get their mitts on your church, or you’ll be sorry!

So what is the justification for signs, wonders and mighty deeds NOT being proof of apostleship? It has to do with the interpretation of the following verse:

2 Corinthians 12:12:

Truly the signs of an apostle were wrought among you in all patience, in signs, and wonders, and mighty deeds.

The objector’s take is that the signs of an apostle were patience – period. The objector believes that the signs, wonders and mighty deeds were peculiar to Paul here and not to all apostles. Thus, if you persevere, you have performed the sign of an apostle. Or course, just about anyone could be an apostle based on that criterion, as all of us will have reasons to have to persevere through trials.

The objector’s reasoning is fraught with other problems. For starters, the verse does not start, “Truly the signs of an apostle were wrought among you – patience” although that is how the objector is reading it. The signs were worked in all patience. This proves that patience itself wasn’t a sign.

Next, SIGNS could not be patience because SIGNS is plural and patience is singular. That wouldn’t even make grammatical sense.

Next, the word SIGNS is the Greek word semeion in both places where “signs” appears in the verse. It is usually used to portray an unusual, miraculous occurrence. For example, “These signs (semeion) will follow those believe...”. It is actually translated miracle(s) in Luke 23:8, John 2:11, John 2:23, John 3:2, John 4:54, John 6:2, John 6:14, John 6:26, John 7:31, John 9:16, John 10:41, John 11:47, John 12:18, John 12:37, Acts 4:16, Acts 6:8, Acts 8:6, Acts 15:12, Revelation 16:14 and Revelation 19:20. It is often used as part of the phrase “signs and wonders.” So these signs are not something that just everybody goes around doing. Perseverance is a good thing, but it’s not in the same class as a miracle.

Even if you wanted to argue that whatever the sign was, it wasn’t patience, but it was IN patience, you’d also have to admit that it was IN (the same Greek word en is used for in both times) signs, wonders and mighty deeds. For that to be true, you’d have to be performing signs, wonders and mighty deeds for whatever you claim are the signs of an apostle to be done “in.” Otherwise this verse could not apply to you.

Some could argue, “An apostle is just a missionary or church planter.” But someone CALLED to that office will have signs, wonders and mighty deeds in his ministry. Planting a church in and of itself does not make you an apostle. The landscape is littered with “church plants” that are nothing more than disgruntled people from First Denominational breaking off to form Second Denominational (though it is rare for the second church to use that as the title, as it calls too much attention to the fact that there is a First Denominational). Such “plants” are usually “weeds” in God’s book, though I’ll admit that there are some churches that anyone with half a brain would leave due to the spiritual abuse that goes on. (Spiritual abuse does NOT include disputes over the carpet color, which led to hundreds of people leaving a certain church en masse in a state where I used to live.)

We must conclude that any TRUE apostle performs signs, wonders and mighty deeds. Anyone claiming to be an apostle who does not perform signs, wonders and mighty deeds is a fake who should never be taken seriously.

Objection: The Bible Does Not Instruct Us to Hold Healing Crusades

Given that some people's ministry offices are "gifts of healings" and "miracles," where are they supposed to exercise those gifts? If the objectors had their way, it would be in private homes away from the public. But that didn't work for Jesus because the crowds were too big. The crowds were too big for Peter, too, when he ministered on the street in Jerusalem. Jesus ministered publicly. God wants us to declare His works to the heathen, and one way to do that is through healing rallies.

The Bible does not tell us to hold evangelistic crusades of any variety, but does that make them wrong? Is it a bad thing to try to reach as many sinners as possible in the shortest amount of time? If not, why is it wrong to want to reach the most sick people in the shortest amount of time?

The Bible never tells us to hand out printed tracts either. Am I in sin because I've handed out tens of thousands of them and led people to Jesus that way?

The Bible does not tell us to have missions conferences either. Is it a sin to have one?

What matters is that the Bible does instruct us to GO and tell EVERYONE the gospel. The means by which this must be done is not specified, and the best method may vary greatly from place to place. In countries where open evangelism is illegal and subject to capital punishment, different strategies have to be employed than might be used in free countries. Some places are quite welcoming to door-to-door evangelism, but I used to live somewhere where people hated you for interrupting their time at home and invading their privacy. So it pays to listen to the Holy Spirit and find out what His plan is.

You can read The Light Is Green for an elaboration on this, but when it comes to evangelism, the general rule of thumb should be that God has ALREADY told you to GO, so you GO unless He specifically stops you and redirects you elsewhere.

Objection: Healing and Miracle-Related Words Are Mostly in the Gospels and Acts, Not After Them

The objector is sure that we can gauge the relative importance of Bible topics in the Church Age by comparing the number of times words occur in the four gospels and Acts vs. later. Supposedly, a word that is not used very much by comparison after Acts has shrunk in importance after the book of Acts. Using this logic, the objector proceeds to demonstrate that signs, wonders and healings must not be nearly as important to the Church in our current day.

By HIS logic, heal/healed (iaomai) must not be important in the Church Age, as it appears 25 times in the gospels and Acts and only 3 times later. (I am including the objector's counts without bothering to verify them.) Also, "signs" are not important today (61 mentions in the gospels and Acts, 16 mentions later). Then the word therapeuo, also translated heal, appears 45 times vs. 3 times, 2 of which refer to the Antichrist, so that really must not be important today. Then teras (wonder) appears 16 times vs. 1 time, and that 1 time refers to the Antichrist. So wonders are COMPLETELY OUT during the Church Age. The objector concludes that FAITH (50 times vs. 204 times) is what is important now, not signs, wonders and healings.

I'm going to fight fire with fire by giving you some shocking new revelations about the Church Age, all based on the same logic used by the objector.

First, the cross isn't quite as important for us today, as the word "cross" gets 17 mentions in the gospels and Acts, but only 11 afterward.

Second, being SAVED is not as important in the Church Age, as proven by the fact that "saved" is found 81 times in the gospels and Acts but only 23 times after that.

Third, discipleship is COMPLETELY OUT during the Church Age. The words "disciple" and "disciples" get a whopping 273 mentions in the gospels and Acts, and NOT A SINGLE MENTION after the book of Acts.

Finally, JESUS isn't nearly as important as He used to be, seeing as He got 704 mentions in the four gospels and Acts and only 278 mentions later! (I admit that I did throw out the "later" verse about "Jesus who is called Justus," as that referred to someone else.)

We used the same logic, so if you agree with the objector's conclusions, you have to agree with my conclusions as well.

Does this objection still have any takers?

In case it does, let me point out another major flaw with this objection. The Book of Acts shows what we can have today, not just what the people in it had, because we are part of the same Church Age that everyone in the book of Acts was in. Scripture never divides an "Early Church Age" from a "Late Church Age." So all the references cited that were included in Acts should count for the Church Age also!

Objection: No Gospel of Healing Is Mentioned in the Bible, So It Isn't Emphasized

The objector's point is that the New Testament describes the gospel as the gospel of: The grace of God, Jesus Christ, the Kingdom, God, His Son, Peace and your salvation, but the phrase "the gospel of healing" never appears. Thus, there supposedly is no gospel of healing, and healing is not emphasized in the Church Age.

Based on this logic, I suggest that helping the poor is unimportant because there is no "gospel of helping the poor" in Scripture. Then I suggest that purity is not such a big deal in our time because there is no "gospel of purity" mentioned in the Bible. Love? Nah, there is no "gospel of love" either, so love is no big deal in the Church Age either.

You can see where this will lead.

It's hard to say that healing is not emphasized when you consider the sheer volume of passages dedicated to healing. (See New Testament Scriptures about Healing.) Many more verses describe healings than describe walking in love, for example.

When Jesus' bearing of our sicknesses and pains is a key part of the great atonement chapter (Isaiah 53), I don't see how anyone can consider healing unimportant in Scripture.

Given that healing was the calling card of the apostles, it is obvious that GOD thought it was important.

Healing is an important part of the kingdom of God. Jesus said that when you go somewhere, heal the sick and announce that the kingdom of God has come near. These two were always intertwined. Jesus even said that if He with the finger of God cast out devils, the kingdom of God had come unto people (Luke 11:20). If He considered such signs to be an important part of His kingdom, so should we.

Objection: So-and-So Who Preaches Healing Got His Doctrine from So-and-So, Who Got His Doctrine from So-and-So, Who Was into Cult Theology

There is no shortage of books that personally attack certain ministers who preach faith and healing. A similar common flawed objection says that “word of faith” theology, including healing, has its roots in cult teachings, based on the fact that a person whose writings influenced later faith teachers attended a college where unbiblical mind science was popular.

First, some cults have a more accurate position on certain subjects than some mainline churches! I read a book from a cult once that demonstrated more knowledge of God’s will to heal and prosper his servants than most Christian denominations exhibit. Of course, you should not join a cult for that reason! They will still lead you straight to hell. They teach some truths that are found in the Bible, but not the ones that will save you.

Second, the only question you need to ask is whether someone’s theology lines up with the Bible as a whole. If it does, it is irrelevant which false cults might also correctly interpret the same Scriptures. The fact that some false cults believe in healing does not mean that we cannot believe in healing. (You will find that their application of healing is not actually Christian if you dig into it in detail.)

Third, it makes no difference from whom someone learns a doctrinal point. The only question is whether it is right or wrong. It does not matter who else teaches it. Any false cult teaches part of the truth along with its heresies. Otherwise, it would have no appeal to any rational person. I was acquainted with a teacher in the Unification “Church” (cult) a long time ago. He told me some truths on “spirit, soul and body” that were not only correct but also new to me at the time and would have been new to most Christians back then. I never joined his cult, but there was some meat there to put the poison on.

Fourth, it doesn’t matter if the majority of people at a college embraced unbiblical mind science. I used to live and preach somewhere where only 3% of the population was born again. Does that mean that there is a 97% chance that I am actually unsaved, so we should just assume that I am a false teacher?

You don’t trace someone’s past influences to see if things be so. You do what the Bereans did – search the Scriptures to see if what is being taught is so (Acts 17:11)! They are either so or they aren’t. Find out from the Bible!

If you’re not already familiar with the names usually involved with this objection, I’m not going to dishonor those people by giving them out. However, even if someone USED TO be involved in cult theology, that person could have turned away from it and started preaching the truth. I used to be involved with the occult, but I would hate to have people reject the teaching of someone whom I instructed because he got his doctrine from me, and I used to be involved in occult teaching. It is unfair to hang someone’s past over him – find out what the person is teaching NOW (or taught at the end, not at the beginning, of his ministry). That can go both ways – a couple famous healing ministers started out teaching normal doctrines and got “off” in later years into some bizarre stuff.

In fact, there is an annoying tendency of some people who think that they run “discernment ministries” (which are usually better described as “Satan-fueled gossip, innuendo, faultfinding and mudslinging ministries”) to cite old doctrines of men who have since changed their doctrines and even repented publicly for inaccurate teaching they did, and to do so in a way that leaves the reader with the impression that the person is still teaching the inaccurate doctrine that he long abandoned. That is totally unfair. Beware, lest you get caught up with criticism of a ministry that no longer teaches what you object to! For example, if you find a site claiming that a popular healing minister believes that there are 9 parts to the Trinity, you have found such an unfair site – beware!

Also, note that Faultfinder is not a ministry along with Apostle, Prophet, Evangelist, Pastor and Teacher, and those who think they are called to Faultfinding Ministry while they run around trashing everyone else need to wake up and realize that they are actually tools of Satan being used to cause division. You can passionately disagree with doctrines people teach without tearing anyone down personally or giving their particular name a black eye and accusing them of being “of the devil” or heretics. This book, after all, contains quite a number of refutations to arguments of others against faith and healing, but you will notice that I do not use the names of those making the arguments, and I have no personal animosity toward any of them and would certainly not work to tear down their individual ministries or seminaries. I’d prefer that they read this book and get more enlightened in some areas!

There IS a spiritual gift “discerning of spirits” but depending on how you interpret this, this is either (a) seeing into the spirit realm and seeing angels, demons, Jesus, God’s glory, etc. or (b) knowing supernaturally the spirit (good or bad) behind something said or (c) distinguishing whether a doctrine is of God or not. Most “Word of Faith” teachers go with (a) while the “discernment ministries” go with (c). At the risk of disturbing well-regarded “Word of Faith” teaching that discern means “to perceive by seeing or hearing,” I don’t think that this proves itself in the Greek; I believe that (b) is actually the most logical, given the fact that “discernment” (Greek diakrisis) actually does seem to have the meaning of “distinguishing” as opposed to “seeing” based on the only other 2 places where it is used, where it is actually translated “disputations” in one case and “discern” (within the phrase “discern good and evil”) in the other. In fact, quite a few translations do use the term “distinguishing of spirits” or “distinguishing between spirits” for that reason. Interestingly, even the Amplified Bible (AMP), which is often quoted by faith preachers who go with Explanation (a), lends itself more to Explanation (b) with its rendering “discernment of spirits [the ability to distinguish sound, godly doctrine from the deceptive doctrine of man-made religions and cults]” although I don’t think the AMP’s explanation is proper – the Word itself should let you distinguish true doctrine from false doctrine, and the discernment is of spirits, not doctrine.

Regardless of your convictions on the first two explanations, Explanation (c) can be tossed out. The “gifts” mentioned in 1 Corinthians 12 are manifestations of the Holy Spirit during a corporate gathering and are clearly spiritual and supernatural in nature. What typical “discernment ministries” do is 100% intellectual and mental and has nothing to do with any supernatural revelation. They are not actually involved in “discerning” of spirits at all; they are strictly involved in “discerning” of doctrine. That can’t be what this gift is, because like the Bereans, we can study to see whether or not a doctrine is so. The actual gift must have something to do with distinguishing spirits, which would be a different matter.

There are just some things in Scripture that will never be as clear in this life as we would like them to be. We have had services where people have seen angels or even Jesus Himself. I have seen a “glory cloud” that was so real, I was certain that it was a thick physical fog in the room, but the fact that others did not see it showed me that it wasn’t physical. So certainly it is possible sometimes to see into the spirit realm. My namesake (Stephen) saw Jesus standing at God’s right hand. So these things DO happen; the only question is whether they are part of the “gift of discerning of spirits” or whether that gift would more properly be applied to a situation where someone comes to a service and prophecies and someone else immediately senses that the person is there with ill intentions despite having given a “nice” word. The latter could happen without a “gift” because the anointing that abides in us will also “rat out” the bad apples. But then again, any believer has a measure of faith, knowledge and wisdom; the “gifts” involved supernaturally enhanced faith, knowledge or wisdom. So at the end of the day, I don’t think anyone can conclusively “prove” exactly what “discerning of spirits” is, but I think we CAN demonstrate what it isn’t – the intellectual sifting of doctrine.

Please understand that I am not against sifting doctrine – as someone who loves to teach the Word, I get very fired up about sifting right and wrong doctrine, as you have probably figured out. We all SHOULD rightly divide the Word of God. (I was going to add “study to show ourselves approved” from the same verse 2 Timothy 2:15, but after “studying” that verse in the Greek, I found out that “study” does not mean “study” as we would understand it today! It really means endeavor or be diligent, as that same Greek word spoudazo is translated elsewhere in the King James Version. We have to be careful with the King James Version because it contains words that have different meanings in modern English. We would have a completely different understanding today of Elizabethan phrases like “gay apparel” or “loosing one’s ass from the stall” or “dumb,” and we might mistakenly conclude that the prophet John did no miracles because he was a Baptist.)

My point is that “discerning of spirits” refers to something other than what certain “discernment ministries” want us to think it is.

Objection: Divine Healing is Practiced by False Cults

Although some mind science cults profess belief in divine healing, real healing through the Word of God has nothing to do with their practices. Many sects today profess a belief in supernatural healing, including some satanic covens. However, the fact that there are false healing cults does not mean that the real thing doesn't exist, any more than the presence of counterfeit money means that real money doesn't exist.

Real healing through Jesus Christ is NOT mind over matter. It is using God's promises to change matter. Your trust and faith are in God's ability to perform what He has promised, as in Abraham's example:

Romans 4:20-21:

He staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief, but was strong in faith, giving glory to God; And being fully persuaded that, what he had promised, he was also able to perform.

Mind science cults stress YOUR so-called ability to heal yourself with your own mind. While having a positive attitude is definitely helpful, faith is a lot more than a positive attitude. It trusts God to fulfill the promises He made concerning your health as a believer. It makes the impossible possible.

And no, the doctrine of divine healing is not equivalent to "Christian Science," which is neither Christian nor scientific. Although this cult believes in healing through non-medicinal means, what its practitioners believe has nothing to do with what informed Christians believe.

Just to disillusion anyone who thinks that Christian healing has anything to do with so-called Christian Science, here are some quotes from recognized standard Christian Science literature. Any true Christian can immediately recognize and reject these as non-Christian cult teaching:

"Jesus was the offspring of Mary's self-conscious communion with God."

"The dual personality (Christ Jesus) continued until the ascension, when Jesus disappeared, while Christ continues to exist in the eternal order of Divine Science taking away the sins of the world."

"His disciples believed Jesus to be dead, while he was in the sepulchre, whereas he was alive."

"Here also is found the cardinal point in Christian Science, that matter and evil (including all inharmony, sin, disease, and death) are UNREAL."

"Man is incapable of sin, sickness, and death."

"Sin, sickness, and death must be deemed as devoid of reality as they are of good."

"Evil is unreal."

"The only reality of sin, sickness, or death is the awful fact that unrealities seem real to human, erring belief, until God strips off their disguise."

“Death is an illusion, the lie of life in matter; the unreal and untrue.”

“The way to escape the misery of sin is to cease sinning. There is no other way.”

“Sin makes its own hell, and goodness its own heaven.”

As you can see, Christian Scientists, despite their apparent fondness for “supernatural healing,” deny the virgin birth, the death and resurrection of Christ, the reality of sin, sickness and death, eternal judgment and atonement for sins. Do yourself a favor and stay away from their Reading Rooms. Divine healing has nothing to do with so-called Christian Science, which will lead you directly to hell.

An Interesting Observation on Mark 11:23-24

Did you ever notice that Mark 11:24 is for the believer, because prayer is involved, but Mark 11:23 is for “whosoever?” In other words, anyone, even an unbeliever, can practice Mark 11:23. The fact that you believe and practice the principle in Mark 11:23 does not necessarily mean that you are a Christian! Jesus said that many would do wonderful works in His name and yet not be Christians! Think about it: The people who received healing from Jesus during his ministry were all unbelievers in the sense of not being born again!

Some cults have picked up on this truth and taught it, perhaps better than many Christian churches have. The fact is, Mark 11:23 can work for “whosoever,” including people in false cults. (That is no excuse to join a cult.) In fact, people “have what they say” more than they realize, even if they do not identify with any religion! Just as gravity works for believer and unbeliever alike, there are spiritual principles that work for believer and unbeliever alike.

When I was a child, we would visit my grandfather in Florida, and while everyone else was down by the pool, I would sneak into his study and read a certain occult book that he had. It contained many testimonies of people who believed they would have what they spoke. This was better than anything I had seen at “church” (the place to which I was dragged was actually a club for religious sinners, not a real church, as the new birth was never taught there). Now I SHOULD have heard testimonies from Christians, but I wasn’t in a place where you could hear them. This powerlessness of “church” is what drives many to seek something “real” from the occult, and that was the case with me. Now the principles they acted on when it came to this were what Jesus taught, but they left Jesus out of it. (That’s a giveaway that something is of the devil – any attempt to access supernatural power without Jesus is of the devil. But I didn’t know that then, so I was deceived.) But Jesus was right when He said that “whosoever” could follow His instructions. The statement “Death and life are in the power of the tongue” (Proverbs 18:21) was written to sinners at the time, so obviously sinners could work that principle. But what good would all that be today if you ended up in hell without Jesus?

The mistake many anti-faith websites make is implying that if a false religion teaches something, Christians must not believe it because the opposite must be true. But wait a minute – Muslims believe in a literal hell. We would not stop believing in a literal hell for that reason. Mormons believe that the office of the prophet did not cease with the “early church.” We would not conclude that the office of the prophet has been done away with just because Mormons believe that. New Age and Eastern Religion teachers believe in supernatural healing, but that does not mean that we should not believe supernatural healing just because they believe in it. We just don’t follow the same practices and doctrines of New Age and Eastern Religion adherents, which is good because their brand of religion offers you a temporary healing (that isn’t from God) but still leads you straight to hell without Jesus!

Objection: The “Word of Faith” Movement Is a Cult

Those who enjoy tearing down other Christian ministries with statements like this should examine the Scriptural criteria for cult status. How do you know if a group is a cult – a group that is of the devil whose doctrine will send you to hell? The Biblical test for this is in 1 John 4:1-4.

According to this, anyone declaring that Jesus Christ “came in the flesh” is of God. In other words, they believe that Jesus Christ pre-existed with God and was made flesh. For this to be true, Jesus Christ must have been God in the flesh. Anyone who does not believe this, no matter how sincere, is not a real Christian. Therefore, anyone who teaches that Jesus is not divine is a cult teacher. Anyone who denies that Jesus came in the flesh – that He was fully human like us as well as being God and that He has always existed – is also a cult teacher. This would include anyone who denies the virgin birth and thus reduces Jesus to being just another man.

Some of the slicker cults are aware of this Scriptural test and have figured out a way to sidestep it. They will agree with you for purposes of argument that Jesus is God so that they can say they pass the test in 1 John 4:1-4. Their unspoken footnote (which they will have to admit if you press them) is that they believe that you are equally as much God, and that you can become just like God, and even that God was once like you. This is still cult teaching –if Jesus and God are not on a higher level than you are, the cultists fail the test.

I do not defend every practice done by every “Word of Faith” church. I know some “Word of Faith” churches that have gone off the deep end. But even then, most if not all the people involved were born again. Also, if we wanted to have an embarrassment match (which we should not), I’m sure that the “Word of Faith” people could point to humiliating episodes at churches in any other denomination. You can be born again and get into error. (The fact that there are countless healing critics out there attests to this.) You can have the right doctrine and fail morally, too, and this happens all too often. A church can become so wacky in a way that it could be injurious to attend it, but even that does not make it a cult.

I do not know of anyone currently self-identifying as a “Word of Faith” teacher who denies that Jesus is fully God and fully human, or denies that He pre-existed before His incarnation. If anyone ever did so, I would stop listening to him, because he would no longer be a true “Word of Faith” teacher. If someone strays from the truth and gets into the heresy of universalism (it’s happened), that does not mean that those still in the “Word of Faith” doctrine are “off.” There is a lot of “guilt by association” going on that isn’t fair to anybody.

One issue that gets thrown around a lot is the objection that Word of Faith teachers claim that Jesus died spiritually and no longer had God's nature, so at that point He "wasn't God," thus failing the test of belief in the Trinity. This objection (handled in much more detail elsewhere in this book) is used as a scare tactic to keep people away from teaching on divine healing. If people are convinced that a group is a cult, they will stay away. I have seen certain teachers' quotations snipped out of context and turned on their heads in books that promote unbelief. This is not fair, and "touching God's anointed" is dangerous. Of course, there are plenty of anointed people who do not associate themselves with "Word of Faith" churches; I am not saying that anyone has a monopoly on the anointing.

Not all "Word of Faith" churches teach that Jesus died spiritually, anyway. If that's not your cup of tea, you can get your tea served at a church that doesn't teach what you object to but still teaches that Jesus purchased healing for everyone. (However, you should still read my article on the subject – maybe you'll change your mind!)

The fact is that faith in God's Word (which calls itself the word of faith – Romans 10:8!) is essential for salvation, and has never been a "movement" per se. The "Word of Faith Movement" would better be described as a teaching revival of certain truths. Whether you agree with "Word of Faith" teaching or not, as long as the teacher believes that Jesus was fully God and fully Man, the teacher is not a cult leader. You cannot class "faith" people with Jehovah's Witnesses, Mormons, Moonies, Christian Scientists, Freemasons, and other groups that deny the eternal existence and deity of Christ.

Accusing someone of being in or leading a "cult" is a very serious charge. You'd best have your facts together before making such a claim, lest you end up causing damage to the Body of Christ by skewering a fellow believer just because you disagree with him on certain doctrinal points that are nonessential for salvation from hell.

Objection: The Health and Wealth Gospel is Unbiblical because It's All about YOU

I'll start by saying that what Jesus did on the cross WAS all about you! It certainly wasn't about Him! He wasn't in lack of anything and He wasn't sick, either, nor was He a lost sinner. So everything Jesus did in his atonement WAS all about YOU! He loves you that much!

The objector is probably upset about the way that some modern preaching makes little mention of repentance, hell, taking up your cross, mortifying the flesh and being absolutely sold out to the lordship of Jesus, preferring to focus exclusively on "happy," "positive" topics. I'm not a fan of Christian books that could be mistaken for worldly self-help guides either – you know, the ones that have more clever quotes from famous people than quotes from God's Word. Jesus is our Lord, not our Self-Help Guru. I'm sure that I would be a much richer author if I wrote books with titles like "Have a Great Life!" or "The 7 Steps to Effortless Overnight Success" or "How to Feel Good Every Day" or "213 Positive Affirmations that Will Make All Your Dreams Come True without Having to Pray in Tongues or Submit to God's Will." There is a danger that if you feast on the shallower books that you might think that every problem in your life can be confessed away instantly with the right affirmations. If that's possible, that is a greater revelation than the Apostle Paul ever had. He was never a "success in life" by modern standards given all that he went through! One gets the impression that his constant persecutions and trials for the sake of the gospel could have been avoided if he had just made the right daily confessions of favor over himself. But the Bible is clear that some people will hate your guts for identifying with Jesus. In fact, if no one is persecuting you, it doesn't mean that you're better than the rest of us at confessing divine favor; it means that you are not really trying to live godly in Christ Jesus (2 Timothy 3:12)! (In other words, you're a Christian coward who avoids anything that could cause confrontation.) Jesus said, "Woe unto you, when all men shall speak well of you! for so did their fathers to the false prophets" (Luke 6:26).

If you want a good rule of thumb with Christian literature, ask yourself whether an unbeliever would be OK with all the advice in the book. If so, the author missed it somewhere because he wasn't pointing people to Jesus. People won't usually persecute you for preaching positive thinking, but they WILL persecute you for presenting the gospel as the ONLY way to heaven and the ONLY way to be forgiven of SIN.

I fully believe that God wants me to be in health and prosper, but I have inconvenienced myself a LOT by going where the sinners are to reach them with this news that is too good to keep to myself. Many times all I got for my effort was cursing, threats of illegal arrest, pleadings to leave town, and so on, but I kept at it anyway because it's not all about me. It's an unfair generalization to say that anyone who teaches healing and prosperity is a self-centered narcissist who teaches that the gospel is only valuable for what YOU can get out of it. I don't teach that, and neither do plenty of other people who believe that Jesus already purchased your healing. To live is Christ – when it comes down to it, it should all be about JESUS.

Objection: The Faith Confession Movement Tends Strongly to Emphasize God's Faithfulness at the Expense of God's Freedom

I know the point the objector is trying to make, but this saying just gets more laughable the more you think about it. The objector thinks that God needs the sovereignty to do whatever He wants regardless of His Word whereas the faith confession movement stresses that He will keep His Word. Is that too much to expect from a God who has exalted His Word above His name (Psalm 138:2) and settled it forever in heaven (Psalm 119:89)?

Apparently, the objector thinks that God has the freedom to be unfaithful to His Word.

Why should we put less of an emphasis on God's faithfulness? If anything, we should put MORE emphasis on it, as many people do not appreciate that God MUST keep His covenant because He cannot lie.

The objector thinks, "If you make the rules, you can break the rules." But God isn't a rule-breaker. He is so consistent with His own rules that when Adam totally blew it, let death and corruption into the earth and promoted Satan to being the god of this world, God never rescinded His giving of the earth to men.

Dead religious thinking like this objector's logic is what keeps many people from ever getting healed. They simply have no ASSURANCE that God will perform what He promised. Because faith is the 100% assurance of something unseen, any consideration that God will make a sovereign exception to His Word is an instant faith-killer. If you think that God is The Lord Who Heals You, but then you think that He can decide not to be your Healer in your particular case for some sovereign reason, you will never receive anything. If you do not trust God to keep His Word, you do not trust God at all.

Does God have the "freedom" to turn away a sinner who wants eternal life through His Son? Of course not! So why think that He has the freedom to BREAK any other promise?

Suppose a judge who sentenced a man for drug dealing went out and made his own drug deals because he thought, "I AM the law, so I can BREAK the law at my pleasure?" You would have no respect for him and you would call him a hypocrite. If you think God has the freedom to be unfaithful, you will never respect God because to you He will be like that hypocritical judge who says one thing and does another.

Objection: The Words “Positive Confession” Are Never Found Together in the Bible

That is a true statement. However, the words “good confession” are found together:

1 Timothy 6:13:

I give thee charge in the sight of God, who quickeneth all things, and before Christ Jesus, who before Pontius Pilate witnessed a good confession;

So the idea that “confession” can refer to speaking things other than admissions of sin is plainly taught in Scripture. Jesus couldn’t have been confessing His sins to Pilate because He hadn’t committed any!

Meanwhile, we should be careful about making arguments from silence. Would you change your theology because of any of the facts below?

The words “new birth” are never found together in the Bible. Does this mean that being born again isn’t a Biblical concept? We know that it IS Biblical even if we don’t see the words “new birth” anywhere.

The words “prayer language” are never found together in the Bible. Does this mean that God doesn’t really let you pray with words the Holy Spirit gives? Of course not; Paul told us to pray with the Spirit and with the understanding (1 Corinthians 14:15).

The words “eternal reward” are never found together in the Bible. Is it wrong to say that someone went to his eternal reward? No, the Bible teaches that there are eternal rewards in heaven that moths, rust and crooks can’t touch.

The word “rapture” is never found in the Bible. Does that stop you from believing that you will be caught up with the Lord and meet Him in the air? It shouldn’t!

The word “trinity” is never found in the Bible. Does that mean that you will stop believing that God exists in three persons? It had better not! You can prove the “trinity” with various scriptures even though the word trinity is never used.

The principle of confession is definitely taught in Scripture. See Say What for more information about it.

Objection: If Proverbs 18:21 Meant What Faith Preachers Say It Does, Old Testament People Could Have Gone Around Speaking Health to the Sick and Death to Cancer and Other Diseases before Jesus Came

The Old Testament people did not have authority to speak to sicknesses and sick bodies in the name of Jesus. We do.

But even before that authority was granted, WORDS could still be the source of hurt or health to others:

Proverbs 18:12:

There is that speaketh like the piercings of a sword: but the tongue of the wise is health.

If you doubt that your words could kill you or save your life in the Old Covenant, consider the ten spies who returned with an evil report of the Promised Land! They DIED within a week of their return because of what they SAID (Numbers 14:36-37)! Meanwhile, Joshua and Caleb were allowed to enter the Promised Land because of what they SAID!

In the Old Testament, ANGELS listened to the voice of God's Word (Psalm 103:20). So you could still speak God's Word out of your mouth and put the angels to work even under that covenant.

Even under the Old Covenant, God's word was health to all your flesh (Proverbs 4:20-22), so it was wise to speak it.

It is too bad that modern believers aren't aware of the power of their words, given that even under the Old Covenant (Proverbs 18:21, the verse in question), death and life were in the power of your tongue.

It IS a true statement that Old Testament believers could not speak directly to diseases. That authority was only given when Jesus came. This is a different way to apply Proverbs 18:21 for us today. This new way is echoed by James, who said that our mouths can control our bodies but also set on fire the course of nature (James 3:2-6). Jesus also amplified Proverbs 18:21 when He said that our words would either justify or condemn us (Matthew 12:37). So this verse does have a broader application today. However, the 12 spies could attest to the fact that death and life resulted from WORDS even under the Old Covenant.

Jesus showed a privilege that being in the Kingdom of God would provide when He spoke death to a fig tree (Mark 11:13-14).

Objection: Jesus and the Apostles Did Not Teach People to Deny Their Symptoms

No, they didn't and neither do I!

Denying that your symptoms exist is the trademark of the Christ-denying cult misleadingly called Christian Science. Faith preachers are mistakenly lumped with these cultists by some passionate but misleading authors.

We deny the right of symptoms to continue in our bodies, but we do not deny their existence.

We can, like God, call those things that be not as though they were, but we don't go around calling those things that are as though they were not.

Comments like this are often made by people who really don't understand what divine healing teachers are saying. They think that we teach people with symptoms to LIE by saying, "I am symptom-free!" But we don't endorse that.

Denial is downright dangerous. Denial can lead you to an early grave. Faith is not denial. Faith can look at the symptoms, acknowledge their existence, but declare, "I am healed because I believed that I received my healing when I prayed. That healing is now working itself out in my body and driving out the remaining symptoms." Of course, this assumes that you obeyed Jesus' instructions and DID believe that you received your healing when you prayed.

When Jesus cursed the fig tree, it began to dry up from the roots, but no one could see that happen. The next day the results were evident to everyone. Notice that after Jesus cursed the fig tree, He did not say, "I deny that this fig tree still has green leaves! I deny that this fig tree looks alive!" The fig tree no doubt had green leaves and looked alive, but Jesus saw past those "symptoms" of life and knew that the tree was as good as dead because He had spoken to it in faith.

Likewise, we do not deny the symptoms that we see and feel, but we see past those symptoms and we know that the underlying condition is as good as dead because we believed that we received healing for it when we prayed. (Or we did the equally good alternatives of commanding the underlying sickness to die in the name of Jesus or having hands laid on us for healing in the name of Jesus.)

Objection: This Teaching Encourages People to Have Faith in Their Faith Instead of Faith in God, and Is Therefore Cultish

Who exactly encourages you to have faith in your faith instead of faith in God? Oh, I know, it must be this teacher:

JUST HAVE FAITH IN YOUR FAITH

by Fibian Duhh

You don't need God! All you need is faith. Just have faith and then have faith in your faith. That's right, brother, just live any old way and use God to get what you want out of life. Rather than serving God, make God serve you by using faith. Now you run the show and you call the shots because you are sovereign and God reports to you. Use faith the way that the metaphysical cults do and get what's coming to you! Be your own god and forget about the will of God.

I have never heard any faith teacher say these things. I have never heard any faith teacher even remotely imply anything like this. I would agree that if someone is teaching you that your faith should be in yourself or in your faith, that is cultish teaching. This is another example of building and then knocking down a straw man instead of addressing a real issue. It is all too common for opponents of healing to set up an argument like the one above and then shoot holes in it. If you want to shoot holes in an argument like that, I'll join you! The trouble is that statements like the ones above misrepresent real faith teaching. Those statements would repulse anyone who loves God.

The faith teachers I listen to all stress consecration to the will of God and do not teach that you can live any old way and use faith to get what you want. They do not teach, nor do I, that your faith should rest in your ability to have faith! If I were you, I would not get the doctrines of famous faith teachers by reading the slander books that are written against them every year. Go read for yourself from their own books what they are saying – you will find that they teach nothing like the words in the article above.

Faith always rests on the Bible. It is not a free-floating attempt to convince yourself of something mentally. The metaphysical cults stress mind techniques, but Christianity does not. You renew your mind with God's Word and you believe in your heart, not your mind. You can believe and receive in your heart even if there is doubt in your mind as long as you act and speak based on your faith and not your doubts.

Like Abraham, you believe that God is faithful to perform what He promised. You are trusting God, not your faith, to make it happen. Your faith is the vehicle, but God is the one making it happen. Just because your car gets you to a service where God is moving does not mean that you worship the car. But the fact remains that without that car, you would not get to the service and experience the move of God. Your faith would be worthless if God did not honor his promises. God, not your faith, gets the glory for the results. However, without faith, you would get no results.

If you had no faith for salvation, you would not be saved. We don't glorify you for having faith or make a big deal out of your faith in this matter. Why should it be different with healing? If you are healed by faith, we won't make a big deal out of you and your faith. Just as with forgiveness, if God weren't offering something, you would have no basis for faith and no ability of your own to bring it to pass.

When you believe for healing, you do not believe in your own ability to have faith. You believe that God has paid the price to heal your body and that He is offering healing to you now. You then receive what He is offering to you by faith when you pray before you feel any differently. You are not receiving from your faith; you are receiving from God through faith in His Word.

There is a limited sense in which we could talk about having "faith in your faith," but it really boils down to having confidence that Jesus' instructions for receiving from God work. In other words, you have confidence that faith works. Your faith itself, however, is in God and in His Word. (Really, God and His Word are inseparable, so faith in God is by necessity faith in His Word and vice versa.) I've never really met anyone who teaches that you should have faith in your faith instead of having faith in God, so this objection is an objection to nothing.

Objection: The Presence of Prominent Female Leaders Has Always Identified Cultic Movements

I don't consider it a given that cults have more female leaders than male leaders, but the author's clear premise in the book where this is stated is that women are to be silent in the church and not teach men and that the presence of women leaders "who don't know their place" is a clear sign of apostasy.

To clear-up this little side-swipe against healing ministers, we need to understand that the passages that are usually used to claim that women should not be leaders have been misapplied.

The first one, in 1 Corinthians 14:34-35, says that women should be silent in church, and if they want to know anything, they should ask their husbands at home. This indicates that the issue was the noise they were making asking the husbands questions. Given that traditional synagogues separated the men from the women, a woman would not be able to whisper a question to her husband – she'd have to yell it across the room. Paul rightly considered that out of order and shameful.

However, the New Testament is clear that women were not to be literally silent in the church. Worshiping "with the Spirit" and "with the understanding" was not restricted to men, and Joel said that people's sons and daughters would prophesy. I don't believe that Joel's intent was that women must prophesy in sign language so that they can be silent. Even churches that claim that a woman must be silent don't believe it. They let women pray. They let women be greeters. They let women sing and even lead worship. They let women teach the children (male and female) in Sunday school. They can't do any of these things while remaining silent in the church! They don't really think that women should be silent! But if they don't, they lose the right to make their argument that women must literally be mute in church!

Paul had no problem commending Phebe, a deacon of a certain church (Romans 16:1). The King James Version translators wimped out and translated the word diakonos as servant when it applied to Phebe, but translated it diakonos as deacon in 1 Timothy 3.

This fact busts the next argument that leaders (including deacons, referred to by the word diakonos used to describe Phebe) must be "the husband of one wife" and thus male. Phebe WAS a deacon (with Paul's commendation). She could not have been the husband of one wife! "Husband of one wife" would refer to the sexual purity of the deacon, but it could not have been a literal restriction as some take it because Paul would then be disqualified to lead anything himself! He was not the husband of one wife – he was single! Based on some people's literal logic, no single person could ever be a leader!

The other alleged “anti-woman-leader” Scripture is 1 Timothy 2:12, where Paul says that he does not permit a woman to teach or to usurp authority over a man. This has NOTHING TO DO with church relationships. Paul was talking about a husband and a wife. This is proved by the context in the next 3 verses, ending with the woman (the wife) being saved through childbearing if “they” (the husband and the wife!) continue in faith and love and holiness with sobriety. The Greek words in 1 Timothy 2:12, while they CAN refer to men and women in general, are the words that would be used for a husband and a wife. Besides, the Greek is clear that the issue is usurping authority. Telling married women not to usurp authority over their husbands is completely different from saying that woman cannot HAVE positions of authority in the church or preach to men.

If the objector is correct, ISRAEL is a cult because Deborah led it at one point as its judge.

In Psalm 68:11, the “host” that does the proclaiming of the word the Lord gave is held in many translations (but not the KJV) to be women because of the nuances of the Hebrew word used. For example, Young’s Literal Translation uses the phrase “female proclaimers.” Also, almost every Bible commentary I’ve seen on this declares the “host” here to be a group of women. But most of the commentaries I’ve read have disclaimers that surely this doesn’t allow women to preach today. They’re wrong that women can’t preach, but the word definitely enough refers to females so that even such commentators had to admit that the great company of proclaimers was female. Their usual comment is that women SANG to announce victories and so that’s what the verse means. But that isn’t what it SAYS (let alone MEANS) – it SAYS that the LORD gave the word and great was the company of females who proclaimed it! What’s IT? The Word of the Lord, not the announcement of a military conquest. Even if you take these commentators’ incorrect explanation that these women were just singing (which the verse does NOT state), I sometimes preach through song, too, and that is still preaching.

Paul also referred to an apostle named Junia. She is controversial because one Greek source states that Junia is definitely a female while another allows for either gender – but neither insists that this person had to be male. There seems to be some disagreement, so she is probably not an airtight case, but she certainly isn’t a case against female apostles. Paul referred to Euodias and Syntyche (both women) as women who “labored with him in the gospel” (Philippians 4:2-3). He had no problem with Priscilla, even though she taught a man (Apollos) in Acts 18:26.

Anyone who believes that the Holy Spirit would never lead a woman to preach to men hasn’t read Acts 2 very carefully. We know that Mary was in the upper room (Acts 1:14), so she was one of those who proclaimed the wonderful works of God to people (including MEN) who spoke other languages! If the Holy Spirit could anoint a woman to preach supernaturally to men then, why not now?

Jesus had no issue with having the woman at the well go around town proclaiming to the MEN what He had done.

John 4:28-30:

The woman then left her waterpot, and went her way into the city, and saith to the men, Come, see a man, which told me all things that ever I did: is not this the Christ? Then they went out of the city, and came unto him.

Also, God had no problem instructing three women at Jesus' tomb to go proclaim the resurrection to the disciples (and Peter), who were all men!

Mark 16:7:

But go your way, tell his disciples and Peter that he goeth before you into Galilee: there shall ye see him, as he said unto you.

Surely women should be able to preach the resurrection to men today also.

The objector, who was a big non-fan of women with prominent healing ministries and didn't mind bashing them by name, attempted to "prove" that such ministries were out of order because the women didn't know their "proper" place. But we've just proven that the Scriptures do not actually prohibit women from speaking in church, having authority or leading men. Therefore this objection has completely unraveled.

Objection: Faith Preachers are Trinity-Denying Heretics because They Teach that Jesus Died Spiritually

Before we get started on this issue, you should bear in mind that anyone who believes that God raised Jesus from the dead and confesses Him as Lord is not a heretic but a child of God, so people need to be careful about flinging the “heretic” label at people with whom they disagree on a doctrinal point. Plenty of sincere Christians take opposite views on this topic. Also, I’ve never heard anyone who preaches that Jesus died spiritually when He bore our sins deny that Jesus is the second Person of the Trinity or deny that He is God, or for that matter deny that God exists in three persons – Father, Son and Holy Spirit. The theological objection seems to be that a holy God could never die or take on a sinful nature. However, a holy God HAD to take on our sins to redeem us from them. They weren’t Jesus’ sins; they were ours.

So if you’re ready to hurl mud at anyone who would suggest that Jesus bore sickness, poverty and spiritual death in our place, you should first consider a lot of Scriptural statements concerning the matter. At the very least, you will discover that there is plenty of Scripture to support the doctrine that Jesus DID die spiritually and DID have to be born again, so even if you disagree, there should be enough evidence for you to put down your mud before you sling it at a fellow believer. This issue is not unlike the issue of the timing (or even existence) of the Rapture – Scriptural arguments are made by Christians with varied opinions on that issue. None of these opinions would make someone a heretic.

In order to examine this issue, we will have to look at some sub-issues that are also controversial. You’ve probably figured out that I don’t duck controversy. Someone needs to spell these things out for the Body of Christ because so much confusion exists on these topics.

Forsaken by God

When did Adam lose his sweet fellowship with God? When he sinned and fell – and died spiritually. Loss of fellowship with God is the trademark of spiritual death. On the cross, just before He died, Jesus cried out, “My God, My God, why have You forsaken Me?”

Matthew 27:46:

And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? that is to say, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

Mark 15:34:

And at the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani? which is, being interpreted, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

His loss of the right to fellowship with God was indicative that He had taken on the First Adam's spiritual death – to redeem us from it so that we would NEVER have to lose fellowship with God! (For those still clinging to the erroneous teaching that sins still separate a Christian from God, please see What 1 John 1:9 Really Means.) In other words, Jesus tasted SPIRITUAL death for us even before He suffered one of the inevitable consequences – physical death.

Where Did Jesus Go Between His Death and Resurrection?

A common quick answer many people give is that He went to “paradise” based on His statement in Luke 23:43: “And Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, To day shalt thou be with me in paradise.” That seems to settle the matter. Because “paradise” would never be used to describe a place of misery, this would indicate that Jesus spent the time between the cross and the resurrection in a wonderful place as opposed to hell and that one thief was with Him. This would seem to have to indicate that they were both in heaven.

However, other verses contradict this idea that Jesus went to paradise – so we might wonder at first if the Bible contradicts itself. We that know it can't, but how can the Bible say somewhere that He went to paradise and elsewhere that He went to hell? I am convinced that the King James translators (and others) misplaced the comma. The original Greek was unpunctuated, leaving to English translators to decide where the commas belong. This same issue has led to misunderstandings of John 9:1-7, as explained elsewhere. (See Objection: The Man in John 9 Was Born Blind, and That Was God's Will.)

In light of other verses that we will examine shortly, I believe that the correct punctuation should be, “Verily I say unto thee to day, thou shalt be with me in paradise.” In other words “to day” (today) belongs with the first phrase, not the second. He said the words that day, though He did not join the thief in paradise that day.

Of course, this is only a reasonable explanation if the Greek words were ordered the same as the English words so that the Greek word for “today” could go with either phrase. I checked that out, and it is the case.

Some people believe that Jesus was in heaven between the cross and the resurrection because of His words on the cross:

Luke 23:46:

And when Jesus had cried with a loud voice, he said, Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit: and having said thus, he gave up the ghost.

The word commend doesn't mean what it would mean today; the Greek word used there is translated commit or entrust in almost all other translations.

There is no doubt that He said it, but the traditional idea that Jesus was going to the Father immediately because He committed His Spirit to him doesn't match the rest of what the Bible says, as we will see below. The statement could also mean (and I believe it does) that Jesus was leaving the outcome of His spirit in God's hands, knowing that He would be going down to "the lower part of the earth" and trusting that God would raise Him up. Think about this for a minute – if Christ did NOT die spiritually, He would have just gone wherever He wanted after He died and He would not have had to trust His Father with the outcome! The very fact that He committed His spirit to God showed His own powerlessness at that moment. He knew that the outcome would have to be up to God because He would not be able to raise Himself out of hell.

Are there any other reasons why would we NOT believe that Jesus was in a state of bliss between the cross and the resurrection?

Well, for starters, when Peter preached Jesus, he quoted Psalm 16:10 as a prophecy that Jesus fulfilled:

Psalm 16:10:

For thou wilt not leave my soul in hell; neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One to see corruption.

Acts 2:27:

Because thou wilt not leave my soul in hell, neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One to see corruption.

Acts 2:31:

He seeing this before spake of the resurrection of Christ, that his soul was not left in hell, neither his flesh did see corruption.

So these Scriptures refer to Jesus' soul not being left in hell, indicating that He was in hell but that He did not stay there.

Some claim that because the word hell in the two Acts verses above was hades, not gehenna, it could not be taken to mean a place of punishment. The "Greek word" part of that argument is correct; the word is indeed hades and not gehenna. However, the English part of the argument is bogus. Biblical usage of the word hades proves that it is NOT a distinct and better place than gehenna. First, the Hebrew word used in Psalm 16:10 is used to refer both to the grave and to a place of torment. Second, the same is true for the Greek word hades. Hades does NOT have to mean "a nicer part of the underworld," as proved by these other places where hades is also used. I'd hope that EVERYONE would agree that hades refers to a place of torture and punishment in these verses:

Luke 16:23:

And in hell [hades] he lift up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom.

Revelation 20:14:

And death and hell [hades] were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death.

Jesus referred to the “sign of Jonah” being given to this generation. He elaborated on that sufficiently that there is no doubt what He was talking about – He would spend 3 days and nights “in the belly of the earth” – a location that is NEVER referred to as the location of heaven, which is referred to as “above.” (For example, Colossians 3:1 tells us that “above” is where Christ is seated at the right hand of God – so heaven is “above” and not “below.”) On the other hand, hell is repeatedly referred to as “below.” (For example, see Proverbs 15:24: “The way of life is above to the wise, that he may depart from hell beneath.” and Isaiah 14:9: “Hell from beneath is moved for thee to meet thee at thy coming...”) and Isaiah 5:14: “Therefore hell hath enlarged herself, and opened her mouth without measure: and their glory, and their multitude, and their pomp, and he that rejoiceth, shall descend into it.”

Matthew 16:4:

A wicked and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given unto it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas. And he left them, and departed.

Luke 11:29-30:

And when the people were gathered thick together, he began to say, This is an evil generation: they seek a sign; and there shall no sign be given it, but the sign of Jonas the prophet.

For as Jonas was a sign unto the Ninevites, so shall also the Son of man be to this generation.

Matthew 12:39-40:

But he answered and said unto them, An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas:

For as Jonas was three days and three nights in the whale’s belly; so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth.

So there is no question that Jesus’ time between the cross and the resurrection involved three days and nights in hell, not “paradise” or heaven. This is echoed by the following verse:

Ephesians 4:9:

(Now that he ascended, what is it but that he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth?)

I realize that some commentators claim that the earth itself is the “lower parts” to which Christ descended. But in light of Matthew’s account above, you can’t escape the conclusion that Jesus was under the earth that we walk on, not on top of it, after the cross. Besides, check out this other usage of the phrase “lower parts of the earth” and it becomes very clear that it speaks of a place of punishment:

Psalms 63:9:

But those that seek my soul, to destroy it, shall go into the lower parts of the earth.

The other “try” is that Jesus’ grave was the “heart of the earth,” but I have never heard a grave referred to as such other than by Christians trying to explain away the obvious. Would anyone refer to a deceased relative’s body that is probably no more than six feet under the earth as “in the heart of the earth?” I doubt it.

Besides, it appears that Jesus' body was laid in a sideways tomb that one could walk into, not in a hole six feet under the ground. So His body did not "descend" at all to get into that tomb. The "descending" HAD to be talking about His spirit.

Arguments over whether Jesus went to hell are not new. They are as old as the Apostles' Creed, where to this day some churches use the phrase "He descended into hell (or to Hades or to the dead)" and others omit that phrase. However, the Scriptures seem clear that Jesus had to have descended into hell rather than having ascended to heaven from the cross.

In case you're still not convinced, consider Jesus' post-resurrection statement to Mary Magdalene:

John 20:17:

Jesus saith unto her, Touch me not; for I am not yet ascended to my Father: but go to my brethren, and say unto them, I ascend unto my Father, and your Father; and to my God, and your God.

Jesus Himself said that He had NOT yet ascended to the Father. If He had been hanging out with the Father for three days and nights, perhaps sipping tea on a veranda in heaven waiting for three days to go by, this statement would make no sense!

Also, while the passage below does not "prove" that Jesus was in the abyss, it could be considered to provide anecdotal evidence that the early church believed that He did go there:

Romans 10:6-7:

But the righteousness which is of faith speaketh on this wise, Say not in thine heart, Who shall ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring Christ down from above:)

Or, Who shall descend into the deep? (that is, to bring up Christ again from the dead.)

The word "deep" is the Greek word abyssos, which is the same Greek word used in the passage where demons begged Jesus not to be sent into the "deep:"

Luke 8:31:

And they besought him that he would not command them to go out into the deep.

Now think about this for a minute. If the "deep" where Jesus went was "Abraham's bosom" or "paradise," the demons would be BEGGING Jesus to SEND them there, not to hold back from sending them there! So obviously this denotes a place of suffering, not a place of bliss.

I realize that some people will argue, "This is part of what Paul said NOT to say," but the point Paul made is that the Word is near us, not in heaven and not in hell, so we don't need to bring Jesus down from heaven or up from hell because the Gospel by which we are saved is near us.

The Passover symbolized Christ. That point is not up for debate; Paul said that Christ our Passover is sacrificed for us (1 Corinthians 5:7). Jesus identified Himself as the real Passover Lamb when He said that the fruit of the vine and the bread during the Passover feast were His blood that was shed to ratify the New Covenant and His body that was broken for us. The Passover lamb symbolized Jesus, a lamb without blemish, who had to die to stop death from coming to us. But did you ever consider what had to happen to that Passover lamb after it was killed? It had to be roasted with fire:

Exodus 12:9:

Eat not of it raw, nor sodden at all with water, but roast with fire; his head with his legs, and with the purtenance thereof.

You might not consider Passover proof that Jesus went to hell, but it's interesting to think about, isn't it? (I think it's a decent proof, but if you don't think so, there are other proofs that He went to hell in this discussion.)

Raised from the Dead

You may have overlooked your whole life that Scripture repeatedly affirms that Jesus rose from the dead. It does NOT say that Jesus rose from death. There is a big difference! "The dead" refers to dead people that He was among. This is one case where I enjoy preaching from a Spanish Bible (RVR 1960), which makes it clear that Jesus rose from "los muertos" (the dead ones) as opposed to "la muerte" (death). The distinction is glaring in the Greek. The word for "the dead" is nekros, while other words, mostly thanatos, are translated death. Jesus did not just rise from death; He rose from the dead ones. So He had to be with the dead ones before He rose! The dead ones weren't in heaven yet, so Jesus couldn't have been in heaven while He was dead!

Was the Cross Enough to Secure the Plan of Redemption?

People who don't believe that Jesus went to hell like to point to the cross and say that it was sufficient to complete the plan of redemption. Thus, Jesus would not have had to go to hell for any reason (to be punished or to triumph over it) after He died on the cross. In particular, they cite His statement "It is finished" to support the idea that the plan of redemption was finished at that point, not requiring any further action on His part.

As a very young believer, I was taught in a popular evangelism program that “It is finished” was a Greek word meaning “It is paid in full” or “The account is settled”. However, that conclusion can only come from sources outside the Bible, as this form of the Greek word teleo cannot be proved to mean “Paid in full” based on the use of the word teleo in the Bible. While it can mean pay (e.g., Matthew 17:24 and Romans 13:6, which both refer to paying tribute), there are many more places where the word is translated otherwise – finished, performed, accomplished, fulfilled, filled up and expired. If you go by the overwhelming usage of the word in Scripture, you cannot make a case that it must mean paid in John 19:30.

The only other place in the Bible where the specific form of the verb teleo used in John 19:30 appears is John 19:28 – in both cases it is the specific word tetelestai. It is the word accomplished in John 19:28: “After this, Jesus knowing that all things were now accomplished, that the scripture might be fulfilled, saith, I thirst.” One could say that this other verse also shows that all things were now “paid in full,” though one could also argue that if the word meant accomplished in John 19:28, then accomplished would be a valid translation two verses later.

The only way I see tetelestai translated in John 19:28 or John 19:30 in any mainstream translation is accomplished, finished or completed. Young’s Literal Translation translates tetelestai in John 19:30 as “It hath been finished.” NO mainstream translation at this writing renders it “It is paid” or “It is paid in full.” While the non-Biblical arguments for the word meaning “paid in full” are interesting, it is evident that no Bible translators considered that evidence to be sufficient to make their translations actually say “Paid in full.”

However, my conclusions remain the same even if the word DOES mean “Paid in full,” so if you want argue that merchants wrote tetelestai on bills to indicate “Paid in full,” it won’t change the fact that Jesus needed to die and rise spiritually. If He did not rise spiritually from the dead, we would not have been able to do so, either, as we’ll see.

If we assume (safely) that Jesus said “It is finished” meaning that “It is completed,” the “it” cannot be the entire plan of redemption. Rather, it would have to refer only to His earthly assignment. This can be proved by demonstrating that other verses prove that the plan of salvation was not finished when Jesus breathed His last. Jesus had to die as part of the penalty for our sins.

Romans 5:8:

But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.

1 Corinthians 15:3:

For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures;

Romans 5:10:

For if, when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, we shall be saved by his life.

Hebrews 2:14:

Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same; that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil;

So according to Paul, simply shedding His blood for our sins was not enough – Christ had to DIE for our sins, which had to happen AFTER He spoke the words “It is finished.”

But 11 and 14 verses later, Paul makes it clear that even Christ dying for our sins was not enough to bring us out of our sins:

1 Corinthians 15:14:

And if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain.

1 Corinthians 15:17:

And if Christ be not raised, your faith is vain; ye are yet in your sins.

Therefore, without the resurrection, your sins would still not be wiped away. So the plan of redemption was NOT finished on the cross or even when Jesus died. If Jesus could not be born again, no one else could be either, and we would be stuck in our sins.

Interestingly, Paul’s plan of salvation in Romans 10:9-10 doesn’t make belief that Jesus died on a cross a prerequisite for salvation, but it DOES require that the person believe that God raised Him from the dead.

Peter also makes a similar statement showing that Christ’s RESURRECTION was necessary for us to be resurrected spiritually (born again):

1 Peter 1:3:

Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead,

It was His resurrection that opened the door to us being born again, not simply His bloodshed. I cannot find anywhere in the Bible where Jesus’ bloodshed allowed us to be born again, though many other benefits of His bloodshed are cited. The problem is that too many believers are clinging to the old rugged cross. At the cross, your sins were forgiven, but that would still leave you as nothing more than a forgiven sinner if it weren’t for Christ’s resurrection! It’s time that we stopped clinging to the old rugged cross and started embracing the full implication of the empty tomb! It was His resurrection that allows US to be born again!

I assume that there will still be readers who protest, “No, it’s nothing but the blood of Jesus! He shed it before He died!” (Actually, that isn’t true, because Jesus’ bloodshed for us was NOT finished when He cried out “It is finished” or even when He died! John 19:34 says, “But one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and forthwith came there out blood and water.” But Jesus had already died (“given up the ghost”) in verse 30! However, as we’ll see below, the blood shed before He died accomplished our redemption from sin.)

God, a Fallen Nature, and Being Born Again

The biggest concern the objector typically has is the idea that Christ, being God, could temporarily have a fallen nature. How could a holy God have an unholy nature? Wouldn't that make Him something other than what He really is? But I think that line of reasoning would also prohibit Christ from being considered guilty for our sins and justly punished for them. How could a holy God be guilty for sins and be punished for them? How could God punish Himself? I think that this gets us to the same place either way. (Some theologians don't believe that Christ was punished for our sins, but that He only shed His blood to redeem us, a position that is totally inconstant with the forceful assertions in Isaiah 53.)

Why would Jesus have to go to hell? Wasn't He as spotless as before once He shed His blood and cried out, "It is finished?" Actually, He couldn't have been. You see, Adam and Eve would have lived forever if they had not sinned. It would have been impossible for them to die because death came by sin (Romans 5:12). If Christ (known as the Second Adam and the Last Adam) were now in the same position as the First Adam before he fell, he could not have died either! Thus, He would never have known "the death of the cross" after all. He could have called on twelve legions of angels to take Him off the cross and continue on the earth as a Man incapable of death. Our sins still had to be "on" Him for Him to be capable of dying on the cross. Only someone with a fallen nature could experience death.

I would say that we HAVE to admit that Jesus didn't just carry our sins. He "became sin" because 2 Corinthians 5:21 says so. Any theology of "what happened from the cross to the resurrection" must take into account Jesus BECOMING sin and the fact that God forsook Him. (I can hear the howls, "How can God forsake Himself?" But that is what Jesus cried out. He had to endure separation from God as a Man to partake of the spiritual death that we as sinners partook of. His separation from God redeemed YOU from ever being separated from God.)

One side-issue is whether Satan tortured Him in hell. I don't know of any Scripture that states that Satan is in hell or ever has been there so far, seeing as it's a place of torment designed for him and his angels. Why would he want to be there? On the other hand, Jesus could "descend to the lowermost part of the earth" without the devil being there. So the commonly-preached notion that Satan and his demons tortured Jesus in hell has no Biblical basis. I'll return to this in even more detail in a while. You can draw your own conclusions, as long as your conclusion is that Jesus BECOME sin. I think we have to hold to the fact that Jesus never ceased being God, yet He DID become sin. But when He rose, He wasn't sin anymore. So at some point AFTER he was already physically dead, He had to "un-become" sin.

A Born-Again Jesus

This idea of Jesus "dying spiritually" and carrying a fallen nature to hell definitely gets people stirred up. WHAT? Jesus, a fallen Man? If that were true, He would have to be born again Himself! Yet that is exactly what Peter taught:

Acts 13:33:

God hath fulfilled the same unto us their children, in that he hath raised up Jesus again; as it is also written in the second psalm, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee.

“This day” is clearly the day when God raised up Jesus and NOT the day when He was conceived in Mary’s womb or the day when He was born in Bethlehem. Jesus was not, and could not have been, “raised up” until He first died! So God “begat” Jesus on THAT day. Jesus was “born” (again) when God raised Him.

Far from being some farfetched stretch of the Scriptures, the idea that Jesus was born again is found in multiple places in Scripture! Once you start looking at certain other Scriptures, you’ll wonder how you could have read your Bible all these years and missed something that was staring you in the face.

Colossians 1:18:

And he is the head of the body, the church: who is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead; that in all things he might have the preeminence.

Here Paul declares that Jesus was “the firstborn from the dead.” A casual reading would leave you with the impression that Jesus was the first person that God raised from the dead, and that we would follow at some point. But Jesus was NOT the first person to be physically raised from the dead! Jesus raised the son of a widow from the dead (Luke 7:12-16), raised Lazarus from the dead (John 11:1-44) and raised a 12-year-old girl from the dead (Matthew 9:18-25, Mark 5:22-43, Luke 8:41-56) – all before He Himself rose from the dead. A man whose body was thrown on top of Elisha’s bones was raised from the dead (2 Kings 13:20-21). An unspecified number of Old Testament women received their dead raised back to life (Hebrews 11:35). Elijah and Elisha both raised someone from the dead (1 Kings 17:17-24, 2 Kings 4:18-37). Jesus was NOT the first person to be raised from the dead if all you consider is physical death. However, in the context of spiritual death, it makes sense. No one was spiritually born again before Jesus rose from the dead. He COULD be the firstborn from spiritual death.

It gets a lot more obvious.

Colossians 2:12-13:

Buried with him in baptism, wherein also ye are risen with him through the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead.

And you, being dead in your sins and the uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quicken together with him, having forgiven you all trespasses;

The Bible is clear that we are raised together with Christ. Here is more proof of that:

Colossians 3:1:

If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God.

Now let me ask you something. Do you have a glorified body like the one Christ has had since He rose from the dead? Can you just “be” somewhere without walking through the door to get there? Is your body now immortal as Christ’s is? Of course not; Paul says not to let sin reign in your mortal body (Romans 6:12). Therefore, you are not physically risen with Christ. You haven’t physically risen from the dead, have you? (At least most of you can answer, “No!”) However, you are spiritually risen. You are born again.

So these verses make no logical sense unless you believe that Jesus died spiritually and was reborn spiritually. Otherwise your conclusion is that Jesus died and rose physically but He never died and rose spiritually, while you died and rose spiritually but you never died and rose physically. So how then could you be raised with Christ? Your “raisings” would have nothing in common!

Next consider this verse:

Ephesians 2:5:

Even when we were dead in sins, hath quickened us together with Christ, (by grace ye are saved;)

If there was never a point where Jesus was spiritually dead and then “made alive,” the verse above would make no sense, as our bodies have not partaken yet of the same resurrection to immortality that awaits us in the future. Besides, the context of the verse is quite obvious—it speaks of being dead in sins (spiritually dead) and then being made alive. To do that WITH CHRIST, it must be something that already happened to Christ.

Also consider Romans 6:4: “Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life.” We are to walk in the same newness of life – in this present life – as Jesus had when He was raised from the dead. But we do NOT have the same resurrected, immortal body that can never know death that Jesus had when He rose from the dead. We cannot walk in physical newness of life. The only “newness of life” we can experience is SPIRITUAL in this life, as our body is “dead” and unspiritual and will remain that way until we die or are raptured.

Now consider that Jesus was “justified in the Spirit:”

1 Timothy 3:16:

And without controversy great is the mystery of godliness: God was manifest in the flesh, justified in the Spirit, seen of angels, preached unto the Gentiles, believed on in the world, received up into glory.

Justified refers to an unrighteous person being made righteous. No serious Bible scholar would dispute that WE are justified. Here are SOME verses (there are many more) on this topic:

Romans 3:24:

Being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus:

Romans 5:1:

Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ:

Romans 5:9:

Much more than, being now justified by his blood, we shall be saved from wrath through him.

1 Corinthians 6:11:

And such were some of you: but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God.

In all the cases above the Greek word dikaioo is the word translated justified. So you who were formally unrighteous have been justified, and now you are righteous. There should be little debate about what the word dikaioo means. Well, it's exactly the same word translated justified in 1 Timothy 3:16.

Therefore it must indicate that Jesus was accounted unrighteous (after He became sin) but then a work of the Holy Spirit made Him righteous. When did YOU become righteous? When you were born again. When did JESUS become righteous? When He was born again.

I realize that applying the term "born again" to Jesus goes against a lot of tradition. But my challenge to you would be to explain how JESUS could be justified any other way. He was made sin, but when He rose from the grave, He was no longer sin. Something HAD to have happened between the cross and the empty tomb that caused Jesus to go from "sin" to "righteousness" so that He was not still sin when His body was raised from the dead.

I know people will think, "It's impossible for GOD to be "sin" and be "born again" because He's holy! Yet the Bible is clear that Jesus was not holy when He died on the cross – He was sin because He had taken on our sins. You could just as well say that it is logically impossible for God to forsake Himself because He's one God. Yet that is clearly what happened on the cross when Jesus cried out, "My God, My God, why have You forsaken Me?" (Matthew 27:46). He was punished with a sinful man's punishment, and therefore He had to be separated from God the Father for a time. You could also say that it is logically impossible for a holy, righteous God to be cursed and even become a curse, but that is exactly what Jesus became on the cross, as Galatians 3:13 states very plainly. If He could be punished and become a curse, I don't see how being spiritually dead is farfetched either. How could Jesus have been spiritually still alive and be "a curse" simultaneously? That seems difficult.

Objectors along this line usually accuse anyone who believes that Jesus had to be born again of heresy. "You're denying the second member of the Trinity by saying that Jesus wasn't God after He died and before He rose!" But I am doing no such thing. I do not believe that Jesus EVER ceased to be God at any time. However, I believe that though He was God, He was capable taking all our sins upon Himself, of becoming sin for us and suffering judgment accordingly as our Substitute.

A Little Lower than the Angels

Hebrews 2:9:

But we see Jesus, who was made a little lower than the angels for the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honour; that he by the grace of God should taste death for every man.

There has been plenty of confusion about this quotation of Psalm 8:4-5 and its King James rendering: “What is man, that thou art mindful of him? and the son of man, that thou visitest him? For thou hast made him a little lower than the angels, and hast crowned him with glory and honour.” That is because the word angels here was actually elohim in the Hebrew, which is also used of God Himself! Thus, one could claim (and many do) that the true intent of that Psalm must be that man was created a little lower than God. However, this misses the fact that the word elohim can also mean a ruler or powerful person or even a false god. Its use is definitely NOT limited to referring to God Himself. (This is discussed at more length in the objection reply about faith preachers claiming to be little gods.) Thus, one cannot accuse the writer of Hebrews of mistranslation when he uses the word “angels” – which was the traditional Jewish reading of the Psalm as well as the King James translation of it.

Adam and Eve, before they fell, never were underneath any angel. They were lower than God, but they did not report to any angel. However, after they fell, they were now underneath Satan’s control, and of course Satan is a fallen angel. So sinful man is below the angels, but righteous man is above the angels. Knowing this is necessary to see what Hebrews 2:9 above really means. Jesus was not made a little lower than the angels in Bethlehem when He was born. The verse says explicitly that He was made a little lower than the angels for the suffering of death. In other words, when He suffered for our sins, He was put on the level of man after man sinned, not before man sinned. He shared the status of spiritually dead men.

A born-again (spiritually alive) man is NOT a little lower than the angels – he is HIGHER, and here is more proof:

1 Corinthians 6:3:

Know ye not that we shall judge angels? how much more things that pertain to this life?

The one judging must outrank the one being judged . Thus, we believers (spiritually alive men) outrank angels! We must be “above the angels,” not “a little below the angels.”

Hebrews 1:13-14:

But to which of the angels said he at any time, Sit on my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool?

Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation?

Believers are not called to serve angels. Angels are called to serve believers! Thus, we outrank angels; we are NOT “a little below them” in rank!

God gave the earth to MEN, not to angels. It is nowhere stated that ANGELS were made in God’s image, but MAN was. Thus, you should see by now that a spiritually alive man is a higher class of being than an angel.

Now if Jesus were spiritually alive His whole life until He breathed His last, He would have outranked angels the same way that we do at all times. At no point could He ever have been considered to have been lower than the angels. He was only lower than the angels “for the suffering of death” when He became sin for us. Jesus was not just “made lower than the angels – period.” He was “made lower than the angels for the suffering of death.” Do you see that? The Old Testament people, even the best of them, were still lower than the angels because of the spiritual death that had passed from Adam to all of them. But Jesus, living a perfect life and thus never dying spiritually, was never in their position where they were until He took on their position when He was punished. The only person who can be lower than the angels is a man without right standing with God! Jesus temporarily lost that right standing when He took on our wrong standing. He exchanged our unrighteousness for His righteousness. That is the heart of the gospel.

He Tasted Death for Every Man

That same verse (Hebrews 2:9) goes on to say that He tasted death for every man. In other words, He endured death as our substitute to spare us from death. So unless you believe the ridiculous doctrine that we can live forever in our current bodies (as a few people teach, and other now-deceased people have taught!), you cannot take the position that Jesus endured physical death to spare us from physical death. Even under the New Covenant, it is still appointed for a man once to die and after this the judgment (Hebrews 9:27). So Jesus did NOT taste physical death so that we would not have to taste physical death, because we still WILL experience physical death unless Jesus returns while we are still alive. The only remaining logical conclusion is that Jesus tasted spiritual death to spare us ever having to taste spiritual death.

John 8:51:

Verily, verily, I say unto you, If a man keep my saying, he shall never see death.

Here we see that “death” can refer to spiritual death, as Jesus clearly could not mean that keeping His sayings would keep you from physical death, which would contradict Hebrews 9:27 above.

Did the Devil Torment Jesus in Hell?

Some teaching builds upon the idea that Jesus went to hell by painting a picture of Satan and his cohorts mercilessly tormenting Jesus for our sins. I can't go along with that. First, the devil is not IN hell to begin with and never has been! Why would he be there when it's a place of punishment created for the devil and his angels (Matthew 25:41)? If you had the right to be free to roam the earth for now, would you willingly enter a place of torture designed to make you miserable? Of course not, and neither would Satan. I can think of a video made for kids where Satan sits on a throne in hell and is revered as “Big D” by his imps, but Satan's throne is not in hell. Consider the following verse, which indicates that Satan had set up shop on the earth, NOT hell:

Revelation 2:13:

I know thy works, and where thou dwellest, even where Satan's seat is: and thou holdest fast my name, and hast not denied my faith, even in those days wherein Antipas was my faithful martyr, who was slain among you, where Satan dwelleth.

The word seat in the King James Version is the Greek word thronos, which (as you can probably guess) means throne. So Satan's throne isn't in hell! He doesn't hang around hell, either. For further proof of that, consider these verses:

Job 1:7:

And the LORD said unto Satan, Whence comest thou? Then Satan answered the LORD, and said, From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.

Job 2:2:

And the LORD said unto Satan, From whence comest thou? And Satan answered the LORD, and said, From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.

So Satan is not in hell. And if Satan were in hell, his orders to his demons would fall upon deaf ears, because they aren't in hell either! They're in the heavens above the earth and going around the earth looking for people to yield to them.

Ephesians 2:2:

Wherein in time past ye walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience:

Ephesians 6:12:

For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places.

The devil doesn't have friends in low places – they're in "high places" above the earth – a term that would never be used to describe hell, which is always described as being under the earth.

So the idea that Satan and his demons tormented Jesus in hell doesn't make sense.

You may wonder, what about what Jude said about fallen angels being in everlasting chains, then?

Jude 6:

And the angels who did not keep their proper domain, but left their own abode, He has reserved in everlasting chains under darkness for the judgment of the great day;

The Bible does not contradict itself. Satan and his "principalities and powers and rulers of wickedness in the heavenly places" are not in everlasting chains at this time. So not all angels who sinned are in hell right now. Apparently some are. But these are the ones who "left their own abode." Based on the next verse (Jude 7), we might conclude that these would be the ones who had intercourse with humans and incurred judgment on the human race that only Noah and seven others escaped:

Jude 7:

Even as Sodom and Gomorrha, and the cities about them in like manner, giving themselves over to fornication, and going after strange flesh, are set forth for an example, suffering the vengeance of eternal fire.

While the events in Sodom were well after the Flood, the words “even as” could be taken to mean that these angels had engaged in prohibited sexual acts just as the people in Sodom had done.

Genesis 6:2:

That the sons of God saw the daughters of men that they were fair; and they took them wives of all which they chose.

These couldn't just be regular people, because regular people were commanded to multiply and fill the earth, which would involve taking wives! The verses that follow show that giants resulted from these illegal unions and judgment followed.

I realize that we are dealing with some of the most controversial verses in the Bible, but I am not content to just throw up my hands and say, “Oh well, we'll never understand that one.” The Bible itself admits that some of Paul's writings are hard to understand, but God didn't say that they were impossible to understand – why would they be in there if they would never do us any good, especially given that ALL Scripture was given to equip us?

I think it is clear in the light of the passages above that the angels in chains are the Genesis 6:2 angels and not ALL fallen angels. Besides, the Bible doesn't really tell us where demons came from (which therefore is not essential for us to know), but they are definitely not the fallen angels of Genesis 6:2, as these are no longer free to roam the earth.

So back to the question of whether Satan tormented Jesus in hell. It seems clear to me that God created hell to be a place of torment, and it was never Satan's role to torment people in hell, nor will it ever be. The same goes for the fallen angels. I believe that Jesus WAS tormented in hell because it was designed by God to be a place of torment. It just wasn't Satan doing the tormenting.

My conclusion that Jesus had to be tormented is bolstered by this verse:

Acts 2:24:

Whom God hath raised up, having loosed the pains of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden of it.

When Jesus was raised to life spiritually (which preceded His physical resurrection), hell could not hold him anymore because it had no legal claims on him. (As people “in Christ,” hell has no legal claims on us, either!) Notice that God loosed “the pains of death.” That Greek word is used to describe labor pains in one other verse and sorrows in 2 other verses. This makes it clear to be that Jesus' time between the cross and the resurrection was not some wonderful time of intimacy where Jesus had a picnic with the Father awaiting His resurrection. It involved death and pain. This indicates torment and punishment.

Who Were the Spirits in Prison?

1 Peter 3:18-20:

For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit:

By which also he went and preached unto the spirits in prison;

Which sometime were disobedient, when once the longsuffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing, wherein few, that is, eight souls were saved by water.

One commonly-taught explanation is that Jesus preached the Good News to those who were in “Abraham’s Bosom” – a place where the righteous dead resided that was separated by a great gulf from a place of punishment called Hades – and so those people were the spirits in prison. While that apparently happened – I’ll get to that shortly – it seems dubious to me that this passage refers to that, given that it would be hard to use the word “prison” to refer to “paradise” or any place where people who were exempt from punishment resided.

In the context above, it appears that the “spirits in prison” were “sometimes disobedient in the days of Noah.” Plenty of people went to Abraham’s Bosom in times other than the times of Noah – the beggar Lazarus did not live in Noah’s day and yet went to Abraham’s Bosom. So once again, it makes sense that these spirits in prison were the angels who had unlawful relations with men in Genesis 6:2. His preaching then, would have been a declaration of victory over them, not an offer of salvation. The word preached that Peter used is NOT a Greek word that means evangelize, so we should NOT take that verse to mean that Jesus “evangelized” everyone in Abraham’s Bosom and got them saved.

In case you’re wondering, there IS another verse that does describe the Gospel being preached to the dead:

1 Peter 4:6:

For this cause was the gospel preached also to them that are dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit.

At some point the righteous dead who were with Abraham instead of the place of torment had to be taken to heaven. Then being absent from the body could mean being present with the Lord. Unfortunately, I don’t see any Scripture that reveals explicitly when this happened. If the exact timeline were necessary, God would have spelled it out for us. I could offer conjecture, but it’s safe to be silent when the Bible is silent. It’s like speculating on the timing of when Jesus offered His blood in the heavenly tabernacle. It COULD have been after He appeared to Mary Magdalene based on His statement to her cited above. I don’t know that the verse in question is enough to make a completely ironclad case for that, though I would tend to lean that way myself.

If you disagree with my conclusions, we can still fellowship and enjoy each other’s company – these are not life-and-death theological issues.

Quickened by the Spirit

If you read only verse 18 above, you'll conclude that it means that Jesus' body was put to death and that the Holy Spirit raised it. While that is true, that can't be what verse 18 is talking about. Verse 19 continues "by whom he went and preached unto the spirits in prison." I needed to lay the foundation in the foregoing section to show that this event happened BEFORE Jesus' body was raised up by the Holy Spirit. His being quickened by the Spirit was BEFORE He preached to the spirits in prison, which was BEFORE He rose bodily from the dead. So "quickened by the Spirit" CANNOT MEAN "bodily raised from the dead." The only remaining explanation is that it speaks of being raised from SPIRITUAL death.

Jesus' Triumph over Principalities and Powers

Colossians 2:15 makes it clear that Jesus triumphed over all evil powers. When did He do this? It's actually stated in the verse: "And having spoiled principalities and powers, he made a shew of them openly, triumphing over them in it." What is it? It seems that the end of the previous verse answers that question – the cross. We can check the Greek here just to make sure that "it" is the cross, but we find a word that could refer to something or someone else, too. MOST translations (including Young's Literal Translation) stick with what seems to be the better choice "in it" – meaning the cross, though there are translations that say "in him" or "in Him" or "through Him." However, those translations are footnoted to show an alternate reading of "in it" as well. In the context, I think that "in it" (meaning the cross) makes more sense.

While there is a certain appeal to picturing Jesus bashing demons in hell over the head on His way out, or maybe having a Roman victory parade with tied-up, humiliated demons behind Him, we've already established that the principalities "of the air" as well as their head, Satan, did not (and do not) inhabit hell. Colossians 2:15 makes it clear that the cross, not a visit to hell, was where the victory over principalities was won. How can this be, especially when I've asserted already that the cross did not complete the plan of redemption?

Our right to be born again – "risen with Christ" – did not occur until Jesus rose from the dead. However, it was at the CROSS that the great exchange took place – our sins for His righteousness. Our sins were laid on Jesus to be punished. At that point, they had already been "taken" from us. This taking of our sins is the very act that rendered Satan powerless over us. Suddenly, the entire universe could realize that Satan and his cohorts had no more legal grounds to condemn a man. Because his only leverage came from pointing out sins and nitpicking based on the Law, the cross was a giant GAME OVER sign for Satan.

Before the cross, Satan, “The Accuser of the Brethren,” could bring charges against us that could stick. We all broke the Law in some fashion, so he could point out our shortcomings. Even when our sins were covered (as opposed to washed away) by Old Testament blood sacrifices, a sinner would have new sins that hadn’t yet been covered. The strength of sin is the Law (1 Corinthians 15:56). Before Jesus nailed the Law to the cross (Colossians 2:14), it had unmet demands that hung over our heads. But after Jesus took our sins and bled on the cross, Satan had no basis for an accusation. We are counted righteous by our faith in Jesus, which means that Satan has NO means by which to rightfully inflict condemnation on a Christian (Romans 8:1). There’s nothing for him to grab onto. He might as well try to grip oil. He has no legal right to afflict us. Your name has been cleared. You do not DESERVE punishment anymore. Your sins deserved it, but Jesus served your sentence for you. Therefore, EVERY sickness Satan brings is ILLEGAL and subject to eviction in the name of Jesus.

That is why the cross was a triumph over Satan’s kingdom. His only form of leverage over humanity was legally abolished forever. He and his fallen cohorts were brought to nothing.

“Key” Points

The Bible nowhere states that Jesus snatched the keys of hell and death from the devil on His way out of hell, nor does it state that Jesus and Satan had the greatest battle of all eternity in hell and that He beat Satan there. In fact, the Bible says the opposite – that He triumphed on the CROSS. Because Satan and his principalities were already defeated at that point, there was no need to defeat any of them again in some kind of cage fight in hell.

Besides, I don’t see anywhere in the Bible where it says that Satan ever inhabited hell. So he couldn’t have been there so that Jesus could take the keys of hell away from him on His way out. Hell was designed to be a place of torture for the devil. If the devil were in hell and he had the keys, he would surely let himself out and spare himself some agony until later. Hell is NOT a place where the devil and his angels torment people; it is a place where the devil and his angels themselves will be tormented (Matthew 25:41) along with any people who failed to submit themselves to the lordship of Jesus Christ. So popular images of Satan bullying residents of hell saying, “Now I gotcha, sucker, ha ha ha ha!” accompanied by a chorus of gloating demons with a “Gnashville” sound are unbiblical. I’m aware of Revelation 1:18 but in that verse Jesus simply states that He HAS the keys of hell and death. I think it makes more sense that God the Father gave Him those keys after He ascended to heaven and that God had the keys all along. After all, it was up to GOD, not SATAN, who was sent to the place of torment or to “Abraham’s bosom” – Satan has never had any rights in that matter, so he certainly has never had a key to let only selected people into hell.

It just makes no sense to me that the devil would ever have possessed the keys to hell. If you built a prison for fallen angels, would you give all the keys to the place to the head fallen angel? As Jude 6 above pointed out, there are already fallen angels in everlasting chains in hell. If Satan had the keys, don’t you think that he would have freed his fallen followers from their fetters and let them out of hell long before Jesus showed up?

Some have even argued that “hell” will not exist until after the Great White Throne Judgment of all mankind, but this can’t be true. They might be confusing hell with the lake of fire. After the Great White Throne Judgment, hell (which obviously exists at the time) will be thrown into the lake of fire (Revelation 20:14). Now someone is sure to point out that the word for “hell” is hades and claim that it means the abode of the dead but not a place of punishment, but that is disproven by Jesus’ story of the rich man and Lazarus where the rich man was in TORMENT in the FLAME in hades (translated as hell; see Luke 16:23-24). Hades is the same place where Jesus was between the cross and the empty tomb – God “did not leave His soul there” (Acts 2:27, quoting Psalm 16:10). If you weren’t judged with the wicked, you went to “Abraham’s bosom” as Lazarus did, not to hades.

The Parade That Wasn’t?

What about that great parade of captive demons? No translation that I’ve ever seen uses the word “parade” to describe what Jesus did. I’ve heard the explanation that Colossians 2:15 expresses the same kind of military triumph in which the Roman army dragged the losers behind in a humiliation parade. There is no question that Jesus humiliated the devil and his followers, putting them to public shame by His victory on the cross. The devil had been trying to take Jesus out for a long time. He inspired armies to exterminate the Jews. He inspired Haman to make a plot to kill all Jews, which would have ended any chance for Jesus to come. He tried to get all babies in Bethlehem killed. He tried to tempt Jesus to sin, knowing that sin would ruin Him and make Him Satan’s slave along with the rest of mankind. He tried to inspire people to kill Jesus before He could finish His course. Nothing worked. Jesus’ crucifixion was proof that Satan and all his demons had failed to get any hold of Him. They lost; He won.

However, given that His triumph was on the cross, it makes it hard to picture Him leading an actual parade while He was still under condemnation for our sins and still nailed to the cross. Some teachers assume that this “parade” was on Jesus’ way out of hell after taking the devil’s keys of death and hell, but there is no possible way to interpret Colossians 2:15 as talking about what Jesus did in hell or on His way out of hell. The timing is off. There was no parade of defeated demons on Jesus’ way out of hell.

Unfortunately, we can’t compare the Greek word for “made a shew of them” to anywhere else in the Bible, because Colossians 2:15 is the only place where it is used.

I'm aware that Ephesians 4:8 says, "Wherefore he saith, when he ascended up on high, he led captivity captive, and gave gifts unto men." However, note that this verse says that He led captivity (that which captivators impose) captive, not the captivators themselves. If Jesus had led a parade of captivators who had imposed their captivity on humanity when He ascended on high, at what point do you suppose that He let them go free again to still captivate sinners who are still in their kingdom? They aren't bound up now; they are free to roam the earth. Satan himself is allowed to go to and fro, seeking whom he may devour – he won't be "bound" until Christ's 1000-year reign. So why should we conclude that Jesus bound up all the bad spirits in a victory parade and then let them go back and do the kinds of things that they were doing before? I don't see where Satan and his cohorts do anything differently now than they ever did; the only difference is that a child of God has the authority to stop their harassment, which not even the greatest prophet in the Old Testament could do.

Jesus won a victory for all of us who would believe in the future. When we receive Jesus, we receive His victory over all antichrist spirits (1 John 4:4). We aren't going to overcome them – we HAVE overcome them by virtue of being in Christ.

None of this is a big deal that will hinder your healing no matter which way you believe on these issues. I'm quite aware that I'm contradicting popular preachers on this matter, but I don't just parrot popular preachers – I study the Bible for myself before I preach. If I'm going to believe something, I demand Bible proof! If you can find anywhere in the Bible (as opposed to popular music or books or videos based on some alleged revelation or vision) that Jesus snatched the keys of hell and death from Satan after beating him in an epic spiritual battle in hell, and that He then led a Roman-style humiliation parade of demons on His way out, go ahead and preach it. Otherwise, beware lest you propagate Christian "urban legends" and end up embarrassed when someone asks for chapters and verses to back up what you're preaching!

The Dual Imagery Dilemma

People who claim that Jesus did NOT die spiritually seem to ignore the serpent on the pole being an image of Jesus on the cross. However, people who claim that Jesus DID die spiritually seem to ignore that Jesus was not only pictured as a serpent on a pole but also as a Lamb without blemish. If He was a Lamb without blemish, He could not have literally "become sin" and died spiritually and maintained His unblemished state. Spiritual death would certainly have blemished Him! The dilemma is that Jesus was foreshadowed BOTH as a serpent on a pole AND as a spotless lamb whose innocent blood would be shed. We still have to find a way to stay consistent with the fact that He shed His blood while spotless:

Hebrews 9:14:

How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God?

Further complicating the matter is the fact that if Jesus were spiritually dead when He shed His blood, His blood would have been just as tainted with sin as Adam's blood was after he fell! If Jesus shed the blood of a spiritually dead person, his blood was no better than that of the thieves next to him! Or, if only sinless blood could do the job, NO ONE could have done the job that day. This "paradox" has led many people to conclude that Jesus could NOT have died spiritually. But then, the raft of other Scriptures above would be contradicted if Jesus did NOT die spiritually. Yet the Bible can't contradict itself. Suddenly this "slam dunk" argument about Jesus dying spiritually seems like a real mess, doesn't it?

Peter also indicated that Jesus' precious blood had to be pure from sin:

1 Peter 1:18-19:

Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers;

But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot:

Indeed, if Jesus' blood were tainted, what good would it do an already-tainted sinner to be "washed" in that tainted blood? For it to mean anything to be washed in His blood, His blood could not have been tainted with sin. You would not want to be "washed" in tainted blood that needed washing itself! Old Testament sin offerings were supposed to be spotless. The only way Jesus could have fulfilled the Old Testament image of a sin offering would be if He were spotless when He shed His blood.

Have we found an unsolvable "Bible contradiction?" Do we have to re-examine the idea that Jesus was spiritually dead on the cross? Actually, we DO need to re-examine that idea in light of the passage above.

As we already saw, Jesus cried out, "My God, My God, Why hast thou forsaken Me?" (Matthew 27:46, Mark 15:34). Those were His last recorded actual words in Matthew's gospel; the only thing He "said" after that was that He "cried out again with a loud voice" and immediately died (Matthew 27:50).

Matthew doesn't record the words or even indicate that He used any actual words; we know only that He cried out with a loud voice. In Mark's gospel, we read basically the same thing (Mark 15:37).

However, when we read Luke's account (Luke 23:46), we see that Jesus did say something else after crying out with a loud voice, so it would make sense that this could be what He said in Matthew and Mark's accounts. He said, "Father, into Thy hands I commend My spirit."

Some see this as Jesus going back to the Father immediately, but that would invalidate the entire "sign of Jonah" that Jesus preached about repeatedly. I believe He meant at that point that He was spiritually dead and headed for hell, and He was trusting God to raise Him out of hell.

But wait a minute – if He shed innocent blood that could wash away all our sins, He couldn't have been spiritually dead when He did it!

I believe that the key to resolving this apparent paradox is to consider when Jesus cried out to God about having forsaken Him. He did it just before He died! Thus, I believe that the point at which God forsook Him and He died spiritually, being cut off from direct communion with His Father, was just before He died.

After all, if Jesus had died spiritually when He began His atonement at the whipping post, it would have made sense for Him to cry out THEN, “My God, My God, Why hast thou forsaken Me?” But He didn’t. If He died spiritually at the moment that He was nailed to the cross, it would have made sense for Him to cry out THEN, “My God, My God, Why hast thou forsaken Me?” But He didn’t. He did not cry this out until just before He died.

Thus, it is apparent to me that He was still spiritually alive and pure when He hung on the cross shedding His blood for us and even back at the whipping post where He also shed His blood for us. Thus, He WAS shedding innocent blood for us that could cleanse sin – and as the only human to never sin, He was uniquely qualified to be the one to shed His sinless blood to atone for sinners.

Our sins were laid UPON Him and He BORE them while on the cross, but He did not have to BECOME sin yet in order to do that. In fact, He couldn’t “become sin” yet and still shed sinless blood. He took our beating, our wounding, our sicknesses, our pains...the punishment for sin that we all deserved. But He still had to be alive to God when He did it. Otherwise, the other image of Him as a spotless Lamb would be invalid and only the serpent image would be valid. But if Jesus stayed spiritually alive, the Lamb image would be valid but the serpent image would be invalid. (I realize that some people would argue that the serpent only represented the sins that were ON Jesus at the time, but too many other Scriptures mentioned above indicate otherwise.)

We already proved that “It is finished” could not have referred to the entire plan of redemption. It is important to see why that is, because so many people believe and preach that “It is finished” referred to the entire plan of redemption despite the Scriptures above to the contrary.

If we froze time after Jesus announced, “It is finished,” the result would have been that mankind would have been forgiven for all sins – past, present and future – but a believer in Jesus would still just be a sinner saved by grace (as many actually believe in error that we are). No one would be born of the Spirit. No one would have new life on the inside. All that mankind would have would be forgiveness of sins.

Contrary to some faith teachers, I don't see that Jesus had to pay for our sins in hell. It seems to me that all our sins were paid for at the cross. So I have no gripe with anyone who wants to claim that tetelestai really means "paid in full" although I can't claim ironclad Biblical support for that. No Bible reference indicates that Jesus continued to "pay for" our sins in hell or that the place of Satan's defeat was hell. Colossians 2:15 is clear that the place of victory over Satan was the cross, not hell. Why is that? Consider that all of Satan's ammunition that he had in his storage shed (metaphorically speaking) had to do with accusing us of breaking the Law. He could condemn us for our shortcomings. Satan probably thought that killing Jesus would rid him of any opposition. I can't imagine how horrible he felt when Jesus was taking His last breath and suddenly Satan looked and saw that his entire ammunition shed had been blown to smithereens by what Jesus had just done. No longer would he have the right to condemn a person for breaking the Law. The Law had been nailed to the cross and its demands for justice were forever satisfied by Jesus' blood. Satan had no more valid accusations against anyone. The strength of sin – the Law (1 Corinthians 15:56) – had been replaced by grace and truth (John 1:17).

I know that "It is finished" would seem to mean that there was no further work to do to get the New Covenant going, but consider that Jesus said in John 17:4 that He had finished the work that God sent Him to do – and that was before He went to the cross. So we have to be careful about claiming that "It is finished" meant that EVERYTHING to do with the New Covenant was finished. John 17:4 proves that "finished" can refer to the assignment that He had up until then as opposed to meaning that the New Covenant was completely finished. I think that "It is finished" can validly be taken to mean that the earthly part of His assignment had been completed, though not the entire plan of redemption.

But I have to go down a different road from faith teachers who state that the cross was insufficient for atonement for sin and that Jesus had to continue atoning for our sins for three days and nights in hell. The Bible states that without the shedding of blood, there is no remission of sin (Hebrews 9:22). Jesus' body was in a tomb at the time, so it was impossible for Jesus to shed any more blood in hell. Thus, He was unable to accomplish any more "remission of sin" in hell. But fortunately, He didn't have to – His blood shed while on the earth was sufficient to atone for ALL sins. So why did He have to be in hell if there was no longer "hell to pay" for our sins? Because only spiritually alive people are allowed in heaven. Jesus had not been raised from the dead spiritually yet. He HAD to be with "the dead" in hell.

If His sinless shed blood on the cross was enough to pay for all our sins, why couldn't Jesus just come home to heaven right away without dying spiritually and being raised to life spiritually? And the answer is, He couldn't have died physically! He could have hung on that cross for the next 2,000 years and still never died if He never ceased to be spiritually alive. The only reason Adam died physically is that he died spiritually first. Death only came by sin (Romans 5:12). Thus, Jesus could only die physically if He died spiritually first!

If Jesus had never died spiritually and He had never been raised from the dead spiritually, we would never be able to know what it would be to be “raised with Him” (Colossians 3:1). No one else could be born again until Jesus was born again. Without His spiritual death and resurrection, we would only be forgiven sinners, but we would not “BE righteousness” and be able to do the works of Jesus. I realize that many denominational people DO teach that we are merely forgiven sinners because they don’t realize the extent of what Jesus did for us. (By the way, Lutherans should believe that Jesus died as a sinner, because Martin Luther said so, and Martin Luther was a Lutheran. So the idea of Jesus dying spiritually is NOT some new teaching that just showed up recently in “faith” circles.)

Some of you may have made (or lost!) money trading financial markets, but the best TRADE of all time was when Jesus traded His spiritual LIFE for your spiritual DEATH. He BECAME SIN so that we could BECOME the righteousness of God in Christ. For that trade to happen, Jesus had to experience spiritual death to identify with us and then be raised back to spiritual life to become the “firstborn of many brethren.” Jesus was not the natural firstborn – Adam and a lot of other people were born on the earth before Jesus was born on the earth. However, He was the first to prove that a man could be raised from spiritual death to spiritual life by the Holy Spirit. Many more would follow, and they could call God their Father as much as Jesus could. Thus, He was the firstborn of many brethren.

That is why Jesus had to descend into hell after He died – hell is where spiritually dead people have to go. A spiritually dead man would be out of place in heaven just as a spiritually alive person would be out of place in hell. Which, by the way, is another argument that Jesus had to die spiritually – He would not “fit” in hell if He went there as a sinless, perfect person. He certainly didn’t “fit” there after He was “justified by the Spirit.” But we’ve already looked at Scriptures that proved that He went there.

Did you know that when you partake of the Lord’s Supper, you aren’t just commemorating His body being broken for our healing and His blood being shed for our forgiveness? You’re doing that, but you are also “commemorating the Lord’s death until He comes” (1 Corinthians 11:26). And by the way, His blood wasn’t just shed for your forgiveness; it was also shed to ratify the New Covenant (1 Corinthians 11:25). Now you might have a fleeting thought, “If the New Covenant was finished by His bloodshed, why would He have to die?” But we just saw that we had to commemorate the Lord’s death, not just His bloodshed. He had to die before He could rise. Scripture is clear that if Jesus did not rise from the dead, we are still in our sins (1 Corinthians 15:17).

Jesus made forgiveness available through His BLOOD that He shed on the cross, but Scripture doesn’t teach that His blood made the new birth available. You could only say that it did indirectly, as it cleared the way for us to receive the rest of the plan of salvation. It was only the fact that He “became sin” (He died spiritually) that allowed us to become “the righteousness of God in Him.” Only by becoming like us could He allow us to trade positions so that we could become like Him. Consider 2 Corinthians 5:21 carefully: “For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him.” It was making Jesus to be sin for us that opened the door to the new birth so that we could be righteous new creations.

Becoming Sin or Becoming an Offering for Sin?

Another “anti-Jesus-died-spiritually” argument is that Jesus did not literally BECOME sin but instead became a “sin offering.” The objectors are quick to point out that in the Old Testament Hebrew, the word for “sin” was interchangeable with “sin offering.” And the objectors are right about that. The Hebrew word chatta’ah is translated both “sin” and “offering for sin.” However, despite some objectors’ claims to the contrary, the Greek word for sin in the New Testament (hamartia) is not by itself translated “sin offering” anywhere. Where we see “sin offering,” it is a “peri hamartia” and not simply a “hamartia.” In other words, it is a “for sin” and not simply a “sin.” We see “peri hamartia” (for sin) in Hebrews 10:6 and Hebrews 10:8. (The words sacrifices and offering that precede for sin were added by the translators because they were implied but not explicitly stated in the Greek.) 2 Corinthians 5:21 tells us that Jesus became sin (harmatia), not an offering for sin (peri harmatia). Where a sacrifice for sin is mentioned, the explicit Greek word thysia can be used along with hamartia. We see this in Hebrews 5:1, Hebrews 9:26 and Hebrews 10:26, but NOT in 2 Corinthians 5:21.

So we have to accept that the Bible means what it says in 2 Corinthians 5:21 – Jesus literally BECAME sin rather than becoming a mere sin offering or sacrifice for sin. To do that, He MUST have died spiritually. His spiritual death and resurrection made OUR spiritual resurrection from the dead available in the New Covenant.

Jesus’ Soul and Body Were Both Offerings

Isaiah 53:10 shows us that God made Jesus’ SOUL an offering for sin – not just His body. We usually think only of His body as the offering, but that isn’t what God says. (Now, if you take the point that people who object to this teaching are correct in saying – that in Hebrew, sin and sin offering are the same word, you could actually justify translating Isaiah 53:10 to say that God made Jesus’ soul sin! This would agree with 2 Corinthians 5:21’s statement that He was MADE SIN.)

Our Inheritance

We could not receive an inheritance without the death of the testator (Hebrews 9:16). Therefore, Jesus had to die physically. In order for Him to die physically, He had to die spiritually. Thus, in order for God to give us an inheritance in Christ, He had to die spiritually.

God's Interaction with Jesus on the Cross

God was PUNISHING Jesus on the cross until just before He died, at which point Jesus could say that His earthly work was finished (or, if you prefer, that our sin debts were now "paid in full") and He could say that God had forsaken Him at that point. You cannot say that God "separated Himself" from Jesus while He was pouring out His wrath for our sins upon Him! Let me give you a natural illustration. A wife-beater punches his wife repeatedly and then leaves her for another woman. He "separated himself" from her – she was forsaken. But she was NOT forsaken while she was being beaten! That would not make any sense. Likewise, when Jesus was being punished for that wife-beater's sins, God could not have forsaken Jesus yet because God was still punishing Jesus! The devil isn't the one who punished Jesus for our sins! God's interaction with Jesus was not friendly, but He was still interacting with Him – He had not distanced Himself so that He had no interaction with Jesus at that point. That is perhaps the best evidence that Jesus' spiritual death came after God was done smiting Him for our sins. It was only then that He cried out about God forsaking Him.

What About The Broken Veil?

I think it's interesting that the temple veil that kept people separated from God was broken at the point when Jesus died, NOT at the point when He rose from the dead.

Matthew 27:51:

And, behold, the veil of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom; and the earth did quake, and the rocks rent;

Mark 15:38:

And the veil of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom.

However, we saw proof above that the entire plan of redemption was still not complete until Jesus rose. So how could that veil have broken after Jesus died but had not yet risen from the dead?

I believe that the answer is that once our sins were PAID FOR, it eliminated the ability of sin to separate us from God (Isaiah 59:2). Thus, the path to God's presence was cleared. However, that was not the ENTIRE plan of salvation. Even one priest, once a year, could approach God in His Holy of Holies as long as his sins were atoned for. But He could not have God live IN him. At the point where the veil was torn, the approach to God was cleared, but the ability to be born again was not yet available. That required Jesus' death and resurrection. Otherwise we would simply be slaves of sin who would have to continue to commit pre-forgiven sins for the rest of our lives while at least having access to God. Thank God, we are NOT slaves of sin. Jesus' death and resurrection took care of that! We walk with Jesus in newness of life, free from spiritual death. Although we can know physical death, we will NEVER know spiritual death when we are in Christ. At physical death, we remain spiritually alive and just move to a better address without our spiritually and physically dead bodies. Spiritually speaking, we will NEVER experience death! The "real you" will never die.

Where Did Our Sins Go?

An interesting question is where are sins went after Jesus took them on Himself. We don't see any reference that indicates that He threw our sins off before He died after shedding blood on the cross. In fact, without sins still being on Him, it would have been unjust for God to let Him die spiritually, much less go to hell for three days and three nights. So I have to conclude that Jesus took our sins with Himself to hell. However, when He rose, our sins were not on Him anymore, so I think it's safe to say that He left our sins in hell where they belong. The believer will never see those sins again because the believer will never visit hell or the second death. However, the unbeliever will end up in hell with his sins, forever tormented by guilt for what he did.

A side question would be, "Jesus paid for the sins of the world, so wouldn't it make sense to say that the only sin punished in hell will be the sin of failure to receive Jesus as Lord?" The clear answer is no. Some people in hell will be beaten with more stripes than others and thus will be more miserable than others.

Luke 12:47-48:

And that servant, which knew his lord's will, and prepared not himself, neither did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes.

But he that knew not, and did commit things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. For unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required: and to whom men have committed much, of him they will ask the more.

If the only sin punished in hell were the sin of not receiving Jesus, everyone would be punished the same way (with the same number of "stripes"). So there must still be punishment for individual sins. The unending guilt will be one of the most horrible aspects of hell. The more sins you did on the earth, the more things you'd feel guilty about forever. It would be like being covered with raw sewage and knowing that there will NEVER be water where you can go wash yourself and be cleansed from the stinking filth.

Is there any other evidence that our sins were buried in the depths of hell as opposed to just being buried beneath the Pacific Ocean or something? Yes, there is very good evidence. Consider the Christian ordinance of baptism, which signifies you going down as a dead person, your sins being washed away and you rising as a new creation in Christ. If your sins are "washed away" in baptism, where do you sins stay? They stay BELOW – they don't rise with you when you come out of the water!

This seems to be clearly indicated in the verse below:

Acts 22:16:

And now why tarriest thou? arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord.

If Our Sins Were Already Punished, Why Did Jesus Have to Go to Hell?

God punished sin in the Old Testament, but the people whose sins were punished did not get a free pass to heaven just because their sins were punished. Even the best of the Old Testament saints were unable to enter heaven as we know it today until Jesus came and led them out. They were surely forgiven, but they were not new creations. Only new creations can enter heaven. Jesus didn't get to skip hell just because our sins were paid for. He had to endure separation from God so that He could be the "firstborn of many brethren" (spiritually) as we saw earlier. That was God's plan all along. He was in a condition of spiritual death after God forsook Him, so He HAD to go to hell.

The alternative, even according to Jesus, would have been worse. If Jesus had never died spiritually, He would never have died physically, and He never would have been able to go to heaven and send the Holy Spirit to us, which was to our advantage (John 16:7). People who wanted Him to minister to them would have to go to wherever He was, whereas now, people can just find any Word-believing Christian anywhere on the planet to have the works of Jesus done to them.

Why Didn't the Universe Unravel?

Critics of the idea that Jesus died and rose spiritually as well as physically like to ask how the universe didn't unravel if Jesus went to hell. The argument is that Jesus upholds everything with the word of His power (Hebrews 1:3), so if He were ever lost in hell, the universe would no longer be upheld and it would all unravel. The obvious answer is that the universe didn't unravel the whole time that Jesus was on the earth subject to all of man's limitations. Man is certainly limited in that he cannot uphold the universe. If Jesus could live His entire life subject to man's limitations without having the universe fall apart, there is no reason to believe that the universe had to fall apart while He was completing the plan of redemption.

Denying the Blood?

One of the most pointed criticisms of the idea that Jesus died and rose spiritually as well as physically is that proponents of the idea deny Jesus' blood atonement by saying that Jesus had to make atonement in hell because His bloodshed wasn't enough to pay for our sins. This is cited as outright heresy, and those preachers and their followers are supposedly lost because they deny the blood of Jesus. However, I don't know a single one of those teachers who claims that Jesus' blood didn't have to be shed on the cross as part of the plan of redemption. Therefore, I don't see them as blood-denying heretics. In my case, I DO preach that Jesus' blood completely purchased our forgiveness before He went to hell, so you can't apply the "blood-denying heretic" label to me anyway. My point is that Jesus' spiritual death and resurrection is what enabled us to receive the new birth so that we could be righteous new creations instead of forgiven sinners. Even the most "orthodox" reader will have to admit that in addition to shedding blood, Christ had to DIE for our sins and then RISE again – because the Scriptures cited earlier in this topic explicitly say so! His spiritual death and resurrection was the only thing that could save us from continuing to be forgiven slaves of sin who keep sinning even though we're forgiven. His spiritual death and resurrection were required to finally fix the sin problem that Adam brought onto mankind.

Saving the Savior?

Another argument is that if Jesus really became sin and went to hell, He would need someone else to be His Savior, and of course there could never be another Savior. Or could there be? It is easy to overlook the fact that GOD is also called our Savior, so there is no contradiction in asserting that God Himself was Jesus' Savior from judgment as He is OUR Savior from judgment. God also identifies Himself as the Savior of His people throughout the Old Testament and even in the New Testament, as we will see below.

2 Samuel 22:3:

The God of my rock; in him will I trust: he is my shield, and the horn of my salvation, my high tower, and my refuge, my saviour; thou savest me from violence.

Psalms 106:21:

They forgat God their saviour, which had done great things in Egypt;

Isaiah 43:3:

For I am the LORD thy God, the Holy One of Israel, thy Saviour: I gave Egypt for thy ransom, Ethiopia and Seba for thee.

Isaiah 43:11:

I, even I, am the LORD; and beside me there is no saviour.

Isaiah 45:15:

Verily thou art a God that hidest thyself, O God of Israel, the Saviour.

Isaiah 45:21:

Tell ye, and bring them near; yea, let them take counsel together: who hath declared this from ancient time? who hath told it from that time? have not I the LORD? and there is no God else beside me; a just God and a Saviour; there is none beside me.

Isaiah 49:26:

And I will feed them that oppress thee with their own flesh; and they shall be drunken with their own blood, as with sweet wine: and all flesh shall know that I the LORD am thy Saviour and thy Redeemer, the mighty One of Jacob.

Isaiah 60:16:

Thou shalt also suck the milk of the Gentiles, and shalt suck the breast of kings: and thou shalt know that I the LORD am thy Saviour and thy Redeemer, the mighty One of Jacob.

Isaiah 63:8:

For he said, Surely they are my people, children that will not lie: so he was their Saviour.

Jeremiah 14:8:

O the hope of Israel, the saviour thereof in time of trouble, why shouldest thou be as a stranger in the land, and as a wayfaring man that turneth aside to tarry for a night?

Hosea 13:4:

Yet I am the LORD thy God from the land of Egypt, and thou shalt know no god but me: for there is no saviour beside me.

Luke 1:47:

And my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour.

1 Timothy 2:3:

For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour;

1 Timothy 4:10:

For therefore we both labour and suffer reproach, because we trust in the living God, who is the Saviour of all men, specially of those that believe.

Titus 1:3:

But hath in due times manifested his word through preaching, which is committed unto me according to the commandment of God our Saviour;

Titus 3:4:

But after that the kindness and love of God our Saviour toward man appeared,

Jude 25:

To the only wise God our Saviour, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and ever.
Amen.

Now there are plenty of other Scriptures asserting that JESUS is our Savior. So what do we make of that? Well, two things. God SENT Jesus, so He was our Savior in that sense. But also, God raised Jesus from the dead, which was an essential part of the plan of salvation as well. So Someone did save Jesus from hell – God the Father Himself!

If Jesus never died spiritually, He could have just raised HIMSELF from the dead! The fact that Jesus was raised from the dead by God the Father (Galatians 1:1, 1 Corinthians 15:15, Acts 4:10, Ephesians 1:20) and the Holy Spirit (1 Peter 3:18) shows that Jesus could NOT raise Himself from the dead. That is why He had to commit His spirit to His Father (Luke 23:46), as we saw earlier. He had identified with us in our spiritually dead state where we were also unable to raise ourselves from the dead.

This is further evidence of His spiritual death and resurrection.

Final Comments

Perhaps you will disagree with my conclusions, but I think you would be hard-pressed to find a better explanation for the Scriptures in question. At the very least, I hope that I have demonstrated to you that a theology of Jesus dying and rising spiritually as well as physically is not some farfetched cultic teaching, as there is plenty of Scripture to support it. And because it isn't cultic teaching, faith preachers should not be considered Trinity-denying heretics. I hope that I've also managed to show you that a theology where Jesus DIDN'T die and rise spiritually doesn't fit the rest of Scripture, though I won't accuse you of being an evil cultist if you don't believe that He died and rose spiritually as well as physically.

Objection: Faith Preachers Embrace Mormon-Like Teaching that We Can Become Gods, or are “Little Gods” Already, So They are Evil Cultists

First, Mormons (also known mistakenly as Latter Day Saints) are in an evil cult that teaches that God used to be a man like you and that someday you can be a God like Him and rule over your own planet. I know of NO faith teacher who has EVER even hinted that God was once a man; that’s ridiculous because God created man. I have heard one faith teacher who speculates that we can have our own planets to rule someday, but that is pure speculation, as there is nothing in Scripture to back that up. Even he never said that we would be like God is now. There is only one God who is like God is now and that is all there ever will be. To generalize that ALL faith teachers preach such a thing would be a huge exaggeration. Besides, I teach faith but I don’t teach speculations dogmatically, so I won’t be promising you your own planet to be a “god” over.

Now to the “little gods” thing. Some people are upset at anyone who preaches that you have a divine nature, but Scripture is quite clear that you are created “after God” (in His likeness, spiritually) in righteousness and true holiness (Ephesians 4:24). While you are decidedly not another being in God’s sovereign class, which He has all to Himself, your born-again spirit has the same basic nature as God even though you are not omnipotent, omniscient and omnipresent. You are “one spirit” with Him (1 Corinthians 6:17), which would be impossible if your spirit were some dead sinful spirit (as many still believe) and He is a living spirit. What is the whole point of being born again? A new spirit is born at that moment – born of God. Children resemble their parents. God would never “birth” a spirit that would be of inferior makeup to His. While He is not birthing other omniscient, omnipotent and omnipresent spirits, those who believe God’s Word and become Christians partake of the divine nature (2 Peter 1:4).

So I’m fine with the idea that Christians have spirits that are like God even though they don’t have all of God’s deity attributes (such as omniscience and omnipresence). So does that make us “little gods,” and what are “little gods” anyway?

BIBLICALLY, you CAN be a little god, but you’d better study out what that term means as it’s used in Scripture. Little gods are not additional God-class beings. That’s not the context in which the term is used! Little-g gods are actually people who have power due to their position on earth. The term does NOT refer to men getting the godlike status who can do everything God does like speak “let there be light” to a dark planet somewhere in a galaxy far, far away. That doesn’t even happen in the New Testament, and this is an Old Testament Scripture reference that is merely quoted by Jesus in the New Testament. Specifically, it’s this:

Psalm 82:6:

I have said, Ye are gods; and all of you are children of the most High.

Taken out of context, this could be interpreted to mean that God has made us “little-g gods” who can do what He can do because we’re His offspring. This gets even farther afield when it is extrapolated to mean that we are now the “gods” over the earth. Now the earth WAS given to man throughout the Bible and man has dominion over the earth already – that’s why both God and Satan work through human instruments to get things done here. The problem is that even now, sinners and saints are sharing the planet, and they either submit to “the god of this world” (meaning Satan) or to God the Father. The saints don’t have the place to themselves without the devil’s children, though they WILL have the new earth in which righteousness dwells to themselves. Right now, God is still the owner – Psalm 50:10 says, “For every beast of the forest is mine, and the cattle upon a thousand hills.” But man is the manager, and man has managed to mangle the place.

But doesn’t Psalm 82:6, which is even quoted by Jesus, prove that we as saints, who ARE children of the most High, are now “gods” over this current earth, as this seems to be what the verse comes out and says? It even says that these men are elohim – a term used to refer to God Himself! Can we really be additional elohim like God?

NO! That verse refers to powerful PEOPLE who are FLAWED and do NOT possess God’s nature!

We can see a similar use of “gods” in the Law:

Exodus 22:28:

Thou shalt not revile the gods, nor curse the ruler of thy people.

God did not change his mind and decide that there are now many being like Himself! He was obviously talking about human rulers here, even though the word elohim is used for “gods” here as well. If this meant other divine beings, Elijah transgressed when he mocked Baal (1 Kings 18:27: “And it came to pass at noon, that Elijah mocked them, and said, Cry aloud: for he is a god; either he is talking, or he is pursuing, or he is in a journey, or peradventure he sleepeth, and must be awaked.”). By the way, this is the law that Paul transgressed when he called the high priest a whitewashed wall; he had to repent for that.

In fact, you would NOT want to be like one of the little-g gods in Psalm 82:6 once you read the context!

Psalms 82:1-7 [with comments]:

God standeth in the congregation of the mighty; he judgeth among the gods.

[Scripture is clear that there is only one God, so these little-g gods cannot be God-class beings.]

How long will ye judge unjustly, and accept the persons of the wicked? Selah.

[As we see, this was the little-g gods who were doing this! This was not God-like at all!]

Defend the poor and fatherless: do justice to the afflicted and needy.

[This and the next verse are good things that the little-g gods were NOT doing.]

Deliver the poor and needy: rid them out of the hand of the wicked.

They know not, neither will they understand; they walk on in darkness: all the foundations of the earth are out of course.

[This is again what the little-g gods are up to – walking on in darkness!]

I have said, Ye are gods; and all of you are children of the most High.

[This is the subject verse in context.]

But ye shall die like men, and fall like one of the princes.

[This can't refer to godlike children of God!]

So I re-assert that Biblically, you CAN be one of the little-g gods in this passage. But I doubt that you would want to be one! I wouldn't!

Are there faith teachers out there who say that you can be a little-g god in the sense of having God's authority over this earth? Perhaps there are, but I don't see Scripture for that. The verse they quote is the one above, which clearly doesn't teach what they say it does in context. As for the elohim issue, the word IS used to refer to God, but ALSO to other gods [elohim], household gods [elohim], nonexistent gods [elohim] of Egypt, and so on. You can verify this readily with a concordance. The usage of elohim parallels how it's translated into English. It is not necessarily referring to deity when you see it. So its usage in Psalm 82:6 does NOT prove that you are a divine God-class being or that you have God-class privileges.

Just a little food for thought along that line – I don't believe I've ever actually heard anyone violate the third commandment with regard to God's Old Testament name. His name is Yahweh (the Jews like to spell it YHWH, which is translated "the LORD"), not God (elohim). It is Yahweh who said that He won't leave unpunished the one who takes His name in vain. God is His title, not His name. I'm not advocating misusing the word "God" either, but there's probably less commandment-breaking going on than you think, though of course the Ten Commandments were never given to the New Testament Church anyway – it got the Four Commandments (Acts 15:29: "That ye abstain from meats offered to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication: from which if ye keep yourselves, ye shall do well. Fare ye well.") and the royal law of love (all over the New Testament).

So Psalm 82:6, when it says that you are gods [elohim], is NOT saying that you are beings like God or “little-g god” beings with God-like powers. I do not teach that, so not ALL faith teachers do, and the fact that they might be wrong about interpreting certain Scriptures does not prove that they are misinterpreting all healing-related Scriptures. You have to take things on a case-by-case basis. Being wrong on one Scripture certainly doesn’t mean that you’re an evil cultist, unless your interpretation somehow denies Jesus’ resurrection or His deity or the new birth.

Objection: “Divine” Healings Today are the Prophesied Lying Signs and Wonders of the Antichrist

If you preach divine healing, consider it a given that some people will declare that what you do is “of the devil” and the fruit of an antichrist spirit. After all, Jesus said that men will do to you what they did to Him. Quite a few people attributed HIS signs and wonders to the devil. We had someone leave the church that we pastored and say that if you listened to us, you would go to hell!

This objection is offered by those who are sure that divine healing passed away a long time ago. Other people would at least acknowledge that Jesus is still healing sick people today. Because they believe that God does not heal anymore, they conclude that the devil must be doing the healings. This is a strange inversion of the truth – saying the SATAN wants you to BE HEALED but God wants you to STAY SICK. Have God and Satan switched places? Does God steal, kill and destroy while the devil does the works of Jesus today? What a weird idea! It would make people want to worship Satan instead of God because based on this weird idea, Satan is nicer to you than God today!

There are true Christians on either side of the divine healing question. I would not for a minute suggest that a Christian who does not believe in divine healing is hell-bound or “of the devil.” You are saved by receiving Jesus as Lord, believing that God raised Him from the dead. Your views on divine healing have nothing to do with your ultimate destination. If you are a Christian, I am just as saved as you are even if you disagree with what I say. Jesus is my Lord and I believe that God raised Him from the dead.

It is rather ridiculous to claim that a divine healing preacher is motivated by an antichrist spirit. An antichrist spirit would be anti-Christ! I am pro-Christ. I preach Christ crucified, dead, buried, raised, ascended and coming back. I preach the plan of salvation. You can be extremely sure that when the Antichrist appears, he will not explain the true plan of salvation to anyone! He will try to get the Christians to stop following Christ and he will do anything he can to impede others from serving the Lord Jesus. He won't urge anyone to make Jesus his Lord as true healing preachers do.

Furthermore, there is a biblical test to determine if someone is really backed by an antichrist spirit. An antichrist spirit does not confess that Jesus came in the flesh (1 John 4:1-4). I DO confess that Jesus came in the flesh. He pre-existed with God and was incarnated, not created, when He was conceived in Mary's virgin womb. He was a true Man as well as truly God. I cannot possibly proclaim that and be a mouthpiece for an antichrist spirit! If any preacher is able to confess that Jesus came in the flesh, he is not manifesting an antichrist spirit. He might be “missing it” in some area, but he is not a tool of the antichrist. There is a difference between unwittingly letting the devil use you to try to talk people out of healing and being aligned with the antichrist. The devil used Peter's mouth to try to talk Jesus out of paying for our sins, but the fact that the devil managed to engage Peter's mouth did not mean that Peter always operated with an antichrist spirit.

Labeling healing ministers as antichrist followers is hype gone crazy given what the Bible says about the antichrist and his lying doctrine that Jesus did not come in the flesh.

See also:

Objection: The Only Signs and Wonders Predicted in These Last Days Are the Lying Signs and Miracles of the Antichrist

Objection: Divine Healing Teaching is Gnosticism because It Presumes Special Secret Knowledge Is Needed to Be Healed

I confess that I have sinned – I am not sin-free. There, I have just proven to you that I am not a Gnostic, because Gnostics fit into the categories in 1 John 1:8 and 1 John 1:10, denying that they had any sin. I fit the category of 1 John 1:9 instead – I just confessed (Greek word homologeō, to say the same thing) the same thing that God says by telling you that I have sinned. So I am not one of those people with no truth in me like the Gnostics in 1 John 1 – I am one of those people who is cleansed from all unrighteousness by the blood of Jesus. So I'm not a cultist, and neither is anyone else who is washed in the blood of Jesus. Referring to divine healing teachers as cultists is an old and unfair scare tactic.

Some objectors will cede the point above and will not claim that people like me are the same as the Gnostics in John's day and the misnamed "Christian Scientists" of our day. Instead, they will just claim that we are "neo-Gnostics" because like the Gnostics, we have secrets without which you can't enjoy life as you should.

Well, if anything about divine healing is a secret, I am doing everything I possibly can to get that secret out to the entire world. That's the whole purpose of this book! I don't want divine healing to be a secret. It's a secret only in the sense that it isn't preached in many circles at all. When it is preached, it is usually preached incorrectly in one way or another. I am doing my part to fix that.

Another reason that this objection is silly is that it's like saying, "Teaching that you can put down fleshly habits by walking in the Spirit is neo-Gnosticism because it involves knowledge that many people don't have. It must be cultish because it's a secret – if it weren't, a lot more people would be living in victory over the flesh." In my experience, not many people have a revelation of Galatians 5:16, which states the above concept for overcoming the flesh. But that doesn't make it cultish secret knowledge – it's just Bible knowledge with which few people have renewed their minds. The same could be set for a lot of other areas, if not most of them, given that so few people read their Bibles the way they should.

Objection: Word of Faith People Base Their Doctrines on Famous Preachers' Visions and "Revelations," Not on the Bible

Once again we have an overgeneralization, because not ALL Word of Faith people make this mistake. I would probably be considered a Word of Faith person by attack sites, but I don't base anything I believe on a vision or revelation, whether mine or someone else's. I'm like the Bereans – I do my own studying of the Bible and go with that. (That's why it would be hard to peg me as a follower of a particular faith teacher, because I've got things in here that disagree with just about every well-known faith teacher's material in one place or another!)

Having said that, the objector has noted something that is all too often true. I've observed that faith people can be some of the least scholarly people around. People are all too eager to accept something just because a famous person said it on TV. That TV preacher might not have even checked out what he taught with a concordance before preaching it. (Maybe he wouldn't have preached it if he had!) In some ways, modern faith people are little different from Dark Ages Catholics, who were supposed to believe everything because the priest said it. In fact, in some circles you could be branded as a troublemaker for disagreeing with a doctrine that the pastor preached. After all, aren't you just supposed to accept what the anointed man of God said? When I pastored, I URGED everyone to get into the Word and to NOT believe anything just because I said it. (I would say the same today!) I had no problem with any criticism of my preaching as long as it was sincere. (There were people who would deliberately find something to nitpick about every week. I'm not talking about their constant criticisms, which got old in a hurry.) If you disagree with something I say because you think that the Word proves me wrong, I'll respect you for that. At least you made the effort to look things up, even if there might be some other verses you haven't looked up yet that might change your mind. If more faith people would stay in the Word, there would be fewer extreme and silly teachings blowing through their churches. Some denominational churches might be boring, but they are seldom weird. But I've seen Spirit-filled nondenominational churches that were just plain weird. I'll say it again to you as the reader – if you can't confirm what I say in the Bible, don't believe me! The Bible is the final authority on all matters of doctrine. I'm not.

Don't believe anything that you can't see for yourself in Scripture!

I'm not going to go out of my way to call attention to it, but I actually have a section in here that totally contradicts something that a well-known faith preacher asserts that Jesus told him IN PERSON. So I am not moved by the fact that someone says that JESUS appeared and said something to him, and neither should you.

On the other hand, the fact that a preacher had a vision of Jesus does NOT mean that his vision contained anything unscriptural! The fact that someone claims something to be a “revelation” doesn’t mean that he’s wrong, as long as you can go to the Bible and confirm it. I have never at this writing had a personal visitation from Jesus. I won’t be unbiblical and ask for one (the people who had such experiences in the New Testament NEVER asked for such an experience), but I wouldn’t object to it. However, I would follow the lead of a famous faith teacher on that when He told Jesus that He would have to show him what He was saying in the Word or he would not believe it, despite the fact that Jesus was standing in front of him!

Objection: Most of the Highly-Regarded Word of Faith Teachers Have Not Been to a Legitimate Seminary

That's probably why they can operate in faith! Much of the material used in seminary classes today saps faith in the Word right out of people. I don't mind telling you that I haven't been to what the objector would consider a legitimate seminary, though my wife and I both graduated from "Bible training centers" that were not seminaries.

Some of the anti-faith-biased reference works described elsewhere in this book are handed to students, who then come out sure that "the Greek" proves that Paul had an eye disease, that we are only spiritually healed by Jesus' stripes, and other absurd notions that the Greek does NOT actually teach. Sadly, many of them will go on to teach students later, and the circle of ignorance will go unbroken.

Having said that, I am not against serious Bible study and getting into the nuances of the Greek and Hebrew. I enjoy it! I know that when you study the original languages, it confirms rather than denies that healing is for all, provided by Christ's atonement.

Some seminarians will not take you seriously if you never went to a seminary yourself. But that is hypocritical, because some (but not all!) seminaries read texts written by people who never studied formally in seminaries either – Peter, Matthew, John, Amos and David for starters! People back then snubbed Peter and John, assuming that "unlearned" fishermen couldn't know anything about spiritual matters. What mattered is that they had been with Jesus. That was more valuable than all the intellectual classes they could ever have taken. Even Paul, after all his highest-regarded formal training, was a staunch opponent of the gospel until HE had been with Jesus! Then he was willing to treat everything he had gained as excrement (Philippians 3:8) compared to what he gained in Christ.

I am not against places that really teach the Word. But when I pastored, I said that I would not even make going to a Bible school of any kind a requirement to be on staff. The people in the Bible did plenty of exploits without that kind of training. However, I wouldn't put someone on staff who didn't know the Bible! At least where I pastored, people were graduating from a certain seminary in that state without knowing the Bible, and what they did "know" was false knowledge ("The Bible condemns a gay person going straight as unnatural," "Paul was just biased against gay people" etc.). Classes in underwater basket weaving would have done them more good than their seminary classes – at least they might still have had some respect for Scripture when they were done. One FORMERLY good "divinity school" now teaches that Jesus never literally rose from the dead! One of their graduates preached a message that I had the misfortune to hear in person about why a loving God would never send anyone to hell. I'll take a passionate Spirit-filled from someone who really knows Jesus but didn't go to seminary over their messages any day!

Now there ARE some seminaries where at least the professors are born again (that helps), but even then, I know that some of those professors are the biggest objectors to divine healing anywhere. They would chalk that up to being more enlightened, while I would attribute it to being less enlightened.

These professors are the source of many of the objections that I answer in this book.

I actually wish that there were more good FAITH-oriented serious study programs out there. Maybe more will be raised up. Education is not evil. It's only when the educators go against the Bible that their institutions do the students more harm than good. "Seminary" in and of itself is not a dirty word. And as I point out elsewhere, I wish that faith people would be much more serious students of the Word. When you start studying the Hebrew and the Greek texts, it REINFORCES what the Bible teaches about divine healing!

Objection: Some Faith Teachers Have Seen the Light and Have Backed Off from Faith Teaching

If we're going to use experience as our guide, we can also observe that some people who didn't use to teach faith went on to teach it boldly.

I know of certain former faith teachers who now claim that they were wrong, and sadly some of them USED to be right and they are wrong now! And before I say any more, it is not my intention to pick on anyone in particular (here or anywhere else in this book), as quite a few people come to mind who fit this category. What often happens is that people preach healing exuberantly, but then they get complaints "thrown in their faces" for years when people challenge them about specific individuals who did not receive their healings. They finally decide that something must be wrong with teaching "healing in the atonement" after all. They suffered from the big-ministry equivalent of Perilous Pastoral Pushback.

But the real test of any teaching is the WORD – never experience! I have tried preaching the new birth to over a hundred thousand people (over time) in a tough part of the country, but a very small minority of them got saved. Should I "back off" from "new birth teaching" because so many stayed in their sins? Does my experience mean that something is wrong with the gospel, so I need to back off? NO! I need to preach the good news as much as ever to anyone who will listen. Lack of results does not mean that teaching is defective. If it did mean that, Jesus' teaching at Nazareth must have been defective! The issue wasn't His teaching but rather the unbelief in His hearers.

So my challenge to any former faith teacher is to produce Scripture to prove to the rest of us that healing is not actually for all today. I don't care what their experience is or even what mine is; that doesn't matter. Let the Word decide. If one such teacher thinks he's found a way to disprove divine healing, check out his disproof in the Objections Overruled section of this book and see whether you think it holds water.

It always saddens me when a teacher changes his doctrine due to experience rather than the Word. Experience is NEVER a good reason to do it. Experience would tell you that no one walks in love ALL the time. Should I back off of "love teaching" because experience shows that it's just too hard to follow?

In closing, I HAVE heard people who have taken things way too far and "gone off the deep end." For example, I know of at least two (living, at this writing) preachers who believe that our bodies should be immortal NOW. People who are into that kind of excess DO need to see the light and back off what they're teaching. But teaching that by FAITH you can receive the healing that Jesus paid for is part of the real gospel, not some excessive add-on to it, so no one should ever back off from it.

Objection: Word of Faith Teachers Don't Really Believe Psalm 91 – They Have Bodyguards

Yes, and they probably lock their cars and houses, too! Do you? Does it mean that YOU don't believe Psalm 91 if you do? Some of these teachers have places in gated communities. I don't consider that unbelief, either. Unfortunately, some preachers get physically attacked by crazy people. Living in a gated community or at least a neighborhood where people watch out for each other helps provide a disincentive for crazy stuff.

I believe Psalm 91, but I lock my cars and house, and I live in the kind of place where some people leave their keys in the ignition at the supermarket and even a police officer I talked to in the area sometimes leaves his doors open (not just unlocked) while he isn't home. Neighbors look out for each other here, which is better than just having security systems that summon people who might take quite a while to get to the incident site to apprehend the thief (if he hasn't been shot yet). But I'm not against security systems, either. They don't prove a disbelief in Psalm 91. They can be another good disincentive for someone with bad intentions.

When I pastored, we had two ex-military people, one of whom was always "packing," and we had one prison guard with a martial arts black belt. They assured me that nothing would happen to me in our sanctuary! That does not mean that I didn't believe Psalm 91. I do think that you can take steps to discourage trouble, though. The church where we are members now (over an hour away in a larger city) now actually has a police detail present at all services to make sure that no foul play goes on, and I have no problem with that. (Insurance companies sometimes INSIST on such arrangements for larger churches.)

Despite my security people's presence, we had an incident where someone was about to burn down our building with all of us in it! He snuck into an entrance while we were all in the sanctuary and tried to ignite a sign that we had inside on a wall. If it had caught, the whole building, which was made of wood and built in the early 1800's, could have gone up in flames very quickly. We were on the top floor. The fire department said that we'd all have died. But there was a problem – the sign just would not catch fire, even though the culprit kept trying and trying to light it until his plastic lighter actually melted! (He was caught, too, and his melted lighter fingered him when we reported it. We even had someone come to our "fireproof" church as a result of hearing how it just wouldn't burn.) So we DO believe Psalm 91. On the other hand, we're not going to make things easy for those with foul plans or put temptation in someone's way.

Objection: Wesley Said, “Whatever Is True Is Not New, and Whatever Is New Is Not True.” Nobody Believed that Healing Was in the Atonement until Recently, So It Is Not True

While John wrote several New Testament books, the John who wrote them was not surnamed Wesley, so Wesley’s statements do not have the force of Scripture, though he was unquestionably a great man of God. In this case, Scripture would seem to contradict him.

Daniel said that in the last days, knowledge would be increased.

Daniel 12:4:

But thou, O Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book, even to the time of the end: many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased.

The WORD itself will not be increased or added to (and woe to the man who tries to write additional Scripture), but we should expect that knowledge of it should increase. If knowledge could not increase, why did Paul pray for the Ephesians to have the spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of God and to be enlightened as to what they already had as an inheritance (Ephesians 1:15-23)? Why would he pray that the Colossians would increase in the knowledge of God (Colossians 1:10)?

Church history would NOT seem to indicate that no one ever believed that healing is in the atonement. For starters, Peter thought it was (1 Peter 2:24). The man who listened to Paul at Lystra received faith to be healed listening to Paul preach (Acts 14:7-10), so Paul must have been preaching divine healing. Both Peter and Paul successfully healed the sick.

There ARE writings throughout history of groups that have preached and practiced divine healing, even if it wasn’t “mainstream” at all times. (T. J. McCrossan’s book Bodily Healing and the Atonement, available free online as it is now in the public domain, cites them; you can look them up there. I’m not a historian and I can’t vouch for the accounts, so I’ll let Mr. McCrossan do the talking on that issue.) There was a time in the dark ages before Martin Luther that being born again wasn’t “mainstream” either! Would we assume that the new birth and justification by faith are not true because they were “new” when Martin Luther discovered them in the Word? No, they were nothing NEW – they had been in the Bible all along. These truths had just been lost to most people, including church people. Thank God, they were restored.

The baptism with the Holy Spirit was largely lost to the Church before 1900 or so, though there were people before that who believed in it. It certainly was not “mainstream” before then (except in the early days of the Church). It is nothing “new” but rather something that the Church had lost through tradition and ignorance. Thank God for its restoration!

Divine healing is not “new” either, but it was not “mainstream” before the mid-20th century and it either is or isn’t today depending on which country you inhabit. It’s not a “new” revelation, but rather one that has been in Scripture all along.

The fact is that there have been groups of people throughout Church history who have believed in and practiced divine healing, plenty of whom preceded Wesley. So we can affirm Wesley on this matter – the new birth, the baptism with the Holy Spirit, and healing in the atonement are not NEW, so Wesley would say that they are true because they aren't NEW doctrines but historically recognized Bible doctrines.

The church is growing in the knowledge of God, and this is TO BE EXPECTED based on Paul's statement of the purpose of the ministry offices (apostle, prophet, evangelist, pastor, teacher). Paul said that they were given so that we would come to the knowledge of the Son of God "unto a perfect man" so that we would not be tossed to and fro by every wind of doctrine (see Ephesians 4:11-16). As God builds us this way, we should expect knowledge to increase. The Word will never change, but knowledge of it will increase, and that is a good thing.

Therefore, we can't assume that just because something is a recent "revelation" that it can't be from God. God continues to answer prayer for increased revelation of His Word and the New Covenant's inheritance in Christ that we have received as believers. It would be a shame if no one ever learned any more insights into the Word until Jesus comes back!

The most important thing is that any new "revelation" have the Word to back it to prove that it is a revelation OF the Word, not a revelation BEYOND the Word. Avoid any revelation that is BEYOND the Word!

Objection: The Only Signs and Wonders Predicted in These Last Days Are the Lying Signs and Miracles of the Antichrist

(This is basically Objection: “Divine” Healings Today are the Prophesied Lying Signs and Wonders of the Antichrist with a slightly different spin stating that no other signs are predicted.)

In THESE last days, the Antichrist can't even reveal himself, along with his lying signs and wonders, because the Church is holding him back! (I understand that some people believe it's the Holy Spirit who is holding him back because of Paul's reference to "he that restrains," but I believe that "he" must be the Church, because if the Holy Spirit were "taken out of the way," no one could be "born of the Spirit" and thus no one could be saved once the Antichrist takes over. Yet there are obviously saints around during the Tribulation period, so people MUST still be able to get saved.)

If you believe that the Antichrist takes power after the rapture of the Church, we cannot be in the age right now where the Antichrist will do lying signs and wonders, so you don't have to worry at all that the things going on at the local healing crusade are Satan's attempt to deceive if possible the very elect! (Satan can do false miracles, and he is on the scene now, but this particular objection is about the Antichrist.)

If you believe that we will not be raptured first but will go through the Tribulation, which is the only time when the Antichrist appears, then if you believe that what is going on at the local healing crusade is the Antichrist's lying signs and wonders, you must believe that the Antichrist has finally been revealed to the world. That's great, who is he? Many Christians have been wondering for years, and they often have been sure that some particular world leader they don't like is the Antichrist.

So I have just proved that REGARDLESS of your stand on whether the church gets raptured before the Tribulation or goes through the Tribulation, saying that something going on today in healing crusades is the Antichrist's lying signs and wonders does not make any sense. It's nothing more than an anti-healing scare tactic to keep people away from meetings where Jesus is manifesting His healing power.

And there's another reason that argument falls apart, for you "post-trib" fans. It is the Antichrist (who has been revealed) who will do the signs and wonders, so unless the healing evangelist who is preaching the crusade is none other than the Antichrist himself, the idea that healing crusade miracles are "of the Antichrist" just doesn't make sense for that reason either.

In case this argument hasn't been beaten into the ground enough already, it isn't true that no REAL signs and wonders await us in the last days. Jesus put no date restrictions on the sick recovering or on doing the works that He did in His name. (I'd include Daniel's statement about those who know their God doing exploits if it weren't for the fact that the word exploits is not found in the original Hebrew; the most that the Hebrew will substantiate is that they will act or do.)

See also:

Objection: Scripture Does Not Foretell a Revival of Sign Gifts in the Churches in the Last Days

Objection: Scripture Does Not Foretell a Revival of Sign Gifts in the Churches in the Last Days

It doesn't have to!

There is a sneaky underlying assumption behind this objection. Its author is a cessationist, meaning that he believes that the gifts in 1 Corinthians 12:8-11 died out, so they are no longer in operation in the church. Thus, for these gifts to ever appear again, there must be a "revival" of these gifts. But Scripture does NOT teach that the manifestations of the Spirit in 1 Corinthians 12:8-11 will ever cease until "that which is perfect" has come (1 Corinthians 13:10), at which time we will know everything fully. Unless the objector wants to claim that he knows everything while the rest of us see through a mirror dimly, he has to admit that such a time has not come. Now the cessationist crowd believes that the "perfect" was the completion of the New Testament canon, but we still don't know everything today, so that can't be so. Thus, the "sign gifts" have been operating since the book of Acts, are still operating today, and will continue to operate until the end of the age. No "revival" of them is necessary – they are still for today! So we should definitely expect "sign gifts" to be in manifestation in the last days.

Another flaw of this objection is that the Bible writers considered themselves to be in the last days already – while the apostles were still doing miracles. If they saw miracles in the last days, we should see miracles in the last days. There is only one set of last days with the same rules – not some "early last days" and "late last days" with different rules.

We could also get into an interesting end-times discussion about Scriptures pointing to the last days, but this particular objector only focused on sign gifts, so I'll leave it at that.

Objection: Jesus Said that Those Who Came after Him and Did Miracles Would Be Unsaved Deceivers (Matthew 7:22-23)

Jesus definitely said that there would be people in this category. However, that doesn't mean that everyone who does miracles in His name after His ascension to heaven is an unsaved deceiver. Positive proof of this is in Mark 16:18, where He made it clear that believers (not unsaved deceivers) would lay hands on the sick and they would recover. Then, after the Lord has spoken to them and was received up into heaven, they went forth and preached everywhere, the Lord working with them and confirming the Word with the accompanying signs (Mark 16:20).

The Bible promises that false teachers will abound in the last days, too, telling people what their itching ears want to hear (2 Timothy 4:3). By the objector's logic, anyone who serves in the ministry office of teacher in this day must be a false one.

Stating that false people will be around isn't logically the same as saying that everyone around is false!

Here is the passage in question cited by the objector, with the two preceding verses that clarify the context:

Matthew 7:20-23:

Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them.

Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven.

Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works?

And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity.

So the point is that there WILL be false prophets and miracle workers – and what, that they will be the only prophets or miracle workers? NO! Quite to the contrary! There will be real ones as well as false ones, and you shall know them by their fruits (not their deeds). You'll be able to tell by the way they live which ones are real and which ones are fake.

If ALL were fake, you would not need to distinguish them by their fruits as Jesus said – you could just distinguish them by the fact that they do miracles in His name (at least allegedly).

The fact that FAKE believers say “Lord, Lord” in this day does not negate the fact that there are REAL believers who call Him Lord, too!

Objection: Faith People Sometimes Say that They're Healed but Just Have Symptoms. What Good Is It to Be Healed If You Have Symptoms?

I would agree that it is useless to be “healed” if you’re going to keep the symptoms. But the objector errs in thinking that the symptoms have to stay. The fig tree that Jesus cursed had “symptoms” of life but it was as good as dead the moment Jesus spoke. It began to wither away, but from the roots, which no one could see. Jesus did not re-curse it when there was no immediate visible result. The next day, it was the disciples, not Jesus, who were surprised that the tree that Jesus had cursed had withered away.

When you believe that you receive your healing when you pray, you are healed as far as you are concerned and healed as far as God is concerned, even if symptoms remain for a while. What good is that? It’s very good when your healing fully manifests and your symptoms are gone, which would never happen if you do what too many Christians do – throw away your healing by going by what you see and assuming that because you still have symptoms, you didn’t really receive your healing.

The serious things I’ve been healed of all continued to manifest symptoms for a short while after I believed that I received my healing, and in a couple of those cases, my symptoms worsened after I prayed and believed that I received my healing. Having done all, I stood, and I’m glad that I did. The conditions left and there were no more symptoms.

The objector in this case generally mocks the idea that you could have symptoms without “having” the sickness and thinks that distinguishing symptoms from sickness is just faith mumbo-jumbo. But if you aren’t willing to “believe that you receive” and stand your ground while symptoms persist, you are in no better a position than the objector to actually receive divine healing.

Satan sometimes tries what I call his “one-two punch.” He’ll try to put an impure thought into your mind about someone of the opposite gender (or maybe even the same gender). If you dwell on it, he wins on the first punch. If you rebuke the thought, casting down his imagination with what is written (for example, “whoremongers and adulterers God will judge” (Hebrews 13:4), his second punch is, “You call yourself a Christian and you just had that thought about Betty Lou! You probably aren’t even saved! If you were saved, thoughts like that would not be coming into your head!” You need to be wise enough to realize that temptation isn’t sin, and having a symptom does not mean that you have “received” the illness from a spiritual perspective. An initial temptation is to sin what an initial symptom is to illness. You have a choice at that point. The devil will taunt you, “If you were really in good health right now, you would not have just noticed that symptom. You’re SICK! Admit it!” But if you rebuke the symptom and stand on God’s Word that you are healed, that illness won’t be able to take root in you, just as if you rebuke an impure thought, it won’t be able to take root in you. When the devil says, “You aren’t really saved – admit it,” I hope that you would let him know that it is written that if you believe that God raised Jesus from the dead and confess Him as Lord, you are saved. When he says, “You aren’t really healed – admit it,” I hope that you would let him know that you are healed by Jesus’ stripes, so sickness has no right to be in you.

I've met Christians who manifest the "symptoms" of being ornery old sinners. Does that mean that someone really is a sinner just because he "lost it" one day when someone whirled into a parking place in front of him that he clearly showed his intention to take by having his blinker on? No, he just had a "symptom" of being unsaved, but that is not the same thing as having "unsalvation" on the inside.

If you want to walk in divine health, you have to resolve to go by the Word and not by outward appearances. Sometimes you will have a symptom on the outside, but on the inside, you do not have "unhealing" just because you have a symptom. You "have" a diseases when you accept it and speak with your mouth that you have it.

The people Jesus ministered to ceased to have symptoms as well as sickness, and so it will be with you if you stick with the Word!

When it comes down to it, the objector assumes that you will not have any relief and that you are just engaged in "faith person doubletalk" by saying that you have symptoms but not sickness. But you can put the objector's criticism to rest by continuing to believe that you did receive your healing when you prayed. The symptoms will leave and there will be nothing left for the objector to mock!

See also:

Is There a Difference between Having a Disease and "Just Having Its Symptoms?"

Objection: Teaching Grace Gives People a License to Sin

You'll see a theme throughout this book that healing is a gift provided by the Lord on a 100% grace basis, not as a reward for good works. In other words, your healing is not predicated on how "good" or "bad" you are, or how much or how little you sin. That sounds like a sweet deal to me, and one worth proclaiming all over the world. However, if you start teaching about the grace of God, it won't be long before someone accuses you of giving people a license to sin.

I've preached for years and pastored for some of those years, and I've never carried licenses to sin in my pocket to hand out at church. People sin without anyone handing them official licenses. In fact, I've only been ASKED for a sin license twice at this writing. Those requests were from couples who wanted to have an "in God's eyes only" marriage ceremony where they would not be legally married. My response to such requests was that I do not hand out fornication licenses – if you want to get married, get REALLY married or forget it. It's two-faced to tell the government one thing and tell God and His Church the opposite. So I don't even give out that kind of license to sin.

The usual objection continues in this vein: "If you teach that people's sins don't affect their righteous standing with God because all their past, present and future sins are forgiven, that means that they can just go out and sin any old way and it doesn't matter. So you are encouraging people to bar-hop and abuse drugs at lewd parties, all the while thinking that they are Christians and that there is no problem with what they're doing because they're pre-forgiven!"

I have never encouraged anyone to sin, and despite the rumor-mongering that goes on, you would be hard-pressed to find a case where a "grace teacher" tells everyone that sin is OK. I've never heard ANY preacher say that sin is OK myself, though I've heard it from deceived Christians who apparently listened to some flakes out there who do teach that. But such people are not in the mainstream today, nor should they be. The devil loves to "stuff words in the mouths" of teachers and tell the world that they said ridiculous things that they never said.

Sin is NOT OK. Sin still sends an invoice for you to pay in this life. Even if God doesn't have a record of it in heaven for all people to know about for all eternity, sin still costs you something in this life. Consider fallen ministers whose ministries are a fraction of what they could be – or were years ago. Even if they've repented and their sins are not on record in heaven, the record of their sins on the earth has brought them a reproach that will never be wiped away in this life. Sin does matter, and you should repent of it and flee from it.

Any "grace teacher" who tells you that you don't need to repent has obviously not read Revelation 3:19 where Jesus commanded born-again believers to repent under our New Covenant of grace. You don't repent to get forgiven (you already are); you repent to get sin out of your life so that it cannot destroy and degrade your life! Sin is no less serious than it ever was; the difference is that New Testament saints, who are under grace, have dominion over sin. Sin has no dominion over them (Romans 6:14).

Consider the modern “grace teaching” error that it is unnecessary to preach against specific sins from the pulpit, lest we make people sin-conscious and preach a mixture of law and grace. The following verse is offered as a proof-text:

Titus 2:11-12:

For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men,
Teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly,
in this present world;

The erroneous teaching takes this passage to mean that if we just preach grace, grace itself will teach people to deny ungodliness and worldly lusts and to live soberly, righteously and godly. Therefore (supposedly), we’ll never need to bring up the matter!

While grace certainly WILL teach these things, saying that we never need to preach denial of worldly lusts or preach godly living is at odds with a truckload of New Testament Scriptures. Paul named a LARGE number of SPECIFIC sins that believers are to avoid, and he was the foremost “grace teacher” ever other than Jesus! Evidently Paul did not think that grace alone would warn people away from these sins if he just taught grace. Paul preached specifically against the sins of lying (Ephesians 4:25), Colossians 3:9, 1 Timothy 3:8, Titus 2:3), stealing (Ephesians 4:28, Titus 2:10), using corrupt words (Ephesians 4:29, Colossians 3:8), bitterness, wrath, anger, clamor and evil speaking (Ephesians 4:31, Colossians 3:8), being menpleasers (Colossians 3:22), pride (Romans 12:3, Romans 12:16, 1 Timothy 6:17), fornication and adultery (Colossians 3:5, 1 Corinthians 6:15, 1 Corinthians 6:18, 1 Corinthians 10:8, 1 Thessalonians 4:6), lasciviousness, uncleanness and greed (Ephesians 4:19, Colossians 3:5, 1 Timothy 3:3, Titus 1:7), loving money (1 Timothy 6:10), backbiting (1 Corinthians 10:10, Galatians 5:15), covetousness (Ephesians 5:3), blasphemy (Colossians 3:8), envy (Romans 13:13), filthiness and foolish talking (Ephesians 5:4, Colossians 3:8), getting drunk on alcohol (Romans 13:13, Ephesians 5:18, 1 Timothy 3:3, 1 Timothy 3:8, Titus 1:7, Titus 2:3), provoking children to wrath (Ephesians 6:4, Colossians 3:21), bitterness against your wife (Colossians 3:19), threatening underlings (Ephesians 6:9), worry (Philippians 4:6), laziness in business (Romans 12:11, 2 Thessalonians 3:10), argumentativeness (Romans 13:13, 2 Timothy 2:24, Titus 3:9), resisting authorities (Romans 13:1-2), cursing others (Romans 12:14), causing others to stumble (Romans 14:1, 1 Corinthians 8:9) and too many other specific sins to warrant listing them all here. (I think I’ve listed enough to make my case emphatically!) If you want to accuse Paul of preaching a mixture of law and grace, you’ll do it without me. If you never preach any of these Scriptures about specific sins, you are not a “full gospel” church even if the sign out front says that you are. Obviously Paul did not simply expect grace alone to teach people right and wrong conduct. He preached explicitly what right and wrong conduct were. You would have to be ignorant of a large proportion of the New Testament to think otherwise.

I've heard the teaching that under grace, only our consciences convict us of specific sins; the Holy Spirit supposedly does not. But who do you think inspired Paul to write all these verses against specific sins? At least indirectly, the Holy Spirit convicts believers of sin as He illuminates to us the Word that He wrote that talks about specific sins! Also, it seems a bit silly to me to think that while God the Father would correct you for specific sins (Hebrews 12:5-13) and Jesus Christ would point out specific sins in the churches in Asia in the book of Revelation, that the "Spirit of Christ" would NOT point out specific sins.

Paul did not even allow grace to teach Timothy how to behave. He wrote to him about how to behave:

1 Timothy 3:14-15:

These things I write to you, though I hope to come to you shortly;
But if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth.

Paul exhorted Titus to affirm constantly to those who heard him to maintain good works:

Titus 3:8:

This is a faithful saying, and these things I want you to affirm constantly, that those who have believed in God should be careful to maintain good words. These things are good and profitable to men.

He certainly did NOT tell Titus, "Just preach grace, and let grace tell people that they should maintain good works."

Not only is my list of sins that Paul wrote about incomplete – I haven't even gotten into the specific sins mentioned by Peter, John, James and the writer of Hebrews!

So pastors who never teach Christian conduct (from both the "do" side and the "don't" side) from the New Testament are not preaching anything resembling the full gospel, to the detriment to the hearers. I think some preachers are afraid of being labeled legalists who preach "a mixture of law and grace," and they're afraid to "preach dos and don'ts" because the New Covenant is about a relationship with Jesus rather than ONLY a list of legal do's and don'ts. I don't advocate standing up and reading the Ten Commandments and the rest of the Law at Christians, but the New Testament has a LOT to say about what to do and what not to do. People need to hear these things! The New Testament speaks of the royal law of love rather than the Ten Commandments, so Christians need to hear what the New Testament has to say about our love walk! The difference from the Old Testament is that we want to please God and be good witnesses; we don't try to earn our salvation through works.

If Peter could exhort people to holy conduct, preachers today should too!

1 Peter 1:15:

But as he which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation;

If you engage in certain sins, the church is instructed to shun you, not encourage you – a point Paul had to make to the Corinthian church, which seemed to be proud that it was so “tolerant” (1 Corinthians 6:11-13).

Some people slanderously accused Paul of preaching that we should sin so that good would come. So accusing a grace preacher of promoting sin is nothing new. Paul taught grace, and yet he wrote in Romans 3:8: “And why not say, ‘Let us do evil that good may come’?—as we are slanderously reported and as some affirm that we say. Their condemnation is just.” Beware lest you also be found to be falsely accusing a grace teacher. Not everyone who preaches grace preaches that sin is OK; I certainly don’t think it’s OK. I preach Romans 6:1-2 and Romans 6:15 on the subject and so should everyone else who takes the Bible seriously.

Galatians 6:7-9 contains a warning to Christians about reaping corruption if they sow to the flesh!

John, who had just declared that the blood of Jesus cleanses us (believers) from all sins, went on to write in 1 John 2:1: “My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not.” So John, who taught grace, did not condone sin either. The rest of 1 John makes that abundantly clear. John was just as against sin as Paul was.

So when you read in a book like this that healing is based on grace and has nothing to do with how much or how little you’ve been sinning, it’s easy for someone to conclude that I’m promoting sin by saying that it doesn’t matter. Actually, when it comes to your family relationship with God, sin doesn’t matter because Jesus took your sins out of the way. (See the discussion, What If You Sin? for more details.) However, that doesn’t mean that sin has no earthly consequences or that sin is now OK. You should want to please God and avoid doing things that displease Him. But you need to know that His love for you and His acceptance of you in the Beloved (Ephesians 1:6) do not depend on how much you’ve been sinning lately. You are not on a works basis with God! Healing is rightfully yours because you are the righteousness of God in Christ, not because you’ve earned it with good behavior.

Sadly, I have seen various people whom God has healed through us go right back into the same worldliness they were in before they showed up for healing. What is sad is that they sometimes get sick again and it is really hard to get them healed the second time around. They needed to go to a good church and get built up in the Word, but in many cases they just found other things to do that they loved more than Jesus and forsook church completely. Even then, God is merciful. I remember a woman who came and got healed of fibromyalgia. The service she got healed was the last service with us she ever went to. She went back to a no-healing church because that’s where her friends still were. Then she got sick and wanted us to come visit her in the hospital. Well, we did, and God healed her. Her operation scheduled for two days later was canceled. That’s God’s mercy! He was more merciful than I would have been, so I’m glad that He’s God and I’m not. On the other hand, some of these people died without setting foot in a church again, or without setting foot anywhere where divine healing was being taught. Too many people are like the nine lepers who never even came back to say thanks to Jesus.

If you think that healing being 100% grace-based gives you the ability to just go sin every which-way and still get healed every time, think again. You won't be built up in your faith at a bar. You won't even grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ taking your bike or your boat out every weekend and skipping church. Healing will still be offered to you on a 100% grace basis – the issue is that you won't be in a position to receive it and hold onto it.

Even under the Law there was a difference between willful, deliberate, premeditated sin and accidental sin. If a foul word slips out of your mouth in traffic, chances are you didn't plan to do that ahead of time. But if you KNOW that God is against lasciviousness and you presumptuously CHOOSE to go to a strip club anyway (maybe thinking that grace will let you get away with that), it is a different story. How can you affirm God's will (healing) in one area of your life and refuse His will in another at the same time? That's going to be hard. So be it not said that the teaching of grace is the same thing as encouraging sin. NOTHING in this book encourages sin, as you may determine for yourself.

Objection: Faith is a Gift from God (Ephesians 2:8), So You Can't Believe unless God Gives You the Faith to Do It

As a general statement, this is true, but not on the individual basis intended by the objector. The objector is trying to prove that all healing is up to God because you can only receive if you're in faith, and faith only comes as a gift from God. According to this illogic, God makes a decision to either give you the faith or not give you the faith to believe for healing in your individual case, and only those to whom He grants that faith can be healed.

Faith IS a gift from God, but you already have it. God has given to every man the measure of faith (Romans 12:3), and that is His gift to us, not something we worked for. However, what you do with that faith is NOT up to God; it is completely up to you.

You already HAVE the measure of faith, so it is senseless to talk about God giving you faith on a request-by-request basis. Your faith is activated when you hear God's Word. It then has a target. Without knowing what God says, you don't know what to believe, which leaves your faith aimless and unproductive. When you hear the Word, you learn what Christ has already done for you (including paying for your sicknesses to be healed) and your faith can now latch onto that.

There is no Biblical basis for asking God for faith or waiting for God to give you faith for a particular situation! You HAVE faith already. Remember, when the disciples asked for more faith, Jesus didn't hand out more faith; He told them to use the faith that they already had (Luke 17:5-6). You do not need God to hand you more faith so that you can believe for a particular healing. You have the faith to believe for that healing. God gave you faith already, and if you've been feeding your faith on the Word, you know God's will on the specific matter of healing, so you can use your faith to receive your healing.

Now consider Jesus' attitude toward His disciples. He got exasperated with them when they didn't use their faith. He'd say things like, "How long do I have to put up with you?" when they didn't cast a demon out after being given the power to do it, or "Where is your faith?" when they feared that they were going to drown in a storm when Jesus had already said, "Let us go over to the other side of the lake," or "Why did you doubt?" when Peter started to sink after he had initially walked on water in faith. If they could only believe if God gave them case-by-case faith, His exasperation would have been unfair, as they would have no way to manufacture their own faith if God didn't give them that special case-by-case faith. So it is obvious that they had faith and that Jesus expected them to use the faith that they already had, not petition God for it or hope to receive a special delivery of faith from heaven for a particular situation. In Peter's case, he had started acting in faith, but then he got his eyes on the natural circumstances and he started to sink. It is obvious from Jesus' remark that Peter DID have the faith to continue his water walk. The issue was that Peter got focused on the wind and the waves (the external circumstances) more than on the word that the Lord gave him. It wasn't a faith shortage; it was a focus problem.

Objection: You Can't Build Up Faith Yourself because It Is a Gift from God

This is similar to the objection, Faith is a Gift from God \(Ephesians 2:8\), So You Can't Believe unless God Gives You the Faith to Do It, so you should read the response to that objection along with this section. This section will just deal with the nuances of this particular objection.

This objection would sit well with lazy Christians who don't want to do anything because they want God to do everything. If this objection were true, you would have no responsibility to build your own faith because it would all be up to God. So I guess you could just go watch televised sports, play violent kill-everything-that-moves video games, or whatever other unspiritual activity you want because it wouldn't make any difference if you study the Word or pray. If God wanted you to have faith, you would.

But this objection can be reworded this way: "When God gives a gift, there's nothing you can do to enhance it because everything is up to God." But this is not borne out by Scripture.

Jesus told of giving different men different amounts of money. That money was given on a gift basis; the men had done nothing to earn it. But He then expected the men to do something with it. He called the servant wicked and lazy who just buried it in the ground and did nothing with it. Faith is a gift, but God expects you do something with it. Namely, use it! The more you use it, the easier it gets to use it in the future. Also, faith for specific things comes from hearing the Word of God, but it is up to YOU whether you attend to the Word or just do carnal stuff all the time.

Even in the natural, God gave me a musical gift. I started playing the piano when I was four, did my first appearance as a symphony orchestra soloist at the age of seven, was the featured soloist at a symphony orchestra concert at twelve, and did my own hour-long piano recitals at the age of sixteen. But I was not able to do those things by sitting on my gift thinking that everything would just happen automatically. I took 12 years of piano lessons during that time, practiced an hour a day, and went up to 3 or 4 hours a day before I did those recitals. The gift was from God, but I had to do a LOT of work to develop the gift that God had given me. It was not all automatic even though God was the source of the gift.

It is like the story of the farmer who had someone remark about what God had done giving him a big harvest in his field. He said, "You should have seen it when God had it all to Himself!" The farmer still had his part to play. God's Word is seed, but it is OUR responsibility to be good ground so that there can be an abundant harvest instead of a trampled, withered or weed-choked crop.

It must be possible to grow a lot in faith because the Thessalonians' faith grew exceedingly (2 Thessalonians 1:3). Paul did not say that of every church. Because God is no respecter of persons (that is, not a favorites-player), if the Thessalonians' faith grew exceedingly, that same "exceedingly growing faith gift" would have to have been given to everyone. Also, Paul didn't say that God just handed the Thessalonians that exceedingly growing faith. He urged Timothy to STUDY to show Himself approved. The Word is God's gift to us, but if you don't study it, you could be a disapproved minister because you'll preach garbage instead of the Word.

Objection: Faith is a Gift from God, Not Something You Work up Yourself

God has given everyone the “measure of faith,” but faith for a particular blessing is possible only when you hear what God’s Word says about that particular blessing. The “measure of faith” is the gift of God. But faith for healing (or any other particular blessing) only comes when you hear God’s Word on the matter. Otherwise your “measure of faith” has nothing to take hold of.

Faith is a gift from God, and Paul states so in Romans 12:3 and Ephesians 2:8-9. But God tells us how faith for something in particular comes in Romans 10:17 – by hearing the Word of God. The faith that comes for a particular blessing could be seen as a gift from God, though it comes from His Word. If you won’t hear His Word, it isn’t God’s fault that you’re stuck in unbelief. It is up to you to hear God’s Word so that faith will come and grow in your life. Don’t just sit around thinking that God is going to drop faith for a certain blessing on you, because that isn’t how it works.

It is correct that you don’t “work up” faith yourself. It is a treadmill of frustration to try to “work up” faith instead of getting it the natural way by hearing what Scripture says. Find out what God says and act on it. If it’s a huge struggle, you’re probably trying to grasp something mentally when you really need a revelation in your spirit about it. Or you’re just not choosing to act on the Word that you already know. The devil wants you to try to “work it up yourself” and get frustrated in the process. On the other hand, he wouldn’t mind if you just sit there waiting for God to drop faith on you, which will leave you frustrated, too. Faith DOES come by hearing the Word, so if you hear the Word, faith WILL rise up in you without you having to “struggle to believe.”

Jesus told a parable about a sower. One lesson from it was that God’s Word is the same but it bears fruit differently according to the ground that it’s planted in. The idea is to be good ground in which the Word can grow and produce a harvest. Jesus warned that if you don’t have ears to hear His Word, even what you have (or think you have) will be taken from you (Mark 4:23-25).

Faith for a particular blessing is not a gift that lands on you out of the sky (even though “the measure of faith” was given to you) without regard to you knowing any Scripture. You didn’t get faith to be saved by having faith fall out of the sky, did you? No, you got faith to be saved when someone shared God’s Word with you concerning salvation. You follow the same pattern to receive healing and other gospel benefits.

So while faith is God’s gift, you do have a part to play in developing it. If you think that’s “working it up,” it IS “working it up” in the sense that you do have to do something. It is not up to God how much faith you walk in – it is up to YOU. If you heed and act on His Word, you will live better than someone else who could be doing the same thing but doesn’t do it.

Objection: To Demand that God Use Supernatural Instead of Natural Means to Heal You Is to Hold God Hostage

The idea here is that you hold God hostage when you refuse to take medicine in order to “force” God to heal you by supernatural means. Supposedly, God may want to use medicine to heal you.

It is a fact that medicine will be the means for most people's healing because they will never take the time to develop their faith in God's Word. That isn't His best, but it does beat staying sick. As pointed out elsewhere in this book, it is not a sin to take medicine.

You can't actually hold God hostage by refusing to take medicine. Either you're in faith or you aren't. If you refuse to take medicine because you think that forces God to heal you supernaturally, you may get free from your disease...when you go home to be with the Lord! I would agree with this objection inasmuch as it is wrong to think that you can hold God hostage. If you aren't in faith, you won't receive healing from God, regardless of whether or not you take your medicine.

However, you are not holding God hostage when you receive your healing from him the Bible way. To hold God hostage would be to force God to do something for you. You do not need to force God to do anything for you as far as healing is concerned. In fact, God is not going to do anything for you as far as healing is concerned! God has already done all that He is going to do about healing your body. He had His Son's body torn up for you so that your body does not need to be torn up by sickness. That's not a promise; that's a fact that nothing can ever change or undo.

If a billionaire just gave you a check for seven million dollars as a gift, would it be necessary to kidnap him and hold him hostage to get that seven million dollars? No. You would just deposit your check. It is the same with healing. God has already given it to you. Just receive it. You don't need to hold God hostage.

From a Bible perspective, it is Satan who is holding people hostage with sickness! Jesus was anointed to heal all who were taken hostage by the devil, or literally under his harsh control (See Notes on Acts 10:38).

Objection: God Wants You to Bring SUPPLICATIONS and REQUESTS to HIM (Philippians 4:6), Not to “Take Authority” Yourself

We can't argue with Scripture, and Philippians 4:6 does command the following:

“Be careful for nothing; but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God.”

So does this mean that everything is a request that we let God adjudicate rather than something we receive by faith?

No, Scripture can't contradict itself. These instructions concern what you should do regarding OTHER people for whom you intercede. If it's YOUR need, Jesus didn't say to take it as a request or supplication to God. He said, “Whatever things you desire, when you pray, believe that you receive them and you shall have them” (Mark 11:24). You can receive anything that YOU need from God yourself. But you cannot receive on behalf of someone else (unless we're talking about a small child in your family; such matters are covered elsewhere). You can PRAY for others, but that is where supplications and requests come in.

If you look at other places where the Greek word translated supplication is used, it is either indefinite whose need is being specified or it is explicitly stated that SOMEONE ELSE's need is the subject of the request. For example:

Romans 10:1: “Brethren, my heart's desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saved.”

2 Corinthians 1:11: “Ye also helping together by prayer for us, that for the gift bestowed upon us by the means of many persons thanks may be given by many on our behalf.”

2 Corinthians 9:14: “And by their prayer for you, which long after you for the exceeding grace of God in you.”

Ephesians 6:18: “Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance and supplication for all saints;”

Philippians 1:4: “Always in every prayer of mine for you all making request with joy,”

Philippians 1:19: “For I know that this shall turn to my salvation through your prayer, and the supply of the Spirit of Jesus Christ,”

1 Timothy 2:1: “I exhort therefore, that, first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men;”

2 Timothy 1:3: “I thank God, whom I serve from my forefathers with pure conscience, that without ceasing I have remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day;”

James 5:16: “Confess your faults to one another, and pray for one another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much.”

I think you can see a pattern in these verses. The prayers are for other people. You cannot receive for them and you cannot control or override their free wills. You can make requests to God on their behalf, and that appears to be the gist of Philippians 4:6.

The word for requests is only used two other places to mean required and petitions, so we don't have as much insight about that word's shades of meaning. In Luke 23:24, “And Pilate gave sentence that it should be as they required” doesn't sound much like a “humble” take-it-or-leave-it petition, and in 1 John 5:15, “And we know that if he hear us, whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions that we desired of him” refers to praying a prayer in definite faith, knowing God's will in advance, which is the opposite of what the objector is saying that we should do.

So if you study this out, you can see that the objection falls flat on its face. There are plenty of Scriptures about having and using authority, so there is no way that this particular verse could negate the “authority” verses and cause Scripture to contradict itself.

Objection: God Is Not a Vending Machine

Seriously now, when is the last time you actually read a statement by a faith teacher that said that God is a vending machine and that you should use Him as such? I have yet to see in print anything like the following: “God is a vending machine. Just put in your healing formulas and get healing out.” Of course God is not a vending machine. But He is bound by His covenant with you. If you believe that you receive your already-paid-for healing, God would have to break His covenant to not allow that healing to manifest in your body. That is because God bases His dealings with man on His covenant. It is not because He is a vending machine. A vending machine could break or just eat your money without giving you anything or keep spitting bills back out at you without accepting them, but God can NEVER fail, making Him far BETTER than a vending machine!

The only reason people why make this objection is that they do not understand that healing is a covenant right. They think that you are demanding something from God when you pray to receive healing. Nothing could be further from the truth. You are not demanding anything. You are receiving something. You demand something that is not yet offered to you. You receive something that is already offered to you. Jesus made healing available to you by bearing your sicknesses in His body. There is no need for you to bear something that He bore for you. He suffered sickness so that you do not have to suffer sickness.

Some object that a vending machine lets you live any old way, so we should not think that God will just “vend” what you want regardless of your walk with Him. But as you will see elsewhere in this book, unless you are in some kind of serious, willful, unrepentant disobedience, God will not bar you from accessing the blessings that He already granted you in Christ. These blessings are based on grace, not works, a fact understood by relatively few Christian churches at this writing. If God only gave us what our works strictly deserve, we’d all be in hell and there would be no such thing as grace.

God is far better than a vending machine for another reason. A vending machine does not care whether you get a candy bar or not. It just gives you one if you pay for it and hit the right button. God, on the other hand, wants to see you get your healing. He gave you His Spirit so that you could know the things that He freely gave you (1 Corinthians 2:12). God does not want you to be in the dark about any of your covenant rights. He is actively involved in trying to help you understand His way of receiving healing by faith. He wants you to prosper and be in health (3 John 2).

There is another important difference between God and a vending machine. With a vending machine, you have to put in some of the money you worked for before you get anything out. With God, you are receiving something for free that Jesus worked for so that you could have it. So the Bible example of a God-style vending machine would be one where the price of all items (to you, at least) is zero – just select what you want and get it! Your faith does not have to put any money in – faith just presses the buttons to get what God already offers for free.

See also:

Objection: Faith Teaching Reduces a Personal God to a Set of Formulas

Objection: Faith Teaching Reduces a Personal God to a Set of Formulas

Another way to word this would be, “Faith teaching purports that God has established certain spiritual laws and is obligated to abide by them.” Ironically, I would not be surprised to see some such objectors go out on the street and hand out salvation tracts that state that there are 4 spiritual laws, the following of which will get you to heaven! The Bible DOES lay out a number of spiritual laws such as the law of sowing and reaping, the law of sin and death, the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus, and so on.

If governments make laws, have we reduced the people who made them to a set of laws? No, there are lawgivers and then there are the laws they give. We would all agree in the natural that even the lawgivers must abide by their own laws, although they are not the laws.

Likewise, God has established principles that work. Many healing objectors have the notion, “He makes them; He can break them!” With natural laws, this is true – miracles are by definition actions contrary to normal natural laws. However, when it comes to His Word, God has exalted His Word above His name (Psalm 138:2) and forever settled it in heaven (Psalm 119:89). God cannot break His own Word by acting contrary to it. The fact that He is sovereign does not mean that He is an outlaw.

Wouldn't it be awful if God decided that the law of lift will work on a case-by-case basis? If it did, some airplanes could fall out of the sky and others would make it to their destination. Who would want to fly if he wasn't SURE that the law of lift would apply 100% of the time? In the spirit realm, God has established laws that we can count on even more. A natural law can be superseded by a miracle, but a spiritual law is absolute. When God says something, we can take it to the bank (even if we have to fly there).

The supposition that God can break His own SPIRITUAL laws in His sovereignty is a horribly dangerous error made by healing objectors. If you follow that path, you won't be able to trust anything that God put in His Word – after all, He might sovereignly supersede it! So when He says that He “heals all your diseases” (Psalm 103:3), that's taken by the objector to mean, “unless He has a sovereign reason to do otherwise.” This reduces all of God's activity to His caprice, so there is no reason to believe that you will be saved just because you believe that God raised Jesus from the dead and you call Him Lord with your mouth. God might break His Word in His sovereignty and send you to hell anyway. No one will ever be able to pray the prayer of faith for anything because no one can know if God will keep His Word or make an exception to it. Sadly, there are churches that have believed for years that healing is in the atonement that have now officially started to backpedal on that issue – for the very reason that they were duped into thinking that God can make exceptions in His sovereignty!

Walking on God's Word is more sure than walking on granite. If God does not keep His Word at ALL times, He is a liar and He is just as unfit to rule the universe as Satan. The fact that God always keeps His Word does not reduce Him to a set of principles, but it means that the principles in His Word are inviolate and that you can act on them and get His promised results 100% of the time.

Faith preachers are often accused of being occultic and New Age-y because they supposedly just want to work formulas rather than relate to God personally. For example, if we command sickness to leave in the name of Jesus without praying about it, they think that we have just operated a formula and left God out of it, failing to realize that we believe that Jesus backs His name when we use it, as He said that He would. It is not the formula doing the healing but rather Jesus Himself. He goes to work after we do our part, which is to take authority in His name. So we're not leaving Him out of anything. If you take the equally valid route of believing that you receive your healing when you pray, you can't have left God out of it because you can't pray to a formula any more than you could pray to the law of gravity.

The truth is that God is a personal God who has established principles (you can even use the word formulas instead if you like). For example, you can think about the Word a lot and prosper in everything you do and have good success, or you can veg out in front of your television all evening and not prosper in anything you do. God established the principles, but a wise person will live on the good side of His principles.

I would sooner believe that God runs the universe by certain laws that He has shown us than to believe that He has no absolute laws and so that you can never be sure of what He will do. When you realize that you can ALWAYS trust God to keep His Word, you gain MORE respect for Him, not less.

Objection: You Have No More Right to Demand Healing Now than to Demand Your Resurrection Body Now

It should be obvious that the final redemption of our bodies will not be ours until we get our new immortal bodies that cannot get sick or die. So we don't have the right to demand NOW something that God's Word makes clear is in the future.

The objector makes a false assumption that some of us "demand" healing from God. I don't demand healing from God. I receive healing from God because He has already provided it. The wording of the objection implies that healing is a demand that God do something, which in itself shows that the objector doesn't even understand what he is objecting to. God already DID something and we just take what He has already offered and say "Thank You, Father!" The objector obviously assumes that nothing in Jesus' atonement bought healing for us in this lifetime and that God would have to do something NEW to provide healing for you.

The day is coming when we will have immortal bodies, but God promises to infuse His life into our mortal bodies in this life (Romans 8:11). That is clearly a promise for this earthly life, not the one to come. In fact, all the healing Scriptures are for THIS life, because you won't need any healing Scriptures in heaven! The objector assumes that healing and your new body will be yours simultaneously, but this should make you wonder why God's many healing promises are in our Bibles. We won't need them later – they're all for now! God's declaration that He is The Lord Who Heals You (The Lord Your Physician) is meant for our current lives. We don't have to "demand" that God be to us who He already is – we just have to believe what He says about Himself.

If healing were not available in this lifetime, and healing isn't necessary in our eternal future, one would wonder why ANY healing Scriptures would be in our Bibles today, as none of them would be necessary.

Reading the rest of the articles in this book should convince you that you have every right to healing in this life.

Objection: You Lost All Your “Rights” the Day You Accepted Christ

The objector confuses the fact that your life is the rightful property of Jesus with the promises and statements that God has made to believers.

You do not have the right to run your own life.

You do have the right to walk in victory over sin.

You do not have the right to just go sin in any way that your flesh feels like doing.

You do have the right to go to heaven and receive a glorified immortal body in the future.

You do not have the right to decide whether or not you are called to the ministry.

You do have the right to tread on snakes, scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy.

You do not have the right to do whatever your feel like doing with your money and possessions.

You do have the right to lay hands on the sick and see them recover.

You do not have the right to disobey any of Jesus’ commands.

You do have the right to move mountains by speaking to them.

You definitely have the right to believe that every promise God has ever made is Yes and Amen in Christ by you. The fact that you cannot direct your own life anymore does not negate the fact that the New Covenant gives you a LOT of rights. See Who You Are and What You Have for a list of them!

Objection: Some People Have Been “Healed” in Crusades of Illnesses that Were Purely Psychosomatic Anyway

Agreed! So rejoice with the person who got healed instead of being a pickle-puss about it! Who cares what the cause is? If the person is healed through Jesus Christ, thank God for it. Jesus is the Healer of the total person, not just the body.

Of course, the point of this objection is that the people in question could have been healed without Jesus Christ if they simply made some mental adjustments. Therefore, they could have just as easily been healed through therapy. To some extent, this is correct, although that would not justify going to an antichrist group for healing. Some diseases are unmistakably linked to mental problems, and perhaps a psychologist would have helped them get rid of it. But in the service, it was Jesus, not a mental doctor, who set them free, so He should get the glory for it. Jesus and His anointing can do more for you in five seconds than a well-trained doctor might be able to do in five years, and Jesus won't charge you a huge fee for doing it!

Medical science seems to think that the link between the mind and the body is some great modern discovery. It's actually old news. The Bible contains many statements along these lines. (For example, the fact that a merry heart does good like a medicine, but a broken spirit dries up the bones – Proverbs 17:22.) Some people literally get sick because of their bitterness and unforgiveness. Once they repent of these sins (yes, they're sins, regardless of what others did to poor little them), they can be healed.

The real bottom line of the objector is that the healings are not “real” and can be duplicated without Jesus Christ. This may or may not be true in some cases, but try explaining people getting raised from the dead. You aren't going to “psych” a dead person back to life, are you? Too many healings can be explained as nothing other than a miracle performed by the resurrected Christ through his Church. The cases recorded in Scripture are like that. Even if a doctor might have helped some of them, Jesus did not use psychology or natural medical knowledge to help people – He used the anointing that He had from God! How many psychologists are prepared to cast out a demon? Yet if they don't, they will never solve a demonized person's problem. The people in Jesus' day surely sought medical help, too. If they had been cured by other means, they would not have needed Jesus to heal them.

At any rate, we preachers do not use psychology to bring healing to people, even if their ailments may be caused or prolonged by mental issues such as a desire for sympathy or attention, which happens more than people might think. God did not send a psychologist to heal them – He sent His Word! Likewise, we preach the Word, not modern psychology.

By the way, I am not dismissing the fact that some people COULD benefit from psychological counseling or saying that all psychological counselors are of the devil. However, a lot of modern psychology IS godless – you even have godless “doctors” suggesting gender-change operations. I am just saying that people could benefit a lot MORE by having an encounter with the healing Jesus of the Bible. A nonbeliever could benefit health-wise by going to a secular smoking-cessation group. However, Jesus can and has set people free from tobacco habits instantly without the use of a secular group. Some people who practice the sin of alcoholism might benefit from an accountability group (as long as they don't believe certain Alcoholics Anonymous lies). But they could also get set free instantly by the Lord Jesus Christ, which is far better.

Objection: “Faith Healing” Is Simply Mind over Matter. Unbelievers Can and Do Get Healed Just by Having a Positive Mental Attitude, and It Has Nothing to Do with Jesus.

This is a half-truth. It is true that some unbelievers can and do get healed just by having a positive mental attitude, and it does in fact have nothing to do with Jesus. Given that having a negative mental attitude can make you sick (a fact attested to by Scripture), it should come as no surprise that a positive attitude can make you well – sometimes. However, the doctrine of divine healing has nothing to do with a mere positive attitude. You should have a positive attitude toward your healing, but there is more to it than that. Divine healing is not received with your mind or with your attitude. You receive it with your spirit. Recall that 1 Thessalonians 5:23 says that you consist of a spirit, a soul and a body. You can do mental things to promote healing in your body just as you can do physical things (changing your diet, for example). These things are good, but they are not what “faith healing,” if you want to use that term, is about.

People get the mistaken idea that you just have to believe hard enough that you are healed and you will be healed. Trying to believe something with no basis for it is frustrating. As a Christian, you are called to put your faith in God and in His Word. You count Him faithful, as Abraham did. You are not trying to “psych” yourself into thinking that you are healed when you are actually sick. You are putting a spiritual practice into operation that overrides natural conditions like sickness.

You are commanded to renew your mind with the Word (Romans 12:2). But this is not brainwashing, mind-control, or “mind over matter.” You are simply casting out thoughts that do not line up with the Bible and replacing them with ones that do. Then your mind will side with your born-again spirit instead of against your spirit when you pray in faith.

The fact that some unbeliever got healed using only mental methods does not mean that divine healing is mental. It is not. Furthermore, having a positive attitude will not necessarily stop you from dying of a fatal disease, but believing God will! If you’re so smart and you’ve got it figured out that this is mind over matter, let’s see you go get some cripples healed using mind over matter. We’ll use the gospel instead, and we’ll see who gets more people healed.

Objection: Medical Studies Have Proven that Faith Healing Works by the Placebo Effect

This objection, based on some actual studies, is interesting because the studies don't deny that faith healing works. In fact, they affirm that it DOES work, which at least is a nice change of pace! The problem is that they attribute the result to godless causes and take Jesus out of the picture.

I remember the first time when someone came to me with this "placebo" argument. My response was that if faith healing actually works, by WHATEVER method, why don't YOU get rich and popular by going around providing relief for sufferers around the world using the placebo effect? After all, some people who are healed by faith are healed of conditions that are not treatable by traditional medicine. What a revelation – go around and hand out placebos! They ought to be a lot cheaper than the real drugs being used to treat conditions. Or you could just make an even bigger markup than the pharmaceutical companies make by selling sugar pills at outrageous prices. You probably wouldn't even have to warn, "Don't take Placebex if you're allergic to Placebex" or hire a professional motor-mouth to rattle off potential dire side effects of Placebex in as few seconds as possible during your ads.

I am aware that there IS such a thing as the placebo effect, as documented in medical journals. Some people have recovered from conditions after being given sugar pills that they were told were a new treatment for their illness. However, that doesn't mean that what goes on in healing meetings works on the same principle.

I have seen deformed body parts suddenly become normal after ministry in the name of Jesus. No one has ever come up with a placebo that has that effect! If anyone did, he would doubtless win a Nobel Prize and be one of the richest men on the planet. Consider the types of conditions Jesus encountered – blindness, deafness, insanity, untreatable hemorrhaging, having a withered hand, and so on. Do you know of any placebo that can INSTANTLY fix these conditions? No! It's ridiculous to ascribe such miracles to the placebo effect. Besides, you couldn't give the dead people who were raised in the New Testament placebos to bring them back!

Beware of any "science" that thinks it disproves the Bible! That's not an original warning; Paul beat me to it (1 Timothy 6:20-21). Bad "science" that supposedly disproves Scripture is probably the major reason that more people turn from Christ in college than anywhere else. They are fed nonsense about "proof" that we evolved from apes, despite the fact that there isn't a shred of evidence that one species can ever evolve into another, to say nothing of how ludicrous it is to think that an ape without an eternal spirit can suddenly turn into a morally accountable man who will spend eternity on a new earth or in the lake of fire. So beware of any so-called expert who thinks that he can explain away the Bible. It's the FOOL who says in his heart that there is no God (Psalm 14:1, Psalm 53:1).

Objection: Faith Is Simply Trust in God, Not a Force that You Use to Change Things Yourself

The many people who object along this line would have us believe that faith is trusting and loving God and accepting whatever happens cheerfully. They tell us that you cannot use faith to change physical circumstances yourself and that you must simply trust God to change things for you. Then they tell us how egotistical it is to try to take control over things ourselves.

This sounds spiritual and even consecrated, but it's hogwash. Jesus plainly taught that your faith can change physical circumstances, and that it's up to you to use it, not God.

Matthew 21:18-22, Mark 11:23-24 and Luke 17:5-6 are clear teachings that you can speak to a mountain or a tree (a physical thing) and it must obey you. Jesus did not teach that you should simply trust and love God and accept a mountain. He did not say that you must trust God to move a mountain for you. There is no mention here of God doing anything for you other than giving you the faith to move the mountain. You must speak to the mountain. You must speak to the tree. God does not do it for you. The mountain or the tree won't move until you move it with faith-filled words out of your mouth.

You can complain to God about the mountain and nothing will happen. You can accept the mountain's presence and think that you're being humble. You can love God with all your heart and mind and still stay defeated. You can ask God to do something about your circumstances, but He's already told you what to do about them. They will not change until you speak to them yourself. Scripture tells us that death and life are in the power of the tongue (Proverbs 18:21). We know that this is true, because with your mouth you make confession unto salvation (Romans 10:9-10). If you do not do this, you are damned. It is up to you, not God, to confess Jesus as Lord with your mouth and believe in your heart that God raised Him from the dead. Until you do this, you are not saved, no matter how good your works or intentions are. God does not save you apart from the confession of your mouth. He will not confess Jesus as your Lord for you. You must speak God's Word if you want something to change.

When Peter walked on water and then started to sink, the Lord talked about the smallness of his faith. Peter's faith allowed him to walk on water as Jesus did. Peter's faith (in Jesus' command to come) was responsible for this miracle, but Peter's doubt caused him to start sinking. If it had all been up to God, Peter would have walked the whole way to Jesus without sinking.

Jesus rebuked His disciples for their unbelief when they could not cast out a devil in Matthew 17:14-21 and Mark 9:17-29. Jesus had explicitly given them power and authority to cast out all devils (not just "little" ones) before this incident occurred. They had the power. They just didn't use it properly because of their unbelief. The Lord expected them to do it with their faith. He told them what they could do if they had faith the size of a mustard seed.

Note in particular that the father of the demonized boy asked Jesus to help if He could do anything. Jesus immediately put the responsibility on the man and said that all things were possible to him if he could believe (Mark 9:23). The same is true for you.

In multiple cases, Jesus told a sick person that his or her faith had made him well. (See According to YOUR FAITH Be It Done unto You for a complete list of such cases.) He did not attribute these healings to His own faith, but to the faith of the people who came. Thus, the responsibility for receiving the healing was on the person, not on Jesus Himself.

James stated very bluntly that if you waver and are double-minded, you must not think that you will receive anything from the Lord (James 1:5-8). He said that you must ask in faith. That is your responsibility. You have God's Word, by which faith comes, and it is your responsibility to read it, believe it, and act on it. There is a world of difference between acting in faith and just resigning yourself to whatever happens and believing that it's God will and "trusting" Him with the result. This is not real trust at all, as religious as this may sound, because if you trusted God, you would trust His words in the Scriptures listed above. If you don't trust Jesus' words, you do not really trust Jesus. If you do not trust God's words, you do not really trust God.

God has given you the privilege of speaking His Word to circumstances. In case it seems egotistical to think that you and not God are the one changing things, you should realize that there is a partnership involved. It's your mouth, but it's God's Word. There is nothing puffed up about using God's Word to move mountains. You have the easy part – speaking. God's Word has the inherent power to take care of the mountain for you once you speak it. When you bring God's Word onto the scene, you bring God Himself on the scene. To this extent, it is God doing the work, so God gets the glory, not you.

I once lifted hundreds of pounds of music equipment at once at a church's loading dock. It was easy. I pressed the UP button and the lift lifted it up. If I had not pressed the UP button, the equipment would have stayed where it was. I had to do something. But you are probably not glorifying me for my strength. I don't expect any offers to star in a constant-violence-and-gore movie because of this feat. The lift did the work; I just had to press the button. This is a good analogy of the partnership involved between you and God when you speak His Word. The Word does the work, but it can't do anything until it comes out of your mouth. No one should think that you're a big shot because you just had the good sense to put something to work that is far more powerful than you are by yourself. God gets the glory, but there's nothing to get glory over until you press the button by speaking God's Word to your situation.

Objection: Faith Must Be IN GOD (Mark 11:22), So It Is Not Something You Can Use Yourself to Change Things

Jesus taught that you can use faith by speaking to something without praying to God about it. If God already stated something in His Word, you can put your faith in that. You act on His general Word without needing a specific word. To act in faith in God's Word is to have faith in God. What would you put faith in if NOT His Word? Your faith is in Him that He cannot lie and that He did not lie when He stated something in the Bible. Therefore, you can act on it with the assurance that God will back His Word.

This does not mean that you have absolute "carte blanche" to speak to anything beyond or contrary to God's Word. For example, you cannot speak in faith that you will end up with your neighbor's wife or house or car. It has to be assumed that what you are believing and speaking is in line with God's covenant. Otherwise you have no business doing it and you are no different from occult practitioners who try to access the supernatural without God as He reveals Himself in the Bible.

Once you have established that what you are speaking is in line with your inheritance in Christ, you have every right to speak to anything contrary to that inheritance and "move" it out of the way without asking God for special permission to do it. You do not need special permission for anything where God has given you general permission. For example, you don't need to ask God if it's OK to speak to cancer in someone's body and command it to die in the name of Jesus. You already have that authority. You don't have to ask God if it's OK if you share the plan of salvation with a sinner. You already have the "green light" for that in the Great Commission.

When Jesus spoke about speaking to mountains and trees (see Speaking to Mountains, Trees and Diseases for a list of these Scriptures), in none of the five "mountain and tree" Scriptures did He say that you would pray to God about the mountain or the tree. Jesus did not say that God would use His authority over that mountain or tree in response to your prayer. You are the one who uses authority. (Man has been given authority on the earth – Psalms 115:16). In fact, nothing about God's involvement is mentioned other than your use of faith (the measure of God's faith that He gave you). There is nothing at all about prayer or asking God to do something in any of the "mountain" and "tree" verses! (In the case of Mark 11:24, a "prayer" verse follows, but that verse is not about speaking to things as Mark 11:23 was.)

It is critical to notice that Jesus did not say that the mountain or tree would obey God after you prayed. In these verses, you DIDN'T pray; you spoke to the mountain or tree and it obeyed YOU, not God!

I realize that a lot of people have a hard time with what Jesus taught repeatedly on this subject. But His words are in red and those people's words aren't! If Jesus said that you can speak directly to things and they will obey you, you should believe Him! If speaking was God's way of getting something done when it came to all creation (Hebrews 11:3), and we are His children who are supposed to imitate Him (Ephesians 5:1), we should be speaking, too! That doesn't mean that you'll create a new universe, but your words DO frame your personal world – what you believe and say that you will have is what you will have!

This is one demonstration of how man was created in the image of God. God speaks and things happen. You have the ability to speak and have things happen as well. No animal has this right. This right could not possibly have evolved. (Your spirit – the real you – could not have evolved from physical atoms anyway; that whole evolution theory is just an example of idle babblings that are falsely called knowledge in 1 Timothy 6:20-21.) God created you in a higher class than animals. Now, I realize that Rover might bark his head off and you might capitulate by pouring him a big bowl of dog food to get him to shut up, so maybe Rover can use his mouth to get something out of YOU. However, Rover cannot bark and cause food to “be.” You, on the other hand, could speak and cause healing (or sickness, depending on what you're speaking!) to “be.” We are the only living things on the earth who resemble God because we are the only ones with spirits who have authority to speak and have things happen.

Jesus and the apostles did not “pray for” the sick in the modern sense. They did not petition God to heal the sick, as almost all Christians today seem to do, with the inevitable lack of results. Instead, they used their authority to heal the sick. This does not mean that God is not involved in the process. He is the one who gives that authority, and He is the one who hastens His Word to perform it (Jeremiah 1:12). However, when God gives you authority, it means that the responsibility is now on YOU to exercise that authority because God is not going to exercise your authority for you. If you don't use your authority in certain areas, nothing will change until you do.

This objection is mostly the same as “Faith Is Simply Trust in God, Not a Force that You Use to Change Things Yourself,” so there isn't a need to do a separate write-up for the same objection when it is worded that way. However, the direct invocation of Mark 11:22 necessitates a specific reply. When you speak and command things to happen in accordance with your covenant, you ARE exercising faith in God. Also, objectors like to light into Spirit-filled people who claim that Mark 11:22 really means “Have the God-kind of faith,” in some cases citing the Greek. While the Greek literally does say, “Have faith of God,” there are good grounds for the traditional “Have faith in God” interpretation. (See What Mark 11:22 Really Means for more on this sometimes controversial topic.) So the fact that I don't teach that Mark 11:22 really means “Have God's faith” as English speakers would use the phrase means those objectors have nothing to complain about regarding what I'm teaching, at least. Other faith teachers will have to defend their own different interpretations.

Where people miss it is that they think that every move you make needs specific permission from God. God has given us very broad authority and latitude – a lot more than the vast majority of Christians realize. You don't have to ask God whether you should have peas or corn with supper tonight. (When I was a baby Christian, I actually did that, wanting Jesus to be Lord of EVERYTHING, but I had to learn that He gives us quite a bit of room to make our own decisions.) As I point out elsewhere in this book, He'll even let YOU decide whom you want to marry or even IF you want to get married! That's much bigger than a peas-or-corn decision!

Even when you move mountains (or cancer or other diseases), it is still God's power backing up your authority that God gave you. When you believe God's Word that He gave you that authority to act in the name of Jesus, you ARE exercising faith in God! To believe God's Word is to believe God. When Abraham believed God's words, Scripture says that He believed God:

Romans 4:3:

For what saith the scripture? Abraham believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness.

Galatians 3:6

James 2:23

When the people of Nineveh believed God's words that were spoken through the prophet Jonah, the Bible says that they believed God:

Jonah 3:5:

So the people of Nineveh believed God, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them even to the least of them.

So faith in God's Word IS faith in God Himself! And when you speak in accordance with God's Word in faith, you WILL change things! His angels hearken unto the voice of His Word (Psalm 103:20).

Objection: Mark 11:23 Is Just an Expansion of Mark 11:22 and Trusting IN GOD

The objector is upset about “word of faith” teaching that we can “use our faith” as oppose to “trust in God,” so he explains that when Jesus talked of speaking to a mountain, it was not your “force of faith” that would move the mountain independently of God, but rather God who would move the mountain in response to your faith. Thus, you must have faith in God rather than faith in your faith.

And I actually agree completely with the above reasoning!

The objector does not agree with “word of faith” teaching that Mark 11:22 actually means “Have the God-kind of faith,” which doesn’t really imply any faith “in God.” I discuss this issue extensively in the long article What Mark 11:22 Really Means. My conclusion is that although the Greek literally says “Have faith of God,” the best translation still is the traditional “Have faith in God.” So I am actually on the objector’s side as opposed to what SOME (but definitely not ALL) “word of faith” preachers say about Mark 11:22, and the main objection would really be directed at someone other than me.

In Scripture, blind men were not healed until they encountered Jesus, who told them that their faith had made them well. But their faith in what? Just their faith that it would happen? If that were the case, they would already have been healed by their faith – they wouldn’t have needed Jesus! But the context is that Jesus asked, “Do you believe that I am able to do this?” Their faith was in Jesus’ ability, not in their ability to see themselves well independently of Jesus. So this still lines up with the “have faith IN GOD” reasoning – you are still trusting God, not your faith’s ability to make something happen. Rather, you believe that God keeps His Word and will do exactly what He said.

So a note to objectors to divine healing – the mere fact that a preacher may preach some doctrine that you identify as “word of faith” teaching does not necessarily mean that he preaches everything else you’ve heard a “word of faith” preacher say.

Objection: Faith Literally Means Belief or Trust; It Does Not “Do” Anything

Jesus is recorded as telling people that their faith had made them whole. Making someone whole certainly sounds like “doing something” to me!

Certainly, it qualified as belief or trust in who Jesus was (the Anointed One), but the objection in question goes on to say that faith is “passive.” It didn’t seem passive when it made people whole! That sounds like the opposite of passivity to me! Faith does not wait passively for God to decide whether or not He will grant something. Faith TAKES what God offers. That isn’t passive. If you believe that you have to be passive about your healing, you believe that it is all up to God (also covered elsewhere) – and you won’t get healed!

The objector may be concerned that “doing things with faith” is cultic and cuts God out of things, and that matter is handled elsewhere.

Objection: Occult Practitioners Attempt to Confess Things into Existence and Speak to Material Things to Make Them Change

Having been involved in the occult before becoming a Christian, I can vouch for this fact. One book I kept reading emphasized how “the power within” could accomplish these things, and it had “testimonies” from people who had done it. The sad part is that this takes part of what Jesus said and attempts to operate it without Jesus. If I still believed that occult book, I’d still be on my way to the lake of fire.

As a Christian, I do not trust “the power within” unless you’re referring to the Holy Spirit who lives in me! I definitely do not trust myself or the power of my own faith to get things done. I do what Jesus said to do right before He talked about speaking to a mountain – I have faith in God (Mark 11:22)! I believe that God Himself will back my faith-filled words when I speak things according to His known will in His Word.

What occultists do is witchcraft, not Christianity. There is NO OVERLAP between Christian beliefs and occult beliefs. The demonic origin of occult literature became more apparent in retrospect when I reflected on the fact that ALL occult books I had read agreed that Jesus was not the Son of God. Well, what do you expect evil spirits to say when they CANNOT confess that Jesus Christ came in the flesh? They have to paint him as a mere “enlightened” man. The Ouija board told me that Jesus wasn’t real when I asked it. Of course, that’s what the demon moving that pointer wanted me to believe!

Apart from occult practices, some anti-Christian “new thought” and mind science cults sprang up that emphasized speaking to things to change them apart from God. As Christians, we must believe Mark 11:23, but we understand that God is the One backing us, not our own inherent power or deity. We are Bible believers when we do this, not practicing occultists!

The Bible does preach confession (see Say What) and speaking to things to change them, but when we do it, we do it with faith in God, not with faith in our own innate ability. Do you realize that you would not even be a Christian if speaking couldn’t change things? It is with the mouth that confession is made unto salvation (Romans 10:10)! You are justified or condemned by YOUR WORDS (Matthew 12:37)! That’s how important words are. I think some Christians have backed off this essential truth out of fear of playing around with the occult, but the devil is the one who wants you to back off. He knows that you will have what you believe and say whether you think so or not, so he will always try to get you to believe and speak contrary to the Word, thus activating this proven principle against yourself so that you reap the rotten harvest that he wants you to have.

We see this same mistaken pattern in many objections: “If a wrong person does or says x, and x is known to be wrong, and he also does or says y, y must also be wrong.” But if this were true, we would never buy groceries or get our oil changed because occult practitioners buy groceries and get their oil changed too! We have to evaluate every action independently rather than lumping all actions of occultists or all preaching of “word of faith” and “grace” preachers together.

I have a separate write-up demonstrating that Mark 11:23 DOES work for unbelievers, which you may read for further comment on this matter. The fact that it works for everyone is the very reason why you need to “have faith in God” (Mark 11:22) before you start speaking what you believe!

Objection: To Say that You Received Your Healing by Your Faith Glorifies You Instead of God

All right then, does the fact that you received salvation from hell by your faith mean that you get the glory for your salvation instead of God? Do people start shouting “Glory to you!” when you give your testimony? Of course not.

Jesus said that if you abide in Him and His words abide in you, you will ask what you will, and it shall be done unto you. Herein is your Father glorified, that you bear much fruit (John 15:7-8). Jesus called asking and receiving from God fruit-bearing. He said that this glorifies God. If you think that it glorifies you, you’re arguing with Jesus over this point – don’t expect to win that argument!

Then there’s John 14:13: “And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that I will do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son.” When you ask for something to be done in the name of Jesus and He does it, the Father is glorified in the Son. You are not glorified. That is what Jesus said about the matter.

If you dig down, you’ll find out that anyone who makes an objection like this doesn’t really understand healing, or has had the unfortunate experience of meeting a Christian egomaniac. Sure, some people may set bad examples. Don’t let them determine your doctrine. A person making this objection probably believes that faith twists God’s arm to get Him to do something for you that He wasn’t willing to do anyway. That is not the case with healing. Healing has been purchased for you, and God has purchased your body. Your faith does not force God to do anything; your faith simply receives from God something that He already has His hands out offering you!

Jesus told some people that their faith had healed them. Jesus was surely not glorifying the individuals. No one started worshipping the woman who had the issue of blood just because HER FAITH had made her well.

If you receive a Christmas present from your sister, does everyone glorify you because you received it? No. If anything, they might “glorify” your sister for being so generous. No one would glorify you for simply receiving what she gave you. Therefore, there is no reason to think that glory should go to you just because you receive a gift from God. Instead, expect that people will give glory to God for His goodness toward you.

Objection: Saying that Faith Does Things Depersonalizes the Transaction by Leaving God Out

If this objection is true, there were plenty of “depersonalized” incidents in Jesus’ ministry because He said that people’s faith did things! See According to YOUR Faith Be It Done unto You for a list of such occurrences.

There is a legitimate extent to which a faith transaction is “depersonalized” because God does not make an individual ruling in your case to decide whether or not you should be healed. He already provided the healing for you. You can simply receive it. You don’t have to get His permission to receive it; you already have that because of Jesus’ finished work.

However, the healing still comes from Him. People who lay hands on you are only His conduits. We are not New Agers claiming that our innate ability somehow makes these wonderful healings happen. God still gets the credit and the glory because He is the Source of healing. This is true even when you receive the healing yourself without hands being laid on you.

Suppose that I let you stay at my house, and I tell you, “Just tell me what you want to eat and I’ll get it for you, whatever it is.” So you say that you want some cottage cheese, and you believe that I will give it to you because you think I’m honest. So I serve you some cottage cheese. I’m not making a fresh decision about whether or not you can have it when you ask for it; I already established that fact before you asked. There is no decision-making involved on my part when you ask for the cottage cheese. That’s an imperfect analogy, maybe even a cheesy one, but I hope that you see what I mean.

Believing that you receive when you pray in faith doesn’t leave God out at all because He is the one you’re receiving from! If you instead command a sickness to leave, you have to do so in the name of Jesus. When you use Jesus’ name, you certainly haven’t “depersonalized” the transaction by leaving Jesus out!

Objection: In the Lord's Prayer, We Are Supposed to ASK GOD to Deliver Us from Evil, Not "Claim" Deliverance from It

Ready for a shocker? The "Lord's Prayer" is NOT a model prayer for the Church Age!

Jesus' prayer was an example of praying a simple, unpretentious prayer rather than using vain repetitions as the heathen do. Ironically, today's heathen now make a "vain repetition" ritual out of this exact prayer, as well as another anti-biblical prayer that gets prayed much more often than the Lord's Prayer in a common "dead works" ritual.

The Lord's Prayer never includes asking anything from the Father in Jesus' name. That is a Church Age prayer that wasn't available under the Old Covenant. Everyone Jesus taught was still under the Law of Moses at the time. Yet Jesus said we would do that.

Paul has some wonderful prayers in his epistles that are worth praying for ourselves and others regularly, yet these are not included in any way in the Lord's Prayer, nor could they be. When Jesus taught on prayer, there was no inheritance purchased for everyone yet, so no one could pray to understand more fully the riches of the inheritance we have in Christ!

We are commanded to pray for all who are in authority (1 Timothy 2:1-2), but Jesus did not pray for Caesar or any other official in the Lord's Prayer.

We should be praying in tongues as well as with our understanding as New Covenant believers (1 Corinthians 14:15), but there are no tongues in the Lord's Prayer either!

Someday during the tribulation, people are to pray that their flight not be in winter (Matthew 24:20). That prayer won't be found in the Lord's Prayer either.

There was a fad back in the 1980's that all prayer must be based on the Lord's Prayer, but thankfully that fad blew over, as all of them do – at least for a generation or so until a new face will probably start promoting the same "new revelation" to a new generation as if no one had ever heard of it before.

The point is that there is a lot more to New Testament prayer than what is contained in the Lord's Prayer. If you restrict your praying to the Lord's Prayer, you won't pray the way that you should. Besides that, there were elements in the Lord's Prayer that were valid when Jesus demonstrated this prayer to His disciples that would not even be valid after Jesus went to the cross and rose again!

One case is "forgive us our trespasses." That is unnecessary for the believer, who is already forgiven for all his trespasses. (Several Scriptures that prove this that are listed elsewhere; click here for one such list of them.) If you want to apologize to God for something you did, I don't have any problem with that. I do it myself at times, but I don't do it to receive forgiveness, which is something I have already received as a believer.

Another case is “deliver us from evil” (or in some translations, “deliver us from the evil one”). As a New Testament believer, you are already delivered from the evil one and his evil kingdom (Colossians 1:13).

Also, His kingdom HAS come and your daily bread is part of the provision that Christ made for you once and for all. After the resurrection, there is no more sense that we are on the earth praying to a Father in heaven. We are seated in heaven praying to our Father in heaven, or we could also say that we are on the earth praying to our Father who lives in us.

Therefore, it is actually UNBIBLICAL to pray the entire Lord’s Prayer today! Why would you ask God for something that He says you already have under the New Covenant?

Jesus didn’t “miss it” when He prayed this prayer because at the time, no one was delivered from evil (or the Evil One) because Jesus hadn’t spoiled principalities yet and stripped them of their power over us (Colossians 2:15). His disciples had not yet been brought out of the kingdom of darkness into Jesus’ kingdom. That happened to them only after they were born again, which none of them was before Jesus rose from the dead. So this was a fine prayer for the disciples to pray. It just doesn’t reflect your position or your responsibility today. It is now up to YOU to resist the devil so that he will flee. It is not up to you to ask God to deliver you from the devil when YOU are the one who is supposed to run him off. So in light of what James and Peter said (James 4:7, 1 Peter 5:8), a believer today cannot expect to successfully ask God to deliver him from Satan. As far as God is concerned, you’re already delivered, and you now need to enforce your deliverance.

Objection: We Should Use Our Faith for Souls Rather than Selfishly Seeking Our Own Healing

In the general sense, why not do both? Why do one to the exclusion of the other? Wouldn't you be in a better position to evangelize lost souls if you're healed than if you're sick? Wouldn't the lost be more likely to want to know Jesus if they saw Him miraculously heal your body?

In a strictly technical sense, you can't use your faith for souls anyway, even though many people use that phrase. You can only use your faith to meet your own needs. That is why God gave it to you. You can apply Mark 11:24 and believe that you receive your healing. But you cannot believe that you receive someone else's healing for him. You also cannot "believe someone into the kingdom." If we could do that, we would "believe" everyone in and there would be no more sinners. Then the outpouring of the God's wrath in the book of Revelation could not take place and Jesus' words that FEW would find the way of life (Matthew 7:14) would be invalidated.

The Bible pattern is to share the Word of God with others so that they can enjoy the benefits that you enjoy, rather than having you "believe" those benefits onto them.

Your faith cannot cross the line of someone else's free will. Everyone is free to choose life or choose death. God gave the Israelites that choice (Deuteronomy 30:19-20). God will honor your choice to go to hell if you don't want Jesus in your life. You cannot even "claim" a family member using Acts 16:31. (Proof of this is contained in the answer to the question, Can I Believe and Receive a Healing for Someone Else?)

You can believe that God will send laborers to a lost person. You can ask God to open his eyes to the truth. You can believe that the Holy Spirit will convict him that he is in sin because He has disobeyed God's command to receive Jesus, and that he would be eternally lost without Him. But you cannot "receive" the person's salvation by faith. Some people will get saved when laborers are sent and their eyes are opened to know the truth. Some will not. You can believe for things to happen but you cannot "believe and receive" another person's salvation the way you can believe and receive the answers to your own needs.

It isn't selfish to seek healing when God says it is already yours! (Satan uses objections like this to try to imply a sinister motive on the part of the person believing and receiving healing.) It will please God when by faith you receive the healing that Jesus paid for. And if you really understand what faith is, you know that you can't really use it for souls in the sense that you can use it for your own healing.

Besides, you will not "drain" your faith by using it to receive healing. Instead, you will build it and be in a better position to believe that God will send laborers to sinners and convict them.

Objection: You Imply that If Anyone is Sick, He Is in Sin

Sickness came as a result of sin, but the fact that you got the flu does not mean that sin in your life caused it. The fact is, those who teach divine healing responsibly do NOT go around accusing sick people of being in sin. You cannot conclude that just because someone is sick, he “deserves” it because of some sin in his life. Of course, technically he DOES deserve it and he deserves to go to hell, too, based on his own merits outside of Christ. But Jesus’ atonement changed everything. Now we don’t have to get what we deserve for sinning!

I would hope that you would not take anything in this book as proof that if you are sick, it is your fault because of sin in your life. I would further hope that you would not interpret me as saying, “It’s your fault because you lack faith!” Surely you would not tell an unbeliever, “It’s your own fault you’re unsaved! It’s because of sin, you know. It’s your fault for not having faith in Jesus Christ!” Salvation from sin is GOOD NEWS and so is healing. It should be presented that way. The apostles did not get multitudes healed by condemning them for their lack of faith. Instead, they cured the problem by preaching the Word of God by which faith comes, so that faith rose in the hearts of the hearers. That is still the way to do it today.

It is true that God punishes sin with sickness, but as a believer, you are redeemed from that punishment and you can walk free from sickness. Jesus took sin out of the equation for you when HE was punished with sickness for YOUR sins!

However, the devil is a liar who sinned from the beginning, so he does not play fair. He would like to put sickness on you even though it does not justly belong to you. He wants to condemn you and get you to accept sickness as “what you deserve” when the truth is that Jesus bore what you deserve so that you don’t have to bear it!

See the response to the question, If You Are Sick, Does that Mean There is Sin in Your Life? for further comments.

Objection: The Doctrine of Faith Healing Puts the Sick under Condemnation

The premise of this objection is that sick people who would otherwise be content are made to feel guilty about being sick because “if they just had enough faith they’d be healed.”

This would be a valid objection if the sick person could not get healed. Indeed, it would be a cruel insult to tell such a person that something is wrong with him because he is sick if he really can’t do anything about it.

However, God gave us His Word about healing so that the sick could be HEALED, not so that they could get under condemnation about being sick! It is NEVER the will of God for a sick person to feel under condemnation for being sick. It is the will of God for the sick person to be healed!

The gospel is GOOD NEWS. Good news to the sinner isn’t that he’s condemned to hell in his current state. It’s that Jesus has provided the way for him to go to heaven instead. Good news to the sick man isn’t that he is living below his covenant rights unnecessarily. It’s that Jesus has provided the way for him to be free of his sickness.

While Jesus did from time to time express exasperation about the lack of faith he found on the earth, we do not see him condemning sick people for being sick. Some Christians may do so, but they are walking out of love. If Jesus did not criticize the sick, we should not do so either. Jesus was moved with compassion, not condemnation, when He ministered to the sick. That is the model for us.

However, the fact that some Christians share the message in the wrong spirit does not negate the message. Some Christians attempt to “condemn” people into the kingdom, too. The new birth is not invalidated just because some people do not use any wisdom when sharing it. Even Paul said that many preached Christ from impure motives (Philippians 1:15-18), so this problem is not new.

Just as a younger believer might attempt to ARGUE people into the kingdom (I used to do that, without any success), immature believers may share the good news about healing in an argumentative or belligerent manner. The result of this may be that the sick person feels condemned, but that is not because the true “good news” message is flawed.

It should be noted that carnal believers who do not wish to build themselves up in faith always look for excuses for why they should remain in their current condition rather than change. It’s easier. There is no shortage of carnality in the church today. Surely there are many who would rather question God’s provision for healing than exercise faith and receive the promise, which involves effort on their part. Such people are often the ones screaming, “Condemnation!” If they would simply take the time to read the Bible for themselves on the subject of healing, they could get healed instead of angry.

Do you believe the Bible's teaching that sinners who do not receive Jesus go to hell? (You should!) If so, do you think that it would be right to approach a sinner this way: "You know, it's YOUR FAULT that you're on your way to hell! It's YOUR FAULT that you aren't exercising any faith in Jesus Christ to be saved. You should be exercising faith in Him. So if you end up in hell, BLAME YOURSELF, stupid!" Does this wrong approach prove that the underlying message is wrong? No, it just proves that an immature Christian with more zeal than wisdom is doing the "witnessing." It is similar if someone approaches a sick person this way: "You know, it's YOUR FAULT that you're sick! It's YOUR FAULT that you aren't exercising any faith in Jesus Christ to be healed. You should be exercising faith in Him. So if you stay sick, BLAME YOURSELF, stupid!" That is not the message of this book or the message of any reputable healing teacher I have ever seen or read after.

The doctrine of faith healing does not HAVE TO put the sick under condemnation any more than the doctrine of being saved from hell by receiving Jesus HAS TO put the unsaved under condemnation. In both cases, we can present the GOOD NEWS of the solution rather than condemning someone for having a problem. The fact that some might preach the "good news" in an annoying manner does not invalidate the good news itself.

The objector usually wants to hear, "There's nothing I can do – nothing is my fault because everything depends on God. The problem is not at my end." This supposedly eliminates any condemnation or bad feelings. The problem is, this also eliminates any possibility of "good feelings" by receiving healing God's way – by faith. It leaves the obvious conclusion, "The problem is at God's end!" But we cannot go along with that just to soothe someone's hurt feelings. If we do not receive – be it the new birth or divine healing – the issue is ALWAYS on our end, because God has done everything necessary on His end. Failure to see this will result in an unnecessary failure to receive divine healing.

See also:

Objection: Faith Teaching Negates Compassion on the Sufferer; We're Taught Instead to Blame the Person for Not Having Enough Faith

Objection: Faith Teaching Negates Compassion on the Sufferer; We're Taught Instead to Blame the Person for Not Having Enough Faith

I would really like for the objector to produce a book by even an obscure faith teacher that says, "If someone is sick, don't feel bad for him; just tell him that it's his fault because he doesn't have enough faith!" You won't find that advice in my book, any more than I would advise you to tell a sinner, "You're at fault for the fact that you're going to hell because you don't have enough faith!" I've done a lot of street evangelism with original tracts, and my tracts never told sinners that their problem is that they don't have enough faith to go to heaven. I don't tell sick people that they don't have enough faith to be healed, either. Actually, everyone DOES have faith (Romans 12:3); the issue is that some people don't use it. In the case of the tracts, I shared the Word about what Jesus did for everyone so that people could believe. As Paul asked, how can they believe in someone in whom they haven't heard? Many people know the name of Jesus more as a cuss word than anything else because they don't really know what Jesus did for them or even understand their need to be saved from their sins.

Jesus commended people who exercised their faith and were made whole, but He didn't approach people and say, "You'd be healed if you had enough faith!" He didn't condemn the leper for not exercising faith (although the leper wasn't initially in faith because he questioned Jesus' will in the matter); instead He BUILT the leper's faith by saying "I will." The leper then believed Jesus' words and received healing. I am interested in building people's faith, not in tearing people down or belittling them for not exercising faith. The objection makes an unfair leap of logic that if we believe that any failure is on MAN's end (which I do believe and teach in this book), that means that we have no compassion on anyone and have just become faith judges. It is also character defamation against healing evangelists to claim that they "negate" compassion. Many of us have endured significant personal inconvenience to reach lost and sick people who have no possible way of paying us back. It is proof of compassion when you extend yourself to reach the sick. I definitely have compassion for the sick, and that is a large part of why I wrote this book – so that they can learn the truth and be set free from their suffering, whether I ever get any earthly benefit out of it or not.

Jesus was a faith teacher if there ever was one, and He was moved with compassion. He was notable for not condemning people other than self-righteous religious people. We are to express His character to the world and be conformed to His image, so that means that we should teach faith and have compassion on people ourselves.

There is a difference between finger-pointing (which the objector is assuming) and laying responsibility for failure to where it belongs – man. You can teach that compassionately! There have been times in meetings when I have cried profusely when I sensed the Lord's compassion for the sick person on whom I was laying hands. (I find in such cases, and this is just my experience, that the person in question always receives a manifestation of healing; there haven't been any exceptions at this writing. I'm not going to make a doctrine out of it, but that's how the Lord uses me at times.)

Another problem with the objector's logic is that it assumes that lack of faith is the only thing that can hinder healing. In faith circles, I think lack of ACTION on what someone believes is more the culprit as people can often quote healing verses out of their heads. In the case of the unbeliever, I would cite lack of KNOWLEDGE as the primary barrier, not lack of faith, which would come along with a better knowledge of the Word. Hosea said that God's people perish for lack of KNOWLEDGE, not merely for lack of FAITH (though in that case the ignorance was willful – Hosea 4:6).

You can have knowledge and not exercise faith, but you cannot possibly exercise faith in an area where you possess no knowledge. By far the biggest hindrance to seeing people healed in the world today is a lack of knowledge on the subject – that it is God's will to heal ALL and that healing has been provided already and is theirs for the taking.

At times, Jesus did get exasperated with His disciples for not exercising faith as they should have done. He would make statements such as "Where is your faith?" However, such statements were to those in His inner circle. He had higher expectations of them than of the crowds who had not been following Him closely everywhere He went. He did not just go up to blind people and say, "Where is your faith? If you'd used it, you wouldn't still be blind!"

There would be no reason to accuse the masses today of not having enough faith – how can they believe what they've never heard? If someone doesn't know the truth about divine healing, it doesn't make him a bad person or a rebel against the Word. I've found that many people will gladly act on the Word if you can show them clearly what the Word actually says on a subject. My hope is that you will act on the Word yourself when you see what it says.

Objection: The Doctrine of Faith Healing Is Cruel to Parents Who Have Lost Children to Illness

This is similar to saying that the doctrine of salvation from hell is cruel to parents whose children have died without Christ and gone to suffer eternal punishment. The truth is not always comforting, but it beats lies. It beats saying that God kills little children or that God lets sinners go scot-free if they're reasonably good, although either comment may temporarily soothe a grieving person. Ultimately, there is no soothing, because the person ends up with a compromised God whose word can no longer be trusted. Anyone who believes these disgusting falsehoods may open the door for Satan to do more damage. If you are going to cling to the idea that God took your child home for some sovereign reason, you might as well forget trying to believe for healing for the rest of your life. Your prayers will always be tainted with "ifs" because you will never know the will of God. You'll never know if He's going to make another "sovereign exception." Maybe He's going to "take" you or another relative next! Believing that God can fail to keep His Word and that He is to blame for your tragedies will strip you of your faith for anything. If you can't trust God, you can't pray and KNOW that you have received from Him.

Please hear the truth. God did not "take" that child. Sickness, which was NOT sent by God, did. God was not to blame.

Neither I nor any faith preacher I know advocates saying to grieving parents at a funeral, "This wouldn't have happened if you had had enough faith!" Do that and you will give divine healing a bad name. The Bible says to grieve with those who grieve, not preach at those who grieve and make them feel bad. However, it also does not say to water down the gospel to comfort those who grieve. Healing was available, and the child did not need to die.

Let me repeat that as boldly as I can: THE CHILD DID NOT NEED TO DIE. HE COULD HAVE BEEN HEALED. For those who have dared me to make that statement, I just made it! Don't go and preach it in people's faces at funerals, but it is still the truth and you cannot compromise it. See the discussion, Descent into Stupidity for what happens if you go the other way and compromise God's Word to soothe the grieving parents.

I should clarify that I refer to young children in this discussion. When children get older, they need to believe for their own healing, and you cannot believe and receive it for them. When they are young, your faith can receive for them. Jesus exhorted the father of the demonized boy in Mark 9:17-29 to believe, not the boy himself.

You will have to decide for yourself what Jesus meant when He said that you can believe you receive what you ask for when you pray and get it. If this statement's obvious meaning is true, we should all be doing it. If you don't think that we can all do it, you will have to find an alternative explanation for Mark 11:24. If you don't believe that Jesus meant that we could receive from God in faith when we pray, you must tell us what He really meant. The trouble is, I can't figure out what else His plain words could possibly mean. If you can't figure out another meaning, you must accept His words and reject any words that contradict them, including those of people who say that nothing could have been done about the child.

I am not saying that parents who lost a child were in a position where they could have prayed in faith to avoid the tragedy. The fact is, most people are nowhere near that point in their faith because they haven't developed their faith by spending time thinking about God's Word. They did not stubbornly refuse to do something that they know they should have done. It was a case of inability to do it. However, if they had developed their faith, they could have done something. If you preach anything else, you may soothe the parents but contradict the words of Jesus! The fact that the disciples could not deliver a demon-possessed boy did not mean that they could not have done it. Jesus said explicitly that they could have done it! Recall that in the case of Mark 9:17-29, Jesus exhorted the father to believe! So it MUST have been possible, though it was evident that he was struggling with it at the time.

People will accuse you of "blaming" people for the death of children. Some people like to twist your words and accuse you of things. (They did it to Jesus, they did it to Paul, and they'll do it to you if you preach divine healing. Get used to it.) If we really want to put the blame where it belongs, we should blame the DEVIL. The parents weren't the ones who put the foul thing on the child that took his life.

If someone has had no time to study the Word and meditate upon its healing promises, how could he believe for something major like that? It would be like "blaming" a second grader for not being able to do calculus. It is not a moral issue. It is an issue of growing in the faith, and that takes time. You have to grow spiritually just as you have to grow naturally before you are ready to do some things. Few people operate can avoid getting into unbelief when it comes to saving a child from a serious illness. If you run to the medicine cabinet every time a headache starts coming on, don't be so sure that you would have believed for that child's healing yourself!

So in one sense, there may not have been anything they could have done. In a more general sense, however, if the parents had gotten saved sooner and learned the Word sooner, they could have developed their faith more and done something. If this is not true, we must conclude that God's promises are unreliable because there are unpredictable exceptions. I would never want to accuse God of being unreliable. I will never preach that not all things are possible to him who believes. I would rather upset a few people if necessary than upset the Holy Spirit by contradicting Jesus.

Opponents of divine healing will get in your face about how poor little Betsy Lou died. (I don't know any Betsy Lou's who have died, or any that haven't for that matter, so I'm not picking on anyone in particular.) They dare you to say that Betsy Lou could have been healed. You might as well tell them the truth – little Betsy Lou could have been healed! If they have the right to bring up a particular name to try to intimidate you, you have a right to bring up the name in response. They will call you heartless for doing it, of course, while saying nothing about their heartlessness in dragging Betsy Lou into what should be a doctrinal discussion anyway, not a statement of someone's experience. Experience never proves doctrine. If you want to talk experience, I know people who have raised their children from the dead! These people have never told me that the doctrine of divine healing is cruel to parents!

In fact, not preaching divine healing is cruel to parents with sick children! They need to hear the good news about healing!

I have received a number of angry letters from people asking me (tempting me is perhaps more accurate) to tell the grieving relatives that the problem was their lack of faith. Of course, I am not going to write such letters. What I and anyone else with any sense will do is continue to preach the "word of faith" by which faith for healing and other gospel benefits comes. (The issue is not technically a lack of faith in many cases, but rather unbelief or doubt – that dealt with elsewhere in this book.) Eventually, people who hear the good news about healing and believe it may realize that an earlier tragedy in their life was avoidable. I will most certainly not side in with Satan and accuse God of having anything to do with any tragedy. Satan is the author of tragedy. His horrific future of non-stop punishment and suffering will be the most tragic end that any being in the universe has ever experienced.

Now that I know Jesus, I realize that most of my teenage years were wasted. I did not know Christ. (No one told me how to be born again, even though I live in the supposedly gospel-saturated United States.) My teenage years could have been far better if I had known the truth then, but I can't have those years back. This is a similar experience to that of a bereaved parent hearing the gospel of healing and his authority in Christ and realizing that his child could have been healed. You can't do anything about the past, but you can do something about the future. I am not wasting any more years. You do not have to lose another child to sickness.

No one came up to me and said, "You could have avoided all those bad experiences if you had just had faith" – although that would have been a true statement! People preached the truth to me, I believed it, and I am now enjoying the benefits. Once I heard the truth, I figured the rest out on my own without anyone trying to make me feel bad about it. Yes, I could have had better. But the Bible says to forget those things that are behind and to reach forth to those things that are before – toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus. (See Philippians 3:13-14.)

The Bible contains accounts of those who received healing from the Lord on behalf of their young children. (There is no record of anyone receiving anything for a grown-up child; it's up to adults to believe for themselves. In one exceptional case, someone got a healing for a household servant who was probably not a child.) In the one case where there was a failure to receive (the demonized boy that the disciples failed to help), Jesus said that unbelief was the problem. Then he healed the boy! This shows the danger of using experience to prove doctrine. Today's doubt-mongers would surely have publicized the disciples' failure to deliver the boy and cited it as proof that it is not God's will to heal or deliver all. Jesus settled the issue of God's will conclusively when He delivered the boy.

You gain nothing by condemning yourself or others for lack of faith. Such behavior only pleases Satan. However, preaching the GOOD NEWS that anyone can be healed through the name of Jesus Christ is not condemnation, even if it means that people realize that they could have lived better and that a child did not need to die. We're all growing. Ten years from now, you will recognize situations that you could have handled better today if only you were more grounded in the Word. That's part of life. It means you're growing, which is a good thing! Instead of condemning yourself for where you've been, rejoice in the fact that you can grow and live better in the future than you have been living so far.

Objection: We Had 24/7 Prayer Asking God to Heal So-and-So and He Chose Not To Do It

This very objection shows why the prayers were not answered. Everyone was praying 24/7 in unbelief. It doesn't matter if you pray a lot, and even have people pray 24/7. If you do it in unbelief, nothing will happen. James said that if you doubt, you must not think that you will receive anything from the Lord (James 1:5-8).

The very fact that everyone was asking God to heal So-and-So means that the people doing the praying didn't understand how divine healing works to begin with. You don't beg God to do something that He's already done! Yet that is what so many people do, and like the heathen, they think they will be heard for their much speaking. They reason that if they can get a big enough crowd doing the much speaking, maybe God will give in to the pressure or something. (It wouldn't be peer pressure, at least, because God has no peers.)

Their prayers are based on the mistaken "courtroom" mindset – they think when they pray, God reviews the case and decides to answer Yes, answer No, answer Wait, or just not answer at all. Thus, if there is no healing, it must be (according to this twisted logic) something other than a Yes decision from heaven's Prayer Resolution Panel. But that is a flawed mindset. If you pray according to God's will, He hears you, and you have the petition that you asked of Him (1 John 5:14-15). But first, you must know for sure what His will is. If you don't know His will about healing, it is impossible to pray in faith. Instead, you will be doubting when you pray, and you will receive nothing from the Lord as James said. You need to know His will before you pray. That does NOT mean that you ask God for a revelation of whether it is His will to heal a particular person. You learn His will from the many Scriptures cited in this book. Jesus would not have paid for everyone's sicknesses and pains to be healed if it were not God's will to heal everyone.

The sad part is that people publish sad stories to the masses about God "choosing" not to heal a loved one, but that makes no more sense than saying that God "chooses" not to save a loved one if there is 24/7 prayer for that person. God isn't the one who needs to make a choice; He's made His choice. It is up to man to believe and receive what God has already chosen to provide. These blame-God stories (which usually emphasize God's "sovereignty" in a wrong way) paint the wrong picture of God to the world – a God who holds back healing for mysterious reasons. Fortunately, the real God is much more compassionate than that.

The greatest need that a sick person has is knowledge of the Word for himself, not prayer! Yet almost everyone's knee-jerk reaction is "He needs prayer!" Yet hardly ever does someone go share the Word about healing with that person so that he can cooperate with God and receive what's his in Christ, which would be a far better approach. You can receive the healing that Jesus paid for even if NO ONE prays for you when you know what the Word says. I was born again in Room 419 in Bailey Hall at Michigan State University in East Lansing, Michigan on February 8, 1979 with no one else around at the time! I received the new birth from the Lord because someone (originally from the bush in Kenya, of all places) told me how to do it. Healing works the same way – when you know what to do, you can receive it yourself.

Objection: You Can Have Greater Peace by Accepting Your Illness than by Struggling to Get Healed

Not Biblically. By a worldly definition of peace, you can have greater “peace” by resigning yourself to your sickness. It’s less work. You don’t have to apply faith. In fact, you don’t have to do anything that any old sinner couldn’t do, because you’re going to stay sick just like any old sinner would.

If peace is defined as the absence of struggle, you can have greater peace by disobeying the Great Commission, too. No one will make fun of you for preaching the gospel. No one will argue with you about whether or not Jesus is really the only way to heaven. Ah, such peace. Really, this is just avoidance of conflict, not peace. It is taking the path of least resistance, not peace. It is being lulled to sleep. It is apathy. It is not Biblical peace at all.

Biblical peace (the kind Jesus died to give you) is denoted by the Hebrew word shalom, which indicates overall well-being. You can experience God’s peace while you are in the middle of a major trial. The more you walk in faith, the more you will walk in the real kind of peace, even though your earthly problems may multiply.

The Bible does not teach achieving peace by avoiding conflict. As a Christian, you are in conflict daily. Paul protested to the Corinthians who were taking it easy, “I die daily!” (1 Corinthians 15:31). He was talking about mortifying the flesh. This takes work and effort on your part. Peace is not the avoidance of work. Paul said, “Know ye not that they which run in a race run all, but one receiveth the prize? So run, that ye may obtain.” (1 Corinthians 9:24). Paul knew peace, but Paul knew how to “press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus” (see Philippians 3:13-14). No one said it would be easy all the time. You have to apply effort to grow in God. It doesn’t just happen. Champions for God get that way because they resolve in their hearts to become champions for God. Just remember that your efforts consist of building yourself up in the Word and acting on it, not struggling in your own strength to do better. You’re called to be strong in the Lord and in the power of His might (Ephesians 6:10), not to be strong in yourself and your own willpower.

You can have fewer “struggles” by accepting your illness and just staying sick. In fact, anyone has the right to do so, and none of us who believes in healing can force you to do otherwise. You have the right not to believe God’s promises and the right not to receive healing. You don’t have to apply yourself in the Word of Truth and meditate on its promises. But the catch is, you don’t get healed. If that’s the outcome what you want, you might as well stop reading this book.

This being said, if believing God is a struggle for you, you need to hear more of his Word on a regular basis. You will find that faith comes automatically when you meditate on God’s Word a lot. At that point, faith ceases to be a struggle and it becomes natural. It takes effort to get to that place. But when you get there, you will find that you have peace while you are still believing for a healing that you have not seen yet. You won’t be struggling. The problem with the person making this objection is that he has obviously never been to this place in God and probably doesn’t realize that there is such a place.

Finally, having “greater peace” by accepting your illness could well be temporary. What if the sickness that you’ve accepted worsens and you find yourself taking painful gasps for every breath, or clutching your chest all the time as the pains get worse and worse? Ultimately you could find yourself with far LESS peace in the long run if things deteriorate. Struggling to just survive could be far less peaceful than “struggling” to get healed today.

Objection: God Told Hezekiah to Use Medicine (a Poultice of Figs)

If figs could have cured Hezekiah of his terminal illness, it figures that he would have tried using figs sooner. If figs could heal fatal diseases, there would be great worldwide demand for figs from hospitals, and fig-producing countries would have organized a cartel by now to boost fig prices on international fig futures exchanges. Stores would have popped up everywhere to sell Fig Oil at huge markups.

No one today puts lumps of figs on boils to cure fatal illnesses! If it were common knowledge that figs cure terminal illnesses, Hezekiah would not have been left to die in the first place. Someone in the palace would have applied the figs then, not after God decided to extend Hezekiah's life by 15 years. The figs were applied in obedience to the Lord only after He heard Hezekiah's prayer.

We can debate whether the figs may have helped the boil, but they surely did not save Hezekiah's life by medicinal means. Hezekiah himself said that the Lord was going to heal him (2 Kings 20:8), not the figs. That is plain enough; there is nothing figurative. Anything else is a figment of someone's imagination.

Objection: Elisha Did Miracles, Yet Died of an Illness

“Now Elisha was fallen sick of the sickness whereof he died...” – 2 Kings 13:14.

Let's do a little Bible arithmetic. (If you hate math, feel free to skip this paragraph.) Elisha was called during the reign of Ahab. Let's assume that he was 20 years old at the time; he was obviously grown up already. Ahab ruled for 22 years (1 Kings 16:19). We know that Elisha's call could not have been closer than 3 years to either end of his reign because of the drought before Elisha's call and the three waterless years after it. Assume for the sake of argument that Elisha was called in the 11th year of his reign (we'll split the difference). Ahab's son Ahaziah replaced him and reigned for 2 years (1 Kings 22:51). Jehoram succeeded Ahaziah and reigned for 12 years (2 Kings 3:1). His replacement, Jehu, reigned for 28 years (2 Kings 10:36). His replacement, Jehoahaz, reigned for 17 years (2 Kings 13:1). His replacement, Jehoash, reigned for 16 years. Elisha talked with Jehoash, so he was still alive then. If we split this down the middle and assume that this talk happened in the eighth year, we would estimate Elisha's age at his death as $20+11+2+12+28+17+8$ years. Just so that you don't have to activate your calculator app, that adds up to 98 years old, assuming that he died fairly soon after he got sick. For that time, that was a long life. Perhaps if you dig a little deeper than I did, you could narrow down Elisha's age a little bit more. Let's compute the bare minimum. Say that he was 15 years old when he was called, and that he was called 3 years from the end of Ahab's reign, and that he and Jehoash talked right after he became king. He age at death would still be $15+3+11+2+12+28+17+0$ years, or 88. That is the minimum.

So Elisha outlived his contemporaries and had to be 90-ish when he died. That's not bad!

It is unscholarly to claim that Elisha's illness proves that healing is not available to all. Elisha indeed died of an illness even though he was used to bring healing to others. What does this prove? If you look at Elisha's life, it proves that obedience will keep you alive a good long time!

At this point, Elisha may simply have wanted to go on to his reward rather than be healed. When you get to be that age, you don't have to stay here if you don't want to. You can believe for healing, but someone who is ready to die may not have much incentive to do so. Elisha was certainly old enough to have a right to do that without it being a blemish on healing ministry. If anything, we can prove that Elisha got to reap what he sowed in terms of health in his body.

There is no record that Elisha asked to be healed. Therefore, you cannot use Elisha to “prove” that God may refuse a request for healing! To prove that, you would have to come up with a couple of cases in the Bible where someone actually asked God for healing and was denied. You can't find any.

In fact, let's turn this objection on its head. Elisha lived with such an anointing in him that a man was raised from the dead when his body touched Elisha's bones after he died. This anointing was in him throughout his life after Elijah was taken up. This makes a good case for the statement that the anointing lengthens your life!

Some ministers who held healing crusades died of illnesses before their time. That was not God's will, but it has happened. This does not prove that the message they preach was untrue, any more than the gospel is untrue just because some famous preacher shacks up with his girlfriend, as has also happened. As repeatedly stated here, you get doctrine from the Word, not people's experiences!

See also:

If the Anointing on Elisha's Bones Was Strong Enough To Raise a Dead Man, Why Wasn't It Strong Enough to Heal Him of His Own Fatal Illness?

Objection: Epaphroditus Worked Closely with Paul, Yet Was Sick unto Death

Philippians 2:25-30

It is amusing that people would use the case of a man who was raised from his deathbed by the power of God as an objection to divine healing. The objection is that if people could just receive healing by faith, Epaphroditus should have just done it. It is also sometimes added that if Paul really had authority over sickness, he should have healed Epaphroditus right away.

Consider why Epaphroditus was sick. He was sick “for the work of Christ,” ministering to Paul’s needs, trying to supply the Philippians’ lack of service toward Paul. In other words, he was making the mistake of trying to do someone else’s job as well as his own because the other job wasn’t getting done. While that seems noble, it can also be the path to exhaustion in the ministry. Jesus’ yoke is easy and His burden is light (Matthew 11:30). He is not an Egyptian taskmaster who drives people to the point of despair. In ministry, you need to be led by the Spirit, not led by every need you see. You will always see more needs than you can possibly meet yourself. It’s not your job to try to solve every problem in the world.

Natural laws still apply to Christians. If you overwork yourself, even in the ministry, you will wear your body down and become susceptible to illness. Likewise, if every meal you eat is a hot fudge sundae, you will eventually get sick, and it would have nothing to do with any failure of God’s healing covenant. It is a natural law that you will have various problems in your body if you weigh so much that you practically need a fork-lift to get you out of bed.

Now consider Epaphroditus’s attitude toward his illness. Paul obviously didn’t teach him that it was something good. Epaphroditus was heavy in heart because he knew that word of his sickness had gotten back to Philippi. Paul was sending Epaphroditus back so that everyone could rejoice in his healing!

Although Epaphroditus may have overworked himself trying to help Paul, God was merciful to him and healed him. If you are seeking God’s kingdom first, God will overlook some of your faults and have mercy on you, as long as you don’t deliberately try to live on mercy.

The fact that his healing was attributed to God’s mercy proves that his healing was supernatural. So why didn’t Paul just “instantly” heal him? Jesus never promised that all sick people would recover instantly when we lay hands on them. He promised only that they would recover. Why didn’t Epaphroditus just pray and instantly receive his healing? There can be a time between the point that you “believe that you receive” and the point that your healing fully manifests in your body.

If it were God's will for Epaphroditus to be sick, He would not have healed him! If you are "sick unto death" as Epaphroditus was, you should take comfort from the fact that Jesus is your merciful High Priest. He can show you mercy just as He showed Epaphroditus mercy, even if you brought on your sickness yourself. Far from being a real objection, the story of Epaphroditus is one more proof that God wants His people to be healthy.

Objection: Stephen Was Full of Faith and Power, but Died Anyway

Could Stephen have used his faith to live a long life and not be martyred?

This can touch off a lively debate even among faith teachers!

Stephen, a deacon full of faith and power, was stoned to death for preaching the gospel in Acts 7. Unlike Paul, who was prayed back by his friends, Stephen died and was not raised up. Why didn't Stephen believe God's promises about being satisfied with long life and health instead of dying?

Stephen was not missing God; he was so "in the Spirit" that he saw Jesus in the opened heavens, standing at the right hand of God! Stephen was the first Christian martyr. He did not die of sickness; he was murdered. If being murdered for your faith is inconsistent with God's long-life promises, Jesus missed it as well, since he was also murdered for his faith in the prime of life! (We know that Jesus always did the will of God.)

Evidently God was pleased that Stephen would glorify him by dying for his faith. When attempts were made to kill Jesus before it was time for Him to die, He was protected. No one could kill Paul before he finished his course, either. Then he was apparently martyred as well. (This is according to church history, not the Bible, though Paul DID know that the time of his departure was coming soon in 2 Timothy 4:6). This does not negate God's general promise of long life. God does ask people to give their lives for the gospel.

A Christian has not missed God because he dies as a martyr while preaching the gospel. Jesus said in Revelation 2:13: "I know thy works, and where thou dwellest, even where Satan's seat is: and thou holdest fast my name, and hast not denied my faith, even in those days wherein Antipas was my faithful martyr, who was slain among you, where Satan dwelleth." Antipas was a faithful martyr, implying that he was in God's will when he died. Jesus spoke of the martyr's death by which Peter would glorify God in John 21:18-19. If it were not the will of God for Peter to die that way, it would not have glorified God.

Jesus said in Matthew 24:9 that men would "deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name's sake." Here He makes it obvious that there will be martyrs as well as those who are tortured for their faith but not killed.

While getting into such situations could mean that you missed God, you could get into these situations while in the center of God's plan for your life. If having faith meant that you could believe away persecution, Paul didn't have much faith. He was getting beaten up all the time and thrown in icky dungeon cells all the time for preaching the gospel. Jesus had already told Paul that he would suffer for preaching (Acts 9:16), and Peter spoke at length in his letters on the subject of suffering obediently as a Christian. But the suffering talked about was not suffering from cancer or heart disease – it was strictly persecution for righteousness' sake.

Stephen was obviously content to go home and be with the Lord because he asked Jesus to receive his spirit. Paul did not do this when he was stoned, but the time came when he willingly gave up his life.

Stephen did not miss God, and the fact that God does call some to be martyrs in no way invalidates His promises and statements about healing. Even if you die for the faith, God wants you to be healthy until you do so!

Objection: Daniel Got a Vision from God and Immediately Fainted and Got Sick

Daniel 8:27

Given that so many other objections can be proved invalid, it is amusing (but not excessively so) to see the straws people will grasp at to try to disprove divine healing being for all. In this case, the objector reasons that even a great man of faith like Daniel, even just after getting a powerful vision, could fall victim to weakness and sickness.

Getting such a revelation from God can “shake you up” in a way that has nothing to do with the devil’s brand of sickness. Paul went blind and didn’t eat or drink for three days, but that wasn’t because the devil put sickness on him. You can read other accounts of people who were not sick but fell over because of the power of God in the discussion Why Do People Fall Over in Healing Lines?

What does the Hebrew word for sick mean here? It DOES mean sick in most cases, so we can’t answer the objection that way. However, if you read Daniel’s other encounters with God, you can see that a powerful manifestation of God’s presence was physically overwhelming for him. But that doesn’t mean that Daniel had the flu or something. If the flu tries to get on you, you would not shrug and say, “Oh well, Daniel got sick so I guess I have to be sick too.”

Jesus certainly did not go around telling people that they had to be sick like Daniel – He went around healing all who were oppressed by the devil (Acts 10:38). He is the same today. Daniel wasn’t oppressed by the devil.

If you were even to claim the verse in question as a reason for you to have to tolerate sickness, let me ask you a question – what great revelation did YOU just get from God? (The revelation that I pray that you will get is the revelation that Jesus paid for your healing!)

Objection: “The Acts of the Apostles” Does Not Show Rank-and-File People Doing Miracles

The name “Acts of the Apostles” was applied to the book after it was written. It was never called that by the author (Luke). Actually, it was originally part of the Gospel of Luke, which was later separated into two books (Luke and Acts). Luke was the author of both books. Also, it was referred to as the Acts of the Holy Spirit by some in the early church, which is really a better title, because it DOES tell acts that were done by people who were NOT apostles.

Stephen was not an apostle when he did great wonders and miracles among the people (Acts 6:8). He never became an apostle.

Philip was not an apostle when he did miracles in Samaria (Acts 8:6). He never became an apostle, either, though he was later referred to as an evangelist.

Ananias of Damascus (Acts 9:10-19) was not an apostle and never became one, yet he went and laid hands on Saul (who became Paul), who received his sight and was baptized with the Holy Spirit.

We see “the hand of the Lord” working with ordinary believers who went to various places preaching the gospel in Acts 11:19-21.

So the statement that the book of Acts does not show “regular” people who aren’t apostles doing miracles is demonstrably false.

Objection: Jonah Was Brought to the Point of Death So that He Would Learn Obedience

You cannot use the story of a disobedient man's punishment to justify the idea that a righteous Christian should have to be brought to the point of death to learn obedience. It proves nothing. The Christian is to learn from the Scriptures, not from hard knocks in life.

Granted, you can learn some things the hard way or the easy way. You can learn not to use a lawn mower sideways to trim your hedge by chopping yourself up, or you can learn from the don't-sue-us-because-we-warned-you statement that comes with the lawn mower that you should not tip it sideways to trim your hedge. (If the warning weren't there, you could probably sue them for bazillions and go start your own hedge fund.) Do you intend to be such a knucklehead that you have to almost die to learn obedience? Why not just obey in the first place and skip the trouble?

Jonah was called to the ministry and he ran from his calling. He almost died as a result, but God in His mercy spared his life. Jonah did apparently learn something from the experience. It changed his attitude toward preaching at Nineveh at least somewhat!

One key lesson from the book of Jonah is that you cannot run anywhere on earth to escape the call of God on your life. You could pay for it with your life! The gifts and callings of God are without repentance. If you know that you are called to the ministry, "woe" is unto if you do not preach the gospel (1 Corinthians 9:16)! You are entrusted with something sacred and you are accountable for that. If you walk in disobedience to that call, you have no right to claim divine healing, divine protection, or anything else. You will probably not be able to receive from God in one area while turning your back on Him in other areas. Once you repent and consecrate yourself to God, you are immediately a candidate for healing.

So, don't be in the position of having to learn obedience the hard way! It was not the will of God for Jonah to refuse God's calling any more than it was His will for Judas to betray Jesus. God foreknew the choices of both men, but they were still the wrong choices. When you take your life into your own hands, you take it out of God's hands. You then become responsible for your security and success. God's protection does not apply to you because you are not dwelling in the secret place of the Almighty. See Psalm 91, which has wonderful but conditional promises for protection. Learn the conditions and don't claim the protection if you aren't meeting the conditions.

Objection: God May Want You to Get Sicker So That When You Get Healed, It Will Be a Major Miracle that Will Get Everyone's Attention

I know someone who fell for this one. She was utterly convinced that she was supposed to get sicker so that, in her words, when she got healed, it would be a miracle that would blow open the entire county to the gospel.

So she ALLOWED Satan to make her sicker and sicker with HIS cancer until she was almost dead.

Unfortunately, at that point, she was so weak and beaten up, she just wanted to die. And she did.

This objection clearly fails The SAME Test. You cannot find a single instance in Scripture where Jesus told anyone, "God's will is for you to get sicker so that when you get healed, it will be a bigger miracle."

If He never said it then, He will never say it today. It is NEVER God's will for you to get sicker. He wants you to enjoy the HEALING that Jesus paid for you to have right now. This objection is just a "sick" variant of the objection that God could tell you "Wait" when you pray.

Anyone who agrees with this objection does not really know God. The person may be truly saved, but he does not know God as He really is. The REAL God abounds with mercy and compassion for sick people. He would NEVER put anyone through the devil's garbage just to further His own kingdom.

Objection: The Word YOU in 3 John 2 Is Singular, Proving That It Was Only for Gaius, Not the Whole Church

This is a real last-ditch effort to try to prove that God doesn't want ALL of us to be in health and prosper, even as our souls prosper. The only "prosperity" associated with this objection is that it succeeds in being ridiculous!

Jesus actually used the singular "you" multiple times in His "sermon on the mount." By the objector's logic, what Jesus said could not have been for everyone!

Also by the same logic, you could wipe out just about everything in 1 Timothy, 2 Timothy and Titus, as these letters were written to a specific individual just as 3 John was. Do we conclude that because "you" is singular throughout those books that the contents of these books are not for the whole church but only for Timothy and Titus?

This objection will take us down some very dark roads if we follow it to its natural conclusion! The books of the Bible are canonized because of their applicability to all of us. If they were just friendly little "wish you well" letters, there would be no point in including them in the New Testament!

Objection: Faith Teachers Tell Us to Heal the Sick, Not Pray for Them, but John Prayed that Gaius Would Be Healthy (3 John 2)

The objector obviously does not use the King James Version, which does not say that John prayed for Gaius, but rather that he wished that Gaius be in health. Young's Literal Translation uses the word desire, not pray, as do a couple others. However, many translations do use the word pray in this verse.

Who's right? If you go by Biblical usage, the Greek word euchomai is a toss-up between an obvious meaning of wish or desire and an obvious meaning of pray. It can be used in both cases and translated both ways. This leaves the translator with the job of trying to figure out from the context which meaning should apply in English.

Given that fact, there is no proof that John actually did pray for Gaius to be in health as opposed to simply stating his wish for Gaius to be healthy. If you think that the "wish" explanation leads to the conclusion that this verse is only a greeting with no doctrinal authority, please read the separate objection reply that deals with that issue.

Objection: Psalm 103:3 Is a Parallelism for Forgiven Sins and Does Not Mean that God Heals All Physical Diseases

A parallelism...wow, this sounds like an objection from a seminary professor. Which it was.

He wrote to me emphatically that Hebrew poetry is full of “parallelisms” where the last half of the verse echoes the first half rather than expressing an independent thought. (So far, so good, I would agree with that.) Therefore (he said), Psalm 103:3’s statement about healing of diseases does not mean physical diseases – it means spiritual diseases, because the author was just saying that God forgives your sins in two different ways.

The statement about Hebrew poetry is generally correct, but it most certainly does not apply in the context of Psalm 103:3. Although the same objector also said that “Forget not all his benefits” was a parallelism for “Bless the Lord, O my soul” in verse 2, I don’t see it – do you? This is another aspect of Hebrew poetry that he didn’t mention. The second phrase can add to or build onto the first phrase rather than merely restating it in different words. Of course, Psalms abounds with stanzas that are not poetic in either sense.

You basically have to have a predisposition to explain away healing to avoid the immediate context of Psalm 103:3: “Forget not all his benefits...Who redeemeth thy life from destruction; who crowneth thee with lovingkindness and tender mercies; Who satisfieth thy mouth with good things; so that thy youth is renewed like the eagle’s.” You really have to overspiritualize things to claim that the good things are spiritual and that your youth is spiritual. No, God’s benefits include physical ones – including all the ones listed in this Psalm. Your spirit is eternal and does not “age,” so your youth being renewed MUST be physical, not spiritual.

The word “diseases” unquestionably refers to real diseases in the Hebrew; the objection is that this is a metaphor in this verse. (The Hebrew word for diseases in Psalm 103:3 is tachaluw, which is translated sicknesses, diseases, sick and in one case grievous referring to how someone would die [probably also a reference to sickness]). I find it interesting that the same people who argue that “thorn in the flesh” must be taken literally instead of as a figure of speech then turn around and say that anything that promises healing is only a metaphor (or a parallelism)! I guess that you can get so wrapped up in human traditions that your brain gets parallelized.

If you want to wipe this objection away in your mind, just click through all the Old Testament healing promises God made and figure out if you think that He meant “spiritual sicknesses” in them. What are spiritual sicknesses, anyway? Can anyone name one? Paul lists works of the flesh, but these are just that – works of the flesh, not sicknesses, regardless of what the 12-step people try to tell you. The Bible does not name any “spiritual diseases” anyway, which is why there is no such thing as “spiritual healing,” as proven elsewhere in this book.

Perhaps the professor has been used to accepting AA lies about this. Sins and diseases are two separate issues. Sin leads to disease and disease is a known judgment for sin as part of the Law's curse, but to claim that sins and diseases are really the same thing in "parallel talk" goes farther than any rational reader can go. Lawbreakers under the Law of Moses could be punished for sin by being punished with disease. But they were never punished for disease the way you can punished for sin. Getting a cold is not a moral failure, but sin is. These terms are way too far apart to be parallelisms for each other!

See also:

Objection: Psalm 103:3 Is Poetic Hyperbole

Objection: The Word for HEALETH in Psalm 103:3 Means to Heal the SOUL

The Hebrew word rapha is used in Psalm 103:3. The objector claims that this means the healing of the soul, and he cites Jeremiah 3:22 (“I will heal your backslidings”), Psalm 41:4 (“heal my soul”) and Hosea 11:3 (“but they knew not that I healed them”) as “proof” because rapha is used in those verses as well. That doesn’t look like very convincing proof to me.

If you had a family squabble, and your family members reconciled, you could say that their relationships were healed. I would have no problem with that, but that doesn’t prove that the English word healed only applies to broken relationships. If it did, you would just say that everyone was healed; you wouldn’t specify that their relationships were healed.

Likewise, if the word rapha means “heal the soul” as claimed, then Psalm 41:4 is redundant (“soul-heal my soul”). The very fact that “heal my soul” had to be specified in fact demonstrates that the word heal (rapha) by itself does not mean to heal the soul!

Besides, Psalm 103:3 explicitly states that God heals all your diseases! So it is way beyond proper Scripture interpretation to claim that He only “soul-heals” you, or “soul-heals” your diseases when He says plainly that He heals your diseases. That’s so obvious that it takes an intellectual to try to explain it away!

Besides this, there are plenty of other Scriptures containing the word rapha that DO pertain to physical healing. The objector claims that “most” of the rapha occurrences in the Bible refer to healing of the soul. Don’t let other people do your thinking for you. Look at these verses and see what YOU think:

Exodus 15:26: “...I will put none of the diseases upon thee, which I have brought upon the Egyptians: for I am the LORD that healeth thee.”

Genesis 20:7: “...God healed Abimelech, and his wife, and his maidservants, and they bare children.”

It’s also the word from which we get physician in the Hebrew, as in Genesis 50:2: “And Joseph commanded his servants the physicians to embalm his father: and the physicians embalmed Israel.” IS this talking about the soul-healers? I doubt it, seeing that soul-healers wouldn’t be of much value if you needed a physical body embalmed. You can’t make a reasonable case that the physicians embalmed Israel’s soul! Also 2 Chronicles 16:12: “And Asa in the thirty and ninth year of his reign was diseased in his feet, until his disease was exceeding great: yet in his disease he sought not to the LORD, but to the physicians.” While I assume that foot doctors might have been sole-healers, that’s not the same as soul-healers. Then there is Jeremiah 8:22: “Is there no balm in Gilead; is there no physician there? Why then is not the health of the daughter of my people recovered?”

Exodus 21:19: “If he rise again, and walk abroad upon his staff, then shall he that smote him be quit: only he shall pay for the loss of his time, and shall cause him to be thoroughly healed.”

Leviticus 13:18: “The flesh also, in which, even in the skin thereof, was a boil, and is healed”

Leviticus 13:37: "But if the scall be in his sight at a stay, and that there is black hair grown up therein; the scall is healed, he is clean: and the priest shall pronounce him clean."

Leviticus 14:3: "And the priest shall go forth out of the camp; and the priest shall look, and, behold, if the plague of leprosy be healed in the leper;"

Leviticus 14:48: "And if the priest shall come in, and look upon it, and, behold, the plague hath not spread in the house, after the house was plaistered: then the priest shall pronounce the house clean, because the plague is healed."

Numbers 12:13: "And Moses cried unto the LORD, saying, Heal her now, O God, I beseech thee." (This refers to Miriam after she was struck with leprosy.)

Deuteronomy 28:27: "The LORD will smite thee with the botch of Egypt, and with the emerods, and with the scab, and with the itch, whereof thou canst not be healed."

Deuteronomy 28:35: "The LORD shall smite thee in the knees, and in the legs, with a sore botch that cannot be healed, from the sole of thy foot unto the top of thy head."

2 Kings 8:29: "And king Joram went back to be healed in Jezreel of the wounds which the Syrians had given him at Ramah, when he fought against Hazael king of Syria. And Ahaziah the son of Jehoram king of Judah went down to see Joram the son of Ahab in Jezreel, because he was sick."

2 Kings 9:15: "But king Joram was returned to be healed in Jezreel of the wounds which the Syrians had given him, when he fought with Hazael king of Syria..."

2 Kings 20:5: "Turn again, and tell Hezekiah the captain of my people, Thus saith the LORD, the God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will heal thee: on the third day thou shalt go up unto the house of the LORD."

2 Chronicles 30:20: "And the LORD hearkened to Hezekiah, and healed the people."

Psalms 6:2: "Have mercy upon me, O LORD; for I am weak: O LORD, heal me; for my bones are vexed."

Psalms 107:20: "He sent his word, and healed them, and delivered them from their destructions."

Isaiah 53:5: "...and with his stripes we are healed."

Jeremiah 15:18: "Why is my pain perpetual, and my wound incurable, which refuseth to be healed?"

Jeremiah 30:17: "For I will restore health unto thee, and I will heal thee of thy wounds..."

Jeremiah 33:6: "Behold, I will bring it health and cure, and I will cure them..."

Jeremiah 51:8: "...take balm for her pain, if so be she may be healed."

Ezekiel 34:4: "The diseased have ye not strengthened, neither have ye healed that which was sick..."

Hosea 5:13: “When Ephraim saw his sickness, and Judah saw his wound, then went Ephraim to the Assyrian, and sent to king Jareb: yet could he not heal you, nor cure you of your wound.”

I hope that these verses are enough to convince you that rapha does NOT, as the objector asserts, refer primarily to healing of the soul. There are times “heal” could be taken metaphorically, but that does not change the actual meaning of the word itself, which should be quite clear to you from the verses above.

Objection: Psalm 103:3 Is Poetic Hyperbole

The objector obviously believes that God's promise in Psalm 103:3 to heal all your diseases is too good to be true. Thus, it must be "hyperbole" and a mere poetic device. The Psalms, after all, were the words to songs sung in Israel. (The poetic argument is similar to another objection handled elsewhere.)

However, God made the same promise in Exodus 15:26 to put "NONE of the diseases upon you" that He put upon the Egyptians. If you don't have to suffer ANY diseases, God must heal ALL your diseases. And the problem for the objector is that Exodus 15:26 is NOT Hebrew poetry; it's prose! So it cannot be poetic hyperbole.

The MANY cases where Jesus "healed them all" is also related in prose in the gospels, so these cannot be poetic hyperbole either. Jesus said that He always did the will of the Father, so the healing of ALL was the will of the Father, consistent with Psalm 103:3, Exodus 15:26 and other passages.

If you can dismiss Psalm 103:3 as poetic hyperbole, will you next dismiss Psalm 23 as poetic hyperbole and assert that the Lord does NOT cause you to not lack, does NOT lead you, does NOT restore your soul, and so on? Could we not use this same "poetic hyperbole" objection to invalidate anything we don't feel like believing in Job, Psalms, Proverbs, Ecclesiastes and Song of Solomon?

Psalm 103:3 at face value is entirely consistent with Scripture; it does not need to be explained away.

Objection: David Didn't Have His Youth Renewed – He Had to Have Abishag Keep Him Warm

David wrote that God renews your youth like the eagles' (Psalm 103:5), yet when he was old, he had such difficulty staying warm that he had a woman constantly “minister to” him in his old age. Does this mean that David did not believe his own writings and that you shouldn't either?

David's writing in Psalm 103:1-5 would have to be considered a doctrinal statement. If not, how could you take ANY of his Psalms, including Psalm 23, seriously? His experience may not have matched what he wrote, but no doctrine is presented by the fact that he had difficulties in his old age. David did quite a few other things unworthy of emulation, too – adultery, a cover-up, murder, and an unauthorized census. Does the fact that he was a flawed man (as all men are) mean that his writings have to be rejected as Scripture? No, of course not.

Likewise, we need to consider Solomon's writings in the Bible divinely inspired, yet this man who had more wisdom than any of his predecessors proceeded to do some of the stupidest things imaginable, led astray by his outlandish collection of wives, some of whom were idol worshippers. Imagine – a man who wrote Scripture and had more wisdom than anyone before him started building idol temples just to please his ever-increasing roster of wives. His experience does not negate his doctrinal writings in Scripture. Neither does David's experience.

The statement that God renews your youth like the eagles' should provoke us to trust God to keep us fit even in old age (Psalm 92:13-14). An eagle does a good job keeping its youth renewed. After it is 5 years old, you can't determine its age by looking at it, though it will often live to be 20 to 30! If a 30-year-old eagle can look identical to a 5-year-old eagle, we should ramp up our expectations of how God can renew our youth.

Use doctrinal statements, not historical experience, to prove doctrine. Otherwise, you can fall into the same trap by assuming that healing Trophimus wasn't God's will. You can't build doctrine with experience even it was the experience of someone in the Bible. (Having said that, there are plenty of Bible experiences that confirm doctrine, such as people going out and doing the works of Jesus just as He said that they would do as a doctrinal statement.)

Objection: David Spoke in Hyperbole – He Was Never Superman Who Could Literally Run through a Troop and Leap over a Wall

Perhaps the objector got confused and thought that the song lyrics “I can run through a troop and leap over a wall” were what David actually said (it isn’t – there’s a subtle but very important difference) and that David was speaking metaphorically or was exaggerating, or making himself out to be Superman before Superman was invented.

But David didn’t say that he COULD do it. He actually testified that he HAD DONE it!

2 Samuel 22:30:

For by thee I have run through a troop: by my God have I leaped over a wall.

Psalms 18:29:

For by thee I have run through a troop; and by my God have I leaped over a wall.

There is no hyperbole here any more than there was hyperbole when he accomplished the “superhero” feat of killing a lion bare-handed and killing a bear bare-handed. There is no hyperbole here any more than there was hyperbole when he accomplished the “superhero” feat of killing Goliath and chopping off his head.

So David’s words were NOT hyperbole, and we have just let all the air out of the tires of this objection. In fact, we’ve taken the tires right off!

We never did get to the point of the objection, and it doesn’t matter. The point was supposed to be that when David said that God healed “all his diseases” and “restored his youth like the eagles” that he was speaking in hyperbole, and the verses above were supposed to prove it.

I don’t know how high the wall was that he leapt over, but it’s not unreasonable that he could run through a troop. I just watched football highlights the morning before I wrote this where a guy got the ball and ran 99 yards for a touchdown, evading or shoving away everyone on the opposing team who tried to stop him. He made other similar plays in the same game for touchdowns. If a person could run through a troop like that today, I don’t see why David couldn’t do it back then, especially when he did what he did “by God” and not just by muscle and speed and sneaky moves.

Objection: Romans 8:10 Tells You that Your Body is Dead because of Sin

While this is a true statement, it leaves you hanging, but the context of the verse does not. If you stop at the end of the verse, you could conclude that you have no right to healing in this life because you don't have a glorified body yet, which is the point that the objector was trying to make.

But if you continue on, you'll find out something important that undoes the objection!

Romans 8:10-13

You'll see that even though your body is spiritually dead (the point – it's not your physically dead body!) and your spirit is alive, the Holy Spirit will impart God's life to your subject-to-death (mortal) body! In other words, even though your body is dead to spiritual things, the Holy Spirit will still infuse divine life into it.

This is talking about this current life – not the hereafter. If you've heard this verse preached at a funeral, you've heard it preached out of context unless the preacher was conducting a graveside healing service for the benefit of the living. The divine life is infused into your mortal (subject to death) body, not your dead body! For further proof, see the answer to the objection that Romans 8:11 refers to the resurrection.

Objection: Romans 8:11 Refers to the Resurrection, Not This Life

No, it doesn't. Read the verse in context. Paul is talking about this current life, not about the future resurrection of the saints.

Romans 8:10-13:

And if Christ be in you, the body is dead because of sin; but the Spirit is life because of righteousness. But if the Spirit of him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwell in you, he that raised up Christ from the dead shall also quicken your mortal bodies by his Spirit that dwelleth in you. Therefore, brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live after the flesh. For if ye live after the flesh, ye shall die: but if ye through the Spirit do mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live.

Here Paul tells us that the Spirit will give life to our mortal bodies and empower us to mortify the deeds of the body. Notice that all of these verses deal with this present life, not heaven. There will be no need to mortify the deeds of the body in heaven because your new spiritually alive body will never lead you astray!

Think of the power that raised Jesus' dead body and completely healed Him. Paul is telling us that the same Spirit who did that will also work in your living, but mortal, body today. The same power that raised Jesus Christ from the dead is at work in you!

Paul could not have been talking about the resurrection, because you will not have a mortal (subject to death) body then – you will have an immortal (not subject to death) body. The Greek word used for mortal is only translated mortal or mortality, never dead. The word means subject to death, not already dead. The only time when you will have a body that is subject to death is in this life! Therefore, Paul must be talking about this life.

The same Greek word is used in the following verses: "For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality. So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal should have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory." – 1 Corinthians 15:53-54. Substituting dead in this verse does not work. Paul was talking about the living being changed in the twinkling of an eye as well as the dead being raised in the two verses before this passage (51 and 52): "Behold, I show you a mystery; We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed." The emphasis is on us – "this mortal" – being changed, not dead saints being raised.

In case you're not convinced yet, here are the other three places in the New Testament where the same Greek word for mortal found in Romans 8:11 is found:

"Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey it in the lusts thereof" – Romans 6:12.

“For we which live are always delivered unto death for Jesus’ sake, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our mortal flesh.” – 2 Corinthians 4:11.

“For we that are in this tabernacle do groan, being burdened: not for that we would be unclothed, but clothed upon, that mortality [in Greek, literally, “the mortal”] might be swallowed up of life.” – 2 Corinthians 5:4.

Paul could not have told you to keep sin from reigning in your dead body. He was not saying that the life of Jesus was manifest in his dead flesh. If Paul were dead, his dead flesh could not be groaning to be swallowed up of life. Of course, if Paul were dead, he could not have written any of these verses! The word clearly means mortal, not dead. Therefore, it means mortal, not dead, in Romans 8:11. Of course, you can figure that out if you just read it in English. It says mortal, not dead.

Thus, Romans 8:11 is not a resurrection promise, but a glorious promise for this present age. The Spirit who gave life to Christ’s dead body will also give life to your mortal body in this life. Since the same Spirit will change your entire body in the twinkling of an eye, surely he can change the sick part of your body just as easily!

In closing, some of the confusion about this verse arises because some preachers (not including this writer) like to quote this verse at funerals to try to point people to the resurrection of the saints. However, this is a completely non-funeralistic verse in its original context of having the Spirit’s life working in your mortal, but not yet dead, body.

For an even more complete discussion of Romans 8:11, see What Romans 8:11 Really Means.

See also:

Objection: Romans 8 Doesn’t Talk about Healing, so Romans 8:11 Is about Strengthening Us Against Sin

Objection: Romans 8 Doesn't Talk about Healing, so Romans 8:11 Is about Strengthening Us against Sin

Much of the first part of Romans 8 does deal with issues concerning the flesh and sin. The fact that "Therefore" appears at the start of verse 12 might seem to add credence to the idea that whatever Romans 8:11 talks about is still tied to flesh and sin issues. Finally, several old commentaries also support the idea that the verse speaks of the Holy Spirit strengthening our mortal bodies (where sin can dwell) against sin so that sin cannot rule there.

However, this is contrary to what Scripture teaches about the flesh. Your current mortal flesh will NEVER want to please God. That is why Paul said that if you are in the flesh, you cannot please God! The fact is that sin will always be capable of ruling in your body until the day comes when you get your new spiritual, immortal body. That is why Paul taught that through the Spirit we mortify the deeds of the body (Galatians 5:16). There is no "strengthening" of your flesh that will make it less prone to sin because your spiritually dead body will never care one way or the other about whether a craving it has is sinful or not.

Paul reminds us in Romans 8:11 that it is the Spirit who raised Christ from the dead who will ALSO quicken our mortal bodies! Paul's use of the word ALSO ties the physical healing part to our mortal bodies. Jesus was made weak and sick when He died for us. His body couldn't even handle carrying His cross. But when He was raised, He was raised without any of that weakness or sickness! That is the point. Just as Jesus' body was healed when it was raised from the dead and made immortal, we can expect healing to work even in our mortal bodies today.

I do realize that Romans 8:11 has confused a lot of people over the years, so I have devoted a lengthy investigation to that one verse. Please see What Romans 8:11 Really Means for a lot of further study on this matter.

See also:

Objection: Romans 8:11 Uses a Word for Resurrection that Cannot Take Place until We Get Our New Bodies

Objection: Romans 8:11 Uses a Word for Resurrection that Cannot Take Place until We Get Our New Bodies

The objector asserts that because Romans 8:11 refers to the power that raised Christ from the dead AND uses the word a Greek word translated “quicken” that is also translated as relating to raising the dead in many other places, Romans 8:11 must refer to the future point at which we get new spiritual bodies when Christ returns.

This idea is discussed in the section What Romans 8:11 Really Means, which you should read. But you should consider 3 things related to this objection in particular.

The Greek Words within the Verse

The Greek word translated quicken does indeed refer to raising the dead in most, but not all cases, as demonstrated in detail in What Romans 8:11 Really Means.

However, in the phrases “raised up Jesus from the dead” and “raised up Christ from the dead” within Romans 8:11 itself, the word translated “raised up” is the Greek word egeiro and the word for “the dead” is nekros. But later in the verse, the Greek word translated quicken is NOT egeiro but rather the different word zoopoieo and the word mortal is the Greek word thnetos. If Paul wanted to make the point that God who raised Christ from the dead would also raise us from the dead in the future, one would think that he would have been consistent within the same verse and say that God would raise us (egeiro) from the dead (nekros) rather than quickening (zoopoieo) our mortal (thnetos) bodies.

Your Mortal Body, Not Your Dead Body

The objector completely misses that the fact that Paul said that God would quicken our mortal bodies. A mortal body isn’t dead yet! And a body that isn’t dead can’t be raised from the dead! This is discussed in much more detail in What Romans 8:11 Really Means, but what is important now is that life is to be imparted to our mortal (thnetos) bodies, not our dead (nekros) bodies! So resurrection of something dead, as stated by the objector, cannot be the topic.

What Paul Wrote When He Really Meant the Resurrection

This same Paul who wrote Romans 8:11 also wrote the verses below:

1 Corinthians 15:51-52:

Behold, I shew you a mystery; We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed,
In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.

Paul DOES refer to the resurrection of the dead here, but he uses the word nekros (dead), not the word thnetos (mortal) to describe the bodies being raised – and the bodies are raised (egeiro) – see above – not quickened (zoopoieo).

So we see that Paul himself uses 2 different words when he describes the raising of dead bodies here as opposed to the 2 words in Romans 8:11 when he describes the quickening of live bodies.

In summary, Romans 8:11 does indeed use a word (egeiro) that explicitly refers to resurrection of a dead body – twice! But “quicken” is NOT one of those places! So one could say that the objector is technically correct about Romans 8:11 as a whole (because a word for resurrection does appear there twice), but he has missed it when it comes to the real subject at hand, which is the word translated quicken, which is a different Greek word.

Objection: 1 John 3:8 in Context Refers to SIN, Not Sickness

1 John 3:8:

He that committeth sin is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that he might destroy the works of the devil.

I would agree that the beginning of this verse talks about SIN, and I would also agree that based on this verse, SIN is a work of the devil that Jesus came to destroy.

The only thing is, the verse does not qualify “works of the devil” as being ONLY sin. He came to destroy “the works of the devil” as opposed to “the work of the devil” or “sin, the work of the devil.” So I would disagree that sickness could not be included in the meaning of this verse.

Acts 10:38 shows us that Jesus was anointed with the Holy Spirit and power and that He went around doing good, healing all those who were under the slavery-style domination of the devil (you can refer elsewhere for more on the specific meaning of the word oppressed as translated in the King James Version). So it should be obvious that sickness, a work of the devil, is something that Jesus came to destroy. You see Him destroying the devil’s works throughout the four gospels, and then later, through His Body, the Church. In fact, if you don’t want to get this truth from 1 John 3:8, you can get it elsewhere in Scripture anyway.

However, many faith teachers today don’t mention the sin context of this verse, so you can at least thank the objector for pointing out that Jesus wants SIN destroyed in your life along with the other “works of the devil” that include sickness.

Objection: 1 Corinthians 6:19-20 Is about Avoiding Fornication and Should Not Be Used As a Healing Proof-Text

I agree that the main theme of the latter part of 1 Corinthians 6 is avoiding fornication. At least 4 verses specifically mention this. But there are also at least 4 verses dealing with God's ownership and redemption of your physical body. The main reason to avoid fornication is this truth that our bodies have been bought with a price (verse 20) and are members of Christ (verse 15). We must avoid fornication because Christ himself assumed legal ownership of our bodies when we were born again. We also see that the Lord is for the body (verse 13), not neutral or uncaring about it or against it.

If the Lord is for the body (which He is), how can we conclude that He might want the body that He is "for" to be sick? God is for your body, not against it. Why would God want a member of Christ to be sick? Why would He want "the temple of the Holy Ghost" (verse 19) to be falling apart? He was very particular about His Old Testament temple being in order. He surely wants His New Testament temple to be in order, too.

Consider the fact in verse 13 that the body is for the Lord. If your body is wasting away with a debilitating illness, you can't use it for the Lord. You cannot go on mission trips. You cannot go preach the gospel or even serve at your local church to build up the body of Christ. Given that our bodies are to be used for the Lord, what use would it be to God if that body could not be used in His service? What a waste.

In verse 20, Paul tells us to glorify God with our bodies. How much glory does God, who calls Himself The Lord Who Heals You (Exodus 15:26), get, if you get sick and stay that way, or even die? Is that any way to glorify God with your body? Apply this test: Will anyone look at your sick or dying (or dead) body and begin to give glory to God because of it? No one but a nut or an unbelief-book author would do that. How much glory does God get when He says that He heals you if you aren't up and about? That just makes it appear to the world that He ISN'T The Lord Who Heals You.

The Gospels plainly state that Christ's glory was manifested when he did miracles, not by people staying sick and dying. The glory of God was manifested when Lazarus was raised from the dead, not through his sickness and death.

Read Healing and God's Glory for more discussion about exactly how God is glorified in people's bodies. You will see that it is healing and health that glorify Him, not sickness.

Objection: John 14:12 Was Fulfilled in the Ministry of the Apostles

John 14:12-14:

Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father.

And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son.

If ye shall ask any thing in my name, I will do it.

Given that JESUS said it was “He that believeth on me,” it seems rather silly to restrict this prediction to the apostles. This statement is clearly for anyone who believes in Jesus, not just selected ones for a limited time.

Looking at the context in the next two verses, does anyone seriously think that those promises were only for the apostles and not for all believers? There is nothing in this entire passage that indicates any restriction other than being a believer.

Stephen and Philip were never apostles, yet they did signs and wonders. An unknown disciple named Ananias laid hands on Saul of Tarsus so that he would stop being blind and be filled with the Holy Spirit. Furthermore, Jesus said “These signs shall follow them that believe...” instead of “These signs shall follow apostles at the beginning of the Church Age.” This confirms that what He said here was for all believers.

Paul talked about how God did miracles among the Galatians without specifying whom He was using to do them (Galatians 3:5-6).

Paul noted that the Corinthians “came behind in no gift” and the gifts he mentioned in the same letter included gifts of healings, working of miracles, and special faith. He never specified who was being used in those gifts, but he obviously wasn’t referring to himself. So believers in Corinth were doing miracles too, and they couldn’t all have been apostles, given that Paul even asked rhetorically, “Are all apostles?” (1 Corinthians 12:29).

Certainly the apostles confirmed John 14:12 by their actions, but the fulfillment was not limited to them.

Objection: There WERE Feeble People among Israel's Tribes (Deuteronomy 25:17-18), So We Cannot Use Psalm 105:37 to Claim that None Should Be Feeble Today

Psalm 105:37:

He brought them forth also with silver and gold: and there was not one feeble person among their tribes.

Deuteronomy 25:17-18:

Remember what Amalek did unto thee by the way, when ye were come forth out of Egypt; How he met thee by the way, and smote the hindmost of thee, even all that were feeble behind thee, when thou wast faint and weary; and he feared not God.

Does Scripture contradict itself?

Of course not – there were no feeble people in Israel when Israel came out of Egypt. They DID experience the biggest mass healing in history after partaking of the Passover, which symbolized Christ. Obviously, the verse in Deuteronomy refers to a slightly later time (only a few chapters), and by then, there WERE feeble people in Israel. What happened in the meantime?

There had been murmuring and complaining against Moses. The people had already accused him of bringing them out to die of hunger in Exodus 16. Then they accused him of bringing them out to die of thirst in Exodus 17. The Amalekites showed up later in Exodus 17. This would appear to be what Deuteronomy 25:17-18 refers to as a past event.

Before all the complaining, in Exodus 15:26, God promised health if Israel hearkened to His voice and obeyed Him. Unfortunately, Israel stopped trusting in God and turned to complaining. So while they were obedient, they enjoyed perfect health without a single feeble person, but that changed when their hearts changed. (They couldn't say that God hadn't warned them.)

So aside from the obvious fact that Scripture can't contradict itself, the timing of the events shows that the two passages do not apply to exactly the same point in time. So we have no reason to doubt that the miraculous health that Israel received after partaking of the Passover wasn't real.

See also:

Objection: Some Who Get Healed at Healing Crusades Don't Keep Their Healings

Objection: If Everyone Could Perform Miracles, Paul's Signs of an Apostle Would Be Meaningless – He'd Be Just Like Everyone Else

True apostles can be expected to flow in “signs, wonders and mighty deeds” (2 Corinthians 12:12) to a greater extent than normal believers. (A true apostle is identified by these signs, not by business cards that say Apostle on them, which are often carried by fake apostles.) Indeed, otherwise they WOULD be like everyone else.

Where the objector is missing it is that he assumes that an ONLY an apostle could perform miracles. We would expect healings and miracles to be more prevalent in an apostle's ministry than in a typical believer's life given that there are “signs of an apostle” (2 Corinthians 12:12). However, that doesn't mean that a normal believer can't do the works of Jesus, which Jesus said that anyone who believes could do (John 14:12). He may not do them as often, but he probably will not encounter the same number of needs on a regular basis that would appear before an apostle either.

Jesus made it clear that “he who believes” would cast out demons and lay hands on the sick, who would then recover (Mark 16:17-18). While an apostle would do this more, it does not negate that fact that any believer can do it. I don't believe that Jesus lied about this matter.

Actually, even unbelievers could do “miracles in Jesus' name” (Matthew 7:21-23) although at the judgement Jesus would tell them to depart from Him because they never knew Him. Moreover, the disciples were not even born again yet when they did miracles when Jesus commissioned them to heal the sick when He sent them out during His earthly ministry.

Likewise, some believers will be used in “gifts of healings” and “miracles” in a special way, as Paul told the Corinthians (1 Corinthians 12:8-11). Apostles would typically be in this category. That doesn't mean that a normal believer can't lay hands on the sick and see them recover. However, when the “gifts” manifest, it is not unusual to see weak believers and unbelievers receive miracles without their faith being involved. Under normal circumstances, the person being ministered to needs to cooperate and believe, but special manifestations are basically “freebies” that don't have to involve the faith of the recipient. Indeed, the miracles done through the gift of “faith” will exceed the normal operating faith of the person doing the ministry as well! One need not an apostle to be used in the gifts, but an apostle would be used that way more often, as well as anyone else whom God uses in the “power gifts” (healings, miracles, faith).

One could ask, because “apostle” is separate from “gifts of healings” and “miracles” in 1 Corinthians 12:28-30, doesn't that mean that an apostle would be a DIFFERENT person from the ones flowing in healings and miracles? No, the ministries of the apostles in Scripture show that they flowed in both of these areas.

See also:

Objection: If ALL Could Do Miracles, Christians Would Not Have Summoned Peter to Raise Dorcas from the Dead

Objection: If ALL Could Perform Miracles, Christians Would Not Have Summoned Peter to Raise Dorcas from the Dead

Acts 9:36-42

Why didn't the believers just raise Dorcas themselves rather than call for Peter? This isn't hard to explain.

Not ALL believers will perform apostle-level miracles. The objector is missing the fact that while the normal believer is told that he can lay hands on the sick and they will recover, there is no promise for the normal believer that he can lay hands on the DEAD and they will rise.

Raising the dead requires a special manifestation of the Holy Spirit, which is not something that you can just claim by faith. It is as the Spirit wills. Thus, one would not expect that a normal believer would have raised Dorcas. People recognized the special apostolic gifting on Peter and summoned him because they realized that he was the kind of person that God would use to raise a dead person given his ministry office of apostle. An apostle flows more in gifts of healings, miracles and (special) faith more than most people. A person who isn't an apostle could ON OCCASION raise a dead person, and there are cases of that. But it still made sense to call for someone who was used to do mighty miracles on a more consistent basis.

Objection: Anointing with Oil in James Is Intended to Be Medicinal

This is another one of those go-read-your-Bible-for-crying-out-loud objections.

Someone based this on the (supposed) fact that the word for anoint means to smear or rub in, and that in effect the sick person was to be given a massage with oil. This word can be demonstrated to be used in a different context in the Greek Septuagint (where it does mean anoint as we would do it as opposed to smearing all over in one instance). However, I don't consider it necessary to prove that, given the obvious English in the passage in James.

James 5:15 plainly states, "The prayer of faith shall save the sick." It is the praying in faith, not the oil, that does the job. Then we see, "The Lord shall raise him up." James did not say that the oil massage would raise the person up – it is the Lord's doing, not the oil's doing. This should be obvious to anyone with any sense who is not reading through religion-colored goggles.

Because James 5:14-15 covers instructions for "any sick" (including "incurable" cases), does it make sense that merely putting oil on any sick person, even an incurable one, without the prayer of faith, would heal him? If oil could cure incurable diseases, sinners would already be selling it by the tanker load to hospitals, which could then mark it up astronomically and rebill it to the patients using a cryptic name such as Viscous Healing Enabling Substance on the invoice (using the same logic that was used to bill a box of Kleenex for $11 as a "Disposable Mucus Recovery System"), thus becoming almost as profitable as the 3-question pop-your-head-in visits from doctors that are somehow billed at steep prices as Comprehensive Examinations. Everyone would be buying oil instead of the latest "superfood" concoctions. Instead of Deceptive Weird Eastern Religion Healing and Wellness Centers, there would be Secular Oil Message Healing Centers, and they'd make a fortune. If the objector is serious, he can start the first one and see how far he gets.

Given that James's instructions are for "any" sick, not just the sick with curable conditions, you would have to prove that an oil massage can cure an otherwise incurable ailment. Otherwise, "any" sick would not be healed, and the oil must not be medicinal after all.

The last gasp for the objector is what the Good Samaritan did:

Luke 10:34:

And went to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine, and set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him.

This could be presented as additional proof that oil can be medicinal. But even if we assume that oil does have some kind of therapeutic value for wounds if you pour it in, it would be hard to see how oil would be the cure for internal bleeding, diabetes, high blood pressure, colon cancer, or most other ailments.

James was not advocating aromatherapy or massage treatments. It was the prayer of faith, not the oil, that got the job done.

Objection: James Set Patient Endurance of Sickness as the New Testament Standard for Believers (James 5:10-11)

James 5:10-11:

Take, my brethren, the prophets, who have spoken in the name of the Lord, for an example of suffering affliction, and of patience.

Behold, we count them happy which endure. Ye have heard of the patience of Job, and have seen the end of the Lord; that the Lord is very pitiful, and of tender mercy.

It is too bad that the objector did not read down three more verses and see what James' actual New Testament standard was for a seriously ill believer. He was to call for the elders of the church to anoint him with oil, pray the prayer of faith over him, and have the Lord raise him up! He was NOT told to endure and be happy while having the patience of Job!

The affliction mentioned in verse 10 above is not sickness; it is persecution for speaking for the Lord. You cannot seriously think that getting a canker sore in your mouth is suffering affliction for speaking in the name of the Lord. That's not what James is talking about! The people who were happy who endured were those who continued speaking in the name of the Lord regardless of what they went through! I have been accused of being a cult leader by churches, but I've continued speaking the word of the Lord to the best of my ability regardless of the flak I've gotten for it.

To say that mere patience is the standard is to miss the point of verse 11 as well. You are supposed to see the "end of the Lord" and how merciful He is, remembering that He had mercy on Job and healed him! This was a matter of mercy, not faith, as Job was not in faith by any stretch of the imagination. But he got healed anyway! God's mercy is what is being magnified in this verse, and any Christian would benefit by remembering God's great mercy. Mercy follows you every day (Psalm 23:6); His mercies are new every morning (Lamentations 3:22-23).

This is one of a number of cases where the verse used by the objector can be turned around and used as a healing verse instead of a stay-sick verse!

Objection: Elders Should Anoint the Sick with Oil but Leave the Results to Our Sovereign God

Any elders who “leave the results to our sovereign God” are violating the very passage in question (James 5:14-15), where it is stated that the prayer of faith, not the prayer of petition, will save (heal) the sick person. The prayer of faith NEVER leaves anything up to God. Instead, it acts in agreement with God’s Word – His already-known will.

By its very definition, the prayer of faith can only be prayed when you know for sure that you are asking in accordance with God’s will. No “sovereignly-made” exceptions for some sick people are provided for here. No matter who it is, if the person has requested anointing with oil by the elders, the elders are to believe that the Lord will raise the person up. After all, that is what God said: The prayer of faith WILL save the sick person and the Lord WILL raise him up. What if he’s sinned? The Lord will forgive him, so his sin won’t stop him from getting healed.

There is nothing indefinite in James’s instructions. God, in His sovereignty, has already given His Word to us that the practice He commands here will work. That is our basis for praying in faith. Now it is up to us to believe and act on God’s clear instructions.

Objection: James's Command about What to Do with the Sick Proves that We CAN Get Sick

By this reasoning, the Bible proves that we CAN sin, because it contains instructions on what to do if you sin. (Repent!) That does not prove that you HAVE TO sin. The argument carries no more weight when you apply it to healing.

Paul's admonition in 1 Corinthians 5:11-13 not to even eat with any so-called brother who is sexually immoral, a railer, etc., proves that you can sin in these ways. Like James, Paul tells you what to do. That doesn't mean that he considers those sins to be the will of God! He is just telling you what to do in a situation that is NOT the will of God.

Yes, believers do get sick sometimes. Thank God, James gives us a command (that is just as mandatory as baptism, communion, the Great Commission, or any other command in the New Testament) that the seriously ill should call for the elders of the church to pray the prayer of faith over them. Failure to do this is disobedience. James already talked about it being sin to know what to do and not do it at the end of the previous chapter (James 4:17).

Note, however, that James said what to do IF there is any sick among you. No one needs to be sick, but if someone gets seriously ill and can't make it to church, James commands that the prayer of faith be made for the person's healing in person at that person's request. The fact that the prayer of faith can be prayed is proof that healing is in the Word. Since faith comes by hearing the Word, there would be no basis for praying the prayer of faith if healing were not covered by God's promises and statements of fact.

It amazes me that religious people harp on the "you can get sick" part and fail to harp on the "if you get sick God will raise you up" part of this passage. James said that the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up. Why not major on that? You don't HAVE TO get sick. You CAN get sick, just as you can sin, but you CAN get healed, too!

Objection: James's Command Makes It Clear that We Should Expect to Be Sick, then Healed, then Sick, then Healed, Not Always Healthy

An objector wrote that because James wrote instructions for the sick, we should all expect to be sick, then healed, then sick, then healed, as part of normal life, rather than expecting to live in "divine health."

The objection does carry a little weight in light of James 5:16, where if believers are "real" with each other and pray for each other, they can expect to be healed. It is clear, therefore, as the objector says, that we may get sick. It is equally clear that it is not the will of God for us to be sick, because you are supposed to get healed when you are prayed over. Remember that James 5:16 also talks about confessing our shortcomings to each other. I think it is a fair statement that you are going to sin, and so am I. That does not make sin the will of God. You can sin, get forgiven, sin, get forgiven, etc., throughout your life, just as you can get sick, then healed, then sick, then healed, and so on. That does not make sickness the will of God for you any more it makes sin the will of God for you. You don't have to sin. Sin is a deliberate choice to be out of the will of God. You don't have to get sick, either, but there are instructions on what to do if you do get sick.

Note that James 5:14-16 mainly refers to an invalid. James is talking about someone who is so sick he cannot go to church on his own. He has to call for the elders, not go to the elders. The elders are to pray over him (implying that he is bedfast) and the prayer of faith will raise him up (also implying that he is bedfast). These are instructions for the seriously ill. This is also clear from the fact that James said that this was what to do if there were any among you in this condition. You would probably not find a congregation of more than a handful of people today where someone did not have some kind of physical problem, but most of them would not have the kind of serious problem that James addresses.

It is clearly not God's will for all of us to be critically ill, bedfast and unable to go to church, then to get healed when the elders come, then to lapse back into a helpless state, then to get healed when the elders come again, and so on. The poor elders! I would not want to be an elder in a church that considers this normal!

Just as it is God's will for us not to sin, it is God's will for us not to be sick. This is clear from many Scripture passages quoted in this book. God wants you to prosper and be in health, not simply get healed (3 John 2). There is no indication that Gaius was sick. It is God's explicit will for no plague to come nigh your dwelling (see Psalm 91), let alone get in your body and require you to be healed. In fact, these Scriptures alone are enough to refute the objection by themselves.

Jesus, our perfect example, did not sin and did not get sick. That should be our goal. If we fall short of this, we should pick ourselves up and keep pressing toward the goal (Philippians 3:13). Rather than considering our bodies (Romans 4:19) or the sick bodies of others who do not believe in healing, we should consider Jesus, the Author and Finisher of our faith (Hebrews 12:2).

Even this objection itself shoots itself in the foot as an argument against divine healing, because it assumes that you will get healed periodically, which still beats staying sick or dying.

Objection: James 5 in Context Speaks of a Believer Who Has Sinned and Spiritual Healing

James 5:15 cannot refer to a believer who has sinned because James said that if the sick person has sinned, he will be forgiven. But the believer receives total forgiveness for ALL sins the instant he is born again. He can't possibly be forgiven when the elders show up because he's already forgiven! (For a LOT of proof of this fact, which is unknown by most of the church world, see What 1 John 1:9 Really Means.)

This objection got going because someone thought that "The prayer of faith shall save the sick" means that the sick person will be forgiven from sins (saved) instead of healed. The very context disproves this, because the Lord will "raise up" the person. This does not mean that He will levitate a forgiven sinner – it clearly means that he will raise the sick person up from his sickbed. Besides, the word save is used in Luke 18:42 of healing from blindness ("Thy faith hath saved thee"). In fact, this Greek word sozo is also used about a dozen other times in contexts that unmistakably refer to physical healing. (See the topic, Saved! for a list of them.)

This objection carries no weight, because even if the person has sinned, God will heal him anyway because of his obedience to honor the Lord's command to call for the elders. So, what are we proving? James says that if you did sin or if you didn't sin, God would heal you in either case, and the prayer of faith by the elders would raise you up in either case. Thank God, you can be healed! God, through James, says so!

Of course, a study of the New Testament Scriptures on healing will prove to you that there is no such thing as spiritual healing anyway. Your spirit is born again, not healed, when you receive Jesus Christ, and from that point on, your spirit does not need to be healed! It's already created after the image of God in righteousness and true holiness (Ephesians 4:24).

You can see the goodness and forbearance of God in operation here. Even if you have sinned against Him and gotten sick as a result, God will still heal you when you follow these instructions. God is truly merciful and quick to forgive!

Objection: The Word HEALED in James 5:16 Clearly Refers to SOULISH Healing

Wrong! The Greek word iaomai used in James 5:16 is used of physical healing in many places in the New Testament. So there is no basis (other than a predisposition by the objector) for asserting that it must mean “soulis” healing in James 5:16. If you’re still not convinced, read “Healed” Defined for a list of places in the Bible where that same word iaomai is used, and see what conclusion you draw!

Objection: Faith Teachers Say to HEAL the Sick, but James Said to PRAY for Them

James 5:16:

Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much.

This is admittedly an extremely difficult Scripture, as it seems to contradict other things found in other places. The objector figures that he has untangled it and he concludes that James said that we should pray for each other's healing, in contrast to Jesus' instructions to HEAL the sick, not PRAY FOR the sick. So who's right? Or has there been a dispensation change and now we have to pray for the sick after all?

The problem is that the objector is reading something into this verse that the verse itself does not support. James says that we should confess our faults to each other and pray for each other, and the result of that is that we will be healed. But James did NOT actually say that we should pray for each other's healing the way the objector thinks that he did.

In other words, the objector's reading is:

"Confess your faults one to another"

"Pray one for another to be healed"

while it appears that the idea of the text should be:

"Confess your faults to one another and pray one for another."

"When you do this, you will be healed."

I checked a number of other translations and could not even find one of them that hinted that the King James comma between "pray for one another" and "that you may be healed" was a mistake. So it seems that the exhortation is to admit your shortcomings to each other and pray for each other, and people will get healed as a result. If they do, they won't be the first. Job was healed when he prayed for HIS friends.

There is certainly NO basis to make this out to say:

"Confess your faults to each other and pray to God that He will heal the other people among you."

which is probably what more traditional people think it means, although they will further ruin things by saying that the healing is spiritual.

This may seem like a minor distinction, but I need to bring up another minor distinction, because the objection itself is actually quite misleading. It gives the impression that I, a faith person, will endeavor to heal the sick, but I will not pray for the sick. That is not true! I will not pray to ask God to heal the sick, if that is your idea of praying for the sick. That would be wrong. God, in His mind, has already healed the sick by sending Jesus, by whose stripes you were physically healed (1 Peter 2:24). So I do not petition God to do something about anyone's sickness. But I DO pray for sick people; the only thing is that my prayer is more like Paul's prayers. "Lord, show So-and-So what you've already done about his healing. Give him real revelation on that topic. Let him know that you love him enough to heal him." That IS praying for the sick; it just isn't the kind of useless praying for the sick that goes on in most churches. ("Now we lift up Aunt Sarah to you for healing, and we 'remember' Uncle Philip and all other people that we have unspoken prayer requests for tonight.")

My best take on this verse is that if you're stuck in pride and selfishness, it will be hard for you to be healed. If you're willing to admit your failures (which helps eliminate pride) and pray for other people (which helps eliminate selfishness), you are setting yourself with a much better mindset to receive healing. After all, James had gotten through telling you a chapter ago that God resists the proud but exalts the humble. Being proud will get in your way, but being humble will make it easier for you to receive. A proud person often resorts to his track record to justify being healed, while a humble person will realize that what Jesus did was 100% grace and he can receive healing on that basis.

It would seem to be that James urges confessing of sins to others to get help. This certainly doesn't mean to tell the whole church everything you're doing wrong. You don't want them to know everything you're doing wrong and they probably don't want to know it all either. But you can find someone to admit your struggles to, and the mere act of admitting that you're struggling in an area could close some doors to the devil, who'd love for you to keep everything all bottled up and think that you're the only person who has ever lived who had to deal with your particular weak area.

The next part about praying for one another would seem to complement this first thought. When people share their struggles with others, those others should pray for the ones with the struggles. The result of all this will be an atmosphere of mutual support where it will be easier to receive healing.

If you confess to me that you're having a struggle, my part isn't to phone the supermarket tabloids about it so that your story can run next week right under the one that says "Woman Gives Birth to Her Own Mother!" My part would be to PRAY FOR YOU. If we all did that, we would be in a much better position to be healed, as we would not be carting around secret bags of shame that we don't want anyone else to know about. We would be living freer, and thus in a better position to receive healing.

As pointed out elsewhere, the Bible does not teach that you can confess your sins to get saved or confess your sins to get forgiven. (If you think that the Bible DOES teach that, please read What 1 John 1:9 Really Means to clear up the common misunderstanding of that verse.) So it doesn't make sense to me that you could confess your sins to get healed, either. I don't think that could be what James had in mind.

But suppose that you don't like my explanation and you insist on taking out the comma in question to make this verse end with "pray for one another that you may be healed." That is how most people would understand the verse. In other words, they think that James said, "Pray for one another's healings." But even then, this verse would still be a healing verse instead of a stay-sick verse. (There aren't any real stay-sick verses, by the way.) If that were really what God were exhorting here, then He would HAVE TO honor that prayer. Surely God would not COMMAND you to pray for something and then not answer the prayer after you were obedient to pray it! That would be like God COMMANDING telling you to pray for those in authority but then refusing to answer the very prayer He commanded you to pray. So this would be yet another way to get healed, not a way to stay sick! So it just doesn't work as an OBJECTION to healing in general.

Objection: James's Command Was for the Dispersed Jews, Not All Christians throughout Time

Isn't it ironic that the people who quote James 1:2-4 about falling into diverse trials never stop to think whether that applies to you? (That passage gets quoted a lot by unbelief teachers.) Yet the statement has been made that James was just talking to the Jews about praying over the sick. If so, why read the book of James anyway if you're not a Jew? Why does one part apply and not another?

One objector went so far as to claim that James means that the sick should call for the elders of the synagogue. This is just plain ridiculous when the Greek word ekklesia is used for "church" in James 5:14. While ekklesia can refer to any assembly of people in the Greek, including an unruly mob in Acts 19:41 ("And when he had thus spoken, he dismissed the assembly [ekklesia]."), it is the word used throughout the New Testament to refer to the church – it refers to the church 115 times, to an assembly 3 times, and NEVER to a synagogue! Some people have gone the other way and made a doctrine about ekklesia having to mean the ruling group in an area, which supposedly means that the church should rule the area, but the ungodly mob in Acts 19:41 was not the ruling group in the area, and the word ekklesia simply means assembly. If Paul could really dominate areas with his "apostolic authority" over them (as some teach in error today), he would surely have put a stop to all the vicious persecution that he endured, and he would have stopped the Caesars from doing all the bad things that they were famous for, stopped all the idolatrous temple worship in Athens and Ephesus, and so on.

If James were just written to the "twelve tribes scattered abroad," as it is addressed, then Paul's letter to the Galatians only applied to the Galatians, the letter to the Romans only applied to the Romans, only Timothy had to be gentle instead of quarrelsome, only the Philippians could trust God to supply all their needs, only Gaius should prosper and be in health, only the Ephesians sat with Christ in the heavenlies, and so on. What an absurd notion!

James made it clear that he was talking about the "last days" (James 5:1-6), which definitely applies to the time we live in as well as the time they lived in.

No one would preach this ridiculous objection unless he were looking to a way to explain why James's clear command to the sick to be prayed over and raised up does not apply today. The only way around this clear command of Scripture is to say it was only for some, not all. If you apply this illogic, you can conclude that almost nothing in the whole Bible applies to you personally. That is not rightly dividing the word of truth. Of course, if this objector's logic were true, only Timothy would have to rightly divide the word of truth, so the objector wouldn't have to do so – which would be fortunate for him, seeing as he didn't.

The final nail in the coffin for this objection is that the sick were supposed to call for the elders of the church (James 5:14), not the synagogue! So of course the audience had to include church members, even though some of the recipients were unsaved based on the context.

Objection: James Said that the Prayer of Faith Would SAVE the Sick, Not HEAL the Sick

This objection seems ridiculous, because right after James said this, he said, “And the Lord shall raise him up” (James 5:15). So the sick person would obviously be cured of his sickness. What is there to debate?

The objector’s answer is that the use of the word SAVE (Greek sozo) rather than the more specific word HEAL (iaomai) proves that James was talking about soulish sicknesses, not physical sicknesses. He may also try to convince you that the word for sick in James 5:14, asthenia, CAN be used to denote mere weakness (which IS a true statement, by the way) and therefore James is just talking about someone who feels weak, not someone who must have a disease. Furthermore, he could pile on the fact that the Greek word for sick (kamno) in James 5:15 means faint or weary in the only 2 other places it appears in the Bible. So perhaps we can’t dismiss this quite as easily as we first thought, but we still can disprove this objection.

For starters, the Greek word sozo refers both to salvation in general and physical healing – see the topic Saved! for proof of this.

Would any Bible scholar seriously argue that a sinner can have hands laid on him by the elders in order to be saved from hell? If you believe that saved only means saved in the traditional sense, you would have to go along with that.

Being weary or faint is certainly a symptom of many physical illnesses, so this doesn’t disprove that a physical illness is involved.

If you were suffering from a soulish problem only, you could just GO to the elders of the church – you would not have to summon them to come to you. It would not make a lot of sense to say that the Lord would “raise you up” from a soulish sickness. When James says that the sick will be raised, the Greek word is egeiro, which also appears in Matthew 8:14-15 and Mark 1:30-31 where Peter’s mother-in-law arose (Matthew) and when Jesus raised up Peter’s mother-in-law (Mark). It refers to raising the dead in Matthew 10:7-8 and Matthew 11:4-5. It is the word Jesus used when He told the paralytic to “Arise, take up your bed and walk” (Mark 2:2-12). The word indicates something or someone being RAISED, which includes Jesus being raised from the dead. I could cite many other examples. So this is definitely a word used to describe PHYSICAL raising up, not some kind of internal improvement from a “soulish” sickness or weakness.

Objection: James Said to Call for the Elders (a Private Situation), Not to Go to a Public Healing Meeting

This objection argues that any sick person should get private ministry from the elders based on what James said. However, this is clearly contrary to Scripture, and it would wear out the elders in short order! (This objection comes from a website that serves a denomination that does not believe that healing is in the atonement, but rather that every healing case is up to God's sovereign will, as the objector also states.)

First, the context in James makes it clear that this is only for a very sick person who is bedridden and can't get out on his own. "The Lord shall raise him up" could only apply to someone who needs to be raised up! (For more proof of that from the underlying Greek, read Objection: James Said that the Prayer of Faith Would SAVE the Sick, Not HEAL the Sick.)

Second, God put "gifts of healings" in the church, often going with the evangelist's office, and the evangelist is seldom a church elder. So this objection would have us waste ministry giftings by insisting that only the local church elders should minister to the sick. (The denomination in question teaches that such gifts passed away, but that is handled elsewhere.) This is tantamount to saying that the Biblical office of evangelist has been done away with so that everyone can get private healing ministry.

Third, this idea contradicts Jesus' clear statement that believers ("those who believe") will lay hands on the sick and see them recover (Mark 16:18). Few believers will become church elders, and their ability to lay hands on the sick successfully will be completely thwarted if only elders can "pray over" the sick.

Fourth, multitudes were healed in public situations during and after Jesus' earthly ministry. Peter did not insist that the sick people on the streets in Jerusalem call for the elders to be anointed with oil – he just got them all healed right out in public! The healing of the crippled beggar at the Beautiful Gate was a public miracle. Most of Jesus' miracles were done in public as the crowds came to hear Him and be healed of their diseases.

If anyone cannot make it to church or a meeting, he can call for the elders as James said. Otherwise, the person should head to church, a healing rally, or wherever the sick are being ministered to in the name of Jesus.

Objection: James Did Not Teach that Healing Was in the Atonement in His Instructions

It's implicit.

Think about this for a minute – James said that the prayer of faith would save the sick person. That means that the elders MUST pray in faith for this to work. Faith in what?

You can only pray in faith when you KNOW God's will. Otherwise you're just presenting a petition. There's a place for that in intercession for others, but to pray the prayer of faith, you have to KNOW God's will before praying. You can only know God's will if you have a definite statement or promise from Him. If you don't know His will, you'll pray a beggy, pleddy prayer of unbelief and get nothing – but James already told you that four chapters earlier (James 1:5-8).

So how would the elders know God's will? Would they have to pray and ask the Holy Spirit if He wants to heal this particular person? No, because God said that He WOULD raise up the sick person. Even if he is wrapped up in sin, he will be forgiven and he STILL be raised up if at least he calls for the elders and they pray the prayer of faith over him as they anoint him with oil.

If healing were not in the atonement, the elders would have no right to minister it "in the name of the Lord." How could they do it in the name of the Lord if the Lord had not already done everything necessary to provide it? When Jesus ministered, He certainly did not ask the Holy Spirit on a case-by-case basis which of the people who came to Him could be healed. So when we minister in His name, we should not do things differently from the way that He did them.

Also, not every gospel writer wrote about healing being in the atonement, but that doesn't invalidate it. The plan of salvation isn't in the book of Jude. Do all authors have to write about it to make it true? How many authors in the Bible must write about something to make it the truth? The obvious answer should be one, and Isaiah's statements are more than enough to make the case.

Objection: If You Were Already Healed (Past Tense), It Would Make No Sense to Call for the Elders to GET Healing

On the contrary, if you were NOT already healed (past tense) in the legal sense, it would make no sense to call for the elders to GET healing because they would not be able to pray the prayer of FAITH! If the elders could not be SURE that healing was the legal right of the person being anointed, they could not pray the prayer of FAITH – they would have to pray a prayer of PETITION to ask God to do it, which is emphatically not what James commanded! If it were a prayer of petition, James would have to have said, “And the prayer of petition will save the sick if it be God’s will, and the Lord will raise him up, if it be His will.” There is NO WAY you can construe James’s words to mean that!

The objector is confusing the legal status of your healing (past tense – it belongs to you NOW as far as God is concerned) and seeing that played out in your body, which is the point of calling for the elders.

To cite a parallel example, Jesus is the Lamb of God who takes away the sins of the world (John 1:29). EVERYONE’s sins have been punished, so EVERYONE has the right to be forgiven, be born again, and go to heaven. LEGALLY the whole matter is past tense. But not everyone will EXPERIENCE what is legally theirs and available through faith in Jesus. Sadly, many will perish in the flames even though they could have received the paid-for gift of righteousness and been saved.

The objector, to be consistent with his logic, would have to say, “If Jesus really WAS the propitiation for the sins of the entire world (1 John 2:2), it would make no sense to answer an altar call or call on Jesus in the privacy of your home to be saved.” You can see the error when you frame it in terms of salvation, yet healing works the same way. It’s paid for legally but it has to be received.

Objection: Jesus Said It Is Better to Enter Heaven with One Eye or Hand than to Go to Hell

Yes, He did say that, and it's certainly true! But you don't have to choose between the two options! It's even BETTER to enter heaven after having had two good eyes and two good hands.

Matthew 5:29-30:

And if thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

And if thy right hand offend thee, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

This has nothing to do with sickness coming on you. It is a statement about the awfulness of hell and an exhortation to avoid offenses at all costs. Hell is so bad that you would be better living with one eye or hand than to go there. However, it is even better to have two eyes and two hands and go to heaven than to have one eye and one hand and go there.

Please understand that the Jews to whom this was addressed were not new creatures in Christ. They were under the Law of Moses and they were still sinners by nature. As a New Testament believer, you are not a sinner by nature. You are created after God in righteousness and true holiness (Ephesians 4:24). You do not have to resort to some drastic measure to stop sinning. You simply need to walk in the Spirit so that you do not fulfill the lusts of the flesh (Galatians 5:16).

Nobody in the New Testament literally maimed himself to stop sinning, so you shouldn't either. But unless you do, the statements about having one eye or one hand do not apply to you. They most certainly do not apply to people who have lost an eye or hand in an accident or were born with only one good eye or hand. Yes, it's better to have one good eye or hand than to go to hell, but that isn't what Jesus meant here. He was stressing the drastic lengths you should go to in order to avoid temptation. (For example, if you can't handle the temptation to watch the sleaze channels at a hotel, you can ask the hotel to disconnect your TV.) So don't accept your sickness and say, "Better to be sick and go to heaven than to be well and go to hell." You would be right, but it is even better – and GOD'S WILL –for you to be WELL and go to heaven, and not go there before you live a full life!

Objection: “Claiming” Your Healing Is an Arrogant Attempt to Twist God’s Arm

Then shame on you for “making” God renew your spirit and let you into heaven, which He did when you claimed the forgiveness that was available to you. God did not do a new sacrificial work for you. You just claimed something that was waiting for you. You arm-twister, you!

There is nothing arrogant about receiving something that is already yours as far as God is concerned. Peter writes that your healing is in the past tense (1 Peter 2:24). In God’s eyes, it is rightfully yours because Jesus paid for it. You are simply receiving something that God has already decided to give you.

Suppose I walk into my bank. I tell the teller that I want to withdraw some money from my account. Then the teller says, “You’re mighty arrogant, aren’t you? Are you trying to twist my arm?” The tellers don’t say that at my bank! (They were a little bit like that at a previous bank. The ATM had a better personality than they did. They acted inconvenienced that a customer would appear at their windows and make them work, but even they never called me arrogant or accused me of arm-twisting when I made a withdrawal. I was simply getting out what was already mine. In that case, I took out EVERYTHING that was already mine and went to another bank where the tellers acted like they actually wanted to serve customers.)

Why do you think that God provided healing for you by the stripes of Jesus? So that you could sit there and act falsely humble and stay sick? Of course not! Jesus was not wasting His time when He was lashed! His body was torn up so that your body would not have to be torn up. He deposited healing into your heavenly bank account. You have the right to make a withdrawal at any time. That’s why God put it there!

You aren’t twisting God’s arm because you aren’t even asking God to make a decision. He made the decision to heal you before he sent Jesus to bear OUR diseases, which by definition includes any that you may be facing right now. You are not asking God to do anything. You really aren’t as much claiming a promise as you are acting on a fact. 1 Peter 2:24 does not promise anything. It is a statement of a historical fact concerning your healing. You are acting on the facts of your covenant, not asking God to do something special for you. God already did all that He needed to do. Healing is in your account waiting for you to make a withdrawal.

God is faithful to His Word. You don’t have to “twist his arm” to get Him to honor it!

Objection: It Is More Humble to Ask for Grace than to “Claim Your Rights”

If you want to take some money out of your bank account, do you just write a check (manual or electronic) or do you go to the teller window and say, “I’m making a request for this amount of money. If you want to give it to me, that’s fine, and if you don’t, I’ll understand because I know you’re probably busy with other customers and your time is limited by your short working hours, and it’s your bank so you can make the decision to let me have it or not?”

There would be nothing “humble” about “asking” if you can have your money at the teller window. The teller would think that you were strange, because after all, it’s your money, so you have the right to access it as you please. Writing a check is claiming your right to have the bank withdraw money from your account and send it to someone. You don’t have to ask for this right; you already have it.

It is the same with healing. Jesus already deposited healing as well as every other spiritual blessing (Ephesians 1:3) into your heavenly account, so you do not have to ask God if it is okay for you to have it. It is just as much yours to have as money in your bank account. You do not need to ask God for grace that He has already given to you. What you need to do is receive by faith what God has already laid up for you.

Far from offending God, “claiming your rights” honors Him because it shows that you believe and act on His Word. “Asking” for grace that Scripture says is already yours in the case of healing dishonors Him because it shows that you do not believe what He said about what belongs to you.

If you think that “asking for grace” is humble, try praying this the next time you see some lady slithering on the floor like a snake – “Lord, I come to your throne, humbly beseeching Thee for Thy grace to make this demon leave.” I can assure you, that demon won’t go because he doesn’t have to. God have YOU authority to cast out demons (Mark 16:17). If you don’t “claim your rights” over that thing, nothing will change. God will not make it leave. You must make it leave as Paul did in Acts 16-18: “I command you to come out of her in the name of Jesus Christ.” Paul had the right to do that. He did not go to the throne of God asking for grace in that situation because that grace had already been given to him to do that.

Where would we come up with the idea of “asking for grace” anyway, seeing that every spiritual blessing is already yours in Christ (Ephesians 1:3)? The objector cites Hebrews 4:16. But a closer look at that verse shows that it disproves the very argument it is supposed to support. The verse says that you come to God’s throne to obtain mercy and find grace. You don’t have to ask God to supply grace that He didn’t already supply; you “find” grace there. That is not the same as asking for grace (humbly or otherwise). Also, the verse says that we come to “obtain” mercy. The word for obtain in the Greek (lambano) is the same word translated “receive” 133 times and “take” 106 times in the King James Version. So this is not something you’re asking God for on a humble request basis; it’s something that’s there for the taking! You don’t have to ask God to create it; you receive it. You go to God and take what He’s already laid up for you. You’re not “asking” Him to do anything new, nor do you need to do so!

Objection: Saying that Healing Depends on You Creates a New Gospel of Works

This objection came from someone who didn't like a statement I made that you don't qualify for the health and protection in Psalm 91 unless you meet the conditions of Psalm 91. The person went on to tell me that I was advocating a new gospel of works. Actually, most of God's promises are conditional and are based somewhat on your works! See God's Promises Have Conditions for ample proof of this.

God does want works from you – works of faith. Hebrews 11:6 says that without faith it is impossible to please God. Almost everything depends on you anyway. You don't get saved until you do something – believing that God raised Jesus from the dead and declaring him as Lord with your mouth. Based on this objection, the entire gospel is a gospel of works because your salvation depends on something you do!

If you want to do the works of God, Jesus told you how to do them: "Then said they unto him, What shall we do, that we might work the works of God? Jesus answered and said unto them, This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath sent." (John 6:28-29). The works of God are done by faith, not by human effort. We are not talking about the kind of works that make you earn or deserve something. The works of God are done by believing God's promises and acting on them.

You are not working for your healing. You are not doing anything to get God to heal you. You are not making a "deal" with God as so many desperate people in magazine articles have done (e.g., "God, if you just heal me, I'll never touch a drop of alcohol again."). You are not twisting God's arm. You are doing nothing to establish your own merit for healing in God's eyes.

All you are doing is receiving a gift. God has provided the gift and you are accepting it. That is the only "work" you need to do. You are just taking something that God has been freely offering to you all along. This is not works; it is simply the humility to accept a gift on God's terms without having to do any work for it.

You don't need to work for something that Jesus Christ has already paid for. All you do is receive it as a gift. It is 100% because of what Jesus did and 0% because of what you've done. Far from being a gospel that exalts the works of man, the true gospel exalts the finished work of Jesus Christ.

Objection: We Need BALANCED Teaching on Healing, Not Oversimplifications

Well, you can't argue with that statement, can you? Of course we want to be balanced and we don't want to oversimplify anything.

The problem always comes with the objector's definition of BALANCED, which is inevitably your faith balanced by his unbelief. Then there is his definition of OVERSIMPLIFICATIONS, which usually means preaching simple truth that a small child could grasp rather than making everything complicated and throwing in all kinds of if's and and's and but's about Paul's thorn and Timothy's stomach and whatever.

The gospel is not rocket science that you need a seminary degree to believe and act on. Some people just like complications because complications make those people feel superior to people who have a simpler understanding of things. The message of the gospel is not complicated – we WANT to make it as simple as possible. God is good and the devil is bad. That's simple truth.

I would maintain that we actually need less BALANCED teaching about healing and more RADICAL, UNBALANCED teaching! We need to teach that it is ALWAYS God's will to heal and that ANYONE can be healed of ANYTHING – NOW. I'm not going to balance that with the objections cited in this book, which don't hold up under scrutiny anyway. We need to teach that ALL of us should be doing the works that Jesus did and greater, because that's what He said about it. I'm not going to "balance" statements like these – what are you going to "balance" them with other than unbelief? I'm not going to complicate things either. Which part of "They shall lay hands on the sick and they shall recover" don't we get? Jesus didn't attempt to "balance" that, so neither should we.

Objection: Healing Evangelists Are Unbalanced because They Talk about Healing All the Time When There Is So Much Else in the Bible

And while we're at it, we might as well admit some other things:

Weathermen are unbalanced because they talk about the weather all the time when there is so much other news, some of which is actually important.

Cardiologists are unbalanced because they deal with heart conditions all the time when there are so many other things that could go wrong with your body.

Marriage counselors are unbalanced because they talk about marriage issues all the time when people can have so many other issues.

All specialists in any field are unbalanced because they are not general practitioners or jacks-of-all-trades.

Should we then not have specialists?

If you need inner ear surgery because you yourself are unbalanced, you probably don't mind that the ear surgeon is unbalanced because he doesn't do face lifts or set broken toes. We need people who are experts in their fields. The world needs experts in spiritual matters as well. Of course a person called to be a real evangelist will talk about healing and minister healing all the time. That's part of his job! Should an evangelist have to give extensive talks on end-time prophecies just to prove to objectors that he is balanced? No, an evangelist will talk about the plan of salvation and present the kingdom of God, including healing, to sinners.

The original objection continues, "They act like healing IS the gospel!" Well, it's certainly part and parcel of it. Why hold back ANY part of the good news when you announce the kingdom of God to the world? Paul held back nothing that was profitable (Acts 20:20), so why should we?

A SAINT can become unbalanced when he only listens to "healing evangelists" (man's term) or any other particular Bible preacher – myself included. I am not the "be all and end all" of Bible preaching and neither is anyone else. God has put different "experts" into the body for different purposes, and that is a good thing, as we can be strengthened in various areas listening to different people's God-given insights.

By the way, when I pastored, I DID talk about just about every Bible topic you could name, because my job as the pastor was to feed the sheep a balanced diet. While I love preaching faith and healing, I could not just preach on those topics every week. I preached plenty of things that the people NEEDED to hear but didn't WANT to hear. What would happen to people's love walks if you never preached on love? People need to hear about prayer, self-discipline, being led by the Spirit, fasting, overcoming the flesh, repentance, end times, and many other topics, and I preached on them all.

When you stop and really think about it, EVERY BOOK EVER WRITTEN is unbalanced, including this one! That is because no book can be a complete source of information on every topic in the Bible.

This is a book about divine healing. It might be more “balanced” if it told you how to have a better marriage by being less selfish and how to manage your money better by having a budget, but that’s not its purpose. (I suppose that you would have a better marriage if you weren’t both in the cancer ward and that you would have more money if you weren’t spending so much of it on prescription drugs for a condition that you can receive healing for.)

However, my job as a field minister is different – I have a specialty and I stick to it, just as a cardiologist has a specialty and sticks to it. There’s nothing wrong or unbalanced about that! I am still ABLE to preach the kind of general messages I preached as a pastor, but I’m not going to do that just to appear “balanced” when I have a specific calling. It’s up to YOU to stay balanced by hearing from a variety of sources, some of whom are specialists on their different topics.

Objection: Sometimes God Wants You to Witness to Someone in the Hospital

Yes, sometimes He does. After all, God favors visiting the sick (Matthew 25:36) and He even says that you do so unto Jesus when you do it. So go witness to someone in the hospital. He does not want you to do so as a patient, however. God wants His Church to have patience, not patients, and practicing “hospitality” has nothing to do with going to the hospital.

Yeah, but doesn't God sometimes “let you” get sick so that you can reach a certain person in the hospital? No. You are a better witness healed than you are sick. You have a better chance of having someone else let you lay hands on him if you are not sick yourself! It is never the will of God for you to get sick so that you can witness to someone. That stupid lie is simply a tool of Satan to convince you that you should put up with his attempts to steal, kill and destroy your body rather than resisting sickness as you should.

Now God can and does use sick Christians to win other people to the Lord in the hospital. That's good, but that isn't God's best. Think of what a better witness it is to get healed by the power of God and get out of the hospital! That will bring more glory to God than telling people that you are suffering from a sickness that God gave you so that you would meet someone who needed Jesus.

Don't get under condemnation if you DO go to the hospital. It does not mean that you are “anti-faith.” It may be the smartest thing you ever did. But please, do not embarrass the Body of Christ with some religious fabrication that God racked you with pain, made you unable to provide for your family's needs, and made you a burden to others because He wanted you to “witness” to your hospital roommate. If you think that God is like that, you need to get better acquainted with Him through His Word. You are not in a good position to help fulfill the Great Commission when you yourself are out of commission. What unbeliever will want Jesus if you say that God made you sick to witness to him? If I were the unbeliever, I would stay as far away from Jesus as possible so that God would not make me sick to witness to someone in the future.

If you did win your hospital roommate to Christ, that's a good testimony in and of itself. But please don't put out one of those birdcage-liner-quality testimony books claiming that GOD wanted you to get really sick so that you'd go to that hospital and stay in that room.

I pastored for Maine for over a decade and a half and I made MANY trips to the local hospital. But never once was I a patient in that hospital! It is far better to share God's Word with others in the hospital when you can just walk out when you're done!

Objection: God Sometimes Leads Faithful Saints into “Wilderness Experiences”

We all know that the Spirit led Jesus into the wilderness, where He was to fast and be tempted by Satan (Matthew 4:1). However, let's keep “wilderness experiences” in the context of the original one. Jesus was weak and hungry from fasting, but not sick. It is Biblically baseless to say that your sickness is a wilderness experience. Jesus was not sick during His.

God may sometimes lead you into difficult situations. You may encounter all kinds of temptations. God led Paul into some situations that were very unpleasant from a natural perspective. But notice what God did not do to Jesus – He did not for a minute make him subject to Satan. Jesus dominated Satan when He was tempted in the wilderness. Acts 10:38 says that sickness is oppression of the devil. Jesus was not oppressed by the devil; He was victorious over the devil. The devil could tempt Him but he could not dominate Him. If you are sick, the devil is dominating your body to the degree that you are sick. That is NOT what happened to Jesus.

God cares for you (1 Peter 5:7). God will not relinquish His care for a faithful saint and hand him over to Satan. He can't legally do that, because you have been delivered from Satan's dominion and put under the authority of God's Son (Colossians 1:13). Having delivered you from Satan's dominion, is He going to put you back under it temporarily to test you or teach you something? No way. God can train you Himself. He doesn't need to enlist Satan's help to perfect that which concerns you (Psalm 138:8).

Objection: God Uses Sickness to “Break” Us

This is similar to many other objections, but the distinguishing feature of this one is the incorrect but oft-quoted assumption that God can only use broken vessels. Therefore (supposedly) God allows sickness to “break” us so that we will be broken vessels that God can use. Give me a break!

God cannot use “broken” vessels any more than you can use a “broken” car to get to work or use a “broken” glass to hold lemonade. God needs vessels that are not “broken” to get the gospel out! How can you do that while you’re laid up sick, unable to even care for yourself, let alone others? You could get the gospel out much more easily if you were well. Besides, many people die from their illnesses, so that is proof in and of itself that the purpose of sickness is not to “break” someone to make him more suitable for the Master’s service later on.

Jesus went around healing the broken, not breaking the whole. He even said that part of His commission from God was to heal the brokenhearted, not to break the hearts of those who were not brokenhearted.

Besides, if you backslide or get proud, God does not have to break you. The devil is out there already waiting to sock it to you, and when you get into his territory (out of God’s will), he will take advantage of his opportunity to “break” you. However, this is the devil’s work, not God’s. In 1 Corinthians 5:1-5, a man had to be handed over to Satan for the destruction of his flesh so that his spirit would be saved. Paul did not say that God would use sickness to break the person. It would be Satan, not God, who would be destroying his flesh. Please note that this case applies to an unrepentant believer in gross sin, not to an everyday believer.

I had the misfortune to be in a service where the speaker claimed that God had sent him a serious illness to “break” him – and he proceeded to have an altar call for people to come who wanted God to “break” them too so that God could really use them. (I wish I were making this stuff up.) To my dismay, it looked like EVERYONE went up to get “broken” except for me and my wife. (We knew better.) This only served to show me how prevalent this “God only uses broken vessels” crud has gotten in some Spirit-filled circles! Imagine going up to join what is in effect a sickening line instead of a healing line! Can anyone point to any event in Jesus’ ministry where he sickened the well to “break” them so that God could “really” use them? If not, why should anyone tolerate this grossly antibiblical teaching?

One of Satan’s illnesses can serve as a wake-up call so that you stop backsliding, but even then, the illness wasn’t God’s doing. Satan just took advantage of you. God and Satan have not traded job descriptions! Satan is still the sickener and God is still the Healer. Being sick is never God’s will for you. His will is for you to present your body as a living sacrifice to Him (Romans 12:1). If you get broken, it is not God’s doing! God does not “break” what is presented and consecrated to him. Being broken is Satan’s will for you, not God’s will.

When I was younger, so much younger than today, I followed the advice of ignorant music and teachings and prayed for God to “break me” so that He could “use me.” I sang along with a song that a friend back then used to sing at churches, “Instead of sunshine, I’ll take rain; instead of pleasure, I’ll take pain...For whatever it takes for my will to break, that’s what I’m willing to do.” (I’ll spare you the rest of that stupid song.) And guess what? I got sick almost immediately. I accepted the sickness as God’s means of “breaking me.” Satan took advantage of my newly-learned unbelief! I was not made more useful for Kingdom service. By being sick, it became HARDER to do service in God’s kingdom! I’m glad that I learned the truth so that I don’t let Satan take advantage of me like that anymore.

God says that you are delivered from the devil’s kingdom and moved into Jesus Christ’s kingdom (Colossians 1:13). God would be unjust to place a consecrated believer into the hands of the enemy whose kingdom Christ delivered you from – for any reason. Why would God need to use the devil to perfect you when you have God’s Word, which by itself is able to perfect you? “All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works.” (2 Timothy 3:16-17). God’s New Testament plan is to reprove you and correct you through his Word, not through sickness. Since His Word can do it, there should be no need for sickness to do it.

But wouldn’t God use disease to HUMBLE you? NO! NEVER! The Bible says that it is your responsibility to humble yourself, not God’s responsibility to ensure your humility. See the part of the Paul’s Thorn discussion about humbling yourself for a list of Scriptures that prove this!

You can talk about a broken body helping you serve God better – as long as it’s Jesus Christ’s broken body you’re talking about! Jesus’ body was broken for you in your place. His body was broken so that yours could stay well!

Objection: Jesus Let People Fail to Remind Them How Much They Needed Him

This wouldn't even be worth answering were it not for the fact that this idea came from a well-respected Bible commentary! The author cites the instance of the demonized boy and claims that Jesus had His disciples NOT cast the demon out in His absence so that He could then do it when He showed up. This was supposedly to remind them that they couldn't do anything without Him. Sadly, I once heard a preacher (live) present this same idea – that God would “cause His people to FAIL so that only He would get the glory.” That presents a horrible image of our Heavenly Father! In this day and age, we should know better than to think that God wants us to FAIL instead of PROSPER (3 John 2). I'm glad that John didn't say, “Beloved, I pray that you FAIL in all things so that only God will get glory, not you.”

The actual accounts of the demonized boy prove the opposite – Jesus was UPSET that the disciples did NOT cast the demon out in His absence! They were supposed to get the job done because He had delegated the authority to them to do it. The failure was strictly on their end, not a premeditated result where Jesus wanted them to fail.

Jesus sent the 12 and then the 70 out to preach without being with them at the time. They had great success; they did not FAIL so that they would want to go back to where Jesus was and declare, “We failed. We're reminded of how we just can't do any healings or miracles without You.” They had His delegated authority, and that is all they needed – AND ALL YOU NEED!

Today, Jesus lives IN you all the time – a blessing that the disciples did not know at the time of the incident because they were not born again yet. So there is NO possibility that He will leave you on your own to fail to show you how much you need Him!

Objection: God Can Lead Others to Salvation through the Pain and Death of a Saint

This statement is true. It is also true that God can lead even more to salvation through the removal of pain and healing of a saint!

I imagine that the peace experienced by a sick Christian has led others to the Savior. Let's face it; even a sick Christian has reason to have joy unspeakable and full of glory that a well unbeliever cannot have. So I will admit that there may be a very few people saved as a result.

The objector and I part ways over the issue of it being the will of God for Him to lead others to Himself in this way. It isn't. There is no Bible basis for believing that. You cannot read any cases where people were won to God in the New Testament by the "pain and death" of a saint. None. There weren't any. The cities won to Christ were won because of the healing of the sick, not the suffering of the sick! There was great joy in Samaria when the sick were healed, and the people gave heed to Philip when they saw the miracles that he did (Acts 8:5-8). All those who were in Lydda and Saron turned to the Lord when a crippled man was healed (Acts 9:32-35), not when he died in pain. Many in Joppa believed in the Lord because someone was raised from the dead (Acts 9:36-42), not because someone died with supernatural peace. All the sick people on an entire island came and were healed when one man was healed (Acts 28:8-9). The Pharisees were not concerned about Lazarus's death, but they got very concerned when his undeath led to many people following Jesus (John 12:10-11).

The gospel pattern for advertising salvation is through healings and miracles, not the patient suffering of sickness or "peaceful" resigned acceptance of death. Healings and miracles were the advertising God used in the Bible. It is a man-made fiction that God wants to use something inferior today.

Do you think people would cause traffic jams rushing to your city to see a man patiently endure terminal illness? Do you think the community would stand up and take notice because someone died with the peace of God? Some people might be affected, but you won't see Bible-scale revivals resulting from patiently enduring sickness. You will not attract hordes of sick people who ask you to pray so that they can resign themselves to sickness as you did. Revivals in the Bible were fueled by healing miracles, not by resignation to the works of the devil.

One person mentioned his willingness to be a witness of God's grace "if God blessed him with a terminal illness." (No kidding. He really said that.) I offered to agree with him in prayer that he would get terminally ill and die. (No kidding. I really said that.) He did not seem interested. Gee, why would he want to turn away anything that is really a blessing from God? Deep down he knew what is obvious to everyone – that sickness is a curse, not a blessing.

I am not saying that God cannot use the sick for his glory. God will use anyone He can for His glory. He would rather get some glory than no glory. However, you can never blame God for sickness or premature death by saying that it was for someone's salvation. What really happened is that the devil got in and stole someone's life through sickness and God happened to work something bad for good. God used the awful things that happened to Joseph for his good, too, but you cannot construct a theology from that saying that God wanted Joseph to be betrayed, framed and forgotten by his friends and family. Joseph's testimony is an encouragement that God will never forsake you or revoke the dream He gave you even when it seems like the world keeps dealing you hands from a stacked deck. But the devil-inspired behavior of other people in Joseph's life was NOT the work of God – God just worked around it to further His purposes.

Objection: God Sometimes Calls a Saint Home Early Because He Knows People Will Get Saved at the Funeral

Some of the worst lies ever told about God come from preachers at funerals in their effort to provide comfort to the grieving families. No one wants to believe that his loved one who died early was ripped off by Satan and that his premature death served no purpose whatsoever on the earth, even though that's the case. Lies like the one above present the deceased as some kind of noble sacrifice for the good of others in a vain attempt to attribute meaning to the tragedy. People want some kind of satisfying explanation from the preacher about why God "allowed" such a thing to happen. Wouldn't it be more comforting to think that God had a short-staffed choir that really needed that believer to join it sooner rather than later? Unfortunately, the frequent result is that the preacher gives false comfort to the families by coming up with some kind of ridiculous and unbiblical idea like the one discussed here about people getting saved at the funeral (an argument advanced by an actual preacher at a funeral, sadly).

JESUS died so that others would be saved, and unless you're talking about someone dying as a martyr, no one else ever needs to die so that others will be saved. God does not "use" people that way! He certainly doesn't break His covenant in one case so that others can be in on that covenant. What good would such a covenant be? If someone dies in mid-life, you can be sure that God did not "call him home" (no matter what the preacher said at the funeral) because God satisfies people with long life when He can have something to do with it (Psalm 91:16). God says, "My covenant will I not break, nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lips" (Psalm 89:34). Some preachers ought to alter some of the things going out of their lips so that they stop misrepresenting God.

While providing temporary false comfort to the relatives, the preacher is actually driving people away from God by presenting Him as someone who would "use" someone's life in this manner. You couldn't blame the people who attend the sorry affair if they conclude, "Keep me as far away from that God as possible! I don't want to be the next one whom He 'takes' so that others can get saved at MY funeral."

Thank God if people DO get saved at a funeral! Funerals give people a chance to reflect on their own mortality. While God may work IN the situation, that still does not make Him the AUTHOR of the situation.

Objection: God Sometimes Heals Crybaby Christians Who Bug Him Enough Just As He Gave Israel a King When They Kept Bugging Him – Even Though It Wasn't His Perfect Will

The person who came up with this one should at least get an award for creativity. (He certainly doesn't get one for Biblical correctness.) The premise is that sometimes it isn't God's will to heal you because He is working something in you, teaching you something, or some other such nonsense. God did certain things in Scripture that weren't best for the people just because they bugged Him enough, including giving Israel a king and giving the people quail in the wilderness (which was also cited by the objector). Therefore, the conclusion is that some "faith Christians" are such crybabies about their healing that God just gives it to them anyway, even though their Father's perfect will was for them to be molded and shaped through their sickness experience.

I suppose if you wanted to take it one step further, you could claim that this was exactly how the Syrophenician woman got healing for her daughter or the blind man who kept crying out got his. (We'll deal with them below.)

Of course, the necessary basis for this objection is that it was God's perfect will for you to be sick, and there are other objection replies that adequately cover that false notion. To say that you are a crybaby because you want your body healed is nothing more than reeking spiritual pride on the part of whoever says it. The person is saying, "I'm such a mature Christian that I accept sickness and let it ransack my body without a fight. You are an immature crybaby because you want healing so much."

If this objection is true, let's find somewhere in the New Testament where someone got healed because of constantly pestering God. The Syrophenician woman did not get healing for her daughter because of her persistence alone. Jesus told her that she had great faith just before he said, "Be it unto thee even as thou wilt." The key to this woman's answered request was her faith, not her persistence. The persistence was the result of her faith in action, not a replacement for faith. Therefore, you cannot say that this woman received anything by persistence alone. Also, notice that Jesus didn't even mention God's will – she received what she willed through faith! (See Matthew 15:22-28.)

Where else did someone keep bugging Jesus for healing? The blind man who cried out only needed to get Jesus' attention for a short moment and got his healing. He kept crying so that Jesus would hear him as he passed by, not because he kept bugging Him. So he isn't any proof of this objection.

Apart from these two cases, which really don't apply, you can't find anyone who "bugged" Jesus for a healing and then received it.

If you look at the teaching of Jesus, you'll find that He said not to use vain repetitions when you pray. (He taught using faith, not bugging God.) He warns against "bugging" God with the same thing over and over. Why should you do it? God is perfectly willing for you to receive the healing that His own Son paid for. Although I heard a story once about someone who claimed she got saved because she bugged God about it enough, that is nonsense. You don't get saved by bugging God. You get saved through faith.

Healing and God's other blessings work the same way. You believe that Christ has already made what you need available to you, and you receive it by faith when you pray. There is no need to "bug" God.

I suppose there are people who "bug" God for healing today (because they don't know any better) and God does heal them just because He's merciful. Or the other thing that can happen is that the person finally shuts up (like Job) because he's so tired of praying and praying and praying for healing, and God finally has a chance to get through to him and minister healing.

Now consider something else. Most people don't want to die a miserable, painful death from cancer, or be drugged into la-la-land and be unrecognizable and unable to function while dying from cancer. So if this objection were really true, don't you think that people everywhere would bug God constantly until He finally relented and healed them to shut them up? If this method of getting healed actually worked, people would do it all the time. (It doesn't work, by the way, as many people can attest.) If cancer were causing YOU excruciating pain, and you knew that if you bugged God enough, He would heal you even if it wasn't His perfect will, wouldn't you settle for "less than God's perfect will" if that meant an end to the suffering and a lengthening of your life? I daresay that most people would assign a higher priority to ending their suffering than "being in God's perfect will dying of cancer." The very fact that sufferers pray and ask others to pray is that they want the suffering to end. Fortunately, God wants it to end even more than they want it to end. But they are not in a position to receive healing by faith if they are in "Bug God Mode." God "sent His Word and healed them" (Psalm 107:20), so trying to get healed irrespective of God's Word is a setup for failure.

This objection is a last-ditch effort by people who oppose healing but aren't living in a cave and avoiding hearing any of the wonderful testimonies of miraculous healing through the name of Jesus Christ in the earth today. They cannot deny the authenticity of the miracles, so they must "explain away" why those people got healed and yet still make it seem like God does not want to heal everyone.

Objection: Sometimes God Has to Heal Someone when a Healing Evangelist Makes a Bold Claim Just to Stop People in the Audience from Backsliding or Getting Confused

The idea here is that it wasn't God's will to heal someone, but then a healing evangelist made a bold proclamation to a sick person, "BE HEALED NOW!" or something similar. Now if the person doesn't get healed, people will get confused and possibly backslide and question their Christianity, so for the sake of the people, God goes ahead and does the healing anyway for their sakes.

The very premise here that it was NOT God's will to heal someone is entirely flawed, as the rest of this book should demonstrate amply. Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today and forever (Hebrews 13:8), so His will to have everyone be in perfect health must always apply yesterday, today and forever.

The objector presents a God who tries to defend His own honor even though His will has supposedly been violated. This is completely contrary to the Bible reasons why Jesus healed the multitudes. He was not moved with the need to defend His honor – He was moved with compassion. The objector's line of thinking is that our Lord was NOT moved by compassion, but rather by the need to defend His reputation among the people. That is a horrible representation of our Lord, who DELIGHTS in mercy (Micah 7:18)!

When it comes down to it, this kind of objection is a last-ditch effort by someone who is predisposed to the idea that healing is not God's will for all, after that person is confronted by an undeniable miracle. Rather than risk the Pharisees' "blasphemy of the Holy Spirit" by attributing the healing to the devil out of jealousy, this objection provides a way to still allow that GOD did the healing, while preserving the idea that it still WASN'T His will.

If this ridiculous notion were true, I would probably command everyone at a healing rally to be healed, whether they were ready to receive anything or not, so that God would have to defend His honor by healing them anyway without regard to their faith. That way, everyone would get healed! But that isn't how things work.

NOTHING in Scripture even remotely suggests that God would heal someone for the reason stated in the objection. Any objection that cannot be backed with Scripture should be tossed into the dumpster immediately.

Objection: Only Some People Have the “Gift of Faith” to Believe for Healing

This is no more intelligent than saying that only some people have the “gift of faith” to get saved. Faith comes by hearing the Word of God (Romans 10:17), so anyone who hears the word of God can act in faith.

This objection is simply a misunderstanding of the “gift of faith” in 1 Corinthians 12:9, which does not refer to the general faith that every believer has. It refers to faith for something specific that would be impossible to believe for by only believing the Bible. This is clear because this gift is only worked through “some,” whereas God has given to every man the measure of faith (Romans 12:3). Similarly, the gift of “the word of knowledge” involves having knowledge that would otherwise be impossible to have, not doctrinal knowledge. All believers can have knowledge of the Word of God by reading it! Also, the gift of “the word of wisdom” involves obtaining a piece of God’s wisdom that you couldn’t get just by reading the Word. Any believer can ask for practical wisdom for a specific situation and get it (James 1:5-8). Christ has been made wisdom to us (1 Corinthians 1:30).

So, while not everyone operates in the manifestation of the Spirit known as the “gift of faith,” all believers can operate in faith in God’s promises.

To say that you need “the gift of faith” to believe for healing is tantamount to saying that there is no promise in the Bible you could believe to receive healing. If healing can be obtained through believing and acting on God’s Word, you do not need “the gift of faith” to get it. You can just believe and act on the Word.

But doesn’t Romans 12:3 say that God gives every believer a different “measure” of faith? No, it doesn’t. Read it carefully: “According as God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith.” The Greek word metron used for measure implies a fixed amount, and God has given to every man the measure, not a different measure of faith. God does not play favorites. What you do with that faith is up to you, just as it is up to you how much you develop the muscles that God gave you.

But don’t we know that some people can believe God more easily than others? Yes, we do know that. The Christians who spend more time reading God’s Word can believe more easily than those who don’t. It is not up to God how much faith you walk in. It is up to you.

Faith is definitely a gift (Ephesians 2:8), but the kind referred to in that verse is the faith available to everyone that can get you into God’s family, not “the gift of faith” in 1 Corinthians 12:9. Everyone has the first kind, but not everyone will flow in the second kind.

The fact that healing is promised universally (as you can see elsewhere in this book) proves that anyone can have it, not just some who operate in special faith of some kind.

Objection: Today Doctors Have Replaced the Ancient Practice of Faith Healing

This can't be so. People in the Bible were healed of incurable diseases, but doctors cannot cure you of "incurable" diseases. To say that doctors replace divine healing today is to say that God does not heal incurable diseases anymore today. It is to say that God, who Himself declares that He heals all diseases (see Psalm 103:1-5 and elsewhere) now uses only human vessels who cannot and do not heal all diseases. Unfortunately, plenty of people run around teaching this error.

This is equivalent to saying that we are in a different dispensation now from the one that the Church in Acts was in, when Christians clearly believed in divine healing. (See the objection on that topic.) But there has been no event to change our covenant or our dispensation since then.

This is also equivalent to saying that God has replaced a better method (that healed ALL diseases) with an inferior method that does NOT heal all diseases under our "better" covenant.

This also rules out the ordinance of healing in James 5:14-15, which is just as much a command as the ordinances of baptism and communion. This was not just for the "early church" any more than baptism and communion were just for the "early church."

Most of the people cited in Scripture (lame, lepers, blind, deaf, the woman with the issue of blood, etc.) were medically incurable. If Jesus is unwilling to heal the incurable today, He has changed, yet Hebrews 13:8 assures us that He has not changed.

It is lamentable that this objection is true in a certain way. Men now seek medical help almost exclusively and hardly any pray to receive healing from God. So this objection is true in a practical sense, but not in a doctrinal sense. The problem is with us, not with God. This is even true in most Christian circles today, including some churches that teach faith and healing! It is amazing how many puffers and pills are present in Christian circles, despite the fact that healing from ALL conditions is available today.

Objection: Pain Is Part of the Healing Process, Not Something that Is Necessarily Bad

Believe it or not, this is one of the OLDEST objections to divine healing! One could say that a scar causes pain as it is healing, so therefore pain is good. But it's only "good" compared to your scar getting worse.

Through many centuries, the church world lamentably promoted the idea that pain is a natural part of life that is somehow good for you and part of God's plan. In fact, some clerics in bygone years used to rail against the use of painkillers and anesthetics during surgery because they prevented the pain that they were sure that God wanted the patient to have. They even assured the public that recovery would take longer if there was no pain because pain was part of the recovery process. They also railed against painkillers for women in labor because they felt that the woman must feel the full impact of the fall, which includes pain in labor. (Of course, it was male doctors doing the railing.)

Fortunately, it would be hard to impossible to find either a doctor or a cleric today who would advocate withholding painkillers so that people can experience the full brunt of the surgical pain that God "wants" them to have. Besides, this objection flunks The SAME Test. Jesus never, ever told someone that his pain was good for him and that he should KEEP his pain. So you can be sure that Jesus would never withhold healing from someone for that reason today. Jesus HEALED the sick, but there is no evidence that He ever caused PAIN when He did it. Instead, He SPARED people any pain that might otherwise have been part of the recovery process.

And Isaiah points out that He bore (as our Substitute) not only our sicknesses but also our pains as well (Isaiah 53:4). Therefore, it is NEVER necessary for a Christian to have to be in pain due to it being part of any healing process.

Objection: Jesus Said that the Sick Need a Physician, Not a Healing Evangelist

The point Jesus made about the physician was that He wasn't helping those who thought they needed no help – He was helping those who knew that they needed it. They thought they were “whole” people who needed no doctor, but He came for the “sick” people who needed one.

He was certainly not teaching that in the Church Age, people should go only to doctors and never to healing evangelists!

Jesus would not be so empty-headed as to place in the church the office of “evangelist” (Ephesians 4:11, also seen in “miracles” and “gifts of healings” in 1 Corinthians 12:28) and then declare that no one should ever go see such a person, but head to the doctor instead! I prove elsewhere that God is not AGAINST going to an earthly doctor, but He never MANDATED that someone seek solely human help while forsaking divine help.

The other point that the objector misses is that God called Himself a Physician. The Hebrew word rapha in Exodus 15:26 is translated physician in some other places. So if you're sick, you can go both to earthly physicians and to the Great Physician. Jesus had other people think of Him as a Physician, too, when they wanted to quote the proverb, “Physician, heal thyself” to Him. (Luke 4:23: “And he said unto them, Ye will surely say unto me this proverb, Physician, heal thyself: whatsoever we have heard done in Capernaum, do also here in thy country.”)

Objection: Sometimes God's Path for Your Healing Is through a Doctor Rather Than the Supernatural

This is a true statement at face value, but the usual implication is false. Sometimes God will lead you to go to the doctor, take medicine, or have an operation. However, that is NOT because His perfect path for your healing is through medicine in your case. It is NOT because God is unwilling to heal you supernaturally. God will lead you to doctors in cases where He knows you are not in a position to believe for a supernatural healing. If you are not ready to stand in faith for healing, I would send you to a doctor, too!

A modern, watered-down gospel says that sometimes God will refuse to heal you supernaturally because he wants you to use a doctor instead. I can see how a doctor might like this version, but it has no foundation in the real gospel. You cannot find anywhere in the New Testament where Jesus or one of His followers refused to heal someone and referred him to a doctor for his healing. Jesus didn't tell the woman with the issue of blood to take out a loan so that she could see more doctors after her money was gone. Paul didn't turn away sick people on Melita and tell Dr. Luke to write out prescriptions for them. God operated through Peter, but He didn't "operate" in the medical sense of that word.

Because Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today, and forever (Hebrews 13:8), He must deal with people the same way today that He did 2,000 years ago. He never told anyone then, "I won't heal you supernaturally. See a doctor!" Therefore, He never tells anyone that now. (See The SAME Test for more examples of this truth.) Some people think He does, but they don't know the Jesus of the Bible when it comes to healing. If you want to know Jesus, read about Him in the Bible. If you want to know what Jesus will do for you, read what He did for others in the Bible. That is the only way to know. You can't know God through experience; you have to know him through His Word.

Before you believe something, get chapter and verse on it. You won't find any chapter or verse for the idea that God won't heal you Himself because He wants you to go to the doctor! Be as noble as the Bereans and search the Scriptures to see if what they said on some Christian TV show is so or not.

God cannot refuse to heal you supernaturally because as far as he is concerned, he already did! 1 Peter 2:24 is in the past tense. Supernatural healing is legally yours. God cannot arbitrarily refuse to honor His healing covenant with you.

Having said this, I am in favor of doctors. They want you well, and so does God. Medical science is a blessing. Through it, some people can learn how not to get sick in the first place. If you are sick, doctors can give you wise counsel about how to hasten your healing through natural means, or at least not make your condition worse. Paul gave Timothy natural advice to avoid sickness, so God is all in favor of such advice. Just don't conclude that God makes exceptions to his supernatural healing covenant. He doesn't! Healing is freely available to you and everyone else without the use of doctors. But if you are struggling in this area, make your path to the doctor's office. God won't be upset with you if you do that. But at least keep building yourself up in the Word so that in the future, your path to healing may not have to go through the doctor's office.

Objection: Paul Did Not Believe in Faith Healing because He Had a Doctor (Luke) Accompany Him

This is no better Bible scholarship than saying that Dr. Luke hated sleeping indoors, so he had a tentmaker (Paul) accompany him.

This argument falls apart for several reasons.

First, it is NEVER stated in Scripture that Paul took Dr. Luke along with him so that he could attend to his physical conditions – despite the fact that Paul was very often physically tortured. When Paul was stoned and left for dead at Lystra, he was raised up not because Dr. Luke or any other doctor gave him CPR; he was raised up when the disciples gathered around him. His cure was spiritual, not medical.

Second, Luke actually did NOT accompany Paul on most of his journeys. Paul traveled extensively with Barnabas and later Silas, but the sections where Luke wrote “we” to indicate that he was with Paul are fewer than the ones where an account is given of Paul where “he” did things (indicating that Dr. Luke was not with him). If Dr. Luke were his personal physician attending to his bodily needs, Paul would have brought him everywhere.

Third, Paul had a chance to identify Dr. Luke as his personal physician, and he didn't. He refers to “Luke, the beloved physician” (Colossians 4:14). If your family doctor was named Luke and he came to a party and you introduced him, you wouldn't say, “This is Luke, he's a doctor.” You would say “This is MY doctor, Luke” or something like that. Paul did not refer to him in a way that indicated that he was Dr. Luke's patient.

Fourth, Paul acknowledged Epaphroditus for personally ministering to him, and if Dr. Luke had personally ministered to him as well, Paul probably would have mentioned that. (Philippians 2:25: “Yet I supposed it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother, and companion in labour, and fellowsoldier, but your messenger, and he that ministered to my wants.”)

Fifth, the premise that Paul did not believe in faith healing is way off to begin with. Paul ministered healing to the sick on the island of Melita and they were all healed (Acts 28:8-9). When people took items from Paul's body and gave them to others, the sick were healed and demons came out (Acts 19:11-12). Paul told the Corinthians that their bodies as well as their spirits had been purchased by the Lord (1 Corinthians 6:19-20). Paul cast out a demon in Macedonia (Acts 16:16-18). He preached “the gospel” at Lystra and a man who had been lame from birth listened to Paul and got faith to be healed. How would that man have gotten faith to be healed (which comes by hearing God's Word) if Paul didn't believe in and preach divine healing? If Paul didn't believe in “faith healing” he would never have ordered a man who had been lame from birth to stand to his feet after perceiving that the man had faith to be healed (Acts 14:7-10)! Paul repeatedly referred to signs, wonders and miracles that the Holy Spirit wrought through him. I don't know of anybody who preaches “I don't believe in faith healing!” and sees signs, wonders and miracles following his preaching. Do you? So it is totally unreasonable to state that Paul did not believe in divine healing.

Sixth, it's just as presumptuous to think that Luke went with Paul to be his doctor as it is to presume that Paul had Aquila and Priscilla, who were "tentmakers" (Acts 18:1-3) with him to make tents so that he could have tent meetings!

Objection: Luke Was a Physician; He Didn't Give Up His Vocation to Lay Hands on People

First, I contend that Luke DID at least suspend his profession to travel. We don't know the extent to which he laid hands on people, but it would be hard to run a medical business, especially in those days of limited communication, if your patients were back in Judea, Samaria or Galilee and you were gallivanting all over the place with Paul. There is no indication that Luke continued to run any kind of medical practice while he traveled. There is certainly no case where a sick person was referred to Dr. Luke to get healed! It is entirely possible that he kept his practice between journeys, but we don't know that. Paul may just be referring to him by his former profession. Luke also spent a lot of time writing Luke and Acts; we don't know if he was still practicing medicine while he was doing that.

The implication of the objection is that Luke didn't believe in the laying on of hands, so he just kept practicing natural medicine. But it would be hard for Luke NOT to believe in healing the sick when he traveled with the miracle-working Apostle Paul! Paul referred to cases of people being healed through supernatural means in his writings, but he never referred to anyone being healed by going to Dr. Luke or any other earthly doctor. An argument from silence is probably the thinnest argument you can make.

This "gave up his vocation" assertion falls as flat on its noggin as the fake god Dagon did. If we follow this logic, we can determine that Aquila, Priscilla and Paul were primarily tentmakers, not preachers who flowed in the supernatural. After all, we see this said about them:

Acts 18:1-3:

After these things Paul departed from Athens, and came to Corinth;
And found a certain Jew named Aquila, born in Pontus, lately come from Italy, with his wife Priscilla; (because that Claudius had commanded all Jews to depart from Rome:) and came unto them.
And because he was of the same craft, he abode with them, and wrought: for by their occupation they were tentmakers.

So to be consistent, we would have to conclude:

"Paul, Aquila and Priscilla went out to practice tentmaking, not to lay hands on the sick – they didn't give up their vocations and here's the proof!"

Of course, being identified as tentmakers did not mean that tentmaking was their main role in life, and you can tell by the accounts of Paul, Aquila and Priscilla that God used them in much greater ways than tentmaking. Identifying Luke as a doctor doesn't mean that he went everywhere practicing medicine any more than it means that Paul, Aquila and Priscilla went everywhere making tents.

Given that Luke penned both the Gospel of Luke and Acts, it seems that he did a lot of things other than practice medicine. By his writings, He helped propagate the good news of all the supernatural healings that Jesus and then His followers did!

Objection: Epaphroditus Was Healed by God's MERCY, Not His OBLIGATION

It appears that Epaphroditus was not really in faith for his healing. Perhaps he was so "sick unto death" that he was past the ability to stand anymore. We don't know, but at least it is recorded that God had MERCY on him:

Philippians 2:27:

For indeed he was sick almost unto death; but God had mercy on him, and not only on him but on me also, lest I should have sorrow upon sorrow.

We see just after this that he was sick because he overextended himself trying to minister to Paul. Our human bodies DO have limits even if we're saved. If you don't rest your body, your body will rest you!

It is certainly not evident that Epaphroditus was exercising any faith, and that is part of the objector's point. If faith is required to be healed, and Epaphroditus wasn't in faith, healing must be based on mercy, not faith.

That's another half-truth. It appears that this healing WAS based on mercy. It could have come through the gifts of the spirit, or perhaps even because God knew how valuable Epaphroditus was to Paul, saw his heart and decided to cut him some slack even though he overdid things.

Part of the objector's point is true – you can be healed by mercy instead of faith, though you certainly have no guarantee of that. I don't see any contradiction, given that the manifestations of the Spirit are...well, gifts, without regard to personal merit. When the Holy Spirit moves through "the gifts," people who are not in faith can be healed. That does not negate the fact that you can always receive healing through faith when there is no special manifestation of the Holy Spirit.

If you travel from Butler, Tennessee to Mountain City, Tennessee, route 67 will get you where you want to go. But someone might take route 167 part of the way and also get to Mountain City. Now this person might say, "See, I got to Mountain City taking route 167. That proves that route 67 is not the way to Mountain City!" That would be silly – both roads will get you there. This objection does the same thing, thinking that if anyone got healed by mercy, no one gets healed by faith. The truth is that BOTH can result in healing!

The objector denies that God has an obligation to heal, placing all healing on the basis of individual cases of His mercy. But that is not what Jesus taught. He told people, "YOUR FAITH has made you well" and similar things. That indicates that it was their faith, not God's mercy, operating in these cases. Now healing IS a mercy, and God is rich in mercy – His mercies are new every morning (Lamentations 3:22-23)! And you could make a case that your faith is IN God's mercy that He showed you in Christ when He made healing available for you to receive by faith!

God HAS an obligation to heal whenever true faith is present because He placed healing on that basis – available to anyone who wants it. It was paid for by the Lord Jesus Christ and is part of the covenant that we got in on when we were born again and thus became “in Christ.” It would be unfair for God to deny anyone the healing that Jesus already paid for EVERYONE to have.

Objection: God Creates Evil (Isaiah 45:7), Kills, and Wounds (Deuteronomy 32:39)

Yes, God does say that He creates evil in Isaiah 45:7: “I form the light and create darkness: I make peace, and create evil: I the LORD do all these things.” And He does say that he kills and wounds in Deuteronomy 32:39: “See now that I, even I, am he, and there is no god with me: I kill, and I make alive; I wound, and I heal: neither is there any that can deliver out of my hand.” Then there’s Lamentations 3:38: “Out of the mouth of the most High proceedeth not evil and good?” People sometimes quote other verses to give the impression that God has a part in every bad thing that happens.

Or how about Genesis 38:7 and 10: “And Er, Judah’s firstborn, was wicked in the sight of the Lord; and the Lord slew him...And the thing which (Onan) did displeased the Lord: wherefore he slew him also.”

Why stop there? After all, there is a New Testament passage where Jesus Himself says that He will kill people! No, I’m not joking – I refer to Revelation 2:20-23, which you should click and read, since it may bend your theology a little!

Now, even also in our more merciful covenant, we also find in Acts 12:23: “And immediately the angel of the Lord smote him [Herod], because he gave not God the glory: and he was eaten of worms, and gave up the ghost.”

Haven’t we been taught that God is good and the devil is bad, and that only the devil kills? What is going on here?

Although some would hasten to make an argument here that God solely “permits the devil to do the killing,” that is not going to satisfy many people who read these verses. Frankly, it does not satisfy me either. It is obvious that God can kill people and has killed huge numbers of people! Think of the armies that opposed Israel, for example. God killed them. Even if you want to say that He “allowed” Satan to do the dirty work (which I would not go along with), God certainly commissioned it in these cases. However, in the clear-cut case of the flood in Noah’s day, it was certainly not Satan who unleashed the water – it was unmistakably GOD who killed EVERYONE with the exception of the eight people in Noah’s ark!

Having determined that, we should now determine exactly whom he kills, wounds and creates evil for. Very simple – His enemies! God never kills His own people who are walking in the light. The people killed in these passages were all wicked people who set themselves against God.

God helped David kill Goliath! God killed Korah and his company of traitors. What about those other battles where the Lord killed even hundreds of thousands of enemies to protect His people? What about the Red Sea where God killed an army of Egyptian soldiers? Of course God kills people! Anyone reading the Old Testament in particular cannot escape this fact. But the people who were killed were almost always His enemies. We’ll return to the almost part shortly.

You cannot take any of these verses and derive a doctrine that God is going to wound you, make you sick, and kill you – not if you’re a Christian walking in the light! There’s no precedent for God afflicting His own people as long as they walk with Him. God killed only Israel’s enemies as long as Israel walked in the light. He did not kill His covenant people when they abode in Him. He had promised to satisfy them with long life (Psalm 91:16)!

Now, I said “almost” above. God’s people sometimes died, but only if they did something wrong. The offenses may have seemed minor to man, but the mistreatment of holy things is major to God. Nadab, Abihu and Uzzah learned this lesson the hard way – they died for failure to respect the holy things of God. Nadab and Abihu offered unlawful incense before the Lord, and the Lord was incensed. Uzzah’s sinful flesh touched the ark that had God’s holy presence in it, and God was angry about it and killed him.

“And Nadab and Abihu, the sons of Aaron, took either of them his censer, and put fire therein, and put incense thereon, and offered strange fire before the LORD, which he commanded them not. And there went out fire from the LORD, and devoured them, and they died before the LORD.” – Leviticus 10:1-2

“And when they came to Nachon’s threshing floor, Uzzah put forth his hand to the ark of God, and took hold of it; for the oxen shook it. And the anger of the LORD was kindled against Uzzah; and God smote him there for his error; and there he died by the ark of God.” – 2 Samuel 6:6-7

God takes His holy things seriously. Let Nadab, Abihu and Uzzah stand as warnings to anyone even under our New Covenant who would play games with the things of God.

Of course, we have the example of Ananias and Sapphira in Acts 5:1-11 to warn us against playing games with God or with His servants: We have a similar warning in 1 Corinthians 11:27-32.

So what can we conclude from all this? God does in fact kill, but He is not going to kill YOU – unless you decide that you want to make yourself His enemy or try to mess up His church.

See also:

Objection: The Lord Kills, Brings Down to the Grave, and Makes Poor \(2 Samuel 2:6-7\)

Objection: God Created the Destroyer to Destroy \(Isaiah 54:16\), So Satan Is Just Doing the Job that God Created Him to Do

Objection: The Lord Kills, Brings Down to the Grave, and Makes Poor (1 Samuel 2:6-7)

1 Samuel 2:6-7:

The LORD killeth, and maketh alive: he bringeth down to the grave, and bringeth up.

The LORD maketh poor, and maketh rich: he bringeth low, and lifteth up.

This is a companion to the God creates evil objection, only using a different verse and coming from a slightly different angle. Of course, these verses also state that God makes alive, brings up, makes rich and lifts up, but the objector is of the opinion that God in His sovereignty does these things to people on a mysterious basis that we won't figure out. Thus, we supposedly cannot claim long life or prosperity because it's all up to God's will for each individual. (The objector then goes on to make another easily debunked claim that James 4:13-16 proves that God might not want you to live a long time. I have handled that separately, as others have made that argument without the argument covered in this section.)

The objection is offered as a "refutation" of the "healing gospel" and the "prosperity gospel," but it is neither. Besides, there is only one gospel anyway, and it does happen to include healing and prosperity along with other benefits, forgiveness of sins being the foremost one.

First, the objector misses the point of human involvement that results in different consequences. Do you suppose that "God's will" (based on the objector's viewpoint) is more likely to be prosperity for a hard-working, diligent, honest person than for a slacker who plays massive multiplayer video games on his parents' couch all day and feels that he is entitled to other people's money because he breathes the air? Does the fact that the first person prospers more prove that God singled him out for prosperity in contrast to the second person? No, it's God's will for BOTH of them to prosper (3 John 2), but one is giving God something to work with and one isn't.

Throughout Scripture, there are those whom God prospers and others whom He brings low. The humble prosper while the proud set up their own destruction. We see consistently that His obedient people are the ones whom He lifts up and prospers, while people who set themselves against His people are destroyed. This carries over even into New Testament prophecy, where doom still awaits those who would attempt to wipe out Israel.

It is still a very bad thing to stand against Israel, so it is important that officials in other countries support rather than condemn Israel. That doesn't mean that we have to support every individual thing Israel does. I certainly don't support its misguided "gay rights" efforts that are certainly a departure from the Law of Moses that Israel used to adhere to – and I don't mind saying so. That doesn't make me anti-Israel. I support Israel in the general sense that I would want to be in a country that defends Israel rather than in one that tries to attack it.

So if you attempt to destroy Israel (which is not the same thing as being critical of certain Israeli actions), even to this day, God may take you out. He won't take you out for that reason if you stand with Israel.

So which side you are on (exalted vs. taken down) depends on where you stand and what you do, not to God's supposed sovereign individual decisions.

Second, if God's will for one person is premature death, demotion and poverty while His will for another is long life, promotion and prosperity, would that not make God a "respector of persons" (King James talk for "player of favorites")? It would seem so to me! The objector fails to address WHY one person would be honored and another brought down. God is certainly not arbitrary or fickle. He Himself declares that He will not favor one person arbitrarily over another, which would make Him a "respector of persons," contrary to Acts 10:34, Romans 2:11, Ephesians 6:9, Colossians 3:25 and 1 Peter 1:17. (See God Does Not Play Favorites for more thoughts along this line.)

Third, you can see repeatedly that God promised Israel that when they were on His "good side," He would prosper them and bless them in all kinds of ways (the first 14 verses of Deuteronomy 28 are a good example), but if they were on His "bad side," He would curse them and cut their lives short (the rest of Deuteronomy 28 after the blessings in the first 14 verses are a good example). So the Scripture at the start of this section simply affirms the same kind of thing. Lest you get worried, the way today to get on God's "good side" is to get saved! In fact, even if you are evil today, He still loves you and wants you to come to repentance and enjoy His blessings after getting saved.

Fourth, the context of the passage makes it VERY clear that God's people are the recipients of the GOOD things in these verses while their enemies are the recipients of the BAD things in this passage. Consider the entire passage (the part that the objector uses is in boldface):

1 Samuel 2:4-10:

The bows of the mighty men are broken, and they that stumbled are girded with strength.

They that were full have hired out themselves for bread; and they that were hungry ceased: so that the barren hath born seven; and she that hath many children is waxed feeble.

The LORD killeth, and maketh alive: he bringeth down to the grave, and bringeth up.

The LORD maketh poor, and maketh rich: he bringeth low, and lifteth up.

He raiseth up the poor out of the dust, and lifteth up the beggar from the dunghill, to set them among princes, and to make them inherit the throne of glory: for the pillars of the earth are the LORD'S, and he hath set the world upon them.

He will keep the feet of his saints, and the wicked shall be silent in darkness; for by strength shall no man prevail.

The adversaries of the LORD shall be broken to pieces; out of heaven shall he thunder upon them: the LORD shall judge the ends of the earth; and he shall give strength unto his king, and exalt the horn of his anointed.

In context, there is no question what point God makes in this passage, and it is certainly NOT the point the objector is trying to make by tearing two verses out of the larger context. In fact, the context ruins the objection by demonstrating the opposite! As one of God's people (if you're a Christian), you should expect prosperity, exaltation from the dust and dunghill, preservation, strength, and defense from your enemies!

See also:

Objection: God Creates Evil \(Isaiah 45:7\), Kills, and Wounds \(Deuteronomy 32:39\)

Objection: God Created the Destroyer to Destroy \(Isaiah 54:16\), So Satan Is Just Doing the Job that God Created Him to Do

Objection: God Created the Destroyer to Destroy (Isaiah 54:16), So Satan Is Just Doing the Job that God Created Him to Do

First, God did not create Satan as a destroyer any more than God created Adam as a sinner! God created Lucifer, not Satan. God created a sinless Adam, not a sinful one. What happened after God created them was the result of THEIR wrong choices, not God's choices. It is unfair to blame God for the sins of beings with a free will.

Second, Jesus came to DESTROY the works of the devil, not DEPLOY the works of the devil (1 John 3:8). Jesus only did things that pleased the Father (John 8:29), so it pleased the Father to destroy the works of the devil. If God the Father and Jesus both were pleased to destroy the works of the devil, the works of the devil could not possibly have pleased Them.

Third, if this version of the old "God Uses Satan" lie were true, God would owe Satan a check for work performed according to specification, not eternal damnation in the lake of fire. So what Satan is doing today cannot possibly be what God originally created him to do!

Fourth, and most importantly, this objection is wrong from the get-go because Isaiah 54:16 doesn't even refer to Satan when you read it in its context!

Isaiah 54:13-17:

And all thy children shall be taught of the LORD; and great shall be the peace of thy children.

In righteousness shalt thou be established: thou shalt be far from oppression; for thou shalt not fear: and from terror; for it shall not come near thee.

Behold, they shall surely gather together, but not by me: whosoever shall gather together against thee shall fall for thy sake.

Behold, I have created the smith that bloweth the coals in the fire, and that bringeth forth an instrument for his work; and I have created the waster to destroy.

No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper; and every tongue that shall rise against thee in judgment thou shalt condemn. This is the heritage of the servants of the LORD, and their righteousness is of me, saith the LORD.

God created the "waster" (which can be translated "destroyer") to destroy His ENEMIES, not His PEOPLE! This destroyer is on God's team! This entire passage is a positive and comforting statement from God to His people. This cannot have a thing in the world to do with Satan or anyone else destroying God's people! This "destroyer" has the job of making sure that the enemies of God's people DON'T destroy God's people.

The immediate context right before the verse in question is, "...whoever shall gather together against thee shall fall for thy sake." It is this "destroyer" who sees to it that they fall. This destroyer is most definitely not CAUSING God's people to fall – he's preventing their fall!

See also:

Objection: God Creates Evil \(Isaiah 45:7\), Kills, and Wounds \(Deuteronomy 32:39\)

Objection: The Lord Kills, Brings Down to the Grave, and Makes Poor \(1 Samuel 2:6-7\)

Objection: We Should Not Complain When Evil Proceeds from the Mouth of the Lord because of Our Sins (Lamentations 3:38-39)

Lamentations 3:38-39:

Out of the mouth of the most High proceedeth not evil and good?

Wherefore doth a living man complain, a man for the punishment of his sins?

This objection assumes that we are still under the Old Covenant – before Jesus was punished for our sins! God has no interest in punishing you for the very same sins that He already punished Jesus for. The whole point of what Jesus did was to spare you punishment for your sins. So if you believe in Him, your sins are already counted as punished, so the mouth of the most High will have GOOD proceed from it to you, not evil.

Catching the flu is NOT God's punishment for your sins. God already laid on Jesus the sicknesses (which are evil) that you deserved for your sins. That punishment was taken care of. Now sickness is an ILLEGAL attempt by Satan to make mankind pay a debt that Jesus already paid.

The devil tries to taunt sick people with the idea, "You had it coming!" So agree with him that you DID have it coming, but then declare that IT IS WRITTEN that Jesus took the punishment that you had coming so that you could have peace (Hebrew shalom), which includes the idea of physical wellness.

Objection: God Being “Good” Must Not Be Understood from Man’s Perspective

The Lord is GOOD and His mercy endures forever, so no serious Bible reader can ever conclude that God isn’t good. However, a theme of some objections is that “good” doesn’t mean what we think it does and that we try to explain God’s goodness from a selfish human perspective of what we think is “good.” This then degenerates into worn-out arguments that sickness may somehow be “good” for us and that “higher good” results from bad things. Supposedly WE think healing is “good” but God sometimes doesn’t because He thinks that in some cases, for some reasons, staying sick is “better.”

I have seen the other extreme where people think that “good” means “being like a cuddly teddy bear” or something. If that’s your definition, then God is NOT “good” all the time because He sentences those who don’t receive His Son to an eternity of torment. However, God is both “morally good” and “kind” because He provided a way for everyone to avoid that eternity of torment.

So perhaps “good” from SOME men’s perspective is not an apt description of God, so the objector has a point when it comes to God not being ooshy-gooshy all the time as some people wish that He were.

However, His “goodness” does not leave Him willing that people should suffer disease for some higher “good” or purpose. Jesus went out and “healed them all” and allowed “as many as touched Him” to receive healing. Jesus is our standard because He always did what pleased the Father (John 8:29). Thus, it was always “good” in God’s eyes (as well as most people’s eyes) to heal the sick. Jesus NEVER told anyone that it was “better” to stay sick FOR ANY REASON, and we should never tell anyone that either.

Jesus went about doing GOOD and healing all who were oppressed by the devil (Acts 10:38). So what Jesus did in His ministry was GOOD, and you should agree with God about that.

Objection: Demons Were Only a Superstitious Way of Explaining Illness Long Ago

If demons are only a superstition, please explain how 2,000 pigs in Gadara suddenly ran down a steep hill into the sea and drowned themselves (see Mark 5:2-20) when the demons left a madman and entered them. Either demons are more than a superstition, or they had some very superstitious pigs in that region.

If demons are only a superstition, how did one demon-possessed man in Ephesus overcome seven men, strip them naked, and wound them? This was not one of those nonstop-violence movies where the hero does this kind of thing every two minutes or so. It was evidently such a strange occurrence that it made an impact on everyone in the city! You may read the account in Acts 19:13-17.

If demons are only a superstition, how did the madman of Gadara manage to break the chains and fetters that bound him? I'm sure they didn't use plastic toy ones on such a dangerous man. Surely the fetters and chains were no more superstitious than the pigs.

If you've ever met a truly demonized person, you would know better than to say that demons are a mere superstition. It's one thing to meet someone who is mean and think that he is full of the devil. It's quite another to offer to pray for a lady and suddenly have "her" say, "You can't cast me out! You don't have enough experience!" (This happened to me once.) If you want to meet some real demon-possessed people, try traveling overseas a bit. Look at their faces when the demons manifest through them and see if you think that demons are just superstition. Then watch them change completely when the demons are cast out in the name of Jesus and see what you think.

Demons talked to Jesus. I have never heard an illness speak in articulate words. Have you?

Demons exist. One of the signs in the Great Commission that is to follow believers is that we shall cast out devils in Jesus' name (see Mark 16:15-18). This was true then and is true now. If you think demons are just a superstition, you are accusing Jesus of being superstitious. You didn't mean to do that, did you?

Objection: God Clearly SENT Plagues in the Old Testament. We Cannot Say that God Never Makes People Sick, because He Obviously Did.

Agreed! God did make people sick in the Old Testament, and He judges people with sickness in the New Testament as well. This point is brought out in the eye-opening discussion, Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament.

It was God, not the devil or his crowd (the magicians) who sent the plagues to Egypt.

It is a little too thin to simply say that God “allowed the devil” to do certain things. At the very least, you must admit that God was actively involved in the process. He promised to send all kinds of sicknesses if Israel did not keep the Law of Moses (see Deuteronomy 28:15-68 and Leviticus 26:14-39).

However, God does not go around making righteous people sick. Sickness in both Testaments is described as a judgment. Righteous people have no business being judged with judgment! The only way you can heap judgment on yourself is if you do not “judge yourself” concerning your conduct and you are hurting the body of Christ. See 1 Corinthians 11:27-32.

So while God has had an active part in making people sick, it has always been the sinful, the disobedient and the ungodly who were the recipients. (Job, a righteous man, was afflicted by the devil, not God, as clearly stated in that book.) This does not (or should not!) describe you! As long as you are not in rebellious, deliberate sin, no judgment of any kind will fall on you as a believer. Thus, the question of whether God ever made anyone sick is irrelevant to you, because God will never make you sick. Never!

The alleged reasons God makes righteous people sick are all garbage. God does not put sickness on you to teach you things. He gave you his Word and his Spirit to teach you things. God does not put sickness on you to humble you. You are told to humble yourself, not let God humble you! God does not put sickness on you to teach you patience. Patience is a fruit of the Spirit.

God has no interest in “plaguing” a New Covenant believer who has been redeemed from EVERY plague (Deuteronomy 28:61, Galatians 3:10-14).

Objection: God Uses Sickness to Stop Saints from Being in the Wrong Place at the Wrong Time

“Joe felt sick, so he didn’t go to work. That day, a terrorist attack at his workplace would have killed him.”

“A missionary was going to a tribe that planned to kill him on his planned day of arrival. God made him gravely ill so that he had to wait a day, and that extra day spared his life.”

You may wonder, is God really in the sickness-sending business when His master plan is to keep a saint out of trouble? If He is, does He have to make someone gravely ill to stop him instead of just sending a mild stomach bug to keep him near a toilet instead of going on his way?

We are on thin ice when we claim that God did something that He did not do anywhere in Scripture. You cannot find a single case in Scripture where God “sent” (or “allowed”) sickness to stop someone from being in the wrong place at the wrong time.

One wonders about the other Christians who died in the terrorist attack. Why didn’t God make them ALL sick so that none of them were there? Can we really prove that this was GOD’s doing and not the DEVIL’s doing that just happened to work out well for the Christians involved?

Such a drastic measure certainly wouldn’t be God’s first choice if He ever chose it to begin with. God gave us the Holy Spirit to lead us, not sickness!

Many years ago, I had finished work for the day at a client’s site and just before I headed out the door, I sensed the Holy Spirit say, “Wait! Don’t leave yet!” I had no reason to stay there, but I knew His voice so I just stayed put. Only about 30 seconds later, I sensed that He was telling me that it was now all right to leave. So I did, though I was puzzled why He would have me wait those 30 seconds. On the way home, I was in the high-speed lane on an expressway, and about half a minute in front of me, a car started spinning wildly and there was a crash – but I wasn’t in it!

On another occasion, I just felt like I needed to take a different route home from a golf course. There was a big accident on the road that I usually took around the time that I would have been there.

My wife and I were heading out for our weekly date night, and we planned to go to our favorite restaurant at the time, which was about an hour away. But just before we left, she said, “I just don’t want to go there tonight. Let’s go to another one.” The one we went to was in a different direction. At the time we would have arrived at a certain spot going to the first restaurant, there was a fatal crash that shut down the road. We would have been there.

In none of these cases did I get sick so that I would not be involved in an accident that could have killed me. In the New Testament, God leads us by the Holy Spirit, not by sickness.

Claiming that God would use sickness to keep you out of trouble is speculative at best, and it can lead to horrible results if you believe that. After reading the stories at the top of this article, say that one day you feel sick to your stomach. So you reason that maybe something awful will happen at work, so you make no effort to get healed. Maybe the terrorists are coming! God might be doing you a favor! Don't try to get healed and go in!

You might say, "No, the HOLY SPIRIT would show me if the sickness was sent to keep me away or if it was just an attack of the devil." REALLY? If you can hear from the Holy Spirit that clearly, why would He need to make you sick when He could just tell you to stay home and you could stay healthy while you're there?

Should you pray to see if God is trying to spare you tragedy before trying to receive your healing from whatever is bothering you some morning? Do you see how ridiculous that is? How many times have you stayed home sick and NOTHING happened at work?

I never took a sick day even though it would have been paid time off when I worked for a certain corporation for years. I just took God at His Word and received healing. On one occasion I felt sick and looked awful and my boss sent me home mid-morning. I went home, received my healing, and went back to work in the early afternoon and worked as usual, even though my boss said that I could have the rest of the day off. I told him that well people should be working. It would be dishonest to stay home being paid for sick time when I wasn't sick. He was so impressed by the drastic change, it led to another opportunity to share Jesus with him.

(A brother in a certain department took a "sick day" to hand out tracts – and got caught! That definitely did NOT glorify God. You are a THIEF if you take a sick day when you're not really sick just to get extra paid time off!)

I will not turn the last account above into a rancid testimony that God made me sick so that He could heal me in front of my boss and give me a witnessing opportunity. I don't believe that for a minute! The devil wanted me sick, and his plan was thwarted.

We have to learn that just because God USES a situation for good does not mean that He AUTHORED the situation.

I do not have a single testimony of sickness keeping me out of a dire situation. I'm led by the Holy Spirit, and all Christians should be led by the Holy Spirit, not by sickness.

I have heard testimonies of people who were led by the Holy Spirit to not be in the wrong place at the wrong time, and it spared them an early grave due to a terrorist attack. They didn't have to be made sick.

There are plenty of missionary testimonies where God did signs and wonders in front of people who wanted to kill the missionaries and spared their lives. No one had to get sick for that to happen.

I don't want to be so spiritually deaf that it would take a sickness to lead me.

If sickness attacks me, I am going to run it off in the name of Jesus, which I have the right to do.

I remember a time that I was supposed to be at a service to help an evangelist, and I got food poisoning before the service – things were coming out both ends 5 minutes before the start of the service. Not good! But I believed the Word and received my healing, and I went out to the service and wasn't sick anymore. I have friends with similar testimonies. What if we had thought that maybe God was keeping us out because a terrorist was going to come in? My take would be that with all the Spirit-filled Christians that were there, at least someone would have heard from God about a terrorist situation. If God didn't want us there, He would have told us so plainly. A sickness would be at best an indefinite indicator – is it God or the devil? I don't ask; I just take authority over sickness in Jesus' name, and so should you, believing that if God didn't want you somewhere, the Holy Spirit would let you know that without having to use devil's weapons of affliction.

Objection: Sometimes God Withholds Healing in His Love because He Knows that If a Person Were Instantly Healed, He Would Backslide

This is yet another lame attempt to explain, “Why are some people not healed when they pray or are prayed over?” It tries to turn the failure to receive healing into a “good” thing, which it never truly is.

This mere human conjecture is contrary to Jesus’ ministry, where He was always willing to heal them ALL. Don’t you suppose that there were some in those crowds who might backslide? He was obviously willing to take that chance. Judas was involved on the SENDING end of the healings, and he did far worse than backslide? Jesus didn’t withdraw his power so that he wouldn’t fall away – He LET him fall away.

Not everyone kept following Him or even showed any gratitude. In one case where ten lepers were healed, only one even bothered to come back and thank Him. But the others were healed anyway!

We have seen numerous instances of people who DID backslide after they were completely healed when we laid hands on them. But the healing did not produce the backsliding; it was heart issues in the people. And the Lord was just as willing to heal those people as He ever was to heal anyone – even though He knew that those people we laid hands on would backslide! He’s gracious!

I’ve also known people who backslid after God prospered them – but that didn’t stop God from letting them enjoy divine prosperity for a season. Unfortunately, prosperity fled when they didn’t maintain their walk with the Lord and they stopped seeking His kingdom first.

We see no case in Scripture where Jesus, who is the same yesterday, today and forever (Hebrews 13:8), or any of His commissioned preachers in the New Testament, ever told someone, “NO, you can’t be healed because God knows you will backslide.” If Jesus never did it then, He’ll never do it now.

There is also a second insidious conclusion if you go along with this objection, and that is that God makes determinations on a case-by-case basis whom He will heal. He doesn’t! He paid for EVERYONE to be healed when Jesus bore their diseases. Healing is already legally THEIRS. So God, being one who always operates legally under His covenants, cannot deny something to someone that is already theirs by grace. There is no court in heaven making person-by-person decisions about healing. Anyone can have it, whether he backslides later or not. Jesus did not decide who could be healed when He healed them ALL in His earthly ministry, and He is not making such decisions today either.

Withholding healing based on future backsliding would put healing on a works basis, when it needs to be received by faith on a 100% grace basis. But you cannot possibly pray in faith if you harbor thoughts that God might withhold your healing so that you don’t backslide!

Objection: Like Any Loving Parent, God Sometimes Has to Tell His Children NO for Their Own Good

God never says NO to His own promises. He can't. He has already promised to heal all your diseases (Psalm 103:3). He declares you legally healed in your body by the stripes of Jesus (1 Peter 2:24). If He were to say NO to a request for healing, He would be a covenant-breaker and a liar like Satan.

2 Corinthians 1:18-20:

But as God is true, our word toward you was not yea and nay.

For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you by us, even by me and Silvanus and Timotheus, was not yea and nay, but in him was yea.

For all the promises of God in him are yea, and in him Amen, unto the glory of God by us.

God does not say yea to some people and nay to other people, or yea some of the time and nay the rest of the time. That is just religious nonsense. Whoever says that sometimes God says Yes, sometimes God says No and sometimes God says Wait when you ask for something He already promised doesn't know God very well according to His Word. (That particular Yes/No/Wait objection has its own section.) God is covenant-bound to heal you when you come to Him in faith.

Paul told us that Jesus Christ is not a mixture of yes and no! Look in the gospels and see where God or Jesus ever said NO to a request for healing. (The case of the Syrophonecian woman is covered in another objection, and she got what she came for anyway.) You'll see that those who came to Him were healed. They were never sent away with a NO. We know that Jesus always did the will of God and said what God wanted Him to say. Therefore, we know that God Himself would never say NO to someone who comes to receive healing. Neither Jesus nor God can change (Hebrews 13:8, Malachi 3:6, James 1:17), so Jesus could not possibly say NO today to someone who comes to receive healing.

Whoever makes this objection is assuming that sickness is somehow good and that God would say NO because He knows that we would be better off sick. IMPOSSIBLE. In no case in the New Testament did God or Jesus tell people that they were better off sick. (If you've been misinstructed that Paul begged God to heal him and was told NO, read the objection about Paul's Thorn and be set free from that nonsense.) When sickness is called "evil" (Deuteronomy 7:15), "the oppression of the devil" (Acts 10:38), "captivity" (Job 42:10), "bondage" (Luke 13:16) and "a curse" (Deuteronomy 28:15-68) how can it possibly make you better off? The devil has nothing that will make you better off.

If someone is not healed, it is not because God said NO to his healing. It is most likely because the person did not meet the qualification of asking in faith without wavering. That is God's standard for asking. If you waver, you must not think that you will receive anything from God (James 1:5-8). A way to waver is to think that God sometimes has to tell His children NO for their own good! To avoid wavering, feed on what the Word says about healing. Then you won't believe silly objections like this one.

God IS a loving parent, and that is precisely why He is always willing to heal. If you had the power to heal your child, would you withhold his healing because you felt that he would learn valuable lessons while sick? No, you wouldn't, and if you say that you would, you're a hypocrite and a liar. If you've ever given your child medicine to relieve his suffering, you have just proved that you would do what you can to take away your child's suffering. You would not withhold your medicine to "teach" him something, and the thought probably never crossed your mind. Now do you think that God, who has the best medicine of all to give you (His Word that He sent to heal you – Proverbs 4:20-22, Psalm 107:20), would be meaner than you are? Are you a better parent than God? No, you're not. God never tells His children NO when they ask for healing – precisely because He is a loving parent!

Objection: Sometimes God Says, “Yes,” Sometimes He Says, “No,” and Sometimes He Says, “Wait” When You Ask for Healing

This old lie gets passed from generation to generation in Sunday school classes around the world, at least at “word of unbelief” churches. I suppose this is their explanation of why some people’s prayers are not answered. In a way, it is a self-fulfilling prophecy. If you believe this foolish saying, God will ignore your unbelieving prayer for healing unless He makes an exception for you in His mercy.

You see, faith is God’s condition for receiving healing. James said that if you waver, you must not expect to receive anything (James 1:5-8). If you think that God might say, “Yes,” He might say “No,” and He might say “Wait,” you are by definition wavering. Therefore, you must expect that your prayer will accomplish nothing other than the displacement of some molecules in the air around you.

Jesus never told anyone “No,” and He never told anyone “Wait.” He was the will of God in action. God worked through Him. Therefore, God never said “No” or “Wait.” Since God and Jesus do not change (Malachi 3:6, Hebrews 13:8), they will never tell you either “No” or “Wait” today if you come to them believing.

The root problem with this objection is more subtle. This objection is based on the premise that healing is something that you request from God rather than something that you receive from God. If you believe this objection, you must be asking Him to do it for you and awaiting His response. You have already broken the rule that Jesus established for receiving from God in prayer. He said that you would have whatever you believe you receive when you pray (Mark 11:24). If you make healing a request, you are not believing that you receive anything when you pray. You are forwarding the matter to God for His action. You will be disappointed because you did follow Jesus’ instructions.

Study the cases where Jesus said that people’s faith had made them well. (See According to YOUR FAITH Be It Done unto You!) You will find that these people did not come to Jesus with a “request” as we would think of one. They came with the definite purpose of receiving healing from Him. For example, the woman with the issue of blood did not request anything from Jesus – she simply received from the anointing that was on the Christ (which literally means “anointed,” which is to say “The Anointed One.”)

There is a world of difference between God arbitrarily saying “No” and God not answering a prayer that was presented in unbelief. When the disciples failed to cast a demon out of a boy, God was not refusing to deliver the boy. The disciples were simply not in faith. Jesus said that they could not cast it out because of their unbelief, not because God said, “No.” Really, it was not something that they were supposed to ask God about anyway. They were supposed to take the authority that they already had over the demon.

That brings up an interesting point. Jesus talked about speaking to physical objects. You can speak to your sickness by the authority of Jesus Christ and make it leave your body. God could not possibly say “Yes,” “No,” or “Wait” because you are technically not even praying! You are just taking advantage of your covenant rights in Christ.

Why do people believe this Yes/No/Wait nonsense? Perhaps it makes a convenient reason why some people’s prayers are not answered. There are indeed reasons why prayer goes unanswered, but we should consider the Biblical reasons why this is so.

Prayer is unanswered when it is prayed in unbelief. The passage in James proves this.

Prayer is unanswered when it is prayed with a wrong motive. James also spoke about people who “ask, and receive not” because they “ask amiss, that they may consume it on [their] lusts” (James 4:2).

Prayer is unanswered when it is not in line with your covenant. God would say “No” to a request to be able to marry your friend’s wife or to keep the tax man from noticing where you cheated on your tax return or to blind the highway troopers so that they don’t notice that you’re whizzing along far in excess of the speed limit.

Prayer is unanswered when you refuse to repent of known sin and your heart condemns you. If your heart condemns you, you do not have confidence before God. (See Healing and Repentance and 1 John 3:21-22.) In that case, the blockage is at your end, not at God’s end.

Prayer is unanswered when you get into strife with your spouse or into many of the other traps cited in the Mistakes to Avoid section of this book.

(For more information on this topic, see Prayers God Won’t Answer.)

However, prayer for healing could NEVER be unanswered for the reason that God chose to say “No” or even “Wait.” There is no precedent for this in Scripture. If God would not definitely heal you, Jesus bore your sicknesses and carried your pains for nothing. Why would Jesus pay the full price for you to be completely healed of all disease and pain, only to have God tell you that you can’t have what Jesus already paid for you to have?

I tell you boldly that if you cling to this Yes/No/Wait junk, you can forget about receiving healing from God. You cannot possibly pray the prayer of faith to a God who arbitrarily refuses to heal some and delays the healing of others for some mysterious reason known only to Himself.

It would be better if only untrained Sunday school teachers made this objection. It is unfortunate that people with seminary degrees and high positions sometimes quote this as gospel, too. (Some liberal seminaries today do more harm than good. Like the Wizard of Oz, they can’t give you a brain, but they can give you a diploma.) Although this Yes/No/Wait cliché is nowhere in the Bible, people hear it from teachers they respect and quote it as if it were part of a fifth gospel or something. (The Gospel of Thomas, perhaps?) I hope that you never parrot this religious tradition of men that has robbed so many people of their healing.

Objection: God Sometimes Withholds What We Request Because He Knows What's Best for Us

JESUS never withheld healing from anyone who requested it for ANY reason, including supposedly knowing there was an alternative that involved staying sick that was “best” for people. Because He is the same today (Hebrews 13:8), He will not do so today, either.

Besides, the entire premise of this objection is flawed. The Israelites in the wilderness asked for meat even though that wasn't God's will for them, and He gave them meat anyway. Later in Israel's history, Israel asked for a king. That was not God's will either, and He even warned people of the consequences, but they kept asking for a king, and God gave them a king. So there you have proof that God can answer prayers that AREN'T His will. So be careful what you pray for!

For example, say that a friend of yours has just committed a crime. You know he's guilty, but most people think he's innocent because they attend the same church, and surely none of the nice people at your church could ever be a criminal. People band together with you and your friend and pray, “Lord, let justice be done in this court case! Let the truth come out!” The truth comes out, justice is served, and off he goes to jail.

Or suppose that a sick person just wants to die even though he's in his fifties, and you and your friends agree for him to die. He dies. That wasn't God's best, but He would allow it. Like Paul, we have some say in whether we hang around here longer or not and God will back our wishes even when it's not the best outcome we could have had.

So it is downright dangerous to think, “Well, I'll just request whatever I think I want from God, and if He isn't good with it, He'll just turn down my prayer request.” Don't count on it! Find out what God's best is before you pray, and pray in line with that! When it comes to healing in particular, you don't have to “seek God” to see if it's His will because you can read directly from His Word that it IS His will.

Objection: If Healing Were Really Based 100% on Grace, Everyone Would Be Healed

Do you believe that being saved from hell is 100% grace or that you have to bring some good character to the table to complete what Jesus did for you? I hope that you acknowledge that our salvation is a mixture of 100% grace + 0% merit. But if you affirm that (which you should), you'd have to argue that if salvation is 100% by grace, everyone would be saved!

What you must understand is that the PROCURING of your salvation and your healing was already done by the Lord Jesus Christ, and it is based 100% on grace and 0% on your personal merits. However, saying that either is 100% grace so that you don't have to do anything is clearly not true, and it is not what this book teaches. God made the provision 100% by grace, but it still needs to be received by faith whether it is the new birth or physical healing. You can't earn it, but you do have to receive it. The fact that it is offered freely does not mean that you walk in it automatically just because you're on the earth.

Grace provides; faith receives. We see this in Romans 5:2, where we have access into this grace by faith. Faith is still necessary to receive what grace, not good works, provided.

Objection: God Can and Did “Play Favorites” with Healing; Jesus Was Only Sent to the Jews, and Gentiles Were Excluded from God’s Healing Covenant

The idea here is that God does not treat everyone equally, therefore we cannot expect everyone to be healed. Indeed, The Old Covenant was not made with the Gentiles, and Jesus said that He was only sent to the Jews during His earthly ministry before He went to the cross. This was obvious when He told a Gentile woman that healing was not rightfully hers because she was not a Jew. He said that it was not right to throw the children’s bread (healing) to the little dogs. She got deliverance for her daughter anyway through faith, but Gentile healings were a rare exception in Jesus’ ministry.

This is a moot point today because there is no difference in Christ between a Jew and a Gentile. In Christ there is no Jew or Gentile (Galatians 3:28, Colossians 3:11). Healing is available for all. The natives of Melita were not Jews, but all of them who were sick got healed. Paul did great signs and wonders among the Gentiles. It is true that God did treat certain classes of people differently in the past. However, Christ broke down the “middle wall of partition” between those classes. Everyone is now on the same basis with God, including you.

Jesus never turned anyone away who came to Him for healing. Thus, you cannot prove from Scripture that Jesus Christ would ever “play favorites” among those who come to Him for healing today.

The reason that God cannot play favorites with healing is that Jesus Christ bore OUR sicknesses and OUR pains at Calvary. It is the same reason that God cannot play favorites with forgiveness of sins, because Jesus was wounded for OUR transgressions at Calvary. God cannot deny to any man that which is already legally his in Christ.

Objection: We Should Not Take up God's Time with Petty Healing Needs When So Many Other People Have Far More Serious Problems

This objection is based on the flawed but common premise that God is like a giant time-sharing computer system, so if someone makes demands on Him, it decreases His ability to meet other demands. That is a ridiculous portrayal of our Almighty God, who could easily heal everyone at once in the blink of an eye. In fact, He actually WILL do that when Jesus returns and we all get our new never-to-be-sick healthy eternal bodies! You do believe He's coming back, I hope, because He is! When He does, do you believe that all believers will get new bodies at once? That's what will happen! That proves right there that there is no power drain in heaven when one person taps into His healing power; He has plenty of power to make everyone's body submit to Him at once. It doesn't matter if you have been written off to die from cancer; healing that cancer will not cause a brownout in heaven! Receiving healing from a pimple will not hinder someone else's ability to be healed of asthma at the same moment.

You will hinder your prayer life if you maintain the erroneous idea that God's attention is divided among all people who are praying at the moment. If that were true, you would want to pray at odd times when fewer people were praying to increase the proportion of His attention that He can give you.

The truth is that God can give everyone in the world His undivided attention at once! When you pray, you have His undivided attention, and so does your neighbor if he is praying at the same time. How can this be? It's because God does not inhabit time, He inhabits eternity (Isaiah 57:15). He is outside of time. He created time. Time did not exist until "the beginning!" That's why there was nothing before God – when there's no time, there's no such thing as "before." Aren't you glad you don't have to wrap your head around all this and understand the things of God intellectually? He only asks you to believe them!

So God, who is beyond time, can "reach into" time and listen to you and "simultaneously" (from our perspective within time) listen to someone else. So you are not causing anyone else to miss out by praying for anything you want!

Three other Scriptures reinforce the obvious notion that God created time. There are references to "before the world began" in Romans 16:25, 2 Timothy 1:9 and Titus 1:2. Thus, the world had a beginning (as Genesis 1:1 also states).

Interestingly, in the first and third of these references, the Greek literally reads before time everlasting and before everlasting time. This probably why the NKJV chose to use the phrase "before time began" in Titus 1:2 (and also 2 Timothy 1:9); it would seem to be a fitting translation. Even just taking the King James Version at face value ("before the world began") is still probably good enough, as it still points to a "beginning" before which (by definition) there could have been no time. (If something was "before" the beginning, whatever that something was would be at the beginning of time instead!)

Some cosmologists have proposed that the world has basically an infinite past of big bangs and implosions that follow one another. Such theories explain nothing, as there is always one more previous big bang or implosion, so there would be an infinity of past time, so it would be impossible to ever get to “now!” There is always one step further back in time in their theory. I don’t know how anyone can think that such events could be an explanation of where everything ultimately originated. More recently at this writing, more scientists are lining up with the idea the universe had to have a “beginning,” though they keep searching for an explanation that would exclude an outside influence (God!). Some of these concepts like the recent concept of “imaginary time” and unobservable (and thus forever unverifiable) “dark matter” would seem to take more faith to believe than the plain truth of the Bible!

Because at one point there was no time, we know that God created time. He Himself still lives outside of the time that He created. That is why He can tell you exactly what will happen in the future in His Word. It is also why He has literally all the time in the world to hear your requests, no matter how numerous!

See also:

Objection: It May Not Be God’s Will to Heal Every Little Issue – He Heals Sicknesses and Diseases But Not Every Defect

Objection: It May Not Be God's Will to Heal Every Little Issue – God Heals Sicknesses and Diseases but Not Every Defect

Do you believe that people in heaven will have ANY defects in their bodies? If not, why not desire God's will "to be done on earth as it is in heaven" with regard to those defects?

Jesus never turned away anyone because his issue was too small. He never said, "Aw, that's just a wart, lady, deal with it – there are a lot more serious needs in this crowd!"

As proved elsewhere, you aren't "taking up God's time" with a small request!

God didn't tell us that we are healed of the more serious stuff by the stripes of Jesus – He just declared us healed. That would cover any situation where your body isn't in perfect health right now!

Now let me tell you from my experience why it could be outright dangerous to believe this objection. I've had two times over the years when I noticed a small lump in my body. Was it just a temporary fatty buildup or some kind of a bruise or something more serious? Should I have just ignored them because they were "little issues?" In both cases I cursed those small lumps and commanded them to be gone and they were. There is no sign of them left and there aren't any other lumps in my body. Wouldn't it have been sad if they were cancerous and I just left them alone only to find out later that I was in need of serious treatment? I wasn't going to risk it! It's always best to hop on problems when they're small so that they don't become bigger problems!

Objection: The Choicest Saints on Earth are Suffering Shut-Ins

The full sentence, in case you've never had the misfortune to come across it yet along with the "classic" old anti-healing book that contains it, is:

"The choicest saints on earth today are the thousands of shut-ins, who suffer in patience and sing their sweet songs in the night."

followed by:

"They are living in the closest possible communion with the Lord, and by their gentleness, meekness, their whole-hearted and uncomplaining resignation to the will of God, manifest the all sufficiency of His grace to sustain and keep; they glorify Him a thousand times more than all the pretending faith-healers with their sensational methods."

followed by a statement that you feel the presence of the Lord more with them perhaps nowhere else this side of heaven.

Not a single Scripture is cited to support this syrupy sentimental slush; there is not even a Scripture innuendo to be found in it, though as we will see, Scripture certainly contradicts what this author says.

I know that in my experience, when I've ministered in nursing homes, I've never found the "choicest" saints there. Many times they're miserable and unhappy, and if I had to live somewhere listening to the constant screams of "I want to go HOME!" and "Helllllp meeeee!" I probably wouldn't be too happy either. Maybe nursing homes in the author's bygone day were different; I wasn't around then.

Even dear old saints are often found constantly complaining about their physical misery. I don't know if I've EVER encountered someone in a home who totally "accepted" his horrible illness – the patients don't hesitate to ask a nurse for something to combat their allegedly God-given pain. If they REALLY believe that God wills for them to be in pain, then rather than ask for painkillers, they should beg the staff for PAIN-ENHANCERS so that they can suffer more severely and be in even CLOSER communion with the Lord as they are unable to sleep due to their misery – which will enable them to sing their sweet songs in the night instead of sleeping in the night as most of us prefer to do.

This old book has been the model for countless "faith preacher personal attack books" since then, as there is nothing sweet or patient about its diatribes of healing ministers who were alive back then, whom it doesn't hesitate to name and vilify. But I suppose the author had not yet reached the lofty spiritual heights that he thinks are reserved for the bedridden.

I've never been to such a facility where I have had a great awareness of the presence of God when I walked in, but I've been to multiple such places where there was certainly a presence of demons that were afflicting some of the patients, and sometimes speaking and acting overtly through them. I know that in my experience, I have sensed the presence of the Lord the strongest in healing meetings when the power of the risen Christ manifested and the sick were set free. It is clear that the author did not have that privilege, as he no doubt stayed away from people he labeled as sensational pretenders.

There is nothing in Scripture that even hints that ILLNESS causes you to live "in the closest possible communion with the Lord" and if the author stopped and thought a minute about it, his actions would belie his own words. After all, isn't the closest possible communion with God a worthy goal? If so, the author should have proudly told the world that he was praying to get so sick that he had to go to a convalescent center so that he too could enjoy the closest possible communion with the Lord. If that's really the case, we should pray for EVERYONE to have this God-appointed physical misery so that EVERYONE can be as close to God as possible. If YOU really believe the objector's statements, why aren't YOU praying to be as sick as possible as soon as possible to enhance your communion with God? ("Lord, cause me to be a suffering shut-in so that I can sing my sweet songs in the night and be one of the choicest saints on earth.")

In fact, from a Bible perspective (much better than a purely emotional or experience-driven one), if it were really true that serious sickness grants you the closest communion with God, then Jesus went about doing BAD when he healed the sick! If intense suffering that confines you to a home gives you the closest walk with God possible, we should read that Jesus went around DISHING OUT sicknesses that left the crowds bed-ridden so that they could ALL enjoy the marvelous spiritual benefits of debilitation.

At least the author points out something true about these people – they live in resignation (as opposed to faith)! Because they think that their suffering is heaven-sent (though they want the staff to fight it with painkillers), they don't do anything to escape what they think is the oppression of God, rather than what it is, the oppression (cruel tyranny) of the devil. It is tragic that so many people die in this delusion, which books like the one in question promote.

Do the suffering shut-ins really glorify God a thousand times as much as healing ministers? Not according to Scripture! The apostles (healing ministers if there ever were any!) were called "the glory of Christ" in 2 Corinthians 8:23. (The word for messengers here is translated apostles all over the New Testament.) Men glorified God when the sick were healed. But there is NOT ONE CASE in Scripture where men glorified God when they encountered a person who had just resigned himself to suffering and saw the person's meekness and patience. Gushy emotional appeals should never be confused with the actual Bible.

Objection: If God Could Even Refuse to Answer Jesus' Prayer (Matthew 26:39, 42), He Can Refuse to Answer Yours

Look at what Jesus prayed and you'll see that this is not a case of Jesus praying for something and having God refuse to answer him.

Matthew 26:39, 42:

And he went a little further, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me: nevertheless not as I will, but as thou wilt.

He went away again the second time and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cup may not pass from me, except I drink it, thy will be done.

Throughout this prayer, Jesus was submitted to the will of God in the matter. His spirit was willing, but His flesh was weak. Jesus was not praying contrary to God's will or getting God to change His mind about anything. God in fact did answer the prayer, because verse 42 shows that Jesus understood what God's answer was – there was no alternative to the sufferings He was about to endure.

This prayer of consecration is the one place in the Bible where Jesus prayed an if-it-be-Thy-will prayer. Therefore, we should conclude that a prayer of consecration is the one time that you should ever pray an if-it-be-Thy-will prayer. Thus, it would be proper to pray, "Lord, I'm willing to go to Africa if it's Your will, even though I don't want to go there," but it would be improper to pray, "Lord, heal my body if it be Thy will," because God has already made His will clear concerning healing.

Tradition says that God sometimes refuses to answer prayer for reasons known only to Himself. Jesus, on the other hand, promised results when you pray in faith. The most common reason for unanswered prayer is unbelief concerning God's will to heal. Thus, we should not be singing songs with stupid lines like, "Teach me the patience of unanswered prayer." I did not make up that phrase; it's in the hymnbooks of two denominations whose churches I used to attend a long time ago. The one good thing about that line is that it is self-fulfilling. God will not answer an ignorant prayer to have future prayers go unanswered, so you at least get the satisfaction (?) of praying an unanswered prayer about praying unanswered prayers! Lyrics like that belong in the landfill, not in hymnbooks.

Objection: Before We Pray for a Healing in Faith, We Must Pray to See If It Is God's Will in This Case

The core of this argument is usually based on 1 John 5:14-15. The “logic” is that we should pray to find out if healing is His will in this particular case, so that if it is, we can pray in faith, knowing that we will have what we ask.

The problem is that this assumes that there is no other way to know the will of God for healing other than looking for a direct personal revelation from the Holy Spirit. This would mean that it would be impossible to get faith from the Word of God to be healed, because if that were possible, you would not need to pray about God's will in the matter.

Would you pray about God's will about someone getting saved? Would you refuse to pray a prayer of salvation with someone until you got a direct revelation from the Holy Spirit that he wants to save that particular person? Of course not. You know God's will in the matter, so you would not hesitate to pray with the person. You would be certain that if the person has met God's conditions of believing that God raised Jesus from the dead and confessing Jesus as Lord, he will be saved.

Likewise, you should study God's Word until you know God's will in the matter of healing. Once you know that healing is His will, you can use 1 John 5:14-15 properly and know that you have the petition that you desired of Him.

It is impossible to pray in faith unless you know Scriptures that say that you can have what you're praying for. Otherwise, your faith would have no basis, and you would be praying based on your feelings, not your faith.

However, James 5:15 clearly states that elders of the Church are to pray “the prayer of faith” that will raise up a sick person. Nowhere does it say that the elders should pray for a personal inner witness as to the will of God in the matter. “Any sick” who call for the elders are to be prayed over in faith. If there were a need to seek a personal revelation on the matter, James would have said so. If there were any exceptions, James would have mentioned that also.

The very fact that it is possible to pray “the prayer of faith” for the sick is proof in and of itself that healing can be obtained through faith in the Word of God.

This argument is also ruined by the fact that there is not one New Testament case out of all the crowds of people who were healed where the preacher stopped and prayed to ascertain the will of God for a particular individual. You cannot find anything like the following:

4 John 2:5-9:

And multitudes came to Jesus, and sought to touch Him. And as each one came, Jesus prayed for five minutes to get a direct inner witness of whether or not God wanted to heal each individual. This is why there were so many hungry people to feed, for verily, the healing lines took many days to finish.

Then He sent out His disciples, giving them power over all diseases and all demons. However, he saith unto them, "This power will only work after you pray to see if God wants to heal the particular person. It may not be God's will to heal some even though the power is there to heal all of them of all their diseases."

But Paul went to an island, and healed all the sick people on it. And the Lord appeared to him in a vision and rebuked him, saying, "Hey, Paul, you didn't check with Me first before you healed those people. Don't you know that you're supposed to pray to determine the will of God for each individual?"

If this seems hokey, it is no hokier than the objection being raised. Were this objection true, we would surely see many real Scripture passages that read as the fake ones above.

The only reason why people raise this objection is that they have not taken the time to study the Word on healing. If they had done so, they would have known that God is able and willing to heal anyone who comes to Him in faith to receive healing.

Objection: Here Are Some Wonderful Testimonies of People Who Were Healed after Submitting to God's Sovereign Will without Demanding that He Heal Them

(The wonderful testimonies follow. For example, John Doe [not his real name] got seriously ill but called on God, yielding to His sovereignty without speaking in faith, without commanding anything to happen and without being sure of how God would answer. God chose to heal him and he is fine now.)

I am glad that the people involved did get healed. God is merciful. He doesn't necessarily demand technical perfection from everyone, especially people with little exposure to real divine healing. Moreover, perhaps this denominational author should visit some objectors who claim that there are no real instances of divine healing to be documented anywhere and show them that they're wrong.

When I was young in the things of God, I would also pray to "seek God's will" about particular healing cases. I didn't know the Bible; I had been a flaming atheist not long before then. It was interesting that God always seemed to say, "Yes, I want that person healed," and the person would be healed when I laid hands on him. I didn't know any better and God met me where I was. That was OK for a while, but there came a time when I needed to ascertain His will from His Word rather than from a direct revelation in every case. I stopped getting "confirmations" on the inside in particular cases. But I was growing in the Lord and went with "a more sure word of prophecy" – the Word – rather than how I felt that the Holy Spirit was impressing me. Of course, the Holy Spirit had been leading me in line with the Word – He would never lead anyone in the opposite direction from the Word.

I talked elsewhere about the story of the woman who stuck her head in the oven and got baptized with the Holy Spirit and then excitedly told her neighbor, who came and stuck her head in the same oven and got baptized with the Holy Spirit too! That doesn't mean that we would publish a new half-baked doctrine that ovens are where you get filled with the Spirit. God was just meeting them where they were. I am glad that He didn't demand that I knew everything before using me. But He does want us to grow in our knowledge of the Word. He would not be happy NOW if a sick person came up in a meeting and I stopped to pray, "God is it Your will to heal this person?" The sick would not be happy either at how long a meeting like that would have to be.

I'll praise God with anyone who gets healed. It sure beats staying sick! But the difference between the John Doe testimony and mine is that his is not necessarily reproducible. In fact, few people will get healed praying like that. What I preach is reproducible and it will work for anyone who believes it. There is a better way to pray if you want to be healed, and I'm hoping that this book will help you do that.

See also:

Objection: You Must Let GOD Choose When to Grant Power to Heal the Sick

Objection: You Must Let GOD Choose When to Grant Power to Heal the Sick

At least this objector realizes that there can be cases TODAY when the sick are healed by the power of God flowing through a person, which is farther along than most objectors are! His particular thing is that He believes that healing is not in the atonement but is granted on a case-by-case basis according to God's will through the "gifts of healings."

One problem is that Jesus said that BELIEVERS (those who believe) would lay hands on the sick and they would (not might) recover (Mark 16:18). However, Paul made it clear that not all have gifts of healings. So there must be another way for saints who are not used in "gifts of healings" to minister healing.

Fortunately, even if "gifts of healings" are not operating (when even people who aren't in faith for healing can sometimes receive), ALL believers have the right to be filled with the Holy Spirit – the SAME Holy Spirit who ministered through Jesus, not some watered-down Holy Spirit Temporary Free Trial Version. And that's where this objection really breaks down. Jesus said that His disciples would receive power when the Holy Spirit came upon them – when they were baptized with the Holy Spirit. This word power is the Greek word dunamis, which is the same word that Jesus used to describe what went out of Him when the woman with the issue of blood touched Him. (The King James says virtue, but it doesn't mean moral virtue, which wouldn't have left Him, obviously!) It's the same word dunamis in Acts 1:8.

So you see, when you're baptized with the Holy Spirit, you HAVE the power to heal the sick. God has already "granted" it! So now it is up to you to use it. If you are wise, you will proclaim to the sick the good news of what Jesus did about their sicknesses so that they have a basis for faith, though there may times when God uses YOU in gifts of healings and someone who hardly knows what's going on will get healed anyway. My personal experience is that when I'm bold to act on what I already know, that is when God is most likely to kick in with special manifestations. After all, it's hard to flow in gifts of healings when you're not actually ministering to any sick people!

But you DEFINITELY do not have to wait for GOD to choose to grant power that you already received when you received the Miracle Worker Himself – the Holy Spirit!

Objection: I Got a Debilitating Disease and Cried, “Why Me?” And the Lord Answered, “Why NOT You?”

This is the kind of complete idiocy you’d expect to encounter when you buy books in the “Spiritual” book section in chain stores. Someone will tell a story like this, and soon someone else will be claiming to have had the same encounter with the Lord in prayer. Someone else might have a disabled child and cry out, “Why Me?” and tell everyone that the Lord said, “Why NOT You?”

Can’t you just picture Jesus saying to the blind men who cried out to Him, “Why SHOULDN’T you be blind? Give me one good reason!” Or picture Peter at the Beautiful Gate, “Why SHOULDN’T you be crippled?” You NEVER see the Lord asking anyone “Why NOT you?” and refusing to heal anyone.

Jesus has never changed (Hebrews 13:8). So what He never said in the Bible about healing, He will never say today about healing. When the leper questioned His will to heal, He didn’t say, “I WON’T. Why SHOULDN’T you have leprosy?” He affirmed “I will” and healed him (Matthew 8:2-4). That would be Jesus’ answer to you today.

The objector heard from AN EVIL SPIRIT claiming to be God. He didn’t hear from the real God who would never go against His own Word. Satan tries to manifest himself as an angel of light (2 Corinthians 11:14). He doesn’t say, “I’m the devil and I’m here to rip you off – why SHOULDN’T I keep stealing your health with that horrible illness?” He’ll plant some unbiblical thought in your head and try to make you think that God put it there. If you don’t know what the Word says, you’ll swallow his lie.

I can answer the original questions. “Why me?” Because sin corrupted the earth once Satan was allowed to become “the god of this world.” He should never have had that status, and he never would have had it if Adam hadn’t granted it to him. The story in John 9:1-7 proves that you cannot blame a condition on anyone’s particular sin. You have just encountered something that is not God’s will that Adam allowed to be here. “Why NOT me?” Because Jesus bore all your sicknesses for you, including the one in question. If Jesus took it and redeemed you from it, God doesn’t want you to have it. That’s WHY NOT YOU!

Objection: God Only Answers Prayer When You Ask Something that Is His Will

Really? That's interesting. It would be nice if prayer were so safe. Actually, you can harm yourself by praying incorrectly or for the wrong thing. No built-in safety valve always stops you from hurting yourself. Prayer is like electricity. Electricity will fry you if you misuse it, but if you use it properly, it allows you read answers to healing objections on an electronic device.

Moses was supposed to be God's spokesman for Israel. But Moses prayed that God would use Aaron instead. This angered God, but God answered Moses' prayer and let Aaron do it even though that was not His will.

Israel cried out for a king in the Old Testament. That was not God's will. Yet God finally answered the people's prayer, even though the king they got (Saul) did them more harm than good. God answered a prayer that was prayed against His will and people suffered for it.

The complaining Israelites in the desert cried out for meat. That was not the will of God, either. God wanted them to be satisfied with manna, but noooooo...they wanted something else. God gave it to them, but they ended up dying right away, too. But God did hear and answer the prayer, even though the people asked contrary to His will.

Abraham asked God to bless Ishmael, even though Ishmael himself was not part of the will of God for the earth. Although Ishmael could not inherit the blessing of Abraham, God answered Abraham's prayer and blessed Ishmael anyway. This led to more problems on the earth than Abraham could ever have imagined.

Jesus said that if you abide in Him and His words abide in you, you will ask what you will and it will be done for you (John 15:7-8). Make sure that you really want what you ask for!

When it comes to healing, you can know that it is God's will. His will is written down for all to read in the Bible. The particular verses having to do with healing are all referenced in this book, so you have no excuse for not knowing the will of God in the matter. I just wanted to answer the objection on its own grounds and prove it false with witnesses from Scripture.

Have you ever missed God and asked Him to bless something that you were doing that was not His will for you? God to an extent will do that because you ask for it. You can be totally out of the will of God and pray for blessings from God – and get at least some of them because God is merciful and He has already legally granted you all blessings in the heavenlies in Christ anyway. Now take healing. God's perfect will is for you to receive your healing by faith. Say that you are not prepared to do that. You pray instead for God to give the surgeon wisdom to operate on you without doing the kinds of things that trigger malpractice suits. That isn't God's highest and best, but if you can believe for it, God will honor and answer that prayer. It sure beats dying.

Objection: Jesus Said to Say, “Thy Will Be Done,” Instead of Demanding Healing

Jesus taught His disciples to pray, “Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven” (Matthew 6:10). We know that saints in heaven are not sick, because there is no crying and no pain there (Revelation 21:4). The will of God is done in heaven. Therefore, the will of God cannot be sickness. If it were, some of the saints in heaven would still get sick.

This prayer is sometimes misinterpreted to mean that we should just throw up our hands and say, “Lord, I don’t know Your will concerning this trial of sickness, so I just ask that Your will be done here.” Pray that and I can just about guarantee you that the will of Satan will be done in your body. Satan will exploit your ignorance of the God’s will in the matter and leave you sick, thinking that it’s God’s will!

Of course, the person who said this believes that sickness is the will of God on earth but not in heaven. That is exactly what Jesus contradicts in the very passage he cited! We are to pray that the will of God be done on earth just as it is in heaven. God does not have one will in heaven and another here. He does not deem sickness OK now but plan to deem it NOT OK after we all get to heaven.

If you’ve seen Jesus, you’ve seen the Father. Jesus was God’s will in action. He healed those who were oppressed of the devil (not of God) – Acts 10:38. Satan is the Sickener. Jesus is the Healer. It should be obvious to anyone with half a bit of sense that the will of God is healing, not sickness. We don’t have to wonder about it. Read the rest of this book if you still have doubts. God has made it clear that he is your Physician who heals all your diseases (Exodus 15:26, Psalm 103:3). The Word of God will make faith come and make doubt leave.

The sense in which we are to pray, “Thy will be done” is first to know God’s will and then pray that it be done! You do not question God’s will when you pray. To do so is to waver and be tossed about like ocean waves in the wind. You must not think you will receive anything from the Lord then, according to James 1:5-8.

Jesus never told His followers to question the will of God in prayer. His only use of an “if” was when He was consecrating Himself to the will of God in the garden. Consecration should be your only use of “if” also. When it comes to receiving something from God, you must first determine that God says that it is legally yours for the taking based on Scripture. Then you believe that you receive it when you pray (Mark 11:24).

You don’t demand healing from God, anyway. If you’re going to make a demand, demand that the devil’s sickness leave your body in the name of Jesus. There is no need to “boss God around” on the matter. He is perfectly willing to heal you right now and He has always been willing to do so. You just might have found out about it now, just as you once found out about the new birth that had always been available to you. You can pray in the name of Jesus and receive what God has already decided to give you. God isn’t withholding your healing from you!

A further sub-objection has been made that it is inconsistent to pray, “Thy will be done on earth – healing – as it is in heaven,” because God’s will in heaven is having Jesus rule everyone on the earth from His throne, and this will not happen on the earth in this age. To this I reply: Jesus did not set up a throne on earth during His earthly ministry and He did not pray for that to happen. However, He did heal the sick and He did commission His followers to do the same. Jesus said that He always did the things that pleased the Father (John 8:29), and the healing part of the will of the Father was being done on earth before His future rulership over the entire planet. Because Jesus did the will of God, and Jesus healed the sick in this age, it is the will of God to heal the sick in this age. Let us all pray that the known will of God – divine health – be done on earth in this age, as it is in heaven!

Objection: We Should Pray for Others in Faith, Expecting that God Will Heal Them, Then Leave the Matter in God's Hands

This isn't a bad statement at all if what you really mean is, "Having done my part, I expect God to do His!" Unfortunately, that isn't what the objector meant. He meant that we should pray "in faith" but then allow God to make exceptions in His sovereignty. But that is a blatant contradiction! If you believe that God COULD make an exception in His sovereignty, you cannot by definition pray the prayer of faith in the first place! Faith is being SURE of what you don't see – not being ALMOST SURE (subject to exceptions) of what you don't see. If there is ANY doubt in your heart that God WILL keep His Word, you aren't in what the Bible calls faith. You have to know God's will for SURE before you pray. You can't just be "pretty sure" that He will back His Word.

God honors His Word! He isn't a liar like some people. He does NOT make "sovereign exceptions" to words that have already proceeded out of His mouth (Psalm 89:34). The objector assumes that He does, so the matter is in "His hands" at that point. You need to get to know God better if you think that He is fickle like that!

That reflects the mistaken mindset that you are in a courtroom and God needs to weigh in on your particular case and make a decision. FAITH, on the other hand, realizes that God ALREADY made a decision when He sent Christ to bear our sicknesses, and He would have no reason to deny any prayer to receive the healing that He already offers.

Thus, this objection contradicts itself! It is no better than saying, "We should commit our money to a certain online retailer, being SURE that he will deliver the promised goods, while realizing that he might NOT deliver the promised goods!" I hope that we'd know better than that on the Internet. It's a shame that we don't know better when it comes to the things of the Spirit.

Objection: “If It Be Your Will” Must Always Be Implied – If You Could Literally Ask for ANYTHING, You Could Ask to Become God

I agree with the objector that the “blanket” promises in the Bible are limited by the terms in the Bible itself. So you can’t ask to become God, because then the Bible would be a lie when it says that there is only one God. You can’t ask for your neighbor’s wife or possessions, either, as that would contradict Scripture. (The lady preacher who tried to get people to “agree” for a certain faith preacher’s wife to die so that she could have him was obviously wrong and God didn’t answer her prayer.)

So asking “what you will” still has to be within the confines of Scripture. Besides, Jesus’ promise of asking what you will and receiving it was for those who abided in Jesus and had His words abiding in them (John 15:7). If the Word abides in you, you know better than to ask for some things.

So to a large degree, I agree with the objector. Where we diverge is that he would have us believe that receiving ANYTHING must have an implicit “if it be Your will” attached to it. That is the opposite of how faith works. You cannot pray in faith until you are CERTAIN of what God’s will IS in the matter. Otherwise, you could not be sure that He would give you what you’re asking for. If we take this objector’s argument where he wants it to go, any request for healing would have to be made with “if it’s God’s will” implicit – yet such a prayer won’t be answered! You cannot receive healing or anything else if you pray a wavering prayer where you don’t believe with 100% certainty that it is God’s will for you to have it. Your prayers will be double-minded and you will receive nothing (James 1:5-8).

The objector gets close but misses the mark by saying that a prayer must have an implicit “if it be Your will.” The objector and I would agree that God will answer prayers that line up with His will, but the real idea is to FIND OUT what God’s will IS – before you pray – by reading His Word. DO NOT attempt to pray about any matter unless you know that the Word backs you. DO NOT pray to ask God what His doctrine is – unless you’re asking Him to show it to you from His Word. You get your doctrine only from the Word, NEVER from what you think God is saying to you in prayer. If anything is really from God, you will find backing for it in the Word.

You would NOT ask to become God because you know that isn’t His will. You WOULD receive healing when you pray once you know from the Word that it is His will.

Once you know what God’s Word has to say about something, there is no implicit if it be Your will in the matter! Instead there is faith that receives from God’s already-open hand.

Even the objector would have to admit that his assertion is incorrect because someone who wants to be saved would never be expected to approach God with the prayer, “Save me if it be Thy will.” In fact, if there were even an implicit “if it be Thy will” in the prayer, the sinner would not be coming in faith and he would not be saved. Now you could point out that God’s will is KNOWN from His Word in that particular matter – that He doesn’t want anyone to perish, but to be saved and to come to a knowledge of the truth (1 Timothy 2:3-4). So the sinner would be guaranteed an answer when he comes believing what God’s will is. So, you see, knowledge of the Word in a matter ELIMINATES the “if it be Your will” element from your prayer and replaces it with faith. Once you know what the Word says about healing, you pray with just as much confidence to receive your healing as a sinner could pray to receive the new birth.

So in summary, answered prayer depends on God’s will in the matter, but you can know God’s will before you pray in matters like the new birth and healing – from His Word. That will replace the question marks in your prayers with exclamation points!

Objection: The Mere Fact that There Are So Many Objections to Divine Healing Proves What a Flimsy Doctrine It Is

If this is true, the entire Bible is a collection of flimsy doctrine, given the large number of claims out there that it contains contradictions and errors! Only a few of them are covered here; this book is about healing as opposed to Biblical apologetics, and I think you'll agree that this book is long enough without getting into that whole area, which could fill another entire book.

There are big sets of objections to Biblical integrity that I won't honor by pointing you to them if you haven't come across them. However, one solution is that various authors have written refutations of every argument made against the Bible's divine inspiration. That is similar to what I have done with the topic of divine healing and objections from its many detractors.

But the large number of objections to Biblical inerrancy can't be used to conclude that Biblical inerrancy is a flimsy doctrine!

The majority isn't always right. In fact, the majority was usually wrong in the Bible! My take is that healing is such a threat to Satan's kingdom that he does everything he can to discredit the proper teaching of divine healing, just as he tries whatever he can to keep people from being baptized with the Holy Spirit. He is all too aware of the damage to his kingdom inflicted by those who have been endued with power from on high.

You can't base your doctrine on polls of current sentiment among Christians, which at this writing demonstrate an alarming ignorance of Bible teaching on important issues, especially among younger Christians.

The correctness of any doctrine can only be ascertained from the sole source of all Christian doctrine, the Bible!

Objection: Any Other Objection Not Specifically Covered in This Book

No book can anticipate every healing objection that might make the rounds in Christian circles in the future. However, the general principles below will help you formulate refutations for new arguments that might come up without the need to revise this book every time someone comes up with a “new” argument – which is usually just a new spin on one of the same old arguments.

The SAME Test

If someone thinks that God or Jesus would talk or act in a certain way when it comes to healing, consider that God does not change (Malachi 3:6) and Jesus does not change (Hebrews 13:8). Therefore, anything that they SUPPOSEDLY say today MUST be found in Scripture – or else we have to throw it out. So if someone has a “revelation” that Jesus told him something about healing, we would want to see that “revelation” somewhere in the four gospels. For example, someone who has a demonized daughter asks the Lord, “Why her, Lord?” and He supposedly says, “Why NOT her? I give special children to special parents.” So we would look at the story of the Syrophenician woman and see whether Jesus refused to help her and whether He just asked the woman, “Why SHOULDN’T your daughter be vexed by a devil? You must be a special parent to have such a special child.” If He didn’t say it then, He will NOT say it now. See The SAME Test for many more examples.

The SAVED Test

Does the argument make sense if you apply it to the new birth? For example, “God does not heal ALL at healing services, so it is not His will to heal all.” We would then reword this argument to show its folly: “God does not save ALL at evangelistic services, so it is not His will to save all.” See The SAVED Test for many more examples.

The PAST Angle

Most people think of healing as something that God needs to decide to do in real time as opposed to something that He already paid for and offers everyone today. Many objections immediately fall by the wayside once you realize this. Healing is just as much “paid for” – in the PAST – as the new birth, and now it is just a question of receiving what God already offers. The #1 mistake that Christians make when praying for their own healing or other people’s healings is ASKING GOD TO HEAL! God puts the provision for our healing in the past tense when He says that by Jesus’ stripes you WERE healed (1 Peter 2:24).

So the worn-out gripe, “If God wants everyone healed, why doesn’t He heal them?” falls apart because the answer is that He’s ALREADY done something about healing everyone and now it is up to us to receive that healing from Him. Of course, that argument flunks The SAVED Test as well, as any denominational person should see the folly in the question, “If God wants everyone saved, why doesn’t He save them?”

The truth is that healing has already been provided. So asking God to provide what He already provided is unbelief against His Word.

“I asked God to heal me and He didn’t” is a very common objection, but I hope that you can see how the PAST angle points to the problem with that statement. The person asked God to do something that He already did, and that’s why the prayer went unanswered.

The “Man Runs the Earth” Truth

Most Christians do not know the truth contained in Psalm 115:16. MAN is in control of the earth, not God. (A whole objection reply deals with this at some length.) “If God wants everyone well, why does He allow sickness?” is answered with “It’s not that God allows it – it’s now completely illegal now that Christ has redeemed mankind. It’s what WE allow, and heaven will allow what WE allow on the earth.” God does not force anything on anyone.

The “No Favorites” Truth

“God healed So-and-So but He didn’t heal So-and-So” makes it sound like God decided in His sovereignty to play favorites. But we know that He doesn’t (Acts 10:34, Romans 2:11, Ephesians 6:9, Colossians 3:25, 1 Peter 1:17). Any claim that God did something for someone that He didn’t do for someone else who met the same conditions MUST be false, or else the Bible is false! The smart money is on the Bible being true and the objection being false.

The “Sickness is Evil” Truth

When you see what God says about sickness, it ruins any objection that assumes that sickness is some kind of “blessing in disguise” that God uses for His glory or for your perfection. God calls sickness evil (Deuteronomy 7:15), a curse (Deuteronomy 28:15-68), captivity (Job 42:10), being bound by Satan (Luke 13:16) and oppression by the devil (Acts 10:38). God has nothing good to say about sickness, and neither should we!

The “No Doctrine from Experience” Truth

We only get our doctrine from Scriptures that teach doctrine. We don't even get our doctrine from Scriptures that relate history but don't contain doctrinal statements. For example, it is not God's will for us to steal from offerings and betray Jesus just because Judas did it. It is not God's will for us to deny Christ even though Peter did it three times. It is not God's will for us to commit adultery just because David did it. You NEVER determine God's will from someone's experience. Not even the experience of Trophimus whom Paul left at Miletum sick!

I don't care if someone writes a book in which he claims to have seen Jesus in person along with 100 angels and that Jesus told that author something that disagrees with the Bible – I'm still not buying it! A certain deceiver started a worldwide cult based on an ALLEGED encounter with Jesus where supposedly Jesus said that He couldn't finish the work that God gave Him to do on the earth because people killed Him, so now this deceiver had to take on the role of the Last Adam and finish what He failed to finish. Apparently the Scripture “It is finished” (John 19:30) didn't stand out in enough people's minds, because this man had quite a following.

A more recent deceiver got a worldwide following of over 10 times the number of people who live in the county where I live – claiming that he WAS Jesus Christ! Apparently a lot of people had never read the warning from the REAL Jesus that in the last days, MANY deceivers would come claiming to be Him (Matthew 24:24)!

So I don't care what “the Lord” told someone if Scripture won't back it. There are way too many books out there with alleged revelations from the Lord concerning sickness that couldn't possibly have come from the same Lord who wrote the Bible and told us that we WERE healed (1 Peter 2:24).

Have a Personal Robo-Chat about You and Your Healing

Use this interactive feature to help pinpoint what you in particular need to know to be healed and where in this book you should go next.

Do you believe that God wants you to be healed if you're sick?

Absolutely YES – God wants ME to be healed.

I believe that God heals today and that He generally wants everyone healed, although there are exceptions.

I think so, but I am not completely sure.

I'm not sure. I think there may be a higher purpose behind this illness.

No, I'm sure He doesn't.

Chat: Absolutely YES – God Wants ME to be Healed.

What is your basis for believing that God wants you healed?

My Pastor or another person whom I respect teaches that.

It is part of my church's statement of faith.

The Bible says so.

I prayed and got a direct revelation from God about it.

I just sense it in my heart.

I am a good person.

I have been serving God faithfully for a long time.

Chat: My Pastor or another person whom I respect teaches that.

Has the person whom you respect absolutely convinced you that the Bible says that God wants you to be healed?

Yes, the person has proved to me from the Bible that God wants me well.

No, but I respect the person highly and believe that I can accept his word on the matter because he knows more than I do on the subject.

Chat: You aren't convinced from the Bible itself.

Remember the sons of Sceva in Acts 19:13-17? They tried to act on what was real to Paul instead of what was real to them, and they failed miserably.

Taking someone else's word for something – even MY word – is not good enough. You need to be convinced FOR YOURSELF that the Bible teaches that Jesus paid for your healing and that you can believe and receive it when you pray. This book is designed to help you realize this fact for yourself.

I hope that you become convinced for yourself after spending more time with this book.

Return to Home Page

Chat: The Bible is my authority – God wants me well.

Good. The promises of God in Scripture are the only reliable source of information on this subject. Until you are convinced for yourself from Scripture that God wants you well, you will not be able to stand against sickness successfully.

You believe that God wants you to be healed. If you are experiencing sickness now, which of the following statements do you believe applies in your case?

God is going to heal me.

I know God wants me healed, but I just don't seem to be able to "get it."

I prayed and believed that I received it; it just hasn't manifested yet.

I know I should receive healing, but I have not done so yet.

I am a miserable failure at receiving healing from God.

Chat: God is going to heal me.

Thank God for hope. You are walking in the hope that God will heal you.

Hope has to do with the future, and you believe that at some point in the future, God will heal you.

However, it requires FAITH to actually receive your healing, and faith can only operate in one time frame – NOW.

Although many people say that they are standing in faith that God will heal them, they are mistaken. I do not say this to be mean, but rather to help you see something. Jesus said that you should believe you receive what you are asking for when you pray, not later. (See Mark 11:24.) You cannot “believe you receive later.” If you are thinking that God is going to heal you at some point in the future, it means that you have not yet believed that you have already received your healing, and therefore you do not believe that you have it now. From a Bible perspective, you are not in faith.

The discussions below will help you understand the difference between hope and faith. Please read them.

What Faith Is

What Faith Isn't

How to Tell if You're in Faith or Not

Return to Home Page

Chat: You know God wants you healed, but you don't seem able to "get it."

Are you born again?

Yes.

No.

I am not sure.

I am a good Catholic.

I grew up in church.

What does born again mean?

Chat: You are not born again.

Given that you MUST be born again to be saved from hell, it is essential that you do something about this situation immediately. This is even more important than getting healed. God loves you even if you aren't saved, and He is willing to heal you, too. But what good is it to be healed now but still end up in hell later?

Please read and act on the instructions in this discussion:

How to Be Saved from Your Sins

Chat: You are not sure if you are born again.

Surrendering your life to Jesus Christ is an act of your will, not something that could possibly happen to you by accident. If you cannot remember ever doing it, you need to do it now to be saved from hell. You must believe that God raised Jesus from the dead and confess Him as Lord. Being born again does not consist of knowing ABOUT Jesus, but rather KNOWING Jesus personally and having Him live in you.

Please read and act on the instructions in this discussion:

How to Be Saved from Your Sins

Chat: You are a good Catholic.

Being a “good Catholic” is not the same thing as being born again, and being born again is ESSENTIAL for going to heaven instead of hell whether you are Catholic or not. There is no such thing as living a good enough life to be admitted to heaven. No matter how “good” you are, you cannot get to heaven on your own merit unless you are perfect. You aren’t, and neither is anyone else. You could attend Mass and Confession every day of your life and still end up in hell because you sinned one time by dishonoring your mother with sassy backtalk, thus breaking the fifth commandment. You have sinned, and you need to be saved from your sins by receiving Jesus as your Lord.

Don’t be deceived into thinking that confessing your sins to another man will save you from those sins’ consequences – it won’t. Don’t believe the sign at the shrine that tells you that you will be forgiven for all your sins if you ascend the stone steps on your knees – it won’t change you from a sinner to a saint, but rather change you from a sinner to a sinner whose knees hurt. Don’t believe that receiving “the host” at Mass will forgive your sins. Real Communion, as opposed to the Catholic Eucharist, is a COMMEMORATION of what Jesus did to wash away your sins once and for all, NOT a re-sacrificing of Christ for your sins as the Roman Catholic Church teaches.

While it is possible to be Roman Catholic AND born again, and I have met quite a few people who are, it is also possible to be Roman Catholic and lost. It is not a matter of being Roman Catholic but rather a matter of believing that God raised Jesus from the dead and confessing Him as Lord.

Please read and act on the instructions in this discussion:

How to Be Saved from Your Sins

Chat: You grew up in church.

Growing up in church, and even continuing to attend church now, does not save you from your sins. There will be a lot of church people in hell who never met the Bible requirement to believe that God raised Jesus from the dead AND confess Him as Lord. You definitely need to click on and read the discussion below as soon as possible!

How to Be Saved from Your Sins

Chat: What does born again mean?

“Born again” means that you were born of the Spirit. Everyone is born of the flesh, but only Christians have been born of the Spirit, which is something separate that has to happen later. When you receive the risen Lord Jesus Christ, your spirit is transformed from being spiritually dead to being spiritually alive and thus qualified to enter heaven. You literally become a new person on the inside. A new spiritual person is born the day you confess Jesus as your Lord. You now have God’s nature and you want to please God. You no longer have a fallen nature that wants to sin. Your mind and body are NOT born again; you must renew your mind and deny your body some of the natural and unspiritual things that it wants to do.

For a lot more on this subject, please read the article below.

How to Be Saved from Your Sins

Chat: You are born again.

Can you actually SEE the risen Christ with your physical eyes right now?

Yes.

No.

Chat: You see the risen Christ right now.

If the Lord Jesus is appearing to you right now in person, I suggest that you leave your computer and talk to Him. I will still be here later. (Of course, I highly suspect that you picked this answer just to see what I would say, and that you do not really see Jesus at the moment. That's okay; if you were simply curious, I don't believe that you will fall dead over your keyboard for lying.)

Please wait until you and Jesus are done, and then click below when you are sure that you no longer see Him in person.

Continue with This Chat

Chat: You do not see the risen Christ right now.

You do not see Jesus, yet you believe that Someone that you cannot see is in control of your life and has guaranteed you a place in heaven when you die. You have never seen heaven either. How can you believe all this if you don't actually see Jesus right now?

I accept it by faith.

That's a good point. I don't really believe that He is alive.

Chat: You do not believe that Jesus is really alive.

You cannot be saved unless you believe that God raised Jesus from the dead (Romans 10:9-10). It would help you to examine the Bible record of what happened after Jesus rose from the dead, which includes eyewitness accounts of His resurrection. Read what the disciples did in His name in the book of Acts after He rose from the dead to be seated with the Father in heaven. Or go somewhere where Christ's resurrection is preached and the present-day ministry of the Holy Spirit is welcome, and you can see for yourself what the risen Christ is doing in other people's lives today and become convinced that Jesus actually IS alive today.

Return to Home Page

Chat: You believe (accept by faith) things you cannot see.

You have just told me that you can believe something that you cannot see as far as your eternal destiny is concerned. You say that you have faith, and you are correct. The only way you can believe in Jesus Christ and be saved is by faith. Therefore, which of the following statements is true?

I have faith. I can receive things from God without seeing them first.

I have faith for salvation but I guess I don't have faith for healing yet.

I am incapable of believing God for anything, including healing.

Chat: You are incapable of believing God for anything, including healing.

I beg to differ. You just told me that you believe that Jesus Christ is alive, even though I assume that you have never seen Him in person. I think the devil has discouraged you into thinking that you are a total failure as far as faith is concerned, but that cannot be the case. You already believe the most important thing anyone could believe – that Jesus rose physically from the dead. You may not have exercised your faith in the area of healing yet – but you certainly ARE capable of exercising faith because you are doing it right now in regard to your eternal salvation!

You should read You Have Faith next.

Chat: You can receive things you cannot see.

YES! You CAN receive things from God without seeing them first. Therefore, YOU can receive healing from God without having to feel differently first. You have already operated in faith before. Now you can do it again for your healing. You are a believer – it is your nature to believe God’s promises and appropriate them for yourself.

Faith comes by hearing God’s Word. Feed on God’s Word concerning healing, and faith to receive healing will arise in your heart. Just as you acted in faith when you learned that you could be born again, you can act in faith when you learn that you can receive healing directly from God. The purpose of this book is to show you how to do that.

Return to Home Page

Chat: You have faith for salvation but you guess you don't have faith for healing yet.

You HAVE the measure of faith (Romans 12:3), which means that you CAN believe. Now what you need to do is find specific statements from God that you can believe so that your general ability to believe will be exercised in a specific area (healing).

As you continue to read this book, you will find out what God has already said about the matter of healing, in particular His will to heal everyone (including you) and what He has ALREADY DONE to provide that healing for you so that you can receive it by faith when you pray. Keep reading and find out the truth about healing. Then you can "turn loose" your general ability to believe in the specific area of healing.

I suggest that you now read the following discussion:

You Have Faith

Chat: You prayed and believed that you received it; it just hasn't manifested yet.

Which statement below do you believe?

I have no idea when or if my healing will manifest; that's up to God.

I definitely have my healing and it is SURE to manifest itself.

Chat: You have no idea when or if your healing will manifest; that's up to God.

Once you believe that you receive your healing, it is important to keep your faith active. You have drifted back toward resignation, and I daresay that you are no longer in real faith on the matter. Faith NEVER has an "if" in it. If you will continue to believe God's Word, God will always stand behind it. He hastens His Word to perform it (Jeremiah 1:12). It works effectively in you who believes (1 Thessalonians 2:13).

When you really know God's Word, you realize that God cannot break His Word, which is forever settled in heaven (Psalm 118:89). If you believe that you receive when you pray and you refuse to back down from having received your healing, your healing will manifest every time – God cannot play favorites by making an exception out of you. I can't tell you WHEN it will manifest, but I can tell you that God says that it WILL.

Return to Home Page

Chat: You definitely have your healing and it is SURE to manifest itself.

What makes you so SURE that your healing will manifest itself?

I felt the power of God when the preacher laid hands on me.

I immediately felt a lot better when hands were laid on me, so my healing is well underway already.

Jesus never lied and He said that I could believe that I receive when I pray and it will be mine.

Chat: You felt the power of God when the preacher laid hands on you.

The fact that you felt the power of God is wonderful, but it doesn't prove anything. If you did not believe that you received your healing at that time, you have no guarantee of seeing the healing completed in your body, no matter how much power you felt.

Please read the following discussion:

The Difference between "The Anointing" and "Your Healing"

Chat: You immediately felt a lot better when hands were laid on you, so your healing is well underway already.

I'm glad to hear that you're feeling better, but unfortunately, that is NOT a sufficient basis for faith for the rest of your healing. Someday you will probably have hands laid on you and feel WORSE afterward, and then what are you going to do? Take that as proof that you really DIDN'T receive your healing? I received laying on of hands for a serious eye problem and was WORSE for more than the next week and a half! Fortunately, I did not make the "rookie mistake" of judging whether or not I received my healing based on sudden improvement or lack thereof when hands were laid on me. My healing fully manifested because I would not back down on my stand that I HAD believed that I received my healing WHEN I PRAYED while the other people prayed over me. You need to be the same way. NEVER base your faith on improved feelings, which are unreliable. Your faith can only be based on what God's Word says. Get your focus onto what God said instead of how your body feels.

Like Abraham, you need to "consider not your own body" (Romans 4:19) so that you don't stagger at the promise of God in unbelief (Romans 4:20)!

Return to Home Page

Chat: Jesus never lied and He said that I could believe that I receive when I pray and it will be mine.

Congratulations! You are on the right track. Continue to affirm that you DID receive your healing when you prayed and refuse to accept any SENSE evidence to the contrary. Your healing WILL manifest and I am happy for you!

Return to Home Page

Chat: You know you should receive healing, but you have not done so yet.

It is unwise to let the devil's illness mess around in your body. What are you waiting for? Do you want to stay miserable instead of being healed as soon as possible? Believe that you receive your healing when you pray and it will be yours!

You should read this discussion:

Hop on It!

Chat: You are a miserable failure at receiving healing from God.

Believe it or not, I used to think the same thing about myself! That's part of why I wrote this book – to help other people who are where I used to be.

I kept on soaking up God's Word, and while things didn't change overnight, my doubts were replaced with faith in what God says. God's Word does not return to Him void (Isaiah 55:10-11).

It sounds like you have bought into one of the devil's favorite lies – “You don't feel any better, so you didn't really get anything!” The key thing is to believe that you receive your healing when you pray (Mark 11:24) and make everything after that a statement of faith relative to that. For example, “Father, I thank You that I received my healing on June 2nd at 7:35 PM.” This is much better than, “Aw, nuts, I was hoping I had it but I don't feel any different so I guess I did NOT receive when I prayed, as usual.”

Let me encourage you to read through the various components of this book. Doing so will build your faith so that you no longer fail to receive the healing that Jesus provided for you.

Return to Home Page

Chat: Healing is part of your church's statement of faith.

I am glad that you go to a church that states explicitly that it believes that Jesus paid for everyone's healing! Many churches don't, and even some who have healing in their statements of faith don't really teach what their statement says anymore, but now water it down with incorrect conjecture about God's sovereignty in the matter.

You should be in a good place to build your faith, but you won't be healed just because others in your church have a revelation of divine healing. You need to get a revelation of it for yourself. See for yourself what Scripture says, then act on it. This book as well as your church will help you do that.

Return to Home Page

Chat: The Bible says that God wants you to be healed.

Bravo! That is the ONLY good basis for receiving healing out of all the choices you had.

However, let's clarify your position a little further. You know that God wants you to be healed. Which statement below further reflects your position?

I know that God is good and He wants to heal me and everyone else in general, though I would not attribute that specifically to Jesus' atonement.

God has already provided healing for me and everyone else through Jesus' atonement for everyone's sins.

I have believed that I received the healing that Jesus paid for me to have.

Chat: God is good and wants to heal everyone.

I'm glad that you know that God is GOOD, not MEAN, and that He is predisposed to healing. That already puts you farther along than most church people.

However, a general trust in His goodness is still an insufficient basis for healing. You see, you cannot believe that you receive something that has not been provided. If I have not sent you a text message, you cannot receive a text message from me. If you do not believe that God has already "sent" healing, you cannot "believe that you receive it when you pray."

So knowledge of God's general will is helpful, but insufficient.

I suggest that you read The Baseball Diamond of Healing next.

Chat: God has already provided healing for you.

It is good that you believe in the doctrine of divine healing. However, assenting to the doctrine that Jesus paid the price for your sickness to be healed is not enough. You can assent that it is true and yet still not be healed, just as you can assent that you could be saved by receiving Jesus without receiving Him! In order to be healed, you must believe that you RECEIVE your healing.

I suggest that you read the following discussions next:

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

What Faith Is

What Faith Isn't

How to Tell if You're in Faith or Not

Chat: You believe that you have received your healing.

Which statement below reflects your situation?

I am already symptom-free and there is no natural sign of any problem.

There are still problems in my body. However, these problems MUST stop because Jesus said that what I believe that I receive when I pray shall be mine.

I believed that I received, but I am still not well. I was well at first and I testified that I was healed, and I don't want the people who heard my testimony to be disappointed, so I'm pretending that I'm still symptom-free even though I'm hurting again.

There are still problems in my body, and that really bothers me because Jesus said that if I believed, it would be mine. It sure doesn't look like it's mine. I guess we'll see if this faith stuff really works or not.

I believed that I received at first, but I don't feel so good now, so I have concluded that maybe I lost my healing after I received it.

I now have doubts in my head, so I guess I'm no longer really in faith, if I ever was in faith to begin with.

Chat: You are already symptom-free.

Praise God! I am glad that you have believed and received your healing, and Jesus is glad, too! He is pleased that you have received what He paid for you to have.

PLEASE use this opportunity to glorify Jesus by telling other people how He healed you! Now that you know you to receive the healing Jesus provided, it would be good to share this knowledge with as many other people as possible. After all, Jesus paid for everyone else's healing, too – most people just haven't heard that part of the Good News. You can give others a copy of this book, and your personal testimony could be the catalyst that sets them on the path of receiving healing. They know you and they probably don't know me personally. You can be one of those who lays hands on the sick and sees them recover. That's God's will for every believer, but few ever do it. I hope that this book inspires you and equips you to go out and do the works of Jesus and greater \(John 14:12\)!

You can read Be Bold with Your Healing Testimony next.

Chat: There are still problems in your body. However, these problems MUST stop.

You are in a good position because you have believed that you received your healing, and you are willing to trust what Jesus said more than you trust what your feelings say.

Healing is not always instantaneous, but you recognize that, and it sounds like you are willing to continue siding with the Word no matter what. It is people like you who have healing manifest in their bodies.

If you want a little more discussion and encouragement, you can read I Prayed in Faith. Now What?

Chat: You are Not Well, But You Are Pretending to Be Symptom-Free.

Nothing is to be gained by lying. It does not glorify God more to lie than to tell the truth!

While I can understand not wanting to disappoint people, you will ultimately disappoint them more if you're dishonest.

I think in most cases, the concern is not really that others will be let down, but rather that you will "look bad." But it would be hard to find a person who hasn't "believed he received" and lost it at some point. I've done it! So join the club, and keep hearing what the Word has to say. No one with any sense will make you feel bad. Instead, he will encourage you to continue to act on God's Word. If you'll continue to make that your goal, you'll find that you'll end up really able to receive and keep the healing that Jesus paid for you to have. It gets easier the more you do it.

Return to Home Page

Chat: There Are Still Problems in Your Body, and That Bothers You.

If you think that you are “trying that faith stuff,” you really don’t understand faith to begin with. Faith considers what God has said above what circumstances say. It’s something you walk in on purpose, not something you try to see if it works or not.

You are bothered because it doesn’t LOOK LIKE healing is yours. In other words, you are walking by sight instead of by faith. You wouldn’t be the first to do that. But if you will continue to reflect on what Scripture says about healing, you will get to the point where you will be like Abraham who “considered not his own body” (Romans 4:19) when it came to believing what his body said or believing what God said.

These discussions may help you:

What Faith Is

What Faith Isn’t

Chat: You think that you lost your healing.

While it IS possible to give up on your healing and lose it, it is ALSO possible that the devil will give you a hard time and try to convince you that you have forfeited your healing when the truth is that you haven't. He badgers people with the thought, "Because you don't feel completely better right at the moment, even though you felt better a while ago, you must have LOST your healing."

But healing cannot be lost in the same way that you could lose your glasses. You cannot lose your healing by accident! Once you deliberately believe that you receive your healing, it is still yours unless you deliberately un-receive it! Just as you believed in your heart and said with your mouth that you received your healing when you prayed, you would have to believe with your heart AND SAY WITH YOUR MOUTH that you DON'T have your healing in order to lose it. Now if you've done that, you can fix things – admit your mistake and really believe that you receive when you pray again, and this time, don't back down based on what your senses tell you. But if you HAVEN'T renounced your healing, don't believe the devil's lie that he can just waltz in and take away your healing whenever he wants to. He doesn't have that power or authority over you!

If your body gives you sensory information that seems to indicate that you are not healed, the proper course of action is to continue to thank God that you ARE healed because you believed that you received your healing when you prayed.

Return to Home Page

Chat: You have doubts in your head, so you guess you're not in faith.

I have some really good news for you! You can still be healed even if you have doubts in your head – as long as they stay in your head and don't come out of your MOUTH!

Jesus never said that not doubting in your HEAD was a condition of receiving – it was not doubting in your HEART. There is a big difference! Satan can try to mess around with your head, but he has no access to the born-again spirit that is the real you. He has to go through your head or flesh to make any headway. But as long as you REJECT his lies, you are still in faith! Simply hearing those lies in your head does NOT mean that you aren't in faith; it only means that Satan is trying to tempt you to get out of faith!

Having THOUGHTS of doubt is not DOUBTING any more than being TEMPTED to sin is SINNING! It's really the same thing – you are being tempted to doubt, but that doesn't mean you're actually doubting!

When they fought the Civil War in the United States, there was a big battle in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. But neither side considered Gettysburg to be its ultimate goal. Both wanted what was beyond Gettysburg in the opposite direction. Your mind is a Gettysburg of sorts. Satan is not really after your mind, because if you just think wrong thoughts, but then reject them, he won't make any headway at all. His desired prize is what is beyond your mind – your human MOUTH! He only wins if he can get your MOUTH to agree with him and disagree with what is written in God's Word. HE doesn't have the ability to take your healing from you – but YOU do, by means of your mouth, and he knows that. That's why he tries to put so much pressure on you to SAY the wrong thing.

So as long as your mouth is still speaking what is written in God's Word, just having wrong thoughts doesn't mean that you've forfeited your healing. In fact, you CAN'T avoid having wrong THOUGHTS – the devil had some wrong thoughts for Jesus, too! You can avoid breathing life into them by refusing to speak in agreement with them, though.

It's easy to tell whether you are doubting in your head or in your heart. Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaks (Matthew 12:34). Whatever you're SAYING is what you really believe. If doubts aren't coming out of your MOUTH, they're still only in your head and not in your heart, so they don't disqualify you from enjoying the coming manifestation of your healing.

You may want to read Say What and How Can I Tell if Doubt Is In My Heart or Just in My Head? for more thoughts along these lines.

Chat: You prayed and got a direct revelation about your healing.

You made a mistake by praying to find out God's will about your healing. You should NEVER get your doctrine from praying and seeking impressions from God. You must ONLY get your doctrine from the Word!

Now if you prayed for the spirit of wisdom and revelation to get a revelation of the Word (Ephesians 1:16-23) and you now have a revelation from SCRIPTURE that it is DEFINITELY God's will for you to be well, that's fine.

However, you are on dangerous ground when you ask God to show you something that He has already shown you in His Word. God expects you to read His Word to know His will concerning healing. If you pray every time you're sick to determine "if it's God's will" for you to be healed, someday you will have an impression – and it will be from the DEVIL – that God doesn't want to heal that particular illness. When you know the Word, you know that it is ALWAYS His will to heal ALL illnesses. This book should help you see His will from His Word.

There are other matters in life where you will have to seek God for His specific will, such as whether to change careers, move to another location, and so on – those answers are not in the Bible, although the WAY to get those answers is. (Follow peace in your heart – Colossians 3:15 says, "And let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to the which also ye are called in one body; and be ye thankful.") But when it comes to DOCTRINE, the only way to know God's will is to read His Word.

Return to Home Page

Chat: You just sense in your heart that God wants you to be healed.

It is DANGEROUS to go by what you “sense in your heart” when it comes to doctrine. A LOT of people have been deceived that way. You NEVER should get your doctrine from what you sense in your heart – you must ONLY get your doctrine from the Word! Otherwise, someday you might “sense” in your heart that God loves everyone so much that He won’t send anyone to hell, and you would get into extreme error by not knowing that the Bible says that MANY people will go to hell without Jesus.

God can give you “impressions,” but so can the devil. The only safe way to settle matters of doctrine is to read God’s Word and see what it has to say. You don’t run the devil off by saying, “This is what I sense.” You run him off by saying, “It is written!” This book was designed to help you KNOW what’s written, so please continue reading to find out the many things that Scripture has to say about healing.

Return to Home Page

Chat: You are a good person.

It's nice to be a good person, but unless you are a PERFECT person, you do not deserve healing based on your own merit, so you'll have to receive it by grace. "God owes me something because I don't sin much" is a Pharisee-like attitude that will keep your healing far from you. Jesus had many harsh words of rebuke for such people.

If you rely on your own goodness to get healed, you will stay sick. If you rely on GOD'S goodness, which led Him to lay your sicknesses and pains on Jesus to pay for your healing, you will get healed as long as you believe that you receive what Jesus provided when you pray (Mark 11:24).

Healing is provided on a basis that is 100% God's grace and 0% your works. You cannot EARN your healing through good works, but you CAN receive it without any regard to how "good" you are.

Return to Home Page

Chat: You have been serving God faithfully for a long time.

I'm glad that you've served God, but your years of faithful service are worth ABSOLUTELY NOTHING when it comes to healing. That's right, ABSOLUTELY NOTHING! You are no more worthy to receive healing than a former drunken drug pusher who just surrendered his life to Jesus' lordship five minutes ago.

Healing is 100% based on God's grace and 0% based on your good works. If you think that God "owes" you healing based on your track record, think again. God "owes" you eternity in hell based on your track record! You should be really glad that God deals with you under the New Covenant based on your righteous right standing in Christ, not based on your track record!

You cannot EARN healing through good works and faithful service. You can only RECEIVE what God's grace has made available to everyone, regardless of different track records.

I suggest that you read Healing and Paychecks next.

Chat: You believe that God heals today and that He generally wants everyone healed, although there are exceptions.

What would make someone an exception?

I don't know; God just decides not to heal some people for reasons known only to Himself.

God leads some people through times of sickness to help them grow spiritually.

God gives some people a thorn in the flesh as He did to Paul.

Someone could be another Job.

There was some reason why Timothy, Trophimus and Epaphroditus were exceptions because Paul could not heal them.

God has not promised to heal everyone, so some people have to stay sick. It's just part of life.

God knows that some people are suffering so badly that they would be better off dead, so He lets them die.

God doesn't heal your FINAL ILLNESS that He uses to take you home.

It's all explained on my favorite "Heresy Hunter" website.

I can't think of a reason. I guess God doesn't make exceptions after all. He DOES want me to be well.

Chat: God just decides not to heal some people for reasons known only to Himself.

As you study the Scriptures, you will find that God does NOT decide to withhold healing from anyone. Some people do not receive it, but God has already provided it. God has already decided to heal everyone just as definitely as He has decided to save everyone, though in both cases some people fail to receive what He already provided.

If God just decided not to heal people, it would have been evident in Jesus' ministry, as He only did what the Father wanted Him to do. There would be some case where He refused healing to someone and then refused to explain the refusal. But it wasn't just Jesus who decided who got healed. The people who got healed actively sought out Jesus and went where He was. They chose to listen to His teaching. They chose to touch Him or His clothes and they receive healing. AS MANY AS TOUCHED HIM, not SOME OF THOSE WHO TOUCHED HIM, were made well. However, there were surely some sick people around who did not go touch Him, and they were not made well.

Please read this objection reply, as it should be helpful: Objection: God Works in Mysterious Ways, His Wonders to Perform. We'll Never Know Why God Lets Some People Stay Sick.

Chat: God leads some people through times of sickness to help them grow spiritually.

You cannot find one shred of evidence for this idea in the Bible. You've been listening to religious Fake News rather than the actual Good News in the Bible. If sickness really helped people grow, Jesus would have left some people sick to help them grow spiritually! Jesus never screened His followers to see whether they were the selected ones who must remain sick to grow spiritually. ANYONE could touch Him and be made whole.

In case you want to bring up Job, he went backward spiritually in his sickness. He did not rail on God at first, but he became progressively worse in his conduct and attitude toward God. He had to repent in dust and ashes. Job's time of sickness definitely did not lead to spiritual growth. Besides, it was the will of Satan that Job be sick – God healed him!

You should read the replies to the related objections below:

Objection: Sickness, While Unpleasant, Is Used by God to Build Character

Objection: God Uses Sickness to Draw Us Closer to Himself

Objection: The Lord Puts Us on Our Backs that We May Learn to Look Up

Chat: God gives some people a thorn in the flesh as He did to Paul.

God did NOT give Paul a thorn in the flesh. Satan did. Paul's thorn in the flesh was a demonic being that stirred up persecution. It wasn't an illness.

You definitely need to read the objection reply below:

Objection: God Wouldn't Heal Paul's Thorn in the Flesh

Chat: Someone could be another Job.

NO ONE under the New Covenant could possibly be another Job! Job did not have authority over Satan, who was the source of all his misery. You DO have authority over him. If he tried to do to you what he did to Job, you could command him to stop in the name of Jesus.

For a LOT more on this subject, please read:

Objection: Job Was a Godly Man, Yet God Let Him Get Sick

Chat: There was some reason why Timothy, Trophimus and Epaphroditus were exceptions because Paul could not heal them.

Paul was giving Timothy, who was getting healed but getting sick again, natural advice on how not to get sick in the first place.

Trophimus was sick, but we don't know anything else about the matter. The mere fact that his sickness was documented doesn't make it God's will any more than it was God's will for Demas to love this present world and forsake Paul 10 verses earlier (2 Timothy 4:10).

Epaphroditus ALMOST died from an illness, but God healed him, which makes him a miserable example to try to prove that God DOESN'T want to heal everyone.

There are a lot more thoughts on these matters in the following objection replies:

Objection: Paul Told Timothy to Drink Wine Instead of Believing God for Healing

Objection: Paul Left Trophimus at Miletum Sick Instead of Healing Him

Objection: Epaphroditus Worked Closely with Paul, Yet Was Sick unto Death

Chat: God has not promised to heal everyone, so some people have to stay sick.
It's just part of life.

God has NOT actually promised to heal everyone! He has declared the FACT that Jesus bore our sicknesses for us so that we are redeemed from them. This FACT makes healing yours for the taking right now. This is an offer, not a promise. (See Healing Is an Offer, Not a Promise for more thoughts along these lines.)

We now have the ability to receive healing just as we can receive the new birth. Jesus never taught or demonstrated that some people just have to stay sick. We don't see Him approaching anyone and saying, "Too bad to be you. Your sickness is just part of life, and you have to stay sick." Jesus always did the will of the Father, which included healing EVERYONE who came to receive healing.

The core truth you need is found in Isaiah's Prophecy of Redemption.

Chat: God knows that some people are suffering so badly that they would be better off dead, so He lets them die.

So where do you see THAT in Scripture? YOU DON'T! Jesus healed EVERY disease among the people, and neither He nor His will have changed since then. If someone was suffering really badly, like the woman with the issue of blood in Mark 5:24-34, Jesus made healing available. He didn't tell anyone that he should just die because he'd be better off dead.

You should read The SAME Test next for more comments along these lines. You should also see the answer to Objection: God Won't Heal Your FINAL ILLNESS that He Uses to Take You Home.

Chat: God doesn't heal your FINAL ILLNESS that He uses to take you home.

This "logic" is found on a number of websites, but it doesn't make any sense because Jesus NEVER told anyone, "That's your FINAL ILLNESS, so I'm not supposed to heal it. GOD sent that to you to call you home." This is one of many objections to healing that The SAME Test debunks.

Please read more about this in the answer to Objection: God Won't Heal Your FINAL ILLNESS that He Uses to Take You Home.

Chat: It's all explained on my favorite Heresy Hunter website.

I can't promise you that I have answered EVERY objection to divine healing that there ever was or ever will be in this book, but "heresy hunter" websites and books are where many of the over 400 objections that I cover in the Objections Overruled! section originated. I suggest that you go to that page and find the arguments used on the site you like – as well as the refutations, which I hope that you like even more!

If a particular objection is not listed, this book still explains how you can debunk many "new" objections that could come up using The SAME Test and The SAVED Test and a few other basic concepts. See Objection: Any Other Objection Not Specifically Covered in This Book.

Chat: You think that God wants to heal you, but you're not completely sure.

You need to know for sure before you can pray in faith! You get faith for a particular blessing when you hear what God's Word has to say about that blessing. Spend time going through the Scriptures and this book and I expect that faith to be healed will rise up in you. The Scriptures actually contain all that you need to know, but this book can help point you to the specific Scriptures that you need to read, believe and act on.

The Scriptures will show you that it IS God's will for you to be healed – every time, without exception. You can then be SURE of God's will BEFORE you pray.

To pray BEFORE you are sure of God's will simply invites frustration. Your prayers will go unanswered because you will waver. Thus, you will have failed the qualifications for praying the prayer of faith.

Now, how do you plan to go about finding out FOR SURE whether or not God wants to heal you?

I plan to pray about it and ask Him.

I plan to find out more about what the Bible says about healing.

I don't; it's not that important to me whether I get healed or not. I can live with this condition.

Chat: You intend to pray and ask God whether or not He wants to heal you.

Which of the following further describes your intentions?

I am praying that God will give me revelation from His Word about His will regarding healing.

I am praying for a direct revelation from God Himself about whether or not He wants to heal this particular condition.

I expect God to send me a dream or a vision with a clear answer.

Chat: You are praying that God will give you revelation from His Word about His will regarding healing.

This is a VERY worthwhile prayer and it's one that I use myself. I'd recommend this to anyone. Praying for revelation is a "Bible prayer" because it's already in Ephesians 1:15-23. If Paul could pray it for the Ephesians, surely you can pray it for yourself! When a prayer like that is in the Bible, you KNOW that God will answer it because He put it in there to begin with!

So go ahead and pray that prayer! Then expect God to answer it. He may use this book to point you to certain Bible truths, though He could use many other methods as well.

Return to Home Page

Chat: You are praying for a direct revelation from God Himself about whether or not He wants to heal this particular condition.

You are on very dangerous ground!

While God might sometimes honor this prayer for a young believer, this kind of praying will get you into trouble someday! I actually prayed like this as a baby Christian, but I noticed that every time I did, He always said YES!

But this kind of praying is really no different than asking God for a direct revelation of whether it's OK for you to commit adultery. God does not NEED to give you a "direct" revelation when He has given you "a more sure word of prophecy" – His written Word!

The danger of this kind of prayer is due to the fact that there are a lot of voices out there that are NOT the voice of the Good Shepherd. Satan will try to convince you that his voice is God's voice. "You didn't marry your REAL soul-mate so you need to divorce the one you have and pursue your real one" would be an example. A wise Christian would immediately recognize that this voice spoke contrary to Scripture and rebuke it, knowing its source.

The Mormon church (which prefers to call itself The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, although "Latter-Day" is the only accurate term in the entire name for this group) ensnares people by telling them to PRAY for an inward impression to determine whether Joseph Smith (the deceiver who started the cult) was a prophet. The devil can give you impressions, and he is the one dishing out these false impressions. The CORRECT way to determine if Joseph Smith was a prophet is to compare what he taught to the Bible. The Bible repudiates Smith's claims that Jesus and Satan were brothers, that God was once a man and just one of many gods (which can supposedly include you someday) and many other ridiculous doctrines.

The only valid way to pray about doctrine is to pray that God will give you "the spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of Him" to open up the Word to you so that you can see what doctrine it teaches.

The contents of this book are designed to show you what God says in His Word.

OK, I'll pray that God will give me revelation from His Word instead of what I was praying.

Chat: You expect God to send you a dream or a vision with a clear answer.

You are on the Deception Express!

While some people in the New Testament had dreams and visions, there is NOT ONE SINGLE CASE where the person who had the experience was seeking such an experience! Satan can accommodate requests like this because such a request is contrary to the New Testament.

Worse, you can get into total kookiness by trying to “interpret” your dreams. NO ONE DID THIS in the New Testament. Paul had a night vision, but it was so clear that it did not require an interpretation. Joseph’s dreams regarding Jesus were completely clear and needed no interpretation. The Bible does not say, “Paul reached for his Dream Symbol Interpretation Book and determined that his dream about becoming a short-order cook meant that he was called to serve in Greece.” In the case of Peter’s rooftop trance, the LORD explained to Peter what his vision meant. He did not have to get a book to see some important difference between seeing an unclean creature’s left hoof and its right hoof.

OK, I’ll pray that God will give me revelation from His Word instead of what I was praying.

Chat: You plan to find out more about what the Bible says about healing.

I'm glad to hear that! That is EXACTLY how you should find out the truth about healing.

In addition to discussions, answers to questions and refutations of objections, this book also contains lists of Scriptures that pertain to healing and related topics. If you'll go through these, you will indeed find out more about what the Bible says about healing, and you will realize that you can believe and receive the healing that Jesus paid for you to have!

Return to Home Page

Chat: You don't plan to learn more; you can live with your condition.

Perhaps you can, but the Bible shows you that you can live WITHOUT your condition because Jesus paid the price for you to be healed of it. Your situation is no better than getting a job that gives you health insurance as a fringe benefit but then insisting on paying all the bills yourself when you get sick. Sure, you can do it, but why would you want to? Wouldn't you rather find out how to appropriate ALL of God's benefits of being saved? I'd urge you to keep reading the various sections of this book to find out the truth.

Return to Home Page

Chat: You're not sure. You think there may be a higher purpose behind this illness.

Why do you think that you're sick right now?

I just caught something contagious.

God is using this sickness to develop or test my character.

It's just something that I have to live with in this fallen world.

God is mad at me because of a sin I committed and this is His judgment on me.

I am helping to complete the sufferings of Christ on this earth.

It is a blessing in disguise.

I really have no idea. I wish I did.

The devil is the ultimate author of this sickness and everything else that steals, kills and destroys, so I don't understand why God allowed this sickness.

Chat: You just caught something contagious.

Where do you believe that contagious diseases come from?

They're just kind of around.

God made them part of His creation; therefore, they are good.

They just evolved.

Satan created them to steal, kill and destroy.

Chat: Diseases are just kind of around.

They're around all right, but the Bible is clear that Satan is the ultimate author of sicknesses. They did not just suddenly show up one day for no reason. There was no sickness and not even any death until Adam fell (Romans 5:12) and allowed the devil to become "the God of this world" – a title he would never have had if it weren't for Adam's transgression. Sickness was never part of God's perfect plan for humanity. In heaven, there will be no sickness. If sickness were a good thing that God created for us, there would still be sickness in heaven.

So that thing you have is NOT something God wants you to have. I suggest that you now read Who or What Causes Sickness? to see what the Bible has to say about the matter.

Chat: God made diseases part of His creation; therefore, they are good.

You aren't the first person to arrive at this faulty conclusion. Please read the answer to Objection: Disease Viruses are Part of Creation, and Therefore Good, Even Though We Often Don't Think So When We Catch Them.

Chat: Contagious Diseases Just Evolved.

Now here is something truly amazing. Man, with all his accumulated knowledge, is unable to produce life, including things like viruses. Yet you believe that something too complex for man to create on purpose was created randomly through evolution without any intelligent design. Personally, I think that takes a much bigger leap of faith than believing the Bible.

If we look at the Bible, Jesus made it clear that sickness is a tool of Satan. Because Satan was involved with creating disease, it did NOT evolve on its own. You can either believe the Bible or the evolutionists. My money's on the Bible.

I suggest that you look into what the Bible says about diseases by reading Who or What Causes Sickness? next.

Chat: Satan created contagious diseases to oppress people.

Based upon your answers, you believe that God has a higher purpose behind what Satan is doing to you. In other words, you believe the traditional lie that God uses Satan. I've heard the teachings that God purposely works evil for good and that God has Satan on a leash and only lets him do His will, but these are false and you should now read the discussions related to those topics.

Chat: God is using this trial to develop or test your character.

Are you currently taking any medications, seeing a doctor, or getting help at a hospital or clinic for your condition?

Yes

No

Chat: You are getting medical help.

Why are you getting medical help to try to get rid of the condition that you believe the Lord wants to use for a higher purpose in your life?

I hate the Lord and I am deliberately trying to get out of His will.

I don't want to grow as a Christian if this is the price of doing so.

Even though the Lord wants me to have this condition, it is too difficult to handle without medical help.

I believe that the Lord wants me to suffer until such time as human medical help can take away this condition. His path for my healing is through medicine.

Actually, I never thought of that. I should stop getting medical help immediately so that I may maximize my suffering so that God can use the condition to its fullest to develop and test me to a greater degree.

I never realized the contradiction between believing that God wants me sick and doing everything I can to get well.

Chat: You hate the Lord and you are deliberately trying to get out of His will.

Somehow I doubt that you really hate the Lord. If you really hate the Lord, it's doubtful that you'd be reading through this book. I'm pretty sure that you clicked this just to see what I'd say.

But perhaps you have been so steeped in tradition that you really believe that God is now in the sickening business instead of the healing business so that he can improve you. If God were really like that, I can understand why you might come to hate Him! After all, he would be the one making you miserable according to the theology that God "uses" sickness for a higher purpose.

I have good news for you. Jesus is the express image of God, and it was ALWAYS His will to heal the sick. Therefore, it is ALWAYS God's will to heal the sick today. That means that there is NO case where God wants to stick you with some awful ailment. God reveals Himself as your Physician (Exodus 15:26) who heals ALL your diseases (Psalm 103:3). Healing was provided for you by the fact that Jesus' body was broken in your place (Isaiah 53:4-5, 1 Peter 2:24).

Please continue reading this book. When you see how good God is, it will make you want to stop hating Him and start serving Him instead (Romans 2:4)! When you realize how good He is, be sure to read How to Be Saved from Your Sins so that you can be forgiven for all your sins and have a place reserved for you in heaven!

Return to Home Page

Chat: You don't want to grow as a Christian if this is the price of doing so.

I have good news for you. The Bible does not say, "Desire sickness that you may grow thereby." It DOES tell you that as a newborn baby, you should desire the sincere milk of the Word, that you may grow thereby (1 Peter 2:2). Babies can get very hungry, and you should likewise be very hungry to take in God's Word. It is God's WORD, not sickness, that produces growth in your life. And far from making you miserable, God's Word is actually health to all your flesh (Proverbs 4:20-22)!

So you can be healed AND grow as a Christian!

Return to Home Page

Chat: Even though the Lord wants you to have this condition, it is too difficult to handle without medical help.

You are basically accusing God of wanting something to be in your life that you can't possible handle, and you are trying to escape His perfect will. In order for this to not be mere hypocrisy, you must believe that God's will is for you to suffer, but only to the extent necessary given human medical help. This means that God plays favorites because He wants people in less developed countries to suffer more than people in countries where they can get better medical help. It would also mean that God wanted people in darker ages with crummier medical care to suffer more than people today.

I'm hoping that you're starting to see the awful conclusions that your current mindset leads to. But fortunately, the Bible has much better news for you. The mindset above clearly flunks the SAME test. You should read that discussion next. You can't see Jesus telling people to go suffer many things from many physicians like the woman with the issue of blood in Mark 5:25-34. On the contrary, He HEALED the sick. Sometimes doctors can't help you and that was the case with that woman. It is clear that Jesus didn't want her to suffer to the maximum extent after medical treatment. If He did, He would surely have REBUKED her instead of COMMENDING her!

You should read The SAME Test next.

Chat: You believe that the Lord wants you to suffer until such time as human medical help can take away your condition. His path for your healing is through medicine.

There is actually an objection reply in this book devoted to that very idea, and you should read it now:

Objection: Sometimes God's Path for Your Healing Is through a Doctor rather than through the Supernatural

Chat: Actually, you never thought of that. You should stop getting medical help immediately so that you may maximize your suffering so that God can use the condition to its fullest to develop and test you to a greater degree.

I would urge you to CONTINUE to get medical help so that you can relieve your suffering as you study the Word and find out how to receive healing directly from the Lord. God is not a torturer for an oppressive regime. He is not out to destroy you in order to build your character, either. NO ONE in Scripture ever PRAYED TO GET WORSE, so you have no precedent to want to feel worse than you do right now.

You seem to have a concept of trials that doesn't match the Bible. Please read the answer to Objection: You Should Not Try to Hurry out of Trials \(Like Sickness\) Because They Are More Precious than Gold \(1 Peter 1:7\).

Chat: I never realized the contradiction between believing that God wants me sick and doing everything I can to get well.

I'm glad that you see it now. Fortunately, God wants you WELL, and He has no issue with you going to a doctor and doing everything else you can do to get well through natural means. However, as you get into the Word more, you will see that God also has a supernatural means of getting you well that does not require human medical assistance.

Return to Home Page

Chat: You Are Not Getting Medical Help.

Why are you not getting medical help?

I believe that my sickness is a blessing, so the sicker I am, the more blessed I will be.

I can't afford it.

I don't trust doctors.

I am afraid to get a diagnosis because of what the doctor might say that I have.

Chat: You believe that your sickness is a blessing, so the sicker you are, the more blessed you will be.

As your physical condition has deteriorated, have you experienced an increased sense of blessing already? Are you happier now that your pain has worsened? I won't make you click answers to those questions because I think that I can safely assume that the answer is "no."

It sounds like you have fallen into the mindset discussed in the reply to Objection: You Should Not Try to Hurry out of Trials \(Like Sickness\) Because They Are More Precious than Gold \(1 Peter 1:7\). Please read that next.

Chat: You can't afford it.

Jesus never billed anyone for services rendered! Continue to read this book to see how you can receive His free healthcare. But meanwhile, you may also want to find some good Christian instruction regarding money so you can find a way to get money to get some natural medical help while you're learning about what Jesus paid for you to have. Here's a little bit here for you: You can believe for money just as you can believe for healing. You can "believe you receive when you pray" as Jesus taught (Mark 11:24). This assumes that you are working if you are ABLE to work. You cannot just "call money in" if you are ABLE to work but you CHOOSE not to work or look for a job.

Do NOT assume that God has to heal you Himself just because you lack money. He heals those who receive the free gift of healing that His Son paid for a long time ago. See the answer to this question:

If I Cancel My Medical Insurance, Is God Obligated to Heal Me?

Chat: You don't trust doctors.

I do understand that some people and/or their friends or family members have had bad experiences with doctors. However, unless you're considering going to the same doctors that they did, it really isn't fair to throw all doctors into the same category. There are plenty of competent doctors out there who will do their best to see you get well.

That being said, plenty of people die because of medical errors. Doctors aren't perfect like the Great Physician, but it doesn't mean that they aren't trying their hardest.

It comes down to your personal choice if you're willing to get medical help. However, God is not obligated to heal you just because you don't go to the doctor. You receive divine healing when you believe that you receive the healing that Jesus already paid for you to have. It has nothing to do with whether you see a doctor, and it isn't inconsistent to believe that you receive healing from the Lord but still go to the doctor.

Return to Home Page

Chat: You are afraid to get a diagnosis because of what the doctor might say that you have.

Your honesty is refreshing. I would hazard to say that there are a lot more people in your category who won't admit it, and who try instead to portray their decision not to go as a faith decision rather than what is really is – a FEAR decision. If you are AFRAID of what the doctor will say, that is all the more reason to build your faith in divine healing by feeding on what the Word says about it.

A doctor's diagnosis does not make you sick! If the diagnosis is cancer, you don't have cancer because he diagnosed you. He just told you what you already have. Sometimes a doctor visit is valuable when the doctor tells you that you DON'T have what the devil is trying to tell you that you have. You may find out that your "brain tumor" is just a series of bad headaches, or that your chest pains today are actually just indigestion. However, if I were having bad chest pains, I would personally want to get to a doctor as soon as possible and find out what is going on.

Far from hurting you, a correct diagnosis of something serious could SAVE your life because it got detected in time to cure it.

If you believe that you receive your healing, and now you are convinced by your body that the condition is gone, getting checked out by a doctor will not give you your condition back – he can confirm that it's gone!

Return to Home Page

Chat: It's just something that you have to live with in this fallen world.

I'm glad Jesus never had that attitude. Never did He tell anyone, "That condition is just something you'll have to live with in this fallen world." He has not changed since then, so He will never tell anyone today that he has to settle for sickness just because he's in a fallen world. 1 John 3:8 says that Jesus came to DESTROY the works of the devil, not to give people the Bad News that they just have to live with the works of the devil. Acts 10:38 tells us that Jesus healed all who oppressed by the devil. It does not say that He just told people that because we're in a fallen world, they had to STAY oppressed by the devil. You don't have to stay oppressed either!

Sickness will be around until Jesus comes back, but that doesn't mean that YOU have to have it any more than it meant that the multitudes whom Jesus healed in the gospels had to have it.

Return to Home Page

Chat: God is mad at you because of a sin you committed and this is His judgment on you.

This is one of the devil's favorite lies because he is the "accuser of the brethren."

The judgment for every sin you've committed, or ever will commit, was laid on Jesus. That includes judgment for the one that you have in mind. In particular, the judgment of sickness was laid on His body! He bore your sicknesses and carried your pains – the ones YOU deserved! He was wounded for YOUR transgressions and bruised for YOUR iniquities. The punishment that bought YOU well-being in every area was upon Him, and by His stripes you are healed. (See Isaiah 53:4-5).

Jesus' sacrifice appeased the wrath of God that was coming your way. Be assured that God is NOT mad at you because of your sin!

I strongly recommend that you read If You Blow It and Am I Sick because God is Mad at Me?

Chat: You are helping to complete the sufferings of Christ on this earth.

It is hard to imagine Jesus saying, “It is finished” and then turning around and saying to you, “Actually I changed my mind. It is not finished. Finish it for me.” This idea is so ridiculous that it would not merit the bytes used to refer to it in this book were it not for the fact that it appears in a book that has been very popular in a certain denomination.

Jesus is the ONLY Redeemer that there will ever be. While I doubt that you meant to insult Jesus, it does not honor Him to think that you have to bear sickness in your body to help redeem the world. This idea, referred to in the book as “Redemptive Suffering,” has many flaws enumerated in Objection: We Need to Fulfill What Is Left of Christ’s Sufferings in the Earth \(Colossians 1:24\). You should read that next.

Chat: It is a blessing in disguise.

At some point you should read Objection: Sickness Is a Blessing in Disguise. But meanwhile, we can chat some more. If sickness is really a blessing, which of the following are you doing?

I am praying that I will get sicker so that I can maximize my blessing.

I am asking God to bless my entire family and circle of friends with the blessing-in-disguise of sickness.

I am abstaining from all medical treatment to ensure that I endure the greatest suffering and thus derive the greatest benefit from the blessing of sickness.

I don't believe that God wants me any sicker. He gave me just the right amount of sickness for my benefit because He knows best. So I am not trying to be in more pain.

After reading these choices, I started thinking that sickness isn't such a blessing after all. In fact, I don't want it!

Chat: You are praying to get sicker to maximize your blessing.

How much sicker are you praying to become to maximize the blessing-in-disguise of sickness?

I want my pain level to increase dramatically and cause me to rack up at least $1000 in insurance copays seeing specialists who cannot help stop the pain so that I will more blessed.

I want every moment to be one of such intolerable agony such that I can't sleep or function normally so that I will be EXTREMELY blessed.

I want my illness to continue to worsen until it kills me in the most painful way imaginable so that I will have the ULTIMATE degree of blessing.

I was just kidding or seeing what you would say – I really am not praying to get sicker, and I don't want to be sicker.

Chat: You want your pain level to increase dramatically.

You might think that now, but I'd guess that if your pain got worse, you would do everything you could to stop it rather than welcoming it as an added blessing. Then again, I don't know you personally and maybe you're just weird.

My challenge would be to find even one person who does not seek medical help to reduce his pain when his pain gets really bad. It's easier to be religious about it at a lower pain level, but if you really start hurting badly, you'll want the hurting to stop and you'll quit buying into sick religious thinking about it all being a blessing. If you REALLY think pain is a blessing, you won't try to stop it, and I'd estimate that the worldwide number of people who would REALLY consider excruciating pain a blessing so that they don't try to get medical relief would be about zero.

I suggest that you read Objection: Pain is Part of the Healing Process, Not Something that Is Necessarily Bad.

Chat: You want every moment to be one of such intolerable agony such that you can't sleep or function normally so that you will be EXTREMELY blessed.

I can't see that anyone would seriously want that level of pain and consider it a blessing if it really happened. It's easy to get religious about something theoretical, but I've never met anyone who would turn down medical relief for excruciating pain that prevented sleep or normal functioning. I would advise against praying for excruciating pain – God won't honor that prayer, but Satan could take advantage of your ignorance of God's will in the matter of healing.

The woman with the issue of blood was unable to get medical help that relieved her condition. She literally risked her life going out in public in her ceremonially "unclean" state, which she was not supposed to do. She was desperate, and I would hazard to say that anyone else with a case like hers would be desperate today – even you.

This book is full of discussions that should change your mind on this matter. If you really thought pain was somehow your friend, you will be relieved to know that Jesus wants to set you free from it!

Return to Home Page

Chat: You want your illness to continue to worsen until it kills you in the most painful way imaginable so that you will have the ULTIMATE degree of blessing.

What kind of a blessing would you get in this life if your life ends in misery?
Well, you WOULD get the ultimate blessing as a Christian because you would be with Jesus forever, but ALL Christians get that privilege even if they never suffer pain in this life.

The only way you would seriously give this answer (as opposed to just checking out what I'll say) is if you have bought the lie that people who suffer more in this life get a bigger reward in heaven.

Chat: You are asking God to bless your entire family and circle of friends with the blessing-in-disguise of sickness.

It's a little hard to believe that anyone would really do this, but you clicked this answer and we'll proceed accordingly. This answer is at least consistent – if you REALLY think sickness is a blessing, you would naturally want others you love to share this wonderful blessing.

God can't answer this prayer because it's against His known will to heal everyone, as many Scriptures cited in this book prove. However, Satan can take advantage of people who pray unbiblical prayers because he knows that such people will accept his sickness as God's will.

However, other people's faith (or unbelief) and free will is involved. So if you want others to enjoy the "blessing" of sickness, you will have to convince THEM that sickness is a blessing so that they desire it. You can't just pray it onto them. By maybe you can have them go online and order some idiotic Christian book that has a lot of 5-star reviews from other people who learned to embrace Satan's sickness as God's way of blessing them and working good in them. Then Satan can take advantage of your family and friends, too.

But it would be for you to read this book to learn the truth and encourage your entire family and circle of friends to do the same! If your circle of friends found out that you were praying for them to get sick, you could end up with a much smaller circle of friends!

Return to Home Page

Chat: You are abstaining from all medical treatment to ensure that you endure the greatest suffering and thus derive the greatest benefit from the blessing of sickness.

Before you continue to abstain from medical treatment, let me challenge you to find at least one person somewhere who has done this and can relate how wonderfully blessed he was as a result of his increased suffering. Find out what valuable life lessons the person learned so that he can be a greater asset to God's kingdom (assuming that the person is still alive). I've never met such a person myself.

Jesus said that the sick need a physician (Matthew 9:12, Mark 2:17, Luke 5:31). You either need the Great Physician or an earthly one. Jesus never taught that a sick person should NOT see a doctor, so your refusal of medical treatment is inconsistent with what He said. If you really think that sickness is a blessing, it is a given that you are not a faith giant, so the sooner you get to a doctor, the better!

Return to Home Page

Chat: You don't believe that God wants you any sicker. He gave you just the right amount of sickness for your benefit because He knows best. So you are not trying to be in more pain.

This idea definitely flunks The SAME Test. Never in the Bible do you see Jesus tell anyone, "God gave you just the right amount of sickness for your benefit, so far be it for Me to upset the delicate balance that He set up for you in His great love. Just trust that your heavenly Father has selected exactly the right suffering level for YOU." Jesus HEALED the sick; He did not give the sick words of religious false comfort.

I suggest that you now read the following:

The SAME Test

Who or What Causes Sickness?

Chat: After reading these choices, you started thinking that sickness isn't such a blessing after all. In fact, you don't want it!

I'm glad to hear that, because God doesn't want you to have it, either. I hope that the rest of the contents of this book convince you even more that sickness is bondage from Satan, not a blessing from God. I suggest that you now read Who or What Causes Sickness?

Chat: You really have no idea why you are sick.

Sickness is oppression that the devil uses to afflict mankind (Acts 10:38). God did not invent the sickness you have; the devil did. So that you may have a GOOD idea why you are sick, please read Who or What Causes Sickness? The rest of this book will help you know what to do about it. As a Christian, you are redeemed from the CURSE of sickness. Sickness, like any other curse, has no “higher good” to it – it’s just miserable.

Chat: The devil is the ultimate author of this sickness and everything else that steals, kills and destroys, so I don't understand why God allowed this sickness.

The fact that something happened does NOT mean that God had a PURPOSE in "allowing" it. God "allows" all kinds of things every day in this fallen world because He gave the world to man (Psalm 115:16). Actually, God isn't the one who "allows" sickness. It is illegal as far as He is concerned because Jesus has redeemed mankind from it. (While there ARE rare New Testament examples of God afflicting people as punishment, this never applies to a believer unless he is seriously hurting OTHER believers, whom God needs to protect.)

No, WE are the ones who "allow" sickness by not taking authority over it in the name of Jesus. What WE allow on earth is allowed in heaven and what WE forbid on earth is forbidden in heaven (Matthew 16:19).

I suggest that you read the following next:

We Hold the Keys

Your Authority over Sickness

Chat: You are sure that God does not want to heal your sickness.

If you are SURE that God doesn't want to heal you, it sounds like you got that idea from some preacher or modern Christian book, because you would not have gotten it from the Bible! Nothing in the Bible would "assure" you that healing is not God's will for you, given the many Old Testament and New Testament Scriptures about healing. You must have bought into one of the many objections to divine healing that make the rounds. This book deals with over 400 objections to healing, so you should be able to identify the ones you've heard in that section and read one or more refutations to each objection. I recommend that you go to the Objections Overruled! section next.

Find Scriptures about a Particular Condition

Note: This is not a concordance; there are other mentions of certain ailments in the Bible where no clear doctrinal point is made that would be helpful in receiving healing.

AIDS

Arthritis

Asthma

Bad Breath \(Chronic\)

Being in Love

Birth Defects

Blindness

Blurred Vision

Boils

Breathing Difficulties

Broken Bones

Brokenheartedness

Burning

Cancer

Chronic Illnesses

Consumption

Deafness

Demon Possession

Depression

Diarrhea

Dumbness

Emaciation

Exhaustion

Fever

Flesh-Eating Diseases

Foot Trouble

Heart Trouble

Hemorrhaging

Infertility

Inflammation

Injuries

Insanity

Insomnia

Itching

Lameness

Leprosy

Lice

Mental Illnesses

Miscarriages

Nonviability

Paralysis

Poisoning

Severing

Shaking

Shortness

Skin Disorders

Snakebites

Sores

Speech Impediments

Stomach Disorders

Swelling

Tongue Problems (Literal)

Tooth Problems

Tuberculosis

Tumors

Venereal Diseases

Weakness

Withering

Worms

Anything Else Not Listed Here

Condition: Arthritis

Although not mentioned by name, this would seem to be a similar case to the “bowed over” woman that Jesus healed in Luke 13:11-16. However, this solitary mention would not be proof that arthritis and similar ailments are always caused by a spirit of infirmity, as in this woman’s case.

Condition: Bad Breath (Chronic)

Yes, Scripture even discusses illness-related bad breath! Job 17:1 and Job 19:17 are both statements by Job about his bad breath. We know from Job 2:4-7 that the devil was the source of all of Job's physical ailments. Therefore, bad breath from physical ailments is something from the devil, who is under your feet as a Christian. Jesus came to destroy the works of the devil (1 John 3:8). Now if your bad breath just comes from eating platefuls of Limburger cheese with hot sauce, you will probably have to solve this situation with some kind of combination of time, a toothbrush, floss, mouthwash and breath mints.

Condition: Being in Love

Being in love is not a disease, lest you wonder why this “condition” is lumped with the others. In fact, I still have this “affliction” for my wife even though we’ve been married a long time and I never want to be “cured” of it. However, a book designed to cover as many aspects of sickness and healing as possible would not be complete without offering insight based on these verses:

Song of Solomon 2:5:

Stay me with flagons, comfort me with apples: for I am sick of love.

Song of Solomon 5:8:

I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, if ye find my beloved, that ye tell him, that I am sick of love.

Thus, we see that being in love with someone can actually have “symptoms” that might seem like you’re actually sick when you’re not. You may just be “giddy” over someone.

You do not need to be “healed” of this condition unless you are married and the object of your affection isn’t your spouse! In that case, you don’t need to be healed – you need to be like Job and make a covenant with your eyes not to gaze at some other woman (Job 31:1)! If you are a rubbernecker or a pornographer, REPENT and meditate on this verse until it sinks in and you act on it. You’ll be glad you did, and your spouse will be even gladder!

Condition: Birth Defects

Jesus healed the man born blind in John 9:1-7. He declared the healing of the man with this birth defect to be “the works of God.” If that was the work of God then, healing birth defects is the work of God now. Of course, having a birth defect does not mean that you or your parents are sinful. Jesus explicitly said that the blind man’s birth defect was not his fault or his parents’ fault.

The beggar at the gate called Beautiful who was healed in Acts 3:1-16 had been lame from his mother’s womb.

The man in Acts 14:7-10 was a cripple from his mother’s womb. He heard the gospel, which produced faith to be healed, and rose up healed. This is proof that the gospel itself is sufficient to cure birth defects without any special manifestation of the Spirit when the afflicted person exercises faith in the gospel message. The same faith that heals other conditions heals birth defects – no special kind of faith is required to see birth defects healed.

Being hunchbacked was cause to be excluded from certain temple service in Leviticus 21:16-23. God said that it would profane His sanctuary to have such a person approach the altar. Of course, under the New Covenant, the blood of Jesus gives everyone the right to approach God (Ephesians 1:6, Hebrews 10:19 and elsewhere). But if God did not want such a condition in His temple back then, why should He want it in His temple now, when you are His temple? He isn’t upset with YOU for having the condition; He’s upset with the devil for putting such conditions on people.

There is nothing “special” about birth defects, and if you have one or more of them, you are not one of “God’s special children,” born to “special parents.” Those platitudes are just unbelieving words of false comfort spoken by those who do not believe that God heals all your diseases, as He declares that He does. It is clear from the Scriptures above that Jesus Christ heals birth defects.

Let no man with a birth defect accuse God by saying, “Well, God made me this way!” That wasn’t what Jesus had to say on the matter. God did not make you that way. You inherited an abnormal condition that stems back to sin and to the fall of man. Healing is available to you today. God is into removing birth defects, not handing them out!

What if a birth defect is chromosomal, and God would have to change every strand of DNA in the person’s body for the person to be healed? That’s no big deal for God. In the twinkling of an eye someday, everyone’s body will be changed, and ALL DNA issues will be instantly resolved simultaneously (1 Corinthians 15:51-52)! God was able to create a snake out of a rod, and the snake would have had plenty of cells that had their own DNA (Exodus 7:10). God created LOTS of frogs, lice, flies and locusts in Egypt, seemingly from nothing (Exodus 8:6, Exodus 8:17, Exodus 8:24, Exodus 10:13). Frogs, lice, flies and locusts have DNA. Eve’s DNA would have to have been different from Adam’s for her to be female, and God took a rib with Adam’s DNA in it and created Eve who had different DNA. Every cell in that rib must have had its DNA changed. So that just isn’t a big deal for God to pull off!

Condition: Blindness

Blindness is one of the most frequently healed problems in Scripture in terms of specific references! We are the ones who make it a big deal, not God. (Yes, I am aware that if your problem is blindness, you are not reading this for yourself on the screen.)

Although the restoring of sight to the blind can be considered a miracle, it is unnecessary for the gifts of healings or the gift of working of miracles to be in operation for a blind man to see. The blind man can simply hear the Word of God and act on it. Thus, he can receive his sight through his own faith, as some did in some of the passages listed below. If others who were blind could have their faith make them whole, and they weren't even born again, surely today YOUR faith can make you whole of blindness.

Deuteronomy 28:15-68 cites blindness and failing of eyes explicitly as part of the curse for breaking the Law. According to Galatians 3:13, you are redeemed from this curse. "The burning ague [fever] that shall consume the eyes" is listed among the curses for breaking the Law in Leviticus 26:14-39. (Some illnesses are known to cause blindness. You are explicitly redeemed from such illnesses.)

2 Kings 6:18-20 tells how God made an entire army blind and then restored their sight. If He can do this to an entire army, surely it is no big deal for Him to do it to one person!

Zechariah 14:12 describes a plague from the LORD against those who fight against Jerusalem that includes eyes consuming away in their holes. You are redeemed from such plagues.

In Matthew 9:27-30, two blind men are healed by their faith.

In Matthew 11:4-5 and Luke 7:20-23, Jesus cites the fact that the blind are seeing as a proof that He is the Messiah who was to come.

In Matthew 12:22, Jesus heals a blind man who is also deaf and dumb (speechless). In this case, an evil spirit was responsible for the condition.

In Matthew 15:30-31, Jesus heals all who are blind in a large crowd.

In Matthew 20:30-34, two more blind men are healed.

In Matthew 21:14, an unspecified number of blind people come to Jesus in the temple and are healed.

In Mark 8:22-25, Jesus ministers to a blind man. The man gets part of his vision. Jesus continues to minister to him and he receives all of his vision.

In Mark 10:46-52, Blind Bartimaeus is made whole by his faith.

In Luke 4:18-19, Jesus declares that recovery of sight to the blind is part of what He was anointed to preach. This can be taken figuratively, but it also happened literally throughout His ministry.

In Luke 7:20-23, Jesus heals many blind people and declares this to be one proof that He is the Messiah.

In Luke 18:35-43, a certain blind man near Jericho is healed because of his faith.

John 5:2-19 describes the Pool of Bethesda, where many sick people, explicitly including blind people, went to be healed. When the angel troubled the water, whoever got in the pool first was healed, so if a blind person got in, the blind person would be healed.

In John 9:1-7, Jesus ministers to a man who was born blind. When he obeys Jesus' instructions to go wash in the pool of Sent (Siloam), he receives his sight.

In John 11:1-44, which deals with the raising of Lazarus, there is a reference to the fact that Jesus opened the eyes of the blind.

In Acts 13:6-12, blindness is called upon a man who was opposing the gospel as judgment. God never made any obedient person blind for any reason. Blindness here as well as in the curse of the Law is clearly a judgment, which does not belong to anyone who has been washed clean by the blood of Jesus. The blindness was only for a "season," so we know that the Lord healed Bar-Jesus's blindness at some point.

You don't even have to lose your eyesight when you get old. Moses didn't (Deuteronomy 34:7).

In Isaiah 29:18 and Isaiah 35:3-6 we see that Christ will take away blindness when He comes to reign on the earth. Where Jesus has his way, blindness leaves.

Psalm 146:8 says that God opens the eyes of the blind. This Hebrew verb is in the continuous tense. In other words, God is opening blind eyes on an ongoing basis. If you're blind, your eyes can be the next ones that He heals!

Condition: Blurred Vision

God is willing and able to heal total blindness, so surely He is able to heal partial blindness or blurred vision from cataracts, glaucoma or other eye conditions.

Moses lived to a ripe old age without losing his vision (Deuteronomy 34:7). In Mark 8:22-25, Jesus ministered to a blind man. The man got part of his vision at which point he had blurred vision. Jesus continued to minister to the man and the man went from having blurred vision to being completely healed.

The curse in Deuteronomy 28:15-68 from which you are redeemed (Galatians 3:13) includes “failing of eyes.” Having an illness (in this case a fever) that “consumes your eyes” is also declared a curse for disobedience in Leviticus 26:14-39. You do not deserve any curse because of your righteousness in Christ.

In Leviticus 21:16-23, a man with a “blemish in his eye” was not permitted to approach God’s holy altar. This shows God’s disapproval of such a condition and that He wants those who serve Him to be free from such a condition. It does not mean that you are a moral failure because you have an eye problem. It does mean that God does not want such conditions in His holy temple. You are His temple under the New Covenant (2 Corinthians 6:16). (Don’t worry; you can approach God as anyone else can; the blood of Jesus takes care of that under the New Covenant.)

In Job 17:7, Job says that sorrow caused his eye to be dim. Remember that Satan put all of Job’s afflictions upon him. We have authority over the devil’s works under the New Covenant. In this case, being depressed seemed to be the root of the eye trouble, but that is not true in every case.

Having “dim” eyes was considered a consequence of sin:

Lamentations 5:16-17:

The crown is fallen from our head: woe unto us, that we have sinned!
For this our heart is faint; for these things our eyes are dim.

Jesus has redeemed you from sin and all the punishments associated with it.

Believing you receive when you pray for healing of an eye condition gives you a special chance to literally “walk by faith, not by sight.” It is possible, and you can do it.

Condition: Boils

The word translated botch twice in the Law's curse in Deuteronomy 28:15-68 refers to boils or sores (covered separately). This could include skin disorders (covered separately) as well as ulcers. Any abnormal breaking forth of an open wound would be covered here. Jesus Christ was given open wounds on His body as punishment for YOUR sins. Because He already bore that penalty for you, you do not have to have open sores in your body. Satan is the author of such, as demonstrated by Job 2:4-7. Satan gave Job his boils; God healed Job of his boils (Job 42:10)! (And don't worry, there is no such thing as having to be "another Job" under the New Covenant – you have personal authority over Satan, which Job did not have back in his time. Satan loves to promote the lie that you could be another Job so that you'll botch your chance to be healed.)

God specifically calls a "sore botch that cannot be healed" in the knees and legs a curse. He also calls sores all over your body ("from the sole of thy foot unto the top of thy head") a curse.

God can keep boils away from his people! Remember that one of Moses' ten plagues on Egypt was boils, which came upon the Egyptians, but not upon the Israelites (Exodus 9:8-11). If He could do that for His people then, surely He can keep boils away under our better covenant established upon better promises (Hebrews 8:6). Because boils are explicitly called a plague, and God says that no plague comes near the house of the man who abides in him (see Psalm 91), we can claim redemption from this plague today.

Condition: Breathing Difficulties (also Referenced under Asthma)

Job appears to have had difficulty breathing, given his statement in Job 9:18 that God would not suffer him to take his breath. Of course, this was a false accusation, because Job 2:4-7 makes it clear that Satan, not God, gave Job his problems. Thus, Satan gave Job trouble breathing. God restored his breathing and healed him, because we know from Job 42:10 that God completely healed Job of all his afflictions. Neither Satan nor God has changed in nature. Breathing difficulties are still Satan's work and healing them is still God's work.

Condition: Broken Bones

Psalm 34:17-20 ends with a promise that the righteous keeps all his bones, and that not one of them is broken. If one of your bones is broken, expect God to honor His promise and heal your broken bone! Speak in agreement with God's Word: "Not one of my bones is broken!" and expect your body to come into submission to the Word. Remember – conditions are temporary and subject to change, but God's Word is eternal and it is not subject to change. God's Word, which is permanent, changes situations such as broken bones, which are temporary.

In Leviticus 21:16-23, a man with a broken foot or a broken hand was not permitted to approach God's holy altar. This shows God's disapproval of such conditions and that He wants those who serve Him to be whole in their bones. It does not mean that you are a moral failure because you have a broken bone! It does mean that God does not want such conditions in His holy temple, and you are His temple under the New Covenant (2 Corinthians 6:16). (Don't worry; you can approach God as anyone else can; the blood of Jesus takes care of that under the New Covenant.)

Psalm 31:10 and Psalm 38:3 say that the psalmist's bones were consumed and had no rest because of sin:

Psalm 31:10:

For my life is spent with grief, and my years with sighing; my strength faileth because of mine iniquity, and my bones are consumed.

Psalm 38:3:

There is no soundness in my flesh because of thine anger; neither is there any rest in my bones because of my sin.

Jesus appeased God's anger for you over your sin, so your bones should not be "consumed" or "without rest." The person who is right before God (as you are) should be able to say that his bones are "fat" instead of fragile:

Isaiah 58:11:

And the LORD shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in drought, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not.

Job considered a broken bone to be judgement that a wicked person deserves:

Job 31:21-22:

If I have lifted up my hand against the fatherless, when I saw my help in the gate:
Then let mine arm fall from my shoulder blade, and mine arm be broken from the bone.

Believers are righteous and do not deserve punishment because Jesus was punished in their place.

Here is what God promised in Ezekiel:

Ezekiel 34:16:

I will seek that which was lost, and bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick: but I will destroy the fat and the strong; I will feed them with judgment.

You have every right to believe that God will bind up what's broken and strengthen what's sick!

Job himself suffered unspecified bone trouble (Job 30:17). We know that everything Job suffered was from the devil, not God. Under the New Covenant, you have authority over the devil, which Job never had. If the devil tries to give you bone trouble, you can run him off, because Jesus was manifested to DESTROY the works of the devil (1 John 3:8), including bone trouble.

Proverbs 17:22 tells us that a broken spirit dries up the bones. So issues you're dealing with could literally be bad for your bones. But having a merry heart will do you good like medicine!

Finally, walking in the fear of the Lord is good for your bones (Proverbs 3:7-8).

Condition: Brokenheartedness

God is the emotional healer of His people as well as their physical healer. Jesus declared that He was anointed to heal the brokenhearted (Luke 4:18-19), so He surely is today because He has not changed (Hebrews 13:8). This is consistent with Psalm 34:18, Psalm 147:3, 2 Corinthians 7:6 and 2 Corinthians 1:3-4 and other scriptures. The Psalmist asked God to “heal his soul” in Psalm 41:4.

See the discussion, To Heal the Brokenhearted for further thoughts on this theme.

Condition: Burning

The burning referred to in Deuteronomy 28:15-68 refers to a burning fever. This is a curse and you are redeemed from it (Galatians 3:10-14).

Condition: Chronic Illnesses

Any illness is part of the curse of the Law in Deuteronomy 28:15-68. Verse 61 includes “Every sickness, and every plague, which is not written in the book of this Law.” However, God even mentions chronic illnesses specifically in this passage. He mentions “the itch, whereof thou canst not be healed,” “a sore botch that cannot be healed,” and in general, “great plagues, and of long continuance, and sore sicknesses, and of long continuance.”

Rather than resigning yourself to accept a chronic condition just because you’ve had it a long time, or because your doctor says you can’t get rid of it, believe that you are redeemed from chronic, long-lasting conditions! It doesn’t matter how long you’ve had your chronic condition. God heals all your diseases (see Psalm 103:1-5), not just your short-term ones!

The woman who was bowed over in Luke 13:11-16 had been in that condition for 18 years when Jesus healed her.

The man at the Pool of Bethesda in John 5:2-19 had been in his condition for 38 years when Jesus healed him.

We don’t know how old all the people were who were healed of birth defects, but we do know that the cripple at the gate called Beautiful was over 40 years old (Acts 4:22).

God wants to heal you, too, regardless of how long you may have had a chronic condition!

Condition: Consumption (Tuberculosis)

This is a disease involving the wasting away of tissue. The Hebrew word here means roughly “emaciation.” God declares this to be part of the curse for breaking the Law in Deuteronomy 28:15-68, a curse from which Christ has redeemed us (Galatians 3:10-14). It is also listed among the curses for breaking God’s covenant in Leviticus 26:14-39. Why should a penalty for breaking the Law reside in a Christian, who is righteous as far as the Law is concerned because of the shed blood of Jesus Christ? It shouldn’t. One of the most famous healing evangelists in history was healed from this disease before he started his ministry.

“Emaciation” is listed three times as one of Job’s trials that Satan gave him (Job 10:10-11, Job 16:8, Job 19:20). Satan gave it to him and God healed him. If God would heal Job of this, surely he is willing to heal you!

Condition: Deafness

In Isaiah 29:18 and Isaiah 35:3-6 we see that Christ will take away deafness when He comes to reign on the earth. Where Jesus has His way, deafness leaves.

In Matthew 11:4-5 and Luke 7:20-23, the fact that the deaf are hearing is cited as a proof that Jesus is the promised Messiah.

In Mark 7:32-37, Jesus heals a man who is deaf and has a speech impediment. There is no record that any demon was involved because Jesus did not cast any demon out of the man.

Condition: Demon Possession

The Greek actually says “demonized” (daimonizomai) as opposed to “demon possessed.” The idea of being “possessed” by demons leads to some unbiblical Hollywood concepts. For example, you could get the idea that someone is just so totally controlled by demons that his free will is gone. That is contrary to Scripture. Consider what was probably the worst case in the Bible – a man with a couple thousand demons! This man still ran to Jesus and worshiped him (Mark 5:6)! Even 2,000 demons could not prevent him from approaching Jesus when he decided to do it!

In developed countries, many demonized people are locked up in asylums where you won't see them. However, that doesn't mean that there is no demonic activity in wealthier countries. Such countries may still have large numbers of people who have been convinced by demons that they are sexually attracted to members of the same sex or to children, or that they are really the opposite gender from what their chromosomes say.

Jesus delivers the demon-possessed. There are many Scriptures about this. He explicitly gave His followers authority over all demons.

In Matthew 4:23-24, Jesus heals those who are possessed with devils.

In Matthew 8:16-17, Mark 1:32-24 and Luke 4:40-41 Jesus casts devils out of the many demon-possessed people who are brought to Him.

In Matthew 8:28-32, Jesus casts devils out of two demon-possessed men. In Mark 5:2-20 and Luke 8:27-39, we find an expanded account of one of these men.

In Matthew 10:1, Mark 3:14-15, Mark 6:7 and Luke 9:1-2, Jesus gives His disciples power to cast out unclean spirits. In Matthew 10:7-8, He commands them to cast out devils. We know that they did this in Mark 6:12-13 and Luke 10:17-20.

In Matthew 15:22-28 and Mark 7:25-30, a Canaanite woman asks Jesus to deliver her demon-possessed daughter. Jesus tells her that she has great faith and merely speaks a word and the daughter is healed.

In Matthew 17:14-21, Mark 9:17-29 and Luke 9:38-42, a devil caused a young boy to fall into fire and water. The disciples could not cast it out because of their unbelief. Jesus arrives on the scene and casts the devil out, and the boy is cured.

In Mark 1:23-26, Jesus casts an unclean spirit out of a man. Luke 4:33-36 appears to recount the same incident.

In Mark 1:32-34, Jesus casts out many devils and does not permit them to speak.

In Mark 1:39, Jesus casts out devils throughout Galilee.

In Mark 9:38-39 and Luke 9:49-50, a man who is not even an official disciple of Jesus casts out devils in Jesus' name.

In Mark 16:15-18, Jesus says that casting out devils in His name will be a sign to follow believers as they preach the gospel to everyone.

In Luke 4:40-41, Jesus casts demons out of many people.

In Luke 6:17-19, all those who are "vexed with unclean spirits" are healed.

In Luke 7:20-23, Jesus heals many of evil spirits.

In Luke 8:2, women whom Jesus healed of evil spirits (one of them had seven) follow Jesus. We see here that a person can have more than one demon. Also, the text says that people were "healed" of evil spirits. The healing that is yours includes deliverance from evil spirits.

In Luke 11:14, casting out a "dumb spirit" enables a man to speak.

In Luke 11:20, Jesus says that he casts out devils with "the finger of God" (an apparent reference to the Holy Spirit). Jesus did all His miracles as a man anointed by the Holy Spirit. He did them by the "finger of God" and not by His innate deity. He was just as divine for the first three decades of His life, but He cast out no demons until the Holy Spirit came upon Him in the Jordan.

In Luke 13:11-16, Jesus heals a woman who had a spirit of infirmity for eighteen years.

In Acts 5:12-16, people bring those "vexed with unclean spirits" from cities all around, and they are all healed.

In Acts 16:16-18, Paul casts out a fortune-telling demon from a girl.

In Acts 19:11-12, demons come out when handkerchiefs and aprons that touched Paul's body are brought to the demonized.

Condition: Depression

This is covered in a general sense in the section on mental illnesses. However, there are some points about depression that are worth mentioning separately.

“Sorrow of mind” is called a curse in Deuteronomy 28:15-68, a curse from which you are specifically redeemed (Galatians 3:10-14).

Job’s eyes were dim from sorrow (Job 17:7), a condition that Satan gave him, and from which God healed him.

If you suffer from depression, it is vital that you develop the habit of praising God. Read what Jesus was anointed to do for you, prophesied by Isaiah hundreds of years in advance (Isaiah 61:1-3): “The Spirit of the LORD GOD is upon me; because the LORD hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives [this would include captives of depression], and the opening of the prison to them that are bound [depression is a form of bondage]; To proclaim the acceptable year of the LORD, and the day of vengeance of our God; to comfort all that mourn; To appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give them beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the LORD, that he might be glorified.”

If you are always feeling “heavy,” you should start praising God to get that heaviness off of you. You also need to declare depression to be a curse and resist it. The devil wants you to be depressed all the time. He will do what he can to keep you that way. You must actively resist his thoughts of hopelessness and gloom. Don’t just dwell on whatever negative thought pops into your head. Your weapons are mighty through God to pull down strongholds. They are able to take every thought captive (2 Corinthians 10:3-5). In Christ, you have the goods to defeat depression and its associated negative thoughts.

If you have a chemical imbalance (or have become convinced that you do by listening to TV ads) due to severe depression, know that Jesus is the healer of your physical problems as well the healer of your mental problems. You don’t have to know which is the cause and which is the effect to believe God for your healing! You are redeemed from depression. You do not have to be depressed.

I am not saying that something is wrong because you have emotions. We all have emotions. It is not wrong to experience emotions, but it is wrong to let those emotions control you. If you are not praising God because you don’t feel like it, you are letting your emotions mean more to you than the Word of God, which lists enough reasons to praise God to keep you busy praising Him for a long time.

Even Jesus had to deal with extreme mental heaviness.

Matthew 26:37:

And he took with him Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, and began to be sorrowful and very heavy.

Mark 14:33-34:

And he taketh with him Peter and James and John, and began to be sore amazed, and to be very heavy; And saith unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful unto death: tarry ye here, and watch.

What did Jesus do? He PRAYED. He did NOT say to His disciples, “Guys, any of you got a bottle of strong drink on you? This mental heaviness is more than I can bear without chemical help.” He proved that He could beat depression as a MAN, and He now lives in you. The One who BEAT depression is inside you 24/7, and He can now help YOU beat it.

Depression is just another illness from which Jesus redeemed you. Yet many Christians think that mental illness is a special case. So without even asking what the Word says, their reflex reaction is, “I’d better ask my doctor about Upliftium so that I’ll feel better.” If you need medical help for now, go get it – it’s not a sin – but continue to learn what the Word says so that you will eventually be free of the need for Upliftium or anything else. Meanwhile, you can converse with your doctor.

“Doctor, is Upliftium right for me?”

“I think so, but don’t take Upliftium if you’re allergic to Upliftium.”

“How could I know if I’m allergic to Upliftium when I’ve never taken Upliftium?”

“If you suddenly swell up like a pufferfish, go into shock and pass out after you take Upliftium, you’re allergic to it. And some side effects may include major organ failure, brain swelling, blurred vision, hallucinations, heart palpitations and suicidal thoughts.”

“But wait a minute, aren’t suicidal thoughts what depressed people have? What good is an antidepressant that gives you suicidal thoughts?”

(You and your doctor can continue the conversation from there and he can explain it all to you.)

Many more comments on the issue of depression can be found in the answer to Objection: Mental Illness Is Treatable, But Not Curable.

Condition: Diarrhea

Job spoke of his “bowels boiling” (Job 30:27) as one of his afflictions (which Satan gave him). He also talked about his gall being poured out on the ground (Job 16:13). I cannot prove that these mean diarrhea, but it would seem to be an appropriate explanation. Whatever made Job’s bowels boil, God healed him. You should expect God to heal you, too.

Of course, diarrhea is definitely included under “every sickness, and every plague,” which is part of the curse for breaking the Law (Deuteronomy 28:61) and from which you are redeemed (Galatians 3:13).

If you’re traveling, you may be able to avoid this condition by not drinking the local water. This would seem to be more rational than going ahead and drinking it and then claiming your healing from diarrhea. I believe that this advice is consistent with Paul’s natural advice to Timothy about not drinking the water at Ephesus (1 Timothy 5:23).

Publius’s father was healed of a “bloody flux” in Acts 28:8, which could also have indicated diarrhea.

Condition: Dumbness

In Scripture, dumbness means inability to speak, not stupidity.

In Matthew 9:32-33, a spirit is responsible for a man's dumbness. When Jesus casts the devil out, the man is able to speak.

In Matthew 12:22, Jesus heals a dumb man who is also blind and deaf. In this case, an evil spirit was responsible for the condition.

In Matthew 15:30-31, Jesus heals all who are dumb in a large crowd. No demon is mentioned.

In Mark 7:32-37, a man who has a speech impediment is categorized as "dumb" even though he could apparently speak somewhat. Jesus heals him. No demon is mentioned as being involved.

In Mark 9:17-29, Jesus heals a boy who is dumb because of the working of an evil spirit.

In Luke 11:14, Jesus casts out a spirit, enabling a dumb person to speak.

In Isaiah 35:3-6 we see that Christ will take away dumbness when He comes to reign on the earth. Where Jesus has His way, dumbness leaves.

Condition: Emaciation

It was Satan who caused Job to be emaciated (Job 10:10-11, Job 16:8, Job 19:20). Under the New Covenant, you have authority over Satan and his works, so you do not have to be emaciated. Job considered emaciation to be God's judgment. But then He says that if an atonement is found, that condition can be healed (see Job 33:19-25).

Similarly, the Psalmist said that his bones cleaved to his skin (Psalm 102:5) and that the reason was God's wrath and indignation (Psalm 102:10). But God has not appointed believers to wrath (1 Thessalonians 5:9) because Jesus took the wrath of God for their sin.

Also see the entry for Consumption.

Condition: Exhaustion

No one should teach that you can knowingly overwork your body and then “claim” healing from the exhaustion that you brought on yourself. However, in Philippians 2:25-30, Epaphroditus allowed himself to get exhausted in the ministry, and God in His mercy healed him when he was at the point of death. God can show you mercy, too, but His will is for you to live by FAITH, not strictly by MERCY.

Don't believe the Christian cliché that it is better to burn out for God than to burn out for the world or for the devil. Jesus does not want you to burn out at all. His yoke is easy and His burden is light (Matthew 11:30). If you think His instructions are burning you out, you've missed it somewhere. God does not burn out anyone. Unwise Christians burn themselves out. Because Jesus doesn't burn people out, you'll never get burned out doing what Jesus tells you to do. However, it is very possible to get burned out trying to do what Jesus told you to do plus a number of “good” Christian things that Jesus never told you to do.

Condition: Fever

Matthew 8:14-15, Mark 1:30-31, and Luke 4:38-39 contain accounts where Jesus instantly heals Peter's mother-in-law of a fever. (Luke describes it as a great fever.)

Deuteronomy 28:15-68 lists fever explicitly as a curse for breaking the Law. Jesus has redeemed you from that curse (Galatians 3:10-14). Leviticus 26:14-39 also declares fever a result of breaking God's covenant, although here it is called the "burning ague." The same Hebrew word translated burning ague in Leviticus is translated fever in Deuteronomy. Another word, "burning," signifies fever in this passage as well.

Got a really bad fever? You'll be glad to know that a nobleman's son had a deadly fever in John 4:46-53 and Jesus simply spoke words. The nobleman believed Jesus' words and the fever left the son at that moment. Mere words drove out a deadly fever! Thank God, your words can drive out a deadly fever, too, when they agree with God's words.

Acts 28:8 describes how the father of Publius, who had a fever, was healed when a believer (Paul) laid hands on him.

Job 30:30 appears to indicate that Job had a fever. We know that Job's physical trials were caused by the devil. Thus, fever is something that the devil, not God, causes. The Son of God was made manifest to destroy the works of the devil (1 John 3:8).

Psalm 102:3:

For my days are consumed like smoke, and my bones are burned as an hearth.

This probably meant a fever. Why did the writer have it? Psalm 102:10 says that it was because of God's indignation and wrath. But under the New Covenant, Jesus appeased God's wrath for those who would believe in Him, bearing their diseases in their place.

Condition: Flesh-Eating Diseases

Zechariah 14:12 describes a plague from the Lord that will cause people's skin to be consumed while they're standing. This was judgment against people who fought Jerusalem. God has not appointed you to wrath as a believer, so such awful judgements should not come upon you. You are under grace, not under wrath.

Condition: Foot Trouble

2 Chronicles 16:12 tells of Asa, who did not get healed of his foot trouble. He sought medical help but did not seek the Lord's help. Seeking medical help is not wrong, but God was upset that Asa sought medical help without seeking His help. Asa had seen God move before, and He should have known better. If you have foot trouble, don't make Asa's mistake and just see doctors without trusting God for your healing.

Condition: Heart Trouble

Having a trembling heart is part of the CURSE for breaking the Law. Christ has redeemed us from this curse:

Deuteronomy 28:65:

And among these nations shalt thou find no ease, neither shall the sole of thy foot have rest: but the LORD shall give thee there a trembling heart, and failing of eyes, and sorrow of mind:

Heart trouble was a judgment against Nabal the fool:

1 Samuel 25:37-38:

But it came to pass in the morning, when the wine was gone out of Nabal, and his wife had told him these things, that his heart died within him, and he became as a stone.

And it came to pass about ten days after, that the LORD smote Nabal, that he died.

In Christ, you do not deserve judgment, including heart trouble.

While you can't absolutely prove that the following verse refers to a physical heart condition, the fact that it mentions your flesh would tip it in that direction. You should trust God to be the strength of your heart.

Psalms 73:26:

My flesh and my heart faileth: but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever.

Sin (from which Christ redeemed us) was the cause of having a faint heart as well as dim eyes:

Lamentations 5:16-17:

The crown is fallen from our head: woe unto us, that we have sinned!

For this our heart is faint; for these things our eyes are dim.

Now that you have freed from sin, you should not have a faint heart.

Job had heart trouble, but the Bible is clear that his problem came from the devil, not God, even though Job mistakenly attributed his problems to God.

Job 23:16:

For God maketh my heart soft, and the Almighty troubleth me:

Under the New Covenant, we have authority over the devil and his works in our lives. We do not have to have heart trouble.

The Psalmist's heart was "smitten" (Psalm 102:4) because of God's wrath and indignation (Psalm 102:10). But Jesus appeased God's wrath as far as believers are concerned. You as a believer are not appointed to wrath (1 Thessalonians 5:9).

The biggest reason why you don't have to have heart trouble is that Jesus was made sick with heart trouble in your place on the cross. David, prophetically looking forward to this event, declared the following:

Psalm 22:14:

I am poured out like water, and all my bones are out of joint: my heart is like wax; it is melted in the midst of my bowels.

Heart trouble was part of the judgment for sin, but Jesus bore that judgment for you on the cross when He was "made sick" (see Isaiah 53:10) for you.

Condition: Hemorrhaging

In Matthew 9:18-25, Mark 5:25-34 and Luke 8:41-56, a woman with “an issue of blood” is healed by her faith.

In Acts 28:8, the father of Publius is healed of a “bloody flux.”

Condition: Infertility

Though this is not often preached, infertility (inability to have children) is one of the most-discussed problems in Scripture. God has proved again and again that He wants to heal those who cannot have children. So to think that He wouldn't do it for you is a misconception that is almost inconceivable.

In Psalm 113:9, God declares that he makes the barren woman become the joyful mother of children.

In Genesis 20:17-18, Abimelech's household is unable to bear children as a curse for the impropriety of having Sarah stay there. Thus, God declares barrenness to be a curse. When things are made right, God opens wombs. You are "made right" by Jesus' blood, so you have the right to have an open womb.

In Genesis 21:1-2, Sarah, who is way too old to have children and is childless, bears a son when God intervenes. A reminder of this is found in Hebrews 11:11.

In Genesis 25:21, God graciously answers Isaac's prayer and grants his barren wife twins. If He would honor Isaac's prayer under the Old Covenant, surely He would honor yours under the New Covenant.

In Genesis 30:22-23, Rachel is made able to bear children after a long time of being jealous of Leah.

In Exodus 23:25-26, God promises obedient Israel that there would not only be no sickness among them, but also no barrenness or miscarriages! Surely His blessings have not decreased under our new and better covenant (Hebrews 7:22).

In Deuteronomy 7:12-15, God promises to bless the fruit of your womb (children), so there must be some to bless. He then said that there would be no childless male or female among you or your animals, and that He would take all sickness away.

In Deuteronomy 28:4, God pronounces a blessing on the fruit of your body (your children). This would be impossible if you could not have kids!

In Judges 13:2-3, 24, a certain woman is barren, and God gives her Samson.

In 1 Samuel 1, Hannah cannot bear children. She prays to the Lord, and the Lord gives her Samuel. Hannah then praises God, in the midst of which she talks about the barren woman bearing seven children (1 Samuel 2:5).

In 2 Kings 4:12-17, a Shunammite woman is blessed with a child after taking care of the prophet of God.

Proverbs 30:15-16 lists the following things that are never satisfied: The grave, the barren womb, the earth that is not filled with water, and the fire that never says it is enough. Thus, the implication is that the barren womb cries out for children.

In Luke 1:7, Elisabeth was barren, and God gave her John the Baptist. Isn't it interesting how many heroes of faith could never have even been born without God's intervention!

In Leviticus 20:20-21, dying childless is a curse for incest. If God considers barrenness a curse, so should we! It is possible that the childless death would be soon due to execution; this is not quite clear. "And if a man shall lie with his uncle's wife, he hath uncovered his uncle's nakedness: they shall bear their sin; they shall die childless. And if a man shall take his brother's wife, it is an unclean thing: he hath uncovered his brother's nakedness; they shall be childless."

Psalm 127:3-5:

Lo, children are an heritage of the LORD: and the fruit of the womb is his reward.

As arrows are in the hand of a mighty man; so are children of the youth.

Happy is the man who has his quiver full of them: they shall not be ashamed, but they shall speak with the enemies in the gate.

If you had to be childless, all the large number of blessings on your children would be meaningless. For example:

Psalm 128:3-4:

Thy wife shall be as a fruitful vine by the sides of thine house: thy children like olive plants round about thy table.

Behold, that thus shall the man be blessed that feareth the LORD.

It is clearly the will of God that women be able to bear children. (I hope that it is superfluous to point out that it is also the will of God that they be married first!) If you are unable to have children, you have the right to be healed in your body so that you can! It is a covenant right.

Condition: Inflammation

The word used for inflammation in the curse of Deuteronomy 28:15-68 means a burning fever. You are redeemed from this as well as the rest of the Deuteronomy curse by Christ's sacrifice (Galatians 3:10-14).

See the entry for Fever as well.

Condition: Injuries

Thank God, Jesus' healing mercy extends not only to the sick but also to those who have been in accidents. Don't let anyone who has been in an accident convince you that the accident was God's will or that God is unwilling to heal injuries from accidents, even if a famous person blames it on God.

In Matthew 15:30-31, Jesus healed all the maimed people in a large crowd.

In Luke 22:50-51, Jesus healed a man whose ear Peter had just hacked off with a sword.

In Acts, God obviously healed Paul repeatedly when he was injured by persecutors. That is the only reason why Paul could continue in his ministry and finish his course.

Condition: Insanity

God's healing covenant covers mental as well as physical illnesses. Indeed, in many cases it is hard to draw the line. Fortunately, you don't need to draw any line – it's all covered!

In Matthew 4:23-24, Jesus healed those that are "lunatick" (insane).

Many people are insane because they are demonized. See the Demon Possession section for Scriptures.

See Mental Illnesses for a more general discussion of mental illnesses.

Condition: Insomnia

Psalm 127:2 says that God gives His beloved sleep.

Proverbs 3:21-24 says that your sleep will be sweet if you keep sound wisdom and discretion.

Ecclesiastes 5:12 says that the sleep of a laboring man is sweet. The rich who are consumed with their wealth, by contrast, do not sleep well. To sleep well, make sure you're working for a living and don't be consumed with worry about money, which Jesus forbade in Matthew 6.25-34.

If you want to worry, forget about sleeping. If you want to sleep, forget about worrying. Worry is a sin. Repent of it and you'll sleep better. Cast your care on the Lord, because he cares for you (1 Peter 5:7). If you fail to do this, "claiming" these other sleep Scriptures will not work.

If God could cause Adam (Genesis 2:21), Abraham (Genesis 15:12), Saul's entire army (1 Samuel 26:12) and Daniel (Daniel 8:18, Daniel 10:9) to fall into a deep sleep, and cause Jeremiah to have sweet sleep (Jeremiah 31:26), surely He is able to make you sleep well.

It was Satan, not God, responsible for making Job "toss to and fro unto the dawning of the day" (Job 7:4), for causing wearisome nights and scaring him with dreams, terrifying him with visions while he slept (Job 7:14), and causing pain in his bones at night (Job 30:17). You have authority over Satan.

Whoever said that counting sheep is a good way to get to sleep has never pastored a small church! Rather than counting sheep, count yourself as one of God's sheep and count on God to help you sleep!

Condition: Itching

Part of the curse in Deuteronomy 28:15-68 is “the itch whereof thou canst not be healed.” God thus declares chronic itching to be a curse, and we know from Galatians 3:10-14 that we are redeemed from the curse found in the Law. Therefore, Christ has redeemed you from itching and you have the right to receive healing from it. Also, the “scab” referred to in the same verse as the itch in the Deuteronomy curse passage above appears to refer to a form of itching as well, in the form of something that itches.

Condition: Lameness

Matthew 11:4-5 and Luke 7:20-23 state that the lame walking is a proof that Jesus was the Messiah who was to come.

Matthew 15:30-31 records that Jesus healed many lame people.

In Matthew 21:14, Jesus healed an unspecified number of lame people in the temple.

In John 5:2-19, a man who could not walk because of an infirmity he had suffered for 38 years was healed.

Acts 3:1-16 has the account of the lame man at the gate called Beautiful who got up and walked when Peter told him to do so in the name of Jesus.

Acts 8:5-8 tells how Philip healed many who were lame and paralyzed in Samaria when he preached Christ there. Recall that Philip was a layman at the time, though he was later referred to as an evangelist. He had only served in the physical aspects of the ministry at Jerusalem. This shows that such healings are not just done by apostles!

Acts 14:7-10 tells how a lame man at Lystra got healed. He heard Paul preach the gospel (the real thing, not the modern watered-down, powerless version) and from that got faith to be healed. He rose up whole. Any believer can preach the gospel and expect the lame to be healed. (This beats making lame excuses about this not being for today. Those who claim that the lame can't be healed today don't have a leg to stand on.) This verse is proof that no special anointing need be present for a lame person to be healed. The lame can be healed when the gospel is preached to them and they believe it and act on it.

Isaiah 35:3-6 says that when God comes to Israel, the lame will leap like a deer.

If you are lame because of fear, both Isaiah 35:3-6 and Hebrews 12:12-13 tell you that you can be healed. (Some people do get physically weak because they are in such great fear.)

See also Paralysis, which is an extreme form of lameness.

Condition: Leprosy

In 2 Kings 5:1-14, Naaman the Syrian gets healed of leprosy by obeying Elisha's God-given instructions. Jesus refers to this in Luke 4:27. In 2 Kings 5:27, leprosy is supernaturally given to Gehazi as judgment for sin. In 2 Chronicles 26:16-21 and 2 Kings 15:5, Uzziah (Azariah) is stricken with leprosy as a judgment for intruding into a priestly function that he was not allowed to perform. Nothing that is a judgment for sin has any right to exist in a believer's body because the believer has been justified by the blood of Jesus and stands just as sin-free as Jesus in God's sight.

In Matthew 8:2-4, Mark 1:40-45, and Luke 5:12-15, a leper worships Jesus and questions His will to heal him. Jesus says that it is His will and He heals him. The leprosy leaves immediately.

In Luke 17:12-19, ten lepers are healed when they obey Jesus' command to go show themselves to the priests to demonstrate their healing. (They were healed as they went.)

In Matthew 10:7-8, part of Jesus' command to the disciples whom he commissioned to preach is explicitly, "Cleanse the lepers."

In Matthew 11:4-5 and Luke 7:20-23, the fact that lepers are being cleansed is cited as proof that Jesus is the Messiah who was to come.

In Numbers 12:1-15, Miriam is struck with leprosy as judgment for having a complaining, mutinous attitude toward the God-appointed leader (Moses).

In Exodus 4:6-7, the supernatural giving and removing of leprosy was a sign for Moses to use. This is not a traditional healing Scripture – God did not heal a condition that Moses lived with, but it does prove God's ability to heal leprosy instantly.

We know that Satan gave Job his troubles, which included broken skin (Job 7:5, Job 30:18) and skin worms (Job 19:26). Because Satan caused these things then, we know that Satan (and not God) is the ultimate cause of such troubles. Under the New Covenant, you have authority over Satan.

Even Job's counselor in Job 33:19-25 understood the concept of atonement bringing healing of skin disorders, the result being, "His flesh shall be fresher than a child's: he shall return to the days of his youth."

See Condition: Skin Disorders for more information.

Condition: Lice

God can keep lice away from His people! Remember that one of Moses' ten plagues on Egypt was lice, which came upon the Egyptians, but not upon the Israelites. (See Exodus 8:16-17. This plague is also referred to in Psalm 105:31: "He spake, and there came divers sorts of flies, and lice in all their coasts.") Lice are not a blessing. If God could keep his people lice-free when everyone else was getting them, surely He can do so today. Give that lice are explicitly called a plague, and the fact that God says that no plague comes near the house of the man who abides in him (see Psalm 91), surely we can claim redemption from the plague of lice today.

Condition: Mental Illnesses

God's healing covenant covers mental illnesses as well as physical ones. It is often hard to draw the line between them. Fortunately, you don't have to. If it's an illness, Jesus is able and willing to heal it. He already paid the price to get your healing for you.

The Insanity and Demon Possession sections cover various ailments that would be referred to as mental illnesses today. God's healing mercies are also extended to other mental illnesses that do not fit into either of these categories. See the answer to the question, Are We Redeemed from Mental as Well as Physical Illness? for a discussion of these.

Madness (or craziness) is specifically mentioned twice as a curse in Deuteronomy 28:15-68, a curse from which you are redeemed (Galatians 3:10-14). (In Deuteronomy, we read that part of the curse for failure to keep the entire Law was that the Lord will smite you with madness, and you will be mad for the sight of your eyes which you shall see.) Those who come against Jerusalem in the future will be smitten with madness. Zechariah 12:4: "In that day, saith the LORD, I will smite every horse with astonishment, and his rider with madness (the same word used in Deuteronomy 28 in the original Hebrew): and I will open mine eyes upon the house of Judah, and will smite every horse of the people with blindness."

Another mental problem, "astonishment of heart," is specifically enumerated as a curse and is found in Deuteronomy as well as Zechariah in the passages cited above.

Groping at noonday as the blind gropes in darkness is surely not a normal mental state, but it is also listed as part of the Deuteronomy curse. So are "a trembling heart" (chronic anxiety), having your life hanging before you, fearing night and day, having no assurance of your life, and always wishing it were later because you're so miserable now. In the case of anxiety, God gives instructions on not being anxious – make your requests known to God with thanksgiving (Philippians 4:6). Cast your cares on Him because He cares for you (1 Peter 5:7).

Also listed as a curse for breaking the Law in Leviticus 26:14-39 are terror, sorrow of heart caused by chronic sickness, running when no one is chasing you, faintness of heart, paranoia (running because of the sound of a shaking leaf), and "pining away."

It was Satan, not God, who was responsible for Job's tossing to and fro at night (Job 7:4), having wearisome nights (Job 7:3), biting himself (Job 13:14), having "dim eyes from sorrow" (Job 17:7) and faintheartedness (Job 23:16). God healed Job of all these conditions.

There is no question, based on the Scriptures above, that God considers mental illness a curse just as much as he considers physical illness a curse! You are healed of mental illness by Jesus' stripes.

Please understand that having something happen to you that really shakes you up is not the same as you having a mental illness. Jesus was not mentally ill, but He was in mental agony in the garden before He was taken to be tortured (Luke 22:44) . If He were like TV-influenced people today, he would have asked his disciples, “Any of you guys got some cannabis on you? I need to rebalance my brain chemicals.” No, what did He do? He PRAYED. If HE prayed when He was in mental agony, what do you suppose YOU should do?

For more discussion about mental illnesses, see the answer to Objection: Mental Illness Is Treatable But Not Curable.

Condition: Miscarriages

In Exodus 23:25-26, God promised no miscarriages to those who serve Him, a promise that every pregnant Christian woman should claim personally.

Condition: Nonviability

This cannot possibly be YOUR condition, because dead men do not read or need this healing book. However, in the interest of completeness, here is a list of Scriptures about the raising of the dead:

In Matthew 9:18-25, Mark 5:22-43 and Luke 8:41-56, Jesus raises the ruler Jairus's daughter from the dead.

In Matthew 10:7-8, Jesus tells His disciples at that particular time to raise the dead.

In Matthew 27:52-53, many saints rise from the dead and appear to many in the city.

In Luke 7:12-16, Jesus interrupts (and ends, we can assume) a funeral for a young man by raising him from the dead.

In John 11:1-44, Jesus raises Lazarus from the dead.

In Acts 9:36-42, Peter raises Tabitha from the dead.

In Acts 14:19-20, Paul is raised up by the disciples after being stoned and dragged out of the city, supposedly dead. It is debatable whether Paul was actually dead, but he must have at least looked dead if the people who stoned him dragged his body out of the city assuming it was dead.

In Acts 20:9-12, Paul raises Eutychus from the dead after he falls asleep, falls in this case being very literal!

In Revelation 11:9-11, the two prophets are miraculously raised from the dead.

In Matthew 11:4-5 and Luke 7:20-23, Jesus cites the raising of the dead as a proof that He is the Messiah.

In 1 Kings 17:17-24, Elijah raises a widow of Zidon's sons from the dead.

In 2 Kings 4:18-37, Elisha raises the Shunammite woman's son from the dead.

In 2 Kings 13:20-21, the anointing still in Elisha's bones is sufficient to raise a man from the dead when Elisha himself is dead!

In Hebrews 11:35, we read that women received their dead raised to life again in the Old Covenant. No specific instance is mentioned.

And of course, lest we forget, Jesus Christ Himself was raised from the dead!

Condition: Paralysis

Note: Paralysis is generally called “the palsy” in Scripture, at least in the King James Version.

As far as God is concerned, paralysis is simply another curse from which you are redeemed. Modern man thinks of someone getting out of a wheelchair as a big deal to be publicized. However, it is no harder for God Almighty to heal paralysis than it is for Him to heal a headache. The issue is not what He can do, nor what He is willing to do, but what we can believe that He will do (see Mark 9:17-29). If you are paralyzed now, read what Jesus did do. Then realize that He is the same today and will do today what He did then.

Matthew 4:23-24 tells how all sick people, including those who were paralyzed, were brought to Jesus and were healed.

In Matthew 8:5-13, Jesus heals a paralyzed servant through the mere speaking of faith-filled words. Jesus never visits the servant or lays hands on him in person.

In Matthew 9:2-8, Mark 2:2-12 and Luke 5:17-26, a paralyzed man is let down through the roof by his friends. When Jesus sees their faith, including the faith of the paralyzed man, He declares the man’s sins forgiven, and then (as a natural consequence and proof of his being forgiven) Jesus commands him to get up, which he does.

In Acts 8:5-8, many paralyzed people in Samaria are healed through Philip’s ministry.

In Acts 9:32-35, Aeneas, paralyzed for eight years, is healed by Jesus Christ through the ministry of Peter.

Jesus Christ is the same today (Hebrews 13:8)! He heals paralysis today!

Condition: Poisoning

In Mark 16:15-18, Jesus said that believers would not be harmed by drinking poison, and that this would be a sign to follow believers as they preached the gospel to everyone.

Please note that this is not a basis to accept a challenge from scoffers to drink Drano in their presence. This refers to accidental poisoning. A challenge to drink Drano is no different than Satan's challenge to Jesus to jump off a high building and claim Psalm 91. Jesus would have died, and that was Satan's goal. Don't fall for the same temptation or your life and ministry will instantly go down the drain.

Condition: Severing

In Luke 22:50-51, Jesus restores a man's ear that Peter has cut off with a sword. This is not too hard for God!

I got to see proof of this one night at a healing crusade when someone came forward with a finger that had been sliced open at home. It definitely looked like it needed stitches in the natural, but God instantly healed that finger when we laid hands on it in the name of Jesus. There was no sign that anything had ever happened to that finger when the service was over. So don't limit God by thinking that such a miracle could not happen today.

Condition: Shaking

Shaking was one of Job's afflictions that Satan gave him (Job 4:14, Job 21:6), and from which God healed him. Shaking was a curse pronounced on the wicked (Psalm 69:23: "Let their eyes be darkened, that they see not; and make their loins continually to shake.") If God would heal Job's shaking, you should expect to be healed if you're shaking for any reason. You have authority over Satan's works – you tread on them (Luke 10:19). You can command shaking to stop in the name of Jesus.

Condition: Shortness

Bet you're surprised to see this listed in the illness index! Before you get offended at this heading, I am not talking about people who are just shorter than average. (I am definitely in this category and I see no need for healing. Besides, I fit better into coach airline seats and I can buy smaller, cheaper cars and still be comfortable, and I spend less on food than basketball players do.) I cannot name a specific height above which you are just short and below which you are abnormally short and have a physical problem. You will have to decide this for yourself if you're short.

Some people are dwarfs because of a medical condition or illness, and we are redeemed from illnesses of all kinds. In Leviticus 21:16-23, dwarfs were not permitted to approach God's altar. It wasn't because they couldn't reach up and handle the sacrifices; it was because God considered this an abnormal condition, which along with several other abnormal conditions, disqualified you from certain service in God's temple under the Law of Moses. He said that deformities in His priests would profane his sanctuary. If you have a problem with this, you will have to take it up with God, because it's his Law. Of course, under the New Covenant, the blood of Jesus allows people of all heights and medical conditions to approach God equally. Thank God for our better covenant!

It would be easier to rebuke a condition that is stopping the growth of a child than to suddenly expect a middle-aged "vertically challenged" man to grow miraculously in height. However, nothing is too hard for God. Many people have had certain parts of their bodies lengthened that were abnormally short (I've seen it happen in person), so it should not be too much of a stretch to assume that God could do this for you if you wanted Him to. Even if it is a genetic problem, people have been healed of other genetic conditions such as mongolism (Down's Syndrome), so why should you keep yours? Just be aware that people who must overcome serious genetic problems sometimes must stand in faith and speak God's Word over themselves (or their parents must speak God's Word over them) for some time. This requires extreme commitment and tenacity. However, with God nothing shall be impossible, and nothing means nothing. There are some good testimonies out there of children "who would never be able to function normally" living normal and better-than-normal lives today.

Condition: Skin Disorders

You can find more specific information below about particular skin conditions that would be classified under boils or leprosy:

Condition: Boils

Condition: Leprosy

Condition: Sores

A good catch-all passage for skin issues is Job 33:19-25. Notice that part of sinful man's lot is "His flesh is consumed away." But then when someone comes who is obviously a reference to Jesus, God says, "Deliver him from going down to the pit: I have found a ransom. His flesh shall be fresher than a child's..." Therefore, now that Jesus has redeemed us, you have the right to have any flesh that is "being consumed away" be fresher than a child's.

This was the passage that I believed to have some seriously torn-up skin healed completely without a trace within a few days (my testimony of this is elsewhere in this book).

Condition: Snakebites

In Mark 16:15-18, Jesus says in effect that serpents will not harm believers, and that this will be a sign to follow believers as they preach the gospel to everyone.

In Acts 28:3-6 there is a confirmation of this when Paul is bitten by a deadly snake and suffers no ill effects.

In Numbers 21:5-9, a symbol of the crucified Christ is raised up. Anyone bitten by a deadly snake can look at that symbol of Christ and live. If you could be healed of a snakebite by looking at a symbol of Christ, surely Christ himself is willing to heal you of snakebites.

Although it is more likely symbolic, Luke 10:17-20 does tell us that Jesus' disciples will tread on serpents and scorpions.

No one has the right to tempt God by deliberately handling snakes, but if a poisonous snake bites you, Jesus promises you immunity as a believer.

Condition: Sores

Deuteronomy 28:15-68 lists a “sore botch” in the knees and legs, and head to toe, as part of the curse for breaking the Law. Christ redeemed you from this curse (Galatians 3:10-14).

Job 2:4-7 tells us where sores come from. Satan smote Job with boils all over his body. We have authority over Satan in the New Testament because we are in Christ.

In 2 Chronicles 6:28-30, Solomon asks God to hear all prayers offered because of sores and sicknesses.

Revelation 16:1-2 and Revelation 16:10-11 both speak of terrible sores coming on men as part of the wrath of God on the earth. It is absolutely clear that sores are a curse for sin in both Testaments. In Christ, you are redeemed for all curses for sin because Jesus was cursed in your place.

See Condition: Boils for related Scriptures and comments.

Condition: Speech Impediments

In Mark 7:32-37, Jesus heals a man who had “an impediment in his speech.” See also Dumbness.

Speech difficulties due to strokes are also included in God’s healing covenant. I had the privilege of watching a man who would take 30 seconds to complete a sentence have his speech restored after laying hands on him in the name of Jesus. We are redeemed from speech impediments regardless of their cause.

Condition: Stomach Disorders

The only actual explicit mention of a stomach problem is in 1 Timothy 5:23, where Paul tells Timothy to change what he drinks for his stomach's sake. This does NOT mean that God is unwilling to heal stomach troubles. Ulcers could also be considered to be covered under boils or sores, both of which are explicitly part of the curse for breaking the Law, from which you are redeemed. Any stomach illness is included in Deuteronomy 28:61, which says that every sickness not enumerated is included in the curse for breaking the Law as well. For more about Paul's advice to Timothy, see Objection: Paul Told Timothy to Drink Wine instead of Believing God for Healing. Paul's natural advice can keep you out of stomach trouble in parts of the world today.

Just because you have claimed your healing does not mean that it is a good idea to go eat the spiciest Mexican food you can find before your healing has manifested itself. Faith does not set aside common sense. Once your healing has manifested itself, you can eat what you want.

Condition: Swelling

In Luke 14:1-6, Jesus heals a man of “the dropsy,” defined in the dictionary as “pathological accumulation of diluted lymph in body tissues and cavities.” Because He is the same today (Hebrews 13:8), you should receive your healing from Him if you have swelling in YOUR body.

Condition: Tongue Problems (Literal)

Zechariah 14:12 describes an awful plague sent by the LORD against those who fight against Jerusalem. One effect will be people's tongues being consumed. God has not appointed believers to wrath (1 Thessalonians 5:9), so things like this do not belong to you. The fact that this is a curse for sin should make you glad that Jesus was punished for YOUR sins so that no curse for sin belongs to you.

Condition: Tooth Problems

Tooth problems can be a real pain! It is a good thing that Jesus bore your pains as well as your diseases. So regardless of whether the tooth in question is diseased or broken, your condition is covered by God's medical policy! You have the right to receive healing for that tooth because Christ has paid the price for it to be healed.

Psalm 3:7:

Arise, O LORD; save me, O my God: for thou hast smitten all mine enemies upon the cheek bone; thou hast broken the teeth of the ungodly.

Psalm 58:6:

Break their teeth, O God, in their mouth: break out the great teeth of the young lions, O LORD.

David was talking about the wicked, not the righteous, in Psalm 58:6 above.

As a believer, you are the godly instead of the ungodly, so you should not be the one with the broken teeth. Nor should you be the one with jaw trouble or any "cheek bone" issues.

You might apply Psalm 34:20 here because technically a tooth is not a bone (though people back then might not have made that distinction) and it is possible that Jesus had broken teeth when He was struck. If He DIDN'T, you can claim the same "no broken bones" status that He had. If He DID, you can apply the fact that everything He endured was punishment for your sins, so He took broken teeth in your place so that your teeth don't have to be broken.

I can tell you from personal experience that God is the Great Dentist as well as the Great Physician. I managed to break two teeth at once one night, and when I went to the dentist, he told me that the breaks were really bad, that there were problems inside the gum line and that if I did not have those teeth out within a week or so I would be in excruciating pain, and that I would need to go see an oral surgeon to have it done. I would have to be drugged into la-la-land, miss a day or two of work, pay plenty of money, and be without those teeth. I decided to believe God's Word, and the pain subsided. I finally decided to spend some money to see the oral surgeon, but with the idea of being told that I didn't need the surgery after all. What's interesting is that while I was driving an hour to the oral surgeon's office, the tooth pain started flaring up really badly again, and of course thoughts came into my head about how stupid I would look to be "believing God" when it "didn't work." But I kept my mouth in agreement with the Bible and kept saying that I was healed no matter what I was feeling. I was hurting until just before I stepped into the oral surgeon's office, at which point all the pain left. And he told me I didn't need to have those teeth out. I kept them. They didn't bother me anymore, and I never had the surgery.

I personally know a man who got a tooth filled supernaturally in a church service. His dentist got upset because he was sure this man had gone to another dentist to get the tooth fixed! A personal friend prayed over a man who was missing teeth and God put new teeth in his mouth on the spot! Don't limit God! The question is never what God can do – it's what you can believe.

In practice, toothaches can be very challenging because of the sometimes constant reminder from your body that you are in pain. However, the Word is health to ALL your flesh. Your teeth aren't part of your soul or part of your spirit, are they? No, they're part of your body (flesh). So God's Word, when you speak and believe it, is health to your teeth. If you will stick with the Word, it will work mightily in you and fix whatever your tooth problem is.

Please don't feel under condemnation if you just go and have a tooth pulled. I do understand that the pain can be so great that you'll do just about anything to get relief as soon as you can. However, there is another way that is less expensive and doesn't leave you without the tooth, and I wouldn't be doing my job as a preacher if I didn't say so.

Condition: Tumors (also Referenced under Cancer)

A word translated emerods several times in the Old Testament refers to tumors or abnormal swellings. These are specifically part of the curse for breaking the Law in Deuteronomy 28:15-68, a curse from which Christ has redeemed you (Galatians 3:10-14). You do not have to have any abnormal growths, swelling or tumors (whether malignant or not) in your body because you are freed from this curse.

A fatal, incurable condition in the “bowels” was given to a wicked king of Israel as judgment for his sin. We cannot be sure if this was cancer, but the description in 2 Chronicles 21:12-19 sounds like a fair description of colon cancer or a similar ailment. One thing is for sure. Anything that is a judgment does not belong in your body, because Christ redeemed you from God’s wrath.

When the Philistines swiped the Ark of the Covenant, they were smitten with tumors in their secret parts. This was a curse for profaning the holy things of God. (Only duly appointed priests were authorized to handle the Ark of the Covenant under the Law of Moses.) God made a deal with them that he would heal them if they would return it properly with a trespass offering. See 1 Samuel 5:1-6:5 if you want to know the rest of the story. There is no reason why God would want something in you that was a judgment for evil in the Old Testament. You are the righteousness of God in Christ (2 Corinthians 5:21), so you do not deserve things that are judgments. God was even willing to extend His healing mercy to the Philistines to heal their tumors if they showed Him respect. How much more should His healing mercy be extended to His child who already respects Him!

I’ve lost count of the “stage 4” cancer cases I’ve seen healed over the years. Always remember that cancer is NOT the “Big C” – cancer is spelled with a small c, but Christ is spelled with a capital C. Christ is the Big C, not cancer! He is the answer for cancer.

Condition: Venereal Diseases (also Referenced under AIDS)

Romans 1:26-27 alludes to diseases resulting from sexual immorality (this would include AIDS) as being just recompense for the sin that caused it. I'm sure someone would love to point out here that some people get AIDS from blood transfusions or other reasons involving no fault of their own. If that's you, the passage above doesn't apply to your case. The fact is, most people get AIDS and other venereal diseases from immorality, and they have only themselves to thank for their condition. God does not give people AIDS. The passage above does not say that God gave people venereal diseases. But venereal diseases are out there, and if you sin sexually, you set yourself up to receive them in your body. These diseases are part of fallen creation and they follow certain kinds of sin. Don't kid yourself or let your government or secular school fool you: The only "safe sex" is NO SEX until you are married to someone of the opposite physical gender and then sex only with your spouse from then on. No physical devices can avert the SPIRITUAL problems that sexual sin causes. There is no such thing as SAFE SIN.

Proverbs contains warnings about the physical consequences of sexual sin. Proverbs 5:8-11: "Remove thy way far from her [the strange woman], and come not nigh the door of her house: Lest thou give thine honour unto others, and thy years unto the cruel: Lest strangers be filled with thy wealth: and thy labours be in the house of a stranger; and thou mourn at the last, when thy flesh and thy body are consumed." Proverbs 6:32-33: "But whoso committeth adultery with a woman lacketh understanding: he that doeth it destroyeth his own soul. A wound and dishonor will he get; and his reproach shall not be wiped away." Proverbs 7:22-23, 26: "He goeth after her straightway, as an ox goeth to the slaughter, or as a fool to the correction of the stocks; Till a dart strike his liver; as a bird hasteth to the snare, and knoweth not that it is for his life...For she hath cast down many wounded: yea, many strong men have been slain by her."

Because these diseases are sin-related, you need to repent of the lifestyle that gave you the disease in the first place. If you are engaging in homosexual acts, procuring services from prostitutes, committing adultery (that's the Biblical term for what man calls "having an affair"), committing fornication (that's the Biblical term for being what man calls being "friends with benefits"), or using illegal intravenous drugs, you are sinning and need to repent. These are not "personal choices" – they are SIN. They are not "diseases" – they are SIN. They are not "alternative lifestyles" – they are SIN. They are not environmentally determined inevitable outcomes of your poor upbringing – they are SIN. They are not "genetically pre-programmed traits" – they are SIN. You must take full responsibility for your sin. You can't blame your mother, your father, society, politicians, or anyone else. You made a choice to sin and you are solely responsible for that choice in the eyes of God. You need to repent. If you don't, it is like asking someone to bail out your boat while you continue to drill holes in the bottom of it. Someone may indeed do the bailing, but you are just making even more bailing necessary in the future.

Until you repent of the sin that brought your condition on you, you are not in a good position to receive healing from God for it. God in His mercy may heal you in a service, but you don't have a right to "claim" deliverance from the devil's works in your body while you continue to practice the devil's works with your body! God's Word cannot be broken. If you sin sexually, there will be a physical price to pay for it as well as a spiritual one even though you are under the New Covenant. You are tempting Christ by asking God to heal you so that you can go out and sin longer and more comfortably. However, once you stop sinning sexually, you have cut off the source of the disease and now you can receive healing from it and stay healed rather than just getting sick again.

King David made his share of mistakes and apparently had some form of VD himself. This sin was not what made him "a man after God's own heart," but David owned up to it and took responsibility himself, as he needed to, and repented. That is what you need to do.

Psalm 38:3-18:

There is no soundness in my flesh because of thine anger; neither is there any rest in my bones because of my sin.

For mine iniquities are gone over mine head: as an heavy burden they are too heavy for me.

My wounds stink and are corrupt because of my foolishness.

I am troubled; I am bowed down greatly; I go mourning all the day long.

For my loins are filled with a loathsome disease: and there is no soundness in my flesh.

I am feeble and sore broken: I have roared for reason of the disquietness of my heart.

Lord, all my desire is before thee; and my groaning is not hid from thee.

My heart panteth, my strength faileth me: as for the light of mine eyes, it also is gone from me.

My lovers and my friends stand aloof from my sore; and my kinsmen stand afar off.

They also that seek after my life lay snares for me: and they that seek my hurt speak mischievous things, and imagine deceits all the day long.

But I, as a deaf man, heard not; and I was as a dumb man that openeth not his mouth.

Thus I was as a man that heareth not, and in whose mouth are no reproofs.

For in thee, O LORD, do I hope: thou wilt hear, O LORD my God.

For I said, Hear me, lest otherwise they should rejoice over me: when my foot slippeth, they magnify themselves against me.

For I am ready to halt, and my sorrow is continually before me.

For I will declare mine iniquity; I will be sorry for my sin.

Given that David lived a long time after his gross sin with Bathsheba, it is a fair assumption that God healed King David when he declared his iniquity and was sorry for his sin. This may be what David referred to in Psalm 30:2-3.

One must be careful when using Psalms under the New Covenant, as there are some things that do not apply quite the same way today. For example, you need not cry as David did, "Take not Thy Holy Spirit from me" (Psalm 51:11), because under the New Covenant, Jesus said that the Spirit would abide with you FOREVER (John 14:16). Being sorry for your sin is not a prerequisite to salvation or forgiveness (there is nothing about it in Romans 10:9-10, for example), but you should still hate sin and want it gone from your life because sin still carries a price tag in this life.

If you are living in what the Bible calls sexual sin and it doesn't bother you, YOU ARE ON YOUR WAY TO HELL AND YOU NEED TO GET SAVED. Don't be deceived into thinking that you can live an unrepentant immoral lifestyle and be a real Christian (1 Corinthians 6:9). Please see How to Be Saved from Your Sins immediately! I have had too many people tell me that So-and-So really does love the Lord when So-and-So is shackled up. Either they're right, or God, the Bible and I are right. I'm sticking with my position. It is hard to have any respect for a pastor who puts such immoral people on the worship team – a VERY common issue today! Where did the fear of God go? Such action teaches the entire congregation to disrespect God. Some churches that have no miracles need look no farther to determine their biggest hindrance.

The good news for those who have diseases that are their own fault is found in Psalm 107:17-20. When fools are afflicted because of their sin, they can cry out to God for mercy, and He will send His Word and heal them, and deliver them from their destructions. In fact, under the New Covenant, God actually DID send His Word (Jesus) already to procure your healing for you. So you can receive healing from God. However, Jesus' advice to the man at the Pool of Bethesda is still appropriate once you receive healing: Sin no more, lest a worse thing come upon you.

Condition: Weakness

Weakness can be physical or emotional. These tend to work together. If you're weak emotionally, it is a natural consequence to feel weak physically. Fortunately, God is willing and able to strengthen you if you're weak.

Weakness is a Curse that you Should Not Have

A general weakness or run-down feeling cannot possibly be God's will for you because it is cited explicitly as a consequence for sin in 1 Corinthians 11:27-32. Paul said that many were weak and sickly (and even dead) among the Corinthians because of their failure to walk in love toward the Church and recognize the body of Christ in communion. This can have two applications. The most obvious, and the main point in the context, is that those who choose not to walk in love toward the body of Christ can get weak and sick and die as a consequence. Another application is that by making light of communion, they were failing to recognize the significance of the broken bread. They were just pigging out on it as natural food, but that bread represented the body of Christ that was broken for their physical healing. Failure to recognize the healing portion of the atonement can also leave you sick and weak, not realizing that you don't have to be that way.

General physical weakness was considered a curse in the Old Testament as well. Part of the curse for breaking the Law is found in Deuteronomy 28:32: "And there shall be no might in thine hand." God does not want you to bear something that He declares to be a curse and declares you to be redeemed from in Galatians 3:13.

This should not be confused with our weakness in our flesh to accomplish anything for God apart from the Holy Spirit. Even Jesus said that his flesh was weak in this regard, and you will deal with this until your dying day. This discussion is about physical lethargy, not about weakness in terms of inability to produce. (Most references to weakness in the New Testament refer to the latter.)

Your Faith Can Make You Strong

Although the following advice in context was actually offered to Israel's enemies, it is still worth noting: "Let the weak say, I am strong" (Joel 3:10). That is a good starting point if you have been feeling weak all the time. Start saying that you are strong instead of reinforcing your problem by always complaining about how weak you feel. In fact, complaining (including "praying" the antibiblical "prayer of complaining") will just leave you overwhelmed and lead you away from where you want to be in God, just as it did for Asaph. Psalm 77:3 says, "I remembered God, and was troubled: I complained, and my spirit was overwhelmed. Selah."

Hebrews 11:34 says that by faith, men out of weakness were made strong. If they could become strong instead of weak through faith, so can you. God did this even for Old Testament people: “They that stumbled are girded with strength” (1 Samuel 2:4).

How will you get this faith to be strong? By reading and believing what God says about strength:

God Is Your Strength

God declares himself to be “The Strength of Israel” (1 Samuel 15:29). “The LORD is my strength and song” – Exodus 15:2. “God is my strength and power: and he maketh my way perfect” – 2 Samuel 22:33. “I will love thee, O LORD my strength. The LORD is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my strength...” – Psalm 18:1-2. “Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O LORD, my strength, and my redeemer.” – Psalm 19:14. “But be not far from me, O LORD: O my strength, haste thee to help me.” – Psalm 22:19. “The LORD is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the LORD is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?” – Psalm 27:1.

We’re not done with this theme yet! “The LORD is my strength and my shield; my heart trusted in him, and I am helped: therefore my heart greatly rejoiceth; and with my song will I praise him. The LORD is their strength, and he is the saving strength of his anointed.” – Psalm 28:7-8. “Pull me out of the net that they have laid privily for me: for thou art my strength” – Psalm 31:4. “But the salvation of the righteous is of the LORD: he is their strength in the time of trouble.” – Psalm 37:39. “For thou art the God of my strength...” – Psalm 43:2. “God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.” – Psalm 46:1.

Read on: “Unto thee, O my strength, will I sing: for God is my defence, and the God of my mercy.” – Psalm 59:17. “My flesh and my heart faileth: but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion forever.” – Psalm 73:26. “Sing aloud unto God our strength: make a joyful noise unto the God of Jacob.” – Psalm 81:1. “The LORD is my strength and my song, and is become my salvation.” – Psalm 118:14. “Blessed be the LORD my strength, which teacheth my hands to war, and my fingers to fight” – Psalm 144:1.

“Behold, God is my salvation; I will trust, and not be afraid: for the LORD JEHOVAH is my strength and my song; he also is become my salvation.” – Isaiah 12:2. “Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy salvation, and hath not been mindful of the rock of thy strength...” – Isaiah 17:10. “For thou hast been a strength to the poor, a strength to the needy in his distress, a refuge from the storm, a shadow from the heat, when the blast of the terrible ones is as a storm against the wall.” – Isaiah 25:4. “And my God shall be my strength” – Isaiah 49:5. “O LORD, my strength, and my fortress, and my refuge in the day of affliction...” – Jeremiah 16:19. “But the LORD will be the hope of his people, and the strength of the children of Israel.” – Joel 3:16. “The LORD God is my strength, and he will make my feet like hinds’ feet, and he will make me to walk upon mine high places.” – Habakkuk 3:19.

God Gives You Strength

“He [Israel] hath as it were the strength of an unicorn” – Numbers 23:22, also Numbers 24:8. “For thou hast girded me with strength to battle: them that rose up against me hast thou subdued under me.” – 2 Samuel 22:40. “And I was strengthened as the hand of the LORD my God was upon me” – Ezra 7:28. “It is God that girdeth me with strength, and maketh my way perfect. He maketh my feet like hind’s feet, and setteth me upon my high places.” – Psalm 18:32-33. “The LORD hear thee in the day of trouble; the name of the God of Jacob defend thee; Send thee help from the sanctuary, and strengthen thee out of Zion;” – Psalm 20:1-2. “The king shall joy in thy strength, O LORD...” – Psalm 21:1. “The LORD will give strength unto his people; the LORD will bless his people with peace.” – Psalm 29:11.

“Be of good courage, and he shall strengthen your heart, all ye that hope in the LORD.” – Psalm 31:24. “In God is my salvation and my glory: the rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God.” – Psalm 62:7. “Thy God hath commanded thy strength: strengthen, O God, that which thou hast wrought for us.” – Psalm 68:28. “Oh, God, thou art terrible out of thy holy places: the God of Israel is he that giveth strength and power unto his people. Blessed be God.” – Psalm 68:35. “I will go in the strength of the LORD God” – Psalm 71:16.

“Blessed is the man whose strength is in thee...they go from strength to strength” – Psalm 84:5-7. “My soul melteth for heaviness: strengthen thou me according unto thy word.” – Psalm 119:28. “In the day when I cried thou answeredst me, and strengthened me with strength in my soul.” – Psalm 138:3. “Trust ye in the LORD forever: for in the LORD JEHOVAH is everlasting strength” – Isaiah 26:4. “Fear thou not; for I am with thee: be not dismayed,; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness.” – Isaiah 41:10. “Surely, shall one say, in the LORD have I righteousness and strength...” – Isaiah 45:24.

God’s strength undoes physical weaknesses as well as other kinds of weaknesses. In Acts 3:1-16, the crippled man’s feet and ankle bones received strength. Jesus’ name, through faith in His name, made that man strong. In Hebrews 11:11, Sarah’s faith gave her the strength to conceive a child. In Psalm 41:1-3, God says that He will strengthen the sick giver upon his sickbed. Perhaps most notably, Romans 8:11 declares that the Spirit of God will quicken (impart life to) your mortal body. This clearly refers to physical strength. It is part of the Holy Spirit’s job to impart strength and health into your body! This makes sense because He is called the Spirit of Might in Isaiah 11:2.

Isaiah 35:3-6 and Hebrews 12:12-13 also talk about being strengthened physically.

God wants you to have inner spiritual strength as well, as prayed by Paul in Ephesians 3:16: “That he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened with might by his Spirit in the inner man....” Paul also prayed that believers would be “strengthened with all might, according to his glorious power” (Colossians 1:11).

God Can Even Send Angels to Strengthen You!

Jesus Christ Himself was strengthened by an angel: “And there appeared an angel unto him from heaven, strengthening him” – Luke 22:43. We also know that the angels ministered to Him in the wilderness: “Then the devil leaveth him, and behold, angels came and ministered unto him.” – Matthew 4:11. An angel physically strengthened Daniel, also: “For how can the servant of this my lord talk with this my lord? for as for me, straightway there remained no strength in me, neither is there breath left in me. Then there came again and touched me one like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me. And said, O man greatly beloved, fear not: peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong. And when he had spoken unto me, I was strengthened, and said, Let my lord speak, for thou hast strengthened me.” – Daniel 10:17-19. The Lord Himself stood by Paul and strengthened him (2 Timothy 4:17) when all his workers forsook him (2 Timothy 4:14-16). Paul said that he could do all things through Christ who strengthened him (Philippians 4:13).

Put on God’s Strength

God’s strength does not just drop on you automatically. You must choose to walk in it. “Awake, awake, put on strength, O arm of the LORD...” – Isaiah 51:9. “Awake, awake; put on thy strength, O Zion...” – Isaiah 52:1. “Be strong in the Lord and in the power of his might” – Ephesians 6:10.

Fellowshipping with God and Praising Him Charges You with His Strength

Fellowshipping with God physically strengthens the weak – read Isaiah 40:29-31! Also, “Seek the LORD and his strength, seek his face continually” – 1 Chronicles 16:11. “Glory and honour are in his presence; strength and gladness are in his place” – 1 Chronicles 16:27. “Both riches and honour come of thee, and thou reignest over all; and in thine hand is power and might; and in thine hand it is to make great, and to give strength to all.” – 1 Chronicles 29:12. “I had fainted, unless I had believed to see the goodness of the LORD in the land of the living. Wait on the LORD: be of good courage, and he shall strengthen thine heart: wait, I say, upon the LORD.” – Psalm 27:13-14. “Seek the LORD, and his strength: seek his face evermore.” – Psalm 105:4. “For thus saith the Lord GOD, the Holy One of Israel; In returning and rest shall ye be saved; in quietness and in confidence shall be your strength: and ye would not.” – Isaiah 30:15. “Keep silence before me, O islands, and let the people renew their strength” – Isaiah 41:1.

As part of your fellowship with God, rejoice in Him! It is no great secret that depressed people feel weaker than joyful people do. Nehemiah 8:10 declares, “The joy of the LORD is your strength.” If your strength level is down, check out your joy level. Perhaps you could stand to spend more time rejoicing in God’s presence. Don’t underestimate how praise can charge you up physically! Psalm 8:2 says, “Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast ordained strength...” and Jesus clarified what this strength was: “Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise” (Matthew 21:16).

Rely on God to strengthen you rather than just trying to strengthen yourself. Trying to do it yourself is not the way to go: “The righteous also shall see, and fear, and shall laugh at him: Lo, this is the man who made not God his strength; but trusted in the abundance of his riches, and strengthened himself in his wickedness.” – Psalm 52:6-7.

Walking in God’s Ways Strengthens You

“I [wisdom] am understanding; I have strength.” – Proverbs 8:14. “The way of the LORD is strength to the upright” – Proverbs 10:29. “A wise man is strong; yea, a man of knowledge increaseth strength” – Proverbs 24:5. “Wisdom strengtheneth the wise more than ten mighty men which are in the city” – Ecclesiastes 7:19. If you want strength, walk in God’s wisdom.

You Don’t Have to Be Helplessly Weak Just because You’re Old

If you think you have to become debilitated because you’re getting old, look at Moses – he didn't become decrepit (Deuteronomy 34:7). Then look what Caleb declared when he was 85 years old and asked to be given a difficult mountain full of giants: “As yet I am as strong this day as I was in the day that Moses sent me: as my strength was then, even so is my strength now, for war, both to go out, and to come in” (Joshua 14:11). There were surely old people in Israel when they ate the Passover and fled Egypt, but God says, “There was not one feeble person among their tribes” (Psalm 105:37).

Weakness Is for the Wicked

In Job 18:12-13, speaking specifically of the wicked, we see this: “His strength shall be hungerbitten, and destruction shall be ready at his side. It shall devour the strength of his skin: even the firstborn of death shall devour his strength.” YOU are not the wicked if you are in Christ, so having your strength devoured is NOT part of your inheritance in Christ!

Being Strong is a Choice

God commanded Israel on many occasions to be strong and of good courage. Paul wrote to be strong in the Lord and in the power of his might (Ephesians 6:10). A command implies a choice; you can choose to either be strong or not be strong. Of course, Paul didn’t say to be strong in yourself; he said to be strong in the Lord.

Dehydration

If you don't drink enough water, you'll become dehydrated and feel weak for physical reasons. There might not have been water for the smith below to drink, but we see that the result is being faint regardless of the cause of him drinking no water:

Isaiah 44:12:

The smith with the tongs both worketh in the coals, and fashioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with the strength of his arms: yea, he is hungry, and his strength faileth: he drinketh no water, and is faint.

Summary

If you're weak, start saying that you are strong and that God is your strength. Believe that God strengthens you. Believe that the Holy Spirit imparts life to your mortal body. Fellowship with God, thus exchanging your strength for His strength. Walk in God's wisdom. Say that weakness is part of the curse of the Law and a punishment for sin. Say that you are redeemed from it.

Condition: Withering

In Matthew 12:10-13, Mark 3:1-5 and Luke 6:6-10, Jesus heals a man who has a withered hand.

In John 5:2-19, we see that God would send an angel to heal withered people in an unusual way at the Pool of Bethesda.

In 1 Kings 13:4-6, King Jeroboam's normal hand was struck useless because he tried to hurt the prophet of God. This was a judgment from God. He was healed when the prophet, at Jeroboam's request, prayed for him. You should not have a condition that God dished out as a judgment in the Old Testament! (Jesus was condemned in your place; you do not have to face the judgments for your sin if you are in Christ.)

Condition: Worms

Satan gave Job worms (Job 7:5, Job 19:26) and God healed Job of them. You should expect the same God who healed Job to heal you, too.

In Acts 12:21-23, Herod is smitten with worms and dies shortly thereafter as a judgment for robbing God of His due glory. Since worms are a judgment in Scripture, you should not have worms in your body. You are righteous and redeemed from judgments for sin. Christ already bore your judgment for sin in your place.

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Even if you could not find your condition in the “illness index” in this book, it is still covered by your covenant with God! According to Deuteronomy 28:61, every sickness that is not listed explicitly in the curse of the Law is a part of that curse. Therefore, whatever sickness you are dealing with is a curse according to the Bible. Christ has redeemed you from the curse of the Law (Galatians 3:13), so you are redeemed from whatever your condition is.

The Scriptures listed below contain references to unspecified ailments:

In Matthew 4:23-24, Jesus heals all sick people who are brought to Him with “divers diseases and torments.”

In Matthew 8:16-17, Jesus heals all who are sick.

In Matthew 9:35, Jesus heals every sickness and every disease among the people.

In Matthew 10:1 and Mark 3:14-15, Jesus gives His disciples power to heal “all manner of sickness and all manner of disease.” Then in Matthew 10:7-8, Jesus tells them to go use this power to “heal the sick.” This is also found in Luke 9:1-2 and Luke 10:8-9, and we see that they did heal everywhere in Luke 9:6.

In Matthew 12:15, great multitudes follow Jesus and He heals them all.

In Matthew 14:14, Jesus heals the sick in a great multitude.

In Matthew 14:35-36 and Mark 6:54-56, all those who are diseased are brought to Jesus in beds and laid on the streets, and as many as touch the hem of His garment are made whole.

In Matthew 15:30-31, those with certain conditions and “many others” are thrown down at Jesus’ feet, and He heals them.

In Matthew 19:2, Jesus heals great multitudes of whatever their unspecified ailments were.

In Mark 1:32-34, Jesus heals many who are sick of “divers diseases.”

In Mark 3:10-12, Jesus heals many.

In Mark 6:1-6, Jesus heals a few sick people with unspecified (probably minor, because He did no mighty work there) ailments at Nazareth where there was great unbelief.

In Mark 6:12-13, the disciples anoint many who are sick with oil and heal them.

In Mark 16:15-18, Jesus says that the healing of the sick by laying on of hands in His name will be a sign to follow believers as they preach the gospel to everyone.

In Luke 4:40-41, all they that have any sick among them bring the sick to Jesus, and He lays hands on all of them and heals all of them!

In Luke 6:17-19, people come to hear and be healed. All of them get healed!

In Luke 7:2-10, a centurion's servant has an unspecified but deadly illness. Jesus speaks a word, the centurion believes, and the servant is healed.

In Luke 7:20-23, Jesus cures "many" of their (unspecified) infirmities and plagues.

In Luke 8:2, women whom Jesus healed of (unspecified) infirmities follow Jesus.

Luke 9:11 is another place where Jesus heals all who need healing.

In John 5:2-19, an angel "troubled the water" in a pool and whoever stepped in first was healed of whatever disease he had.

John 6:2 contains an additional reference to miracles being done on those with unspecified diseases.

In Acts 5:12-16, people bring the sick from cities all around, and they are all healed.

In Acts 10:38, Peter recounts how Jesus of Nazareth healed all who were oppressed of the devil.

In Acts 19:11-12, unspecified diseases depart from the sick when handkerchiefs and aprons that have touched Paul's body are brought to them.

In Acts 28:8-9, all who are sick on the island of Melita go to Paul and get healed. (See the notes on this verse.)

In Exodus 12:12-13, a killer plague is kept away by the blood of the Passover lamb for anyone who would obey God's command concerning it. The Passover was a symbol of Christ. Paul said in 1 Corinthians 5:7, "Christ our Passover is sacrificed for us." Thus, we should expect that the blood of Christ (not of a mere symbol of Christ) should be at least as effective in keeping sicknesses away!

In Exodus 15:25-26, God says that He will not bring the diseases of Egypt (unspecified) upon His people because He is the Lord who Heals You.

In Exodus 23:25-26, God promises to take sickness in general away from those who serve Him.

In Numbers 16:44-50, an atonement stops a killer plague from killing any more people.

In Deuteronomy 7:12-15, God promises to take away all sickness from those who listen to and keep His commands, and He specifically tells the people that they will not get the (unspecified) diseases of Egypt.

In 1 Samuel 16:14-23, Saul is "made well" of an unspecified condition, possibly caused by the evil spirit that tormented him after he refused to obey God.

In 2 Samuel 24:10-25 and 1 Chronicles 21:7-27, a killer plague is removed from Israel through an atonement.

In 2 Kings 20:1-7, God heals Hezekiah of an unspecified terminal illness.

In 2 Chronicles 30:18-20, God heals the people – this would imply all the people, of whatever diseases they have, when they keep the Passover, which is a symbol of Christ.

In Psalm 41:1-3, God says that He will strengthen the generous man on his sickbed.

In Psalm 91, God promises to keep all plagues and pestilences away from the man who dwells in God. (He said that no plague would come near your house.)

Psalm 103:1-5 contains the wonderful truth that God “heals all your diseases,” not just some of them.

Psalm 107:17-20 tells how God sends His word and heals even fools who are gravely sick because of their own sin! This is an important scripture for sufferers of venereal diseases and other lifestyle-associated illnesses.

Proverbs 4:20-22 says that God’s Word is health to all your flesh, not just part of it. Therefore, it is health (medicine) to the part of your flesh that is sick, whatever it is.

Mistakes to Avoid

Going on a Witch Hunt for Mistakes

Unforgiveness

Strife

Disobedience

Fear

Envy

Inaction

Wrong Treatment of the Body of Christ

Spiritual Laziness

Carnality

Doublemindedness

Violating Natural Laws

Reading Stupid Books

Mistake: Going on a Witch Hunt for Mistakes

While there ARE some mistakes that can hinder your healing, one of them is going on a witch hunt for mistakes! It is almost certainly a mistake in itself to say, “Gee, I didn’t get healed the millisecond that hands were laid on me – I must be involved in one of the mistakes that hinder healing! I’d better study them carefully and figure out which mistake I’m making!” The devil would love for you to do that. What will happen is that you will get your eyes on YOURSELF instead of on JESUS and the WORD and start trying to figure out if you’ve fallen short in some legalistic way. Then you’ll ascribe your lack of healing to that. In other words, you’ll put yourself under the LAW and think that your lack of keeping some law is the reason that your healing hasn’t manifested yet – when healing is actually provided by GRACE.

Interestingly, if you were believing that you received a financial miracle when you prayed, you would probably not take the fact that no one handed you a wad of cash the millisecond you prayed to mean that you were making a mistake that was keeping your miracle away. So why apply a different standard to healing?

I had to put some mistakes that hinder healing in this book because such mistakes do exist and this book would not be complete without mentioning them. But I would not spend all my time poring over this list of mistakes, sure that I had made one of them and that I needed to find out which one(s). The devil would love for you to abandon the healing that you actually DID receive in the spirit realm when you prayed before it manifests in the natural realm and start saying instead, “I didn’t get healed. I must be making a mistake, so I need to find out which one.”

Let me also say that if you ARE making some mistake that is hindering you, you should be able to trust God to reveal that to you rather than feeling like you have to figure out which hindrance you’re involved with yourself:

Philippians 3:13-15:

Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.

Let us therefore, as many as be perfect, be thus minded: and if in any thing ye be otherwise minded, God shall reveal even this unto you.

God doesn’t expect you to conduct a huge self-investigation to determine where you are “otherwise minded” – He’ll show you. If He doesn’t quicken something to you, you should assume that there is no mistake in play and that your healing WILL manifest.

You may have encountered wrong teaching that God will NOT deal with your sins because supposedly He doesn't do that under grace, or even worse, that He doesn't even know if you're sinning. But Scripture clearly teaches the opposite – Hebrews 12:5-13 shows that God DOES correct you if you miss it (so He must know when you miss it), and Revelation 3:19 makes it as plain as day that Jesus rebukes those whom He loves when they miss it. Some have misinterpreted Jesus' statement that the Holy Spirit convicts the world of not knowing Him (John 16:8-9) to mean that not knowing Jesus is the ONLY sin of which the Holy Spirit convicts anyone. But Jesus was talking about unbelievers, not believers. God corrects you because He LOVES you and He wants you to be free of whatever is tripping you up. The Holy Spirit will certainly use the Word that He wrote to show you where you're off!

God hasn't decided to go with a mixture of law and grace just because He corrects you! The WORD corrects you (2 Timothy 3:16), and it doesn't confuse law and grace!

If you go through the list of mistakes in this book and God quickens something to you, by all means deal with it. But if God isn't dealing with you about any of these mistakes, you should assume that your healing has been received but not yet manifested, and that it will manifest as long as you don't start throwing it away with your mouth by negating your prayers by saying that you don't have it for some reason.

Mistake: Unforgiveness

Unforgiveness indicates that you agree with the Law, not grace. You cannot receive healing through the Law – it is available only by grace! If you “have it out for someone,” your mentality is that the person should get what’s coming to him because of what he did. That is a Law mindset, not a grace mindset. Logically, if that person should get what’s coming for his sin, so should you! You can’t operate in a Law mindset and a grace mindset at the same time. You don’t want to try to operate under the wrong covenant! Moses brought the Law but Jesus brought grace and truth (John 1:17).

Jesus followed His instructions when He said to “believe that you receive when you pray” with a command to forgive anyone who’s done you dirty in any way. If you’re not walking in forgiveness, you’re not walking in the rules that Jesus Himself laid down for praying the prayer of faith. You don’t get God’s prayer results when you don’t follow God’s prayer rules.

Mark 11:24-26:

Therefore, I say unto you, What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them.

And when ye stand praying, forgive, if ye have ought [anything] against any: that your Father also which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses.

But if ye do not forgive, neither will your Father which is in heaven forgive your trespasses.

(The last 2 verses above pose some difficulties that are addressed at length in the article What 1 John 1:9 Really Means.)

Forgiving others is a command, not an option. You must forgive everyone, no matter what others have done to you. There are no footnotes in any of these Scriptures that give you a way out if the injustice was bad enough, or if it was entirely the other person’s fault.

No offense is too great to forgive. As a born-again believer, you have the love of God in your heart (Romans 5:5). God’s love is willing to forgive all sins. If you will make a decision to forgive, the Holy Spirit and all of heaven will back you and help you. If you need help, ask for it and you’ll get it! You CAN forgive others and you have no excuse for not doing so.

Whatever wrong someone did to you, remember that Jesus shed His blood already so that the person could be forgiven for it. You have the mind of Christ, so as a believer, your attitude should be that you agree that you want to see the other person forgiven and free, not judged for his sin. Like Jesus, you choose not to hold that person’s sins against him. I can think of no faster way to grieve the Spirit of Grace than to refuse to operate in grace toward someone who wronged you. You place yourself in a position where the Holy Spirit cannot back your actions.

Remember that forgiveness is an act of your will, not an emotion. If you decide to forgive, your emotions will have to get in line eventually. Do not wait until you feel nice gushy feelings for the person who hurt you. You may never have those feelings! God did not command you to have nice gushy feelings; He commanded you to forgive. You don't have to feel like being around the person in question in the future.

Forgiving someone for a painful incident doesn't mean that you'll have no memory of it anymore. It is not as simple as deleting a file on a computer. However, when you forgive someone for doing something, the incident no longer affects your emotions.

You have not truly forgiven a person if:

- You want other people to know what that person did to you.
- You attempt to get other people to look down on that person and “take your side.”
- You want other people to feel sorry for you because of what that person did to you.
- You are still figuring out how to “get even” with that person.
- You rejoice when bad things happen to that person.

Holding onto bitterness is like keeping poison in your body. You're only hurting yourself, not the person who wronged you.

The main reason Jesus came was to purchase forgiveness for sinners. To refuse to forgive is to pit yourself against the very purpose for which He came.

I have seen dramatic examples of this in practice. So have other people with healing ministries.

A man who came to our church had severe back pain from a slipped disc. We laid hands on him and felt the anointing go into him, but no visible results were forthcoming. He ended up asking God what the issue was. God showed him that he was operating in unforgiveness toward a church that he used to attend. As soon as he CHOSE to forgive that church, his healing manifested instantly. He went and got X-rays showing that his disc was normal and almost all the arthritis he had also had disappeared at the same time.

Another woman who came to one of our healing events had been crippled for 28 years or so and had been on disability. She had to be helped into the room. She could not even pick up a pen with her hands. The doctors told her that there was no cure; she would soon be wheelchair-bound with untreatable pain and then die. It turned out that she had not forgiven her deceased mother. That night, she decided to forgive her mother. She was able to raise her hands over her head in front of us. The next day, she was out shoveling snow, and she was so excited that she could do it that she went to her neighbors and asked if she could shovel THEIR snow, too. She then went out and got three jobs and notified the disability office that she didn't need disability anymore. (She wisely scaled back to one job later.) Imagine – all those years of agony were because she would not forgive her mother! Unforgiveness is never worth the steep price! Fortunately, even though her mother had passed on, her decision to forgive her still set her free. If you have held onto unforgiveness toward a now-deceased person, you can still be set free too.

Unforgiveness Still Costs You

Being under grace doesn't mean that unforgiveness is OK and that you can have a wonderful walk with the Lord while you poison yourself with unforgiveness. You won't have a successful prayer life if you violate Jesus' prayer rules!

If you are in unforgiveness, it is quite possible that the only time you will ever get healed is after you repent of your attitude and forgive the other person. Unforgiveness will cost you. Get rid of it now!

Mistake: Strife

The New Testament teaches that strife can hinder your prayers, explicitly when it involves not being nice to your spouse:

1 Peter 3:7:

Likewise, ye husbands, dwell with them [wives] according to knowledge, giving honour unto the wife, as unto the weaker vessel, and as being heirs together of the grace of life; that your prayers be not hindered.

We have a New Testament warning that strife will lead to every evil work. I would definitely consider sickness to be a subset of every evil work.

James 3:16:

For where envying and strife is, there is confusion and every evil work.

You must strive to stay out of strife! Okay, I'll rephrase that: Do everything you can to avoid being in strife with anyone! It will stop your prayers for healing (or anything else for that matter) from working.

Mistake: Disobedience

While it is true that “The Lord is for the body” (1 Corinthians 6:13), it is equally true that “The body is for the Lord.” If you are not planning to use your body to follow and obey Jesus Christ, there is little point in trying to receive healing. Do you want God to just help you sin better? Sadly, we have seen this happen in many cases when God has healed people. When they just return to their old lifestyle and associations, the verse “bad company corrupts good morals” (1 Corinthians 15:33) proves itself true. They end up losing their healing, and it’s usually harder (though not impossible) to try to get them healed again after they’ve had their healing and lost it.

God made many wonderful healing promises in the Old Covenant, but they were conditional upon obedience. God never said that people could run around to the Baal temple and the houses of ill repute and then “claim” healing from Him.

You can “get away with” more under grace, but Jesus still expects you to obey Him. Given that you call Him Lord, it is only right that he actually be Lord of every area of your life.

You should be seeking and following God’s plan for your life. If you’re called to the ministry and you’re running from that calling, you could find that “woe” instead of “healing” is unto you. This paraphrases Paul, who was called to preach the gospel, who said, “Woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel!” – 1 Corinthians 9:16. While God did not specify what the woe would be for Paul, I would not be surprised if it would include disease. Remember, Paul was a forgiven New Testament saint, but he still said that WOE would befall him if he disobeyed God’s call to preach. If that could happen to him, it could happen to you. Again, God does not demand perfection to avoid sickness, because none of us would be healed if that were the case. However, deliberately saying NO to the known will of God can have disastrous consequences. I know someone who did and ended up with sicknesses the doctors said that there was no medical explanation for. The explanation was spiritual – disobedience – but they don’t diagnose that kind of thing at the doctor’s office.

If you’re in deliberate disobedience, God’s wonderful protection promises in Psalm 91 do not apply to you, as they were written for those who are abiding in Him. If you don’t abide in Him, and you can’t say of the Lord, “He is my refuge and my fortress, my God; in Him will I trust,” and you don’t set your love upon God, you have failed the qualifications in that Psalm. The rest of it does not apply to you. God does not promise to keep evil from you, deliver you from trouble, or deliver you from the pestilence if you do not meet His conditions.

Disobedience can be deadly. The bodies of many Israelites littered the desert after the people would not obey God – and these were people with whom God had made the healing covenant in Exodus 15:25-26. Even this promise came with a condition: “If thou wilt diligently hearken to the voice of the Lord thy God, and wilt do that which is right in his sight, and wilt give ear to his commandments, and keep all his statutes.” The Israelites did not do these things. They got into disobedience and missed out.

If you know of any area where you are holding out on God, repent immediately. Do not hold onto known sin in your life. It will make healing come a lot easier when you're not fighting with the very Lord from whom you expect to receive healing!

Mistake: Fear

I have heard many people teach that fear is the opposite of faith. I see why people could say that, but I think it's technically better to say that fear is MISPLACED faith.

A person who is in FEAR believes in an outcome that has not yet been seen. For example, you can believe that you will die from the same illness that killed your father. You have no proof that it has to happen, but that is what you see in your mind's eye. If you dwell on that long enough, you can end up SURE of something that you can't prove right now through any natural means. That is really what FAITH is (Hebrews 11:1). The problem with fear is that it believes something that is the opposite of what God says (in this case, that He will satisfy you with long life and take sickness away from you – Psalm 91:16, Deuteronomy 7:15).

The more you dwell on something, the more you will believe it. That works both for you and against you. If you dwell on God's Word more, you will believe it and act on it more. If you dwell on a bad doctor's report more, you will believe it and act on it more.

Many people who get into fear think, "I just can't help it! If you just heard what I just heard, you'd be afraid too!" But that can't be true. The Bible is full of exhortations to "fear not." That means that YOU control whether you get into fear and stay in fear. All of us have opportunities to fear. Not all of us use those opportunities. The Bible tells you to think about POSITIVE things (Philippians 4:8). If you'll do that, it will be downright hard to struggle with depression.

I believe that the main reason Jesus said "Have faith IN GOD" (Mark 11:22) is that He realized that it is possible to have faith in something else, to your detriment. You have faith – the only question is how you will use it.

To avoid repeating a fairly long discussion, please click on the first link below to see how you can beat fear!

See also:

Dealing with Fear

What Mark 11:22 Really Means

Mistake: Envy

Proverbs 14:30

You can literally get “jealous sick!” Envy can cause physical breakdown in your body. You can’t expect to be healed while willfully holding onto something that God says will make you sick, any more than you could expect to be healed of lung cancer while smoking six packs a day. There’s no point in trying to get healed when you are choosing to make yourself sick.

Song of Solomon 8:6:

...jealousy is cruel as the grave: the coals thereof are coals of fire, which hath a most vehement flame.

Galatians 5:19-21 (excerpted):

Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these;...envyings...of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God.

You will have a hard time receiving from God if you deliberately hold onto envy. Repent of it. Get it out of your life – now. Otherwise, you could end up in a condition that no one will envy.

Mistake: Inaction

The man in Acts 14:7-10 had faith to be healed, but he was still crippled until Paul told him to get up. When the man added action to his faith, he was healed. Faith without works is dead (James 2:14-26). Real faith always proves itself in corresponding action.

Believing something without corresponding action is merely mental assent, which will not produce results.

The main “action” is saying with your mouth to yourself and others that you have received your healing. Saying anything else negates your prayer and ensures that you will receive nothing. The spirit of faith says, “I believe, therefore have I spoken” as Paul said in 2 Corinthians 4:13.

Mistake: Wrong Treatment of the Body of Christ

1 Corinthians 11:27-32

Many at Corinth were weak and sickly, and many died because they made light of the Lord's Supper, even to the point of eating and drinking the elements without leaving enough for everyone else.

We had what church people call "potlucks" when we pastored, though in our case neither pot nor luck was involved. There would usually be at least one "hog" who would mound up food on his plate with no consideration for the people behind him. It's one thing if you do that at a regular dinner; I don't believe that special judgment would fall on someone for that. (The person could lose popularity with the others at the meal, but that would be the extent of it.) But doing the same thing with the Lord's Supper – a holy ordinance instituted by Jesus – can be deadly. Of course, this would seldom be a problem today because the communion elements are "pre-measured" to make sure that everyone gets them.

However, backbiting and gossip are also mistreatment of the Body of Christ.

1 Corinthians 10:5-11

The implication is that you can still be "destroyed by the destroyer" for murmuring and complaining under the New Covenant! If you go around the church criticizing every decision your pastor makes, prepare to be sick.

An even more dire warning appears in 1 Corinthians 3:16-17. Paul said that the church COLLECTIVELY was Christ's body – "you" in the Greek was in the plural. The warning is that if you do things that destroy the local body, God will destroy you. And yes, that is New Testament teaching under our covenant of grace! So mistreatment of Christ's Body is a lot more serious than people realize.

This passage is widely misunderstood to say that if you smoke or otherwise abuse your body, God will destroy your body. But God CAN'T destroy your body if you've already destroyed it! That would make no more sense than saying, "Don't commit suicide – if you do, God will kill you."

In fact, the word translated defile in the King James Version of this passage in verse 17 is exactly the same word translated destroy in the same verse. So the wrong understanding of this would be, "If you destroy your body, God will destroy you." That wouldn't even make sense. But when you see that Paul is talking about destroying the local church, it makes sense. It would be better for you to be drowned in the ocean than for you to offend one of Christ's believers (Matthew 18:6). This is serious stuff.

If your church preaches against divine healing and you can no longer agree with the teaching there, find a church that does believe in divine healing. Don't stay and make trouble. Don't try to undermine the pastor's authority by secretly getting others interested in healing and setting them against the pastor. That places you on dangerous ground, and ironically your actions can keep healing away from you.

Many deceived people think that they are God's special chosen channel to wake up their church to the truths of God's Word concerning the new birth, Spirit baptism, healing, and so on. Actually, they are nothing more than church-splitting tools of Satan. If you are not in leadership, you are NOT God's tool for reformation unless the leadership is open to listen to you. It is working against the plan of God to tithe and give offerings to a church that preaches against Bible truths, thus aiding and abetting their spreading of ignorance and unbelief. You are not God's channel to wake them up. Quit wasting your time at a dead church just because that's where Great-Grandpa went and his name is on a plaque on a pew. If you're not getting fed there, get out and go somewhere where the pastor knows the Word. Life is too short to be wasted in a lousy church. Let me say this – I have been a Christian for decades now and I have NEVER seen anyone accomplish anything when he claimed that he was "sent by God" to a crummy church that doesn't preach the real gospel to "bring revival" to it. If the leadership doesn't want God to move, God won't move there, and YOU are the one who should move – to a church where God is already moving and the pastor is good with that!

Do not deceive yourself into thinking that you can get "fed" online and on television and be OK while you listen in person to pig slop from the pulpit. See The Importance of a Good Local Church.

Jezebel in Revelation 2:20-23 was causing REALLY serious problems for the local church. Jesus gave an ultimatum that if she did not stop, he would sicken her and her cofornicators and kill her kids. She was destroying the church and Jesus was about to destroy her.

So causing problems in your church can have serious consequences. It can make you sick as well as keeping your healing away. Don't do it.

Mistake: Spiritual Laziness

This mistake is the reason why many Christians will never get healed by faith. They aren't serious enough about God and His Word.

Jesus said in Matthew 11:12, "And from the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven suffereth violence, and the violent take it by force." This does not mean that only commandos get blessings, but it does mean that you can't sit around with a ho-hum attitude and receive God's blessings. If you're not serious about getting healed, you might as well resign yourself to staying sick. You can wish for something and not do anything about it. If you really want something, you'll do something about getting it.

Jesus rebuked the Laodiceans for being lukewarm and urged them to be zealous and repent. He threatened to vomit their church out of His mouth if they did not do so (Revelation 3:16). (The word translated spue in the King James literally means to vomit. It is not a nice word.) Jesus looks with great displeasure upon lukewarmness. If He threatened to puke the Laodicean church for it under the New Covenant, we know that He feels the same way about lukewarmness today. Yecch. (By the way, He was not threatening anyone's personal salvation for being lukewarm. We are saved by grace through faith, not by being "hot" enough. He was threatening to puke that local church collectively, that is, to withdraw Himself from it and let it falter.)

James said that the effectual fervent prayer of the righteous avails much (James 5:16). He did not say that the lukewarm, half-hearted prayer of the righteous would avail anything. He did promise that a double-minded prayer would not be answered (James 1:5-8).

If you relate to God by calling Him as you would call 911 in a crisis, you will never receive God's blessings with any consistency. When you do, it will be because of His mercy. God wants you to walk with Him, not use Him as a quick fix when you need help. What do you think of people who only call you when they want to get something out of you?

If you do not take the time to read the Word for yourself concerning healing, you may bounce from healing service to healing service around the country and never get healed! God will do His part, but He will not do your part. He gave you His Word and it is your responsibility to study it and believe it.

Do not be lazy (slothful). "And we desire that every one of you do shew the same diligence to the full assurance of hope unto the end: That ye be not slothful, but followers of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises." (Hebrews 6:11-12).

Mistake: Carnality

Carnality is walking in the flesh. If you live a flesh-dominated life, your flesh will call the shots when natural “sense knowledge” contradicts the Word. If you are used to following the flesh in other matters, you will naturally follow the flesh when symptoms and circumstances disagree with what God has said.

God has given us great tools to defeat the flesh. One of them is fasting. I don’t recommend long fasts, but if you fast even a day or two, it’s amazing how quickly your flesh will start to get in line. (There may be medical reasons why you can’t fast; if you are taking medicine that MUST be taken on a full stomach, don’t start a fast while taking it! It’s better to fast when you’re not sick – it can help you avoid getting into the situation above in the first place.)

Also, Galatians 5:16 tells us that if we’ll walk in the Spirit, we won’t fulfill the lusts of the flesh. Thus, praying and studying the Word will help keep your flesh under.

Praying that God will do something about your flesh will NEVER work. God isn’t going to do anything about your flesh because He told YOU to do something about it. He told YOU to mortify the deeds of the body through the Spirit (Romans 8:13). Even Paul, who wrote about these things, had to keep his own flesh under (1 Corinthians 9:27). But the good news is, Paul did it – and so you can you! You are not a debtor to the flesh to live after the flesh (Romans 8:12). You have crucified the flesh with its passions and lusts (Galatians 5:24).

Mistake: Doublemindedness

James 1:5-8

Doublemindedness is not having made up your mind. Therefore, you look one way and then look another way. You think you are receiving something – no, wait, look at the circumstances! You think you are healed, no wait, there is still pain in your body, so maybe you aren't healed after all.

James warns you that if you are doubleminded, you cannot receive anything from the Lord. The passage starts by talking about wisdom, but the principle applies to everything. Faith is the certainty that you have something, not the 90% probability that you have it. The man who is in faith will look only to God and His Word to determine the truth. You may be aware of pain in your body, but you believe that you have received your healing and you do not let go or question it just because you get a contrary feeling in your body.

Your flesh will tell you that you are being stupid, that you are not really healed, and that you had better just admit that you are not in faith. That is why you need patience to go along with your faith (Hebrews 6:11-12). It is possible to believe for something and then lose it by being double-minded.

Peter walked on water when Jesus called him. This was an absolute miracle, and it was based on Peter's faith in Jesus' word, "Come!" But then Peter got double-minded. He looked at the circumstances and started sinking. Did he really receive a miracle? Yes, he actually did walk on water when it wasn't frozen! Peter received something miraculous but he lost it by being double-minded. So it is possible to receive a miraculous healing and lose it through doublemindedness.

This is why it is so vitally important that you pay attention to the Scriptures about healing. Meditate on them until they become a part of you. That is the only way that you will prevent yourself from being doubleminded. The idea is to put so much of the Word into yourself that it becomes your natural response to adverse circumstances. You can be sure that adverse conditions will come and that your faith will be challenged. Choose to keep your eyes on God and His promises instead of your physical condition, no matter how disagreeable it is right now. Your condition is subject to change, but God and His Word are not!

Mistake: Violating Natural Laws

Aside from a supernatural act of the Spirit (such as Jesus walking on water), gravity will make things fall toward the earth. It is a natural law. It would be pointless to try to “believe” that you would not get killed if you jumped off a tall building. (The devil tried and failed to tempt Jesus to do exactly that.)

Likewise, if you are going to keep destroying your body with nicotine, alcohol, illegal drugs or other unhealthy habits, you will have a hard time getting healed of the resulting problems. The fact that you are a Christian does not set aside natural laws concerning your treatment of your body.

You should cooperate with natural laws to promote your healing. Paul made a suggestion to Timothy along these lines in 1 Timothy 5:23. If you’re going somewhere where the water is bad, you would be wiser to avoid it if possible rather than drinking it anyway and attempting to claim Mark 16:18! If you are obese and have heart trouble, consider that you may need to lose a good deal of weight to enjoy better health. This does not negate the promises of God; it’s just common sense. (God said to renew your mind, not ignore your mind!) Yes, God is merciful and God heals, but if you live on candy bars and ice cream, you create your own trouble, and it isn’t either the devil or God causing the problems – it’s you.

You are doubleminded if you continue doing things that give you the problems of which you are attempting to be healed. Your mouth says, “I expect healing,” but your actions say, “I am making myself sick.” If you run around in the winter with no coat on (assuming that you don’t live in the tropics), you are inviting trouble, healing covenant or no healing covenant.

You can use the natural laws that relate to your body either for yourself or against yourself. Follow Paul’s advice and use them for yourself.

Mistake: Reading Stupid Books

Faith cometh by hearing the Word of God, and doubt cometh by reading stupid books written against divine healing and those who preach it.

For some unfathomable reason, books written against divine healing often top the Christian bestseller lists. What kind of good news this is, that God might not heal you and might want you sick for a reason, is beyond me. I suppose that the authors think that they are doing the Body of Christ a service by assuring the sick that it's okay to be sick and that there's nothing they can do. Not only are the arguments in these books unscriptural, but some of these authors try to dig up dirt about famous preachers who believe that healing is universally available through Christ's atonement. This practice of "touching God's anointed" is despicable, to say nothing of personally dangerous for the authors. It is just as out of line with God's love as the assertions in the books that God won't heal you.

At worst, buying one of those books is no better than grabbing a supermarket tabloid to see what awful things movie stars and music idols have been up to lately. It is nothing new for Satan to invent untrue gossip about God's ministers, and sadly, people often are prone to believe them. Satan did it in Bible days, too. He prompted false witnesses to testify against Jesus. He prompted false witnesses to claim that Paul was saying that we should just go out and sin and God will get all the more glory. He prompted false witnesses to report that Stephen had blasphemed. So it is no surprise that he will try to mount a "smear campaign" against preachers who are pleasing God today. One of his favorite tactics is to quote famous preachers out of context to make it sound like they're teaching heresy when a reading of such preachers' other statements disprove that they are teaching anything unorthodox. People can and do get stirred up against men of God for unfair reasons based on untrue reports. You should not be one of the stirred-up ones. You can find bad apples in many bushels if you look hard enough; trouble is not specific to "faith" preachers.

However, it really does not matter what allegations (if any) made against healing preachers are true. You cannot make any man the issue in a doctrinal debate. The only way to debate doctrine is through the Word of God. If I robbed three banks and blew up the Golden Gate Bridge, the truths asserted in this book would still be just as valid because they are based on the unchanging Word of God. Plenty of ministers who preached healing have failed morally. There have always been some moral failures among God's leaders. Consider Samson, David and Solomon. Solomon's failings do not stop us from using Proverbs for doctrine. David's failings do not stop us from using Psalms for doctrine. Let God be true and every man a liar (Romans 3:4)!

Some of these books, while attempting to tear down the Scriptural arguments of good teachers, proceed to make some of the most pathetic and inane interpretations of Scripture imaginable. Many of these are quoted for you in the Objections Overruled! section of this book. The presence of Scripture in any book (including this book) does not mean that it is in line with Scripture as a whole. Consider the devil's careful misquotation of Psalm 91 when he tempted Jesus (Luke 4:10-11). Many Scriptures (Job's trials, Paul's thorn, Timothy's stomach, Trophimus, etc.) are often yanked out of harmony with the Bible (and often the immediate context) to try to prove a point against healing.

Then there are the "scare" stories and books from people who SUPPOSEDLY followed "faith" teaching and let loved ones die without medical help. All this proves is that the people never really listened to the teaching, because the prominent faith teachers of our day all agree that you should not avoid medical help while believing God for your healing.

Then there are the "I tried that faith stuff and it didn't work" books.

Another category of book claims, "God physically brutalized me to draw me closer to Himself." These pop up regularly, too. Someone's cancer, paralysis, loss of a child or other tragedy is presented as the will of God for some twisted reason. You are supposed to be "blessed" reading how the person was brought closer to God and how the person is now better off than he would have been otherwise. In some cases, the person may be a celebrity in Christian circles among those who don't know any better. If you would like calamity to bring you closer to God, go ahead and read this nonsense and build your faith for calamities. Otherwise, read something better (like this book). Besides, the Bible says to draw near to God and He will draw near to you (James 4:8). Thus, it is YOUR responsibility to draw near to God. It is not up to some circumstance to do the job for you. It is not up to God to create circumstances that do the job for you. Perhaps someone who did NOT draw near to God started to do so because of a tragedy, and that is better than never drawing near to God, but that does not mean that GOD was stealing, killing and destroying to draw someone to Himself. It means that someone finally wised up who should have wised up before catastrophe struck.

Anti-healing books have probably been around as long as healing books. They are often advertised well and found in flashy displays at lousier Christian bookstores. (Unfortunately, they are not displayed in the Fiction section where they belong.) If you have had the misfortune to pick up one of these books and have been unsettled by its contents, let me suggest the following:

- Read the Scripture verses from both testaments contained in this book to see what the Bible says about healing in general.
- Reject any opposing argument based on experiences and not on the Word of God alone.
- You will find most of the arguments that are taken from the Word of God in the Objections Overruled! section of this program, as well as some others that are not taken from the Word but which are common today. Read the Scriptural answers to these arguments. As has been said, sometimes you need to know what is written, and sometimes you need to know what is ALSO written!

It does not matter how famous or sincere the author is. Bad doctrine is still bad doctrine. Let me say in closing that some of the silliest statements about divine healing are made by preachers who are actually very anointed to serve the Body of Christ in other areas. As long as they stick with what they know, their books are excellent. They only get in trouble when they start dabbling in areas where they are unlearned. This is perhaps part of the problem. The fact that there is a genuine Holy Spirit anointing on them in another area leads people to believe that anything they say about healing must also be true.

New Testament Scriptures about Healing

| | |
|----------------------------------|--|
| Matthew 4:23-24 | Jesus heals all diseases, paralytics, insane and demonized people |
| Matthew 8:2-4 | A leper questions Jesus' will to heal, hears and gets healed |
| Matthew 8:5-13 | A centurion believes for his paralyzed servant's healing |
| Matthew 8:14-15 | Peter's mother-in-law is healed of a fever |
| Matthew 8:16-17 | All the sick and possessed are healed, Isaiah 53:4 is confirmed |
| Matthew 8:28-32 | Two demon-possessed Gergesenes are delivered |
| Matthew 9:2-8 | A paralyzed man is lowered through a roof and healed; scribes grumble |
| Matthew 9:18-25 | A ruler's daughter is raised from the dead; a woman with an issue of blood is healed |
| Matthew 9:27-30 | Two blind men are healed by their faith |
| Matthew 9:32-33 | A dumb (speechless) man speaks when he is delivered from a demon |
| Matthew 9:35 | Jesus heals every sickness and disease |
| Matthew 10:1 | Disciples are empowered to cast out evil spirits and to heal every kind of disease |
| Matthew 10:7-8 | Jesus commands His disciples to preach and heal the sick |
| Matthew 11:4-5 | Miracles of healing are cited as proof that Jesus is the Messiah |
| Matthew 12:10-13 | A man with a withered hand is healed on the Sabbath |
| Matthew 12:15 | Jesus heals all in multitudes who follow Him |
| Matthew 12:22 | A blind, dumb (speechless) and demonized man is healed |
| Matthew 13:15 | Be converted and understand and God will heal you |
| Matthew 13:54-58 | Jesus can do no mighty works in His own country because of unbelief |
| Matthew 14:14 | Jesus heals the sick in a great multitude |

- Matthew 14:35-36 All the diseased are brought to Jesus and are healed after touching His clothes
- Matthew 15:22-28 A Canaanite woman gets deliverance for her demonized daughter
- Matthew 15:30-31 Great multitudes, maimed, dumb, blind and lame people are healed
- Matthew 17:14-21 The disciples fail to cast a demon out of a boy; Jesus succeeds
- Matthew 19:2 Jesus heals great multitudes who follow Him
- Matthew 20:30-34 Two blind men are healed
- Matthew 21:14 Blind and lame people are healed in the temple
- Matthew 27:52-53 Saints are resurrected
- Mark 1:23-26 Jesus casts out an unclean spirit
- Mark 1:30-31 Peter's mother-in-law is healed of a fever
- Mark 1:32-34 All that are diseased and demonized are healed and delivered
- Mark 1:39 Jesus casts out demons
- Mark 1:40-45 A leper questions Jesus' will to heal, finds out that it IS, gets healed, then blabs the matter all over though told not to do so
- Mark 2:2-12 A paralyzed man is lowered through a roof and healed, religionists get angry
- Mark 3:1-5 Jesus heals a man with a withered hand on the Sabbath
- Mark 3:10-12 Many who are sick and demonized are healed and delivered
- Mark 3:14-15 Jesus sends out the Twelve to preach, empowering them to heal sicknesses and cast out demons
- Mark 5:2-20 A demonized tomb-dweller is delivered
- Mark 5:22-43 Jairus's daughter is raised from the dead; a woman with an issue of blood is healed
- Mark 6:1-6 Jesus can do no mighty work in His own country; He heals a few sick people
- Mark 6:7 Jesus send out the Twelve with power over unclean spirits

| | |
|--------------------------------------|--|
| Mark 6:12-13 | Many are healed when the disciples anoint them with oil |
| Mark 6:54-56 | The sick are laid in the streets; as many as touch Jesus' clothes are healed |
| Mark 7:25-30 | A Greek woman gets deliverance for her demonized daughter |
| Mark 7:32-37 | A deaf man with a speech impediment is healed |
| Mark 8:22-25 | A blind man is partially, then totally, healed |
| Mark 9:17-29 | The disciples fail to deliver a demonized boy; Jesus succeeds |
| Mark 9:38-39 | A man who didn't travel with the disciples casts out demons in Jesus' name |
| Mark 10:46-52 | Blind Bartimaeus is healed |
| Mark 16:15-18 | Believers are commanded to preach gospel; healing and other signs are to follow |
| Mark 16:20 | The Lord confirms the gospel with signs |
| Luke 1:36-37 | Barren Elizabeth conceives in old age |
| Luke 4:18-19 | Jesus declares Himself to be anointed to heal the brokenhearted, give sight to the blind, liberate the bruised, etc. |
| Luke 4:27 | Jesus reminds people that Naaman the Syrian was cleansed of leprosy |
| Luke 4:33-36 | Jesus casts out an unclean spirit |
| Luke 4:38-39 | Peter's mother-in-law is healed of a great fever |
| Luke 4:40-41 | Any who are sick with any disease come and are healed; demonized people are delivered |
| Luke 5:12-15 | A leper questions Jesus' will, hears it and gets healed; many come to hear and be healed |
| Luke 5:17-26 | A paralyzed man who is let down through the roof gets healed; religionists get angry |
| Luke 6:6-10 | Jesus heals a man with a withered hand on the Sabbath |
| Luke 6:17-19 | Multitudes come to hear and be healed; they touch Jesus and get healed |
| Luke 7:2-10 | A centurion's servant is healed of fatal disease |

- Luke 7:12-16 Jesus raises a man from the dead at his funeral
- Luke 7:20-23 Healings are cited as proof that Jesus is the Messiah
- Luke 8:2 Seven devils were cast out of Mary Magdalene
- Luke 8:27-39 A tomb-dwelling demonized man is delivered
- Luke 8:41-56 Jairus's daughter is raised from dead; a woman with an issue of blood is healed
- Luke 9:1-2 The Twelve are sent out to preach with power and authority over sickness and demons
- Luke 9:6 The disciples preach and heal everywhere
- Luke 9:11 Jesus heals those who need healing
- Luke 9:38-42 The disciples fail to deliver a demonized boy; Jesus succeeds
- Luke 9:49-50 A man who didn't travel with the disciples casts out demons in Jesus' name
- Luke 10:8-9 Jesus commands His disciples to heal the sick
- Luke 10:17-20 Spirits are subject to the disciples in Jesus' name
- Luke 11:14 A dumb (speechless) demon is cast out; the person speaks
- Luke 11:20 Jesus says that He casts out demons with the finger of God
- Luke 13:11-16 A woman crippled for 18 years is instantly healed
- Luke 14:1-6 A man with dropsy is healed on the Sabbath
- Luke 17:12-19 Ten lepers are healed; only one of them returns with thanksgiving
- Luke 18:35-43 A blind man believes and receives his sight
- Luke 22:50-51 Jesus heals a servant's ear that Peter chopped off
- John 3:14 Jesus compares Himself to Moses' serpent on a pole (which brought healing)
- John 4:46-53 A nobleman's son is raised from his deathbed
- John 5:2-19 A man crippled for 38 years is healed at the Pool of Bethesda
- John 6:2 A multitude follows Jesus because of His healing miracles

- John 9:1-7 A man born blind is healed
- John 10:10 Jesus gives life abundantly; the devil steals, kills and destroys
- John 11:1-44 Lazarus is raised from the dead
- John 12:39-41 See with your eyes + understand with your heart = Get healed
- Acts 1:8 Power is promised when the Holy Spirit comes upon the disciples
- Acts 3:1-16 The crippled beggar at the Beautiful gate gets healed
- Acts 4:7-10 The healing of the beggar is attributed to the risen Christ
- Acts 4:22 The beggar's healing is called a miracle
- Acts 4:29-33 The disciples pray for boldness, then go out boldly with power
- Acts 5:12-16 The apostles do signs; all sick and demonized people are healed on the street through Peter
- Acts 6:8 Stephen does great wonders and miracles
- Acts 8:5-8 Philip gets many lame, paralyzed and demonized people healed in Samaria
- Acts 9:17-18 Ananias prays; Paul recovers his sight
- Acts 9:32-35 A man who was paralyzed for eight years is healed when Peter ministers to him
- Acts 9:36-42 Peter commands Tabitha to rise from the dead
- Acts 10:38 Jesus did good and healed those who were oppressed by the devil
- Acts 14:3 Signs and wonders are done by the hands of Paul and Barnabas
- Acts 14:7-10 A lame man at Lystra hears the gospel, gets faith to be healed, then receives his healing
- Acts 14:19-20 Paul is stoned and left for dead; the disciples stand around him and Paul gets up
- Acts 15:12 Barnabas and Paul declare the miracles that God did through them
- Acts 16:16-18 Paul casts out a fortune-telling spirit in the name of Jesus Christ
- Acts 19:11-12 God does special miracles through Paul, cloth items from his body cure the sick and demonized

| | |
|---|---|
| Acts 20:9-12 | Paul raises Eutychus from the dead |
| Acts 27:33-34 | Paul recommends ending a fast for health reasons |
| Acts 28:3-6 | Paul is bitten by a poisonous snake but suffers no harm |
| Acts 28:8-9 | Publius and all the other sick people on an island are healed |
| Acts 28:27 | See with your eyes + Hear with your ears + Understand with your heart = Get healed |
| Romans 1:16 | The gospel is the power of God to everyone who believes |
| Romans 4:16-21 | Sarah was healed of barrenness; Abraham's faith is an example |
| Romans 8:2 | The Law of the Spirit of Life sets you free from the Law of Sin and Death |
| Romans 8:11 | The indwelling Holy Spirit gives life to your mortal body |
| Romans 15:18-19 | Mighty signs and wonders are part of fully preaching the gospel |
| 1 Corinthians 2:4-5 | Paul's preaching was not in human wisdom but in the Holy Spirit's power |
| 1 Corinthians 3:16-17 | You (collectively) are the temple of God |
| 1 Corinthians 4:19-20 | The Kingdom of God is not in word but in power |
| 1 Corinthians 6:13 | The Lord is FOR your physical body |
| 1 Corinthians 6:15 | Our bodies are members of Christ |
| 1 Corinthians 6:19-20 | God bought your body as well as your spirit |
| 1 Corinthians 12:8-11 | Gifts of healings, working of miracles, faith are to operate in the Church |
| 1 Corinthians 12:28-30 | Some ministries major in miracles and healings |
| Galatians 3:5-6 | God works miracles among you by the hearing of faith |
| Galatians 3:10-14 | Jesus was made a curse to redeem us from the curse for breaking the Law |
| Galatians 4:13 | Paul preaches at the first due to an infirmity (he obviously gets healed later) |
| Ephesians 5:28-32 | The Lord nourishes and cherishes His Body |

| | |
|--|---|
| Ephesians 6:1-3 | Honoring parents brings long life |
| Philippians 2:25-30 | Epaphroditus gets sick and nearly dies; God in His mercy heals him |
| 2 Timothy 1:7 | You have the spirit of power, love, and a sound mind |
| 1 Thessalonians 1:5 | The gospel came not only in word but in power |
| 1 Thessalonians 5:23-24 | Your spirit, soul and body are all to be preserved |
| 1 Timothy 2:15 | Faithful women are not to die in childbirth |
| Hebrews 2:3-4 | God bore witness with signs, wonders, miracles, and gifts of the Holy Spirit |
| Hebrews 11:11 | Sarah conceived through faith |
| Hebrews 11:35 | Dead children were raised to life under the Old Covenant |
| Hebrews 12:12-13 | Be strengthened and walk on |
| James 5:14-16 | The sick are to be healed when the elders anoint them with oil and pray the prayer of faith over them |
| 1 Peter 2:24 | By Jesus' stripes you were healed |
| 1 Peter 3:10-11 | Want long life? Watch your mouth! |
| 3 John 2 | Wish that we be in health and prosper as our souls prosper |
| Revelation 11:9-11 | Two prophets are raised from the dead |
| Revelation 21:4 | There will be no sorrow, crying, or pain in our eternal home |
| Revelation 22:2-3 | The leaves of the Tree of Life are for the healing of nations; there will be no more curse |

Matthew 4:23-24:

And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people.

And his fame went throughout all Syria: and they brought unto him all sick people that were taken with divers diseases and torments, and those which were possessed with devils, and those which were lunatick, and those that had the palsy; and he healed them.

Notes on Matthew 4:23-24:

Here we see four facets of Jesus' ministry: TEACHING, PREACHING, HEALING and DELIVERANCE.

Jesus' ministry did not consist solely of laying hands on the sick. In fact, if there is no good news to believe, it is unproductive to simply lay hands on the sick. If the sick are simply healed by manifestations of the Holy Spirit, they will need to be healed the same way again unless they hear the good news taught and preached. Only then will they develop personal faith to be healed apart from manifestations of the Spirit.

Because Jesus healed ALL manner of sickness and disease, and He is the same forever (Hebrews 13:8), we should never limit Him by doubting His ability and willingness to heal ALL diseases today. There is no condition too small or too large for Him to heal.

In verse 24, note that Jesus healed "those which were lunatick," meaning the insane. Thus, Jesus' healing power healed mental as well as physical illnesses. This is consistent with the fact that mental illnesses (madness, etc.) were included in the "curse of the Law" in Deuteronomy 28:15-68 and elsewhere – a curse from which we are redeemed (Galatians 3:13).

Jesus did not wander the earth looking for sick people. Verse 24 states that all these sick people were brought to Him. They had to go where Jesus and His anointing were. Jesus did not make unsolicited house calls to heal the sick. Obviously, the sick and their friends expended some effort to get to where Jesus was. This demonstrated their faith in His ability and willingness to heal. Today you also need faith in His ability and willingness to heal, but because Jesus had paid for everyone's healing, you can receive healing directly from Him ANYWHERE without having to travel to where He is. (Which is a good thing, because He is in heaven, and no commercial airline currently services heaven.)

Although God's best is for the believer to receive healing from God without anyone else's involvement, not everyone is prepared to do so. If someone wants to seek healing through the manifestations of the Spirit at a service, he must go to where the service is. This is consistent with the gospel pattern. It is inconsistent with Scripture for the sick person to stay home and moan, "God will heal me if He wants to." God wants to heal him, but he must expend some personal effort to receive his healing even if it is by a manifestation of the anointing. It does not happen automatically now any more than it did then.

The phrase “had the palsy” means “paralyzed.” This shows that paralysis is no different from any other sickness when it comes to God’s ability and willingness to heal it. Men make a big deal out of people getting out of wheelchairs, but seeing the paralyzed walk was perfectly normal in the ministry of Jesus.

See also:

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

Healing and Evangelism

YOU Can Be Healed

How Can You Tell if a Certain Condition is Demonic?

Condition: Demon Possession

Condition: Insanity

Condition: Paralysis

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Matthew 8:2-4:

And, behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

And Jesus put forth his hand and touched him, saying, I will; be thou clean. And immediately his leprosy was cleansed.

And Jesus saith unto him, See thou tell no man; but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer the gift that Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

Notes on Matthew 8:2-4:

The leper could surely observe that Jesus was healing many sick people, but as is the case with many people today, he was uncertain of Jesus' willingness to heal him in particular.

Notice that this man did two things right: (1) He went to where Jesus was. This was normally the prerequisite in His ministry to receive healing from Him. The man was risking his life in doing this, because lepers were not normally allowed to have contact with the rest of the world. (2) He worshipped Him. Although the man was ignorant of Jesus' will, he still showed reverence for the Lord. The man's heart was obviously open toward the Lord.

Jesus did not rebuke the man for his ignorance. Instead, He eliminated the ignorance by telling him, "I will." Now the man knew the will of Jesus in the matter. He was able to receive his healing.

This leper is the only man we know of who questioned Jesus' will concerning his healing. The only recorded answer Jesus ever gave is therefore, "I will." Jesus never told a sick person, "I won't, keep your sickness because God has a sovereign reason for you to be sick for your own good." How pitiful that today some ministers of (allegedly) the gospel are now saying what Jesus never said. Instead of undermining peoples' faith, every minister should be proclaiming, "He WILL!"

Verse 4 shows that Jesus did not heal simply as a publicity stunt. He told the man not to tell anyone what had happened. He said to go discreetly to the priest so that his healing could be officially verified. That way, he could be free from the laws concerning lepers. If this were a publicity stunt, He would have told the man to tell everyone he knew. That would have drawn bigger crowds. Compassion and desire to do the will of God motivated Jesus, not desire for personal fame. Anyone involved in healing ministry, or any ministry for that matter, should note and follow this pattern. Mass healing of the sick will result in publicity automatically whether you want it or not.

Note Jesus' lack of fear in touching the leper. He was not in fear of getting leprosy Himself if He touched a leper. Every believer should share His boldness in this regard, believing that "nothing shall by any means hurt you" (Luke 10:19) rather than thinking, "If I touch this guy with the flu, I'm liable to catch what he has myself. I sure hope he doesn't cough or sneeze when I'm in front of him."

See also:

Mark 1:40-45

Luke 5:12-15

Notes on Luke 5:12-15

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

Why Did Jesus Tell Some People Not to Tell Anyone about Their Healings?

Objection: It's up to God – God Will Heal Me if He Wants to

Objection: I Got a Debilitating Disease and Cried, "Why Me?" And the Lord Answered, "Why NOT You?"

Condition: Leprosy

Matthew 8:5-13:

And when Jesus was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him,
And saying, Lord, my servant lieth at home sick of the palsy, grievously tormented.

And Jesus saith unto him, I will come and heal him.

The centurion answered and said, Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof: but speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed.

For I am a man under authority, having soldiers under me: and I say to this man, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.

When Jesus heard it, he marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel.

And I say to you, That many shall come from the east and west, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven.

But the children of the kingdom shall be cast out into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

And Jesus said unto the centurion, Go thy way; and as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. And his servant was healed in the selfsame hour.

Notes on Matthew 8:5-13:

Here was a man who understood authority. He was under authority and he had people under him. He saw that Jesus had authority over disease, believed it, and received a healing for a servant at home. There were two rarities in this story. The man believed and received a healing for someone else, and a Gentile received a healing even though technically healing did not yet belong to the Gentiles.

While many had faith, this man had great faith. So what characterized his “great” faith? He was willing to believe the word of the Lord. If the Lord said it, that was good enough for him. He needed no visible sign that anything had changed.

Although Matthew’s account taken by itself would leave the impression that the centurion was having a direct conversation with Jesus, we know from Luke’s account (Luke 7:2-10) that he actually carried out the conversation with Jesus indirectly first through elders and later through his friends. Luke provided some extra detail that Matthew did not provide. We see different details in different gospels and sometimes you need to read all the different accounts to get the complete picture, as is the case for the details of Christ’s resurrection and what was written to describe Him on the cross. This does not mean that the Bible contradicts itself. It only means that different accounts fill in different details to create one whole picture. That is why there are four gospels instead of only one!

From a Biblical perspective, as well as that of most people, if you send someone to do something, it is still considered your doing. If the centurion sent someone, it was still the centurion saying it. Another example of this is that Jesus said that the woman with the spirit of infirmity had been bound by Satan. Yet it was not Satan in person who was afflicting the woman – it was a spirit of infirmity that was doing Satan’s bidding. As far as Jesus was concerned, if a spirit that Satan sent did something, Satan did it, even if he used an intermediary. The same kind of thinking applies here.

The modern claim that Jesus was affirming a homosexual relationship between the centurion and his servant is as unfounded as it is disgusting. The argument for this claim is that the Greek word pais used by both Matthew and Luke can be used to describe a homosexual lover (though Matthew also uses the more traditional Greek word doulos to describe Him as a servant). However, there is not one instance in the Bible where pais refers to a homosexual lover. On multiple occasions Jesus is referred to as God’s pais and I would hope that no one would ever blaspheme by claiming that Jesus is God’s homosexual lover. Of course, Scripture (the written Word) clearly condemns homosexual activity, so there is no way that Jesus (the living Word) would ever contradict the written Word.

See also:

Luke 7:2-10

According to YOUR FAITH Be It Done unto You!

Different Ways to Get Healed

Can I Believe and Receive a Healing for Someone Else?

Would God Heal an Unbeliever?

How Can Faith COME By Hearing When We Already Have the MEASURE of Faith?

Condition: Paralysis

Matthew 8:14-15:

And when Jesus was come into Peter's house, he saw his wife's mother laid, and sick of a fever. And he touched her hand, and the fever left her: and she arose, and ministered unto them.

Notes on Matthew 8:14-15:

Here we can see that when you touch someone, the anointing can flow through you into him and heal him, even if you are not touching the specific afflicted body part. (I know of no cases of "hand fever.") Also, Matthew omits the fact that Jesus spoke to the fever. Luke says that He rebuked it. So here we have a case of both laying hands on a sick person and rebuking the illness. Luke said that Jesus stood over her, while Matthew leaves out that detail.

Peter's wife is never named and we know nothing about her other than the fact that she accompanied Peter when he traveled (1 Corinthians 9:5).

Note: If Jesus can love someone's mother-in-law, you can love your mother-in-law too!

See also:

Luke 4:38-39

Notes on Luke 4:38-39

Would You Rebuke a Christmas Present?

Must We Lay Hands on the Specific Afflicted Body Part?

Condition: Fever

Matthew 8:16-17:

When the even [evening] was come, they brought unto him many that were possessed with devils: and he cast out the spirits with his word, and healed all that were sick:

That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying, Himself took our infirmities, and bare our sicknesses.

Notes on Matthew 8:16-17:

This Scripture immediately settles any argument about whether Isaiah was talking about physical problems. The proper translation of Isaiah 53:4 is that surely He (Jesus) has borne our sicknesses and carried our pains. (The King James version inaccurately uses the words sorrows and griefs there, but decent study Bibles have footnotes indicating that the literal words are sicknesses and pains.) Surely the Holy Spirit knows how to properly interpret Scripture. This passage makes it plain that Isaiah's promise involves physical healing! This is obvious from the context where Jesus healed all that were sick. He did not relieve sorrows and griefs here, except perhaps for those caused by being sick or demon possessed! Actually, the "fulfillment" of Isaiah's prophecy was at Calvary, and Christ's healing of the sick during His ministry was proof that healing was included in His coming atonement.

The tough point on this verse is not that Isaiah's prophecy spoke of physical healing, which is obvious to any unbiased reader, but that Matthew seems to declare that the prophecy was fulfilled that evening. Matthew didn't say that, but most English speakers see the word "fulfilled" and immediately think "past tense – over and done with," which would be true in English but not in Greek. Greek is a more precise language than English, and I believe that's why the Lord had the New Testament written in Greek. There are a lot of subtleties to be "mined" when you dig into the underlying Greek text, though I would never claim that you must be a Greek geek to live a godly life in Christ Jesus. The Greek tense used here (Aorist) has no equivalent in English, and that's why English speakers sometimes draw wrong conclusions. Only an Aorist indicative would be used to denote past completed action; the Aorist subjunctive, which is what is used here, actually has NO connection to a past, present or future time and does not even attempt to place the event in the past, the present or the future. Thus, no one can correctly claim that Matthew's words do not point to a future atonement – in fact, they most certainly do in light of other Scriptures. Because Matthew 8:17 gets dragged up as the #1 "proof" that healing is not in the atonement, I have a lengthy objection reply devoted to this topic.

Jesus cast out evil spirits with a word. It should not take hours to get an individual delivered from a demon, as some purport today.

This appears to refer to the same event as Mark 1:32-24 and Luke 4:40-41.

Luke reveals that the healings were done by the laying on of hands and that demons cried out. Matthew and Mark do not mention either detail. Only Matthew ties these events to Isaiah 53:4.

See also:

Mark 1:32-34

Notes on Mark 1:32-34

Luke 4:40-41

Notes on Luke 4:40-41

Isaiah's Prophecy of Redemption

Sickness Is the Power of the Devil

YOU Can Be Healed

Objection: 1 Peter 2:25 Proves that 1 Peter 2:24 Just Means that You're Forgiven

Objection: Jesus Redeemed Us from Disease, but the Fulfillment of That Won't Come until We Get Glorified Bodies

Objection: Healing Is a Secondary Benefit of the Atonement, Not a Primary One

Objection: Isaiah 53:4 \(Matthew 8:17\) Was Fulfilled in Jesus' Earth Ministry and Cannot be Claimed as a Promise by Christians Today

Objection: Jesus Bore Our Sorrows and Grievs, Not Our Sicknesses and Pains, on the Cross

Objection: All Uses of Matthew's Greek Word for "That It Might Be Fulfilled" Refer to Events before the Atonement, So Matthew 8:17 Is Invalid As a Proof that Healing Is in the Atonement

Objection: There Is No Mention of the Atonement in Matthew 8:17 \(Fulfilling Isaiah 53:4\)

Objection: The Greek Word Used in Matthew 8:17 for "Took" Is Lambano, Which Never Means to Remove in a Mediatoral Sense

Objection: The Greek Word Used in Matthew 8:17 for "Bare" Is Bastazo, Which Is Never Used to Describe Atonement-Bearing of Sins and Diseases

Objection: Jesus' Bearing of Sicknesses Is Just a Metonymy

Objection: Matthew 8:17 Refers to Physical Pain and Mental Anguish that Jesus Endured in His Own Life

Objection: Jesus Did Not TAKE ON or BEAR Sicknesses in His Own Body in Matthew 8:17, So Isaiah Couldn't Have Meant That Literally

Objection: Isaiah 53:4 Is Chronological – the First Part Refers to Jesus' Earthly Healing Ministry and the Last Part to His Later Atonement. So His Bearing of Sicknesses Was Not Part of His Atonement.

Objection: Jesus Bore Our Sicknesses in Matthew 8:17 Due to the Exertion Involved in Channeling God's Healing Power

Objection: If Jesus Never Got Sick before His Atonement, He Did Not Fully Participate in Our Human Experience

Objection: Paul GLORIED in His INFIRMITIES – the Same Greek Word Used in Matthew 8:17 of What Jesus Took. If Matthew 8:17 Refers to the Atonement, How Could Paul Glory in What Christ Took Away?

Condition: Demon Possession

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Matthew 8:28-32:

And when he was come to the other side into the country of the Gergesenes, there met him two possessed with devils, coming out of the tombs, exceeding fierce, so that no man might pass by that way.

And behold, they cried out, saying, What have we to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of God? art thou come hither to torment us before the time?

And there was a good way off from them an herd of many swine feeding.

So the devils besought him, saying, If thou cast us out, suffer us to go away into the herd of swine.

And he said unto them, Go. And when they were come out, they went into the herd of swine: and behold, the whole herd of swine ran violently down a steep place into the sea, and perished in the waters.

Notes on Matthew 8:28-32:

This is one of those passages that Bible opponents like to cite as proof that the Bible contradicts itself, because other accounts talk about Jesus' interaction with only one of these two men. However, the fact that they don't mention both men is not really a contradiction. If one account said, "Josh spoke to Mike and Andy" and another said "Josh spoke to Mike," both would be true statements, though the first one would be more complete. This is why there are four gospels instead of one – what one leaves out, another includes. Reading all four gospels will give you the whole story.

Matthew doesn't mention that fact that one of these men fell down and worshipped Jesus, but Mark does. Matthew doesn't mention the fact that Jesus asked one of the men what his name was, but Luke does. Luke also mentions that one of these men fell down before Jesus. Mark and Luke give other details that are not included in Matthew's short summary.

See also:

Mark 5:2-20

Luke 8:27-39

Condition: Demon Possession

Matthew 9:2-8:

And, behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed: and Jesus seeing their faith said unto the sick of the palsy; Son, be of good cheer; thy sins be forgiven thee.

And, behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves, This man blasphemeth.

And Jesus knowing their thoughts said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts?

For whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise and walk?

But that ye may know that the Son of Man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (then saith he to the sick of the palsy,) Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thine house.

And he arose, and departed to his house.

But when the multitudes saw it, they marvelled, and glorified God, which had given such power unto - men.

Notes on Matthew 9:2-8:

Luke records some important details that Matthew omits, such as the fact that the power of the Lord was present to heal the religious leaders who were there. The paralytic got healed while the religious leaders did not. You should also read Luke's account of this incident to get the full picture.

See also:

Mark 2:2-12

Luke 5:17-26

Notes on Luke 5:17-26

According to YOUR FAITH Be It Done unto You!

Healing and Atonement

Healing and God's Glory

Condition: Paralysis

Matthew 9:18-25:

While he spake these things unto them, behold, there came a certain ruler, and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is even now dead: but come and lay thy hand upon her, and she shall live.

And Jesus arose, and followed him, and so did his disciples.

And behold, a woman, which was diseased with an issue of blood twelve years, came behind him, and touched the hem of his garment:

For she said within herself, If I may but touch his garment, I shall be whole.

But Jesus turned him about, and when he saw her, he said, Daughter, be of good comfort; thy faith hath made thee whole. And the woman was made whole from that hour.

And when Jesus came into the ruler's house, and saw the minstrels and the people making a noise, He said unto them, Give place: for the maid is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn. But when the people were put forth, he went in, and took her by the hand, and the maid arose.

Notes on Matthew 9:18-25:

Luke records the fact that Jesus said, "Maid, arise" when He took her by the hand.

This ruler did not have the all-too-common attitude, "Well, let's just try this and see if it works – what have I got to lose?" He worshipped Jesus before making the request. He obviously was convinced that Jesus was not a mere man like everyone else. You don't worship mere men, especially if you are a big shot yourself. Then he said, "Lay Your hand on her, and she shall live." He didn't say, "Try laying Your hand on her and let's see if maybe she will come back to life." His words showed his definite faith.

You need to teach your children to believe God. When they get older, they will have to believe God for themselves, but when they are still young, your faith can carry them, as was the case here. Of course, even if she were older, a dead girl would not be able to believe to raise herself anyway. However, the raising of the dead requires a manifestation of "special faith" – it is not something you can just go out and do whenever you want. You can't just go out and empty a cemetery by faith.

The story of the woman with the issue of blood appears elsewhere (see the references below), but only Matthew shares that she "said within herself" that she would be healed when she touched Jesus' clothes. In other words, she saw herself getting healed on the INSIDE before she ever saw it on the OUTSIDE. You need to follow her example and "see" yourself receiving healing, not going without it.

See also:

Mark 5:22-43

Luke 8:41-56

According to YOUR FAITH Be It Done unto You!

Get Away from Unbelief

Why Did Jesus Tell Some People Not to Tell Anyone about Their Healings?

Is "Seeing Yourself Healed" a New Age Visualization Technique?

Condition: Hemorrhaging

Condition: Nonviability

Matthew 9:27-30:

And when Jesus departed thence, two blind men followed him, crying, and saying, Thou Son of David, have mercy on us.

And when he was come into the house, the blind men came to him: and Jesus saith unto them, Believe ye that I am able to do this? They said unto him, Yea, Lord.

Then touched he their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it unto you.

And their eyes were opened; and Jesus straightway charged them, saying, See that no man know it.

Notes on Matthew 9:27-30:

These blind men had to follow Jesus, perhaps for a while, and go to where He was. The only reason they did is that they believed Jesus could heal them. Here we see that the blind men, as many others, considered healing a mercy. Because Jesus is our merciful High Priest, you should expect the same mercy from Him today.

This also shows that healing was not a publicity stunt; Jesus told the formerly blind men not to go around telling people what had happened. Jesus was moved by compassion for the sick, not by a desire to make a big name for Himself.

Sadly, there are places today, including many churches, where you could be better off not telling anyone what Jesus did for you, lest they all try to talk their unbelief into you and get you to give up your healing, which in some cases they will assert was “of the devil!” Because some people ascribed Jesus’ actions to the devil in the Bible, you can bet that there will be some people who do so today.

See also:

According to YOUR FAITH Be It Done unto You!

Get Away from Unbelief

Must We Lay hands on the Specific Afflicted Body Part?

Why Did Jesus Tell Some People Not to Tell Anyone about Their Healings?

Condition: Blindness

Matthew 9:32-33:

As they went out, behold, they brought to him a dumb man possessed with a devil. And when the devil was cast out, the dumb spake: and the multitudes marvelled, saying, It was never so seen in Israel.

Notes on Matthew 9:32-33:

The word “dumb” in the King James means “non-speaking,” not “stupid” as in the modern usage of the word (for example, “Books written against divine healing are full of dumb arguments”).

There are cases where a demon impels someone to never say anything. I ministered to such a man in a nursing home for the mentally ill, and he spoke for the first time in a long while. There was nothing physically wrong with his vocal chords; it was a demonic issue. We have authority to cast out “mute spirits” today when we encounter them. If there were mute spirits then, there are mute spirits today, since they’ve never left the earth. They just look for new victims to oppress when the old victim dies or gets delivered.

See also:

Luke 11:14

Condition: Demon Possession

Condition: Dumbness

Matthew 9:35:

And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people.

Notes on Matthew 9:35:

This is another verse Jesus in action teaching, preaching and healing. (Delivering is also implicit here because some conditions are demonic and Jesus healed them ALL.) Those with healing ministries today need to teach and preach God's Word rather than just waiting for the Holy Spirit to manifest Himself in the gifts of healings.

This is also another verse demonstrating Jesus' ability and will to heal EVERY sickness and EVERY disease. Because He is the same today, He is still willing and able to heal EVERY sickness and disease today, including ones that weren't around back then or known by the specific names that we would use today.

See also:

YOU Can Be Healed

Objection: Jesus Did Not Have Healings of Backaches and Headaches – Non-Organic Diseases that One Can't Verify Visually – But Claims of Such Are Common with Faith Healers Who Lack His Power

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Matthew 10:1:

And when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease.

Notes on Matthew 10:1:

The anointing to heal the sick is transferable. In this case, Jesus gave His disciples the ability to do the works that He did when they preached in places where He was not going in person. This is similar in some ways to Paul's use of cloth items in Acts 19:11-12.

You may also note that when a minister transfers the anointing to another individual to complete a task, that anointing does not necessarily stay permanently. If it did, the disciples would not have had to wait to receive the Holy Spirit to do the miracles they did in Acts – they could have gone out and done them based on this transfer of power described here. The anointing was on them to complete a particular task. For a modern example, a healing evangelist may lay hands on someone and ask him to lay hands on some sick people in a service. That does not mean that the other person will now have a similar healing ministry. (By the way, the term “healing evangelist” is actually redundant from a Biblical perspective, because there is no record of the Lord calling anyone to be a non-healing evangelist. You would expect the “power gifts” – healings, miracles, special faith – to flow through a minister who stands in the evangelist's office. Philip, the only one referred to as an evangelist by name in Scripture, flowed in signs and wonders. The others who were sent out with the “good news” were also called to heal the sick. I use the term healing evangelist in this book, but only because today some people call any preacher who isn't a pastor an evangelist, Biblically incorrect as this is, and I am making a distinction between all non-pastors and the non-pastors who actually stand in the office of evangelist and have healings follow their ministries.)

You can see that Jesus did not do miracles just because He was the Son of God. The twelve disciples were not members of the Trinity, yet here they were given the power to do the same things Jesus did.

It should come as no surprise today that the Lord anoints preachers to minister to the sick because that was the pattern in Scripture.

Notice that Jesus never sent people out to “pray for” the sick. He sent them out to heal the sick by His authority. There's a big difference, though sometimes healing ministers use the term “praying for the sick” to mean taking authority over sickness in people's bodies. We know what they mean even though the words may not be technically correct. There are similar cases in everyday life. A sign between two toll booth lanes coming onto the Maine Turnpike told me, “Use Both Lanes” but I explained to the toll collector that I could not comply with the sign because I could only use one of the two lanes. (I did know what the sign meant; I was just trying to liven up the toll collector's day. A toll collector once told me how boring his job was.) Likewise, “Violators will be towed” is barbaric compared to “Violators' cars will be towed,” but again, you know what the sign means. So just because someone talks about “praying for” the sick doesn't necessarily mean that they are doing something Jesus didn't do.

Mark and Luke add a detail that Matthew omits – that the 12 were sent out to PREACH as well as HEAL. It is just as important to share the Word as it is to be willing to lay hands on the sick.

Jesus gave power to 12 men, not 11. That means that the thief Judas Iscariot was given the same authority over sicknesses and demons as the other 11 original apostles. So we see that being given this kind of authority comes from being with Jesus, not from living a perfect moral life. If God could use Judas Iscariot in signs and wonders, surely he can use you!

See also:

Mark 3:14-15

Mark 6:7

Luke 9:1-2

YOU Can Be Healed

YOU Can Do Miracles

Can We Believe for a Dead Person to be Raised?

Are Some Illnesses Harder to Be Healed of than Others?

Must We Fast and Pray to Make Certain Demons Leave?

Condition: Demon Possession

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Matthew 10:7-8:

And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand.
Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils, freely ye have received, freely give.

Notes on Matthew 10:7-8:

When the kingdom of heaven is at hand, people get healed! Note that the disciples were called to preach, not just heal people. Also, notice that the disciples were told to heal the sick, not “lift up the sick in prayer” (or worse yet, “remember the sick”). How could they be confident when doing so? Because in Matthew 10:1, Jesus gave them that authority.

The fact that raising the dead is mentioned in here leads to an obvious question: Is that something we should all be doing? The answer is no. The Great Commission includes laying hands on the sick, but it does not include a promise that we can “claim” for the raising of the dead. The next obvious question is, “If raising the dead is not something we can all do by faith, can we think that any of the commands applies to us?” Yes, when people were called to preach Christ, healing of the sick went along with that calling. However, raising of the dead did not always go along with that calling. This is done exclusively by the gifts of the Spirit as the Spirit wills, not by normal faith. (This requires the kind of special faith alluded to in 1 Corinthians 12:8-11.) Observe that in Matthew 10:1, Jesus gave His disciples authority to heal the sick, cleanse the lepers (included in “all manner of disease”) and to cast out unclean spirits. The one thing on the list in this verse that was not included in the other verse was the raising of the dead. This shows that they did not have general authority to raise the dead but they had it in the other areas.

Preaching that the kingdom is here NOW is vastly different from the all-too-common preaching that the kingdom will “soon” come in great power in the form of a future awesome revival. Don’t wait! Go out and do the works of Jesus NOW!

See also:

Can We Believe for a Dead Person to be Raised?

YOU Can Do Miracles

The Kingdom of God is Here NOW

Condition: Demon Possession

Condition: Leprosy

Condition: Nonviability

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Matthew 11:4-5:

Jesus answered and said unto them, Go and shew John again those things which ye do hear and see: The blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have the gospel preached to them.

Notes on Matthew 11:4-5:

This came about because John the Baptist, now incarcerated by Herod, questioned whether Jesus was really the Messiah. This shows that even strong people can get “down” at times. John was famous for his bold preaching about Jesus. He said that Jesus was the Lamb of God who takes away the sins of the world. John wasn’t doubting it when he said that. Why would he be doubting it now in prison? The Bible doesn’t tell us. However, being locked up in prison for a long time would certainly seem to be discouraging, and perhaps John thought that if Jesus was who He said that He was, He would have gotten him out by now. That’s pure speculation; no one knows for sure. Even Elijah got discouraged after a mighty victory. God uses real people.

See also:

Luke 7:20-23

Condition: Blindness

Condition: Deafness

Condition: Lameness

Condition: Leprosy

Condition: Nonviability

Matthew 12:10-13:

And, behold, there was a man which had his hand withered. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath days? that they might accuse him.

And he said unto them, What man shall there be among you, that shall have one sheep, and if it fall into a pit on the sabbath day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out?

How much then is a man better than a sheep? Wherefore it is lawful to do well on the sabbath days.

Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it forth; and it was restored whole, like as the other.

Notes on Matthew 12:10-13:

There will always be those who won't rejoice with you when you get healed because they don't believe in divine healing. They would rather have you stay sick than to think that maybe you know something that they don't know.

Jesus never touched the man. Sometimes in a healing service, your healing may be "called out" and you can be healed without anyone touching you. Do not put God into a box by thinking that the only way you can get healed is to go up in a prayer line and have hands laid on you.

The version in Mark 3:1-5 shows that Jesus gets angry when people are more caught up with religious nit-picking than with seeing the sick healed.

See also:

Mark 3:1-5

Luke 6:6-10

Condition: Withering

Matthew 12:15:

But when Jesus knew it, he withdrew himself from thence: and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all;

Notes on Matthew 12:15:

Here we see a pattern in Jesus' ministry. Those seeking healing actively went to where Jesus was to get healed. Jesus did not walk around the villages making "house calls" at random. The sick followed Him; He didn't follow them. The sick who had the faith to follow Him for healing were NEVER turned down.

It's obvious here that Jesus wanted some "alone time," but when the multitudes followed Him, His compassion moved Him to heal them anyway.

See also:

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Matthew 12:22:

Then was brought to him one possessed with a devil, blind, and dumb: and he healed him, insomuch that the blind and dumb both spake and saw.

Notes on Matthew 12:22:

Blindness is often a physical issue, not a demonic one. Some people are born without certain body parts that are required to see. Others have had these parts damaged by accidents or diseases. However, this verse shows that in some cases, at least, blindness (as well as inability to speak) can be brought on by a demon, and it will be completely cured when the demon is cast out.

See also:

Condition: Blindness

Condition: Dumbness

Matthew 13:15:

For this people's heart is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes they have closed; lest at any time they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and should understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them.

Notes on Matthew 13:15:

There is an important lesson in this verse. If you hear with your ears, and understand with your heart, and are converted (which I assume that you probably are – if not, please read How to Be Saved from Your Sins immediately), you should expect God to heal you! The reason so many were not healed (either physically or emotionally) is that they were not listening to God when He spoke. God was willing to heal them all the time, but the Bible pattern is, "Hear and be healed," not, "Just try to get healing without any giving time or effort to the study of God's Word."

Note that it was the people's choice to become dull and callous – that wasn't God's will.

See also:

John 12:39-41

Acts 28:27

Notes on Acts 28:27

Objection: Matthew 13:15, John 12:39-41 and Acts 28:27 Prove that HEALED in 1 Peter 2:24 Doesn't Have to Mean Physically Healed

Objection: Vine's Expository Dictionary Says that 1 Peter 2:24 Is Figurative of Spiritual Healing

Matthew 13:54-58:

And when he was come into his own country, he taught them in the synagogue, insomuch that they were astonished, and said, Whence hath this man this wisdom, and these mighty works?

Is not this the carpenter's son? is not his mother called Mary? and his brethren, James, and Joses, and Simon, and Judas?

And his sisters, are they not all with us? Whence then hath this man all these things?

And they were offended in him. But Jesus said unto them, A prophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and in his own house.

And he did not many mighty works there because of their unbelief.

Notes on Matthew 13:54-58:

People who know you well in the natural sometimes have trouble receiving from you. Many of us can attest that family members are often the least enthralled with our Christian exploits. There is another danger here, too – if you are too friendly with your pastor so that he becomes “ol’ buddy ol’ pal” to you, you will have a hard time receiving the anointing that God has placed in him for your benefit. It is important to separate the person from the gifting that God has placed in him to help you grow up in Christ. If you’re ever in the emergency room at midnight, you’ll want your pastor there, not your pal.

Not knowing the Word is ignorance. Hearing the Word but not acting on it is unbelief. The people at Nazareth were in unbelief. Jesus taught them in the synagogue (and it wasn’t the first time He did that in Nazareth, either). So they HEARD the Word but they did not ACT on it.

Matthew’s account is valuable because it shows us that the issue was unbelief and not ignorance because Jesus taught the people. Mark doesn’t mention that Jesus taught the people before He ministered healing.

See also:

Mark 6:1-6

Notes on Mark 6:1-6

According to YOUR FAITH Be It Done unto You!

All About Healing Services

Objection: To Preach that Jesus COULD NOT Do Miracles at Nazareth Is to Deny His Deity and God’s Sovereignty. Therefore, the Only Reason He Could Not Would Be that People Did Not Bring the Sick.

Objection: It’s Not Always God’s Will to Heal – He Didn’t Heal Many at Nazareth

Objection: We Cannot Expect to Heal as Jesus Did Because We Are Not the Son of God

Matthew 14:14:

And Jesus went forth, and saw a great multitude, and was moved with compassion toward them, and he healed their sick.

Notes on Matthew 14:14:

This is one of many places where we can see that Jesus was moved with compassion for the sick, and that was His reason for healing them. He was not simply showing off or proving His deity. Besides that, He didn't heal anyone because He was God, anyway; He did so as a Man anointed by the Holy Spirit. If He did things because He was God, you couldn't do what He did. Yet Jesus said that you would do the works that He did and greater.

See also:

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

God's Mercy and Compassion

YOU Can Be Healed

Objection: Jesus Did Not Have Healings of Backaches and Headaches – Non-Organic Diseases that One Can't Verify Visually – But Claims of Such Are Common with Faith Healers Who Lack His Power

Objection: Unlike Faith Healers, Jesus Took People Aside to Heal Them

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Matthew 14:35-36:

And when the men of that place had knowledge of him, they sent out into all that country round about, and brought unto him all that were diseased;
And besought him that they might only touch the hem of his garment: and as many as touched were made perfectly whole.

Notes on Matthew 14:35-36:

Again, the sick were brought to Jesus. Jesus did not just go around automatically healing everyone. On many occasions like this one, power went out of Jesus and healed all who touched Him. We know from the story of the woman with the issue of blood that Jesus would not necessarily know who touched Him! It was not His faith in operation. It was the healing anointing on Him – Peter said that God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Spirit and with power; that is how He went around doing good and healing all who were oppressed of the devil (Acts 10:78). The very word Christ means “Anointed.” (It is not Jesus’ last name; He did not grow up in the home of Joseph and Mary Christ. He was not in some papyrus census record as “Christ, Jesus.”) The power of the Holy Spirit, coupled with faith in those who came to be healed, produced healing in all who came to receive it.

You can see how Jesus could not have made exceptions for some of the sick, expecting them to stay that way for some modern theological reason. The anointing was available to anyone; all you had to do was get near enough to Jesus to touch His clothes! Jesus did not decide who would touch His garment and receive healing – the people decided whether or not to go where He was and touch His garment.

See also:

Mark 6:54-56

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

The Healing Anointing

Healing and Evangelism

YOU can be healed

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Matthew 15:22-28:

And behold, a woman of Canaan came out of the same coasts, and cried unto him, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou Son of David; my daughter is grievously vexed with a devil.

But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, Send her away, for she crieth after us.

But he answered and said, I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

Then came she and worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me.

But he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it to dogs.

And she said, Truth, Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their masters' table.

Then Jesus answered and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt.

And her daughter was made whole from that very hour.

Notes on Matthew 15:22-28:

There was a reason for the disciples' apparent rudeness. They were correct that the woman did not have the right to get healing for her daughter because she wasn't a Jew. In a way, she was being rude, but she was desperate to get what she saw Jesus giving out to the Jews. That is why the disciples were sending her away. (They did not send anyone in the multitudes of Jews away, except for small children, and Jesus rebuked them for forbidding the children to come.) Jesus made sure that the woman understood this.

Here healing is referred to as the "children's bread." If you are a child of God, it belongs to you. It is part of your sustenance that you should expect to receive from God. You need to understand that as a Christian under God's new covenant, you are not one of the dogs waiting for their masters' crumbs. You are one of the ones seated at the table!

Jesus did not call the woman a dog. He made an analogy to a family with dogs. You don't take the children's food and give it to the dogs. The children here were strictly Israelites, not Gentiles. Jesus was saying, "It isn't right for the Gentiles to get the Jews' blessings." This was legally true, yet because of her great faith, God made an exception for her. She got a blessing that she didn't even qualify for due to her dogged persistence in pursuing what she needed.

See also:

Mark 7:25-30

According to YOUR FAITH Be It Done unto You!

Different Ways to Get Healed

God's Blessing on Your Kids

Can I Believe and Receive a Healing for Someone Else?

Objection: Jesus Told a Greek Woman NO When She Came for Deliverance for Her Daughter

Objection: We Should Pray, "If It Be Thy Will" Concerning Our Healing

Objection: God Sometimes Heals Crybaby Christians Who Bug Him Enough Just As He Gave Israel a King

When They Kept Bugging Him – Even Though It Wasn't His Perfect Will
Condition: Demon Possession

Matthew 15:30-31:

And great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jesus' feet; and he healed them.

Insomuch that the multitude wondered, then they saw the dumb to speak, the maimed to be whole, the lame to walk, and the blind to see: and they glorified the God of Israel.

Notes on Matthew 15:30-31:

It is inconvenient to bring a blind person or a crippled person somewhere to be healed. Remember that they did not have cars back then! Many times these sick people had to be led or carried all the way to where Jesus was. You would not go through that kind of effort unless you really believed that it would pay off, which of course, it did. We see again the pattern that the sick had to be brought or had to get where Jesus was on their own. Jesus did not run around from house to house looking for sick people. These people were totally convinced that they could receive healing from Jesus. That is how people need to be today. Unfortunately, many people today expect God to do everything while they are unwilling to believe anything. "If God wants me well, He'll heal me," they shrug. That attitude would not have resulted in healing in Bible days and it will not result in healing today, either.

Today you have a privilege that the sick multitudes never had – you can receive the healing that Jesus paid for ANYWHERE without having to go to where He is. Of course, He is in heaven now, so you couldn't go to Him in the sense that the multitudes did. However, you COULD go where one of His followers is to receive healing. Believers are authorized to minister healing in His name because they are part of His Body on the earth.

However, you still have to do something. You have to believe, as they did, that you receive your healing. You cannot wait for God to do something. He already did something. In fact, He's already done everything that He's going to do. Until you see that, you don't really understand how to receive your healing.

Notice that the maimed were healed as well as those with other conditions. If you've been in an accident, you're still covered under God's divine healing policy!

See also:

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

Healing and God's Glory

Can I Get Healed of Injuries from Accidents as Well as Diseases?

When a Disease Is Healed, Can I Receive Healing for the Damage It Caused?

Objection: "Faith Healers" Call Attention to Man and Thus Rob the Lord of Due Glory

Objection: God Gets Glory from Our Patient Endurance of Sickness

Objection: Jesus Did Not Have Healings of Backaches and Headaches – Non-Organic Diseases that One Can't Verify Visually – But Claims of Such Are Common with Faith Healers Who Lack His Power

Objection: Unlike Faith Healers, Jesus Took People Aside to Heal Them

Condition: Blindness

Condition: Dumbness

Condition: Injuries

Condition: Lameness

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Matthew 17:14-21:

And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a certain man, kneeling down to him and saying,

Lord, have mercy on my son: for he is lunatick, and sore vexed: for oftentimes he falleth into the fire, and oft into the water.

And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him.

Then Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him hither to me.

And Jesus rebuked the devil; and he departed out of him: and the child was cured from that very hour.

Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and said, Why could we not cast him out?

And Jesus answered and said unto them, Because of your unbelief: for verily, I say unto you, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove, and nothing shall be impossible unto you.

Howbeit this kind goeth not out but by prayer and fasting.

Notes on Matthew 17:14-21:

Today, people would have used the disciples' failure to prove that God does not always want to heal. However, the problem was with the disciples. Jesus had already given them the authority to cast out all evil spirits (not just "little" ones), so there is no question that they had the authority to do it. However, they did not operate in faith based on that authority. Jesus came and did the job. This proves that someone can miss out on healing because of lack of faith on the part of the minister doing the praying as well as lack of faith on the part of the person who needs the healing.

The prayer and fasting Jesus talked about would not have been directed toward that particular demon. Jesus had just found out about the situation; He could not have spent special time praying about the situation or trying to "fast out" that particular demon. He meant that you will not walk in the kind of faith that such a situation requires unless you have spent time praying and fasting before you encounter the situation. The prayer and fasting are things you do in your private life, not special responses once you find out about a particular need.

The second-to-last verse in the passage above actually reads differently in one Greek manuscript that is the basis for some translations. Instead of "Because of your unbelief," the Greek, and the translated English, say "Because of your little faith." This leaves us questioning which of these manuscripts we should go by. This matter is discussed in the article Must We Fast and Pray to Make Certain Demons Leave?

The last verse in the passage above has been the center of some controversy – did Jesus mean "this kind" of demon, "this kind" of faith or "this kind" of unbelief? This matter is settled in the article Must We Fast and Pray to Make Certain Demons Leave?

See also:

Mark 9:17-29

Notes on Mark 9:17-29

Luke 9:38-42

According to YOUR FAITH Be It Done unto You!

Speaking to Mountains, Trees and Diseases

Must We Fast and Pray to Make Certain Demons Leave?

How Can I Get Rid of Unbelief?

What Is the Difference between Unbelief and Doubt?

Are Some Illnesses Harder to be Healed of than Others?

Objection: Faith Is Simply Trust in God, Not a Force that You Use to Change Things Yourself

Objection: Many Do Not Get Healed after Prayer Is Made for Their Healing

Objection: Jesus Let People Fail to Remind Them How Much They Needed Him

Condition: Demon Possession

Matthew 19:2:

And great multitudes followed him; and he healed them there.

Notes on Matthew 19:2:

This must have been quite a crowd, because if a multitude followed Him, that would be a lot of people. But here multitudes_s in the plural followed Him. Not only that, but they were great multitudes. As we see in many other passages, the people followed Him when they wanted to get healed; Jesus was not running around looking for sick people.

See also:

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

YOU Can Be Healed

Objection: Unlike Faith Healers, Jesus Took People Aside to Heal Them

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Matthew 20:30-34:

And behold, two blind men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Jesus passed by, cried out, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou Son of David.

And the multitude rebuked them, because they should hold their peace: but they cried the more, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou Son of David.

And Jesus stood still, and called them, and said, What will ye that I shall do unto you?

They say unto him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened.

So Jesus had compassion on them, and touched their eyes: and immediately their eyes received sight, and they followed him.

Notes on Matthew 20:30-34:

These blind men paid a social price to get their healing. They had to ignore the peer pressure and the rebukes of the multitude. However, their perseverance got Jesus' attention! You may have to pay a social price because of unenlightened friends and relatives and even fellow church members who do not believe in divine healing. Be desperate enough to stick with it and get your healing! Don't let doubters talk you out of it!

You may wonder why Jesus asked two blind men what they wanted! Actually, not everyone who is blind, deaf, or otherwise handicapped ("differently abled" for the "politically correct" crowd) wants to be healed. Jesus did not assume anything; He made them say what they wanted to get. If you want healing, you'll have to speak it out of your mouth, too.

Not everyone with a condition really wants to be healed! Some people don't want to be healed because they don't want to part with their disability payments and have to work. Some people don't want to be healed because then they would have nothing to complain about and get sympathy. Some deaf or blind people may not want to be healed because they fear losing their friends with similar conditions and being tossed out of the only culture they've ever known. Some people just don't want anything to do with something that involves effort on their part. So you can never just assume that someone wants to be healed.

The fact that they used the phrase "Son of David" showed their faith that Jesus was the prophesied Messiah. Obviously they knew that He wasn't David's literal son like Solomon.

Mark adds a couple of details that Matthew omits – see Mark 10:46-52 and the accompanying Notes on Mark 10:46-52.

See also:

Mark 10:46-52

Notes on Mark 10:46-52

God's Mercy and Compassion

Must We Lay Hands on the Specific Afflicted Body Part?

Condition: Blindness

Matthew 21:14:

And the blind and the lame came to him in the temple, and he healed them.

Notes on Matthew 21:14:

Obviously the blind and the lame didn't think that Jesus was having anger management problems even though He had just cleansed the temple of merchants and moneychangers and made a mess of their tables. The blind and the lame still came to Him for healing – and got healed! What Jesus did wasn't a hissy fit; it was due to righteous indignation. There's a difference.

It must have involved extra effort for either a blind person or a lame person to reach the temple. These people meant business and they got what they came for!

See also:

Condition: Blindness

Condition: Lameness

Matthew 27:52-53:

And the graves were opened; and many bodies of the saints which slept arose,
And came out of the graves after his resurrection, and went into the holy city, and appeared unto many.

Notes on Matthew 27:52-53:

“Slept” is a Bible idiom for “were dead” – this does not refer to a bunch of people who just liked to sleep in graveyards because Matthew says explicitly that the graves were opened.

Punctuation was absent from the original Greek; it was added by the translators. I think it is safe to say that the verses would be better broken up as follows:

And the graves were opened;
And many bodies of the saints which slept arose and came out of the graves after his resurrection, and went into the holy city, and appeared unto many.

As it would not make sense for the saints to hang out in the cemetery for 3 days before going elsewhere, it seems obvious that the graves were opened when Christ was on the cross, but the saints did not come back to life and come out of those opened graves until Christ’s resurrection. Because there was an earthquake, perhaps that earthquake opened the graves. It wouldn’t be the last time that an earthquake targeted specific things; the earthquake in Acts 16:26 broke the prisoners’ chains.

Also, the new birth was not available until Jesus rose from the dead because He had to be the firstborn of many brethren (Romans 8:29). It would not make as much sense for these people to rise until the new birth was available.

Matthew is the only one who recorded this incident, but that doesn’t make it any less true. (Either you believe the Bible or you don’t.) Nothing is mentioned about what ended up happening to these people, so any speculation is just that – speculation. Beware of filling in the blanks where the Bible leaves blanks.

See also:

Condition: Nonviability

Mark 1:23-26:

And there was in their synagogue a man with an unclean spirit; and he cried out, Saying, Let us alone; what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art, the Holy One of God.

And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him.

And when the unclean spirit had torn him, and cried with a loud voice, he came out of him.

Notes on Mark 1:23-26:

Jesus did not carry on conversations with demons. He ordered them to stop talking.

The fact that an evil spirit may holler or severely shake the person when it comes out should not faze you. Stand your ground and it has to go.

In MOST of the cases when Jesus cast out demons, no specific external manifestation is mentioned. This was a case similar to that of the demonized boy whom the disciples failed to deliver (Matthew 17:14-21 and elsewhere).

Demons have Satan's nature. They are liars. It appears that this one was, because he referred to himself in the plural, but the account says that there was only one of him! This is one good reason not to bother asking demons their names, as is covered elsewhere. In fact it's a good reason not to have conversations of any kind with demons!

Matthew says that the demon "tore him" on the way out and cried with a loud voice. Luke notes that the demon "threw him in the midst" on its way out. On occasion there may be such a manifestation when a demon leaves, but there doesn't have to be ANY physical manifestation. There usually was no manifestation mentioned; cases where there was one were the exception.

See also:

Luke 4:33-36

The Word AND the Anointing!

Should We Ask Demons Their Names Before Casting Them Out?

Condition: Demon Possession

Mark 1:30-31:

But Simon's wife's mother lay sick of a fever, and anon [immediately] they tell him of her. And he came and took her by the hand, and lifted her up; and immediately the fever left her, and she ministered unto them.

Notes on Mark 1:30-31:

Jesus also rebuked the fever in the same stern way that He would rebuke a demon. This only appears in Luke's account (Luke 4:38-39). Luke called it a great fever.

See also:

Matthew 8:14-15

Notes on Matthew 8:14-15

Luke 4:38-39

Must We Lay Hands on the Specific Afflicted Body Part?

Condition: Fever

Mark 1:32-34:

And at even [evening], when the sun did set, they brought unto him all that were diseased, and them that were possessed with devils.

And all the city was gathered together at the door.

And he healed many that were sick of divers diseases, and cast out many devils; and suffered not the devils to speak, because they knew him.

Notes on Mark 1:32-34:

This appears to refer to the same event as Matthew 8:16-17 and Luke 4:40-41.

The term “divers diseases” is King James language for diverse diseases and does not refer to maladies that divers can get such as “the bends,” though God’s healing covenant would cover those as well.

Luke reveals that the healings were done by the laying on of hands and that demons cried out. Matthew and Mark do not mention either detail. Only Matthew ties these events to Isaiah 53:4.

See also:

Matthew 8:16-17

Notes on Matthew 8:16-17

Luke 4:40-41

Notes on Luke 4:40-41

Laying Hands on the Sick

Healing and Evangelism

It Might Only Take One

Condition: Demon Possession

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Mark 1:39:

And he preached in their synagogues throughout all Galilee, and cast out devils.

Notes on Mark 1:39:

Apparently Jesus didn't consider it necessary to take people who need deliverance into a back room somewhere. He preached in their synagogues and cast out demons. He had just cast a demon out of someone in a synagogue where He was teaching (Mark 1:23-26).

As you can see, Jesus did not merely go around healing the sick. He preached all over the place, too. It is important that people hear the Word as well as be exposed to the anointing.

See also:

Condition: Demon Possession

Mark 1:40-45:

And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

And Jesus, moved with compassion, put forth his hand, and touched him, and saith unto him, I will; be thou clean.

And as soon as he had spoken, immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was cleansed.

And he straitly charged him, saying, and forthwith sent him away;

And saith unto him, See thou say nothing to any man: but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing those things which Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

But he went out, and began to publish it much, and to blaze abroad the matter, insomuch that Jesus could no more openly enter into the city, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from every quarter.

See also:

Matthew 8:2-4

Notes on Matthew 8:2-4

Luke 5:12-15

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

God's Mercy and Compassion

Why Did Jesus Tell Some People Not to Tell Anyone about Their Healings?

Objection: It's up to God – God Will Heal Me If He Wants to

Objection: I Got a Debilitating Disease and Cried, "Why Me?" And the Lord Answered, "Why NOT You?"

Condition: Leprosy

Mark 2:2-12:

And straightway many were gathered together, insomuch that there was no room to receive them, no not so much as about the door: and he preached the word unto them.

And they came unto him, bringing one sick of the palsy, which was borne of four.

And when they could not come nigh unto him for the press, they uncovered the roof where he was: and when they had broken it up, they let down the bed wherein the sick of the palsy lay.

When Jesus saw their faith, he said unto the sick of the palsy, Son, thy sins be forgiven thee.

But there were certain of the scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts,

Why doth this man thus speak blasphemies? who can forgive sins but God only?

And immediately when Jesus perceived in his spirit that they so reasoned within themselves, he said unto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts?

Whether is it easier to say to the sick of the palsy, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise and take up thy bed, and walk?

But that ye may know that the Son of Man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (he saith to the sick of the palsy,)

I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy bed, and go thy way into thine house.

And immediately he arose, took up the bed, and went forth before them all; insomuch that they were all amazed, and glorified God, saying, We never saw it on this fashion.

Notes on Mark 2:2-12:

Luke gives us the additional information that there were Pharisees as well as scribes present who had come from all over the place, and that the power of the Lord was present to heal them – though only the paralytic actually got healed. Luke also adds that the paralytic glorified God after he was healed.

See also:

Matthew 9:2-8

Luke 5:17-26

Notes on Luke 5:17-26

Healing and Atonement

Healing and God's Glory

Objection: "Faith Healers" Call Attention to Man and Thus Rob the Lord of Due Glory

Condition: Paralysis

Mark 3:1-5:

And he entered again into the synagogue; and there was a man there which had a withered hand.
And they watched him, whether he would heal him on the sabbath day, that they might accuse him.
And he saith unto the man which had the withered hand, Stand forth.
And he saith unto them, Is it lawful to do good on the sabbath days, or to do evil? to save life, or to kill?
But they held their peace.
And when he had looked round about on them with anger, being grieved for the hardness of their hearts, He saith unto the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it out: and his hand was restored whole as the other.

See also:

Matthew 12:10-13

Notes on Matthew 12:10-13

Luke 6:6-10

Condition: Withering

Mark 3:10-12:

For he had healed many; insomuch that they pressed upon him for to touch him, as many as had plagues.

And unclean spirits, when they saw him, fell down before him, and cried, saying, Thou art the Son of God.

And he straitly charged them that they should not make him known.

Notes on Mark 3:10-12:

This shows that Jesus had the authority to make evil spirits shut up, and you now have that authority in Him. You do not have to let demons run their mouths. Jesus' two main statements to demons were "Be quiet!" and "Come out!" and the demons had to obey His words. He did not get into conversations with them, and neither should you.

We can see again that it was compassion and not a desire for publicity that motivated Jesus. He actually tried NOT to be known in this passage!

See also:

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

The Healing Anointing

YOU Can Be Healed

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Mark 3:14-15:

And he ordained twelve, that they should be with him, and that he might send them forth to preach,
And to have power to heal sicknesses, and to cast out devils:

Notes on Mark 3:14-15:

In Mark 6:7, Jesus does something similar, though only demons are mentioned, and there is the added detail that He sent them out two by two.

See also:

Matthew 10:1

Notes on Matthew 10:1

Mark 6:7

Luke 9:1-2

Are Some Illnesses Harder to Be Healed of than Others?

Condition: Demon Possession

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Mark 5:2-20:

And when he was come out of the ship, immediately there met him out of the tombs a man with an unclean spirit,

Who had his dwelling among the tombs; and no man could bind him, no, not with chains:

Because that he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been plucked asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: neither could any man tame him.

And always, night and day, he was in the mountains, and in the tombs, crying, and cutting himself with stones.

But when he saw Jesus afar off, he ran and worshipped him,

And cried in a loud voice, and said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of the most high God? I adjure thee by God, that thou torment me not.

For he said unto him, Come out of the man, thou unclean spirit.

And he asked him, What is thy name? And he answered, saying, My name is Legion: for we are many.

And he besought him much that he would not send them away out of the country.

Now there was there nigh unto the mountains a great herd of swine feeding.

And all the devils besought him, saying, Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them.

And forthwith Jesus gave them leave. And the unclean spirits went out, and entered into the swine: and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the sea, (they were about two thousand;) and were choked in the sea.

And they that fed the swine fled, and told it in the city, and in the country. And they went out to see what it was that was done.

And they come to Jesus, and see him that was possessed with the devil, and had the legion, sitting, and clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid.

And they that saw it told them how it befell to him that was possessed with the devil, and also concerning the swine.

And they began to pray him to depart out of their coasts.

And when he was come into the ship, he that had been possessed with the devil prayed him that he might be with him.

Howbeit Jesus suffered him not, but saith unto him, Go home to thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had compassion on thee.

And he departed, and began to publish in Decapolis how great things Jesus had done for him: and all men did marvel.

Notes on Mark 5:2-20:

This same event is also described in Matthew 8:28-32 and Luke 8:27-39. We learn from Matthew that there was a second man in a similar condition. Mark's account almost sounds like Jesus was carrying on a conversion with a demon, asking it for its name. Luke's gospel clarifies that Jesus asked the man (not the demon) what his name was. This is another example that illustrates why there are four gospels and not just one – so that you can get the complete picture.

Luke records that the man fell down before Jesus, but someone could fall down for many reasons. Only Mark makes it clear that the reason was to worship Jesus. You can't just run around casting demons out of everyone who has one, as not everyone wants to be free. However, the fact that this man ran and worshipped Jesus indicates that he had a strong desire for Jesus to set him free. Of course, a demon manifested in short order, but the demon would not have worshipped Jesus! This was a voluntary act on the man's part. This is yet another disproof of the Hollywood version of demon possession where someone is so demon-possessed that he can't control his actions anymore. Here is a man who was so full of demonic power that he could cut shackles and no one could tame him. He cut himself with stones under demonic influence. This man had a whole legion of demons. Yet even someone that demon-controlled chose to worship Jesus and run toward Him to get help. His actions would have been the last thing that a legion of demons would want him to do!

This story should tell you something about the modern practice of cutting yourself. Those "cut-yourself" demons didn't leave the earth after going into pigs and killing the pigs. There are still demons around today that try to get people, including schoolchildren, to cut themselves intentionally.

Isn't it interesting that Jesus was asked to leave the area after getting this man free? Not everyone appreciates the manifested power of God. Don't expect everyone to love you if you cast out demons.

If you testified as this man did after getting a major miracle, some churches would kick you out because they would be sure that the devil did it! But if that is the case, kicking you out would be doing you a big favor to get you away from their unbelief. Jesus didn't tell all the people to broadcast their miracles; in some cases He ordered them to be quiet. If everyone around you is in unbelief, staying quiet could still be a good idea today so that the "unbelieving believers" don't talk you out of your miracle.

Jesus told this man to testify to others in the area about his miracle. He didn't tell everyone to do that; He ordered some people to be quiet instead. In this case, Jesus must have known that people would be receptive, as people marveled about it. The miracle in Mark 7:32-37 happened after Jesus "passed through the midst of the coasts of Decapolis" (Mark 7:31) later on.

It is obvious from the way that the demons "beseeched" Jesus that they knew that He had authority over them. They do not want YOU to know that you carry that authority through His name, though you do.

Was this simultaneous swine slaughter fair to the man who owned the swine? I don't see why not, as at the time the Israelites were forbidden to eat swine anyway.

You can tell from this passage that demons do have a certain amount of physical power. The Sons of Sceva (Acts 19:13-17) discovered this. You certainly do not want to confront demons in your own power as they did. You must use your authority in the name of Jesus, as they could outmatch you in a physical strength contest.

See also:

Matthew 8:28-32

Luke 8:27-39

Notes on Luke 8:27-39

God's Mercy and Compassion

It Might Only Take One

Objection: Demons Were Only a Superstitious Way of Explaining Illness Long Ago

Condition: Demon Possession

Mark 5:22-43:

And, behold, there cometh one of the rulers of the synagogue, Jairus by name; and when he saw him, he fell at his feet,

And besought him greatly, saying, My little daughter lieth at the point of death: I pray thee, come and lay thy hands on her, that she may be healed; and she shall live.

And Jesus went with him; and much people followed him, and thronged him.

And a certain woman, which had an issue of blood twelve years,

And had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was nothing bettered, but rather grew worse,

When she had heard of Jesus, came in the press behind, and touched his garment.

For she said, If I may touch but his clothes, I shall be whole.

And straightway the fountain of her blood was dried up; and she felt in her body that she was healed of that plague.

And Jesus, immediately knowing in himself that virtue had gone out of him, turned him about in the press, and said, Who touched my clothes?

And his disciples said unto him, Thou seest the multitude thronging thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me?

And he looked round about to see her that had done this thing.

But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what was done in her, came and fell down before him, and told him all the truth.

And he said unto her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace, and be whole of thy plague.

While he yet spake, there came from the ruler of the synagogue's house certain which said, Thy daughter is dead: why troublest thou the Master any further?

As soon as Jesus heard the word that was spoken, he saith unto the ruler of the synagogue, Be not afraid, only believe.

And he suffered no man to follow him, save Peter, and James, and John the brother of James.

And he cometh to the house of the ruler of the synagogue, and seeth the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly.

And when he was come in, He saith unto them, Why make ye this ado, and weep? the damsel is not dead, but sleepeth.

And they laughed him to scorn. But when he had put them all out, he taketh the father and the mother of the damsel, and them that were with him, and entereth in where the damsel was lying.

And he took the damsel by the hand, and said unto her, Talitha cumi, which is, being interpreted, Damsel, I say unto thee, arise.

And straightway the damsel arose, and walked; for she was of the age of twelve years. And they were astonished with a great astonishment.

And he charged them straitly that no man should know it; and commanded that something should be given her to eat.

Notes on Mark 5:22-43:

The story of the woman with the issue of blood is deservedly a favorite among healing ministers because of its many lessons. The woman heard about Jesus and faith came. (Today, faith can come as you hear about Jesus and His healing power.) Then she went to Him expecting to receive. She obviously believed that she received something when she touched Jesus. Her faith was what pulled the anointing into her body from Jesus. Jesus wasn't even aware that the woman was there, so it could not have been His faith. Jesus made it clear the woman's faith, not His faith, healed her.

This woman could have been stoned for being out in public in her condition. She was desperate! She was broke and was just getting worse. This woman really wanted to be healed. She was willing to press through the crowd to get to Jesus. Perhaps at that point she was so desperate that she didn't care if she died for trying to get to Jesus.

If you just read Matthew or Mark's version, you could conclude that the girl was actually not dead but asleep and mistaken for dead. Thus, she would not really have been raised from the dead. However, Luke records that the people knew that she was dead.

Even when the gifts of the Spirit are in operation, healings are usually not unilateral operations of God. Many times, he makes the healing anointing available for all who want to come and receive it. The more faith the people operate in, the more easily the healing anointing will go into them. (This works both ways. If they operate in less faith, less will happen. Jesus was surely just as much the Anointed One at Nazareth, where people did not believe much and did not receive much.) We see this principle again where Jairus was told to "only believe" to see the miracle he needed. His faith had a part to play in the miracle.

The word virtue is the Greek word dumamis, which means power, not moral virtue as we would think of virtue today.

People like to say, "It's not over until it's over," but this miracle of raising the dead shows that with God, sometimes "It's not over even AFTER it's over!"

See also:

Matthew 9:18-25

Luke 8:41-56

Notes on Luke 8:41-56

According to YOUR FAITH Be It Done unto You!

Is Your Situation Hopeless?

How Much Do You Desire Healing?

The Healing Anointing

The Anointing in the New Testament

Preparing to Minister Healing

Healing and Prosperity

Conformed to Christ's Image

Can I "Believe Away" the Side Effects of the Drugs Being Used to Treat Me?

Why Are There More Miracles on the Mission Field than at Home?

Condition: Hemorrhaging

Condition: Nonviability

Mark 6:1-6:

And he went out from thence, and came into his own country; and his disciples follow him.

And when the sabbath day was come, he began to teach in the synagogue: and many were astonished, saying, From whence hath this man these things? and what wisdom is this which is given unto him, that even such mighty works are wrought by his hands?

Is not this the carpenter, the son of Mary, the brother of James, and Joses, and of Juda, and Simon? and are not his sisters here with us? And they were offended at him.

But Jesus said unto them, A prophet is not without honor, but in his own country, and among his own kin, and in his own house.

And he could there do no mighty work, save that he laid his hands upon a few sick folk, and healed them.

And he marvelled because of their unbelief. And he went round about the villages, teaching.

Notes on Mark 6:1-6:

People fuss over why the people at Nazareth were not healed, but Matthew's account (Matthew 13:54-58) tells you plainly that it was because of their unbelief. That there was unbelief in Nazareth should be no surprise; that is where they had tried to kill Him during His first visit as a preacher! Jesus was just as much anointed and just as much the Son of God at Nazareth as elsewhere. Because He subjected Himself to human limitations and ministered as a man anointed by the Holy Spirit, He COULD NOT heal the sick there. If Jesus healed to prove His deity, He proved He wasn't deity at Nazareth. (Of course, Jesus did not heal to prove His deity. This is proved elsewhere.) The servant is not above his master. If Jesus could not heal the sick in such a place, neither can you. There are churches like this! He COULD NOT do it because God requires our cooperation in such matters. He does not force healing on the sick any more than He forces forgiveness on sinners. God's power must be mixed with our faith. The problem at Nazareth is that they saw the preacher from only a human perspective instead of honoring His office. This same mistake today can stop God's power from flowing in a service. Respect the anointing on the minister! Don't disrespect him by gabbing with your neighbors, making non-emergency bathroom runs, going out to get coffee in the foyer, or otherwise showing that you really don't care that much about what he's doing. Don't regard him from a simply natural perspective as the people in Nazareth did to Jesus. Respect the fact that the Holy Spirit – the third member of the Trinity – is manifesting Himself through the man (or woman!).

That is one reason why we would never turn our church into a modern "café church." If you encourage people to divide their attention by getting coffee or snacks in the middle of the message, you're just teaching people to disrespect the Holy Spirit as well as the speaker. If the President of your country called you in for a personal meeting, what would he think if you said, "Excuse me, Sir, you can keep talking while I go grab a coffee and a pastry?" If you wouldn't treat the President like that, why would you treat JESUS or one of His anointed representatives like that?

How did Jesus respond to the people's unbelief? Did He cast a "ruling principality of unbelief" out of the city? NO. He just left and went to other villages and taught. While it would be tempting to say that He taught to try to get rid of their unbelief, He didn't teach the people at Nazareth to get rid of their unbelief! Instead, He went and taught in other villages instead. He had ALREADY taught at Nazareth before He tried to minister to the sick and only healed a few sick people (Matthew 13:54-58). There are times you have to just dust off your feet and go somewhere else where people are more receptive. Jesus gave instructions about that (Matthew 10:14, Mark 6:11, Luke 9:5). Paul and Barnabas followed that advice, too (Acts 13:51). The solution in such cases is not trying to stay and teach people in the hardened city, but rather to take your teaching somewhere else.

The reason why preachers sometimes preach that Jesus tried to "teach away their unbelief" is that they're confusing unbelief with ignorance. Jesus had already proclaimed who He was and what He was doing at Nazareth (whereupon they tried to kill Him), so the people there KNEW that He was claiming to be the Messiah (the Anointed One). He had just preached in their synagogue, so they were not ignorant of His teaching. You don't even qualify for unbelief if you're ignorant; you have to hear something first that you can unbelieve! So the solution was not to try to teach them to overcome their ignorance. Their issue was unbelief – and teaching doesn't fix that because it's a matter of the heart.

See also:

Matthew 13:54-58

Notes on Matthew 13:54-58

According to YOUR FAITH Be It Done unto You!

The Flesh Freakout Factor

All About Healing Services

The Hardest Lesson I've Learned in the Ministry

If I Lay Hands on Someone and Nothing Happens, Should I Apologize to That Person for My Lack of Faith?

What If I Lay Hands on People and They Don't Get Healed?

What Is the Difference between Unbelief and Doubt?

Objection: Jesus Healed and Did Miracles to Prove His Deity

Objection: Jesus Didn't Heal Everyone in His Earthly Ministry; He Left Many Sick at the Pool of Bethesda

Objection: Jesus Himself Pointed Out that There Were Many Lepers in Israel in Elijah's Day, Yet Only Naaman the Syrian Was Cleansed \(Luke 4:27\)

Objection: The Only Reason Jesus COULD NOT Do Miracles at Nazareth Is that They Drove Him Away before He Could Do Anything

Objection: To Preach that Jesus COULD NOT Do Miracles at Nazareth Is to Deny His Deity and God's Sovereignty. Therefore, the Only Reason He Could Not Would Be That People Did Not Bring the Sick.

Objection: It's Not Always God's Will to Heal – He Didn't Heal Many at Nazareth

Objection: We Cannot Expect to Heal as Jesus Did Because We Are Not the Son of God

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Mark 6:7:

And he called unto him the twelve, and began to send them forth by two and two; and gave them power over unclean spirits;

Notes on Mark 6:7:

Mark notes that they were sent out in pairs. This was not mandatory at all times in the Bible, as Paul was alone at Athens and was later left alone in Asia when his team deserted him, and Philip initially went down to Samaria by himself. However, we do see that Paul and Barnabas and later Paul and Silas went out together. While Peter is mentioned seemingly on “solo” missions, we know that he had a habit of taking his believing wife with him (1 Corinthians 9:5). Aside from having a second person as a witness in case anything questionable happens, it is useful to have another believer present so that you and the other believer can pray “the prayer of agreement” together that is discussed in Matthew 18:18-20.

See also:

Condition: Demon Possession

Mark 6:12-13:

And they went out, and preached that men should repent.

And they cast out many devils, and anointed with oil many that were sick, and healed them.

Notes on Mark 6:12-13:

Jesus preached repentance. The disciples preached repentance. Jesus said to proclaim repentance and forgiveness of sins in His name everywhere (Luke 24:45-47). So the idea that repentance should not be preached anymore certainly didn't come from Scripture. The preaching of repentance may not be popular today, but Jesus did not command you to be popular.

This passage mentions anointing with oil, while other passages about the ministry of the disciples make no mention of oil.

See also:

Should We Anoint the Sick with Oil when We Lay Hands on Them?

Condition: Demon Possession

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Mark 6:54-56:

And when they were come out of the ship, straightway they knew him,
And ran through that whole region round about, and began to carry about in beds those that were sick, where they heard he was.

And whithersoever he entered, into villages, or cities, or country, they laid the sick in the streets, and besought him that they might touch if it were but the border of his garment: and as many as touched him were made whole.

See also:

Matthew 14:35-36

Notes on Matthew 14:35-36

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

YOU Can Be Healed

The Healing Anointing

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Mark 7:25-30:

For a certain woman, whose young daughter had an unclean spirit, heard of him, and came and fell at his feet.

The woman was a Greek, a Syrophenician by nation; and she besought him that he would cast forth the devil out of her daughter.

But Jesus said unto her, Let the children first be filled: for it is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it unto the dogs.

And she answered and said unto him, Yes, Lord: yet the dogs under the table eat of the children's crumbs.

And he said unto her, For this saying go thy way; the devil is gone out of thy daughter.

And when she was come to her house, she found the devil gone out, and her daughter laid upon the bed.

See also:

Matthew 15:22-28

Notes on Matthew 15:22-28

According to YOUR FAITH Be It Done unto You!

Different Ways to Get Healed

God's Blessing on Your Kids

Can I Believe and Receive a Healing for Someone Else?

Objection: Jesus Told a Greek Woman NO When She Came for Deliverance for Her Daughter

Objection: We Should Pray, "If It Be Thy Will" Concerning Our Healing

Objection: God Sometimes Heals Crybaby Christians Who Bug Him Enough Just As He Gave Israel a King When They Kept Bugging Him – Even Though It Wasn't His Perfect Will

Condition: Demon Possession

Mark 7:32-37:

And they bring unto him one that was deaf, and had an impediment in his speech; and they beseech him to put his hand upon him.

And he took him aside from the multitude, and put his fingers into his ears, and he spit, and touched his tongue;

And looking up to heaven, he sighed, and saith unto him, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened.

And straightway his ears were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plain.

And he charged them that they should tell no man: but the more he charged them, so much the more a great deal they published it;

And were beyond measure astonished, saying, He hath done all things well: he maketh both the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak.

Notes on Mark 7:32-37:

We cannot surmise from this passage that it is REQUIRED that you put your fingers into the ears of a deaf person, though I've seen it done and I have no problem with the practice. This passage would actually demonstrate that the fingers-in-the-ears action is NOT required, as the people besought Jesus to put His hand on the deaf person – it doesn't say that the people besought Him to poke His fingers into the deaf person's ears.

See also:

Laying Hands on the Sick

Speaking to Mountains, Trees and Diseases

Strange Ways to Get Healed

Get Away from Unbelief

Must We Lay Hands on the Specific Afflicted Body Part?

Is All Sickness Demonic?

Why Did Jesus Tell Some People Not to Tell Anyone about Their Healings?

Condition: Deafness

Condition: Dumbness

Condition: Speech Impediments

Mark 8:22-25:

And he cometh to Bethsaida; and they bring a blind man unto him, and besought him to touch him. And he took the blind man by the hand, and led him out of the town; and when he had spit on his eyes, and put his hands upon him, he asked him if he saw ought [anything]. And he looked up and said, I see men as trees, walking. After that he put his hands again upon his eyes, and made him look up: and he was restored, and saw every man clearly.

Notes on Mark 8:22-25:

You may have wondered if you're the one doing the laying on of hands – is it a sign of unbelief to ask the person if he notices any improvement? Jesus never walked in unbelief, and here He asked the man if he could see after He laid hands on him. So this must be okay! This also shows that it is valid to lay hands on the person a second time if there is not a total healing the first time.

See also:

Laying Hands on the Sick

Strange Ways to Get Healed

Get Away from Unbelief

Must We Lay Hands on the Specific Afflicted Body Part?

Is It Right to Get in a Second Healing Line for the Same Condition?

Is It Unbelief to Ask a Person You Laid Hands on Whether He Feels Better Yet?

Objection: Christ's Healings Were Mostly Instantaneous; We Cannot Claim to Be Able to Do His Works When We Have So Few Instantaneous Miracles

Objection: The Lord Puts Us on Our Backs that He May Teach Us to Look Up

Condition: Blindness

Condition: Blurred Vision

Mark 9:17-29:

And one of the multitude answered and said, Master, I have brought unto thee my son, which hath a dumb spirit;

And wheresoever he taketh him, he teareth him: and he foameth, and gnasheth with his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples that they should cast him out; and they could not.

He answereth him, and saith, O faithless generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him unto me.

And they brought him unto him: and when he saw him, straightway the spirit tare him; and he fell on the ground, and wallowed foaming.

And he asked his father, How long is it ago since this came unto him? And he said, Of a child.

And oftentimes it hath cast him into the fire, and into the waters, to destroy him: but if thou canst do any thing, have compassion on us, and help us.

Jesus said unto him, If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth.

And straightway the father of the child cried out, and said with tears, Lord, I believe, help thou mine unbelief.

When Jesus saw that the people came running together, he rebuked the foul spirit, saying unto him, Thou dumb and deaf, I charge thee, come out of him, and enter no more into him.

And the spirit cried, and rent him sore, and came out of him: and he was as one dead, insomuch that many said, He is dead.

But Jesus took him by the hand and lifted him up; and he arose.

And when he was come into the house, his disciples asked him privately, Why could not we cast him out?

And he said unto them, This kind can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting.

Notes on Mark 9:17-29:

The Notes on Matthew 17:14-21 cover most of the points you could make from this story. However, there is an additional exchange here that Matthew did not mention. Jesus told the man that it was up to what he could believe. It is not just what Jesus can do, it is what you believe that He can do. You have a part to play in your miracle – the believing part. Jesus had the power to heal everyone at Nazareth, but they did not believe in His anointing. They saw Him as a mere man, so He did no mighty work there.

One thing I admire about Jesus is how “cool” He was in difficult situations. Think about this passage for a minute – there is a boy on the ground being “torn” by a demon, foaming at the mouth, and Jesus just carries on a conversation with the boy’s father about how long this had been happening! Jesus is our example, and if He can be that calm and collected while a “screamin’ demon” is putting on a show, so can we. Jesus never “freaked out” because of what the devil was doing, and neither should you.

The man asked Jesus to help his unbelief. He was not asking Jesus to help his unbelief in the sense of increasing it, of course. (You can help your unbelief in that sense by buying the latest popular book about why God supposedly wouldn't heal someone.) He meant, "I believe in my heart, but my head is giving me trouble! Help!" You are perfectly within your rights talking to God about such trouble. Realize, however, that it is with your heart that you believe, not your head. You can believe in your heart and still have a fight going on in your head. You can get your miracle anyway! The more you renew your mind with God's Word, the less your head will give you trouble.

Jesus said plainly that all things are possible to him who believes. Because healing is a subset of all things, healing is possible to him who believes! The only limit is what you can believe God for! If healing were not specifically promised, the fact that all things are possible to him who believes would still mean that your faith could make you well.

Mark says that Jesus referred to a "faithless" generation, while Matthew and Luke add the fact that He also said that they were "perverse."

Mark's account leaves out part of the final conversation, which could lead the reader to believe that the disciples had to pray and fast specifically to make that demon leave. We see from Matthew's account that Jesus answered the question "Why couldn't we cast it out?" directly with the answer, "Because of your unbelief." He didn't say it was because the demon was so powerful; He had already given His disciples power over ALL demons. It was because of their unbelief, and their unbelief was the result of not having spent time praying and fasting.

See also:

Matthew 17:14-21

Notes on Matthew 17:14-21

Luke 9:38-42

According to YOUR FAITH Be It Done unto You!

Speaking to Mountains, Trees and Diseases

Must We Fast and Pray to Make Certain Demons Leave?

How Can I Get Rid of Unbelief?

What Is the Difference between Unbelief and Doubt?

Are Some Illnesses Harder to be Healed of than Others?

Objection: Faith Is Simply Trust in God, Not a Force that You Use to Change Things Yourself

Objection: Many Do Not Get Healed after Prayer Is Made for Their Healing

Objection: Jesus Let People Fail to Remind Them How Much They Needed Him

Condition: Demon Possession

Mark 9:38-39:

And John answered him, saying, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name, and he followeth not us: and we forbad him, because he followeth not us.

But Jesus said, Forbid him not: for there is no man which shall do a miracle in my name, that can lightly speak evil of me.

Notes on Mark 9:38-39:

This shows that the ability to cast out demons is in the Name of Jesus, not in membership in any group or church (though of course you are commanded to be part of a local fellowship in Hebrews 10:25). This man didn't follow Jesus around, but he knew enough about the power of Jesus' name to use it and make demons flee. This story serves as a good warning to anyone who thinks, "My group has a worldwide monopoly on the power of God; you're either with us or you're out of God's flow and out of God's will." I have met such people; perhaps you have as well. They're wrong! There are other people who will try to assure you that you are "out of alignment" if you are not "submitted" to a modern-day "apostle." The same thing holds true; don't let any so-called apostle tell you that you can't minister just because you're not part of his "apostolic network." (Apostles are NOT supposed to govern churches they didn't start; "governments" are separate from "apostles" in 1 Corinthians 12:28-30. The only case in Scripture where apostles wanted to rule a church they didn't start is alluded to in Second Corinthians chapter 11 and Paul had nothing good to say about it!)

See also:

Luke 9:49-50

YOU Can Do Miracles

The Power in the Name of Jesus

Your Authority over Sickness

Is Deliverance a Dangerous Practice Best Left to Trained Exorcists?

Objection: Signs Were Only to Follow Those Who Were There to Hear the Original Apostles

Objection: Acts 8 Proves that the Apostles Had Unique Powers

Condition: Demon Possession

Mark 10:46-52:

And they came to Jericho: and as he went out of Jericho with his disciples and a great number of people, blind Bartimaeus, the son of Timaeus, sat by the highway side begging.

And when he had heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, and say, Jesus, thou Son of David, have mercy on me.

And many charged him that he should hold his peace: but he cried the more a great deal, thou Son of David, have mercy on me.

And Jesus stood still, and commanded him to be called. And they call the blind man, saying unto him, Be of good comfort, rise; he calleth thee.

And he, casting away his garment, rose, and came to Jesus.

And Jesus answered and said unto him, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? The blind man said unto him, Lord, that I may receive my sight.

And Jesus said to him, Go thy way; thy faith hath made thee whole. And immediately he received his sight, and followed Jesus in the way.

Notes on Mark 10:46-52:

Mark only tells what happened to Bartimaeus; Matthew records that there were two blind men. (Mark's story doesn't mean that there weren't two; it just records what happened to Bartimaeus.)

Mark records that Jesus said, "Your faith has made you whole," while Matthew omitted that part.

Mark also mentions a detail that Matthew omits – Bartimaeus cast away his garment when he came to Jesus. It is POSSIBLE that his garment identified him as a beggar and/or a blind person and that this casting away of his garment was because Bartimaeus was totally convinced that after he encountered Jesus, he would be The Man Formerly Known as Blind Bartimaeus. We don't know this for sure because the Bible doesn't explicitly say anything about his garment. However, there is no other apparent explanation for why Bartimaeus would do it. If he were just cold, he could have received from Jesus with his garment still on because he was in faith anyway.

See also:

Matthew 20:30-34

Notes on Matthew 20:30-34

According to YOUR FAITH Be It Done unto You

How Much Do You Desire Healing?

What Every Elder is Commanded to Believe

Strange Ways to Get Healed

Condition: Blindness

Mark 16:15-18:

And He said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned. And these signs shall follow them that believe; In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues; They shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover.

Notes on Mark 16:15-18:

The Great Commission in these verses includes the laying on of hands in the name of Jesus for the healing of the sick. Jesus did not even question that it would happen. He said, “They shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover.” You should believe it and act accordingly.

Who shall lay hands on the sick so that they recover? Those who believe, not just those who preached to them! The ministry of laying on of hands for healing belongs to every born-again child of God.

God says that these signs will follow (not precede!) them that believe, so it is implied that those who work these signs will be out sharing the good news as they are commanded to. In verse 20, we see that God confirmed His Word with signs following. Signs do not stand alone; they confirm the Word. If what you’re preaching isn’t the Word, God has nothing to confirm.

No reasonable Christian believes that the Great Commission has been revoked. We are still to go into the entire world so that everyone will hear the gospel. The Great Commission stands or falls together. It is unreasonable to think that Jesus would tell us to go into all the world now and then not confirm His words with signs following (verse 20) as He did then. This would indicate that Jesus, whom Hebrews 13:8 declares to be “the same yesterday, today and forever,” has changed, which is pure nonsense. (It only makes a convenient consolation for those who preach with no power today.)

Note that healing is also promised to any Christian who is poisoned. This must be considered to be accidental poisoning of oneself or deliberate poisoning of the Christian by someone else. This is not a license to drink poison to prove something; that would prove only your own stupidity after you died because of it. Such an act would be akin to Jesus jumping off the temple – a satanic temptation to put God to an unreasonable test. Some wise-guy doubters like to dare you to drink Drano on purpose to prove that you believe this passage. This is just like Satan’s temptation of Jesus and would get you to the same place as jumping off a building – the graveyard.

The same goes for serpents. Paul did not deliberately handle serpents to prove something; this is also a dangerous way of putting God to an unreasonable test. When a serpent bit Paul, it was an accident. Paul just took it up and tossed it into the fire (Acts 28:3-6).

Because these kinds of poisoning are mentioned, I believe that it is proper to consider this same protection valid for other forms of poisoning, such as insect stings or food with deadly bacteria.

This passage does not prove “baptismal regeneration” – if you believed, it was just taken as a given that you would be baptized. However, a person saved on his deathbed would not have to be baptized in order to go to heaven. (I had the honor of leading my grandmother to the Lord on her deathbed; there was no possibility of her getting baptized before she went to be with Jesus.) The requirements for salvation are still those in Romans 10:9-10 – believe that Jesus rose from the dead and confess Him as Lord with your mouth. A careful look at the verse in question reveals that no statement at all is made about someone who believes and is not baptized.

As you can see, casting out demons and speaking in tongues are included in the Great Commission as well; these topics are discussed elsewhere in this book.

When I was a young Christian, I read this wonderful passage. The church I had started attending did not believe in healing as presented in this book. But I remember them telling me that the Bible is the Word of God – the final authority for doctrine and conduct. I reasoned that if that were true, and Jesus said that we would lay hands on the sick and they would recover, I’d best start doing what He said. I remember the first person I ever laid hands on. She had female problems that kept her flat on her back 2-3 days every month. I got some friends together and told them about this passage, and then we acted on it. That was the end of her problem! Then I started looking for people I could lay hands on, which wasn’t hard because people with diseases were not hard to find. They recovered too! I still get a thrill out of laying hands on sick people in the name of Jesus and seeing them recover. It never gets old!

See also:

Notes on Exodus 15:25-26

YOU Can Do Miracles

God Uses Real People

Do The Math

Laying Hands on the Sick

How to Deal with the Devil

Deliverance Myths

Your Authority over Sickness

Speaking to Mountains, Trees and Diseases

Healing and Deliverance from Poisoning

The Power in the Name of Jesus

Who You Are and What You Have

Different Ways to Get Healed

Healing and the Holy Spirit

The Works He Did You Can Do: Here’s How

YOU Can Be Healed

Signs and Wonders!

All about Healing Services

Authorized Distributors

Do It Anyway

Perfectionism and the Fear of Making Mistakes

Conformed to Christ's Image

Ministering to the Sick

Preparing to Minister Healing

BEING Anointed vs. FEELING Anointed

You Are Christ on the Earth

The Flesh Freakout Factor

Deliverance Myths

God's Promises Have Conditions

The Insecure Preacher

What 1 John 1:9 Really Means

How to Be Baptized with the Holy Spirit

What If I Lay Hands on People and They Don't Get Healed?

If I Lay Hands on Someone and Nothing Happens, Should I Apologize to That Person for My Lack of Faith?

How Much Faith Does It Take to Heal a Serious Illness?

Is Deliverance a Dangerous Practice Best Left to Trained Exorcists?

Can I "Stand in Proxy" for Someone Else in a Healing Line?

Should I Believe that I Receive Healing or Command Sickness to Leave?

Should I Expect to Fall Over or Resist Falling Over when I Am Prayed over?

How Long Should We Keep Our Hands on Someone When We Lay Hands on Him?

Do We Need to Know the Specific Condition before We Can Minister Healing?

To What Extent Are Prolific Miracles Limited to Those Called to the Ministry?

Must We Fast and Pray to Make Certain Demons Leave?

Should We Plead the Blood when Dealing with Demons?

I Just Commanded a Demon to Leave, But It Is Still There. What Do I Do Now?

Does Saying Grace Protect Us from Food-Related Illnesses?

Does Mark 11:23 Work for Unbelievers?

What Can You Do for Comatose or Delirious People Who Cannot Believe God for Themselves?

Why Are There More Miracles on the Mission Field than at Home?

Should We Wait until We Sense the Anointing to Lay Hands on the Sick?

Unforgiveness Is Itself a Forgiven Sin, So How Could It Hinder My Healing?

Was the Healing of the Crippled Man in Acts 3 Based on Peter's Authority or on a Special Manifestation of the Spirit?

Objection: Laying Hands on the Sick is Not Part of the Great Commission

Objection: Mark 16:9-20 Was Not in Some Early Manuscripts

Objection: Mark 16:17-18 Was for the Early Apostles, Not All Believers

Objection: Mark 16:18 Refers to SPIRITUAL Illnesses

Objection: Mark 16:18 Speaks Collectively – Only Those Who Actually Have Gifts of Healing Can Heal the Sick by Laying on of Hands

Objection: Mark 16:18 Does Not Say, "They Shall Recover IF They Have Enough Faith," Yet Faith Healers Blame the Sick for Not Believing

Objection: Jesus Healed and Did Miracles to Authenticate His Messiahship

Objection: The Apostles Never Said, "By His Stripes You Were Healed" When They Preached Christ

Objection: The Lord Did Not Say that These Signs Would Follow Those Who Believe ALWAYS, So They Were Just to Get the Church Started

Objection: Mark 16:17-18 Can't Mean that All Believers Can Lay Hands on the Sick because Not All Believers Did So in the Bible

Objection: Christ's Command to HEAL THE SICK Stopped before the Cross and Has Never Been Repeated Since Then, Even in Other New Testament Writings

Objection: God Works in Mysterious Ways, His Wonders to Perform. We'll Never Know Why God Lets Some People Stay Sick.

Objection: We Cannot Heal as Jesus Did Because He Had the Spirit without Measure, While We Have the Spirit Given by Measure

Objection: Christ's Disciples Were Told to Heal EVERYONE. No One Does This Today, So We Cannot Say We Have the Same Authority They Did.

Objection: Mark 16:18 Does Not Say, "They Shall Recover IF They Have Enough Faith," Yet Faith Healers Blame the Sick for Not Believing

Objection: Jesus Said that Those Who Came after Him and Did Miracles Would Be Unsaved Deceivers \(Matthew 7:22-23\)

Objection: James Said to Call for the Elders \(a Private Situation\), Not to Go to a Public Healing Meeting

Objection: Demons Were Only a Superstitious Way of Explaining Illness Long Ago

Objection: The Day of the Healing Evangelist Is Over – ALL Christians Should Heal

Condition: Demon Possession

Condition: Poisoning

Condition: Snakebites

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Mistake: Violating Natural Laws

Mark 16:20:

And they went forth, and preached every where, the Lord working with them, and confirming the word with signs following. Amen.

Notes on Mark 16:20:

The word them is not in the original Greek. The translators added it. The passage could just as well be translated to say that the Lord worked with and confirmed the Word with signs following. God confirms His gospel, not the ministers themselves. We should expect the Lord to confirm the gospel with signs following when we preach it! Amen!

The word “amen” means “so be it.” Therefore, God says that for us to preach everywhere and have Him confirm His Word is how He wants it to be!

While anyone can receive healing by faith after hearing the good news, we should also expect God to bear witness of the resurrection of Jesus with gifts of the Spirit in operation. This will draw attention to the message that we are preaching that Jesus has paid for our full salvation, including healing, and anyone can receive what He paid for us to have.

Too often we get things backward and think that we need to pray for God to do great signs and wonders while we sit around waiting for Him to do them. That isn't the Bible pattern. The “flow” follows the “go” – you go out and evangelize and expect God to confirm your preaching!

See also:

Laying Hands on the Sick

Your Authority over Sickness

Healing and Evangelism

The Light Is Green

The Kingdom of God is Here NOW

Don't Preach a D- Gospel

Can We Pray and Believe for the Healing Anointing to Manifest?

Would God Heal an Unbeliever?

Objection: Healing Is a Side Issue that Does Not Deserve to Be Emphasized So Much

Objection: Mark 16:9-20 Was Not in Some Early Manuscripts

Objection: Christ's Command to HEAL THE SICK Stopped before the Cross and Has Never Been Repeated Since Then, Even in Other New Testament Writings

Objection: The Apostles Never Said, “By His Stripes You Were Healed” When They Preached Christ

Objection: You Never Know What God Will Do

Objection: Jesus Said that Those Who Came after Him and Did Miracles Would Be Unsaved Deceivers \(Matthew 7:22-23\)

Luke 1:36-37:

And, behold, thy cousin, Elisabeth, she hath also conceived a son in her old age: and this is the sixth month with her, who was called barren.
For with God nothing shall be impossible.

Notes on Luke 1:36-37:

Because nothing is impossible with God, your healing is not impossible. The same God who enabled Elisabeth to have a child when she was unable to bear children is the same God who can fix your body. Will you explain this verse away or simply believe it? No matter what your situation is, there are no impossibilities with God. Dare to believe Him for something impossible!

See also:

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

According to YOUR FAITH Be It Done unto You

Found: The Cure for AIDS!

I Have a Birth Defect. I Need a Miracle. How Do I Get It?

Objection: Mental Illness is Treatable but Not Curable

Luke 4:18-19:

The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; He hath sent me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised,
To preach the acceptable year of the Lord.

Notes on Luke 4:18-19:

Jesus quoted part of Isaiah 61:1-3 about Himself.

It is interesting that instead of saying that He was anointed to deliver the captives, He said that He was anointed to preach deliverance to the captives. Likewise, today, we preach the good news to the captives that Christ has purchased their deliverance. Jesus did the work; now we announce it to the world. It is not as much a case of us delivering captives as it is preaching the good news so that they can believe that deliverance is theirs to receive. Jesus didn't restrict this to any particular form of captivity, such as sickness (which is called captivity in Job 42:10), so we shouldn't restrict this either. God does not want anyone to be a captive of anything. He sent Jesus to redeem everyone from captivity of every kind so that everyone can enjoy abundant life.

Because Jesus was anointed to do all these things back then, He is anointed to do all these things now because He never changes (Hebrews 13:8).

See also:

Notes on Isaiah 61:1-3

To Heal the Brokenhearted

Anointed to Preach Deliverance

The Acceptable Year of the Lord

What Can You Say to Someone Who Has Just Lost a Loved One to Sickness?

What Is "Inner Healing," and Do I Need It?

Objection: We Cannot Expect to Heal as Jesus Did because We Are Not the Son of God

Objection: Isaiah 53:4 \(Matthew 8:17\) Was Fulfilled in Jesus' Earth Ministry and Cannot Be Claimed as a Promise by Christians Today

Objection: Jesus Only Said that He Was Sent to Heal the Brokenhearted, Not the Sick

Condition: Blindness

Condition: Brokenheartedness

Luke 4:27:

And many lepers were in Israel in the time of Eliseus the prophet; and none of them was cleansed, saving Naaman the Syrian.

Notes on Luke 4:27:

Eliseus in this passage refers to Elisha.

This was from the message Jesus preached in His hometown during His first visit to Nazareth. The people tried throw Him off a cliff for preaching this, but Jesus was supernaturally protected and was able to just walk through the crowd that wanted Him dead. It is good to know that God does protection miracles, not just healing miracles and financial miracles.

The Naaman incident was an early precedent where God made an exception for a Gentile and extended a covenant blessing of Israel to someone outside the Israel's covenant because he believed – at a time when the Israelites themselves were not walking in faith and receiving anything.

See also:

2 Kings 5:1-14

Notes on 2 Kings 5:1-14

Objection: Jesus Himself Pointed Out that There Were Many Lepers in Israel in Elijah's Day, Yet Only Naaman the Syrian Was Cleansed \(Luke 4:27\)

Condition: Leprosy

Luke 4:33-36:

And in the synagogue there was a man, which had a spirit of an unclean devil, and cried out with a loud voice,

Saying, Let us alone; what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art; the Holy One of God.

And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the devil had thrown him in the midst, he came out of him, and hurt him not.

And they were all amazed, and spake among themselves, saying, What a word is this! for with authority and power he commandeth the unclean spirits, and they come out.

Notes on Luke 4:33-36:

Most of the pertinent notes on this passage may be found in Notes on Mark 1:23-26. Luke says that the demon “threw him in the midst” while Matthew tells us that he “tore him” and “cried with a loud voice.”

See also:

Mark 1:23-26

Notes on Mark 1:23-26

Condition: Demon Possession

Luke 4:38-39:

And he arose out of the synagogue, and entered into Simon's house. And Simon's wife's mother was taken with a great fever; and they besought him for her.

And he stood over her, and rebuked the fever; and it left her: and immediately she arose and ministered unto them.

Notes on Luke 4:38-39:

Matthew mentioned that Jesus touched her hand; Luke did not mention this. However, Luke mentions that Jesus rebuked the fever, which Matthew did not mention. The word used for rebuked is exactly what it sounds like; it is the same Greek word used when Jesus rebuked demons and rebuked the wind. In other words, Jesus did not speak some nice-sounding little words to that fever. He rebuked it in the same way that He would have rebuked a demon.

People today might think you're crazy when you rebuke a disease the way Jesus did. They will wonder how are those disease organisms are supposed to hear you when they don't have ears. But when the disease leaves after you rebuke it in the name of Jesus, you won't look so crazy after all. Given that we have this authority in Christ, we'd be crazy not to use it!

See also:

Matthew 8:14-15

Notes on Matthew 8:14-15

Speaking to Mountains, Trees and Diseases

Would You Rebuke a Christmas Present?

Condition: Fever

Luke 4:40-41:

Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them.

And devils also came out of many, crying out, and saying, Thou are Christ the Son of God. And he rebuking them suffered them not to speak: for they knew that he was Christ.

Notes on Luke 4:40-41:

This appears to refer to the same events as Matthew 8:16-17 and Mark 1:32-24.

Matthew and Mark don't mention that Jesus laid His hands on every one of them, but Luke does. Only Matthew ties these events to Isaiah 53:4.

See also:

Matthew 8:16-17

Notes on Matthew 8:16-17

Mark 1:32-24

Notes on Mark 1:32-34

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

YOU Can Be Healed

Laying Hands on the Sick

Condition: Demon Possession

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Luke 5:12-15:

And it came to pass, when he was in a certain city, behold a man full of leprosy: who seeing Jesus fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

And he put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will: be thou clean. And immediately the leprosy departed from him.

And he charged him to tell no man: but go, and shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

But so much the more went there a fame abroad of him: and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed by him of their infirmities.

Notes on Luke 5:12-15:

This same account also appears in Matthew 8:2-4 and Mark 1:40-45. Matthew mentions that the leper worshipped Jesus, Mark mentions that he knelt down, and Luke mentions that he fell on his face.

See also:

Matthew 8:2-4

Notes on Matthew 8:2-4

Mark 1:40-45

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

Hear and Be Healed

It Might Only Take One

Why Did Jesus Tell Some People Not to Tell Anyone about Their Healings?

Objection: It's up to God – God Will Heal Me if He Wants to

Condition: Leprosy

Luke 5:17-26:

And it came to pass on a certain day, as he was teaching, that there were Pharisees and doctors of the law sitting by, which were come out of every town of Galilee, and Judea, and Jerusalem: and the power of the Lord was present to heal them.

And, behold, men brought in a bed a man which was taken with a palsy: and they sought means to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

And when they could not find by what way they might bring him in because of the multitude, they went upon the housetop, and let him down through the tiling with his couch into the midst before Jesus.

And when he saw their faith, he said unto him, Man, thy sins are forgiven thee.

And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, Who is this which speaketh blasphemies? Who can forgive sins, but God alone?

But when Jesus perceived their thoughts, he answering said unto them, What reason think ye in your hearts?

Whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Rise up and walk?

But that ye may know that the Son of Man hath power upon earth to forgive sins, (he said unto the sick of the palsy,) I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go into thine house.

And immediately he rose up before them, and took up that whereon he lay, and departed to his own house, glorifying God.

And they were all amazed, and they glorified God, and were filled with fear, saying, We have seen strange things to day.

Notes on Luke 5:17-26:

The power of the Lord was present to heal the scoffing religious leaders. So, why weren't they healed? They did not mix faith with that power. Only the paralytic got healed as far as we know, and that is because he and his four friends had faith. The scribes and Pharisees went "through the roof" in the wrong way when they saw this healing and the only thing they "got" was mad. This shows that receiving healing is NOT simply dependent on the power of God being present to heal. Even when the healing anointing is in manifestation, God still expects you to believe that you receive.

The amazed people who said they has seen strange things were not saying that as a derogatory statement, because Luke says that they were filled with fear, not derision. The other accounts state that they marvelled, glorified God, and basically said, "We've never seen anything like this before!"

This shows that Jesus equated healing with the forgiveness of sins. In effect, He said, "I will prove my authority to forgive sins by removing sickness, one of the punishments for sin, from this paralytic."

Without faith, you can see a miracle happen right under your nose and not receive anything yourself. Don't be like the religious people in this story – be like the paralytic and his friends. Refuse to settle for anything less than God's best, even if it's inconvenient to press for it.

Many modern translations say in verse 17 that the power of the Lord was present to heal “the sick,” or just to “heal” in general, but that is not supported by the Greek pronoun autos that is used at the end of this verse. Autos is a pronoun that refers back to something already mentioned. The sick were not mentioned, but the Pharisees and the doctors of the law were mentioned. Therefore, the King James Version, NKJV and Young’s Literal Translation are correct when they say that the power of the Lord was present to heal them – the Pharisees and the doctors of the law. Perhaps the translators thought that if the power were present, the religious leaders would have been healed, so “them” couldn’t mean what it plainly means in Greek. But the correct translation brings out the powerful point that even when the power of God is present to heal someone, that person must cooperate or he will still not get healed. The religious leaders were too busy criticizing Jesus to be in the mode to receive. Yet in His mercy, God provided healing for the enemies of the gospel if they would only receive it! It’s safe to stick with what the original text says rather than to try to reason around it, thinking that it really couldn’t mean what is actually says.

This event is also recorded in Matthew 9:2-8 and Mark 2:2-12.

See also:

Matthew 9:2-8

Mark 2:2-12

Notes on Deuteronomy 7:12-15

Forgiven People Can Be Healed

If I Cancel My Medical Insurance, Is God Obligated to Heal Me?

According to YOUR FAITH Be It Done unto You!

Healing and Atonement

Boldness to Minister Healing

Strange Ways to Get Healed

The Difference between “The Anointing” and “Your Healing”

Healing and God’s Glory

Can I Command a Scoffer to be Healed as a Sign to Him?

Objection: To Preach that Jesus COULD NOT Do Miracles at Nazareth Is to Deny His Deity and God’s Sovereignty. Therefore, the Only Reason He Could Not Would Be that People Did Not Bring the Sick.

Objection: Isaiah 53:4 \(Matthew 8:17\) Was Fulfilled in Jesus’ Earth Ministry and Cannot Be Claimed as a Promise by Christians Today

Objection: We Cannot Expect to Heal as Jesus Did because We Are Not the Son of God

Objection: “Faith Healers” Call Attention to Man and Thus Rob the Lord of Due Glory

Condition: Paralysis

Luke 6:6-10:

And it came to pass also on another sabbath, that he entered into the synagogue and taught: and there was a man whose right hand was withered.

And the scribes and Pharisees watched him, whether he would heal on the sabbath day; that they might find an accusation against him.

But he knew their thoughts, and said to the man with the withered hand, Rise up, and stand forth in the midst. And he arose and stood forth.

Then said Jesus unto them, I will ask you one thing; Is it lawful on the sabbath days to do good, or to do evil? to save life, or to destroy it?

And looking round about upon them all, he said unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he did so: and his hand was restored whole as the other.

Notes on Luke 6:6-10:

Matthew is the only author who cites Jesus' illustration of a sheep that falls into a pit on the Sabbath in connection with this healing. Mark is the only author who indicates how angry it made Jesus that people wanted to nit-pick about what day a healing was done on.

See also:

Matthew 12:10-13

Notes on Matthew 12:10-13

Mark 3:1-5

Condition: Withering

Luke 6:17-19:

And he came down with them, and stood in the plain, and the company of his disciples, and a great multitude of people out of all Judea and Jerusalem, and from the sea coast of Tyre and Sidon, which came to hear him, and to be healed of their diseases.

And they that were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed.

And the whole multitude sought to touch him: for there went virtue out of him, and healed them all.

Notes on Luke 6:17-19:

The word virtue above is the Greek word dunamis, which means power. It is the same word used in Acts 1:8 to describe what Christ's followers would receive when they were baptized with the Holy Spirit! So if dunamis could flow out of Jesus, you should expect dunamis to flow out of you if you've been baptized with the Holy Spirit! After all, the same Holy Spirit who operated through Jesus now operates through you.

If you are wise, you will be like these multitudes who hungered to hear the Word as well as be healed.

See also:

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

The Healing Anointing

Hear and Be Healed

YOU Can Be Healed

Condition: Demon Possession

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Luke 7:2-10:

And a certain centurion's servant, who was dear unto him, was sick, and ready to die.

And when he heard of Jesus, he sent unto him the elders of the Jews, beseeching him that he would come and heal his servant.

And when they came to Jesus, they besought him instantly, saying, That he was worthy for whom he would do this:

For he loveth our nation, and he hath built us a synagogue.

Then Jesus went with them. And when he was now not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to him, saying unto him, Lord, trouble not thyself: for I am not worthy that thou shouldest enter under my roof:

Wherefore neither thought I myself worthy to come unto thee, but say in a word, and my servant shall be healed.

For I also am a man set under authority, having under me soldiers, and I say unto one, Go, and he goeth, and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.

When Jesus heard these things, he marvelled at him, and turned him about, and said unto the people that followed him, I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel.

And they that were sent, returning to the house, found the servant whole that had been sick.

See also:

Matthew 8:5-13

Notes on Matthew 8:5-13

Different Ways to Get Healed

Healing and Giving

Can I Believe and Receive a Healing for Someone Else?

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Luke 7:12-16:

Now when he came nigh to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city was with her.

And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said unto her, Weep not.

And he came and touched the bier: and they that bare him stood still. And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, Arise.

And he that was dead sat up, and began to speak. And he delivered him to his mother.

And there came a fear on all and they glorified God, saying, That a great prophet is risen up among us; and, That God hath visited his people.

Notes on Luke 7:12-16:

The dead man was not an old man who had lived out a long, satisfying life. First, Jesus called him “young man.” Second, His mother was still alive. We don’t know of any case where Jesus raised old people from the dead. That doesn’t mean that it could never happen; I saw it happen once in person, though the person was of retirement age but not by much. We don’t know Lazarus’s age, but he did have a sister Martha who scurried around doing many things. So I don’t suppose that Lazarus was well advanced in years, either. It would appear that the norm for “raising the dead” miracles is that they involve people who are not at an age where they would normally die anyway.

We should expect that there will be cases today where dead people are raised, though no one is going to go empty a cemetery. (The only case of a mass exodus from a cemetery occurred when Jesus rose from the dead, which was a one-time event in Matthew 27:52-53.) Peter raised a girl (another young person) from the dead (Acts 9:36-42), and Paul raised a young man who fell out of a window (Acts 20:9-12). So we can see that Jesus’ followers also raised the dead; it wasn’t only Jesus who did it. Although we don’t have the individual accounts, Jesus commanded His disciples to raise the dead during His earthly ministry, and we would assume that they obeyed Him and did raise some dead people.

See also:

God’s Mercy and Compassion

Healing and God’s Glory

Objection: Faith Preachers are Trinity-Denying Heretics because They Teach that Jesus Died Spiritually

Condition: Nonviability

Luke 7:20-23:

When the men were come unto him, they said, John Baptist hath sent us unto thee, saying, Art thou he that should come? or look we for another?

And in that same hour he cured many of their infirmities and plagues, and of evil spirits; and unto many that were blind he gave sight.

Then Jesus answering said unto them, Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; how that the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, to the poor the gospel is preached.

And blessed is he, whosoever shall not be offended in me.

Notes on Luke 7:20-23:

Jesus was saying, in effect, “The fact that I am healing multitudes of sick people proves that I am the Messiah.” The symbols of the Messiah brought healing in the Old Testament, so surely one telltale sign that a person was the Messiah would have to be healing.

You are blessed when you are not offended at being associated with the Messiah who still heals today.

See also:

Matthew 11:4-5

Notes on Matthew 11:4-5

Condition: Blindness

Condition: Deafness

Condition: Demon Possession

Condition: Lameness

Condition: Leprosy

Condition: Nonviability

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Luke 8:2:

And certain women, which had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities, Mary called Magdalene, out of whom went seven devils,

Notes on Luke 8:2:

Not all sickness is the direct result of demonic activity – these women were healed of evil spirits AND infirmities.

Interestingly, the Bible uses the term “healed of evil spirits” to describe people who are delivered from them.

A person can have more than one demon. Mary had seven and a certain person at Gadara had two thousand. They can all be cast out in Jesus’ name.

See also:

Is All Sickness Demonic?

Condition: Demon Possession

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Luke 8:27-39:

And when he went forth to land, there met him out of the city a certain man, which had devils long time, and ware no clothes, neither abode in any house, but in the tombs.

When he saw Jesus, he cried out, and fell down before him, and with a loud voice said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of God Most High? I beseech thee, torment me not.

(For he had commanded the unclean spirit to come out of the man. For oftentimes it had caught him: and he was kept bound with chains and fetters; and he brake the bands, and was driven of the devil into the wilderness.)

And Jesus asked him, saying, What is thy name? And he said, Legion: because many devils were entered into him.

And they besought him that he would not command them to go out into the deep.

And there was there an herd of swine feeding on the mountain: and they besought him that he would suffer them to enter into them. And he suffered them.

Then went the devils out of the man and entered into the swine: and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the lake, and were choked.

When they that fed them saw what was done, they fled, and went and told it in the city and in the country.

Then they went out to see what was done; and came to Jesus, and found the man, out of whom the devils had departed, sitting at the feet of Jesus, clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid.

They also which saw it told them by what means he that was possessed of the devils was healed.

Then the whole multitude of the country of the Gadarenes round about besought him to depart from them; for they were taken with great fear: and he went up into the ship, and returned back again.

Now the man out of whom the devils were departed besought him that he might be with him: but Jesus sent him away, saying,

Return to thine own house, and shew how great things God hath done unto thee. And he went his way, and published throughout the whole city how great things Jesus had done unto him.

Notes on Luke 8:27-39:

A careful reading proves that Jesus did not ask the demon what his name was. He asked the MAN, not the demon, for his name. Therefore, you cannot use this passage, as some have, to justify having conversations with demons or even asking a demon for his name.

Swine were unclean animals. Israelites were not supposed to eat them. Jesus was not just arbitrarily depriving a pig raiser of his livelihood.

The fact that evil spirits could have such an effect on a herd of pigs should demonstrate that demons were not just a superstitious way of explaining mental illness in those times.

This was a rare case where Jesus COMMANDED someone to share his testimony all over the place.

See also:

Matthew 8:28-32

Mark 5:2-20

Notes on Mark 5:2-20

God's Mercy and Compassion

It Might Only Take One

Should We Ask Demons Their Names Before Casting Them Out?

Objection: Demons Were Only a Superstitious Way of Explaining Illness Long Ago

Condition: Demon Possession

Luke 8:41-56:

And behold, there came a man named Jairus, and he was a ruler of the synagogue: and he fell down at Jesus' feet, and besought him that he would come into his house:

For he had one only daughter, about twelve years of age, and she lay a dying. But as he went the people thronged him.

And a woman having an issue of blood twelve years, which had spent all her living upon physicians, neither could be healed of any,

Came behind him, and touched the border of his garment: and immediately her issue of blood stanch'd.

And Jesus said, Who touched me? When all denied, Peter and they that were with him said, Master, the multitude throng thee and press thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me?

And Jesus said, Somebody hath touched me: for I perceive that virtue is gone out of me.

And when the woman saw that she was not hid, she came trembling, and falling down before him, she declared unto him before all the people for what cause she had touched him, and how she was healed immediately.

And he said to her, Daughter, be of good comfort: thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace.

While he yet spake, there cometh one from the ruler of the synagogue's house, saying to him, Thy daughter is dead; trouble not the Master.

But when Jesus heard it, he answered him, saying, Fear not, believe only, and she shall be made whole.

And when he came into the house, he suffered no man to go in, save Peter, and James, and John, and the father and the mother of the maiden.

And all wept, and bewailed her: but he said, Weep not, she is not dead, but sleepeth.

And they laugh'd him to scorn, knowing that she was dead.

And he put them all out, and took her by the hand, and called, saying, Maid, arise.

And her spirit came again, and she arose straightway: and he commanded to give her meat.

And her parents were astonished: but he charg'd them that they should tell no man what was done.

Notes on Luke 8:41-56:

Jesus was not a liar. He used the phrase "sleeping" to describe being dead, although the people did not understand it that way.

Jesus told the man to fear not and only believe that his daughter would be raised. "Fear not, believe only" is good advice for any sick person, but what about a situation where someone is dead? We have no generic mandate to raise the dead. However, this man had a direct word from the Lord that his daughter would be raised up if he would believe.

This also indicates that faith and fear pull you in opposite directions. In order to "only believe," you must "fear not."

This shows that even in cases where manifestations of the Spirit operate, the faith of the recipients can still play a part in determining whether the miracle occurs. If this were not the case, Jesus would not have made believing a condition for receiving this miracle.

See also:

Matthew 9:18-25

Mark 5:22-43

Notes on Mark 5:22-43

Get Away from Unbelief

Condition: Hemorrhaging

Condition: Nonviability

Luke 9:1-2:

Then he called his twelve disciples together, and gave them power and authority over all devils, and to cure diseases.

And he sent them to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal the sick.

See also:

Matthew 10:1

Notes on Matthew 10:1

Mark 3:14-15

Mark 6:7

According to YOUR FAITH Be It Done unto You!

Don't Preach a D- Gospel

What is the Difference between Unbelief and Doubt?

Must We Fast and Pray to Make Certain Demons Leave?

Sickness Is the Power of the Devil

Objection: As Many Doctors Can Tell You, Many People Make Themselves Sick – It Has Nothing to Do with the Devil

Objection: Mark 16:9-20 Was Not in Some Early Manuscripts

Condition: Demon Possession

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Luke 9:6:

And they departed, and went through the towns, preaching the gospel, and healing every where.

Notes on Luke 9:6:

We must not just run around laying hands on the sick – we are to preach the gospel. When we do this, faith can arise in the hearers, as it did for the crippled man at Lystra when he heard the gospel (Acts 14:7-10), so that people can be healed. “The gospel” from God’s perspective includes the entirety of the good news, including the healing part – it is not just instruction on avoiding hell.

See also:

YOU Can Do Miracles

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Luke 9:11:

And the people, when they knew it, followed him: and he received them, and spake unto them of the kingdom of God, and healed them that had need of healing.

Notes on Luke 9:11:

This is one of many Scriptures where we see that Jesus preached and healed the sick, and it appears that He did the preaching before He healed them that had need of healing. This is a good pattern to follow because otherwise the sick may have no basis for faith to be healed.

See also:

Notes on Philippians 4:19

YOU Can Be Healed

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Luke 9:38-42:

And, behold, a man of the company cried out, saying, Master, I beseech thee, look upon my son: for he is mine only child.

And lo, a spirit taketh him, and he suddenly crieth out; and it teareth him that he foameth again, and bruising him hardly departeth from him.

And I besought thy disciples to cast him out; and they could not.

And Jesus answering said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you, and suffer you? Bring thy son hither.

And as he was yet a coming, the devil threw him down, and tare him. And Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the child, and delivered him again to his father.

Notes on Luke 9:38-42:

Luke gives the shortest version of this incident; Matthew and Mark go into some more detail.

See also:

Matthew 17:14-21

Notes on Matthew 17:14-21

Mark 9:17-29

Notes on Mark 9:17-29

According to YOUR FAITH Be It Done unto You!

Must We Fast and Pray to Make Certain Demons Leave?

Condition: Demon Possession

Luke 9:49-50:

And John answered and said, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name; and we forbad him, because he followeth not with us.

And Jesus said unto him, Forbid him not: for he that is not against us is for us.

See also:

Mark 9:38-39

Notes on Mark 9:38-39

YOU Can Do Miracles

The Power in the Name of Jesus

Who Can Lay Hands on the Sick in Mark 16, Apostles or All Believers?

Your Authority over Sickness

Objection: Christ's Disciples Were Told to Heal EVERYONE. No One Does This Today, So We Cannot Say We Have the Same Authority They Did.

Condition: Demon Possession

Luke 10:8-9:

And into whatever city ye enter, and they receive you, eat such things as are set before you:
And heal the sick that are therein, and say unto them, The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.

Notes on Luke 10:8-9:

Some places receive you better than others. Jesus urged His disciples to minister where they were received and to leave places where they were not received. I believe that NOT staying where no one receives you is what Jesus meant when He said not to cast your pearls before swine. (Matthew 7:6: “Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you.”) However, you don’t have to have a crowd following you right away. Paul preached at Ephesus and started with about a dozen people (Acts 19:7 says, “And all the men were about twelve”). The fact that his initial crowd was only a dozen didn’t stop him from staying there for months. Ephesus became the site of unusual miracles as things progressed (Acts 19:11-12).

See also:

YOU Can Do Miracles

Objection: Christ’s Disciples Were Told to Heal EVERYONE. No One Does This Today, So We Cannot Say We Have the Same Authority They Did.

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Luke 10:17-20:

And the seventy returned with joy, saying, Lord, even the devils are subject unto us through thy name. And he said unto them, I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven.

Behold, I give you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy, and nothing shall by any means hurt you.

Notwithstanding in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you; but rather rejoice, because your names are written in heaven.

Notes on Luke 10:17-20:

The disciples realized that there was power in the name of Jesus. They used His name to drive out demons. Jesus cautioned against being preoccupied with power. John wrote to “young men” because they had overcome Satan, but he wrote to the “fathers” (elders) because they knew God (1 John 2:13-14). Thus, knowing God is a greater thing than casting out demons. Jesus also made it clear in this passage that being admitted to heaven is a far greater privilege than casting out devils.

When you cast out demons, you must remember that they are subject to the name of Jesus. Do not try to deal with them in your own strength.

The Bible calls sickness “oppression of the devil” and Jesus gave His followers power over all he works of the devil, so you know that He gave them power over sickness.

This is a good passage to remember if you are laying hands on the sick when a contagious sickness is making the rounds. Sickness is part of the power of the enemy, so it is not to hurt you by any means! You need to settle that in your mind before you start so that you don’t get into fear about contracting whatever it is that many others have caught. Sickness is subject to you as a believer; it’s not the other way around.

This is also a good passage to know if someone comes to you who wants to be set free from an evil habit (alcoholism, drug abuse, pornography, homosexuality, etc.). Such things are tools of the devil, and if the person wants to be delivered, he can be. If a demon manifests, you have authority to cast it out, because you tread on snakes and scorpions and all the power of the enemy.

A good question would be WHEN Jesus beheld Satan fall as lightning from heaven. This is one of those things that isn’t discussed anywhere else, so we don’t really know. Was He saying, “I was around when Satan originally transgressed, and he fell like lightning?” Maybe. Was He saying, “I see the day coming soon when Satan will lose EVERYTHING when I go to the cross and die for humanity?” Maybe. I don’t have enough information from other Scriptures to make a firm call on this one.

See also:

Notes on Matthew 7:21-23

Notes on Matthew 8:2-4

The Power in the Name of Jesus

Casting out the Spirit of Stupidity

Your Authority over Sickness

Job Explained

YOU Can Do Miracles

The Kingdom of God Is Here NOW

Power, Then and Now

Deliverance Myths

The Insecure Preacher

Paper Roadblocks to Healing

Who Can Lay Hands on the Sick in Mark 16, Apostles or All Believers?

Does Satan Literally Invent All Diseases?

Does a Serious Sickness Attack Prove that a Major Breakthrough Is Just Ahead?

I Have an Engagement to Preach Healing Somewhere, But I'm Really Sick Myself! What Should I Do?

Must We Fast and Pray to Make Certain Demons Leave?

Should We Plead the Blood when Dealing with Demons?

Is Deliverance a Dangerous Practice Best Left to Trained Exorcists?

Can a Christian Have a Demon?

I Just Commanded a Demon to Leave, But It Is Still There. What Do I Do Now?

Can I Cast a Demon out of a "Haunted" Location?

Will God Heal My Pets or Livestock?

Can I Get Healed of Alcoholism, Drug Abuse, Pornography and Homosexuality?

Objection: Everything Happens for a Reason

Objection: My Trials Only Come to Make Me Strong

Objection: God Gives and Takes Away

Objection: Job Was a Godly Man, Yet God Let Him Get Sick

Objection: If We Are Subject to Death, We Are Subject to Sickness

Objection: As Many Doctors Will Tell You, Many People Makes Themselves Sick – It Has Nothing to Do with the Devil

Objection: James Said to Say, "If the Lord Will, We Shall Live." This Proves that We Cannot Claim Long Life.

Objection: Mark 16:9-20 Was Not in Some Early Manuscripts

Objection: If We Really Had Authority over Sickness, We Would Not Need GIFTS of Healing

Condition: Demon Possession

Condition: Shaking

Condition: Snakebites

Luke 11:14:

And he was casting out a devil, and it was dumb. And it came to pass, when the devil was gone out, the dumb spake; and the people wondered.

See also:

Matthew 9:32-33

Notes on Matthew 9:32-33

Condition: Demon Possession

Condition: Dumbness

Luke 11:20:

But if I with the finger of God cast out devils, no doubt the kingdom of God is come upon you.

Notes on Luke 11:20:

I believe that the “finger of God” Jesus mentioned is the Holy Spirit. When you are baptized with the Holy Spirit, you can minister in the power of the Holy Spirit as Jesus did, and you can cast out demons with the finger of God!

See also:

Healing and the Holy Spirit

Objection: No Gospel of Healing Is Mentioned in the Bible, So It Isn't Emphasized

Condition: Demon Possession

Luke 13:11-16:

And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself.

And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity.

And he laid his hands on her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God.

And the ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation, because that Jesus had healed on the sabbath day, and said unto the people, There are six days in which men ought to work: in them come and be healed, and not on the sabbath day.

The Lord then answered him, and said, Thou hypocrite, doth not each one of you on the sabbath loose his ox or his ass from the stall, and lead him away to watering?

And ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound, lo, these eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the sabbath day?

Notes on Luke 13:11-16:

Here Jesus said that the crippled woman was bound by Satan and ought to be healed. There are spirits whose job it is to make people infirm or sick. When this is the case, Jesus showed that you do not necessarily have to cast out the spirit explicitly. He only spoke that she was loosed and laid hands on her. There is no record that He said anything to the spirit of infirmity. But obviously, it left!

How sad that anyone would complain about a miraculous healing of someone who had been crippled for 18 years. Still, there are people like that today.

Notice that the reason she “ought to be healed” was that she was a daughter of Abraham. If you are in Christ, you are a child of Abraham by faith (Galatians 3:7, Galatians 3:29), so surely you ought to be healed, too!

Long before we met, my wife was bound for six years by a spirit of infirmity that kept her dependent on a machine to survive. She would sometimes be paralyzed and unable to care for herself. But Jesus delivered her, and she could sense that the spirit that had bound her was gone. She has never been bound since!

Once when I was on a mission trip, a woman suddenly came in desperate, trying as hard as she could to breathe. It was the kind of situation where you would call 911, but I didn't know the number for "911" in that country at the time (it wasn't 911, obviously!), and it looked as if we might not have time to wait for the paramedics to show up even if I called. The Lord told me, "That's a spirit, not a physical illness." So I commanded that spirit to leave her in the name of Jesus. She was instantly better, and that was the end of it. I actually saw the demon leave her, give me a hateful look and then go out the window. Sometimes a condition has nothing to do with an actual physical cause; a demon is behind it. In other cases, it really is something physical. Please don't go around trying to cast a spirit of infirmity out of every sick person (as some people seem prone to do); you will only confuse people and embarrass yourself by doing that.

See also:

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

Abraham's Blessing Is Yours

You Ought to be Healed

Healing and God's Glory

The Acceptable Year of the Lord

Is All Sickness Demonic?

Objection: "Faith Healers" Call Attention to Man and Thus Rob the Lord of Due Glory

Objection: God Has Satan on a Leash and Only Permits Him to do Certain Things to You

Objection: Like Any Loving Parent, God Sometimes Has to Tell His Children NO for Their Own Good

Objection: Any Other Objection Not Specifically Covered in This Book

Condition: Arthritis

Condition: Chronic Illnesses

Condition: Demon Possession

Luke 14:1-6:

And it came to pass, as he went into the house of one of the chief Pharisees to eat bread on the sabbath day, that they watched him.

And, behold, there was a certain man before him which had the dropsy.

And Jesus answering spake unto the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath day?

And they held their peace. And he took him, and healed him, and let him go;

And answered them, saying, Which of you shall have an ass or an ox fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull him out on the sabbath day?

And they could not answer him again to these things.

Notes on Luke 14:1-6:

Jesus likened the man's sick condition to being in a pit. (Sickness is the pits!) Just as a compassionate farmer would take his animal out of a pit, Jesus would heal a sick person. An animal should not be in a pit, and a person should not be sick. Jesus is willing to pull you out of your pit of sickness any day of the week!

The word "dropsy" is an old term that referred to swelling of tissues caused by excess water. Such conditions still exist today, and Jesus has paid the price for all such conditions to be healed. (Today, this would probably be called "edema" and the sufferer would be given "fluid pills" to combat it.)

The word "ass" means a donkey. Today you might want to point that out while you read this passage if the church you're at uses the King James Version; that way, the kids aren't as likely to snicker at the question about which of you has one. Some words don't mean what they used to mean. (I assume that is why the NKJV refers a certain place as Acacia Grove, not its Hebrew name Shittim that appears in the King James Version; this avoids having the kids accuse the preacher of cussing.)

We don't have any particulars on how this man with the fluid buildup was healed, but God didn't consider it important enough to include it in this account. What is important is that we can do the works that Jesus did, which means that we have the authority to heal conditions that cause fluid buildup today. If you meet someone like that man, this would be a "swell" passage to share with him!

See also:

Condition: Swelling

Luke 17:12-19:

And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stood afar off: And they lifted up their voices and said, Jesus, Master, have mercy on us.

And when he saw them, he said unto them, Go shew yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass, that, as they went, they were cleansed.

And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, and with a loud voice glorified God, And fell down on his face at his feet; giving him thanks: and he was a Samaritan.

And Jesus answering said, Were there not ten cleansed? but where are the nine?

There are not found that returned to give glory to God, save this stranger.

And he said unto him, Arise, go thy way: thy faith hath made thee whole.

Notes on Luke 17:12-19:

The lepers knew what Jesus meant when He told them to show themselves to the priests. That is what you did when you were cleansed of leprosy so that the priests could certify your healing. As they obeyed Jesus, they were cleansed on their way. It is interesting that they were not cleansed on the spot before they went, but as they went. They had to act in faith on Jesus' words that they could go show themselves to the priests and be certified as cleansed.

"As they went" doesn't just mean that they went home for the night. They "went" to the priests to show that they were healed. That involved an act of faith on their part; they would not have wanted to go and show themselves to the priests if they did not believe that they were truly healed on the basis of nothing more than the words of Jesus.

As far as walking in faith for their healing went, all ten of them succeeded. Sadly, only one came back to glorify God and thank Jesus. I and others who minister divine healing have found that this is too often the case when people receive miracles. Rather than telling everyone they know and inviting them to the next service to get healed as well, they just take their healings and go back to living however they were living before. On many occasions the only way I even found out about their healings was through a chance meeting or a third-party report, or maybe seeing them a year later in the same church when I visited again. Such selfishness hinders the work of God. The gospel could spread much more quickly if everyone would "publish" to the heathen the wonderful things that Jesus has done for them!

Some preachers have attempted to draw a distinction in the last verse by saying that TEN lepers were healed but only one was "made whole." The word used for "made whole" is NOT iaomai, the word used more commonly to denote physical healing. Rather, it is sozo, which can mean saved, healed, and some related things.

Personally, I suspect that Jesus was telling him that he was saved in the sense of his sins being forgiven, as Jesus also told the woman in the passage below:

Luke 7:47-50:

Wherefore I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little.

And he said unto her, Thy sins are forgiven.

And they that sat at meat with him began to say within themselves, Who is this that forgiveth sins also?

And he said to the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee; go in peace.

However, there is certain “wobble room” for how you want to interpret the verse. It IS interesting to know that a different word was used there.

See also:

All About Healing Services

Strange Ways to Get Healed

I Prayed in Faith – Now What?

Healing and God’s Glory

Healing and Obedience

According to YOUR FAITH Be It Done unto You!

Healing and Dead Works

Be Bold with Your Healing Testimony

Objection: Christ’s Healings Were Mostly Instantaneous; We Cannot Claim to Be Able to Do His Works When We Have So Few Instantaneous Miracles

Objection: “Faith Healers” Call Attention to Man and Thus Rob the Lord of Due Glory

Objection: Ten Lepers Were Healed but Only One Had Faith

Condition: Leprosy

Luke 18:35-43:

And it came to pass, that as he was come nigh unto Jericho, a certain blind man sat by the way side begging:

And hearing the multitude pass by, he asked what it meant.

And they told him, Jesus of Nazareth passeth by.

And he cried, saying, Jesus, thou Son of David, have mercy on me.

And they which went before rebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but he cried so much the more, thou Son of David, have mercy on me.

And Jesus stood, and commanded him to be brought unto him: and when he was come near, he asked him,

Saying, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receive my sight.

And Jesus said unto him, Receive thy sight: thy faith hath saved thee.

And immediately he received his sight, and followed him, glorifying God: and all the people, when they saw it, gave praise unto God.

See also:

Matthew 20:30-34

Notes on Matthew 20:30-34

According to YOUR FAITH Be It Done unto You!

It Might Only Take One

Healing and God's Glory

Objection: "Faith Healers" Call Attention to Man and Thus Rob the Lord of Due Glory

Condition: Blindness

Luke 22:50-51:

And one of them smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off his right ear.
And Jesus answered and said, Suffer ye thus far. And he touched his ear, and healed him.

Notes on Luke 22:50-51:

Want to see how willing Jesus is to heal? Check out this passage. Jesus was willing to perform a miracle for one of His enemies – a man who had come to take Him away to be killed! If He is willing to extend such mercy to His enemies, think how much mercy He must be willing to extend to one of His friends! (Jesus calls you His friend if you obey Him – John 15:14.)

See also:

Must We Lay Hands on the Specific Afflicted Body Part?

Can I Get Healed of Injuries from Accidents as Well as Diseases?

Condition: Injuries

Condition: Severing

John 3:14:

And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of Man be lifted up:

Notes on John 3:14:

Here Jesus likened Himself to the metal serpent in Numbers 21:5-9. When people looked at the serpent, a symbol of Christ, they were forgiven and healed. It makes sense that you should get no less when you look to the Christ who was symbolized.

Christ on the cross was symbolized by a serpent (not a lamb) on a pole to emphasize that fact that He was “made sin” for us (2 Corinthians 5:21) on that cross before He died and He was “made a curse” for us (Galatians 3:13).

See also:

Notes on Numbers 21:5-9

Healing and Atonement

Forgiven People Can Be Healed

How Could Jesus Heal the Sick Based on His Future Atonement?

Objection: Jesus Was Not Really PUNISHED for Our Sins; He Just Shed Blood to Atone for Them

John 4:46-53:

So Jesus came again into Cana of Galilee, where he had made the water wine. And there was a certain nobleman, whose son was sick at Capernaum.

When he had heard that Jesus was come out of Judea into Galilee, he went unto him, and besought him that he would come down, and heal his son, for he was at the point of death.

Then said Jesus unto him, Except ye see signs and wonders, ye will not believe.

The nobleman saith unto him, Sir, come down ere my child die.

Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way; thy son liveth. And the man believed the word that Jesus had spoken unto him, and he went his way.

And as he was now going down, his servants met him, and told him, Thy son liveth.

Then enquired he of them the hour when he began to amend. And they said unto him, Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him.

So that father knew that it was the same hour, in the which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth: and himself believed, and his whole house.

Notes on John 4:46-53:

This man is interesting because he took a lot of effort to seek out Jesus, yet he did not fully “believe.” This is clear from what Jesus said to him (“Except ye see signs and wonders, ye will not believe”) and from the end of the story, where the nobleman finally “believed” AFTER the healing took place!

The man had no doubt heard that Jesus was doing miracles, but he was not yet committed to following Jesus. It is interesting that he believed the word of Jesus and received his miracle before believing in Jesus in a general way! Jesus is merciful!

Yet even before he got home, this man exercised what Jesus elsewhere called “great faith.” He didn’t need any visible proof that the deed was done – the mere WORD of Jesus on the matter settled everything for him. If this man could do this BEFORE he fully “believed” and BEFORE there was a New Covenant under which he could be born again, surely WE should be able to believe something SOLELY on the basis that God has SAID it!

See also:

Different Ways to Get Healed

God’s Blessing on Your Kids

Why Are There More Miracles on the Mission Field than at Home?

Can I Believe and Receive a Healing for Someone Else?

Would God Heal an Unbeliever?

Can I Command a Sickness to Leave over the Telephone?

Objection: Christ’s Healings Were Mostly Instantaneous; We Cannot Claim to Be Able to Do His Works

When We Have So Few Instantaneous Miracles

Condition: Fever

John 5:2-19:

Now there is at Jerusalem by the sheep market a pool, which is called in the Hebrew tongue Bethesda, having five porches.

In these lay a great multitude of impotent folk, of blind, halt, withered, waiting for the moving of the water.

For an angel went down at a certain season into the pool, and troubled the water: whosoever then first after the troubling of the water stepped in was made whole of whatsoever disease he had.

And a certain man was there, which had an infirmity thirty and eight years.

When Jesus saw him lie, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wilt thou be made whole?

The impotent man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me.

Jesus saith unto him, Rise, take up thy bed, and walk.

And immediately the man was made whole, and took up his bed, and walked: and on the same day was the sabbath.

The Jews therefore said unto him that was cured, It is the sabbath day: it is not lawful for thee to carry thy bed.

He answered them, He that made me whole, the same said unto me, Take up thy bed, and walk.

Then asked they him, What man is that which said unto thee, Take up thy bed, and walk?

And he that was healed wist not who it was: for Jesus had conveyed himself away, a multitude being in that place.

Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sin no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee.

The man departed, and told the Jews that it was Jesus, which had made him whole.

And therefore did the Jews persecute Jesus, and sought to slay him, because he had done these things on the sabbath day.

But Jesus answered them, my Father worketh hitherto, and I work.

Therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he not only had broken the sabbath, but said also that God was his Father, making himself equal with God.

Then answered Jesus and said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise.

Notes on John 5:2-19:

The man who was healed was healed through the operation of a gift of the Spirit, not by his faith. That should be obvious! The man had no idea who Jesus was, and he wasn't particularly warm to the idea of getting healed in a way other than running into the pool. Jesus equated his healing with the work of God.

This has led to controversy over why Jesus did not heal everyone else at the pool. It has even been used as a “proof” (see the objections under “See also:” below) that healing is not for all. Yes, Jesus did leave the others sick, but He never turned down anyone who came to Him for healing. The other people at the pool seemed to have no clue who Jesus was. They did not expect anything from Him, so they did not receive anything from Him. (Once the man was healed, Jesus apparently left the area quickly. We don’t know for sure why, but it may have had to do with the fact that the Pharisees would be out to kill Him for healing on the Sabbath.)

The gifts of the Spirit operate as the Spirit wills. He will sometimes heal a person who is not in faith when He sees fit to do so, but no man has any guarantee of being healed that way. Every man DOES have a guarantee of being healed if he will believe he receives his healing when he prays. Just as those who came to Jesus in faith for healing were healed then, you can be healed when you come to Him in faith now.

The unusual and unique situation with this angel and this pool could make you wonder whether the whole thing was just a superstition. However, the passage states that an angel troubled the water and that then the first one in the pool would get healed, so we need to stay with the witness of Scripture. To deny that the passage in question was not quite true would be to undermine the entire authority of Scripture.

However, verse 18 is actually significant when it comes to interpreting the book of Job, because it raises a major issue about Scripture interpretation. In this verse, it says that Jesus broke the Sabbath – if you accept the premise that the narrator’s view is always correct. John was not directly quoting anybody. Bible narrators quote plenty of false statements made by others. But Jesus couldn’t have broken the Sabbath from God’s perspective, because then He would not have been “without sin.” But if the narrator’s perspective MUST ALWAYS BE God’s perspective, Jesus sinned. We know He didn’t, so the only conclusion is that a Bible narrator may use a literary device where he explains the mindset of someone who did something while appearing to be narrating. Thus, the Pharisees sought to kill Him because they THOUGHT that He had broken the Sabbath. This can come into play when trying to interpret Job 42:11, which must be one of the most difficult verses in the Old Testament. The principle seen in John 5:18 could be used to explain that Job’s friends comforted him over the evil that THEY THOUGHT that the Lord had brought upon him.

Verse 19 is important because it proves that Jesus ministered as a Spirit-filled Man and not as God. If He ministered as God, His statement would have to have been, “The Son can do EVERYTHING of Himself, because He is God!”

Although the man was healed, the Bible does not teach “Once healed, always healed.” Jesus warned the man, “Sin no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee” (verse 14 of the passage above). Jesus did not come to condemn people, but He did warn them to stop sinning. (Another example of this: “Neither do I condemn thee: go, and sin no more” (John 8:11)).

See also:

Notes on John 9:1-7

All About Healing Services

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

Strange Ways to Get Healed

Job Explained

The Causeless Curse

If You Are Sick, Does that Mean There Is Sin in Your Life?

Am I Sick because I Left a Door Open to the Devil?

Can I Receive Healing for a Problem that I Brought on Myself?

I'm Sick because I'm Fat! Can I Claim Healing?

Should We Pray to Determine the Real Root Cause of an Illness?

Objection: To Preach that Jesus COULD NOT Do Miracles at Nazareth Is to Deny His Deity and God's Sovereignty. Therefore, the Only Reason He Could Not Would Be that People Did Not Bring the Sick.

Objection: Jesus Didn't Heal Everyone in His Earthly Ministry; He Left Many Sick at the Pool of Bethesda

Objection: Jesus Did Only What He Saw the Father Do. He Only Saw the Father Heal ONE Person at the Pool of Bethesda.

Objection: The Man in John 9 Exercised No Faith until AFTER He Was Healed

Objection: David Said that It Was GOOD that He Was Afflicted; So It Can Be with Us

Objection: Some Who Get Healed at Healing Crusades Don't Keep Their Healings

Objection: Healing Cannot Be in the Atonement because Healing Can Be Lost, but Salvation Cannot Be Lost

Objection: Because We Are Still Capable of Sinning, We Must Be Subject to Sickness, an Effect of Sin

Objection: So-and-So Was "Healed of Cancer" But Now Has Cancer Again

Objection: Faith Does Not Always Overcome – God Can Give Both OVERCOMING and ENDURING Faith

Objection: We Cannot Expect to Heal As Jesus Did Because We Are Not the Son of God

Condition: Blindness

Condition: Lameness

John 6:2:

And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles which he did on them that were diseased.

Notes on John 6:2:

Want a one-verse church growth program? Here it is! No secular gimmicks, no program that worked somewhere else, no formulas, no seminars, and not even any direct costs! Multitudes can follow Jesus after they see the miracles that He does on the sick. We should continue to seek to improve our churches' ministry to the sick so that we see more miracles and more attention is brought to the gospel.

See also:

Healing and Evangelism

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

John 9:1-7:

And as Jesus passed by, he saw a man which was blind from his birth.

And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sin, this man, or his parents, that he was born blind?

Jesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents: but that the works of God should be manifest in him.

I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: The night cometh, when no man can work. As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world.

When he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and he anointed the eyes of the blind man with the clay,

And said unto him, Go, wash in the pool of Siloam, (which is by interpretation, Sent.) He went his way therefore, and washed, and came seeing.

[The results of this take up the remainder of chapter 9, through verse 41.]

Notes on John 9:1-7:

Some difficulties with this passage are discussed under the topic, Objection: The Man in John 9 Was Born Blind, and That Was God's Will.

Some conditions are the result of an individual's sin. A prime example is the case in Romans 1:26-27 of homosexuals reaping in their bodies the due penalty for their error. Jesus warned the man at the Pool of Bethesda to sin no more, lest a worse thing come upon him (see John 5:2-19). So sin can definitely produce sickness.

However, other conditions are just byproducts of the fall, not individual sins, as was the case with the man born blind in this passage. Thus, we should never judge someone by thinking, "I wonder what sin he committed that opened the door for this sickness to come upon him." The person might not have committed any sin that is related to the sickness! You should not beat yourself up with that thought either and go on a "witch hunt" for what sin could have "opened the door" for you to get whatever condition you're dealing with.

In "the old days" people would sometimes say and think, "God cursed that family with a mentally ill child. I wonder what they did!" But this passage proves the fallacy of jumping to such mean conclusions!

Where discussed:

Strange Ways to Get Healed

Healing and Obedience

How Can Birth Defects Be Part of the Curse for Breaking the Law from which We Are Redeemed? It Would Make No Sense for God to Say that If You Break His Law, He'll Give You Birth Defects.

Should We Pray to Determine the Real Root Cause of an Illness?

Objection: Christ's Healings Were Mostly Instantaneous; We Cannot Claim to be Able to Do His Works When We Have So Few Instantaneous Miracles

Objection: The Man in John 9 Was Born Blind, and That Was God's Will

Objection: God Creates Dumb, Deaf and Blind People (Exodus 4:11)

Objection: Sickness Can Be Proof of God's Special Favor

Objection: Faith Preachers are Trinity-Denying Heretics because They Teach that Jesus Died Spiritually

Objection: I Got a Debilitating Disease and Cried, "Why Me?" And the Lord Answered, "Why NOT You?"

Condition: Birth Defects

Condition: Blindness

John 10:10:

The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly.

Notes on John 10:10:

This is the most succinct statement of the fact that Jesus is good and the devil is bad. How sad that today many preachers reverse this and claim that GOD has visited you with disease (which steals, kills and destroys) and that if any healing is going on, it must be the devil. If that were true, Satan would be nicer than God and thus more worthy of worship! Jesus came to destroy the works of the devil (1 John 3:8), not to destroy the works of God. So sickness can't be the work of God! Jesus went about doing good and healing all who were oppressed by the devil (Acts 10:38).

I actually had a couple people come to my door to "witness" to me and I told them how God had supernaturally healed me of allergies that I had suffered all my life until that point. They informed me that the DEVIL must have done it because GOD doesn't do that anymore. I said that if that is true, Satan is nicer than God and we should worship Satan instead of God. They actually ran off scared. Now maybe that wasn't very nice, but I hope that I gave them something to think about!

See also:

Who or What Causes Sickness?

Everything's Yours, Including Healing

Job Explained

Objection: Job Was a Godly Man, Yet God Let Him Get Sick

Objection: My Trials Only Come to Make Me Strong

Objection: If God ALLOWS Sickness, He Must Have a Purpose for It

Objection: If You Suffer More in This Life, You Get a Greater Reward in Heaven

Objection: God Sometimes Has an Older Person Get Sick to Make That Person Want to Come Home to Heaven

Objection: Everything Happens for a Reason

Objection: My Trials Only Come to Make Me Strong

Objection: If God ALLOWS Sickness, He Must Have a Purpose for It

Objection: Jeremiah 17:9 Literally Means That the Heart Is SICK, So Jesus Came to Heal the Sickness in Our Hearts, Not in Our Bodies

John 11:1-44:

Now a certain man was sick, named Lazarus, of Bethany, the town of Mary and her sister Martha. (It was that Mary which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick.)

Therefore his sisters sent unto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou lovest is sick.

When Jesus heard that, He said, This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God may be glorified thereby.

Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus.

When he had heard therefore that he was sick, he abode two days still in the same place where he was.

Then after that saith he to his disciples, Let us go into Judea again.

His disciples say unto him, Master, the Jews of late sought to stone thee; and goest thou thither again?

Jesus answered, Are there not twelve hours in one day? If any man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world.

But if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, because there is no light in him.

These things said he: and after that he saith unto them, Our friend Lazarus sleepeth; but I go, that I may awake him out of sleep.

Then said his disciples, Lord, if he sleep, he shall do well.

Howbeit Jesus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of taking rest in sleep.

Then said Jesus unto them plainly, Lazarus is dead.

And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, to the intent ye may believe; nevertheless let us go unto him.

Then said Thomas, which is called Didymus, unto his fellowdisciples, Let us also go, that we may die with him.

Then when Jesus came, he found that he had lain in the grave four days already.

Now Bethany was nigh unto Jerusalem, about fifteen furlongs off:

And many of the Jews came to Martha and Mary, to comfort them concerning their brother.

Then Martha, as soon as she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met him: but Mary sat still in the house.

Then said Martha unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

But I know, that even now, whatsoever thou wilt ask of God, God will give it thee.

Jesus saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again.

Martha saith unto him, I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day.

Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believeth thou this?

She saith unto him, Yea, Lord: I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, which should come into the world.

And when she had so said, she went her way, and called Mary her sister secretly, saying, The Master is come, and calleth for thee.

As soon as she heard that, she arose quickly, and came unto him.

Now Jesus was not yet come into the town, but was in that place where Martha met him.

The Jews then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they saw Mary, that she rose up hastily and went out, followed her, saying, She goeth unto the grave to weep there.

Then when Mary was come where Jesus was, and saw him, she fell down at his feet, saying unto him, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews also weeping which came with her, he groaned in the spirit, and was troubled,

And said, Where have ye laid him? They said unto him, Lord, come and see.

Jesus wept.

Then said the Jews, Behold how he loved him!

And some of them said, Could not this man, which opened the eyes of the blind, have caused that even this man should not have died?

Jesus therefore again groaning in himself cometh to the grave. It was a cave, and a stone lay upon it.

Jesus said, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time he stinketh: for he hath been dead four days.

Jesus saith unto her, Said I not unto thee, that, if thou wouldest believe, thou shouldest see the glory of God?

Then they took away the stone from the place where the dead was laid. And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me.

And I knew that thou hearest me always: but because of the people which stand by I said it, that they may believe that thou hast sent me.

And when he had thus spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth.

And he that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with graveclothes: and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go.

Notes on John 11:1-44:

God always heard Jesus when He prayed. He was perfectly righteous. But you are perfectly righteous too, because you are a new creation, created in righteousness and true holiness (Ephesians 4:24). So God will always hear you when you pray, too. It is senseless to pray, "Lord, hear my prayer" or "Lord, hear our prayer." It isn't even logical. If God doesn't hear you, He doesn't hear your prayer to hear you, and if He hears that prayer, you've just wasted your time because obviously God was hearing you anyway.

Jesus was a true Man who felt emotions. He wept. If Jesus could weep over something (He also wept over Jerusalem), it is not anti-faith if you show some emotion and weep. Also, the Word talks about weeping with them who weep (Romans 12:15). You don't have to be "macho" and think that grown people can't cry.

Jesus said that if Martha believed, she would see the glory of God. If we believe, we should see the glory of God too.

See also:

To Heal the Brokenhearted

Healing and God's Glory

Objection: Lazarus Was Sick for the Glory of God \(John 11:4\)

Objection: Faith Preachers are Trinity-Denying Heretics because They Teach that Jesus Died Spiritually

Condition: Blindness

Condition: Nonviability

John 12:39-41:

Therefore they could not believe, because that Esaias [Isaiah] said again,
He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart; that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them.
These things said Esaias, when he saw his glory, and spake of him.

See also:

Matthew 13:15

Notes on Matthew 13:15

Acts 28:27

Notes on Acts 28:27

Acts 1:8:

But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth.

Notes on Acts 1:8:

It has always been God's plan that you receive power and then go be a witness. Flowing in the power of God is a far more effective witness than all the canned evangelism programs you can think of. The disciples weren't even supposed to leave Jerusalem without this power. It was the power of God in demonstration that caused whole cities to be converted not too long after this.

It is clear from this verse that the power is to manifest when you go to be a witness to the world. This is consistent with the Great Commission as expressed in Mark 16:15-18.

If people really believed this verse, they would not sing, "Send the old-time power, the Pentecostal power;" they'd sing, "Thank You, Lord, that You already sent the old-time Pentecostal power a long time ago on the day of Pentecost!" They wouldn't sing, "Anointing, fall on me!" Instead, they'd sing, "Thank You, Lord, that I'm already anointed by the Holy Spirit! The anointing already fell on me!" They wouldn't sing, "I'm tired, I'm weak" or "I'm weak and poor;" they'd sing, "I'm full of power from on high! Let the weak say I am strong!" They'd quit having seemingly endless prayer meetings for "revival power" to fall and they'd go out and flow in the power that they've already been given with no further waiting required!

Jesus had already breathed on the disciples and said, "Receive the Holy Spirit." So why were they waiting? When you are born again, the Holy Spirit dwells in you, but you receive power when you are baptized with the Holy Spirit, as happened in Acts 2:2-4 and elsewhere. Salvation and the baptism of the Holy Spirit are two distinct experiences, as proved in How to Be Baptized with the Holy Spirit.

See also:

Notes on Luke 6:17-19

The Kingdom of God is Here NOW

Power, Then and Now

The Anointing in the New Testament

BEING Anointed vs. FEELING Anointed

Healing and the Last Days

The Insecure Preacher

How to Be Baptized with the Holy Spirit

Can I Believe for a Double Portion of the Anointing?

Objection: Christ's Command to HEAL THE SICK Stopped before the Cross and Has Never Been Repeated Since Then, Even in Other New Testament Writings

Objection: You Must Let GOD Choose When to Grant Power to Heal the Sick

Objection: Mark 16:9-20 Was Not in Some Early Manuscripts

Acts 3:1-16:

Now Peter and John went up together into the temple at the hour of prayer, being the ninth hour. And a certain man lame from his mother's womb was carried, whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple which is called Beautiful, to ask alms of them that entered into the temple; Who seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple asked an alms. And Peter, fastening his eyes upon him with John, said, Look on us. And he gave heed unto them, expecting to receive something of them. Then Peter said, Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have give I thee: In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk. And he took him by the right hand, and lifted him up: and immediately his feet and ankle bones received strength. And he leaping up stood, and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God. And all the people saw him walking and praising God; And they knew that it was he which sat for alms at the Beautiful gate of the temple: and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened unto him. And as the lame man which was healed held Peter and John, all the people ran together unto them in the porch that is called Solomon's, greatly wondering. And when Peter saw it, he answered unto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marvel ye at this? or why look ye so earnestly on us, as though by our own power or holiness we had made this man to walk? The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, the God of our fathers, hath glorified his son Jesus; whom ye delivered up, and denied him in the presence of Pilate, when he was determined to let him go. But ye denied the Holy One and the Just, and desired a murderer to be granted unto you; And killed the Prince of life, whom God hath raised from the dead; whereof we are witnesses. And his name through faith in his name hath made this man strong, whom ye see and know: yea, the faith which is by him hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all.

Notes on Acts 3:1-16:

The man himself did not appear to be expecting a miracle. He was looking for a handout as usual. We do not know whether or not the man had heard the teaching of the apostles, either directly or secondhand from those who went in and out. Whatever the case, he rose up healed. This was a sign that resulted in the salvation of 5,000 people in one day! Jesus said that signs would follow the preaching of the gospel and that He would give the disciples power to be witnesses, and this word was true. Being healed as a sign is NOT the norm and should not be the way you seek healing.

Today, people would probably think it was more humble to say, "DON'T look at us; look only upon Jesus" but that's not what Peter said here. Peter was bold because he knew he had something. So do you if you're born again and Spirit-filled.

It's not up to YOUR power and godliness to see a miracle, as Peter made clear in the passage above. It's God's power working through you, not your own power. God can use you even though you aren't perfect, just as God used Peter when he was far from perfect. If you'll believe and be available, God will use you, too!

If 5,000 people could get saved in a town over one miracle, it's still possible for something like that to happen today. Let's not limit God!

See also:

Jesus the Healer Has Never Changed!

How to Deal with the Devil

Your Authority over Sickness

The Power in the Name of Jesus

YOU Can Do Miracles

Do the Math

The Healing Anointing

You Are Christ on the Earth

Boldness to Minister Healing

What 1 John 1:9 Really Means

Is All Sickness Demonic?

How Can Birth Defects Be Part of the Curse for Breaking the Law from which We Are Redeemed? It Would Make No Sense for God to Say that If You Break His Law, He'll Give You Birth Defects.

Was the Healing of the Crippled Man in Acts 3 Based on Peter's Authority or on a Special Manifestation of the Spirit?

Objection: By Jesus' Stripes We Were Spiritually, Not Physically, Healed

Objection: The Apostles Never Said, "By His Stripes You Were Healed" When They Preached Christ

Objection: If God Wanted Us to Enjoy Perfect Health NOW, He Would Have Already Given Us Immortal Bodies

Objection: Disease Viruses are Part of God's Creation and Are Therefore Good, Even Though We Often Don't Think So When We Catch Them

Condition: Birth Defects

Condition: Lameness

Condition: Weakness

Acts 4:7-10:

And when they had set them in the midst, they asked, By what power, or by what name, have ye done this?

Then Peter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye rulers of the people, and elders of Israel, If we this day be examined of the good deed done to the impotent man, by what means he is made whole;

Be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before you whole.

Notes on Acts 4:7-10:

Jesus said that when you ask anything in His name, He will do it. This is an example of that. Peter, talking about the crippled man at the gate called Beautiful, said that the man was whole by the name of Jesus Christ, and then said that by Him he stood before them whole. Jesus backs His name when we use it!

The King James word impotent refers to being crippled, not to needing pills shown on television ads that say things that you hope your kids don't ask you about.

See also:

The Power in the Name of Jesus

Jesus the Healer Has Never Changed

How to Be Baptized with the Holy Spirit

Objection: By Jesus' Stripes We Were Spiritually, Not Physically, Healed

Objection: Disease Viruses are Part of God's Creation and Are Therefore Good, Even Though We Often Don't Think So When We Catch Them

Acts 4:22:

For the man was above forty years old, on whom this miracle of healing was shewed.

See also:

[What Are the Differences between the Gift of Faith, the Gifts of Healings, and the Working of Miracles?
Condition: Chronic Illnesses](#)

Acts 4:29-33:

And now, Lord, behold their threatenings: and grant unto thy servants, that with all boldness they may speak thy word,

By stretching forth thine hand to heal; and that signs and wonders may be done by the name of thy holy child Jesus.

And when they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were assembled together; and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with boldness.

And the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and of one soul: neither said any of them that ought [any] of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common.

And with great power gave the apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus: and great grace was upon them all.

Notes on Acts 4:29-33:

It is Scriptural to pray for boldness and to pray for signs and wonders! You should do it! Note that the emphasis here was more on the boldness than the signs. The miracles accompanied the bold preaching of the Word and the disciples prayed for both. The two go together. Don't just pray for miracles; pray for boldness to preach the Word. Power will follow your boldness, too. We are talking about a Spirit-given boldness, not a natural boldness that comes from being an energetic public speaker. You can be "naturally" bold and have no signs follow you. You want to be supernaturally bold.

The disciples were not re-baptized in the Holy Spirit; they were refilled with the Holy Spirit. This shows that there is one "baptism" with the Spirit but many "fillings" with the Spirit. Paul exhorted the Ephesians, who already would have known about the Spirit baptism since Acts 19:1-6, to be filled with the Spirit instead of filled with booze (Ephesians 5:18).

While these disciples pooled their resources, that was never a requirement – it was just something they wanted to do. Peter's response to Ananias that the land and then the money he got for it were his own (Acts 5:4) proves that God has never enforced any form of "Biblical communism."

See also:

Your Authority over Sickness

The Power in the Name of Jesus

The Kingdom of God is Here NOW

Dealing with Fear

Boldness to Minister Healing

Be Bold with Your Healing Testimony

Free Refills

How Can We See More Miracles Today?

Can We Pray and Believe for the Healing Anointing to Manifest?

Objection: By Jesus' Stripes We Were Spiritually, Not Physically, Healed

Acts 5:12-16:

And by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people; (and they were all with one accord in Solomon's porch.

And of the rest durst no man join himself to them: but the people magnified them.

And believers were the more added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women.)

Insomuch that they brought forth the sick into the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, that at least the shadow of Peter passing by might overshadow some of them.

There came also a multitude out of the cities round about unto Jerusalem, bringing sick folks, and them which were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed every one.

Notes on Acts 5:12-16:

Not all healings are signs and wonders. Here both were done on the streets of Jerusalem. Great power went forth and healed multitudes of people who could not walk, but all the sick people who were brought were healed. People like to chalk that up to being in the very early days of the Church Age, but the very LAST chapter of Acts also tells of a case where all the sick people were healed (Acts 28:8-9). This should tell you that God wants things like that to happen today, too.

This is the only Biblical account of people being healed when someone's shadow passes over them. Jesus never had a recorded incident of that type, but He said that we would do the works that He did and greater!

See also:

Notes on Acts 28:8-9

Strange Ways to Get Healed

The Healing Anointing

Healing and Evangelism

YOU Can Be Healed

Conformed to Christ's Image

Objection: By Jesus' Stripes We Were Spiritually, Not Physically, Healed

Objection: The Apostles Never Said, "By His Stripes You Were Healed" When They Preached Christ

Objection: Bodily Suffering Helps You Avoid Sin \(1 Peter 4:1\)

Objection: If God Wanted Us to Enjoy Perfect Health NOW, He Would Have Already Given Us Immortal Bodies

Objection: Christ's Command to HEAL THE SICK Stopped before the Cross and Has Never Been Repeated Since Then, Even in Other New Testament Writings

Objection: Healing Will Not Be Available UNIVERSALLY until the Millennium

Objection: Throughout Scripture God Heals Those Whom He CHOOSES to Heal

Objection: We Cannot Expect to Heal As Jesus Did Because We Are Not the Son of God

Objection: We Cannot Heal as Jesus Did Because He Had the Spirit without Measure, While We Have the Spirit Given by Measure

Condition: Demon Possession

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Acts 6:8:

And Stephen, full of faith and power, did great wonders and miracles among the people.

Notes on Acts 6:8:

Stephen is an interesting case study. He was appointed to wait on tables, but we know that he was full of faith and power. He was what we would probably call a deacon today. The apostles had assigned him no explicitly spiritual responsibilities. Yet he did great wonders and miracles among the people!

This is proof that ministering healing could not have been only for the apostles, because Stephen was never an apostle and he did great wonders and miracles! If you want to be in the ministry just because you want to do signs and wonders, you want to be a minister for the wrong reason, because laypeople such as Stephen can do signs and wonders, too. (You don't enter the ministry unless you know that God has called you to it and other believers bear witness with your calling and separate you to that ministry.)

How did Stephen get his great faith so that he walked in great power? We know that faith comes by hearing God's Word; therefore, Stephen must have been a man of the Word. You don't have to speculate about it; read Stephen's speech at his trial in Acts 7. Stephen obviously knew the Old Testament quite well, even though it wasn't distributed to the masses in those days.

If you are a layperson, you can still do great wonders and miracles. Be a person of the Word and of the Spirit, and prepare for God to use you mightily!

The verse says that STEPHEN did wonders and miracles, not that God did. Obviously, God used Stephen, but Jesus said that WE would do the works that He did. Stephen was just one of "those who believed on Jesus" – he was living proof that ANY believer can do the works of Jesus, including YOU!

See also:

YOU Can Do Miracles

Objection: Acts 8 Proves that the Apostles Had Unique Powers

Objection: Christ's Command to HEAL THE SICK Stopped before the Cross and Has Never Been Repeated Since Then, Even in Other New Testament Writings

Objection: We Cannot Expect to Heal As Jesus Did Because We Are Not the Son of God

Objection: We Cannot Heal as Jesus Did Because He Had the Spirit without Measure, While We Have the Spirit Given by Measure

Objection: Christ's Disciples Were Told to Heal EVERYONE. No One Does This Today, So We Cannot Say We Have the Same Authority They Did.

Objection: "The Acts of the Apostles" Does Not Show Rank-and-File People Doing Miracles

Acts 8:5-8:

Then Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and preached Christ unto them.

And the people with one accord gave heed unto those things which Philip spake, hearing and seeing the miracles which he did.

For unclean spirits, crying with loud voice, came out of many that were possessed with them: and many taken with palsies, and that were lame, were healed.

And there was great joy in that city.

Notes on Acts 8:5-8:

Philip was another of the seven deacons appointed by the apostles to take care of physical matters, but he was obviously a man of faith and power like Stephen. His ministry had a great impact on Samaria. He was later referred to as an evangelist, but he had no responsibility other than serving tables before he went to Samaria. As far as we know, no one ever commissioned him to do this work in Samaria! This is another proof that laypeople can be used by God to do signs and wonders that impact cities!

Taken with palsies means “paralyzed.” There are “gifts of healings” and apparently there was a special grace on Philip to minister to the paralyzed, lame and demonized more than to other conditions. It is possible that God will use healing ministers today especially well in a certain “strong suit” as was the case with Philip. Different ministers have different “strong suits.” I’ve known two ministers with exceptional results with bad backs, one who never failed to get someone baptized with the Holy Spirit who wanted to be baptized. I know another one who sees exceptional results with blindness, deafness and cancer cases, and I’ve seen one person minister who has a lot of teeth filled supernaturally when he preaches. God likes variety! I believe that such specializations are why God says that there are gifts (plural) of healings, not “the gift of healing.”

See also:

YOU Can Do Miracles

Healing and Evangelism

How to Be Baptized with the Holy Spirit

Objection: “The Acts of the Apostles” Does Not Show Rank-and-File People Doing Miracles

Objection: We Cannot Expect to Heal As Jesus Did Because We Are Not the Son of God

Objection: Christ’s Disciples Were Told to Heal EVERYONE. No One Does This Today, So We Cannot Say We Have the Same Authority They Did.

Objection: Christ’s Command to HEAL THE SICK Stopped before the Cross and Has Never Been Repeated Since Then, Even in Other New Testament Writings

Objection: God Can Lead Others to Salvation through the Pain and Death of a Saint

Objection: The Day of the Healing Evangelist is Over – All Christians Should Heal

Condition: Lameness

Condition: Paralysis

Acts 9:17-18:

And Ananias went his way, and entered into the house; and putting his hands on him said, Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, that appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest, hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and be filled with the Holy Ghost.

And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had been scales: and he received sight forthwith, and arose, and was baptized.

Notes on Acts 9:17-18:

Ananias, like Stephen and Philip, was a layperson who did something great for God. Imagine the privilege, in retrospect, of having been the one to lay hands on the man who became the Apostle Paul so that he would be filled with the Holy Spirit! Paul was able to be faithful to his vision because Ananias was faithful to his. Ananias had to believe with no natural proof that (1) Saul was saved (2) The Lord had appeared to Saul on the way to Damascus, and (3) Saul couldn't see, but would see after he laid hands on him. Quite the instructions for a layperson! Of course, he probably knew that if he had missed God in the matter, he would probably have been one of the first Christians rounded up!

Paul's blindness was not caused by the devil, but instead from the glory of God. Even so, he was healed of his blindness when Ananias laid hands on him. (There are other cases where people's bodies just can't handle a case of the manifested presence of God, so they respond in ways that seem like sickness, such as falling over.)

See also:

Free Refills

Why Do People Fall Over in Healing Lines?

Objection: Acts 8 Proves that the Apostles Had Unique Powers

Acts 9:32-35:

And it came to pass, as Peter passed throughout all quarters, he came down also to the saints which dwelt at Lydda.

And there he found a certain man named Aeneas, which had kept his bed eight years, and was sick of the palsy.

And Peter said unto him, Aeneas, Jesus Christ maketh thee whole: arise, and make thy bed. And he arose immediately.

And all that dwelt at Lydda and Saron saw him, and turned to the Lord.

Notes on Acts 9:32-35:

“Sick of the palsy” means paralyzed.

Interestingly, in this case Peter didn’t even lay hands on Aeneas – he just spoke faith-filled words in the name of Jesus and Aeneas was healed on the spot.

See also:

Jesus the Healer Has Never Changed

Strange Ways to Get Healed

Healing and Evangelism

It Might Only Take One

Where’s Jesus?

Objection: By Jesus’ Stripes We Were Spiritually, Not Physically, Healed

Objection: God Uses Sickness to Draw Us Closer to Himself

Objection: God Can Lead Others to Salvation through the Pain and Death of a Saint

Condition: Paralysis

Acts 9:36-42:

Now there was at Joppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called Dorcas: this woman was full of good works and almsdeeds which she did.

And it came to pass in those days, that she was sick, and died: whom when they had washed, they laid her in an upper chamber.

And forasmuch as Lydda was nigh to Joppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent unto him two men, desiring him that he would not delay to come to them.

Then Peter arose and went with them. When he was come, they brought him into the upper chamber: and all the widows stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats and garments which Dorcas made, while she was with them.

But Peter put them all forth, and kneeled down, and prayed; and turning him to the body said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes: and when she saw Peter, she sat up.

And he gave her his hand, and lifted her up, and when he had called the saints and widows, presented her alive.

And it was known throughout all Joppa, and many believed in the Lord.

See also:

Notes on Luke 7:12-16

Healing and Evangelism

It Might Only Take One

Get Away from Unbelief

Objection: By Jesus' Stripes We Were Spiritually, Not Physically Healed

Objection: If ALL Could Perform Miracles, Christians Would Not Have Summoned Peter to Raise Dorcas from the Dead

Objection: Only GOD Can Call Those Things that Be Not as though They WERE \(Romans 4:17\)

Objection: God Uses Sickness to Draw Us Closer to Himself

Condition: Nonviability

Acts 10:38:

How God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil; for God was with him.

Notes on Acts 10:38:

Who says we shouldn't preach healing as part of the gospel? Peter preached it! Peter was addressing a group of unbelievers at Cornelius's house. If Peter could preach this part of the gospel to sinners, so can we.

Some object that Jesus did not heal everyone because He left sick people at Nazareth and the Pool of Bethesda, but Jesus did heal all who came to Him for healing. The ones who were not healed were ones who were in unbelief and/or did not come to Him to be healed.

If the Peter and the Holy Spirit consider sickness to be oppression of the devil, so should you. Now that Jesus is glorified and seated at God's right hand, is He less willing to remove "the oppression of the devil" from YOUR body? NO!

This verse indicates that Jesus ministered as a Man anointed by the Holy Spirit. We can do the same works because we have the same Holy Spirit. If Jesus ministered as God, He would not have had to be ANOINTED with the Holy Spirit and with power. He would have just used His innate God-power to do the miracles. Thus, He could have done that all His life. However, we know that Jesus did no miracles until the Spirit came upon Him after He was baptized in the Jordan River. His first recorded miracle was after that at a wedding in Cana (John 2:11). He didn't do His miracles because He was God; He did them because God was WITH Him. That should give you hope when it comes to doing the same works. You aren't God, but God is WITH you. He never forsakes you (Hebrews 13:5). Because God is WITH you just as He was WITH Jesus, you can do the same works Jesus did when God was WITH Him!

The Bible does not say that God kept anointing Jesus with the Holy Spirit and power – it says that He anointed Him. (This is true both in English and in Greek.) Once He was anointed, there is no record that He was ever re-anointed. When you receive the Holy Spirit, you receive power, and you never have to get re-anointed to have power from that point forward.

The Greek word for oppressed here is katadynasteuo, which means to oppress or exercise harsh control over! It is the same word found in James 2:6 where the rich oppress the poor. Jesus came to set you free from the devil's harsh control in the form of sickness. I don't want to be under the devil's harsh control through sickness. Do you?

See also:

Notes on Job 42:10

Notes on John 10:10

Notes on Hebrews 13:8

Notes on 1 John 3:8

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

Who or What Causes Sickness?

Jesus the Healer Has Never Changed!

The Healing Anointing

The Anointing in the New Testament

How to See God's Will Concerning Healing

Dealing with Fear

Sickness is the Power of the Devil

Healing and the Holy Spirit

YOU Can Be Healed

The Acceptable Year of the Lord

Delivered!

The SAVED Test

Power, Then and Now

Why You Don't Have to Touch Jesus as He Passes By

Job Explained

Ministering to the Sick

I Thought I Was Healed. Why Did the Symptoms Just Start to Return?

Is All Sickness Demonic?

If You Are Sick, Does That Mean There Is Sin in Your Life?

What Is the Difference Between Demonic Possession and Demonic Oppression?

Objection: God Sometimes Leads Faithful Saints into "Wilderness Experiences"

Objection: God Uses Sickness to Draw Us Closer to Himself

Objection: We Cannot Expect to Heal as Jesus Did because We Are Not the Son of God

Objection: "Faith Healers" Call Attention to Man and Thus Rob the Lord of Due Glory

Objection: David Said that It Was GOOD that He Was Afflicted; So It Can Be with Us

Objection: By Jesus' Stripes We Were Spiritually, Not Physically, Healed

Objection: The Man in John 9 Was Born Blind, and That Was God's Will

Objection: God Has Satan on a Leash and Only Permits Him to Do Certain Things to You

Objection: Jesus Didn't Heal Everyone in His Earthly Ministry; He Left Many Sick at the Pool of Bethesda

Objection: Isaiah 53:4 \(Matthew 8:17\) Was Fulfilled in Jesus' Earth Ministry and Cannot Be Claimed as a Promise by Christians Today

Objection: Jesus Healed and Did Miracles to Prove His Deity

Objection: Teaching that Jesus Healed as an Anointed Man Is Heresy because It Denies His Deity

Objection: If We Are Subject to Death, We Are Subject to Sickness

Objection: If God Wanted Us to Enjoy Perfect Health NOW, He Would Have Already Given Us Immortal Bodies

Objection: Jesus Only Said that He Was Sent to Heal the Brokenhearted, Not the Sick

Objection: God Sometimes Has an Older Person Get Sick to Make That Person Want to Come Home to Heaven

Objection: Disease Viruses are Part of God's Creation and Are Therefore Good, Even Though We Often Don't Think So When We Catch Them

Objection: As Many Doctors Can Tell You, Many People Make Themselves Sick – It Has Nothing to Do with the Devil

Objection: God's Healing Covenant in the Law of Moses Was Only for the Jews

Objection: To Demand that God Use Supernatural Instead of Natural Means to Heal You Is to Hold God Hostage

Objection: Daniel Got a Vision from God and Immediately Fainted and Got Sick

Objection: 1 John 3:8 in Context Refers to SIN, Not Sickness

Objection: Jesus Suffered and That Is the Example for You to Follow (1 Peter 2:21)

Objection: God Being "Good" Must Not Be Understood from Man's Perspective

Objection: Like Any Loving Parent, God Sometimes Has to Tell His Children NO for Their Own Good

Objection: Jesus Said to Say, "Thy Will Be Done," Instead of Demanding Healing

Objection: Any Other Objection Not Specifically Covered in This Book

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Acts 14:3:

Long time therefore abode they speaking boldly in the Lord, which gave testimony unto the word of his grace, and granted signs and wonders to be done by their hands.

Notes on Acts 14:3:

We see again the connection between bold preaching of the Word of God and signs and wonders. They should go together. (If we want to see signs and wonders, we should not only pray for gifts of the Spirit to manifest, but we should also pray for boldness in preaching. The latter is actually more important.)

Because the Lord was willing to confirm His Word then, we should expect Him to do so now, because neither God nor His Word has changed.

Many references like this refer to “signs and wonders” that are not enumerated. We don’t have a record of every sign, wonder and miracle done by believers. The ones that are explicitly mentioned are examples and not a comprehensive list.

Acts 14:7-10:

And there they preached the gospel.

And there sat a certain man at Lystra, impotent in his feet, being a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked:

The same heard Paul speak: who stedfastly beholding him, and perceiving that he had faith to be healed,

Said with a loud voice, Stand upright on thy feet. And he leaped and walked.

Notes on Acts 14:7-10:

Paul did not heal the man at Lystra. He preached the gospel to him. When the man heard the gospel, he received faith to be healed.

Note that a certain point, the man already had faith to be healed, but he was not healed. This shows that you can have faith to be healed and yet still not be healed because you have not added corresponding action to your faith. "Faith without works is dead" – James 2:26. When the man acted on his faith at Paul's command, his healing manifested. He did not acquire more faith between the last two verses. He simply acted on the faith that he already had at that point.

This shows that the problem is not always a faith shortage – sometimes it's an action shortage!

See also:

Notes on Luke 9:6

According to YOUR FAITH Be It Done unto You!

How to Build Your Faith

The Healing Anointing

It Works!

Don't Preach a D- Gospel

What Are the Differences between the Gift of Faith, the Gifts of Healings, and the Working of Miracles?

What Do You Do if You're Ministering and There Are "Brick-Heads" Who Won't Receive the Anointing When You Lay Hands on Them?

How Much Faith Does It Take to Heal a Serious Illness?

How Can Birth Defects Be Part of the Curse for Breaking the Law from which We Are Redeemed? It

Would Make No Sense for God to Say that If You Break His Law, He'll Give You Birth Defects.

How Can Faith COME by Hearing When We Already HAVE the Measure of Faith?

Objection: Healing Is a Side Issue that Does Not Deserve to be Emphasized So Much

Objection: God Wouldn't Heal Paul's Thorn in the Flesh

Objection: Paul Did Not Believe in Faith Healing because He Had a Doctor \(Luke\) Accompany Him

Objection: We Should, like Paul, Learn to Be Content in Every Situation

Objection: Getting "Healed by Faith" is Too Difficult

Objection: Paul Told Timothy to Drink Wine Instead of Believing God for Healing

Objection: The Apostles Never Said, "By His Stripes You Were Healed" When They Preached Christ

Objection: Hebrews 11:39 Proves that You Can Have Faith and NOT Receive the Promises

Objection: Wesley Said, "Whatever Is True Is Not New, and Whatever Is New Is Not True." Nobody Believed that Healing Was in the Atonement until Recently, So It Is Not True

Condition: Birth Defects

Condition: Lameness

Mistake: Inaction

Acts 14:19-20:

And there came thither certain Jews from Antioch and Iconium, who persuaded the people, and having stoned Paul, drew him out of the city, supposing he had been dead.

Howbeit, as the disciples stood round about him, he rose up, and came into the city: and the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

Notes on Acts 14:19-20:

It is most likely that Paul was really dead and that he was raised from the dead. We cannot prove this, but the Jews hated Paul so much that it seems doubtful they would have stopped stoning him before he was dead. Also, notice that they did not take Paul outside the city and stone him. They stoned him, and then dragged him out of the city, assuming that he was a corpse!

Regardless of whether he was dead or not, the disciples gathered around him and God raised him up. He was sufficiently healed of everything so that he was able to go back into the city and then go somewhere else immediately. This is one of the greatest healings in the Bible. It would be tough to say that the apostle Paul did not believe in healing after this incident!

See also:

Objection: Paul Told Timothy to Drink Wine Instead of Believing God for Healing
Condition: Nonviability

Acts 15:12:

Then all the multitude kept silence, and gave audience to Barnabas and Paul, declaring what miracles and wonders God had wrought among the Gentiles by them.

Notes on Acts 15:12:

Not all the miracles done by the apostles are listed in Acts. In this case, we just know God worked miracles and wonders through Paul and Barnabas. As is always the case, it was God doing the works through them, not Paul and Barnabas doing the works in their own strength. It is a relief to know that you do not have to “perform” or work something up. You just have to be available for God to use you.

Acts 16:16-18:

And it came to pass, as we went to prayer, a certain damsel possessed with a spirit of divination met us, which brought her masters much gain by soothsaying:

The same followed Paul and us, and cried, saying, These men are the servants of the most high God, which shew unto us the way of salvation.

And this did she many days. But Paul, being grieved, turned and said to the spirit, I command thee in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her. And he came out the same hour.

Notes on Acts 16:16-18:

The girl was right in what she said, but who wants the devil advertising his ministry?

Why would the devil advertise Jesus Christ? In this case, at least part of the reason would seem to be that he knew Paul would be greatly annoyed by it. Paul wanted nothing to do with the works of the devil, and surely he did not want to legitimize the actions of a psychic. (As a side note, that is how psychics operate – evil spirits give them their revelations. It is not some innate power they have.)

This passage also disproves the popular statement by preachers, “All the devil can do is lie.” No, as with the temptation of Jesus, the devil will sometimes mix truth and lies together. He gives you some meat along with his poison so that you’ll be tempted to eat it.

Paul did not require a lot of time to cast the demon out. There was no special deliverance ceremony; he just ordered it to come out in the name of Jesus Christ. That’s all you need to do.

See also:

Your Authority over Sickness

The Power in the Name of Jesus

Your Authority over Sickness

Deliverance Myths

All About Healing Services

Is Deliverance a Dangerous Practice Best Left to Trained Exorcists?

Do Demons Produce Strong Physical Evidence that They Are Leaving?

What Is the Difference Between Demonic Possession and Demonic Oppression?

Objection: Paul Did Not Believe in Faith Healing because He Had a Doctor \(Luke\) Accompany Him

Condition: Demon Possession

Acts 19:11-12:

And God wrought special miracles by the hands of Paul:
So that from his body were brought unto the sick handkerchiefs or aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and the evil spirits went out of them.

Notes on Acts 19:11-12:

It is ridiculous to think that Paul could have stayed sick with a chronic illness (as some claim) when objects taken from his body were so soaked in the anointing that they brought healing to others.

This is somewhat similar to the way multitudes were healed when they touched Jesus' clothes instead of Jesus Himself. The anointing is a tangible power that is able to saturate clothing and other items.

I have seen some amazing things happen through the use of anointed cloths, but I am not going to preach my experience as doctrine. The Bible calls anointed cloth miracles "special miracles," so they are not the norm and I won't claim that they are. It just happens to be a way that the Lord has used me and my wife.

Someone asked us to lay hands on a cloth to be sent to someone in a distant state who had advanced leukemia. The person was healed. Someone at our church was telling a local tire salesman about it, and it turned out that he had a relative with leukemia. He asked for an anointed cloth. We laid hands on a cloth and when it was laid onto that relative, he was healed of leukemia as well. A cloth we laid hands on was laid on a person who had been given up to die with no further treatment in a country with socialized medicine, and God healed him. Another woman in that country was healed of tinnitus when we sent a cloth to her. I doubt that we can even remember all the cases over the years of anointed cloths being God's instrument of healing. But as I said, I will not make a doctrine out of my experience because I understand that this kind of thing is unusual, not something that all Christians will make into a regular practice.

Let me also point out that you can't just send out a cloth as a religious ritual. There needs to be an anointing when you're laying hands on the cloth, or you need to be wearing it when there is an anointing on you. We are ALL anointed in the general sense, but you would generally wait for a special anointing if you want a special manifestation of the Spirit like that. If you just slap your hands on a cloth to see what happens, it will be like someone with a dead battery trying to jump-start another car with a dead battery – it won't work. God didn't make this into a formula that you can work without His involvement.

Also, I've never sent money to a preacher who offered an anointed cloth in exchange for a donation. We have NEVER asked for (or received, at this writing) a donation from someone who received one of the cloths that we prayed over. I am determined not to merchandise the anointing. We've freely received and we freely give. There is no indication that Paul used anointed cloths for fundraising either.

See also:

Notes on Luke 10:8-9

Strange Ways to Get Healed

The Healing Anointing

Don't Put Gifts of Healings into a Box

Can I Believe and Receive a Healing for Someone Else?

Can I "Stand in Proxy" for Someone Else in a Healing Line?

Can I Get a Certain Minister's Anointing for My Own Ministry?

What Do You Do When You Don't Know if Someone's Condition is Demonic?

Objection: God Wouldn't Heal Paul's Thorn in the Flesh

Objection: Paul Left Trophimus at Miletum Sick Instead of Healing Him

Objection: We Cannot Expect to Heal As Jesus Did Because We Are Not the Son of God

Objection: Paul Did Not Believe in Faith Healing because He Had a Doctor \(Luke\) Accompany Him

Condition: Demon Possession

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Acts 20:9-12:

And there sat in a window a certain young man named Eutychus, being fallen into a deep sleep: and as Paul was long preaching, he sunk down with sleep, and fell down from the third loft, and was taken up dead.

And Paul went down, and fell on him, and embracing him said, Trouble not yourselves, for his life is in him.

When he therefore was come up again, and had broken bread, and eaten, and talked a long while, even till break of day, so he departed.

And they brought the young man alive, and were not a little comforted.

Notes on Acts 20:9-12:

Does this passage give you the right to raise anyone from the dead who dies while you're preaching? No, though I've met at least three preachers now who have done so. Such things are a manifestation of the Spirit, not an act of regular faith.

Mediocre preachers sometimes use this passage to justify preaching long messages. ("Paul preached all night, you know.") The trouble is, a lot more people might fall asleep listening to their Babylon-style preaching (they babble on and babble on). If you're as good as Paul, and you're talking to people whom you won't ever see again in this life, maybe you can go all night. Actually, we don't know that Paul preached all night. He preached until this incident, and then broke bread and talked until morning. We don't know that his talking was continued preaching. As for you, study and prepare so that you can preach concise messages instead of rambling, and you will run less risk of people being "bored to death" while you preach.

See also:

Objection: Paul Told Timothy to Drink Wine Instead of Believing God for Healing

Objection: Only GOD Can Call Those Things that Be Not as though They WERE \(Romans 4:17\)

Condition: Nonviability

Acts 27:33-34:

And while the day was coming on, Paul besought them all to take meat, saying, This day is the fourteenth day that ye have tarried and continued fasting, having taken nothing. Wherefore I pray you to take some meat; for this is for your health: for there shall not an hair fall from the head of any of you.

Notes on Acts 27:33-34:

Here, as in 1 Timothy 5:23, Paul gives natural advice for someone's health. Paul did signs and wonders and healed the sick, but he also used and recommended common sense. Rather than waiting for people to get sick and then ministering healing, Paul tried to avoid having people get sick in the first place.

See also:

Objection: Paul Told Timothy to Drink Wine Instead of Believing God for Healing

Acts 28:3-6:

And when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, there came a viper out of the heat, and fastened on his hand.

And when the barbarians saw the venomous beast hang on his hand, they said among themselves, No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he hath escaped the sea, vengeance suffereth not to live. And shook off the beast into the fire, and felt no harm.

Howbeit they looked when he should have swollen, or fallen down dead suddenly: but after they had looked a great while, and saw no harm come to him, they changed their minds, and said that he was a god.

Notes on Acts 28:3-6:

Paul did not deliberately handle a snake; the snake fastened on Paul. This was an example of what Jesus meant about taking up serpents. There are no Biblical examples of deliberately picking up snakes. That dangerous practice, done by certain “snake-handling cults,” should never be done. Although the Greek word used for take up does mean what it appears to mean at face value, there is no Biblical evidence that this is a voluntary thing as opposed to what Paul did when he threw the poisonous snake into the fire.

See also:

Notes on Mark 16:15-18

Healing and Deliverance from Poisoning

Objection: Mark 16:9-20 Was Not in Some Early Manuscripts

Objection: Not All of “Those Who Believe” Will Pick Up Snakes, So Not All of “Those Who Believe” Are Supposed to Lay Hands on the Sick and Have Them Recover \(Mark 16:17-18\)

Condition: Snakebites

Acts 28:8-9:

And it came to pass, that the father of Publius lay sick of a fever and of a bloody flux: to whom Paul entered in, and prayed, and laid his hands on him, and healed him.

So when this was done, others also, which had diseases in the island, came, and were healed:

Notes on Acts 28:8-9:

The Greek is very clear that all the remaining sick people on the island came and were healed. The Greek word translated others in the King James means the remaining ones and is translated the rest in most modern translations. In the King James Version itself, the word is also translated which remain, remnant, residue and rest.

It is obvious, then, that mass healings such as the one in Jerusalem in Acts 5:12-16 did not “die out” after things first started to get going; the mass healing in Acts 28 is in the LAST chapter of Acts.

See also:

Notes on Acts 5:12-16

Healing and Evangelism

It Might Only Take One

The Power in the Name of Jesus

YOU Can Be Healed

Speaking to Mountains, Trees and Diseases

Different Ways to Get Healed

YOU Can Do Miracles

Healing and Deliverance from Poisoning

Can I Get a Certain Minister's Anointing for My Own Ministry?

Objection: God Wouldn't Heal Paul's Thorn in the Flesh

Objection: Paul Told Timothy to Drink Wine Instead of Believing God for Healing

Objection: Paul Left Trophimus at Miletum Sick Instead of Healing Him

Objection: The Apostles Never Said, "By His Stripes You Were Healed" When They Preached Christ

Objection: Our Bodies are Not Yet Redeemed, So We Are Still Subject to Sickness

Objection: If God Wanted Us to Enjoy Perfect Health NOW, He Would Have Already Given Us Immortal Bodies

Objection: Christ's Command to HEAL THE SICK Stopped before the Cross and Has Never Been Repeated Since Then, Even in Other New Testament Writings

Objection: Healing Will Not Be Available UNIVERSALLY until the Millennium

Objection: Throughout Scripture God Heals Those Whom He CHOOSES to Heal

Objection: We Cannot Expect to Heal As Jesus Did Because We Are Not the Son of God

Objection: We Cannot Heal as Jesus Did Because He Had the Spirit without Measure, While We Have the Spirit Given by Measure

Objection: God Can Lead Others to Salvation through the Pain and Death of a Saint

Objection: Paul Did Not Believe in Faith Healing because He Had a Doctor (Luke) Accompany Him

Condition: Diarrhea

Condition: Fever

Condition: Hemorrhaging

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Acts 28:27:

For the heart of this people is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes have they closed; lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them.

Notes on Acts 28:27:

We see the correlation God draws between seeing with your eyes, hearing with your ears, understanding with your heart, being converted, and being healed. God was willing to heal these people, but they did not want to hear the gospel. In this case, this applied to some Jews who did not like Paul's message.

Some have objected that "heal" in this and similar passages is only figurative. However, the word for heal, iaomai, is used so often of physical healings that the "figurative" assertion is dubious. If these people had really opened up their hearts, they certainly could have been physically healed as well as healed in other ways. I contend that this quote from Isaiah DEFINITELY refers to physical healing, and anyone would be hard-pressed to argue my point because the word iaomai is only used of physical healings everywhere else in the New Testament. For proof of this, see "Healed" Defined and the answer to Objection: Matthew 13:15, John 12:39-41 and Acts 28:27 Prove that HEALED in 1 Peter 2:24 Doesn't Have to Mean Physically Healed.

Besides, the arguments one could make that "heal" is not physical both break down:

1. "Their SPIRITUAL eyes and ears are what is being healed"

The healing in this statement comes AFTER the eyes and ears are able to see and hear, so that makes no sense.

2. "They were to be SPIRITUALLY healed"

No one gets spiritually healed, as proven in the answer to Objection: By Jesus' Stripes We Were Spiritually, Not Physically, Healed. So that can't be what Isaiah meant either.

See also:

Matthew 13:15

John 12:39-41

Objection: Vine's Expository Dictionary Says that 1 Peter 2:24 Is Figurative of Spiritual Healing

Romans 1:16:

For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ, for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek.

Notes on Romans 1:16:

The gospel doesn't just tell you about the power of God. It is the power of God. God's Word is not just ink on paper. It is spirit and life. It is alive and active. The gospel is God's power unto salvation because when you hear it and believe it, you are saved and the power of God makes you a new creation.

The word for salvation (soteria in Greek) is used to describe not only forgiveness of sins but deliverance, healing and victory. The gospel is God's power unto these other facets of salvation as well, not just the forgiveness of sins. The gospel is that these things have already been provided for you in Christ.

If the gospel is God's power, why doesn't everyone experience this power? Because it is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believes. It does not benefit you until you mix faith with it. Then it becomes the power of God to you.

It is worth noting that Paul would attempt to go to the Jews first and then go to the Gentiles if the Jews rejected his message, which they very often did. We should be as eager to share the gospel with Jews as Paul was.

See also:

How to Deal with the Devil

Why You Don't Need to Pray the Power Down

It Works!

Ridiculous Healing Confession Bondage

Romans 4:16-21:

Therefore it is of faith, that it might be by grace; to the end the promise might be sure to all the seed; not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all,

(As it is written, I have made thee a father of many nations,) before him whom he believed, even God, who quickeneth the dead, and calleth those things which be not as though they were.

Who against hope believed in hope, that he might become the father of many nations, according to that which was spoken, So shall thy seed be.

And being not weak in faith, he considered not his own body now dead, when he was about an hundred years old, neither yet the deadness of Sarah's womb;

He staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief; but was strong in faith, giving glory to God;

And being fully persuaded that, what he had promised, he was able also to perform.

Notes on Romans 4:16-21:

Here is a crash course in faith. Abraham believed God when everything in the natural said that God lied. He did not consider his own body or Sarah's body. He gave glory to God because he believed God could do what he promised.

If you want to follow in Abraham's footsteps, you will have to disregard your body when it comes to believing God's promise. That doesn't mean that you should operate in denial and put yourself in physical danger. It means that while you acknowledge the symptoms in your body (and do what you need to do in the natural), you believe that you have received your healing, and that God will back His Word that came out of your mouth. The comment that he was not weak in faith and did not consider his own body seems to point to the fact that people who are weak in faith will waver because they become preoccupied with their bodies instead of with God's Word.

Like God, you need to "call those things that be not as though they were." Give glory to God for the fact that He has already healed you, even though your body tells your healing "is not."

This is different from denial, which is calling the things that be as if they were not. We don't deny the presence of symptoms, but we deny their right to remain in our bodies after we have received our healing.

One characteristic of someone who is "strong in faith" is that he "gives glory to God." Show me someone whose prayer life consists solely of bombarding heaven with petitions, and I'll show you someone who is probably not strong in faith. God's will for us to be full of thanksgiving and praise. The mature believer can be noted by his emphasis on thanking and praising God rather than his constant petitioning. The mature believer understands that his own personal needs are already met and that he simply has to believe and receive them. His petitions would often be for others, such as those in authority. He knows how to "minister to the Lord" as the prophets and teachers in Acts 13:1-3 did.

See also:

What Faith Isn't

Believing in God vs. Believing God

Whose Power Is It?

What Do I Do if I Don't See Any Improvement After Praying?

If God Gives Everyone Faith, How Can Anyone Ever Be in Unbelief? Isn't Unbelief the Absence of Faith?

What Is the Difference between Unbelief and Doubt?

Objection: Only GOD Can Call the Things that Be Not as though They Were \(Romans 4:17\)

Objection: Saying, "I Am Healed" When You Are Actually Sick Is Lying, and Therefore Sin

Objection: Divine Healing is Practiced by False Cults

Objection: James's Command Makes It Clear that We Should Expect to Be Sick, then Healed, then Sick, then Healed, Not Always Healthy

Romans 8:2:

For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death.

Notes on Romans 8:2:

The law of sin and death amounts to you getting what you deserve for your sins. Sin leads to death. However, a new law, the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus, has set you free from the law under which you get what you deserve. Now you can AVOID getting what you deserve, including hell, because you are in Christ. There is no condemnation for you.

Being set free from the law of sin and death does NOT mean that you have the right to immortality in this life in your current body, as is erroneously taught by some. Even in the New Covenant, it is appointed for a man once to die and after that the judgment (Hebrews 9:27).

See also:

Who You Are and What You Have

Objection: If We Are Subject to Death, We Are Subject to Sickness

Romans 8:11:

But if the Spirit of him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwell in you, he that raised up Christ from the dead shall also quicken your mortal bodies by his Spirit that dwelleth in you.

Notes on Romans 8:11:

This verse is sometimes read at funerals, but it is out of place there unless you're integrating a healing service with the funeral! This verse is not about a future resurrection of your dead body; it's about God imparting His life to your mortal (still-alive, subject-to-death) body. The point here is that God imparts the same resurrection power that raised Christ from the dead to your mortal body to heal it of anything that is wrong with it. Although Christ bore our sicknesses when He was punished for our sins, He didn't have any sicknesses anymore when He rose from the dead. That same power that eliminated every trace of sickness from His body is the same power that dwells in you as a Christian!

The same Greek word used here (thnetos) for "mortal" also appears in Romans 6:12 and 2 Corinthians 4:11, and those verses would make no sense if they were taken to mean, "Let not sin reign in your dead body, that ye should obey the lusts thereof" and "For we which live are always delivered unto death for Jesus' sake, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our dead flesh." A completely different Greek word (nekros) is used in the New Testament to describe something that is already dead.

The Holy Spirit does not dwell in physically dead bodies, nor will your human spirit dwell in a physically dead body. To be absent from the body is to be present with the Lord (2 Corinthians 5:8). So it makes no sense to assume that Paul is talking about a dead body when "the Spirit of Him that raised up Jesus from the dead" is still living in it!

Other explanations of Romans 8:11 are common, namely that it is talking about getting a new body when Jesus returns or getting strengthened to not live in the flesh in this life. The superiority of the position taken in this book is proved at great length in the discussion What Romans 8:11 Actually Means.

This verse, despite a popular song to the contrary, does not say that the same Spirit that raised Christ from the dead who dwells in you will quicken your mortal body. It tells you that GOD raised Christ from the dead, and that if the Spirit dwells in you (that is, you are a believer), GOD will impart life to your mortal body THROUGH the Spirit who dwells in you.

See also:

What Romans 8:11 Really Means

Quickened by the Holy Spirit

Jesus the Healer Has Never Changed!

What's Better than Healing? Health!

Who You Are and What You Have

Ridiculous Healing Confession Bondage

Objection: God Wouldn't Heal Paul's Thorn in the Flesh

Objection: Romans 8:11 Refers to the Resurrection, Not This Life

Objection: If We Are Subject to Death, We Are Subject to Sickness

Objection: Our Bodies Are Not Yet Redeemed, So We Are Still Subject to Sickness

Objection: Romans 8 Doesn't Talk about Healing, so Romans 8:11 Is about Strengthening Us against Sin

Objection: Romans 8:11 Uses a Word for Resurrection that Cannot Take Place until We Get Our New Bodies

Objection: The Apostles Never Said, "By His Stripes You Were Healed" When They Preached Christ

Objection: We Should Expect, as Paul Did, to Always Bear Jesus' Dying in Our Own Bodies (2 Corinthians 4:10)

Objection: God's Healing Covenant in the Law of Moses Was Only for the Jews

Objection: You Have No More Right to Demand Healing Now than to Demand Your Resurrection Body Now

Objection: Romans 8:11 Refers to the Resurrection, Not This Life

Condition: Weakness

Romans 15:18-19:

For I will not dare to speak of any of those things which Christ hath not wrought by me, to make the Gentiles obedient, by word and deed,
Through mighty signs and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God; so that from Jerusalem, and round about unto Illyricum, I have fully preached the gospel of Christ.

Notes on Romans 15:18-19:

Paul here shows that Christ Himself did the miracles through Paul. Paul was simply the vessel through whom Christ worked. Jesus Christ is not just sitting up in heaven seeing how well we can make it on our own in our faith walk. He is actively involved with our lives and He is actively involved in the spreading of the gospel. You don't have to feel like a "great man of God" to be used in signs and wonders because it is Christ who does the miracles through you. It is a matter of being open and available to be used in this way.

This passage indicates that if you do NOT demonstrate the gospel with signs and wonders, you are not really preaching the full gospel.

See also:

Jesus the Healer Has Never Changed!

Healing and Evangelism

Objection: Paul Told Timothy to Drink Wine Instead of Believing God for Healing

1 Corinthians 2:4-5:

And my speech and my preaching was not with enticing words of man's wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power:

That your faith should not stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God.

Notes on 1 Corinthians 2:4-5:

You don't need to be a skilled orator to preach the gospel. In fact, people complained about Paul's speech and physical presence being contemptible. People didn't come to see him because he was good-looking or because he had such an eloquent way with words. Some of his letters have some run-on sentences that would curl your English teacher's hair. You should have seen all the errors my electronic grammar checker reported on the Bible passages when I proofread this book! People came to hear Paul because of the signs and wonders that followed his preaching of the gospel.

This doesn't mean that you should make no effort to be a good public speaker. There is no advantage in being unprepared, using bad grammar, and constantly saying, "You know, well, uh..." between every sentence. However, you cannot trust in your fine words to convince men that Jesus is the Christ. It is your job to proclaim it and the Holy Spirit's job to do the convincing.

Paul didn't say that he spoke poorly. He just said that he didn't try to use man's wisdom to make his arguments when he preached. Instead, he preached Christ boldly and let the Lord convince men through signs and wonders.

When you hear preaching of the gospel, you should be more impressed with demonstrations than you are with the cleverness of the speaker.

See also:

Healing and Evangelism

Trust the Word to Work

Don't Preach a D- Gospel

1 Corinthians 3:16-17:

Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?
If any man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are.

Notes on 1 Corinthians 3:16-17:

Ye and you in this passage are plural in the Greek. Paul told the Corinthians that they were collectively the temple of God. This is really a warning about church splitting and other actions that harm God's church, not about tobacco or alcohol. There is no "thou shalt not smoke" scripture, though this verse is often mistakenly used as one. (However, the fact that the Bible does not declare a certain practice to be sinful does not mean that it is a good idea!) There is no way this passage could be talking about doing bad things to your physical body. You see, the Greek word translated defile (phtheiro) is the same word translated destroy. So God says literally that if you destroy God's temple, God will destroy you. But if God's temple means your body, He is saying that if you destroy your body, God will destroy your body. (He can't mean destroy your spirit because smoking doesn't send anyone to hell.) But you ALREADY destroyed your body, so God has nothing left to destroy when it comes to your body. That makes no sense. The person to be destroyed here is someone who tries to destroy God's Church!

This being said, you still must wonder why God would want any part of His own temple to be run down and out of order. God was very picky about His temple in the Old Testament. Everything had to be in order. Because we are God's temple – His dwelling place – surely God does not want His temple to be in disrepair today.

See also:

Who You Are and What You Have

Sickness As Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

Why Does Exodus 15:25-26 Talk about God Putting Diseases on People?

Did God PUT Sickness on Old Testament People or ALLOW the Devil to Do It?

Objection: Paul Told Timothy to Drink Wine Instead of Believing God for Healing

Mistake: Wrong Treatment of the Body of Christ

1 Corinthians 4:19-20:

But I will come to you shortly, if the Lord will, and will know, not the speech of them which are puffed up, but the power.

For the kingdom of God is not in word, but in power.

Notes on 1 Corinthians 4:19-20:

Paul looked down on powerless preaching. It is abnormal in God's eyes. Real gospel preaching is done in the power of the Holy Spirit. We should expect God to confirm His Word when it is preached boldly, if for no other reason than that He said that He would!

This is the difference between Christianity and other religions. Christianity is not a philosophy that we have to convince people to believe. People treat it as such until they see resurrection power in demonstration. Then they have to stop and think.

If we are powerless like the puffed up preachers Paul mentioned, we need to check what we are preaching and make sure that it is God's Word. God cannot confirm human junk such as "God makes you a better Christian through suffering sickness." No one who preaches that stuff should expect any power to follow, because there's no Word in it for God to confirm. "God doesn't do those things anymore" becomes a self-fulfilling prophecy, at least for the current audience. We also need to see if we are being bold like the apostles. If we tiptoe through the tulips on healing because we know that preaching that healing is for all makes some people mad, we are not doing the kind of bold preaching that got results for the apostles.

See also:

Objection: Paul Told Timothy to Drink Wine Instead of Believing God for Healing

1 Corinthians 6:13:

Meats for the belly, and the belly for meats: but God shall destroy both it and them. Now the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord, and the Lord for the body.

Notes on 1 Corinthians 6:13:

If the Lord is FOR the body, surely He is willing to do something for it when it is broken down for some reason. If God were the one putting sickness on you, He would be AGAINST your body, not FOR it.

If “the Lord for the body” does not mean that God will help you with your bodily troubles, what does it mean? What other explanation could there be for His being “for the body?” He is not just interested in the prosperity of your spirit and soul; He is interested in your body, too!

Most people read this verse and understand that the body is for the Lord, not for sinning. However, they miss the last part about the Lord being for the body. If you honor God with your body, you should expect Him to keep your body, which He purchased, in health. Of course, it is unfair to God to expect Him to do things for your body if you refuse to use your body for the Lord!

See also:

Your Body Is God's Property

Objection: God Wouldn't Heal Paul's Thorn in the Flesh

Objection: Paul Told Timothy to Drink Wine Instead of Believing God for Healing

Mistake: Disobedience

1 Corinthians 6:15:

Know ye not that your bodies are the members of Christ? shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of an harlot? God forbid.

Notes on 1 Corinthians 6:15:

God says that your physical body is a member of Christ! We are used to thinking of ourselves as members of Christ spiritually, but God goes beyond that and says that your body belongs to Christ as well!

Can Jesus Christ, who healed the sick everywhere He went, want anything that belongs to Him to be sick? No. If He healed those who were not born again in His ministry, how much more should He heal a body that is a member of Himself?

See also:

Your Body Is God's Property

Who You Are and What You Have

Objection: Our Bodies Are Not Yet Redeemed, So We Are Still Subject to Sickness

Objection: Teaching Grace Gives People a License to Sin

1 Corinthians 6:19-20:

What? know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own?

For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's.

Notes on 1 Corinthians 6:19-20:

Because your body is the temple of the Holy Spirit, is the Holy Spirit glorified by a sick temple that does not function properly? Is that any testimony to His quickening power toward our mortal bodies? Of course not. God takes your body very personally. It is not only His temple, but He bought it with a price along with your spirit. It is HIS.

I realize that Paul was primarily talking about glorifying God by keeping your body out of fornication, but there is another application to the truths in these verses. Because sickness does not glorify God, and your body is to glorify God, it logically follows that your body should not have any sickness in it. Surely God does not want your body to glorify Him when it comes to abstaining from sins but then to fail to glorify Him when it comes to your health.

See also:

Your Body Is God's Property

Say What

Delivered!

YOU Can Be Healed

Who You Are and What You Have

Why You Don't Have to Touch Jesus as He Passes By

Healing and Effort

Read This if You Don't Understand Healing

Objection: 1 Corinthians 6:19-20 Is about Avoiding Fornication and Should Not Be Used As a Healing Proof Text

Objection: Our Bodies Are Not Yet Redeemed, So We Are Still Subject to Sickness

Objection: God Wouldn't Heal Paul's Thorn in the Flesh

Objection: Paul Left Trophimus at Miletum Sick Instead of Healing Him

Objection: Paul Did Not Believe in Faith Healing because He Had a Doctor \(Luke\) Accompany Him

Objection: Paul Told Timothy to Drink Wine Instead of Believing God for Healing

Objection: The Apostles Never Said, "By His Stripes You Were Healed" When They Preached Christ

Objection: Paul Said that the Entire Creation \(Which Includes YOU\) Groans and Travails in PAIN \(Romans 8:22\)

1 Corinthians 12:8-11:

For to one is given by the Spirit the word of wisdom; to another the word of knowledge by the same Spirit;

To another faith by the same Spirit; to another the gifts of healing by the same Spirit;

To another the working of miracles; to another prophecy; to another discerning of spirits; to another divers kinds of tongues; to another the interpretation of tongues:

But all these worketh that one and the selfsame Spirit, dividing to every man severally as he will.

Notes on 1 Corinthians 12:8-11:

The Spirit “works” all these things. These gifts are not “given” to you in the sense that they ever become your possession to control at your will. The Holy Spirit alone is in charge of the operation of the gifts. It is conventional to say that someone has, for example, “the gift of healing,” but that is never really true. It is true that God operates certain gifts through certain people on a more consistent basis, but no man ever possesses the gift in the sense of being able to control when and how it manifests. (If anyone tells you that he does control it, or any other spiritual gift in this passage, run the other way! He’s nuts.) The only “control” you have is that you can quench the Spirit when He wants to do something, or just not be open to the Spirit instead of earnestly desiring spiritual gifts, as the Bible commands you to do.

Also, you can pray and sing in tongues as you will when your audience is God, as Paul made obvious in 1 Corinthians 14:15. This is NOT the same as giving a public message in tongues to be interpreted, which is what the passage above refers to when it talks about tongues.

These gifts are definitely for today. See the reply to Objection: Healing and Miracles Are Not for This Current Dispensation for proof of this. The presence of “gifts of healings” shows God’s will in the matter of healing. There are no “gifts of sickenings” where the Holy Spirit makes the well sick to teach them patience or valuable lessons.

It is interesting to note that gifts and healings are in the plural here. Apparently God uses people in different exceptional ways to heal the sick.

See also:

Different Ways to Get Healed

Do You Really Believe in Healing?

You Are Christ on the Earth

All About Healing Services

Can We Pray and Believe for the Healing Anointing to Manifest?

What Are the Differences between the Gift of Faith, the Gifts of Healings, and the Working of Miracles?

Would God Heal an Unbeliever?

Who Has to Be in Faith, the Person Laying Hands, the Sick Person, or Both?

Our Church Preaches Healing. Why Aren’t We Seeing Miracles?

Can I Pray a Certain Prayer to MAKE God Use Me in Certain Spiritual Gifts?

Objection: Only Some Receive GIFTS OF HEALING; This Proves that Healing Is a Gift Bestowed as God Wills

Objection: If Everyone Could Perform Miracles, Paul's Signs of an Apostle Would Be Meaningless – He'd Be Just Like Everyone Else

1 Corinthians 12:28-30:

And God hath set some in the church, first apostles, secondarily prophets, thirdly teachers, after that miracles, then gifts of healings, helps, governments, diversities of tongues.

Are all apostles? are all prophets? are all teachers? are all workers of miracles?

Have all the gifts of healing? do all speak with tongues? do all interpret?

Notes on 1 Corinthians 12:28-30:

Earlier in the chapter, Paul discusses nine ways in which the Spirit can manifest Himself in a service. (These are not the only ways that He can move; they are some of the ways.) Here, Paul talks about people whose ministries major on certain gifts. Included in the list are “gifts of healings” and “working of miracles.” There is no indication that God will ever stop setting these in the Church.

For you Greek fans wondering why verse 28 says gifts of healings and verse 30 says gifts of healing, it is because the King James Translators made an error. The Greek word is exactly the same in verse 28 and verse 30, and it is plural in both verses. (A concordance can only affirm that it is the same base word, but an Interlinear text showing the original Greek demonstrates that it is the same adaptation of that word.) The word is correctly translated of healings in both verses in the NKJV and in Young’s Literal Translation.

You do not have to be called to healing ministry to be used in gifts of healings any more than you have to be called to be a prophet to prophesy. However, it should be obvious that God will use a person with a particular call on his life more regularly in certain gifts. You cannot decide which calling you would like to follow. God sets these ministries in the Church, not man.

Apostles and governments are separate offices – the latter would appear to refer to the local pastor, who is in charge of governing his local church. The idea that an apostle should govern a church is thus unbiblical unless that apostle who started the church is also the current pastor.

See also:

Notes on Mark 9:38-39

Massive Healing Crusades: The Will of God!

All About Healing Services

The Healing Anointing

Different Ways to Get Healed

You Are Christ on the Earth

Can I Get a Certain Minister’s Anointing for My Own Ministry?

To What Extent Are Prolific Miracles Limited to Those Called to the Ministry?

Objection: Only Some Receive GIFTS OF HEALING; This Proves that Healing is a Gift Bestowed as God Wills

Objection: Gifts of Healing Can Refer to Extraordinary Medical Skill

Objection: There is No Office of “HEALING Evangelist” in the Bible

Objection: Healing is a GIFT (1 Corinthians 12:28), Proving that It Is Not Earned by Our Works or Our Faith, Which Would Be Pelagianism

Objection: There Is No Evidence that the Churches to Which the Apostles Wrote Ever Had Healing Meetings

Objection: The Signs of an Apostle Do Not Refer To Signs, Wonders and Mighty Deeds, But Rather to Suffering or Perseverance

Objection: If Everyone Could Perform Miracles, Paul’s Signs of an Apostle Would Be Meaningless – He’d Be Just Like Everyone Else

Objection: Jesus Said that the Sick Need a Physician, Not a Healing Evangelist

Galatians 3:5-6:

He therefore that ministereth to you the Spirit, and worketh miracles among you, doeth he it by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith?

Even as Abraham believed God, and it was accounted to him for righteousness.

Notes on Galatians 3:5-6:

Here Paul tells us that God can do miracles when people believe for them. Abraham, the example in this passage, believed God for a physical miracle. He believed that he would become the father of many nations when it was physically impossible for him to have a son through his wife. Rather than doubting God's promise, he called that which was not (having descendants through Sarah) as though they already were. He did not consider his own body or Sarah's body.

So if you need a miracle, the process for receiving is identical to receiving a healing. You don't have to try to figure out if you need a healing or a miracle before you pray. Let God figure that out; it's above your pay grade. Believe that you receive your healing or miracle when you pray.

If want Abraham-type miracles, we need to have Abraham-type faith. We must also consider the Word of God to be more real than the current physical condition of our bodies if we want to receive miracles.

It is not a matter of going to seminary or reading a dozen commentaries on the Bible. It is a matter of believing God. Your works, even your religious works, do not qualify you for a miracle. The length of time you have been saved does not qualify you for a miracle. The wonderful works you have done to serve the body of Christ do not qualify you for a miracle. Believing God, as Abraham did, is what qualifies you to receive a miracle! Don't let works be your basis for receiving from God. The Galatians had started to make this mistake, and Paul called them foolish.

See also:

Grace + Faith = Miracles

The Boring Evangelist

How Can We See More Miracles Today?

I Have a Birth Defect. I Need a Miracle. How Do I Get It?

Objection: God Does Great Miracles Only During Crucial Times in History

Objection: Healing and Miracles Are Not for This Current Dispensation

Objection: The Apostles Never Said, "By His Stripes You Were Healed" When They Preached Christ

Objection: Acts 8 Proves that the Apostles Had Unique Powers

Objection: Mark 16:18 Does Not Say, "They Shall Recover IF They Have Enough Faith," Yet Faith Healers Blame the Sick for Not Believing

Objection: John 14:12 Was Fulfilled in the Ministry of the Apostles

Galatians 3:10-14:

For as many as are of the works of the law are under the curse: for it is written, Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them.

But that no man is justified by the law in the sight of God, it is evident: for, The just shall live by faith.

And the law is not of faith: but, The man that doeth them shall live in them.

Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, Cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree:

That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ; that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.

Notes on Galatians 3:10-14:

The Old Testament quote in verse 10 is taken from the last verse of Deuteronomy 27. Because that is the verse just before Deuteronomy 28 (I'll bet you figured that out), it identifies the context of the "curse of the law" in verse 13 as the curse specified in the law in Deuteronomy 28.

We are free from the things listed in the "curse of the law" because Christ became a curse for us. He allowed Himself to be cursed by God. He was "made sin" for us when He died on the cross (2 Corinthians 5:21). He "became a curse" for us. The law's curse included every sickness there is.

Therefore, we are redeemed from every sickness because Christ was made sick in our place. (Isaiah 53:10 literally says that He was made sick; see Isaiah's Prophecy of Redemption for more on this.)

Receiving the promise of the Spirit refers not to being baptized in the Holy Spirit (which Abraham never was), but receiving the promise that the Spirit made to Abraham, i.e., his blessing.

I could say a LOT more here about this passage, but I DID say a lot more about it in many other discussions in this book, so I'll refer you to them below.

See also:

Notes on Deuteronomy 28:15-68

Notes on Matthew 4:23-24

Notes on John 3:14

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

Isaiah's Prophecy of Redemption

YOU Can Be Healed

Breaking Generational Curses?

We Hold the Keys

Forever Settled

You Are Holy and Worthy to Receive Healing

Who You Are and What You Have

Why Jesus Was Beaten

If You Blow It

It Isn't YOUR Sickness

Job Explained

The Temporary Curse

BEING Anointed vs. FEELING Anointed

Abraham's Blessing Is Yours

Ministering to the Sick

Paper Roadblocks to Healing

How to Be Baptized with the Holy Spirit

Are Women Redeemed from Labor Pains?

I Lost My Healing – Now What?

Why are So Few People Healed of the Common Cold and the Flu?

Did Jesus Literally Bear ALL Our Diseases or Just Representative Samples of Each One?

Objection: Galatians 3:13's "Curse" Speaks of Spiritual Death, Not Sickness or Poverty

Objection: The Earth is under a Curse because of Adam, So Sickness Will Continue until Jesus Returns

Objection: Galatians 3:13 Means that Christ Redeemed Us from the Law, Which Was a Curse, Not the "Curse" in Deuteronomy 28

Objection: The Curse of the Law Was Given to Israel, Not to Us. We Cannot Be Redeemed from It because We Were Never under It.

Objection: If You Could Always Get Healed, You Would Live Forever

Objection: Sickness Can Be the Chastening of the Lord

Objection: Death, Needing to Work and Painful Childbirth Are Effects of the Fall that Are Still with Us. We Seem to Be Selective about Which Effects We're Redeemed from.

Objection: Our Bodies are Not Yet Redeemed, So We Are Still Subject to Sickness

Objection: Our Bodies Wear Out. Even Some Healing Ministers Wear Glasses!

Objection: Our Sickness, Disease and Illnesses Keep Us Dependent upon God

Objection: God's Healing Covenant in the Law of Moses Was Only for the Jews

Objection: The New Testament Emphasizes Spiritual Blessings, Not Material Blessings

Objection: Christ Did NOT Actually Bear the Deuteronomy 28:15-68 Curse Himself because He Could Not Have "Borne" Our Mildew, Droughts, Bad Crops, Children Sent to Captivity, and Other Things Mentioned in That Curse

Objection: The Only Sense in which Jesus Was Cursed Was that He Died a Cursed Death by Being Hung on a Cross

Objection: The Curse Was Corporate, Not Personal, So You Could Not Be Personally Redeemed from It

Objection: It Makes No Sense to Say that Jesus Bore Our Sins but Only ONE of Their Consequences \(Sickness\)

Objection: Lawbreakers Are under "A" Curse \(Damnation\), not "THE" Curse in Deuteronomy 28

Objection: God Called Deuteronomy 28:15-68 CURSES in the Plural, So Galatians 3:13, Which Says that Christ Redeemed Us from THE Curse, Can't Refer to Those

Objection: There Was Only One Curse \(Singular\) in Galatians 3:13, So Not Every Sickness Could Be a Curse

Objection: Christ Gave Himself for Our Sins, Not Our Sicknesses \(Galatians 1:4\)

Objection: We Should Never Teach that Jesus Was Cursed because No One Speaking by The Holy Spirit Can Call Jesus Cursed (1 Corinthians 12:3)

Objection: Jesus Could Not Have Borne Female-Specific Illnesses in His Own Body on the Cross

Objection: Faith Preachers are Trinity-Denying Heretics because They Teach that Jesus Died Spiritually

Objection: God Clearly SENT Plagues in the Old Testament. We Cannot Say that God Never Makes People Sick, because He Obviously Did.

Objection: God Can and Did “Play Favorites” with Healing; Jesus Was Only Sent to the Jews, and Gentiles Were Excluded from God’s Healing Covenant

Condition: Blindness

Condition: Blurred Vision

Condition: Burning

Condition: Consumption (Tuberculosis)

Condition: Depression

Condition: Diarrhea

Condition: Fever

Condition: Itching

Condition: Mental Illnesses

Condition: Sores

Condition: Tumors (also Referenced under Cancer)

Condition: Weakness

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Galatians 4:13:

Ye know how though infirmity of the flesh I preached the gospel to you at the first.

Notes on Galatians 4:13:

Obviously, Paul was healed of whatever infirmities he had. If you had just been stoned at Lystra (which was part of Galatia where he preached “through infirmity of the flesh”), you might have an infirmity of the flesh, too! Thank God, it was only “at the first” because God healed Paul. Another hint to the nature of Paul’s “infirmity” is found in Galatians 6:17 – Paul bore in his body the marks of the Lord Jesus.

That it was only “at the first” demonstrates that Paul was healed of whatever problem(s) he had. Thus, this verse can be used as a healing Scripture, not as a “sickening Scripture” the way some would use it.

Whatever his problem was, he mentioned it as a problem only at Galatia and only “at the first.” This trial “was” in his flesh, which proves that it did not continue as a chronic “thorn in the flesh” that Paul had to deal with throughout his ministry.

People have suggested that because Paul talked about the Galatians being willing to pluck out their own eyes and give them to him, he had some kind of chronic eye problem. I have shown that it could not have been chronic. It could possibly have been an eye problem resulting from the stoning at Lystra. All we know for sure is that God healed whatever Paul’s issue was.

See also:

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

Objection: God Wouldn't Heal Paul's Thorn in the Flesh

Objection: Paul First Preached at Galatia Due to a Physical Infirmity

Objection: Paul Told Timothy to Drink Wine Instead of Believing God for Healing

Objection: Paul Left Trophimus at Miletum Sick Instead of Healing Him

Objection: Paul Couldn't Heal Himself in Galatia

Objection: We Know that God Did Not Heal Paul, Because He Said that He Bore Marks in His Body \(Galatians 6:17\)

Ephesians 5:28-32:

So ought men to love their wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife loveth himself.
For no man ever yet hated his own flesh; but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as the Lord the church:
For we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.
For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined unto his wife, and they two shall be one flesh.
This is a great mystery: but I speak concerning Christ and the church.

Notes on Ephesians 5:28-32:

Just as you take care of your physical body, Jesus Christ takes care of His physical body on the earth, which is the Church, which includes you if you are born again. He nourishes and cherishes you. As a member of His body, of His flesh and of His bones (we're talking a physical body here), you should expect the Lord to heal your flesh and bones! After all, His flesh and bones stayed in perfect health until His suffering for us. Because an earthly married man is to love his wife as his own body, we should expect Christ to love the church as His own body. Surely He wants His body, which represents Him on the earth, to have the same health that He enjoyed when He was on the earth. Otherwise, we do not fully represent who Christ was on the earth.

See also:

Your Body Is God's Property

You Are Christ on the Earth

Ephesians 6:1-3:

Children, obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right.
Honour thy father and thy mother; which is the first commandment with promise;
That it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth.

Notes on Ephesians 6:1-3:

I've heard of two cases at this writing (one of which was someone I knew personally) where people who have lived to be well over a hundred years old have attributed their long life to being careful to honor their parents.

This passage proves that Old Covenant blessings can still be obtained by Christians even though we're redeemed from the curses, as Old Testament believers were promised long life if they would honor their parents. Under the New Covenant, the Old Covenant curses are canceled, but the Old Covenant blessings such as this one are Yes and Amen in Christ by us (2 Corinthians 1:20).

See also:

Notes on Exodus 20:12

God's Promises Have Conditions

Is There an Appointed Time for Each Person to Die?

Objection: Long Life is Not a New Testament Blessing

Philippians 2:25-30:

Yet I supposed it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother, and companion in labour, and fellowsoldier, but your messenger, and he that ministered to my wants.

For he longed after you all, and was full of heaviness, because that ye had heard that he had been sick. For indeed he was sick nigh unto death: but God had mercy on him; and not on him only, but on me also, lest I should have sorrow upon sorrow.

I sent him therefore the more carefully, that, when ye see him again, ye may rejoice, and that I may be the less sorrowful.

Receive him therefore in the Lord with all gladness; and hold such in reputation:

Because for the work of Christ he was nigh unto death, not regarding his life, to supply your lack of service toward me.

Notes on Philippians 2:25-30:

Being involved in any form of Christian ministry does not exempt you from the need to take reasonable care of your body. Many ministers make the mistake that Epaphroditus did and push their bodies beyond what is reasonable. I've known a couple ministers who almost died as a result, but God had mercy on them as He did on Epaphroditus.

I've heard ministers say, "I'd rather burn out for Jesus than burn out for the world." I say, and I would encourage you to say, "I'd rather take care of my body and exercise wisdom than burn out at all!"

See also:

God's Healing Provision is Past Tense

I'm Aching All Over because I Overexerted Myself While Out of Shape. Can I Claim Healing?

Can I Receive Healing for a Problem that I Brought on Myself?

Objection: Paul Left Trophimus at Miletum Sick instead of Healing Him

Objection: Epaphroditus Worked Closely with Paul, Yet Was Sick unto Death

Objection: Epaphroditus Was Healed by God's MERCY, Not His OBLIGATION

Condition: Exhaustion

2 Timothy 1:7:

For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.

Notes on 2 Timothy 1:7:

Surely God has not given you “the spirit of power” only to have you stay sick in need of healing power in your body. You received power when you were baptized with the Holy Spirit. The same Spirit who did miracles and healings through the apostles lives inside your body right now! Surely if His power healed multitudes through the apostles and can heal others through you, it can heal you!

This verse is sometimes used to “prove” the notion that “fear is a spirit,” but that is unsupportable by the Greek word used here for fear (deilia), which refers to timidity or cowardice, not horror-movie style fear or fright, which would be phobos instead (think of the English word “phobia”). The next verse (2 Timothy 1:8) follows the idea of not being timid as opposed to not being frightened: “Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God;”

Also, sound mind literally means self-control or sober-mindedness, so this verse should not be used to “prove” that healing from mental health issues belongs to you. Other verses can be used to prove that, particularly ones in Deuteronomy 28 that describe various mental illnesses as being part of the curse for breaking the Law. Christ redeemed you from all these “curse” conditions.

See also:

Dealing with Fear

Who You Are and What You Have

Different Ways to Get Healed

Verses Incorrectly Cited as Healing Scriptures

Are We Redeemed from Mental as Well as Physical Illness?

Can I Get a Certain Minister’s Anointing for My Own Ministry?

1 Thessalonians 1:5:

For our gospel came not unto you in word only, but also in power, and in the Holy Ghost, and in much assurance, as ye know what manner of men we were among you for your sake.

Notes on 1 Thessalonians 1:5:

Paul often emphasized that God's power accompanied his preaching, in contrast to those who preached words with no power. Because it is the same gospel and the same Holy Spirit, we should expect that the gospel will come to others through us "not in word only, but also in power, and in the Holy Spirit!"

See also:

Trust the Word to Work

1 Thessalonians 5:23-24:

And the very God of peace sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.
Faithful is he that calleth you, who also will do it.

Notes on 1 Thessalonians 5:23-24:

This verse shows you that you have three parts – spirit, soul and body. Some people think that spirit and soul are interchangeable terms for the same thing, but that cannot be true because the Word of God is able to divide soul and spirit (Hebrews 4:12).

This passage shows that God is able to preserve your body as well as your soul and your spirit!

See also:

Who You Are and What You Have

Objection: Healing Cannot Be in the Atonement because Healing Can Be Lost, but Salvation Cannot Be Lost

1 Timothy 2:15:

Notwithstanding she shall be saved in childbearing, if they continue in faith and charity and holiness with sobriety.

Notes on 1 Timothy 2:15:

Who are “she” and “they” in this verse? They are the husband and wife referred to above in verse 12. (“But I suffer not a woman to teach, nor to usurp authority over the man, but to be in silence.”) This is talking about a husband/wife relationship, as the woman’s preservation through childbirth would not be dependent on others in the congregation at large. Thus, verse 12 never was a prohibition against women teachers in the church in general (like Priscilla, who taught Apollos, a man), though it has been misconstrued this way for a long time. We know this because verse 15 proves that this refers to a husband and a wife. The Greek words used for woman and man in verse 12 are also ones consistent with husband and wife although you don’t need Greek to prove the point when you can already do so in English. Also, while the Greek words can be used for husband and wife, there are places where they really do just mean a man and a woman, so you can’t prove anything conclusively from the Greek. The context (verse 15) is much stronger evidence that the people in question are a married couple, not just any man or woman in the church.

Believe it or not, this verse has been used in certain circles to promote the idea that a woman can only be saved if she has kids! This is not the intent of “saved” in this verse; it refers to being preserved so that the woman does not die in childbirth, not to being saved from hell.

This is a very difficult verse to explain, and a lengthy discussion of the problems with its interpretation may be found in the answer to the question, “Are Women Redeemed from Labor Pains?”

See also:

Saved!

God’s Promises Have Conditions

Are Women Redeemed from Labor Pains?

Objection: Paul Told Timothy to Drink Wine instead of Believing God for Healing

Hebrews 2:3-4:

How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation; which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him;

God also bearing them witness, both with signs and wonders, and with divers miracles, and gifts of the Holy Ghost, according to his own will?

Notes on Hebrews 2:3-4:

Again, we see the norm of signs, wonders, miracles, and gifts of the Holy Ghost following the preaching of the gospel. That is what we should expect today. If we find ourselves below the Bible norm, let's get on our faces and change whatever we need to change so that we can follow the Bible norm.

Note that signs, wonders, miracles and gifts of the Holy Spirit are manifested as the Spirit wills. We do not directly control them, and we cannot claim them by faith in specific instances. (If we could, we'd probably raise the dead at every funeral.) However, God moves where there is a demand for Him to move. We are commanded to earnestly desire spiritual gifts. We should ask for them (as the apostles did) and expect them. However, the specific miracles to be manifested are strictly up to God.

This does NOT mean that healing is selectively up to God. Healing belongs to everyone and anyone can receive it by faith without any special manifestation of the Spirit.

See also:

Healing and Evangelism

Hebrews 11:11:

Through faith also Sara herself received strength to conceive seed, and was delivered of a child when she was past age, because she judged him faithful who had promised.

Notes on Hebrews 11:11:

If you follow the story of Sarah in Genesis, you'll find that she was definitely NOT in faith all along. At first, she laughed at the promise of having a son. Then she made all kinds of trouble by fixing Abraham up with his servant girl Hagar. For a while, she blamed the Lord for being childless. But finally she got in faith and had a child.

This should show you that no matter how long you have been in unbelief for the healing of your condition, you can get in faith and get healed. It's never too late to believe God!

See also:

Condition: Infertility

Condition: Weakness

Hebrews 11:35:

Women received their dead raised to life again: and others were tortured, not accepting deliverance; that they might obtain a better resurrection:

Notes on Hebrews 11:35:

A man in Africa was raised from the dead after being dead for three days, and this verse was the one his mother kept claiming. I believe that this still required a manifestation of the special faith found in 1 Corinthians 12:8-11, but it's interesting, anyway! (I wasn't the minister involved with that case.)

See also:

Objection: Faith Preachers are Trinity-Denying Heretics because They Teach that Jesus Died Spiritually

Objection: Greats of Faith Were Stoned, Sawed Asunder, Slain, Destitute, Afflicted and Tormented.

Therefore, We Can Be Too, Even if We Have Great Faith Like Theirs.

Condition: Nonviability

Hebrews 12:12-13:

Wherefore lift up the hands which hang down, and the feeble knees;
And make straight paths for your feet, lest that which is lame be turned out of the way; but let it rather be healed.

Notes on Hebrews 12:12-13:

This quotes Isaiah 35:3. Both here and in Isaiah, the cause of the hands hanging down and feeble knees is fear. The point is definitely not that God makes you physically ill to chastise you! (Many have interpreted this verse that way to their detriment. See the reply to the objection below.) The idea is not to fear God (in an anxious, as opposed to reverent, way) just because He corrects you.

In all other places where the Greek word translated feeble (paralyo) appears in the Bible, it refers to paralysis! Do you honestly believe that God strikes people with paralysis of the knees to teach them something? I don't. Would you do that to your children to correct them?

If someone is sick because of fear, this verse would apply to his healing, but in its context, this is not a good verse to use as a healing proof-text for lame people.

See also:

Objection: Sickness Can Be the Chastening of the Lord

Condition: Lameness

Condition: Weakness

James 5:14-16:

Is any sick among you? let him call for the elders of the church; and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord;

And the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him.

Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much.

Notes on James 5:14-16:

This command is so plain and obvious that it takes a theologian to explain it away. The sick are to be healed! The seriously ill can be raised up by having the elders come and pray the prayer of faith. This is what to do IF there is any sick among you so that there WON'T be any sick among you.

There is an IF referring to IF any among you are sick. (Today, James might have to ask, "Is any among you not sick?") There is no IF about the results, though. The prayer of faith SHALL save (heal) the sick person and the Lord SHALL raise him up. The people involved have to believe what God said about this.

This passage has to be one of the most disobeyed passages in Scripture! Most people who get so sick that they can't make it to church never call for the elders of the church, and most church elders don't make themselves available to pray "the prayer of faith" over the sick or even believe in doing so, preferring to pray for patience, guidance of the surgeon's hands, or whatever. A sick person should not expect that the elders will just know supernaturally to come to the hospital or his house. God doesn't expect that; He expects the sick person to obey Scripture and notify the elders!

One good question that might have occurred to you is, "How can your sins be forgiven when you are prayed over and anointed with oil when so many Scriptures say that you are already forgiven for all your sins when you get saved?" If you are already forgiven, it would not make sense that your sins are forgiven when you are anointed with oil by the elders. One attempt to explain this would be that if sin were responsible for your sickness (which can happen), the underlying sin is forgiven so that you can be healed. But that still leaves us with a contradiction if our sins are already forgiven because we are in Christ, and there are too many Scriptures to ignore that say we are already forgiven as believers (Ephesians 1:7, Ephesians 4:32, Colossians 1:14, Colossians 2:13, Colossians 3:13, 1 John 2:12). I think a better and more obvious explanation is that the phrase in question refers to a sinner who calls for the elders. His sin will not block his healing if he calls for the church elders, as God will consider it forgiven.

This presupposes that James is talking to sinners as well as saints, but he clearly does that in his letter. He addresses rich oppressors (5:1-6), prideful boasters (4:13-16), people who lust, murder, covet, fight and war (4:2), adulterers (4:4), sinners and double-minded (4:8). So the “you” who are “among you” must include sinners. This is an example of God’s mercy to sinners, that if they are willing to go to the church elders, they can be healed. I have seen plenty of people healed who did not know Jesus when they came to be healed. Seeing God’s goodness through their healing sometimes resulted in them confessing Him as Lord after they were healed. God is still good and merciful to the worst of sinners.

Since we’re opening cans of worms already, we should also deal with what James was talking about when he said that we should confess our faults to one another. The word used there is used elsewhere to describe transgressions, and one Greek manuscript actually has the word for sins in that verse. (That is one challenge when we say, “The Bible says this in the Greek” – in some cases, as there are different manuscripts where the Greek wording itself can actually differ slightly.) So this is talking about confessing sins.

Does this mean that we should go into a confessional and confess our sins to a man? No, I believe that James is talking about being real with each other about our shortcomings, not admitting guilt to a designated person in a closet-sized room who can’t even be seen by the person making the confession. If I had my way, people would go into a “confessional” and declare, “I confess that Jesus’ blood has already purchased my forgiveness! I confess that I am the righteousness of God in Christ! I confess that I don’t need to do penance for my sins when Jesus has already paid the price for them! I confess that I myself am a saint and a priest!” (And so on.) I realize that such Biblically accurate “confessions” would wear out the confessor’s welcome in that booth in short order, but that could be a good thing.

One thing is clear – this verse cannot be telling a believer that he needs to confess his sins to other people to be forgiven, especially in light of the other Scriptures on forgiveness cited above. It certainly cannot be used to support the idea of confessing your sin to a “priest” (all believers are priests in the New Testament anyway!), as this would be a one-way conversation between you and the “priest,” while James says to confess your sins to one another. Have you ever heard of a confessional booth where the so-called priest also confesses HIS sins to YOU? If not, that priest’s confessional booth can’t be what James is talking about here.

However, there is a benefit to being real (and accountable) to other believers about our sins, as in many cases, Satan will talk a person into keeping his sin to himself, in which case he won’t be able to get any help from anyone else to overcome it!

Also, this passage has been misapplied by the same people who build confessionals to refer to the unbiblical practice of “extreme unction” (also known as “last rites”) where a dying person is anointed with oil to be saved from his sins. Oil has never saved anyone, and when James said that the prayer of faith would “save” the sick, that word is used for both physical healing as well as the more general thought of “salvation” and here must refer to healing as opposed to being saved from hell, which can only be accomplished by calling on the risen Jesus as Lord. No minister or anointing ritual can confer the new birth on anyone. While there can be differences of opinion on some of James’s points, James was most definitely not talking about so-called last rites, because instead of dying, the sick person is supposed to be raised up when the prayer of faith is prayed!

See also:

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

Forever Settled

You Are Holy and Worthy to Receive Healing

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

Your Authority over Sickness

Different Ways to Get Healed

Prayers God Won’t Answer

What Every Elder is Commanded to Believe

Healing and Consecration

Do You Really Believe in Healing?

YOU Can Be Healed

Do the Math

What’s Better than Healing? Health!

Saved!

Healing – a Gift from God

Descent into Stupidity

Paper Roadblocks to Healing

What 1 John 1:9 Really Means

What Can You Do for Comatose or Delirious People Who Cannot Believe God for Themselves?

I Have a Headache. Therefore, I Am Sick. Should I Call for the Elders of the Church, as James 5 Says?

Should We Anoint the Sick with Oil When We Lay Hands on Them?

Must We Use OLIVE OIL to Anoint the Sick?

Is It Important to Use ANOINTED Anointing Oil When We Anoint the Sick?

Should We Wait until We Sense the Anointing to Lay Hands on the Sick?

Why are So Few People Healed of the Common Cold and the Flu?

Does Sin in My Life Stop Me from Getting Healed?

If I Get Seriously Ill, Should I Tell Other People?

Should a Christian Go to a Healing Shrine?

Objection: Jesus Redeemed Us from Disease, but the Fulfillment of That Won’t Come until We Get Glorified Bodies

Objection: James's Command Makes It Clear that We Should Expect to be Sick, then Healed, then Sick, then Healed, Not Always Healthy

Objection: We Are Supposed to Glory in Tribulations and Count Them All Joy \(Romans 5:3, James 1:2-4\)

Objection: Laying Hands on the Sick is Not Part of the Great Commission

Objection: God Works in Mysterious Ways, His Wonders to Perform. We'll Never Know Why God Lets Some People Stay Sick.

Objection: Anointing with Oil in James Is Intended To be Medicinal

Objection: Elders Should Anoint the Sick with Oil But Leave the Results to Our Sovereign God

Objection: Today Doctors Have Replaced the Ancient Practice of Faith Healing

Objection: We Are Promised Tribulation in This World

Objection: God's Healing Covenant in the Law of Moses Was Only for the Jews

Objection: Paul Told Timothy to Drink Wine Instead of Believing God for Healing

Objection: Signs Were Only to Follow Those Who Were There to Hear the Original Apostles

Objection: Mark 16:18 Speaks Collectively – Only Those Who Actually Have Gifts of Healings Can Heal the Sick by Laying on of Hands

Objection: James Said to Say, "If the Lord Will, We Shall Live." This Proves that We Cannot Claim Long Life.

Objection: Mark 16:9-20 Was Not in Some Early Manuscripts

Objection: God's Healing Covenant in the Law of Moses Was Only for the Jews

Objection: God ALLOWS Sickness, But Never More than He Gives You Grace to Endure

Objection: Throughout Scripture God Heals Those Whom He CHOOSES to Heal

Objection: God Wants You to Bring SUPPLICATIONS and REQUESTS to HIM \(Philippians 4:6\), Not to "Take Authority" Yourself

Objection: James Set Patient Endurance of Sickness as the New Testament Standard for Believers \(James 5:10-11\)

Objection: James 5 in Context Speaks of a Believer Who Has Sinned and Spiritual Healing

Objection: The Word HEALED in James 5:16 Clearly Refers to SOULISH Healing

Objection: James's Command Was for the Dispersed Jews, Not All Christians throughout Time

Objection: James Said that the Prayer of Faith Would SAVE the Sick, Not HEAL the Sick

Objection: Before We Pray for a Healing in Faith, We Must Pray to See If It Is God's Will in This Case
Mistake: Spiritual Laziness

1 Peter 2:24:

Who his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness: by whose stripes ye were healed.

Notes on 1 Peter 2:24:

It is clear that Peter refers to Isaiah 53:5. Peter makes it clear that it was not just the sick at Capernaum or in Israel at large who were to be healed. If this were the case, Peter would have said, “By whose stripes THEY were healed.” Peter is talking about YOU because Isaiah talked about YOU. Isaiah said that the Messiah was wounded for YOUR transgressions, bruised for YOUR iniquities, that the chastisement of YOUR peace was upon Him, and with His stripes, YOU are healed. (The our’s and we’s in the verse include you!) The people who were healed were the same people whose sins were forgiven. To conclude otherwise, you must yank the last phrase completely out of its context. You would also have to yank the last phrase out of context in 1 Peter 2:24, because it was OUR sins He bore and by His stripes, YOU were healed. This is talking about the same people, not one set of people who get forgiveness and only a subset who get healing.

How do we know that this is physical healing and not “spiritual healing” as some claim? This matter is handled in detail in the article Objection: By Jesus’ Stripes We Were Spiritually, Not Physically, Healed, but here are some thoughts to get you started. Isaiah said in Isaiah 53:4 that the Messiah bore our sicknesses and carried our pains. He bore our sins and our sicknesses as our substitute. Also, the Greek word that Peter used for healed is used of physical healings over two dozen times in the New Testament. Besides, you get a new spirit when you’re born again – you aren’t spiritually “healed” anyway! The context of 1 Peter 2:24 is what Jesus bore in His body on the cross in your place.

See also:

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

Prayers God Won’t Answer

God’s Healing Provision is Past Tense

Healing and Atonement

Healed by Jesus’ Stripes

According to YOUR FAITH Be It Done unto You!

All About Healing Services

Say What

Sickness is the Power of the Devil

If Jesus Were to Appear to You...

It Isn’t YOUR Sickness

What’s Better than Healing? Health!

YOU Can Be Healed

Healing Is an Offer, Not a Promise

What Faith Isn't

Forever Settled

Who You Are and What You Have

Why You Can Believe in Divine Healing and Not Get Healed

Why God Can Never Withhold Healing from You

You're THE HEALED, not THE SICK

Delivered!

Don't Get Sick when You Get Old

You're Dead!

Speaking to Mountains, Trees, and Diseases

Read This if You Don't Understand Healing

If God Is Really No Respector of Persons, Why Do Only Some Get Healed by the Gifts of the Spirit in Services?

Can I Get Healed of Injuries from Accidents As Well As Diseases?

If God Wants People Healed, Why Doesn't He Heal Them?

Does Mark 11:23 Work for Unbelievers?

Did Jesus Literally Bear ALL Our Diseases or Just Representative Samples of Each One?

Isaiah Used the Words SICKNESSES and PAINS, But Matthew Quotes Him as Saying INFIRMITIES and DISEASES. How Can That Be a Correct Translation?

Is "Seeing Yourself Healed" a New Age Visualization Technique?

Objection: Just As We Will Never Have Victory over Sin in This Life, We Will Never Have Victory over Sickness

Objection: The Healing Part of Isaiah 53 Does Not Refer to the Atonement

Objection: It's up to God – God Will Heal Me if He Wants to

Objection: "Claiming" Your Healing Is an Arrogant Attempt to Twist God's Arm

Objection: God's Healing Covenant in the Law of Moses Was Only for the Jews

Objection: By Jesus' Stripes We Were Spiritually, Not Physically, Healed

Objection: Thayer's Greek Lexicon Says that the Word for "Healed" in 1 Peter 2:24 Means "to Bring About \(One's\) Salvation"

Objection: The Theological Dictionary of the New Testament Says that "Healed" in 1 Peter 2:24 Refers to Restoration of Divine Fellowship

Objection: Vine's Expository Dictionary Says that 1 Peter 2:24 Is Figurative of Spiritual Healing

Objection: 1 Peter 2:25 Proves that 1 Peter 2:24 Just Means that You're Forgiven

Objection: Healing Is Not in the Context of the Entire Chapter in 1 Peter 2

Objection: All Christians Are Clearly Told that They Will Suffer in This Life

Objection: The Greek Word Used in Matthew 8:17 for "Took" Is Lambano, Which Never Means to Remove in a Mediatoral Sense

Objection: The Greek Word Used in Matthew 8:17 for "Bare" Is Bastazo, Which Is Never Used to Describe Atonement-Bearing of Sins and Diseases

Objection: You WERE Healed in 1 Peter 2:24 Must Mean that You Were SAVED, because Healing Is Still Ongoing in the Present for SAVED Believers

Objection: 1 Peter 2:24 Means that You Were Healed from the Disease of Sin

Objection: Jesus Bore Our Sins, Not Our Sicknesses, on the Cross \(1 Peter 2:24\)

Objection: The Apostles Never Said, "By His Stripes You Were Healed" When They Preached Christ

Objection: Jesus Bore Our Sins in His Own Body So that We Could Be Dead to Sins, Not So that We Could Be Physically Healed

Objection: Isaiah and Peter Meant that We Were Healed from Sin

Objection: Jesus Redeemed Us from Disease, But the Fulfillment of That Won't Come until We Get Glorified Bodies

Objection: Bodily Suffering Helps You Avoid Sin \(1 Peter 4:1\)

Objection: David Was Honest Enough to Sing to God about His Sicknesses; We Should Pray "Honest" Prayers Like His Rather Than Saying We're Healed When Our Bodies Say Otherwise

Objection: Christ Did NOT Actually Bear the Deuteronomy 28:15-68 Curse Himself because He Could Not Have "Borne" Our Mildew, Droughts, Bad Crops, Children Sent to Captivity, and Other Things Mentioned in That Curse

Objection: The Curse Was Corporate, Not Personal, So You Could Not Be Personally Redeemed from It

Objection: Jesus Was Not Really PUNISHED for Our Sins; He Just Shed Blood to Atonement for Them

Objection: Wesley Said, "Whatever Is True Is Not New, and Whatever Is New Is Not True." Nobody Believed that Healing Was in the Atonement until Recently, So It Is Not True

Objection: Faith Teachers Say to HEAL the Sick, but James Said to PRAY for Them

Objection: Sometimes God's Path for Your Healing Is through a Doctor Rather Than the Supernatural

Objection: Like Any Loving Parent, God Sometimes Has to Tell His Children NO for Their Own Good

Objection: Any Other Objection Not Specifically Covered in This Book

1 Peter 3:10-11:

For he that will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile:

Let him eschew evil, and do good; let him seek peace, and ensue it.

See also:

God's Promises Have Conditions

Is There an Appointed Time for Each Person to Die?

3 John 2:

Beloved, I wish above all things that thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth.

Notes on 3 John 2:

This verse should settle any argument as to what the will of God is in your life. He wants you to be in health. This is even better than getting sick and then getting healed! Being in health means not to get sick in the first place. But if you do get sick, you can know for sure that God's will is for you to be in health!

See also:

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

God's Mercy and Compassion

Your Body Is God's Property

Healing and Prosperity

Don't Get Sick When You Get Old

What's Better than Healing? Health!

God's Promises Have Conditions

YOU Can Be Healed

Forever Settled

Who You Are and What You Have

Healing Is Not a Formula

Why Are You Here?

Objection: 3 John 2 Is a Greeting and Cannot Be Claimed as a Promise

Objection: The Word YOU in 3 John 2 Is Singular, Proving that It Was Only for Gaius, Not for the Whole Church

Objection: Faith Teachers Tell Us to Heal the Sick, Not Pray for Them, but John Prayed that Gaius Would Be Healthy \(3 John 2\)

Objection: James's Command Makes It Clear that We Should Expect to Be Sick, then Healed, then Sick, then Healed, Not Always Healthy

Objection: If We Are Subject to Death, We Are Subject to Sickness

Objection: Our Bodies Wear Out. Even Some Healing Ministers Wear Glasses!

Objection: God Meets Your Spiritual Needs, Not Your Physical Needs

Objection: God Is Not a Vending Machine

Objection: Sickness, While Unpleasant, Is Used by God to Build Character

Objection: Paul Told Timothy to Drink Wine instead of Believing God for Healing

Objection: If Healing Were in the Atonement, John Would Have Just Reminded Gaius that He Was Healed

Objection: If God Wanted Us to Enjoy Perfect Health NOW, He Would Have Already Given Us Immortal Bodies

Objection: So-and-so Had a Vision Where Jesus Said that a Relative Who Died in the Prime of Life Was Called Home by God and Had Finished His Course

Objection: If Hebrews 13:8 Really Means what Faith Healers Say It Does, Jesus Will Be Healing Us Forever in Heaven as He Did on the Earth

Objection: God's Healing Covenant in the Law of Moses Was Only for the Jews

Objection: Jesus Let People Fail to Remind Them How Much They Needed Him

Objection: The Lord Kills, Brings Down to the Grave, and Makes Poor (1 Samuel 2:6-7)

Revelation 11:9-11:

And they of the people and kindreds and tongues and nations shall see their dead bodies three days and a half, and shall not suffer their dead bodies to be put in graves.

And they that dwell upon the earth shall rejoice over them, and make merry, and shall send gifts to one another; because these two prophets tormented them that dwelt on the earth.

And after three days and an half the Spirit of life from God entered into them, and they stood upon their feet; and great fear fell upon them which saw them.

See also:

Condition: Nonviability

Revelation 21:4:

And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things have passed away.

Notes on Revelation 21:4:

In the new earth, where Satan is absent and God's will is always done on earth as it was in heaven, there will be no sickness. Thus, we can conclude that when God has His way, there is health instead of sickness. This is not an explicit promise of healing for this lifetime; I cite this verse to make the statement that God's will is health. Were it otherwise, there would be sickness for the saints on the new earth for all eternity. If sickness is a blessing, we should expect it to be eternal. Obviously, God does not consider it a blessing, so neither should you.

See also:

The Powers of the World to Come

The Happy Ending

How Can the Leaves of the Tree of Life in Heaven Be for the Healing of the Nations If There is No Sickness in Heaven?

Objection: Pain Will Not Be Done Away with until Heaven \(Revelation 21:4\)

Objection: Disease Viruses are Part of God's Creation and Are Therefore Good, Even Though We Often Don't Think So When We Catch Them

Objection: Jesus Said to Say, "Thy Will Be Done," Instead of Demanding Healing

Revelation 22:2-3:

In the midst of the street of it, and on either side of the river, was there the tree of life, which bare twelve manner of fruits, and yielded her fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations.

And there shall be no more curse: but the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it; and his servants shall serve him.

Notes on Revelation 22:2-3:

There will be no more curse on the new earth. There will be no more sickness, which is explicitly part of the curse for breaking the law. Because Satan (the author of sickness) and sin (without which there is no sickness) will not be on the new earth, sickness will not be around for you to catch.

I don't claim to have a definitive explanation for the leaves on the tree being for the healing of the nations. Some things are not explained in detail in Scripture. At least I can say that anything that is from God produces healing, not sickness. (The question of why healing leaves are in a place where there is no sickness is handled in the answer to the question below.)

See also:

The Happy Ending

How Can the Leaves of the Tree of Life in Heaven Be for the Healing of the Nations If There is No Sickness in Heaven?

Old Testament Scriptures about Healing

| | |
|---|--|
| Genesis 20:17-18 | God heals Abimelech, his family and his servants |
| Genesis 21:1-2 | Childless Sarah is given a son |
| Genesis 25:21 | Childless Rebekah conceives |
| Genesis 30:22-23 | Childless Rachel bears a son |
| Exodus 12:12-13 | A killer plague will pass over all households that keep the Passover when God sees the blood on the doorpost |
| Exodus 15:25-26 | God's declaration: I am the Lord Who Heals You |
| Exodus 20:12 | Long life is promised to those who honor their parents |
| Exodus 23:25-26 | God will take sickness away and prevent barrenness & miscarriages |
| Exodus 30:11-16 | When a ransom is made, all plagues are prevented |
| Leviticus 14:1-32 | The Law concerning the atonement for a leper's cleansing foreshadows Christ |
| Leviticus 15:13-15 | Under the Law, an atonement was required for man with a discharge |
| Numbers 8:19 | An atonement will prevent all plagues |
| Numbers 12:1-15 | Miriam is struck with leprosy for her bad attitude; she is healed after seven days |
| Numbers 16:44-50 | A killer plague is stopped when Aaron makes an atonement |
| Numbers 21:5-9 | People are forgiven and healed of fatal serpent bites when they gaze at a symbol of Christ on the cross |
| Deuteronomy 5:16 | Long life is promised to those who honor their parents |
| Deuteronomy 5:33 | Walking in God's ways prolongs your life |
| Deuteronomy 6:2 | Walking in God's ways prolongs your life |

| | |
|---|---|
| Deuteronomy 7:12-15 | God will take away sickness and prevent barrenness |
| Deuteronomy 11:8-9 | Walking in God's ways prolongs your life |
| Deuteronomy 11:18-21 | Laying up God's words in your heart lengthens your life. Teach your children God's words so that they will live long too. |
| Deuteronomy 30:19-20 | You choose death or life; God is your longevity |
| Deuteronomy 34:7 | Moses's eyes were not dim nor his strength abated at age 120 |
| Joshua 14:10-12 | Caleb was still able to vanquish giants at age 85 |
| Judges 13:2-3, 24 | Samson is born to a childless woman |
| 1 Samuel 1 | Childless Hannah bears a son (Samuel) |
| 1 Samuel 16:14-23 | David's anointed music drives an evil spirit away from Saul |
| 2 Samuel 24:10-25 | A plague results from sin; sacrifices end the plague |
| 1 Kings 3:14 | God promises Solomon that walking in His ways will prolong Solomon's life |
| 1 Kings 8:37-39 | Solomon asks God to answer people's prayers for healing |
| 1 Kings 13:4-6 | Jeroboam is smitten for trying to hurt a man of God, then he is healed after the man of God prays for him |
| 1 Kings 17:17-24 | Elijah raises a boy from the dead |
| 2 Kings 4:12-17 | A Shunammite is made able to bear a child |
| 2 Kings 4:18-37 | Elisha raises the Shunammite's son from the dead |
| 2 Kings 5:1-14 | Naaman the Syrian is healed of leprosy when he obeys Elisha's instructions |
| 2 Kings 6:18-20 | Israel's enemies are smitten with blindness, then healed |
| 2 Kings 13:20-21 | A Moabite is raised from the dead after his dead body touches Elisha's bones |
| 2 Kings 20:1-7 | Hezekiah is healed of a fatal illness |
| 1 Chronicles 21:7-27 | A plague results from sin; sacrifices end the plague |

| | |
|--|---|
| 2 Chronicles 6:28-30 | Solomon asks God to answer people's prayers for healing |
| 2 Chronicles 30:18-20 | The people are healed after they keep the Passover |
| Job 5:26 | Long life is promised to those whom God corrects |
| Job 33:19-25 | A ransom (atonement) brings healing and rejuvenation |
| Job 42:10 | God heals Job of all his ailments |
| Psalms 21:4 | David asks for and gets long life |
| Psalms 30:2-3 | The Psalmist cries to God; God heals him and saves his life |
| Psalms 34:11-14 | Stop doing and speaking evil and you'll live longer |
| Psalms 34:17-20 | The Lord delivers the righteous from all their afflictions |
| Psalms 41:1-3 | God strengthens the generous man on his sickbed |
| Psalms 41:4 | David prays for his soul to be healed |
| Psalms 61:6 | God prolongs the king's life |
| Psalms 67:1-2 | God's saving health should be known around the world |
| Psalms 90:10 | Even backslidden Israelites could live 70-80 years |
| Psalms 91 | Abide in God and He'll keep sickness away from you |
| Psalms 103:1-5 | God heals all your diseases and redeems you from destruction |
| Psalms 105:37 | There were no feeble people when Israel left Egypt |
| Psalms 106:28-30 | Idolatry brought sickness; a righteous act got rid of it |
| Psalms 107:17-20 | God sent His word and healed fools who got sick from sinning |
| Psalms 113:9 | God makes the barren woman a mother |
| Psalms 146:8 | God opens the eyes of the blind and raises those who are bowed down |
| Psalms 147:3 | God heals the brokenhearted |
| Proverbs 3:1-2 | Remembering and keeping God's law adds long life to you |

| | |
|----------------------------------|---|
| Proverbs 3:7-8 | The fear of the Lord is health to your body |
| Proverbs 3:16 | Wisdom gives you a long life |
| Proverbs 4:10 | Hear and receive God's words and you'll live a long time |
| Proverbs 4:20-22 | God's words are medicine to all your flesh |
| Proverbs 9:11 | The fear of the Lord lengthens your life |
| Proverbs 10:27 | The fear of the Lord lengthens your life |
| Proverbs 12:18 | The tongue of the wise is health |
| Proverbs 14:30 | A sound heart is life; envy rots your bones |
| Proverbs 16:24 | Pleasant words are health to the bones |
| Proverbs 17:22 | A merry heart is like a medicine; a broken spirit makes you sick |
| Proverbs 18:14 | Your spirit will carry you through sickness |
| Proverbs 18:21 | Death and life are in the power of your tongue |
| Proverbs 19:16 | Keep God's commands and you'll live; despise them and you'll die |
| Proverbs 19:23 | The fear of the Lord brings life and repels evil |
| Isaiah 19:22 | God will smite and heal Egypt |
| Isaiah 29:18 | The deaf will hear; the blind will see |
| Isaiah 33:24 | Israel's inhabitants will not say they are sick; they will be forgiven |
| Isaiah 35:3-6 | The blind, deaf, lame and dumb will be healed |
| Isaiah 38:1-39:1 | God heals Hezekiah of a fatal disease |
| Isaiah 40:29-31 | Wait on the Lord and He'll strengthen you |
| Isaiah 53 | The Messiah will bear our sins, sicknesses and pains, save us from sin and heal us |
| Isaiah 57:16-19 | God smote Israel but He will heal it |
| Isaiah 58:6-11 | Obey God's commands and show mercy rather than fasting while oppressing others and you'll get healthy quickly |

Isaiah 61:1-3

Isaiah prophesies about what the Messiah will be anointed to do

Isaiah 65:22

God's people will live long like trees

Jeremiah 8:22

Is there no medicine or physician in Gilead? (Rhetorical question)

Jeremiah 17:14

Heal me, Lord, and I shall be healed

Jeremiah 30:17

God will restore health to Israel and heal its wounds

Jeremiah 33:6-8

God will heal Jerusalem

Hosea 6:1

God smote us and He will heal us

Hosea 11:3-4

Ephraim (figuratively Israel) didn't know that God healed them

Malachi 4:2

The Sun of righteousness will arise with healing in His wings

Genesis 20:17-18:

So Abraham prayed unto God: and God healed Abimelech, and his wife, and his maidservants; and they bare children.

For the LORD had fast closed up all the wombs of the house of Abimelech, because of Sarah Abraham's wife.

Notes on Genesis 20:17-18:

The context here is that Abimelech's household was cursed because Sarah was there. She belonged with her husband Abraham. Out of fear for his life, Abraham had passed Sarah off as his sister. Abimelech took Sarah into his house without knowing that she was Abraham's wife.

Here we see that God definitely considers barrenness (having no children) to be a curse because of sin. Those who are righteous in Christ Jesus are saved from sin and any curse that would result from it. Therefore, Christians are redeemed from infertility.

See also:

Condition: Infertility

Genesis 21:1-2:

And the LORD visited Sarah as he had said, and the LORD did unto Sarah as he had spoken.
For Sarah conceived, and bare Abraham a son in his old age, at the set time of which God had spoken to him.

Notes on Genesis 21:1-2:

If the Lord visited Sarah after Sarah believed God's word to her, you can have the Lord visit you so that you can conceive after you believe God's Word.

See also:

Condition: Infertility

Genesis 25:21:

And Isaac intreated the LORD for his wife, because she was barren: and the LORD was intreated of him, and Rebekah his wife conceived.

Notes on Genesis 25:21:

If Isaac, who lived before the Old Covenant, could intreat God on his wife's behalf, surely you, under the New Covenant, could intreat God on YOUR wife's behalf if you want to have children but you've been unable to do so thus far.

See also:

Condition: Infertility

Genesis 30:22-23:

And God remembered Rachel, and God hearkened to her, and opened her womb.
And she conceived, and bare a son; and said, God hath taken away my reproach:

Notes on Genesis 30:22-23:

The context is that Rachel was unable to have children. This is another example of an infertile woman who prayed and got healed of whatever the problem was. Note that inability to bear children was considered a reproach. Because Paul said that those who trust in Jesus, the firm foundation, shall never be ashamed, nothing that is a reproach should continue in their lives. You have the right to bear children if you want to (and you're a woman).

See also:

Condition: Infertility

Exodus 12:12-13:

For I will pass through the land of Egypt this night, and will smite all the firstborn in the land of Egypt, both man and beast; and against all the gods of Egypt I will execute judgment: I am the LORD.
And the blood shall be to you for a token upon the houses where ye are: and when I see the blood, I will pass over you, and the plague shall not be upon you to destroy you, when I smite the land of Egypt.

Notes on Exodus 12:12-13:

It is worth noting that the Israelites were commanded to sprinkle blood on the sides of their doors and above their doors. This is an obvious symbol of the cross of Christ who shed His blood to redeem us from plagues and destruction.

Exodus 12:7:

And they shall take of the blood, and strike it on the two side posts and on the upper door post of the houses, wherein they shall eat it.

If the blood of the symbol of Jesus (Paul called Christ our Passover in 1 Corinthians 5:7) could keep a killer plague away from people, how much more should the blood of Christ Himself deliver us from all plagues? You should note that the body of the Passover Lamb was to be eaten for physical strength. Likewise, Christ's body was broken to give our bodies physical strength.

This passage may alarm you because God says that He will kill a lot of people. A plague was involved, as shown in this verse. How was the plague propagated supernaturally? Psalm 78:49-51 tells us that "evil angels" did it. God was responsible in the sense that He decreed that it be done, although people did not die by His hand directly. However, God killed a lot of people in the Old Testament when they tried to come against His people, so this was not a unique occurrence.

See also:

Forgiven People Can Be Healed

Healing and Atonement

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Exodus 15:25-26:

And he [Moses] cried to the LORD; and the LORD shewed him a tree, which when he had cast into the waters, the waters were made sweet: there he made for them a statute and an ordinance, and there he proved them.

And said, If thou wilt diligently hearken to the voice of the LORD thy God, and wilt do that which is right in his sight, and wilt give ear to his commandments, and keep all his statutes, I will put none of these diseases upon thee, which I have brought upon the Egyptians: for I am the LORD that healeth thee.

Notes on Exodus 15:25-26:

First Moses healed bitter waters by throwing in a tree. The tree, of course, would be unable to make the water fit to drink under ordinary circumstances. Modern men do not treat bad water by throwing trees into it. In fact, throwing trees into water would generally make it worse. Thus, this had to be a sign to the people. It is fitting that a tree was used because Jesus was hung on a tree for our healing. Then God declared to the people that He was the Lord who heals you (also translated the Lord your Physician by some). This was contingent upon honoring Him; it was not a blanket promise. This is the first foreshadowing of being redeemed from poisoning as we have been today (Mark 16:17-18).

Because this is a declaration of who God IS, not just a declaration of what He would do, it must be an eternal statement because God never changes (Malachi 3:6, James 1:17). If God revealed Himself as The Lord Who Heals You, He still must be The Lord Who Heals You today. Otherwise, God has changed, and He is The Lord Who Used to Heal You, and His declaration today would be I WAS The Lord Who Heals You. That is plainly ridiculous. Jesus is “The mediator of a better covenant, which was established upon better promises” (Hebrews 8:6). Our New Covenant would not be better if the Israelites could be healed of any disease by The Lord Your Physician, but now The Lord Who Is Not Your Physician Anymore won’t heal you. He is the great I AM, not the great I WAS.

If you need healing, you need to remember that God never said that He is The Lord Who Will Get Around to Healing You Someday or The Lord Who WILL Heal You in the Future. Act on His Word that He is The Lord Who Heals You right now. He is the great I AM, not the great I WILL BE.

You need to be cautious when applying Old Testament Scriptures in the New Covenant. Notice the condition that you had to listen diligently to God and obey Him to be healed under the Law of Moses. Your works played a vital part in whether or not you got healed. Remember that under the New Covenant, God still IS the Lord Who Heals You, but now healing is already provided for you in Christ irrespective of your works because of His finished work. There’s a big difference. Remember which side of the cross and the resurrection you’re living in! You have a much better covenant than the one that the Law of Moses described.

God's declaration that He is your Physician does not do away with the need for human physicians. Luke was never told that his profession (physician – Colossians 4:14) was sinful. Jesus said that the sick need a doctor and that is still obvious today. Whether you make an appointment with the Divine one, a human one, or both, you do need a doctor if you're sick, and it is not a sin to go to a human one.

See also:

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

Forgiven People Can Be Healed

Healing and Atonement

Job Explained

Why You Can Believe in Divine Healing and Not Get Healed

God's Promises Have Conditions

Why Does Exodus 15:25-26 Talk about God Putting Diseases on People?

Is It a Sin to Go to the Doctor or Take Medicine?

Can I Get Healed of Injuries from Accidents as Well as Diseases?

How Could Jesus Heal the Sick Based on His Future Atonement?

Objection: God Does Not Heal All because He Didn't Heal Isaac or Jacob of Bad Eyesight

Objection: We Are Supposed to Thank God for Everything, Which Would Include Sickness \(1 Thessalonians 5:18\)

Objection: God Uses Sickness to Draw Us Closer to Himself

Objection: God's Healing Covenant in the Law of Moses Was Only for the Jews

Objection: We Cannot Demand Healing from God Because God Is Sovereign

Objection: If We Are Subject to Death, We Are Subject to Sickness

Objection: If God Wanted Us to Enjoy Perfect Health NOW, He Would Have Already Given Us Immortal Bodies

Objection: Exodus 15:26 Only Applies to You if You Keep the Whole Law of Moses

Objection: God Works in Mysterious Ways, His Wonders to Perform. We'll Never Know Why God Lets Some People Stay Sick.

Objection: My Trials Only Come to Make Me Strong

Objection: God Creates Dumb, Deaf and Blind People \(Exodus 4:11\)

Objection: Jesus Could Not Have Borne Broken Bones on the Cross because Not One of His Bones Was Broken \(John 19:36\)

Objection: Getting "Healed by Faith" Is Too Difficult

Objection: The Word for HEALETH in Psalm 103:3 Means to Heal the SOUL

Objection: Psalm 103:3 Is Poetic Hyperbole

Objection: 1 Corinthians 6:19-20 Is about Avoiding Fornication and Should Not Be Used As a Healing Proof-Text

Objection: There WERE Feeble People among Israel's Tribes \(Deuteronomy 25:17-18\), So We Cannot Use Psalm 105:37 to Claim that None Should Be Feeble Today

Objection: Jesus Said that the Sick Need a Physician, Not a Healing Evangelist

Objection: Jesus Said to Say, "Thy Will Be Done," Instead of Demanding Healing
Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Exodus 20:12:

Honour thy father and thy mother: that thy days may be long upon the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee.

Notes on Exodus 20:12:

This promise is explicitly carried over into the New Covenant in Ephesians 6:1-3. It is one of many passages promising long life. Obviously, God's will for us is long life. If you want long life, heed the implicit warning here. Dishonoring your parents shortens your life!

See also:

Ephesians 6:1-3

Notes on Ephesians 6:1-3

God's Promises Have Conditions

Is There an Appointed Time for Each Person to Die?

Exodus 23:25-26:

And ye shall serve the LORD your God, and he shall bless thy bread, and thy water; and I will take sickness away from the midst of thee.

There shall nothing cast their young, nor be barren, in thy land: the number of thy days I will fulfill.

Notes on Exodus 23:25-26:

This is a plain promise of health to those who serve God. This passage also promises no miscarriages or infertility, and long life. (We will see later that God's blessing of fertility and no miscarriages extends to your livestock as well, if you have any.) Notice that God did not say that you would live forever. He said that He would fulfill the number of your days. This is proof that you do not have to die from sickness, as some objectors to divine healing like to say. If God takes sickness away from the midst of you, sickness should not end your life. God does not need to "use" the works of the devil to evict you from your body so that you can go to heaven. After you are satisfied with long life, you should go home without suffering a miserable death from sickness, which God promised to take away from you.

See also:

What's Better than Healing? Health!

God's Promises Have Conditions

Are Women Redeemed from Labor Pains?

Objection: If You Could Always Get Healed, You Would Live Forever

Condition: Infertility

Condition: Miscarriages

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Exodus 30:11-16:

And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,

When thou takest the sum of the children of Israel after their number, then shall they give every man a ransom for his soul unto the LORD, when thou numberest them; that there be no plague among them, when thou numberest them.

This they shall give, every one that passeth among them that are numbered, half a shekel after the shekel of the sanctuary; (a shekel is twenty gerahs:) an half shekel shall be the offering of the LORD.

Every one that passeth among them that are numbered, from twenty years old and above, shall give an offering unto the LORD.

The rich shall not give more, and the poor shall not give less than half a shekel, when they give an offering unto the LORD, to make an atonement for your souls.

And thou shalt take the atonement money of the children of Israel, and shall appoint it for the service of the tabernacle of the congregation; that it may be a memorial unto the children of Israel before the LORD, to make an atonement for your souls.

Notes on Exodus 30:11-16:

By making the ransom the same amount for everyone, I believe that God shows us here that the rich and the poor are both worth the same in His eyes. In today's world, the people would howl that this is a "regressive" tax that makes the poor pay a higher percentage of their income than the rich have to pay, so it's a good thing that modern politicians weren't around back then to get the people to rebel against God's mandate. The value of your soul has nothing to do with your financial condition, and atonement for souls was the issue here.

See also:

Healing and Atonement

Healing and Giving

Leviticus 14:1-32:

And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,

This shall be the law of the leper in the day of his cleansing: He shall be brought unto the priest:

And the priest shall go forth out of the camp; and the priest shall look, and, behold, if the plague of leprosy be healed in the leper;

Then shall the priest command to take for him that is to be cleansed two birds alive and clean, and cedar wood, and scarlet, and hyssop:

And the priest shall command that one of the birds be killed in an earthen vessel over running water:

As for the living bird, he shall take it, and the cedar wood, and the scarlet, and the hyssop, and shall dip them and the living bird in the blood of the bird that was killed over the running water:

And he shall sprinkle upon him that is to be cleansed from the leprosy seven times, and shall pronounce him clean, and shall let the living bird loose into the open field.

And he that is to be cleansed shall wash his clothes, and shave off all his hair, and wash himself in water, that he may be clean: and after that he shall come into the camp, and shall tarry abroad out of his tent seven days.

But it shall be on the seventh day, that he shall shave all his hair off his head and his beard and his eyebrows, even all his hair shall he shave off: and he shall wash his clothes, also he shall wash his flesh in water, and he shall be clean.

And on the eighth day he shall take two he lambs without blemish, and one ewe lamb of the first year without blemish, and three tenths deals of fine flour for a meat offering, mingled with oil, and one log of oil.

And the priest that maketh him clean shall present the man that is to be made clean, and those things, before the LORD, at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation:

And the priest shall take one he lamb, and offer him for a trespass offering, and the log of oil, and wave them for a wave offering before the LORD:

And he shall slay the lamb in the place where he shall kill the sin offering and the burnt offering, in the holy place: for as the sin offering is the priest's, so is the trespass offering: it is most holy:

And the priest shall take some of the blood of the trespass offering, and the priest shall put it upon the tip of the right ear of him that is to be cleansed, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot:

And the priest shall take some of the log of oil, and pour it into the palm of his own left hand:

And the priest shall dip his right finger in the oil that is in his left hand, and shall sprinkle of the oil with his finger seven times before the LORD:

And of the rest of the oil that is in his hand shall the priest put upon the tip of the right ear of him that is to be cleansed, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot, upon the blood of the trespass offering:

And the remnant of the oil that is in the priest's hand he shall pour upon the head of him that is to be cleansed: and the priest shall make an atonement for him before the LORD.

And the priest shall offer the sin offering, and make an atonement for him that is to be cleansed from his uncleanness; and afterward he shall kill the burnt offering:

And the priest shall offer the burnt offering and the meat offering upon the altar: and the priest shall make an atonement for him, and he shall be clean.

And if he be poor, and cannot get so much; then he shall take one lamb for a trespass offering to be waved, to make an atonement for him, and one tenth deal of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat offering, and a log of oil;

And two turtledoves, or two young pigeons, such as he is able to get; and the one shall be a sin offering, and the other a burnt offering.

And he shall bring them on the eighth day for his cleansing unto the priest, unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, before the LORD.

And the priest shall take the lamb of the trespass offering, and the log of oil, and the priest shall wave them for a wave offering before the LORD:

And he shall kill the lamb of the trespass offering, and the priest shall take some of the blood of the trespass offering, and put it upon the tip of the right ear of him that is to be cleansed, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot:

And the priest shall pour of the oil into the palm of his own left hand:

And the priest shall sprinkle with his right finger some of the oil that is in his left hand seven times before the LORD:

And the priest shall put of the oil that is in his hand upon the tip of the right ear of him that is to be cleansed, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot, upon the place of the blood of the trespass offering:

And the rest of the oil that is in the priest's hand he shall put upon the head of him that is to be cleansed, to make an atonement for him before the LORD.

And he shall offer the one of the turtledoves, or of the young pigeons, such as he can get;

Even such as he is able to get, the one for a sin offering, and the other for a burnt offering, with the meat offering: and the priest shall make an atonement for him that is to be cleansed before the LORD.

This is law of him in whom is the plague of leprosy, whose hand is not able to get that which pertaineth to his cleansing.

Notes on Leviticus 14:1-32:

You get to be the second bird. The first bird was killed, but the second bird was dipped in the blood of the first bird and got to fly off scot-free. Jesus shed His blood for you, and now that His blood has been applied to you by faith, you get to go free.

There was an elaborate offering related to the cleansing of the leper. Jesus has made the final offering for your cleansing, so it is unnecessary for you to go through any kind of ritual to receive healing. Aren't you glad?

See also:

Healing and Atonement

Leviticus 15:13-15:

And when he that hath an issue is cleansed of his issue; then he shall number to himself seven days for his cleansing, and wash his clothes, and bathe his flesh in running water, and shall be clean.

And on the eighth day he shall take to himself two turtledoves, or two young pigeons, and come before the LORD unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and give them unto the priest:

And the priest shall offer them, the one for a sin offering, and the other for a burnt offering; and the priest shall make an atonement for him before the LORD for his issue.

See also:

Healing and Atonement

Objection: Having a Disease Isn't a Sin, So Jesus Didn't Need to Atone for Our Sicknesses

Numbers 8:19:

And I have given the Levites as a gift to Aaron and to his sons from among the children of Israel, to do the service of the children of Israel in the tabernacle of the congregation, and to make an atonement for the children of Israel: that there be no plague among the children of Israel, when the children of Israel come nigh unto the sanctuary.

See also:

Healing and Atonement

Numbers 12:1-15:

And Miriam and Aaron spake against Moses because of the Ethiopian woman whom he had married: for he had married an Ethiopian woman.

And they said, Hath the LORD indeed spoken only by Moses? hath he not spoken also by us? And the LORD heard it.

(Now the man Moses was very meek, above all the men which were upon the face of the earth.)

And the LORD spake suddenly unto Moses, and unto Aaron, and unto Miriam, Come out ye three unto the tabernacle of the congregation. And they three came out.

And the LORD came down in the pillar of the cloud, and stood in the door of the tabernacle, and called Aaron and Miriam: and they both went forth.

And he said, Hear now my words: If there be a prophet among you, I the LORD will make myself known unto him in a vision, and will speak unto him in a dream.

My servant Moses is not so, who is faithful in all mine house.

With him will I speak mouth to mouth, even apparently, and not in dark speeches; and the similitude of the LORD shall he behold: wherefore then were ye not afraid to speak against my servant Moses?

And the anger of the LORD was kindled against them; and he departed.

And the cloud departed from off the tabernacle; and behold, Miriam became leprous, white as snow: and Aaron looked upon Miriam, and, behold, she was leprous.

And Aaron said unto Moses, Alas, my lord, I beseech thee, lay not the sin upon us, wherein we have done foolishly, and wherein we have sinned.

Let her not be as one dead, of whom the flesh is half consumed when he cometh out of his mother's womb.

And Moses cried unto the LORD, saying, Heal her now, O God, I beseech thee.

And the LORD said unto Moses, If her father had but spit in her face, should she not be ashamed seven days? let her be shut out from the camp seven days, and after that let her be received in again.

And Miriam was shut out from the camp seven days: and the people journeyed not until Miriam was brought in again.

See also:

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

Condition: Leprosy

Numbers 16:44-50:

And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,

Get you up from among this congregation, that I may consume them in a moment. And they fell upon their faces.

And Moses said unto Aaron, Take a censer, and put fire therein from off the altar, and put on incense, and go quickly unto the congregation, and make an atonement for them: for there is wrath gone out from the LORD; the plague is begun.

And Aaron took as Moses commanded, and ran into the midst of the congregation; and behold, the plague was begun among the people: and he put on incense, and made an atonement for the people. And he stood between the dead and the living; and the plague was stayed.

Now they that died in the plague were fourteen thousand and seven hundred, beside them that died about the matter of Korah.

And Aaron returned unto Moses unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation: and the plague was stayed.

See also:

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

Forgiven People Can Be Healed

Healing and Atonement

Job Explained

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Numbers 21:5-9:

And the people spake against God, and against Moses, Wherefore have ye brought us up out of Egypt to die in the wilderness? for there is no bread, neither is there any water, and our soul loatheth this light bread.

And the LORD sent fiery serpents among the people, and they bit the people, and much people of Israel died.

Therefore the people came to Moses and said, We have sinned, for we have spoken against the LORD, and against thee; pray unto the Lord, that he take away the serpents from us. And Moses prayed for the people.

And the LORD said unto Moses, Make thee a fiery serpent, and set it upon a pole: and it shall come to pass, that every one that is bitten, when he looketh upon it, shall live.

And Moses made a serpent of brass, and put it upon a pole, and it came to pass, that if a serpent had bitten any man, when he beheld the serpent of brass, he lived.

Notes on Numbers 21:5-9:

The snake on the pole represented Jesus on the cross. Notice that Moses did not put a spotless lamb on the pole to represent Him. Jesus didn't look like a spotless lamb on the cross; He looked like sin – namely OUR sin! He carried OUR sins and was punished for them. You might think, very well then, why wasn't the image of Christ a spotless lamb carrying a snake? The first answer is that there already was a second image of Jesus as a spotless Lamb in the Passover. The second answer is that Jesus didn't just carry your sins on the cross, He BECAME sin. (That's what 2 Corinthians 5:21 says; that's not just my private opinion.) He was fully identified with sin; there was nothing spotless about Him when He died on that cross. I believe the point at which he BECAME sin was after He had already atoned for our sins with His blood and just before He died. If that point were sooner, He would have been shedding blood that was sin-tainted like ours. (You are free to disagree if you want, but you will have to come up with a better way to explain how Jesus' blood could be sinless if He already WAS sin while He was shedding it for us.) So God knew what He was doing when He made the symbol of Jesus a snake on a pole, and Jesus affirmed He would be lifted up like the serpent that Moses raised up in John 3:14.

When people gazed at the serpent, they were both forgiven and healed. Because the serpent symbolized Jesus, we know that both forgiveness and healing must be available to everyone after His crucifixion. If this were not the case, God would be one of the worst false advertisers ever because He would have given a preview that was better than the real thing. If people got healed looking to the mere symbol of Christ, how much more should we get healed looking to Christ who was symbolized?

Much later, in Hezekiah's day, people started burning incense to the metal snake that was on the pole, so Hezekiah cut it to pieces to stop this practice (2 Kings 18:4).

See also:

Notes on John 3:14

Healing and Atonement

God's Promises Have Conditions

Forgiven People Can Be Healed

How Could Jesus Heal the Sick Based on His Future Atonement?

Objection: Isaiah 53:4 \(Matthew 8:17\) Was Fulfilled in Jesus' Earth Ministry and Cannot Be Claimed as a Promise by Christians Today

Objection: Jesus Was Not Really PUNISHED for Our Sins; He Just Shed Blood to Atone for Them

Objection: We Should Never Teach that Jesus Was Cursed because No One Speaking by The Holy Spirit Can Call Jesus Cursed \(1 Corinthians 12:3\)

Objection: Throughout Scripture God Heals Those Whom He CHOOSES to Heal

Objection: Healing Is a Secondary Benefit of the Atonement, Not a Primary One

Objection: Christ's Sin-Bearing Is Repeated throughout the New Testament, But Healing Is Almost Never Mentioned with It. If Healing Were in the Atonement, It Would Be Mentioned Consistently.

Objection: Mark 16:9-20 Was Not in Some Early Manuscripts

Objection: Jesus Could Not Literally BECOME SIN because Sin Is a Thing, Not a Person

Condition: Snakebites

Deuteronomy 5:16:

Honour thy father and thy mother, as the LORD thy God hath commanded thee; that thy days may be prolonged, and that it may go well with thee, in the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee.

See also:

Notes on Exodus 20:12

Ephesians 6:1-3

Notes on Ephesians 6:1-3

God's Promises Have Conditions

Is There an Appointed Time for Each Person to Die?

Deuteronomy 5:33:

Ye shall walk in all the ways which the LORD your God hath commanded you, that ye may live, and that it may be well with you, and that ye may prolong your days in the land which ye shall possess.

Notes on Deuteronomy 5:33:

Here we see another promise of healing (it isn't well with you if you're sick) and long life.

See also:

God's Promises Have Conditions

Is There an Appointed Time for Each Person to Die?

Deuteronomy 6:2:

That thou mightest fear the LORD thy God, to keep all his statutes and his commandments, which I command thee, thou, and thy son, and they son's son, all the days of thy life; and that thy days may be prolonged.

Notes on Deuteronomy 6:2:

This is one of many passages linking obedience to God to long life.

See also:

God's Promises Have Conditions

Is There an Appointed Time for Each Person to Die?

Deuteronomy 7:12-15:

Wherefore it shall come to pass, if ye hearken to these judgments, and keep, and do them, that the LORD thy God shall keep unto thee the covenant and the mercy which he swore unto thy fathers:

And he will love thee, and bless thee, and multiply thee: he will also bless the fruit of thy womb, and the fruit of thy land, thy corn, and thy wine, and thine oil, the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheep, in the land which he swore unto thy fathers to give thee.

Thou shalt be blessed above all people: there shall not be male or female barren among you, or among your cattle.

And the LORD will take away from thee all sickness, and will put none of the evil diseases of Egypt, which thou knowest, upon thee: but will lay them upon all them that hate thee.

Notes on Deuteronomy 7:12-15:

This passage is a clear promise to remove all sickness from those who obey God. One apparent problem is God's threat to lay diseases on those who hate Israel. Does God actually put sickness on people? Is He, and not Satan, the author of sickness? A reading through of the Old Testament (and even the New Testament) will show you places where God put sickness on people as judgment. Even in some cases where an angel was the intermediary, the sickness was still considered God's judgment. That does NOT mean that every time you get sick, God is "using" Satan to judge you or that God is sending an "evil angel" to judge you or that He is even judging you Himself. In fact, you have to be quite bad to get to the point where God Himself has to judge you, as Jesus didn't refuse to heal anyone on the basis that God was trying to judge him! Jesus made it clear that He forgave sins. Forgiven people are no longer required to tough out the physical penalty for sin. However, not everyone received from Him. The power of the Lord was present to heal the religious leaders in the house where the paralyzed man had friends who "let him down," but none of them received healing, while the man who was let down left both forgiven and healed (Luke 5:17-26).

If God "permits" something, even if Satan does it, does that make God responsible for it? No. If God were REALLY responsible for everything the devil does, GOD would have to be punished in hell for those actions along with the devil! God definitely has done things that resulted in people's sickness as judgment. However, they were really responsible for it. God set life and death before the people. When they chose death, that was their choice, not God's. God showed them the consequences of serving or opposing Him, and when they chose death, God had to allow them to reap the results of their deadly choices.

This passage makes it clear that material prosperity as well as health are consequences of serving God.

See also:

Notes on Proverbs 19:23

God's Blessing on Your Kids

God's Promises Have Conditions

Who or What Causes Sickness?

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

Condition: Infertility

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Deuteronomy 11:8-9:

Therefore shall ye keep all the commandments which I command you this day, that ye may be strong, and go in and possess the land, whither ye go to possess it;
And that ye may prolong your days in the land, which the LORD sware unto your fathers to give unto them and to their seed, a land that floweth with milk and honey.

Notes on Deuteronomy 11:8-9:

We see yet another case here where obeying God is linked to long life.

See also:

God's Promises Have Conditions

Is There an Appointed Time for Each Person to Die?

Deuteronomy 11:18-21:

Therefore shall ye lay up these my words in your heart and in your soul, and bind them for a sign upon your hand, that they may be as frontlets between your eyes.

And ye shall teach them your children, speaking of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, when thou liest down, and when thou risest up.

And thou shalt write them upon the door posts of thine house, and upon thy gates:

That your days may be multiplied, and the days of your children, in the land which the LORD sware unto your fathers to give them, as the days of heaven upon the earth.

Notes on Deuteronomy 11:18-21:

Speaking God's Word when you sit, when you walk, when you lie down and when you get up, and having Scripture around your house seems so radical that most preachers would be ridiculed for even suggesting such a lifestyle. Surely, God does not require such a radical commitment to His Word, right? Wrong! If you really want to stay healed by the power of God, you'd better be speaking the Word a lot! You'd better be taking in good teaching, whether by audio recordings, videos, good books, or the Bible itself. You'd better keep yourself built up!

Many people are not healed because they do not have the kind of commitment that this verse requires for long life on the earth. If you are only half-hearted about divine healing, go see a doctor right now or else resign yourself to staying sick.

Do as this says, and store the Word in your heart before you get sick in the first place. It's a lot harder to learn about healing when you feel lousy and you don't want to study.

See also:

God's Blessing on Your Kids

God's Promises Have Conditions

Is There an Appointed Time for Each Person to Die?

Deuteronomy 30:19-20:

I call heaven and earth to record this day against you, that I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing: therefore choose life, that both thou and thy seed may live:

That thou mayest love the LORD thy God, and that thou mayest obey his voice, and that thou mayest cleave unto him: for he is thy life, and the length of thy days; that thou mayest dwell in the land which the LORD sware unto thy fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, to give them.

Notes on Deuteronomy 30:19-20:

God Himself is your life and the length of your days. The man who cleaves to God should expect long life. The man who does not cleave unto God but parrots healing Scriptures does not have the right to expect long life. Seeking the blessing without seeking the Blesser is never right. However, those who seek the Blesser should expect the blessing!

Life is all about choices. YOUR choices determine your future. If you don't like where you are now, look back at the choices you made that got you where you are and start making some better ones. It's never too late to start choosing life.

See also:

God's Blessing on Your Kids

We Hold the Keys

Prayers God Won't Answer

Who Is in Control of Your Life?

Objection: We Should Use Our Faith for Souls Rather than Selfishly Seeking Our Own Healing

Deuteronomy 34:7:

And Moses was an hundred and twenty years old when he died: his eye was not dim, nor his natural force abated.

Notes on Deuteronomy 34:7:

Given that we have a better covenant than Moses did (Hebrews 7:22, Hebrews 8:6), established upon better promises, how much more should we today expect to live in excellent health in old age? Moses was so strong that God ordered him to go mountain-climbing to die, and Moses did it!

The fact that Moses was 120 when he died proves that his lament over the sorry state of Israel in Psalm 90:10 when they were only living 70-80 years was not a time limit for the rest of us!

Lest you think that this is a unique case, consider Caleb, who was ready to take on giants at the age of 85 (Joshua 14:10-12).

See also:

Don't Get Sick When You Get Old

How Many Years Should We Expect to Live?

Objection: God Does Not Heal All Because He Didn't Heal Isaac or Jacob of Bad Eyesight

Condition: Blindness

Condition: Blurred Vision

Condition: Weakness

Joshua 14:10-12:

And now, behold, the LORD hath kept me alive, as he said, these forty and five years, even since the LORD spake this word unto Moses, while the children of Israel wandered in the wilderness: and now, lo, I am this day fourscore and five years old.

And yet I am as strong this day as I was in the day that Moses sent me: as my strength was then, even so is my strength now, for war, both to go out, and to come in.

Now therefore give me this mountain, whereof the LORD spake in that day; for thou heardest in that day how the Anakims were there, and that the cities were great and fenced: if so be the LORD will be with me, then I shall be able to drive them out, as the LORD said.

Notes on Joshua 14:10-12:

The speaker is Caleb. This is another case of supernatural renewal of youth in the Old Covenant. If they had that available then, how much more should be have it available today under a better covenant established upon better promises (Hebrews 8:6)?

See also:

Notes on Deuteronomy 34:7

Don't Get Sick When You Get Old

Judges 13:2-3, 24:

And there was a certain man of Zorah, of the family of the Danites, whose name was Manoah; and his wife was barren, and bare not.

And the angel of the LORD appeared unto the woman, and said unto her, Behold now, thou art barren, and bearest not: but thou shalt conceive, and bear a son.

...

And the woman bare a son, and called his name Samson: and the child grew, and the LORD blessed him.

See also:

Condition: Infertility

1 Samuel 1 (Excerpted):

...but Hannah had no children.

...

And she was in bitterness of soul, and prayed unto the LORD, and wept sore.

And she vowed a vow, and said, O LORD of hosts, if thou wilt indeed look on the affliction of thine handmaid, and remember me, and forget not thine handmaid, but wilt give unto thine handmaid a man child, then I will give him unto the LORD all the days of his life, and there shall no razor come upon his head.

...

Then Eli [the priest] answered and said, Go in peace: and the God of Israel grant thee thy petition that thou hast asked of him.

And she said, Let thine handmaid find grace in thy sight. So the woman went her way, and did eat, and her countenance was no more sad.

And they rose up in the morning early, and worshipped before the LORD, and returned, and came to their house to Ramah: and Elkanah knew Hannah his wife; and the LORD remembered her.

Wherefore it came to pass, when the time was come about after Hannah had conceived, that she bare a son, and called his name Samuel, saying, Because I have asked him of the LORD.

See also:

Why Does 1 Samuel 1 Say Twice that THE LORD Had Shut Up Hannah's Womb?

Condition: Infertility

1 Samuel 16:14-23:

But the Spirit of the LORD departed from Saul, and an evil spirit from the LORD troubled him.

And Saul's servants said unto him, Behold now, an evil spirit from God troubleth thee.

Let our lord now command thy servants, which are before thee, to seek out a man, who is a cunning player on an harp: and it shall come to pass, when the evil spirit from God is upon thee, that he shall play with his hand, and thou shalt be well.

And Saul said unto his servants, Provide me now a man that can play well, and bring him to me.

Then answered one of the servants, and said, Behold, I have seen a son of Jesse the Bethlehemite, that is cunning in playing, and a mighty valiant man, and a man of war, and prudent in matters, and a comely person, and the LORD is with him.

Wherefore Saul sent messengers unto Jesse, and said, Send me now David thy son, which is with the sheep.

And Jesse took an ass laden with bread, and a bottle of wine, and a kid, and sent them by David his son unto Saul.

And David came to Saul, and stood before him: and he loved him greatly; and he became his armourbearer.

And Saul said to Jesse, saying, Let David, I pray thee, stand before me; for he hath found favor in my sight.

And it came to pass, when the evil spirit from God was upon Saul, that David took an harp, and played with his hand: so Saul was refreshed, and was well, and the evil spirit departed from him.

Notes on 1 Samuel 16:14-23:

Here's a problematic passage for you! "An evil spirit from God" afflicted Saul! Huh? Is God is now in the business of sending evil spirits to people? Well, in this case He clearly did! The best rule for interpreting Scripture is to take everything literally unless there is a clear reason not to. (Different good men will disagree on certain Scriptures because we are still in an age where we only see through a mirror dimly. For example, until everything plays out, there will always be speculation on how much of the book of Revelation is literal as opposed to allegorical.) So if Scripture says that an evil spirit from God tormented Saul, we have to believe it.

You could make a case that God actually did send a spirit that was on His team, not the devil's, to afflict Saul in an evil manner. At first that might almost seem like heresy to people who have been taught that God and His heavenly hosts doesn't do anything "bad" to people. However, Acts 12:21-23 clearly disproves this, as it was an angel of the Lord who struck Herod with a sudden fatal illness.

You could also argue that the spirit was called an evil spirit and thus would have to be one of Satan's minions. However, that would still leave you with the problem that GOD sent that evil spirit. I see little question that Saul's affliction at the hand of an evil spirit was part of God's judgment for disobedience. The important thing is that this was a judgment sent from God rather than just Satan doing his thing to afflict someone. To that extent, it is interesting, but not necessarily important, to determine the origin of the spirit that afflicted Saul.

The musical side of this passage is discussed under Healing and Music.

See also:

Healing and Music

Job Explained

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

2 Samuel 24:10-25:

And David's heart smote him after that he had numbered the people. And David said unto the LORD, I have sinned greatly in that I have done: and now, I beseech thee, O LORD, take away the iniquity of thy servant; for I have done very foolishly.

For when David was up in the morning, the word of the LORD came unto the prophet Gad, David's seer, saying,

Go and say unto David, Thus saith the LORD, I offer thee three things; choose thee one of them, that I may do it unto thee.

So Gad came to David, and told him, and said unto him, Shall seven years of famine come unto thee in thy land? or wilt thou flee three months before thine enemies, while they pursue thee? or that there be three days' pestilence in thy land? now advise, and see that answer I shall return to him that sent me.

And David said unto Gad, I am in a great strait: let us fall now into the hand of the LORD; for his mercies are great: and let me not fall into the hand of man.

So the LORD sent a pestilence upon Israel from the morning even to the time appointed: and there died of the people from Dan even to Beersheba seventy thousand men.

And when the angel stretched out his hand upon Jerusalem to destroy it, the LORD repented him of the evil, and said to the angel that destroyed the people, It is enough: stay now thine hand. And the angel of the LORD was by the threshingplace of Araunah the Jebusite.

And David spake unto the LORD when he saw the angel that smote the people, and said, Lo, I have sinned, and I have done wickedly: but these sheep, what have they done? let thine hand, I pray thee, be against me, and against my father's house.

And Gad came that day to David, and said unto him, Go up, rear an altar unto the LORD in the threshingfloor of Araunah the Jebusite.

And David, according to the saying of Gad, went up as the LORD commanded.

And Araunah looked, and saw the king and his servants coming on toward him: and Araunah went out, and bowed himself before the king on his face upon the ground.

And Araunah said, Wherefore is my lord the king come to his servant? And David said, To buy the threshingfloor of thee, to build an altar unto the LORD, that the plague may be stayed from the people.

And Araunah said unto David, Let my lord the king take and offer up what seemeth good unto him: behold, here be oxen for burnt sacrifice, and threshing instruments and other instruments of the oxen for wood.

All these things did Araunah, as a king, give unto the king. And Araunah said unto the king, The LORD thy God accept thee.

And the king said unto Araunah, Nay; but I will surely buy it of thee at a price: neither will I offer burnt offerings unto the LORD my God of that which doth cost me nothing. So David bought the threshingfloor and the oxen for fifty shekels of silver.

And David built there an altar unto the LORD, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings. So the LORD was intreated for the land, and the plague was stayed from Israel.

Notes on 2 Samuel 24:10-25:

Here we have another case of an angel sending disease among people. This passage is especially jolting because “the angel of the LORD” did it and the Lord “sent” the pestilence.

God was simply fulfilling His Word. He promised Israel curses if they disobeyed Him. David had done something that displeased God, and a curse came on Israel. God was actually obligated by His own Word to ensure that sickness came on Israel when there was disobedience!

This raises another thorny issue. How could the innocent people be killed by something God declared to be a curse when they were not all personally responsible? Perhaps you have a better answer than I do, but I would say that there was definitely a collective meaning behind the blessings and curses in Deuteronomy 28. The blessings fell on the land when the general populace obeyed God; curses came on the land when the general populace disobeyed God. These blessings and curses are useful for determining what God calls blessings and curses, especially because Christ has redeemed us from these curses. These things were not all specific to individuals. However, in Christ, you are redeemed from any kind of curse, individual or collective. Under the New Covenant, God will not act like your mean teacher who made the whole class stay after school for detention even when you hadn't done anything wrong yourself.

This account is told elsewhere in 1 Chronicles 21:7-27.

See also:

1 Chronicles 21:7-27

Healing and Atonement

Job Explained

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

1 Kings 3:14:

And if thou wilt walk in my ways, to keep my statutes and my commandments, as thy father David did walk, then I will lengthen thy days.

See also:

God's Promises Have Conditions

Is There an Appointed Time for Each Person to Die?

1 Kings 8:37-39:

If there be in the land famine, if there be pestilence, blasting, mildew or locust, or if there be caterpillar; if their enemy besiege them in the land of their cities; whatsoever plague, whatsoever sickness there be; What prayer and supplication soever be made by any man, or by all thy people Israel, which shall know every man the plague of his own heart, and spread forth his hands toward this house: Then hear thou in heaven thy dwelling place, and forgive, and do, and give to every man according to his ways, whose heart thou knowest; (for thou, even thou only, knowest the hearts of all the children of men;)

Notes on 1 Kings 8:37-39:

Here Solomon shows his expectation that the sick in Israel should be able to pray and have their sickness removed. He expected people to be able to pray for this themselves rather than to have to go to a priest or someone else. This is an expectation we should have today. The main difference is that today we pray to receive the healing that is already legally ours in Christ; we don't have to beseech God to heal us by prayer and supplication. We have a better covenant than the one Solomon had.

1 Kings 13:4-6:

And it came to pass, when king Jeroboam heard the saying of the man of God, which had cried against the altar in Bethel, that he put forth his hand from the altar, saying, Lay hold on him. And his hand, which he put forth against him, dried up, so that he could not pull it in again to him.

The altar also was rent, and the ashes poured out from the altar, according to the sign which the man of God had given by the word of the LORD.

And the king answered and said unto the man of God, Intreat now the face of the LORD thy God, and pray for me, that my hand may be restored me again. And the man of God besought the LORD, and the king's hand was restored him again, and became as it was before.

See also:

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

Condition: Withering

1 Kings 17:17-24:

And it came to pass after these things, that the son of the woman, the mistress of the house, fell sick; and his sickness was so sore, that there was no breath left in him.

And she said unto Elijah, What have I to do with thee, O thou man of God? art thou come unto me to call my sin to remembrance, and to slay my son?

And he said unto her, Give me thy son. And he took him out of her bosom, and carried him up into a loft, where he abode, and laid him upon his own bed.

And he cried unto the LORD, and said, O LORD my God, hast thou also brought evil upon the widow with whom I sojourn, by slaying her son?

And he stretched himself upon the child three times, and cried unto the LORD, and said, O LORD my God, I pray thee, let this child's soul come into him again.

And the LORD heard the voice of Elijah; and the soul of the child came into him again, and he revived.

And Elijah took the child, and brought him down out of the chamber into the house, and delivered him unto his mother: and Elijah said, See, thy son liveth.

And the woman said to Elijah, Now by this I know that thou art a man of God, and that the word of the LORD in thy mouth is truth.

Notes on 1 Kings 17:17-24:

God used Elijah powerfully, but Elijah didn't know everything. He was obviously perplexed that this child had died; you can tell that by the way he prayed. We know that God did not kill the child, but Elijah apparently didn't know that. You have to realize that back under the Old Covenant, people did not have a revelation of who Satan was and what he did. So people tended to blame everything that happened on God, even when He was not responsible. Job in particular was an "ace" at placing this mistaken blame. However, God is merciful and He honored Elijah's prayer anyway.

See also:

Objection: Only GOD Can Call Those Things that Be Not as though They WERE \(Romans 4:17\)

Objection: Faith Preachers are Trinity-Denying Heretics because They Teach that Jesus Died Spiritually

Job Explained

Condition: Nonviability

2 Kings 4:12-17:

And he said to Gehazi his servant, Call this Shunammite. And when he had called her, she stood before him.

And he said unto him, Say now unto her, Behold, thou hast been careful for us with all this care; what is to be done for thee? wouldest thou be spoken for to the king, or to the captain of the host? And she answered, I dwell among mine own people.

And he said, What then is to be done for her? And Gehazi answered, Verily she hath no child, and her husband is old.

And he said, Call her. And when he had called her, she stood in the door.

And he said, About this season, according to the time of life, thou shalt embrace a son. And she said, Nay, my lord, thou man of God, do not lie unto thine handmaid.

And the woman conceived, and bare a son at that season that Elisha had said unto her, according to the time of life.

See also:

Condition: Infertility

2 Kings 4:18-37:

And when the child was grown, it fell on a day, that he went out to his father to the reapers.

And he said unto his father, My head, my head. And he said to a lad, Carry him to his mother.

And when he had taken him, and brought him to his mother, he sat on her knees till noon, and then died.

And she went up, and laid him on the bed of the man of God, and shut the door upon him, and went out.

And she called unto her husband, and said, Send me, I pray thee, one of the young men, and one of the asses, that I may run to the man of God, and come again.

And he said, Wherefore wilt thou go to him to day? it is neither new moon, nor sabbath. And she said, it shall be well.

Then she saddled an ass, and said to her servant, Drive, and go forward; slack not thy riding for me, except I bid thee.

So she went and came unto the man of God to mount Carmel. And it came to pass, when the man of God saw her afar off, that he said to Gehazi his servant, Behold, yonder is that Shunammite:

Run now, I pray thee, to meet her, and say unto her, is it well with thee? is it well with thy husband? it is well with the child? And she answered, it is well.

And when she came to the man of God to the hill, she caught him by the feet: but Gehazi came near to thrust her away. And the man of God said, Let her alone; for her soul is vexed within her: and the LORD hath hid it from me, and hath not told me.

Then she said, Did I desire a son of my lord? did I not say, Do not deceive me?

Then he said to Gehazi, Gird up thy loins, and take my staff in thine hand, and go thy way: if thou meet any man, salute him not; and if any salute thee, answer him not again: and lay my staff upon the face of the child.

And the mother of the child said, As the Lord liveth, and as thy soul liveth, I will not leave thee. And he arose, and followed her.

And Gehazi passed on before them, and laid the staff upon the face of the child; but there was neither voice, nor hearing. Wherefore he went again to meet him, and told him, saying, The child is not awaked.

And when Elisha was come into the house, behold, the child was dead, and laid upon his bed.

He went in therefore, and shut the door upon them twain, and prayed unto the LORD.

And he went up, and lay upon the child, and put his mouth upon his mouth, and his eyes upon his eyes, and his hands upon his hands: and he stretched himself upon the child: and the flesh of the child waxed warm.

Then he returned, and walked in the house to and fro; and went up, and stretched himself upon him: and the child sneezed seven times, and the child opened his eyes.

And he called Gehazi, and said, Call this Shunammite. So he called her. And when she was come in unto him, he said, Take up thy son.

Then she went in, and fell at his feet, and bowed herself to the ground, and took up her son, and went out.

Notes on 2 Kings 4:18-37:

This story is interesting because what appeared to be the divine means to raise the child (having someone lay his staff upon the child) failed! But if you read more carefully, you learn an interesting lesson. Elisha did not pray before he gave Gehazi instructions concerning his staff. After it didn't work, Elisha "prayed unto the Lord." What happened AFTER Elisha prayed is what worked.

When God has used you mightily in the past, it could be tempting to just "coast" or start making assumptions about how things ought to work. It's always good to stay in contact with God rather than just to assume that something should work just because it seems like the thing to do.

See also:

Notes on 2 Kings 5:1-14

Condition: Nonviability

2 Kings 5:1-14:

Now Naaman, captain of the host of the king of Syria, was a great man with his master, and honourable, because by him the LORD had given deliverance unto Syria: he also was a mighty man in valour, but he was a leper.

And the Syrians had gone out by companies, and had brought away captive out of the land of Israel a little maid; and she waited on Naaman's wife.

And she said unto her mistress, Would God my lord were with the prophet that is in Samaria! for he would recover him of his leprosy.

And one went in, and told his lord, saying, Thus and thus said the maid that is of the land of Israel.

And the king of Syria said, Go to, go, and I will send a letter unto the king of Israel. And he departed, and took with him ten talents of silver, and six thousand pieces of gold, and ten changes of raiment.

And he brought the letter to the king of Israel, saying, Now when this letter is come unto thee, behold, I have therewith sent Naaman my servant to thee, that thou mayest recover him of his leprosy.

And it came to pass, when the king of Israel had read the letter, that he rent his clothes, and said, Am I God, to kill and to make alive, that this man doth send unto me to recover a man of his leprosy? wherefore consider, I pray you, and see how he seeketh a quarrel against me.

And it was so, when Elisha the man of God had heard that the king had rent his clothes, that he sent to the king, saying, Wherefore hast thou rent thy clothes? let him come now to me, and he shall know that there is a prophet in Israel.

So Naaman came with his horses and with his chariot, and stood at the door of the house of Elisha.

And Elisha sent a messenger unto him, saying, Go and wash in Jordan seven times, and thy flesh shall come again to thee, and thou shalt be clean.

But Naaman was wroth, and went away, and said, Behold, I thought, He will surely come out to me, and stand, and call upon the name of the LORD his God, and strike his hand over the place, and recover the leper.

Are not Abana and Pharpar, rivers of Damascus, better than all the waters of Israel? may I not wash in them, and be clean? So he turned and went away in a rage.

And his servants came near, and spake unto him, and said, My father, if the prophet had bid thee do some great thing, wouldest thou not have done it? how much rather then, when he saith to thee, Wash, and be clean?

Then went he down, and dipped himself seven times in Jordan, according to the saying of the man of God: and his flesh came again like unto the flesh of a little child, and he was clean.

Notes on 2 Kings 5:1-14:

There is a similarity to the case in 2 Kings 4:18-37. In this case it was the recipient who thought that things should be done a certain way when God had another way He wanted to do it. Beware of putting God into a box the way Naaman did. You have to be willing to do everything on God's terms, whether you think they make sense or not. It's a good thing that Naaman had some wise servants.

Jesus referred to Naaman the Syrian (Luke 4:27) in His first message in His hometown. The idea that this Gentile got healed when none of the Jews was getting healed made the hearers so mad that they tried to kill Jesus! Fortunately, under the New Covenant, God does not distinguish Jews from Gentiles (Galatians 3:28, Colossians 3:11). Everyone can be healed!

See also:

Luke 4:27

All About Healing Services

Strange Ways to Get Healed

Condition: Leprosy

2 Kings 6:18-20:

And when they came down to him, Elisha prayed unto the LORD, and said, Smite this people, I pray thee, with blindness. And he smote them with blindness according to the word of Elisha.

And Elisha said unto them, This is not the way, neither is this the city: follow me, and I will bring you to the man whom ye seek. But he led them to Samaria.

And it came to pass, when they were come into Samaria, that Elisha said, LORD, open the eyes of these men, that they may see. And the LORD opened their eyes, and they saw; and behold, they were in the midst of Samaria.

Notes on 2 Kings 6:18-20:

One interesting thing you can see here is that this incident included a mass healing of blind people! If God could do a mass healing of blind people back then, He can certainly do a mass healing of blind people today!

See also:

Objection: God Creates Dumb, Deaf and Blind People \(Exodus 4:11\)

Condition: Blindness

2 Kings 13:20-21:

And Elisha died, and they buried him. And the bands of the Moabites invaded the land at the coming in of the year.

And it came to pass, as they were burying a man, that, behold, they spied a band of men; and they cast the man into the sepulchre of Elisha: and when the man was let down, and touched the bones of Elisha, he revived, and stood up on his feet.

Notes on 2 Kings 13:20-21:

Elisha died one miracle short of twice the number of miracles Elijah had done. Elisha's "double portion" was finally consummated by this miracle that happened after his death.

The man they buried came back to life but he did NOT get Elisha's anointing, so the idea of getting a dead minister's anointing by going to his tomb is a grave error and a dead end.

See also:

Can I Get a Certain Minister's Anointing for My Own Ministry?

Condition: Nonviability

2 Kings 20:1-7:

In those days was Hezekiah sick unto death. And the prophet Isaiah the son of Amoz came to him, and said unto him, Thus saith the LORD, Set thine house in order; for thou shalt die, and not live.

Then he turned his face to the wall, and prayed unto the LORD, saying,

I beseech thee, O LORD, remember now how I have walked before thee in truth and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight. And Hezekiah wept sore.

And it came to pass, afore Isaiah was gone out into the middle court, that the word of the LORD came to him, saying,

Turn again, and tell Hezekiah the captain of my people, Thus saith the LORD, the God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will heal thee: on the third day thou shalt go up unto the house of the LORD.

And I will add unto thy days fifteen years; and I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria, and I will defend this city for mine own sake, and for my servant David's sake.

And Isaiah said, Take a lump of figs. And they took and laid it on the boil, and he recovered.

Notes on 2 Kings 20:1-7:

This disproves the notion that all real healings from God must be instantaneous. Hezekiah's healing was gradual enough that it was the third day before he was able to go up to the house of the Lord.

This also shows that even something God has prophesied about can change if men make changes on their end. The same happened in Nineveh. Jonah prophesied doom in forty days but when the Ninevites changed, God changed the outcome (Jonah 3:4, Jonah 3:10).

The lump of figs was not medicine to cure Hezekiah. If figs could have cured him, they would have figured that out already and used them, and people today would be making fortunes setting up chains of special fig stores to sell figs for medicinal purposes.

Isaiah's version of this story is found in Isaiah 38:1-39:1.

See also:

Isaiah 38:1-39:1

Strange Ways to Get Healed

Objection: God Told Hezekiah to Use Medicine \(a Poultice of Figs\)

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

1 Chronicles 21:7-27:

And God was displeased with this thing; therefore he smote Israel.

And David said unto God, I have sinned greatly, because I have done this thing: but now, I beseech thee, do away the iniquity of thy servant; for I have done very foolishly.

And the LORD spake unto Gad, David's seer, saying,

Go and tell David, saying, Thus saith the LORD, I offer thee three things: choose thee one of them, that I may do it unto thee.

So Gad came to David, and said unto him, Thus saith the LORD, Choose thee

Either three years' famine; or three months to be destroyed before thy foes, while that the sword of thine enemies overtaketh thee; or else three days the sword of the LORD, even the pestilence, in the land, and the angel of the LORD destroying throughout all the coasts of Israel. Now therefore advise thyself what word I shall bring again to him that sent me.

And David said unto Gad, I am in a great strait: let me fall now into the hand of the LORD; for very great are his mercies: but let me not fall into the hand of man.

So the LORD sent pestilence upon Israel: and there fell of Israel seventy thousand men.

And God sent an angel unto Jerusalem to destroy it: and as he was destroying, the LORD beheld, and he repented him of the evil, and said to the angel that destroyed, It is enough, stay now thine hand. And the angel of the LORD stood by the threshingfloor of Ornan the Jebusite.

And David lifted up his eyes, and saw the angel of the LORD stand between the earth and the heaven, having a drawn sword in his hand stretched out over Jerusalem. Then David and the elders of Israel, who were clothed in sackcloth, fell upon their faces.

And David said unto God, Is it not I that commanded the people to be numbered? even I it is that have sinned and done evil indeed; but as for these sheep, what have they done? let thine hand, I pray thee, O LORD my God, be on me, and on my father's house; but not on thy people, that they should be plagued.

Then the angel of the LORD commanded Gad to say to David, that David should go up, and set up an altar unto the LORD in the threshingfloor of Ornan the Jebusite.

And David went up at the saying of Gad, which he spake in the name of the LORD.

And Ornan turned back, and saw the angel; and his four sons with him hid themselves. Now Ornan was threshing wheat.

And as David came to Ornan, Ornan looked and saw David, and went out of the threshingfloor, and bowed himself to David with his face to the ground.

Then David said to Ornan, Grant me the place of this threshingfloor, that I may build an altar therein unto the LORD: thou shalt grant it me for the full price: that the plague may be stayed from the people.

And Ornan said unto David, Take it to thee, and let my lord the king do that which is good in his eyes: lo, I give thee the oxen also for burnt offerings, and the threshing instruments for wood, and the wheat for the meat offering: I give it all.

And king David said to Ornan, Nay, but I will verily buy it for the full price: for I will not take that which is thine for the LORD, nor offer burnt offerings without cost.

So David gave to Ornan for the place six hundred shekels of gold by weight.

And David built there an altar unto the LORD, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings, and called upon the LORD; and he answered him from heaven by fire upon the altar of the burnt offering. And the LORD commanded the angel; and he put up his sword again into the sheath thereof.

Notes on 1 Chronicles 21:7-27:

This same story is told by another author in 2 Samuel 24:10-25.

See also:

2 Samuel 24:10-25

Notes on 2 Samuel 24:10-25

Healing and Atonement

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

2 Chronicles 6:28-30:

If there be dearth in the land, if there be pestilence, if there be blasting, or mildew, locusts, or caterpillars; if their enemies besiege them in the cities of their land; whatsoever sore or whatsoever sickness there be:

Then what prayer or what supplication soever shall be made of any man, or of all thy people Israel, when every one shall know his own sore and his own grief, and shall spread forth his hands in this house:

Then hear thou from heaven thy dwelling place, and forgive, and render unto every man according unto all this ways, whose heart thou knowest; (for thou only knowest the hearts of the children of men;)

Notes on 2 Chronicles 6:28-30:

This same prayer of Solomon, related by a different author, also appears in 1 Kings 8:37-39. In the other account, “plague” appears in place of “sores,” so this seems to indicate that certain types of sores are caused by a plague.

See also:

1 Kings 8:37-39

Notes on 1 Kings 8:37-39

Condition: Sores

2 Chronicles 30:18-20:

For a multitude of the people, even many of Ephraim, and Manasseh, Issachar, and Zebulun, had not cleansed themselves, yet did they eat the passover otherwise than it was written. But Hezekiah prayed for them, saying, The good LORD pardon every one

That prepareth his heart to seek God, the LORD God of his fathers, though he be not cleansed according to the purification of the sanctuary.

And the LORD hearkened unto Hezekiah, and healed the people.

Notes on 2 Chronicles 30:18-20:

The Passover symbolized Christ. Paul said that Christ our Passover was sacrificed for us. When the people kept it, they were both forgiven and healed.

How ridiculous it would be if you could not be both forgiven and healed by the one whom the Passover symbolized! If this were true, the symbol would be better than the one it symbolized!

The people had to be forgiven for not keeping the Passover in the technically correct manner. God was merciful to them, as Israel had neglected the Passover for so long that people weren't familiar with how to celebrate it properly.

See also:

Forgiven People Can Be Healed

Healing and Atonement

Healing and Personal Perfection

How Could Jesus Heal the Sick Based on His Future Atonement?

Objection: Isaiah 53:4 \(Matthew 8:17\) Was Fulfilled in Jesus' Earth Ministry and Cannot Be Claimed as a Promise by Christians Today

Objection: Healing Is a Secondary Benefit of the Atonement, Not a Primary One

Objection: The Word for HEALETH in Psalm 103:3 Means to Heal the SOUL

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Job 5:26:

Thou shalt come to thy grave in a full age, like as a shock of corn cometh in in his season.

Notes on Job 5:26:

This blessing was contingent upon being someone whom God corrects (i.e., someone who allows God to correct him) as is evident from the context (Job 5:17).

I do realize that statements from “Job’s comforters” represent their recorded opinions, which were not always true. For example, untrue statements are truly recorded about how Job supposedly was a wicked oppressor, which he was not. Also, the comforters’ understanding of what was going on was flawed; they thought Job was being punished for wickedness. Still, this Scripture is worth noting, as it shows that even before the Law of Moses, being on right terms with God was linked to long life in people’s minds.

See also:

God’s Promises Have Conditions

Job 33:19-25:

He [man] is chastened also with pain upon his bed, and the multitude of his bones with strong pain:
So that his life abhorreth bread, and his soul dainty meat.

His flesh is consumed away, that it cannot be seen; and his bones that were not seen stick out.

Yea, his soul draweth near unto the grave, and his life to the destroyers.

If there be a messenger with him, an interpreter, one among a thousand, to shew unto man his uprightness:

Then he is gracious unto him and saith, Deliver him from going down into the pit: I have found a ransom.

His flesh shall be fresher than a child's: he shall return to the days of his youth:

Notes on Job 33:19-25:

These words came from Elihu, who was NOT one of the three “comforters” of whom God said that they did not speak what was right (Job 42:8). God never corrected Elihu’s words, so we can safely accept them. Some people believe that Elihu wrote the book of Job; arguments for and against that position are examined in the discussion Job Explained.

See also:

Job Explained

Healing and Atonement

Forgiven People Can Be Healed

Impressive Testimonies vs. Helpful Testimonies

Objection: Job Was a Godly Man, Yet God Let Him Get Sick

Condition: Emaciation

Condition: Leprosy

Condition: Skin Disorders

Job 42:10:

And the LORD turned the captivity of Job, when he prayed for his friends: also the LORD gave Job twice as much as he had before.

Notes on Job 42:10:

Satan made Job sick. God healed Job and called his sickness captivity. To whom or what was he captive? Jesus called sickness the bondage of Satan and Peter called it the oppression of the devil (Acts 10:38).

We see an example of sowing and reaping here where Job was healed as he prayed for his friends.

See also:

Notes on Luke 4:18-19

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

Who or What Causes Sickness?

Job Explained

Objection: Job Was a Godly Man, Yet God Let Him Get Sick

Objection: Sickness is a Blessing in Disguise

Objection: Jesus Only Said that He Was Sent to Heal the Brokenhearted, Not the Sick

Objection: Like Any Loving Parent, God Sometimes Has to Tell His Children NO for Their Own Good

Objection: Any Other Objection Not Specifically Covered in This Book

Condition: Boils

Condition: Breathing Difficulties \(also Referenced under Asthma\)

Psalm 21:4:

He [King David] asked life of thee, and thou gavest it him, even length of days for ever and ever.

Notes on Psalm 21:4:

King David asked for long life and got it in spite of all the wrong he did. How much more should you be able to do so! Every Bible reader is aware of the glaring shortcomings in David's life, but he knew how to repent, and God blotted out his sins. Thus, he had every right to ask for long life. So do you, because you are the righteousness of God in Christ. Your sins are blotted out too!

Psalm 30:2-3:

O LORD my God, I cried unto thee, and thou hast healed me.

O LORD, thou hast brought up my soul from the grave: thou hast kept me alive, that I should not go down to the pit.

See also:

Condition: Venereal Diseases

Psalm 34:11-14:

Come, ye children, hearken unto me: I will teach you the fear of the LORD.

What man is he that desireth life, and loveth many days, that he may see good?

Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from speaking guile.

Depart from evil, and do good; seek peace, and pursue it.

Notes on Psalm 34:11-14:

You do not live a long life just by claiming “long life” promises. If you’re a backbiter, a gossip, a reviler, or an evil speaker, don’t bother claiming long life. If your tongue is going to slice and dice like a Ginsu knife, something else will most likely get cut – your lifespan.

See also:

God’s Promises Have Conditions

Is There an Appointed Time for Each Person to Die?

Psalm 34:17-20:

The righteous cry, and the LORD heareth, and delivereth them out of all their troubles.
The LORD is nigh unto them that are of a broken heart; and saveth such as be of a contrite spirit.
Many are the afflictions of the righteous: but the LORD delivereth him out of them all.
He keepeth all his bones: not one of them is broken.

Notes on Psalm 34:17-20:

Do you consider sickness to be a trouble? Then consider that the Lord delivers you out of all your troubles, including sickness. Do you consider sickness to be an affliction? Then consider that the Lord delivers you from all your afflictions, including sickness.

Note that there are two other characteristics of the people being delivered in this passage. They are humble, and they cry to the Lord for deliverance. Healing is not automatic. It does not just happen to you because it is the will of God. You have to receive it!

This is the verse I would be meditating on if I ever broke a bone. God promised the righteous no broken bones, so if one is broken, you have the right to receive healing for it.

See also:

Objection: Many Are the Afflictions of the Righteous

Condition: Broken Bones

Psalm 41:1-3:

Blessed is he that considereth the poor: the LORD will deliver him in time of trouble.

The LORD will preserve him, and keep him alive; and he shall be blessed upon the earth: and thou wilt not deliver him unto the will of his enemies.

The LORD will strengthen him upon the bed of languishing: thou wilt make all his bed in his sickness.

Notes on Psalm 41:1-3:

While we can't buy our healing because Jesus already bought it, some people may get healed without really being in faith just because God blesses them for being generous. This is similar to the idea that if you tithe, God will rebuke the devourer for your sake. (Under the New Covenant, YOU have the right to run off the devourer yourself, but it's still an extra blessing when God just does it for you.) It is also reminiscent of Isaiah 58:6-11, where God promised people that if they would stop oppressing one another and help the poor, their health would spring forth speedily.

See also:

Healing and Giving

God's Promises Have Conditions

Can I "Plant a Seed" toward My Healing by Giving to a Minister Who Sends a Letter Begging for Cash?

Objection: Psalm 41:3 Proves that God Permits Sickness but Gives You Grace to Bear It

Condition: Weakness

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Psalm 41:4:

I said, LORD, be merciful unto me: heal my soul; for I have sinned against thee.

Notes on Psalm 41:4:

You probably know from experience that if you sin, it has negative effects on your emotions. Sin is never a blessing to you! It can look like one on the surface but it will always cost you something. This verse is a cry for mercy for soulish healing from woundedness that was related to sin. We've all sinned, but our redemption includes soulish healing from woundedness that has resulted from OUR sins. As in Psalm 107:17-20, God shows that He is so good that He will heal you of problems that you brought on yourself because of your sin!

See also:

To Heal the Brokenhearted

Objection: The Word for HEALETH in Psalm 103:3 Means to Heal the SOUL

Condition: Brokenheartedness

Psalm 61:6:

Thou wilt prolong the king's life: and his years as many generations.

Notes on Psalm 61:6:

David expected long life. How long a life did he expect? He said "many generations." I don't know how young they were when they had kids back then, but I suppose that "many generations" would be 70 years in David's time. (This could be about 4 generations.) I suppose that because David was 30 years old when he became king, and he reigned for 40 years, which would make him 70 years old when he died. That was probably well beyond the life expectancy of the time, although Elisha lived substantially longer. 70 to 80 years was a sign of BAD TIMES in Israel based on Psalm 90:10, and David certainly lived through some tumultuous times. I don't know how short David's life would have been if God hadn't extended it.

The fact that God prolongs life indicates that you should live longer knowing God than you would have lived without knowing Him.

Psalm 67:1-2:

God be merciful unto us, and bless us; and cause his face to shine upon us; Selah.
That thy way may be known upon earth, thy saving health among all nations.

Notes on Psalm 67:1-2:

The phrase saving health in this passage does not mean simply physical healing in particular. Most translations translate it differently. The Hebrew word yeshuah used here implies salvation, deliverance and victory, which would incorporate, but not be limited to, physical healing. The most common translation of this word is salvation. God's total salvation package, which includes healing, SHOULD be made known upon the earth!

It is interesting to note that the name Jeshua (yeshuah) refers to Jesus! In Him there is salvation, health, deliverance and victory!

Psalm 90:10:

The days of our years are threescore and ten; and if by reason of strength they be fourscore years, yet is their strength labour and sorrow; for it is soon cut off, and we fly away.

Notes on Psalm 90:10:

This is NOT a proof that we are “living on borrowed time” (as some like to say) after 70 or 80 years. You can’t borrow time anyway (how would you ever pay it back?) and this verse in its context is a part of a lament about how bad things were – they were only living 70 or 80 years. But Moses, who wrote this, lived to be 120, so the author of this verse obviously didn’t consider 80 to be an upper limit!

See also:

Notes on Deuteronomy 34:7

Notes on Psalm 61:6

How Many Years Should We Expect to Live?

Is There an Appointed Time for Each Person to Die?

Psalm 91:

He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

I will say of the LORD, He is my refuge and my fortress: my God; in him will I trust.

Surely he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisome pestilence.

He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: his truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night; nor for the arrow that flieth by day;

Nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness; nor for the destruction that wasteth at noonday.

A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come nigh thee.

Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked.

Because thou hast made the LORD, which is my refuge, even the most High, thy habitation;

There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.

For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.

They shall bear thee up in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

Thou shalt tread upon the lion and adder: the young lion and the dragon shalt thou trample under feet.

Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him: I will set him on high, because he hath known my name.

He shall call upon me, and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him, and honour him.

With long life will I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation.

Notes on Psalm 91:

This Psalm promises not only healing but ongoing health to those who abide in God. It promises nothing to those who don't abide in God. The promise covers all sicknesses, but you must meet its conditions.

It is easy to major on the dwell part but forget the say part. I will say of the Lord, "He is my Refuge and my Fortress, my God in whom I trust." You don't enjoy God's blessings based only on who you believe He is in your life; you enjoy His blessings based on who you say He is. If you won't say something, you don't really believe it! (The blessings are legally yours, but you won't walk in any of them beyond what you are willing to confess before men that God has given you.) If you won't say that He is your Healer, you won't enjoy Him as Healer although you might appropriate other benefits.

God not only promises LONG life but also SATISFYING life. You should just keep going in good health until you're satisfied and ready to move on to heaven. It is not SATISFYING to live a LONG life but have to live on machines or hobble along in a walker in the Twilight Acres Home for the Decrepit for years.

The devil misquoted this Psalm to Jesus. He skipped over the phrase to keep thee in all thy ways to make it sound like God would have His angels catch Jesus if He jumped off a high building (“For it is written, He shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee: And in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.”). Jumping off high buildings is not part of anyone’s normal life, so the promise of angelic catching would not apply to anyone who did it, even Jesus. The devil heard Jesus say what was written, so the devil quoted SOME of what was written himself – but Jesus knew what was ALSO written!

The King James word adder refers to a snake; it does not mean that you will crush calculators under your feet.

See also:

Dealing with Fear

Don’t Get Sick when You Get Old

What’s Better than Healing? Health!

God’s Promises Have Conditions

Healing and the Blood of Jesus

Ridiculous Healing Confession Bondage

I’m Aching All Over because I Overexerted Myself While out of Shape. Can I Claim Healing?

Can We Believe for a Dead Person to be Raised?

Is There an Appointed Time for Each Person to Die?

Objection: Saying That Healing Depends on You Creates a New Gospel of Works

Objection: Jonah Was Brought to the Point of Death So that He Would Learn Obedience

Objection: James’s Command Makes It Clear that We Should Expect to be Sick, then Healed, then Sick, then Healed, Not Always Healthy

Objection: If You Could Always Get Healed, You Would Live Forever

Objection: Mark 16:9-20 Was Not in Some Early Manuscripts

Objection: Word of Faith Teachers Don’t Believe Psalm 91 – They Have Bodyguards

Objection: If You Could Always Claim I SHALL NOT DIE BUT LIVE \(Psalm 118:17\), You Could Live Forever

Objection: If We Are Subject to Death, We Are Subject to Sickness

Objection: So-and-so Had a Vision Where Jesus Said that a Relative Who Died in the Prime of Life Was Called Home by God and Had Finished His Course

Objection: Long Life is Not a New Testament Blessing

Objection: James Said to Say, “If the Lord Will, We Shall Live.” This Proves that We Cannot Claim Long Life.

Objection: We Are Not Promised Tomorrow

Objection: The New Testament Emphasizes Spiritual Blessings, Not Material Blessings

Objection: The Context of I SHALL NOT DIE, BUT LIVE \(Psalm 118:17\) Is Military Protection, Not Healing of Disease

Objection: Preaching Divine Healing Shipwrecks the Faith of Many

Objection: God Sometimes Calls a Saint Home Early Because He Knows People Will Get Saved at the Funeral

Objection: God Creates Evil (Isaiah 45:7), Kills, and Wounds (Deuteronomy 32:39)

Condition: Boils

Condition: Lice

Condition: Poisoning

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Mistake: Disobedience

Mistake: Reading Stupid Books

Psalm 103:1-5:

Bless the LORD, O my soul: and all that is within me, bless his holy name.

Bless the LORD, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits:

Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases.

Who redeemeth thy life from destruction; who crowneth thee with lovingkindness and tender mercies;

Who satisfieth your mouth with good things, so that thy youth is renewed like the eagle's.

Notes on Psalm 103:1-5:

This is so self-explanatory you'd have to try hard to mess it up. God forgives all your sins and heals all your diseases. Which of YOUR diseases is God willing to heal? ALL!

If you got a new job, would you ignore the benefits that came with the job? Would you say, "Oh, that's okay, I really don't mind paying for my own health insurance. I'd be happy to work for you without receiving that benefit." Of course not! You're working for God, so you get His benefits. Why ignore any of them? Saying that you don't need a free benefit offered to you is not humility – it's stupidity, both naturally and spiritually.

I'm told that old adult eagles and young adult eagles look alike. Please understand that there is nothing wrong with gray hair (Proverbs 16:31). But if Moses could go mountain climbing at the age of 120, why shouldn't you – under a better covenant – expect to stay strong in YOUR later years as God renews YOUR youth like the eagle's?

See also:

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

According to YOUR FAITH Be It Done unto You!

Healing and Atonement

Forgiven People Can Be Healed

Forever Settled

Why You Can Believe in Divine Healing and Not Get Healed

Your Heavenly Father and Your Healing

Don't Get Sick When You Get Old

Descent into Stupidity

Breaking Generational Curses?

Read This if You Don't Understand Healing

Can I Receive Healing for a Problem that I Brought on Myself?

Can I Believe God for a Partial Healing?

Is God Really Interested in Taking Away Headaches and Colds?

Can I Believe for Excess Flab and Stretch Marks to Disappear after I Have Lost a Lot of Weight?

To What Extent Can We Claim Old Testament Healing Promises?

Can I Believe to Become More Physically Attractive?

Objection: God Works in Mysterious Ways, His Wonders to Perform. We'll Never Know Why God Lets Some People Stay Sick.

Objection: Today Doctors Have Replaced the Ancient Practice of Faith Healing

Objection: Many Are the Afflictions of the Righteous

Objection: Psalm 103:3 Is a Parallelism for Forgiven Sins and Does Not Mean that God Heals All Physical Diseases

Objection: Psalm 103:3 Is Poetic Hyperbole

Objection: The Word for HEALETH in Psalm 103:3 Means to Heal the SOUL

Objection: David Didn't Have His Youth Renewed – He Had to Have Abishag Keep Him Warm

Objection: Like Any Loving Parent, God Sometimes Has to Tell His Children NO for Their Own Good

Objection: Jesus Said to Say, "Thy Will Be Done," Instead of Demanding Healing

Condition: Chronic Illnesses

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Psalm 105:37:

He brought them forth also with silver and gold: and there was not one feeble person among their tribes.

Notes on Psalm 105:37:

This is the greatest mass healing miracle ever recorded. There wasn't one feeble person in Israel when Israel left Egypt! They had just eaten the Passover, a symbol of Christ, and ALL feeble people were healed! (Don't believe the movie where an old person is being carried on some kind of contraption.)

See also:

Forgiven People Can Be Healed

Healing and Atonement

Healing and the Blood of Jesus

How Could Jesus Heal the Sick Based on His Future Atonement?

Objection: Isaiah 53:4 \(Matthew 8:17\) Was Fulfilled in Jesus' Earth Ministry and Cannot Be Claimed as a Promise by Christians Today

Objection: Some Who Get Healed at Healing Crusades Don't Keep Their Healings

Objection: The Curse Was Corporate, Not Personal, So You Could Not Be Personally Redeemed from It

Objection: Healing Is a Secondary Benefit of the Atonement, Not a Primary One

Objection: There WERE Feeble People among Israel's Tribes \(Deuteronomy 25:17-18\), So We Cannot Use Psalm 105:37 to Claim that None Should Be Feeble Today

Condition: Weakness

Psalm 106:28-30:

They joined themselves also unto Baal-peor, and ate the sacrifices of the dead.
Thus they provoked him to anger with their inventions: and the plague brake in upon them.
Then stood up Phinehas, and executed judgment: and so the plague was stayed.

Notes on Psalm 106:28-30:

God's view of plagues is much different from ours. We would be likely to say, "Oh well, it's flu season! That's what the TV ads keep telling us." Here a plague was a curse for rebellion, and a righteous act made atonement and stopped the plague. The fact that your sins have been atoned for by Jesus Christ puts you on the right side of this verse (the plague was stayed after an atonement was made), rather than the wrong side (rebellion brought a plague).

These verses are related to an incident in the book of Numbers. The entire story is found there.

See also:

Numbers 25:3-13

Psalm 107:17-20:

Fools because of their transgression and because of their iniquities, are afflicted.
Their soul abhorreth all manner of meat; and they draw near unto the gates of death.
Then they cry unto the LORD in their trouble, and he saveth them out of their distresses.
He sent his word, and healed them, and delivered them from their destructions.

See also:

Notes on Psalm 41:4

The Sick Person's Biggest Need

Hear and Be Healed

Healing and Deliverance from Poisoning

Why Some People Will Never Get Healed

The Boring Evangelist

Trust the Word to Work

Anointed to Preach Deliverance

Don't Believe These Alcoholics Anonymous Lies

Can I Receive Healing for a Problem that I Brought on Myself?

Am I Sick because I Left a Door Open to the Devil?

If You Are Sick, Does that Mean There Is Sin in Your Life?

Objection: God Sometimes Heals Crybaby Christians Who Bug Him Enough Just As He Gave Israel a King

When They Kept Bugging Him – Even Though It Wasn't His Perfect Will

Objection: Like Any Loving Parent, God Sometimes Has to Tell His Children NO for Their Own Good

Found: The Cure for AIDS!

Condition: Venereal Diseases

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Psalm 113:9:

He maketh the barren woman to keep house, and to be a joyful mother of children. Praise ye the LORD.

See also:

Condition: Infertility

Psalm 146:8:

The LORD openeth the eyes of the blind: the LORD raiseth them that are bowed down: the LORD loveth the righteous:

Notes on Psalm 146:8:

The word openeth in the Hebrew is in the continuous tense. So the issue is not whether or not God opens the eyes of the blind. God is ongoingly opening the eyes of the blind. (Literally, “Jehovah is opening the blind.”) The only question is whose blind eyes He’s opening now. If you’re blind and you take God at His Word, you can believe that you receive your healing from blindness right now. Then you can read this book yourself instead of having someone read it to you! YOU can be the next blind person whose eyes He opens.

God also heals crippled people – we’ve seen Him do it! And you might have guessed this already – the Hebrew word for raiseth is also in the continuous tense. So the issue is not whether God raises up those who are bowed down. God is ongoingly raising up those who are bowed down. (Literally, “Jehovah is raising the bowed down.”) The only question is which crippled person He’s healing now. If you’re bowed down and you take God at His Word, you can believe that you receive your healing from your crippling condition right now. YOU can be the next bowed down person that He raises up!

Psalm 147:3:

He [the LORD] healeth the broken in heart, and bindeth up their wounds.

See also:

To Heal the Brokenhearted

What Can You Say to Someone Who Just Lost a Loved One to Sickness?

What Is "Inner Healing," and Do I Need It?

Proverbs 3:1-2:

My son, forget not my law; but let thine heart keep my commandments: For length of days, and long life, and peace, shall they add to thee.

See also:

God's Promises Have Conditions

Is There an Appointed Time for Each Person to Die?

Proverbs 3:7-8:

Be not wise in thine own eyes: fear the LORD, and depart from evil.
It shall be health to thy navel, and marrow to thy bones.

See also:

God's Promises Have Conditions

Condition: Broken Bones

Proverbs 3:16:

Length of days is in her [wisdom's] right hand; and in her left hand riches and honour.

See also:

God's Promises Have Conditions

Is There an Appointed Time for Each Person to Die?

Proverbs 4:10:

Hear, O my son, and receive my sayings; and the years of thy life shall be many.

See also:

God's Promises Have Conditions

Is There an Appointed Time for Each Person to Die?

Proverbs 4:20-22:

My son, attend to my words; incline thine ear unto my sayings.
Let them not depart from thine eyes; keep them in the midst of thine heart.
For they are life unto those that find them, and health to all their flesh.

Notes on Proverbs 4:20-22:

Having an ear to hear the Word of God will keep you healthy!

The Hebrew word translated health in verse 22 is also translated cure, healing and remedy in other Old Testament verses. It clearly refers to physical health. You can be sure of this without a concordance or any knowledge of Hebrew by the simple fact that this health is “to all your flesh.”

See also:

Different Ways to Get Healed

Bodily Exercise Profiteth Little

Healing Is Not a Formula

God's Word Is Medicine

God's Promises Have Conditions

Why Some People Will Never Get Healed

Crossing the Bridge from Head Knowledge to Revelation Knowledge

Because Healing is 100% by Grace, Can I Live Any Old Way and Still Get Healed?

Is It Unbelief to Check Yourself to See if You Are Healed Yet?

Objection: Paul Told Timothy to Drink Wine Instead of Believing God for Healing

Objection: Getting “Healed by Faith” Is Too Difficult

Objection: If Proverbs 18:21 Meant What Faith Preachers Say It Does, Old Testament People Could Have Gone Around Speaking Health to the Sick and Death to Cancer and Other Diseases before Jesus Came

Objection: Like Any Loving Parent, God Sometimes Has to Tell His Children NO for Their Own Good

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Proverbs 9:11:

For by me [the fear of the Lord] thy days shall be multiplied, and the years of thy life shall be increased.

See also:

God's Promises Have Conditions

Is There an Appointed Time for Each Person to Die?

Proverbs 10:27:

The fear of the LORD prolongeth days: but the years of the wicked shall be shortened.

See also:

God's Promises Have Conditions

Is There an Appointed Time for Each Person to Die?

Proverbs 12:18:

There is that speaketh like the piercings of a sword: but the tongue of the wise is health.

Notes on Proverbs 12:18:

Your tongue can bring healing or sickness to others. It is so important to watch your words. You could discourage someone and make him more susceptible to sickness, or cheer the person up and make him more likely to get healed. Our tongues should speak edifying things that will bring health to others. (Note that telling people that their sickness is the will of God or some other such nonsense is not wise and it will not bring health to anyone!)

See also:

Say What

Proverbs 14:30:

A sound heart is the life of the flesh: but envy the rottenness of the bones.

See also:

Objection: As Many Doctors Can Tell You, Many People Make Themselves Sick – It Has Nothing to Do with the Devil

Mistake: Envy

Proverbs 16:24:

Pleasant words are as an honeycomb, sweet to the soul, and health to the bones.

Notes on Proverbs 16:24:

Speaking kind words to people encourages their health! It will also help yours, because you will reap what you sow.

Proverbs 17:22:

A merry heart doeth good like a medicine: but a broken spirit drieth the bones.

Notes on Proverbs 17:22:

This shows that there is more to healing than just the bodily part. Your emotional well-being often determines your physical well-being. (That is why God wants you to be in health even as your soul prospers – 3 John 2.) Thank God, Jesus came to heal the brokenhearted (Luke 4:18), and God declares that he comforts those who are cast down (2 Corinthians 7:6). He heals the brokenhearted, binding up their wounds (Psalm 147:3). Therefore, if you are sick because you are brokenhearted or depressed, God will heal you of the root cause as well as the resulting sickness.

This is one good reason that you should “Rejoice in the Lord always” (Philippians 4:4) and “Rejoice evermore” (1 Thessalonians 5:16). You won’t always feel like rejoicing, but the fact that you are commanded to do it proves that it is always possible to do it. By choosing to rejoice in the Lord, you open the door for the joy of the Lord to be your strength and for your merry heart to do you good like a medicine.

See also:

Notes on Proverbs 18:14

Proverbs 18:14:

The spirit of a man will sustain his infirmity; but a wounded spirit who can bear?

Notes on Proverbs 18:14:

The man who wants to live and is built up spiritually can survive a sickness that would end the life of someone who is broken on the inside and has lost the will to live. This is no secret even to secular physicians. The people who really want to live generally do better than the ones who have given up on the inside.

As pointed out in the Notes on Proverbs 17:22, God wants to heal you emotionally as well as physically. As a New Covenant believer, you don't have to worry about having a "wounded spirit" because your spirit is completely whole already, made in God's image in righteousness and true holiness (Ephesians 4:24). You may deal with issues, but your born again spirit isn't one of them!

Proverbs 18:21:

Death and life are in the power of the tongue: and they that love it shall eat the fruit thereof.

Notes on Proverbs 18:21:

A lot depends on YOU, not on God. What you speak can bring you life or death. God wants you to speak things that bring life, but He won't force you to do it. You will not get healed or stay healed if your mouth keeps speaking death instead of life.

Many times this verse is preached as if the ability to speak death is a bad thing. You can use it against yourself, and that's a bad thing, but you can also speak death to things like cancer, and then it's a good thing that death is in the power of your tongue! I've seen terminal cancer disappear when I spoke death to it without even touching the person who had it. It's a wonderful thing to know your authority as a believer! Jesus spoke death to a fig tree, so we can speak death too!

See also:

Notes on Matthew 21:18-22

Notes on James 3:2-6

Say What

Healing Does Not Require Great Faith

You Have Authority over Your Body

Quit Worrying about Your Health!

Speaking to Mountains, Trees and Diseases

We Hold the Keys

Different Ways to Get Healed

Who Is in Control of Your Life?

Does Mark 11:23 Work for Unbelievers?

Objection: God Is in Control

Objection: It Is Presumption to Think that Life and Death Are in Your Power

Objection: Only Those with Gifts of Healings Receive the TEMPORARY Right to Speak Directly to an Illness

Objection: Divine Healing is Practiced by False Cults

Objection: If Proverbs 18:21 Meant What Faith Preachers Say It Does, Old Testament People Could Have Gone Around Speaking Health to the Sick and Death to Cancer and Other Diseases before Jesus Came

Objection: Faith Is Simply Trust in God, Not a Force that You Use to Change Things Yourself

Proverbs 19:16:

He that keepeth the commandment keepeth his own soul; but he that despiseth his ways shall die.

See also:

Is There an Appointed Time for Each Person to Die?

Proverbs 19:23:

The fear of the LORD tendeth to life: and he that hath it shall abide satisfied; he shall not be visited with evil.

Notes on Proverbs 19:23:

Given that sickness is evil (Deuteronomy 7:15), this is another statement that the man who fears God should not expect to get sick like those who do not fear God.

Isaiah 19:22:

And the LORD shall smite Egypt: he shall smite and heal it: and they shall return even to the LORD, and he shall be intreated of them, and shall heal them.

Notes on Isaiah 19:22:

Egypt was Israel's mortal enemy. However, God said that he would heal Egypt when its people turned to Him. If God is willing to do this for His enemies, surely He is willing to heal His own children! (Under the New Covenant, you don't have to entreat God for healing; you just need to receive healing.)

Isaiah 29:18:

And in that day shall the deaf hear the words of the book, and the eyes of the blind shall see out of obscurity, and out of darkness.

See also:

Condition: Blindness

Condition: Deafness

Isaiah 33:24:

And the inhabitant shall not say, I am sick: the people that dwell therein shall be forgiven their iniquity.

Notes on Isaiah 33:24:

This verse appears to refer to the future Millennium (the 1,000-year reign of Christ on the earth). We can learn something from this. When Jesus is Lord, there is no sickness. Therefore, God cannot be the author of sickness, because where He is in control (as in heaven), there is no sickness.

This is also another illustration of how forgiveness and healing go together in every age.

See also:

Forgiven People Can Be Healed
Healing and Atonement

Isaiah 35:3-6:

Strengthen ye the weak hands, and confirm the feeble knees.

Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be strong, fear not: behold, your God will come with vengeance, even God with a recompense; he will come and save you.

Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped.

Then shall the lame man leap as an hart, and the tongue of the dumb sing: for in the wilderness shall waters break out, and streams in the desert.

Notes on Isaiah 35:3-6:

These verses in context appear to refer to the Millennial reign of Christ. It is obvious that where Jesus has His way, the blind, deaf, lame and dumb are healed. So it is today where He has His way. This will be universal in the future when the devil is locked away and is unable to oppose the plan of God in the earth.

This verse is referred to in Hebrews 12:12-13. The weak hands and feeble knees belong to those who are afraid, so God tells them not to be afraid.

See also:

Condition: Blindness

Condition: Deafness

Condition: Dumbness

Condition: Lameness

Condition: Weakness

Isaiah 38:1-39:1:

In those days was Hezekiah sick unto death. And Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz came unto him, and said unto him, Thus saith the LORD, Set thine house in order: for thou shalt die, and not live.

Then Hezekiah turned his face to the wall, and prayed unto the LORD.

And said, Remember now, O LORD, I beseech thee, how I have walked before thee in truth and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight. And Hezekiah wept sore.

Then came the word of the LORD to Isaiah, saying,

Go, and say to Hezekiah, Thus saith the LORD, the God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will add unto thy days fifteen years.

And I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria: and I will defend this city.

And this shall be a sign unto thee from the LORD, that the LORD will do this thing that he hath spoken;

Behold, I will bring again the shadow of the degrees, which is gone down in the sun dial of Ahaz, ten degrees backward. So the sun returned ten degrees, by which degrees it was gone down.

The writing of Hezekiah king of Judah, when he had been sick, and was recovered of his sickness:

I said in the cutting off of my days, I shall go to the gates of the grave: I am deprived of the residue of my years.

I said, I shall not see the LORD, even the LORD, in the land of the living: I shall behold man no more with the inhabitants of the world.

Mine age is departed, and is removed from me as a shepherd's tent: I have cut off like a weaver my life: he will cut me off with pining sickness: from day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.

I reckoned till morning, that, as a lion, so will he break all my bones: from day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.

Like a crane or a swallow, so did I chatter: I did mourn as a dove: mine eyes fail with looking upward: O LORD, I am oppressed; undertake for me.

What shall I say? he hath both spoken to me, and himself done it: I shall go softly all my years in the bitterness of my soul.

O LORD, by these things men live, and in all these things is the life of my spirit: so wilt thou recover me, and make me to live.

Behold, for peace I had great bitterness: but thou hast in love to my soul delivered it from the pit of corruption: for thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back.

For the grave cannot praise thee, death cannot celebrate thee: they that go down into the pit cannot hope for thy truth.

The living, the living, he shall praise thee, as I do this day: the father to the children shall make known thy truth.

The LORD was ready to save me: therefore we will sing my songs to the stringed instruments all the days of our life in the house of the LORD.

For Isaiah had said, Let them take a lump of figs, and lay it for a plaister upon the boil, and he shall recover.

Hezekiah also had said, What is the sign that I shall go up to the house of the LORD?

At that time, Merodach-Baladan, the Son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent letters and a present for Hezekiah: for he had heard that he had been sick, and was recovered.

Notes on Isaiah 38:1-39:1:

See 2 Kings 20:1-7 and its accompanying notes for comments on this story.

Isaiah 40:29-31:

He giveth power to the faint; and to them that have no might he increaseth strength.
Even the youths shall faint and be weary, and the young men shall utterly fall;
But they that wait upon the LORD shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles;
they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint.

Notes on Isaiah 40:29-31:

“Waiting on the Lord” does not mean that you have to wait for God to get around to feeling like doing something for you in His sovereign will. You are looking expectantly toward Him, not sitting passively waiting for God to do everything for you.

This verse is an implicit health promise for those who fellowship with God. You can't run and not faint if you have a splitting headache and your lungs are full of junk. You can't walk and not faint if you have a bad heart. If you have trouble with anemia or other forms of general weakness, spend time pondering this passage. God gives power to the faint!

See also:

God's Promises Have Conditions

Condition: Weakness

Isaiah 53:

Who hath believed our report? and to whom is the arm of the LORD revealed?

For he shall grow up before him as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground: he hath no form nor comeliness; and when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him.

He is despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows [literally pains], and acquainted with grief [literally sickness]: and we hid as it were our faces from him; he was despised, and we esteemed him not.

Surely he hath borne our griefs [literally sicknesses], and carried our sorrows [literally pains]: yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted.

But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed.

All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the LORD hath laid on him the iniquity of us all.

He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth: he is brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he openeth not his mouth.

He was taken from prison and from judgment: and who shall declare his generation? for he was cut off out of the land of the living: for the transgression of my people was he stricken.

And he made his grave with the wicked, and with the rich in his death; because he had done no violence, neither was any deceit in his mouth.

Yet it pleased the LORD to bruise him; he hath put him to grief [literally made Him sick]: when thou shalt make his soul an offering for sin, he shall see his seed, he shall prolong his days, and the pleasure of the LORD shall prosper in his hand.

He shall see of the travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied: by his knowledge shall my righteous servant justify many; for he shall bear their iniquities.

Therefore will I divide him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong; because he hath poured out his soul unto death: and he was numbered with the transgressors; and he bare the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors.

Notes on Isaiah 53:

So much can be said about this important prophecy that the notes are split among the various discussions listed below.

See also:

Notes on Matthew 8:16-17

Notes on Mark 1:32-34

Notes on Luke 4:40-41

Notes on Galatians 3:10-14

Notes on 1 Peter 2:24

The #1 Mistake People Make When They Need Healing

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

Isaiah's Prophecy of Redemption

YOU Can Be Healed

Healed by Jesus' Stripes

Forever Settled

Healing and Atonement

Ministering to the Sick

It Isn't YOUR Sickness

Why Jesus Was Beaten

Sin, Punishment, Sickness and Satan

What Mark 11:22 Really Means

Healing and the Lord's Supper

Read This if You Don't Understand Healing

How to Be Saved from Your Sins

Can I Get Healed of Injuries from Accidents as Well as Diseases?

Are Women Redeemed from Labor Pains?

Did God PUT Sickness on Old Testament People or ALLOW the Devil to Do It?

Did Jesus Literally Bear ALL Our Diseases or Just Representative Samples of Each One?

Isaiah Used the Words SICKNESSES and PAINS, But Matthew Quotes Him as Saying INFIRMITIES and DISEASES. How Can That Be a Correct Translation?

How Could Jesus Heal the Sick Based on His Future Atonement?

Objection: The Healing Part of Isaiah 53 Does Not Refer to the Atonement

Objection: Jesus Redeemed Us from Disease, but the Fulfillment of that Won't Come Until We Get Glorified Bodies

Objection: By Jesus' Stripes We Were Spiritually, Not Physically, Healed

Objection: 1 Peter 2:25 Proves that 1 Peter 2:24 Just Means that You're Forgiven

Objection: Isaiah 53:4 \(Matthew 8:17\) Was Fulfilled in Jesus' Earth Ministry and Cannot Be Claimed as a Promise by Christians Today

Objection: It's up to God – God Will Heal Me if He Wants to

Objection: Jesus Could Not Have Borne both Hypoglycemia and Hyperglycemia on the Cross

Objection: God Wouldn't Heal Paul's Thorn in the Flesh

Objection: Jesus Bore Our Sorrows and Grievs, Not Our Sicknesses and Pains, on the Cross

Objection: Sickness Can Be the Chastening of the Lord

Objection: All Uses of Matthew's Greek Word for "That It Might Be Fulfilled" Refer to Events before the Atonement, So Matthew 8:17 Is Invalid As a Proof that Healing Is in the Atonement

Objection: There Is No Mention of the Atonement in Matthew 8:17 \(Fulfilling Isaiah 53:4\)

Objection: The Greek Word Used in Matthew 8:17 for "Took" Is Lambano, Which Never Means to Remove in a Mediatoral Sense

Objection: The Greek Word Used in Matthew 8:17 for "Bare" Is Bastazo, Which Is Never Used to Describe Atonement-Bearing of Sins and Diseases

Objection: Jesus' Bearing of Sicknesses Is Just a Metonymy

Objection: "Our" Sicknesses in Matthew 8:17 Are Only from the Standpoint of the Jews in Capernaum Who Were Healed

Objection: Matthew 8:17 Refers to Physical Pain and Mental Anguish that Jesus Endured in His Own Life

Objection: Jesus Did Not TAKE ON or BEAR Sicknesses in His Own Body in Matthew 8:17, So Isaiah Couldn't Have Meant That Literally

Objection: Isaiah 53:4 Is Chronological – the First Part Refers to Jesus' Earthly Healing Ministry and the Last Part to His Later Atonement. So His Bearing of Sicknesses Was Not Part of His Atonement.

Objection: The Context of Isaiah 53:5 Is That We Are Healed of Our Transgressions and Iniquities

Objection: Jesus Bore Our Sicknesses in Matthew 8:17 Due to the Exertion Involved in Channeling God's Healing Power

Objection: If Jesus Never Got Sick before His Atonement, He Did Not Fully Participate in Our Human Experience

Objection: 1 Peter 2:24 Means that You Were Healed from the Disease of Sin

Objection: Jesus Bore Our Sins, Not Our Sicknesses, on the Cross \(1 Peter 2:24\)

Objection: Nothing in Scripture Even Hints that Jesus Was Sick on the Cross

Objection: The Greek Septuagint Translates Isaiah 53:4 as Saying that He Bore Our SINS

Objection: Isaiah's Word for HEALED in Isaiah 53:5 Is Ambiguous

Objection: Gesenius' Hebrew-Chaldee Lexicon of the Old Testament Says that "Healed" in Isaiah 53:5 Means "Pardoned"

Objection: We Are Healed of Going Astray Like Sheep, Not Illnesses, in Isaiah's Context

Objection: Isaiah DID Refer to Actual Physical and Mental Illnesses and Distresses, But Not Necessarily to a Vicarious Bearing of Them, But to Sympathetic Bearing of the Troubles of This Life

Objection: The Suffering Servant in Isaiah 53 Is Actually Israel, Not Jesus

Objection: Isaiah and Peter Meant that We Were Healed from Sin

Objection: Isaiah Foretold that Jesus Would Heal SOME People, Not Everyone

Objection: Pain Will Not Be Done Away with until Heaven \(Revelation 21:4\)

Objection: If God Wanted Us to Enjoy Perfect Health NOW, He Would Have Already Given Us Immortal Bodies

Objection: Jesus Was MADE SIN for Us. He Was Not MADE SICKNESS for Us.

Objection: Healing Will Not Be Available UNIVERSALLY until the Millennium

Objection: Jesus, Not the Devil, Now Has the Keys of Death, So HE Is the One Who Makes People Die Today

Objection: We Need to Fulfill What Is Left of Christ's Sufferings in the Earth \(Colossians 1:24\)

Objection: The New Testament Emphasizes Spiritual Blessings, Not Material Blessings

Objection: Galatians 3:13 Means that Christ Redeemed Us from the Law, Which Was a Curse, Not the "Curse" in Deuteronomy 28

Objection: Christ Did NOT Actually Bear the Deuteronomy 28:15-68 Curse Himself because He Could Not Have "Borne" Our Mildew, Droughts, Bad Crops, Children Sent to Captivity, and Other Things Mentioned in That Curse

Objection: The Curse Was Corporate, Not Personal, So You Could Not Be Personally Redeemed from It

Objection: There Was Only One Curse \(Singular\) in Galatians 3:13, So Not Every Sickness Could Be a Curse

Objection: Jesus Was Not Really PUNISHED for Our Sins; He Just Shed Blood to Atone for Them

Objection: We Should Never Teach that Jesus Was Cursed because No One Speaking by The Holy Spirit Can Call Jesus Cursed (1 Corinthians 12:3)

Objection: Old Testament Animal Sacrifices Were Never Made Sick

Objection: Old Testament Sacrifices Were Not Made Sick Before They Died, but They Still Covered Sins

Objection: Faith Preachers Are Extravagant-Living Money-Grubbers

Objection: No Gospel of Healing Is Mentioned in the Bible, So It Isn't Emphasized

Objection: Faith Preachers are Trinity-Denying Heretics because They Teach that Jesus Died Spiritually

Objection: Pain Is Part of the Healing Process, Not Something that Is Necessarily Bad

Condition: Heart Trouble

Isaiah 57:16-19:

For I will not contend for ever, neither will I be always wroth: for the spirit should fail before me, and the souls which I have made.

For the iniquity of his covetousness was I wroth, and smote him: I hid me, and was wroth, and he went on frowardly in the way of his heart.

I have seen his ways, and will heal him: I will lead him also, and restore comforts to him and to his mourners.

I create the fruit of the lips; Peace, peace to him that is far off, and to him that is near, saith the LORD, and I will heal him.

Notes on Isaiah 57:16-19:

Here is another passage showing God's great compassion and mercy on the backslider and the infidel. Surely if God is willing to heal these people, He is willing to heal you.

Isaiah 58:6-11:

Is not this the fast that I have chosen? to loose the bands of wickedness, to undo the heavy burdens, and to let the oppressed go free, and that ye break every yoke?

Is it not to deal thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poor that are cast down out to thy house? when thou seest the naked, that thou cover him; and that thou hide not thyself from thine own flesh?

Then shall thy light break forth as the morning, and thine health shall spring forth speedily: and thy righteousness shall go before thee; the glory of the LORD shall be thy rereward.

Then shalt thou call, and the LORD shall answer; thou shalt cry, and he shall say, Here I am. If thou take away from the midst of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the finger, and speaking vanity;

And if thou draw out thy soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul; then shall thy light rise in obscurity, and thy darkness be as the noon day:

And the LORD shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in drought, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not.

Notes on Isaiah 58:6-11:

Here God says that showing His compassion on the earth will result in your health springing forth speedily. God could not promise this if He were unwilling to do it for 100% of the people who keep the conditions in this passage.

This passage is usually misconstrued to indicate that fasting itself will break yokes, set the oppressed free, and so on. However, that isn't the point at all. Isaiah is saying that instead of just starving yourself while being mean, God would prefer that you help others; this would be a more meaningful "fast" to Him that He could honor. In this passage it is the Israelites, not God, who are supposed to take away the yokes (that THEY were putting on other people) and undo the heavy burdens, as you can see if you read the passage carefully in its context.

See also:

Notes on Psalm 41:1-3

Healing and Giving

God's Promises Have Conditions

Does Isaiah 58 Prove that if I Fast, My Health Will Spring Forth Speedily?

Condition: Broken Bones

Isaiah 61:1-3:

The Spirit of the LORD GOD is upon me; because the LORD hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound;

To proclaim the acceptable year of the LORD, and the day of vengeance of our God; to comfort all that mourn;

To appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give unto them beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the LORD, that he might be glorified.

Notes on Isaiah 61:1-3:

Jesus quoted the first half or so of this passage in His message at Nazareth, applying it to Himself (Luke 4:18-19). He stopped after saying “the acceptable year of the Lord.” The day of vengeance is coming (see the book of Revelation), but Jesus inaugurated the age of grace in which we now live.

See also:

Notes on Luke 4:18-19

Objection: We Cannot Expect to Heal As Jesus Did Because We Are Not the Son of God

Condition: Depression

Isaiah 65:22:

They shall not build, and another inhabit; they shall not plant, and another eat: for as the days of a tree are the days of my people, and mine elect shall long enjoy the work of their hands.

Notes on Isaiah 65:22:

This verse is found in a passage that describes the new heavens and the new earth that God will create in the future. While it is not a promise for present-day believers, I have included this verse in the list because it demonstrates that long life is something that happens when Jesus Christ reigns, as he will do during the Millennium described in this part of this chapter.

Jeremiah 8:22:

Is there no balm in Gilead; is there no physician there? why then is not the health of the daughter of my people recovered?

Notes on Jeremiah 8:22:

God, of course, was Israel's Physician. Why did the people not let Him heal them? In the context of this verse, there is no indication that the sickness refers to bodily sickness except as an allegory for the terrible condition of Israel, although physical healing would have followed repentance because God was their Physician.

Jeremiah 17:14:

Heal me, O LORD, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved: for thou art my praise.

Notes on Jeremiah 17:14:

Here we have another verse where God's healing and forgiveness are found together.

See also:

Forgiven People Can Be Healed

Jeremiah 30:17:

For I will restore health unto thee, and I will heal thee of thy wounds, saith the LORD; because they called thee an Outcast, saying, This is Zion, whom no man seeketh after.

Notes on Jeremiah 30:17:

Because this passage comes in a chapter full of metaphors of having no medicine, having an incurable bruise and a grievous wound, it can be taken figuratively. However, because it refers to the restoration of Israel after the Tribulation (“the time of Jacob’s trouble”), we know from other Scriptures about the Millennium that this passage can also be taken literally. You should consider it a prophecy about the future as opposed to a direct healing promise to the Church today.

Jeremiah 33:6-8:

Behold, I will bring it [Jerusalem] health and cure, and I will cure them, and will reveal unto them the abundance of peace and truth.

And I will cause the captivity of Judah and the captivity of Israel to return, and will build them, as at the first.

And I will cleanse them from all their iniquity, whereby they have sinned against me; and I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they have sinned, and whereby they have transgressed against me.

Notes on Jeremiah 33:6-8:

This is another case of health and forgiveness being poured out together.

In the context of this verse, God has poured out His fury because of His people's disobedience. Now God is having mercy on those He afflicted, even though they don't deserve it. They can be forgiven and healed.

See also:

Forgiven People Can Be Healed

Hosea 6:1:

Come, and let us return unto the LORD: for he hath torn, and he will heal us; he hath smitten, and he will bind us up.

Notes on Hosea 6:1:

Far from proving that the Lord beats up some saints while healing others, this verse shows that when you return to the Lord, He will heal you. As in many places in the Bible, forgiveness and healing go hand in hand. The “smiting” was due to sin. God was simply honoring His promises in the “curse of the Law” to allow all kinds of problems and diseases upon the people if they would not listen to His voice.

Hosea 11:3-4:

I taught Ephraim also to go, taking them by their arms; but they knew not that I healed them.
I drew them with cords of a man, with bands of love: and I was to them as they that take off the yoke of their jaws, and I laid meat unto them.

Notes on Hosea 11:3-4:

This refers to the Exodus from Egypt. God did promise to heal all, but shortly thereafter, Israel was sacrificing to other gods. Healing is included in the goodness and love of God shown in this verse. God today continues to draw men with His goodness, His healing, His removal of yokes of bondage, and provision. In short, it is the goodness of God that leads men to repentance (Romans 2:4).

Malachi 3:6:

For I am the LORD, I change not; therefore ye sons of Jacob are not consumed.

Notes on Malachi 3:6:

This is confirmed by James 1:17 in the New Testament. We also know from Hebrews 13:8 that Jesus doesn't change either.

See also:

Notes on Exodus 15:25-26

Notes on Hebrews 13:8

Notes on James 1:17

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

Jesus the Healer Has Never Changed

How to See God's Will Concerning Healing

What If You Sin?

To What Extent Can We Claim Old Testament Healing Promises?

Objection: Healing and Miracles Are Not for This Current Dispensation

Objection: God's Healing Covenant in the Law of Moses Was Only for the Jews

Objection: We Cannot Demand Healing from God Because God Is Sovereign

Objection: If God Wanted Us to Enjoy Perfect Health NOW, He Would Have Already Given Us Immortal Bodies

Objection: God Does Great Miracles Only During Crucial Times in History

Objection: Mental Illness is Treatable but Not Curable

Objection: Like Any Loving Parent, God Sometimes Has to Tell His Children NO for Their Own Good

Objection: Sometimes God Says, "Yes," Sometimes He Says, "No," and Sometimes He Says, "Wait" When You Ask for Healing

Objection: Any Other Objection Not Specifically Covered in This Book

Malachi 4:2:

But unto you that fear my name shall the Sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings; and ye shall go forth, and grow up as calves of the stall.

Notes on Malachi 4:2:

In this context, the wicked will be destroyed, but Jesus Christ will come to those who fear Him with healing. Other prophecies about the Millennium confirm that healing will be everywhere then. This should settle what God and Jesus Christ want done – healing!

The word Sun does mean “Sun” – Jesus is the Sun of righteousness, not the Son of righteousness. He is righteous, though!

Other Annotated Scriptures

| | |
|---|---|
| Exodus 4:6-7 | Moses's hand is made leprous and then healed as a sign |
| Exodus 8:16-17 | Lice are referred to as a plague |
| Exodus 9:8-11 | Bodily boils are referred to as a plague |
| Exodus 32:35 | People are made sick for building a calf idol |
| Leviticus 21:16-23 | No sick or deformed priest could offer sacrifices |
| Leviticus 26:14-39 | The curse for breaking the law (including sevenfold plagues) |
| Numbers 11:33-34 | Lusting Israelites are smitten with a great plague |
| Numbers 14:36-37 | Unbelief-mouthing spies are killed by a plague |
| Numbers 25:3-13 | 24,000 are killed in a plague for Israel's idolatry; atonement stops it |
| Numbers 31:14-16 | Remembering a plague resulting from idolatry at Balaam's counsel |
| Deuteronomy 28:15-68 | The curse for breaking the Law (includes every disease there is) |
| Deuteronomy 29:19-22 | Warning for disobedience; sickness is called a curse |
| Joshua 1:7-8 | Meditate and act on God's Word and you'll prosper and have good success |
| Joshua 22:17 | Another reference to the plague for idolatry |
| 1 Samuel 5:1-6:5 | Horrible plagues come upon Philistines who have the ark of God |
| 1 Samuel 25:37-38 | Nabal is smitten with sickness and killed for being a jerk to David |
| 2 Samuel 12:13-18 | David's child dies because of David's sin |
| 1 Kings 13:33-14:11 | Jeroboam's son smitten with fatal illness as punishment for sin |
| 2 Kings 1:2-4 | Azahiah dies when he seeks Baalzebub, not God, about his illness |
| 2 Kings 5:27 | Naaman's leprosy comes on Gehazi as judgment for sin |
| 2 Kings 15:5 | Azariah (Uzziah) is smitten with leprosy; see below for more details |

| | |
|---------------------------------------|---|
| 2 Chronicles 7:14 | Old Testament promise to forgive sins and heal the land |
| 2 Chronicles 16:12 | Asa seeks medical help but not God's help for foot trouble |
| 2 Chronicles 21:12-19 | Wicked king and family smitten with horrible diseases as sin judgment |
| 2 Chronicles 26:16-21 | Uzziah is struck with leprosy as judgment for attempting to do priestly work |
| Job 2:4-7 | Satan strikes Job with sore boils from head to toe |
| Psalm 23 | I shall not lack, will not fear death, goodness and mercy will always follow me |
| Psalm 34:9-10 | Those who seek the Lord lack no good thing |
| Psalm 78:49-51 | Evil angels brought plagues to Egypt |
| Psalm 84:11 | God withholds no good thing from those who walk uprightly |
| Psalm 89:20-23 | David's enemies to be plagued |
| Psalm 103:20 | Angels obey God's Word |
| Psalm 115:16 | God gave man control of the earth |
| Psalm 127:2 | God gives His beloved sleep |
| Psalm 145:8-9 | God's grace and mercy |
| Psalm 145:19-20 | Desires of the God-fearing are granted, the righteous are preserved, enemies of God are destroyed |
| Proverbs 3:21-24 | Keep wisdom and discretion and you'll sleep sweetly |
| Ecclesiastes 5:12 | The sleep of a laboring man is sweet |
| Ecclesiastes 7:17 | The foolish and the wicked die before their time |
| Jeremiah 50:13 | Plagues are brought on Babylon as judgment |
| Ezekiel 34:1-4 | Israel's shepherds scolded for not healing the sick |
| Ezekiel 47:1-12 | A river from God's throne brings healing |
| Micah 6:12-13 | God makes violent liars sick because of their sin |

| | |
|---|--|
| Zechariah 14:12-15 | An awful killer plague comes on those attacking Jerusalem |
| Zechariah 14:16-19 | Sickness is to be the punishment for not keeping the Feast of Tabernacles |
| Matthew 7:11 | Your Father gives good things to them that ask him |
| Matthew 7:21-23 | Even unbelievers can do miracles and cast out devils in Jesus' name |
| Matthew 11:11 | Any New Testament believer is greater than John the Baptist |
| Matthew 15:11 | What comes out of your mouth defiles you |
| Matthew 18:18-20 | Our right to pray "the prayer of agreement" |
| Matthew 21:18-22 | Jesus curses a fig tree and says we can do miracles with little faith |
| Matthew 28:18 | All power in heaven and earth is given to Jesus |
| Mark 11:23-24 | Speak and pray believing and you will receive |
| Luke 6:45 | A good man brings good out of his heart; an evil man brings out evil |
| Luke 12:8-9 | Confess Jesus and He'll confess you, deny Him and you'll be denied |
| Luke 12:32 | It's your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom |
| John 8:32 | Knowing the truth makes you free |
| John 12:31 | The prince of this world is cast out |
| John 14:12-14 | We will do the works Jesus did in His name |
| John 15:7-8 | Ask what you will and it will be done (under a stated condition) |
| John 15:16 | Whatever you ask the Father for in Jesus' name He will give you |
| John 16:23-27 | Whatever you ask the Father for in Jesus' name He will give you |
| Acts 11:19-21 | The hand of the Lord was with the disciples |
| Acts 12:21-23 | Herod is smitten with a fatal disease as judgment for stealing God's glory |
| Acts 13:6-12 | Bar-Jesus is smitten with blindness for a season for opposing the gospel |

| | |
|---|---|
| Acts 26:18 | Christians are turned from darkness to light, from the power of Satan to God, forgiven and given an inheritance |
| Romans 1:26-27 | Homosexuals receive the due penalty for their error in their bodies |
| Romans 2:4 | God's goodness leads you to repentance |
| Romans 5:5 | God's love is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Spirit |
| Romans 5:17 | Righteousness is a gift |
| Romans 8:32 | God will freely give us all things along with Jesus |
| Romans 10:9-10 | Believe with your heart and confess with your mouth unto salvation |
| Romans 10:17 | Faith comes by hearing the Word of God |
| 1 Corinthians 2:12 | The Spirit shows us the things that God freely gives us |
| 1 Corinthians 6:9-11 | Homosexuals and other sinners can be set free |
| 1 Corinthians 11:27-32 | Many Christians walking out of love in Corinth get sick and die |
| 1 Corinthians 15:57 | God always gives us the victory through Jesus Christ |
| 2 Corinthians 2:14 | God always leads us in triumph in Christ |
| 2 Corinthians 4:13 | We believe, therefore we speak |
| 2 Corinthians 5:21 | We are the righteousness of God in Christ |
| 2 Corinthians 10:3-5 | The weapons of our warfare destroy strongholds and take thoughts captive |
| Galatians 6:7-9 | Sow to the flesh or the Spirit; you'll reap from the same |
| Ephesians 1:3 | You have been blessed with every spiritual blessing |
| Ephesians 1:15-23 | Paul prays for believers to receive revelation |
| Ephesians 2:6 | We are seated in heavenly places with Christ |
| Ephesians 3:20 | God does more than we ask or think according to the power that works in us |
| Ephesians 4:24 | You are created in righteousness and true holiness |

| | |
|---|--|
| Ephesians 4:27 | Don't give the devil an opportunity |
| Ephesians 5:5-7 | Don't partake of the wrath coming upon unbelievers |
| Ephesians 5:23 | Christ is the Savior of the body |
| Ephesians 6:10-18 | The believer's armor |
| Philippians 2:9-11 | Jesus' name is above every name; all knees bow at His name |
| Colossians 1:12-14 | We are delivered out of the devil's kingdom into Jesus' kingdom |
| Colossians 2:10 | Jesus is the head of all principality and power |
| Hebrews 2:14-15 | Jesus destroyed the devil's power and delivered those bound by fear |
| Hebrews 6:12 | Inherit the promises through faith and patience |
| Hebrews 10:35-36 | You need patience to receive the promise |
| Hebrews 11:1 | Definition of faith |
| Hebrews 11:28 | Blood kept "he that destroyed the firstborn" away |
| Hebrews 13:8 | Jesus never changes |
| James 1:5-8 | Ask in faith and don't doubt; the double-minded get nothing |
| James 1:17 | Good gifts are from God, who never changes |
| James 2:14-26 | Faith without works is dead |
| James 3:2-6 | Tame your tongue and you can control your whole body |
| James 4:7 | Submit to God; resist the devil and he'll flee |
| 1 Peter 3:22 | Angels, authorities and powers are subject to Christ |
| 1 Peter 5:8-9 | Resist the devil, steadfast in faith |
| 2 Peter 1:3-4 | God has already given us all things pertaining to life and godliness |
| 1 John 3:8 | The Son of God was manifest to destroy the works of the devil |
| 1 John 4:1-4 | You have already overcome antichrist spirits |

1 John 5:4

Our faith is the victory that overcomes the world

1 John 5:14-15

Ask according to God's will; He hears you and you have it

Revelation 1:18

Jesus has the keys of death and hell

Revelation 2:20-23

Jesus says he will kill an adulteress's children and throw her into a sickbed

Revelation 16:1-2

Grievous sores are part of the wrath of God on beast-worshippers

Revelation 16:10-11

Horrible pain of the wrath of God on beast-worshippers

Exodus 4:6-7:

And the LORD said furthermore unto him, Put now thine hand into thy bosom. And he put his hand into his bosom: and when he took it out, behold, his hand was leprous as snow.

And he said, Put thine hand into thy bosom again. And he put his hand into his bosom again; and plucked it out of his bosom, and behold, it was turned again as his other flesh.

Notes on Exodus 4:6-7:

This “sickening” and “healing” was a sign and a wonder for people to see in case they questioned Moses’s authority. They would be able to see something impossible happen and know that God had sent Moses. Please note that God did not leave Moses sick! The leprosy was a very temporary sign and God healed it instantly. To leave Moses sick would be a sign that would misrepresent God’s character.

See also:

Condition: Leprosy

Exodus 8:16-17:

And the LORD said unto Moses, Say unto Aaron, Stretch out thy rod, and smite the dust of the land, that it may become lice throughout all the land of Egypt.

And they did so; for Aaron stretched out his hand with his rod, and smote the dust of the earth, and it became lice throughout all the land of Egypt.

See also:

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

Condition: Lice

Exodus 9:8-11:

And the LORD said unto Moses and unto Aaron, Take to you handfuls of ashes of the furnace, and let Moses sprinkle it toward the heaven in the sight of Pharaoh.

And it shall become small dust in all the land of Egypt, and shall be a boil breaking forth with blains [inflammatory pustules] upon man, and upon beast, throughout all the land of Egypt.

And they took ashes of the furnace, and stood before Pharaoh; and Moses sprinkled it up toward heaven; and it became a boil breaking forth with blains upon man, and upon beast.

And the magicians could not stand before Moses because of the boils; for the boil was upon the magicians, and upon all the Egyptians.

See also:

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

Condition: Boils

Exodus 32:35:

And the LORD plagued the people, because they made the calf, which Aaron made.

See also:

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

Leviticus 21:16-23:

And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,

Speak unto Aaron, saying, Whosoever he be of thy seed in their generations that hath any blemish, let him not approach to offer the bread of his God.

For whatsoever man he be that hath a blemish, he shall not approach: a blind man, or a lame, or he that hath a flat nose, or any thing superfluous,

Or a man that is brokenfooted, or brokenhanded,

Or crookbackt, or a dwarf, or that hath a blemish in his eye, or be scurvy, or scabbed, or hath his stones broken;

No man that hath a blemish of the seed of Aaron the priest shall come nigh to offer the offerings of the LORD made by fire: he hath a blemish; he shall not come nigh to offer the bread of his God.

He shall eat the bread of his God, both of the most holy, and of the holy.

Only he shall not go in unto the veil, nor come nigh unto the altar, because he hath a blemish; that he profane not my sanctuaries: for I the LORD do sanctify them.

Notes on Leviticus 21:16-23:

Don't worry if you have one of these conditions; you'd be allowed to be in God's presence even if you had all these conditions in the New Covenant, and you'd have the right to be healed of all those conditions too!

If God wanted no sickness to enter His sanctuary then, why would He want sickness in His sanctuary today when YOU are His sanctuary? He won't complain that you're profaning His sanctuary; He's provided healing for all conditions so that neither you nor He will have to put up with them being in His sanctuary.

See also:

Your Body Is God's Property

Priests Should Not Be Sick, and You're a Priest

Objection: God Wouldn't Heal Paul's Thorn in the Flesh

Condition: Birth Defects

Condition: Blurred Vision

Condition: Broken Bones

Condition: Shortness

Leviticus 26:14-39:

But if ye will not harken unto me, and will not do all these commandments;

And if ye shall despise my statutes, or if your soul abhor my judgments, so that ye will not do all my commandments, but that ye break my covenant:

I also will do this unto you; I will even appoint over you terror, consumption, and the burning ague, that shall consume the eyes, and cause sorrow of heart: and ye shall sow your seed in vain, for your enemies shall eat it.

And I will set my face against you, and ye shall be slain before your enemies: they that hate you shall reign over you; and ye shall flee when none pursueth you.

And if ye will not yet for all this harken unto me, then I will punish you seven times more for your sins.

And I will break the pride of your power; and I will make your heaven as iron, and your earth as brass:

And your strength shall be spent in vain: for your land shall not yield her increase, neither shall the trees of the land yield their fruits.

And if ye walk contrary unto me, and will not harken unto me; I will bring seven times more plagues upon you according to your sins.

I will also send wild beasts among you, which shall rob you of your children, and destroy your cattle, and make you few in number; and your high ways shall be desolate.

And if ye will not be reformed by me by these things, but will walk contrary unto me;

Then will I also walk contrary unto you, and will punish you yet seven times for your sins.

And I will bring a sword upon you, that shall avenge the quarrel of my covenant: and when ye are gathered together within your cities, I will send the pestilence among you; and ye shall be delivered into the hand of the enemy.

And when I have broken the staff of your bread, ten women shall bake your bread in one oven, and they shall deliver you your bread again by weight: and ye shall eat, and not be satisfied.

And if ye will not for all this harken unto me, but walk contrary unto me;

Then I will walk contrary unto you also in fury; and I, even I, will chastise you seven times for your sins.

And ye shall eat the flesh of your sons, and the flesh of your daughters shall ye eat.

And I will destroy your high places, and cut down your images, and cast your carcasses upon the carcasses of your idols, and my soul shall abhor you.

And I will make your cities waste, and bring your sanctuaries unto desolation, and I will not smell the savour of your sweet odours.

And I will bring the land into desolation: and your enemies which dwell therein shall be astonished at it.

And I will scatter you among the heathen, and will draw out a sword after you: and your land shall be desolate, and your cities waste.

Then shall the land enjoy her sabbaths, as long as it lieth desolate, and ye be in your enemies' land; even then shall the land rest, and enjoy her sabbaths.

As long as it lieth desolate it shall rest; because it did not rest in your sabbaths, when ye dwelt upon it.

And upon them that are left alive of you I will send a faintness into their hearts in the lands of the enemies; and the sound of a shaken leaf shall chase them; and they shall flee, as fleeing from a sword; and they shall fall when none pursueth.

And they shall fall one upon another, as it were before a sword, when none pursueth: and ye shall have no power to stand before your enemies.

And ye shall perish among the heathen, and the land of your enemies shall eat you up.

And they that are left of you shall pine away in their iniquity in your enemies' lands; and also in the iniquities of their fathers shall they pine away with them.

Notes on Leviticus 26:14-39:

Deuteronomy 28:15-68 is the best-known compilation of the “curse of the Law” (i.e., the curse for breaking the Law), but this rather substantial passage also contains details of the curse. The punishments are similar to the ones in Deuteronomy.

The Old Covenant contained threats for those who “broke” the covenant, as in the passage above. One of many reasons that the New Covenant is superior to the Old Covenant is that it is literally unbreakable. That is because the New Covenant is not between God and man; it is between God and Jesus Christ. It is between God and Abraham’s Seed, not Seeds. (See Galatians 3:16). You get in on it by virtue of being in Christ. Your sins cannot break the New Covenant. There is no New Covenant curse that comes down on you for failure to do everything God commanded in His Word.

One wonders in light of this passage and the one in Deuteronomy how anyone could ever avoid all the curses, seeing that violating anything in the Law made you liable to receive the entire curse. The answer is that even in the Old Covenant, forgiveness was available through shed innocent blood. If the proper sacrifices were made, your sins were covered, and God could deal with you as if you hadn’t sinned, which meant that the curse would not come upon you. Under the New Covenant, your sins aren’t covered (despite what many modern Christian songs have said over the years) – they’re GONE! They’re washed away! That’s better than anything Moses and his followers ever had.

Some out-of-town guests came to visit a house we had on the ocean. They wanted to go wading around in the mud flats at low tide. They went out and slipped and fell and got totally caked with mud. An Old Covenant answer would have been to supply them with clean clothing to put on over their muddy clothing before they came into the house so that the mud wouldn’t show. I invoked the New Covenant solution, which was to wash them down with the garden hose so that the mud wasn’t covered; it was washed away. That’s an illustration of the superiority of what we have today in the New Covenant.

See also:

Isaiah’s Prophecy of Redemption

The Temporary Curse

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

Are We Redeemed from Mental as Well as Physical Illnesses?

Are Women Redeemed from Labor Pains?

Did God PUT Sickness on Old Testament People or ALLOW the Devil to Do It?

Objection: God Clearly SENT Plagues in the Old Testament. We Cannot Say that God Never Makes People Sick, because He Obviously Did.

Objection: Death, Needing to Work and Painful Childbirth Are Effects of the Fall that Are Still with Us. We Seem to Be Selective about Which Effects We're Redeemed from.

Objection: The Fact that Everyone Dies Proves that We Are All Still Subject to Adam's Curse

Objection: The Earth Is under a Curse because of Adam, So Sickness Will Continue Until Jesus Returns

Objection: 1 Peter 2:24 Means that You Were Healed from the Disease of Sin

Objection: Our Bodies Wear Out. Even Some Healing Ministers Wear Glasses!

Objection: God Meets Your Spiritual Needs, Not Your Physical Needs

Objection: God's Healing Covenant in the Law of Moses Was Only for the Jews

Objection: Christ Did NOT Actually Bear the Deuteronomy 28:15-68 Curse Himself because He Could Not Have "Borne" Our Mildew, Droughts, Bad Crops, Children Sent to Captivity, and Other Things Mentioned in That Curse

Objection: The Curse Was Corporate, Not Personal, So You Could Not Be Personally Redeemed from It

Objection: The Law's Curse Referred Only to Israel's Corporate Exile

Condition: Blindness

Condition: Blurred Vision

Condition: Consumption (Tuberculosis)

Condition: Fever

Condition: Mental Illnesses

Numbers 11:33-34:

And while the flesh was yet between their teeth, ere it was chewed, the wrath of the LORD was kindled against the people, and the LORD smote the people with a very great plague.

And he called the name of that place Kibroth-hat-ta-avah [this means "The Graves of Lust"]: because there they buried the people that lusted.

Notes on Numbers 11:33-34:

This is one of MANY Scriptures that makes it plain that the LORD brought judgment Himself; He did not subcontract the job to Satan, who is not mentioned here.

See also:

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

Did God PUT Sickness on Old Testament People or ALLOW the Devil to Do It?

Numbers 14:36-37:

And the men, which Moses sent to search the land, who returned, and made all the congregation to murmur against him, by bringing up a slander upon the land,
Even those men that did bring up the evil report upon the land, died by the plague before the LORD.

Notes on Numbers 14:36-37:

We pay too little attention to the power of the tongue. The men who were smitten by a plague before the Lord died because of something they said! They did not commit adultery, blaspheme, or murder anyone. Their sin was twofold: They chose not to believe God's explicit promise of taking Canaan, and then they spoke unbelief to incite others to unbelieve along with them! They paid for their unbelief with their lives. God takes unbelief more seriously than we do! Unbelief (like gossip or complaining) is socially acceptable today, but it has never been acceptable to God, before whom everything that does not arise from faith is sin (Romans 14:23).

Thank God, we live in the day of grace, but let's not tempt God through unbelief. Paul said that these Old Testament accounts were written to warn us so that we do not fall into the same sins. Just as unbelief kept Israel out of Canaan, it can keep you out of your promised land in this life.

See also:

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

Objection: If Proverbs 18:21 Meant What Faith Preachers Say It Does, Old Testament People Could Have Gone Around Speaking Health to the Sick and Death to Cancer and Other Diseases before Jesus Came

Numbers 25:3-13:

And Israel joined himself unto Baal-peor: and the anger of the LORD was kindled against Israel.

And the LORD said unto Moses, Take all the heads of the people, and hang them up before the LORD against the sun, that the fierce anger of the LORD may be turned away from Israel.

And Moses said unto the judges of Israel, Slay ye every one his men that were joined unto Baal-peor.

And, behold, one of the children of Israel came and brought unto his brethren a Midianitish woman in the sight of Moses, and in the sight of all the congregation of the children of Israel, who were weeping before the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

And when Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron, the priest, saw it, he rose up from among the congregation, and took a javelin in his hand;

And he went after the man of Israel into the tent, and thrust both of them through, the man of Israel, and the woman through her belly. So the plague was stayed from the children of Israel.

And those that died in the plague were twenty and four thousand.

And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,

Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the priest, hath turned my wrath away from the children of Israel, while he was zealous for my sake among them, that I consumed not the children of Israel in my jealousy.

Wherefore say, Behold, I give unto him my covenant of peace:

And he shall have it, and his seed after him, even the covenant of an everlasting priesthood; because he was zealous for his God, and made an atonement for the children of Israel.

Notes on Numbers 25:3-13:

Sooner or later, some unbelieving smart-aleck will try to torment you with the idea that the Bible contradicts itself because 1 Corinthians 10:8 says that 23,000 fell in one day and the passage above in Numbers says that 24,000 died in the plague. But if you think about this for a moment, there is no contradiction at all between the idea of 23,000 dying in a single day and 24,000 dying altogether. Obviously the 1,000 others did not die the same day that the 23,000 died.

See also:

Healing and Atonement

God's Blessing on Your Kids

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

Numbers 31:14-16:

And Moses was wroth with the officers of the host, with the captains over thousands, and captains over hundreds, which came from the battle.

And Moses said unto them, Have ye saved all the women alive?

Behold, these caused the children of Israel, through the counsel of Balaam, to commit trespass against the LORD in the matter of Peor, and there was a plague among the congregation of the LORD.

See also:

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

Deuteronomy 28:15-68:

But it shall come to pass, if thou wilt not harken unto the voice of the LORD thy God, to observe to do all his commandments and statutes which I command thee this day; that all these curses shall come upon thee, and overtake thee:

Cursed shalt thou be in the city, and cursed shalt thou be in the field.

Cursed shall be thy basket and thy store.

Cursed shall be the fruit of thy body, and the fruit of thy land, the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheep.

Cursed shalt thou be when thou comest in, and cursed shalt thou be when thou goest out.

The LORD shall send upon thee cursing, vexation, and rebuke, in all that thou settest thine hand unto for to do, until thou be destroyed, and until thou perish quickly; because of the wickedness of thy doings, whereby thou hast forsaken me.

The LORD shall make the pestilence cleave unto thee, until he have consumed thee from off the land, whither thou goest to possess it.

The LORD shall smite thee with a consumption, and with a fever, and with an inflammation, and with an extreme burning, and with the sword, and with blasting, and with mildew; and they shall pursue thee until thou perish.

And thy heaven that is over thy head shall be brass, and the earth that is under thee shall be iron.

The LORD shall make the rain of thy land powder and dust: from heaven shall it come down upon thee, until thou be destroyed.

The LORD shall cause thee to be smitten before thine enemies: thou shalt go out one way against them, and flee seven ways before them: and shalt be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth.

And thy carcase shall be meat unto all fowls of the air, and unto the beasts of the earth, and no man shall fray them away.

The LORD will smite thee with the botch of Egypt, and with the emerods, and with the scab, and with the itch, whereof thou canst not be healed.

The LORD shall smite thee with madness, and blindness, and astonishment of heart:

And thou shalt grope at noonday, as the blind gropeth in darkness, and thou shalt not prosper in thy ways: and thou shalt be only oppressed and spoiled evermore, and no man shall save thee.

Thou shalt betroth a wife, and another man shall lie with her: thou shalt build an house, and thou shalt not dwell therein: thou shalt plant a vineyard, and shalt not gather the grapes thereof.

Thine ox shall be slain before thine eyes, and thou shalt not eat thereof: thine ass shall be violently taken away from before thy face, and shall not be restored to thee: thy sheep shall be given unto thine enemies, and thou shalt have none to rescue them.

Thy sons and thy daughters shall be given unto another people, and thine eyes shall look, and fail with longing for them all the day long: and there shall be no might in thine hand.

The fruit of thy land, and all thy labours, shall a nation which thou knowest not eat up; and thou shalt be only oppressed and crushed alway:

So that thou shalt be mad for the sight of thine eyes which thou shalt see.

The LORD shall smite thee in the knees, and in the legs, with a sore botch that cannot be healed, from the sole of thy foot unto the top of thy head.

The LORD shall bring thee, and thy king which thou shalt set over thee, unto a nation which neither thou nor thy fathers have known; and there shalt thou serve other gods, wood and stone.

And thou shalt become an astonishment, a proverb, and a byword, among all nations whither the LORD shall lead thee.

Thou shalt carry much seed out into the field, and shalt gather but little in; for the locust shall consume it.

Thou shalt plant vineyards, and dress them, but shalt neither drink of the wine, nor gather the grapes; for the worms shall eat them.

Thou shalt have olive trees throughout all thy coasts, but thou shalt not anoint thyself with the oil; for thine olive shall cast his fruit.

Thou shalt beget sons and daughters, but thou shalt not enjoy them; for they shall go into captivity.

All thy trees and fruit of thy land shall the locust consume.

The stranger that is within thee shall get up above thee very high; and thou shalt come down very low.

He shall lend to thee, and thou shalt not lend to him: he shall be the head, and thou shalt be the tail.

Moreover all these curses shall come upon thee, and shall pursue thee, and overtake thee, till thou be destroyed; because thou harkenedst not unto the voice of the LORD thy God, to keep his commandments and his statutes which he commanded thee:

And they shall be upon thee for a sign and a wonder, and upon thy seed for ever.

Because thou servedst not the LORD thy God with joyfulness, and with gladness of heart, for the abundance of all things;

Therefore shalt thou serve thine enemies which the LORD shall send against thee, in hunger, and in thirst, and in nakedness, and in want of all things: and he shall put a yoke of iron upon thy neck, until he have destroyed thee.

The LORD shall bring a nation against thee from far, from the end of the earth, as swift as the eagle flieth; a nation whose tongue thou shalt not understand;

A nation of fierce countenance, which shall not regard the person of the old, nor shew favour to the young:

And he shall eat the fruit of thy cattle, and the fruit of thy land, until thou be destroyed: which also shall not leave thee either corn, wine, or oil, or the increase of thy kine, or flocks of thy sheep, until he have destroyed thee.

And he shall besiege thee in all thy gates, until thy high and fenced walls come down, wherein thou trustedst, throughout all thy land: and he shall besiege thee in all thy gates throughout all thy land, which the LORD thy God hath given thee.

And thou shalt eat the fruit of thine own body, the flesh of thy sons and thy daughters, which the LORD thy God hath given thee, in the siege, and in the straitness, wherewith thine enemies shall distress thee:

So that the man that is tender among you, and very delicate, his eye shall be evil toward his brother, and toward the wife of his bosom, and toward the remnant of his children which he shall leave:

So that he will not give to any of them of the flesh of his children whom he shall eat: because he hath nothing left him in the siege, and in the straitness, wherewith thine enemies shall distress thee in all thy gates.

The tender and delicate woman among you, which would not adventure to set the sole of her foot upon the ground for delicateness and tenderness, her eye shall be evil toward the husband of her bosom, and toward her son, and toward her daughter,

And toward her young one that cometh out from between her feet, and toward her children which she shall bear: for she shall eat them for want of all things secretly in the siege and straitness, wherewith thine enemy shall distress thee in thy gates.

If thou wilt not observe to do all the words of this law that are written in this book, that thou mayest fear this glorious and fearful name, THE LORD THY GOD;

Then the LORD will make thy plagues wonderful, and the plagues of thy seed, even great plagues, and of long continuance, and sore sicknesses, and of long continuance.

Moreover he will bring upon thee all the diseases of Egypt, which thou wast afraid of; and they shall cleave unto thee.

Also every sickness, and every plague, which is not written in the book of this law, them will the LORD bring upon thee, until thou be destroyed.

And ye shall be left few in number, whereas ye were as the stars of heaven for multitude; because thou wouldest not obey the voice of the LORD thy God.

And it shall come to pass, that as the LORD rejoiced over you to do you good, and to multiply you; so the LORD will rejoice over you to destroy you, and to bring you to nought; and ye shall be plucked from off the land whither thou goest to possess it.

And the LORD shall scatter thee among all people, from the one end of the earth even unto the other; and there thou shalt serve other gods, which neither thou nor thy fathers have known, even wood and stone.

And among these nations shalt thou find no ease, neither shall the sole of thy foot have rest: but the LORD shall give thee there a trembling heart, and failing of eyes, and sorrow of mind:

And thy life shall hang in doubt before thee; and thou shalt fear day and night, and shalt have none assurance of thy life:

In the morning thou shalt say, Would God it were even [evening]! and at even thou shalt say, Would God it were morning! for the fear of thine heart wherewith thou shalt fear, and for the sight of thine eyes which thou shalt see.

And the LORD shall bring thee into Egypt again with ships, by the way whereof I spake unto thee, Thou shalt see it no more again: and there ye shall be sold unto your enemies for bondmen and bondwomen, and no man shall buy you.

Notes on Deuteronomy 28:15-68:

Here we have the fullest exposition of the curse of the Law referred to by Paul in Galatians 3:10-14. This curse was to come on those who did not do all that the Law required. Jesus Christ redeemed us from everything in this curse. Because we are the righteousness of God in Christ, God does not hold us responsible for breaking the Law. Christ Himself “became a curse” for us at Calvary to redeem us from having to suffer it. Notice especially that God declared every sickness and every plague, whether named or not, to be part of this curse. This alone is proof that God Himself calls sickness a curse. If He does, so should we. We should never call it a blessing in disguise, because it’s a curse and it’s not in disguise.

We know Christ has redeemed us from sickness because sickness is part of the punishment for sin, and Isaiah says that God laid OUR punishment upon the Messiah. Therefore, in bearing OUR punishment, Christ bore OUR sicknesses. In Isaiah’s words, surely He has borne our sicknesses and carried our pains. This was necessary to bear the full punishment for our sins.

The Hebrew word translated botch in this passage is translated boil in the other Bible passages where it appears. This King James meaning may or may not even be in the modern dictionary you use, depending on which one it is. If it isn’t, know that the translators didn’t botch the translation; botch is just an archaic word for an inflammation or sore. You are redeemed from these!

Leviticus 26:14-39 contains additional information about this same curse for disobedience to the Law. There are various other threats throughout the Old Testament of similar conditions coming upon Israel as punishment for idolatry and apostasy.

But today you can read these “curse of the Law” passages with a great big smile on your face! Everything in these passages is something you’re redeemed from. Find out what you’re redeemed from and start claiming your redemption with your mouth. If you see it here, you don’t have to have it. Even something as simple as “thou shalt not prosper in thy ways” is something you’re redeemed from, so you should expect to prosper in your ways now that you are redeemed from not prospering! There is plenty in these verses about being redeemed from poverty and from being at the bottom of the barrel socially, along with many verses that speak of different illnesses – and verse 61 covers all illnesses that AREN’T mentioned by name! Start rejoicing over all the things that DON’T belong to you because you are REDEEMED from this curse! Let the redeemed of the Lord say so – you’re redeemed from the curse for breaking the Law!

See also:

Notes on Leviticus 26:14-39

Notes on 2 Samuel 12:13-18

Notes on 2 Samuel 24:10-25

Notes on Galatians 3:10-14

Notes on 2 Timothy 1:7

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

Who or What Causes Sickness?

Isaiah's Prophecy of Redemption

Forever Settled

Why Jesus Was Beaten

It Isn't YOUR Sickness

The Temporary Curse

Ministering to the Sick

God's Blessing on Your Kids

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

The Causeless Curse

Healing and Prosperity

Breaking Generational Curses?

What Did I Do to Deserve This Sickness?

Why Does Exodus 15:25-26 Talk about God Putting Diseases on People?

Are Women Redeemed from Labor Pains?

Is God Really Interested in Taking Away Headaches and Colds?

Are We Redeemed from Mental as Well as Physical Illnesses?

Why are So Few People Healed of the Common Cold and the Flu?

How Can Birth Defects Be Part of the Curse for Breaking the Law from which We Are Redeemed? It

Would Make No Sense for God to Say that If You Break His Law, He'll Give You Birth Defects.

Did Jesus Literally Bear ALL Our Diseases or Just Representative Samples of Each One?

Did God PUT Sickness on Old Testament People or ALLOW the Devil to Do It?

Will God Heal My Pets or Livestock?

Objection: God Clearly SENT Plagues in the Old Testament. We Cannot Say that God Never Makes People Sick, because He Obviously Did.

Objection: David Said that It Was GOOD that He Was Afflicted; So It Can Be with Us

Objection: If You Could Always Get Healed, You Would Live Forever

Objection: Job Was a Godly Man, Yet God Let Him Get Sick

Objection: God Won't Heal Your FINAL ILLNESS that He Uses to Take You Home

Objection: Sickness is a Blessing in Disguise

Objection: By Jesus' Stripes We Were Spiritually, Not Physically, Healed

Objection: Sickness Can Be the Chastening of the Lord

Objection: Death, Needing to Work and Painful Childbirth Are Effects of the Fall that Are Still with Us.

We Seem to Be Selective about Which Effects We're Redeemed from.

Objection: The Fact that Everyone Dies Proves that We Are All Still Subject to Adam's Curse

Objection: 1 Peter 2:24 Means that You Were Healed from the Disease of Sin

Objection: If You Suffer More in This Life, You Get a Greater Reward in Heaven

Objection: Our Bodies Wear Out. Even Some Healing Ministers Wear Glasses!

Objection: God Meets Your Spiritual Needs, Not Your Physical Needs

Objection: Our Sickness, Disease and Illnesses Keep Us Dependent upon God

Objection: God's Healing Covenant in the Law of Moses Was Only for the Jews

Objection: Galatians 3:13 Means that Christ Redeemed Us from the Law, Which Was a Curse, Not the "Curse" in Deuteronomy 28

Objection: Galatians 3:13's "Curse" Speaks of Spiritual Death, Not Sickness or Poverty

Objection: Christ Did NOT Actually Bear the Deuteronomy 28:15-68 Curse Himself because He Could Not Have "Borne" Our Mildew, Droughts, Bad Crops, Children Sent to Captivity, and Other Things Mentioned in That Curse

Objection: The Curse Was Corporate, Not Personal, So You Could Not Be Personally Redeemed from It

Objection: The Law's Curse Referred Only to Israel's Corporate Exile

Objection: Lawbreakers Are under "A" Curse \(Damnation\), not "THE" Curse in Deuteronomy 28

Objection: God Called Deuteronomy 28:15-68 CURSES in the Plural, So Galatians 3:13, Which Says that Christ Redeemed Us from THE Curse, Can't Refer to Those

Objection: There Was Only One Curse \(Singular\) in Galatians 3:13, So Not Every Sickness Could Be a Curse

Objection: Christ Gave Himself for Our Sins, Not Our Sicknesses \(Galatians 1:4\)

Objection: We Should Never Teach that Jesus Was Cursed because No One Speaking by The Holy Spirit Can Call Jesus Cursed \(1 Corinthians 12:3\)

Objection: God Creates Both the Day of Prosperity and the Day of Adversity \(Ecclesiastes 7:14\)

Objection: Jesus Could Not Have Borne Female-Specific Illnesses in His Own Body on the Cross

Objection: Jesus Could Not Have Borne Broken Bones on the Cross because Not One of His Bones Was Broken \(John 19:36\)

Objection: Mental Illness is Treatable but Not Curable

Objection: The Word for HEALETH in Psalm 103:3 Means to Heal the SOUL

Objection: The Lord Kills, Brings Down to the Grave, and Makes Poor \(1 Samuel 2:6-7\)

Objection: God Clearly SENT Plagues in the Old Testament. We Cannot Say that God Never Makes People Sick, because He Obviously Did.

Objection: Like Any Loving Parent, God Sometimes Has to Tell His Children NO for Their Own Good

Objection: Any Other Objection Not Specifically Covered in This Book

Condition: Blindness

Condition: Blurred Vision

Condition: Boils

Condition: Burning

Condition: Chronic Illnesses

Condition: Consumption \(Tuberculosis\)

Condition: Depression

Condition: Diarrhea

Condition: Fever

Condition: Heart Trouble

Condition: Inflammation

Condition: Itching

Condition: Mental Illnesses

Condition: Sores

Condition: Tumors

Condition: Weakness

Condition: Anything Else Not Listed Here

Deuteronomy 29:19-22:

And it come to pass, when he heareth the words of this curse, that he bless himself in his heart, saying, I shall have peace, though I walk in the imagination of mine heart, to add drunkenness to thirst:

The LORD will not spare him, but then the anger of the LORD and his jealousy shall smoke against that man, and all the curses that are written in this book shall lie upon him, and the LORD shall blot out his name from under heaven.

And the LORD shall separate him unto evil out of all the tribes of Israel, according to all the curses of the covenant that are written in the book of the law:

So that the generation to come of your children that shall rise up after you, and the stranger that shall come from a far land, shall say, when they see the plagues of that land, and the sicknesses which the LORD hath laid upon it;

Notes on Deuteronomy 29:19-22:

This is another passage that clearly declares plagues and sickness to be a curse! You cannot avoid the conclusion that God declares sickness to be a curse. Agree with God and call it a curse yourself. Then get bold and determine that you will tolerate anything that is a curse in your body!

See also:

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

Joshua 1:7-8:

Only be thou strong and very courageous, that thou mayest observe to do according to all the law, which Moses my servant commanded thee: turn not from it to the right hand or to the left, that thou mayest prosper whithersoever thou goest.

This book of the law shall not depart out of thy mouth; but thou shalt meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest observe to do according to all that is written therein: for then thou shalt make thy way prosperous, and then thou shalt have good success.

Notes on Joshua 1:7-8:

You won't get healed if you only read your Bible when you feel like it. God's Word will make you prosper and have good success only when you commit to it. Notice that the Law was not to depart out of Joshua's mouth – he was to meditate (you could also translate this word mutter) the Word constantly. (Obviously this did not mean that Joshua was to go around like a little doggie with a literal book in his mouth; it was the contents of the book that he was to speak.)

These days people complain as if this were some new idea that “extreme faith” people invented, but it's been in the Bible all along. You must speak the Word out of your mouth. It is a lie to say that you can just believe it in your heart. If you really have the same spirit of faith as Bible people did, you will say with them, “I believe, and therefore I speak” (see 2 Corinthians 4:13). With your mouth confession is made unto salvation (Romans 10:10). If you won't say it, you don't believe it. Period. You might mentally assent to it, but you don't believe it and it won't work for you if you're not willing to say it in front of others. If you're not willing to tell other people that you've received your healing, you've never really received anything. It is out of the abundance of your heart that your mouth speaks (Matthew 12:34).

Some people complain that this is using God's Word as a mantra or a magic formula, but it is not. Note the reason that Joshua was to meditate on (mutter to himself) the Word constantly – so that he would do it! Only when you are a doer of the Word and not just a hearer does God have anything to bless. Just meditating on the Word will not make you prosperous. Meditating on and then doing the Word will make you prosper and have good success in the affairs of life. The passage above shows that God told Joshua explicitly that the purpose of meditating on His Word is so that he would DO it and prosper. When you're always thinking about the Word, doing it becomes more natural than doubting it.

How can you prosper in the affairs of life while you groan in your bed with a 105-degree fever? You can't! Would being stuck in the hospital being poked and prodded at all hours of the night be your idea of prospering and having good success? NO! If you want to stay well and prosper, be sure that you are speaking God's word to yourself and building yourself up in it. Then you will act on it and prosper.

Watching TV is not a sin, but if it is a higher priority to you than reading the Word and praying, then just forget about prospering God's way. You won't. How do you know if it's a higher priority? If you go to bed contently and you didn't read the Word or pray all day, but you found time to watch TV, then TV is your priority, not the Word. "Little children, keep yourself from idols" (1 John 5:21).

See also:

What Faith Isn't

Say What

Healing and Prosperity

Crossing the Bridge from Head Knowledge to Revelation Knowledge

Joshua 22:17:

Is the iniquity of Peor too little for us, from which we are not cleansed until this day, although there was a plague in the congregation of the LORD,

See also:

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

1 Samuel 5:1-6:5:

And the Philistines took the ark of God, and brought it from Ebenezer unto Ashdod.

When the Philistines took the ark of God, they brought it into the house of Dagon, and set it by Dagon.

And when they of Ashdod arose early on the morrow, behold, Dagon was fallen upon his face to the earth before the ark of the LORD. And they took Dagon, and set him in his place again.

And when they arose early on the morrow morning, behold, Dagon was fallen upon his face to the ground before the ark of the LORD; and the head of Dagon and both the palms of his hands were cut off upon the threshold; only the stump of Dagon was left to him.

Therefore neither the priests of Dagon, nor any that come into Dagon's house, tread on the threshold of Dagon in Ashdod unto this day.

But the hand of the LORD was heavy upon them of Ashdod, and he destroyed them, and smote them with emerods, even Ashdod and the coasts thereof.

And when the men of Ashdod saw that it was so, they said, The ark of the God of Israel shall not abide with us: for his hand is sore upon us, and upon Dagon our god.

They sent therefore and gathered all the lords of the Philistines unto them, and said, What shall we do with the ark of the God of Israel? And they answered, Let the ark of the God of Israel be carried about unto Gath. And they carried the ark of the God of Israel about thither.

And it was so, that, after they had carried it about, the hand of the LORD was against the city with a very great destruction: and he smote the men of the city, both small and great, and they had emerods in their secret parts.

Therefore they sent the ark of God to Ekron. And it came to pass, as the ark of God came to Ekron, that the Ekronites cried out, saying, They have brought about the ark of the God of Israel to us, to slay us and our people.

So they sent and gathered all the lords of the Philistines, and said, Send away the ark of the God of Israel, and let it go again to his own place, that it slay us not, and our people: for there was a deadly destruction throughout all the city; the hand of God was very heavy there.

And the men that died not were smitten with the emerods: and the cry of the city went up to heaven.

And the ark of the LORD was in the country of the Philistines seven months.

And the Philistines called for the priests and the diviners, saying, What shall we do to the ark of the LORD? tell us wherewith we shall send it to his place.

And they said, If ye send away the ark of the God of Israel, send it not empty; but in any wise return him a trespass offering: then ye shall be healed, and it shall be known to you why his hand is not removed from you.

Then said they, What shall be the trespass offering which we shall return to him? They answered, Five golden emerods, and five golden mice, according to the number of lords of the Philistines: for one plague was on you all, and on your lords.

Wherefore ye shall make images of your emerods, and images of your mice that mar the land; and ye shall give glory unto the God of Israel: peradventure he will lighten his hand from off you, and from off your gods, and from off your land.

Notes on 1 Samuel 5:1-6:5:

There is a New Testament parallel to this story in 1 Corinthians 11:27-32. In this passage, believers who approached communion irreverently ended up weak, sick, and dead. The Philistines fell sick for a similar reason. You cannot make light of a holy God or partake of symbols of Jesus irreverently. To do so brings judgment down on yourself. Note, however, that an atonement resulted in the healing of the sick Philistines. Atonement and healing go together. If you have been irreverent about the Lord's Supper, all you have to do is repent and start respecting God's ordinance that proclaims Jesus' death until He returns. This will cancel any judgment you have brought on yourself – if you judge yourself, you won't be judged.

Of course, if you have cancer, you should see from this passage that God considers cancer a punishment and a curse. Such a thing has no rightful place in the body of a Christian. Jesus took your punishment for you so that you would not have to endure it.

See also:

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

Healing and Atonement

Condition: Tumors

1 Samuel 25:37-38:

But it came to pass in the morning, when the wine was gone out of Nabal, and his wife had told him these things, that his heart died within him, and he became as a stone.

And it came to pass about then days after, that the LORD smote Nabal, that he died.

Notes on 1 Samuel 25:37-38:

The context above: Nabal (his name means Fool) was “churlish and evil in his doings” (1 Samuel 25:3) and “a son of Belial” (1 Samuel 25:17, 1 Samuel 25:25).

This is one of many cases where the LORD, not Satan, killed someone.

At first one could almost side with Nabal – it seemed like David wanted to invoice Nabal for unrequested protection services! If the only issue were Nabal balking that an unknown person was running a protection racket, it WOULD have been be unreasonable for God to kill him. However, he was a fool, churlish, evil and a son of Belial, and this was the case before David even had any dealings with him. God saw his heart all along.

This passage is NOT a valid pretext to believe that God will kill a beautiful woman’s husband so that you can marry her. That is NOT how God deals with people under the New Covenant!

See also:

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

Condition: Heart Trouble

2 Samuel 12:13-18:

And David said unto Nathan, I have sinned against the LORD. And Nathan said unto David, The LORD also hath put away thy sin; thou shalt not die.

Howbeit, because by this deed thou hast given great occasion to the enemies of the LORD to blaspheme, the child also that is born unto thee shall surely die.

And Nathan departed unto his house. And the LORD struck the child that Uriah's wife bare unto David, and it was very sick.

David therefore besought God for the child; and David fasted, and went in, and lay all night upon the earth.

And the elders of his house arose, and went to him, to raise him up from the earth: but he would not, neither did he eat bread with them.

And it came to pass on the seventh day, that the child died. And the servants of David feared to tell him that the child was dead: for they said, Behold, while the child was yet alive, we spake unto him, and he would not hearken unto our voice: how will he then vex himself, if we tell him that the child is dead?

Notes on 2 Samuel 12:13-18:

This passage seems problematic. It may seem unfair that a child died for the sins of his father. However, this is consistent with other Scriptures that talk of how your "seed" (children) will be blessed if you serve the Lord but cursed if you don't serve the Lord. Deuteronomy 28 states both explicitly. David had turned from God's ways and his child was cursed instead of blessed. (You are probably aware that David and Bathsheba conceived the child in adultery.)

Perhaps the more troublesome fact is that David is told that God has put away his sin. If his sin was put away, why did the child die anyway? How could God even remember the sin at that point?

These would be good New Testament issues, but David lived under an inferior covenant. When his sin was "put away" so that he would not die, this only meant that he would not be stoned to death for his particular sin – which would have been his rightful punishment under the Law. However, there were still consequences. David's life from this point on was full of bad harvests from the bad seed he planted during his adultery, his murder of Uriah the Hittite and his subsequent "Bathshebagate" cover-up.

David had put the law of sin and death into motion. Because he was not under the New Covenant, he was not redeemed from the law of sin and death. Sin leads to death.

Under the New Covenant, you can reap what you sow in this life even though you're forgiven. It is far better not to sin in the first place. For example, you can become a famous minister, commit adultery and repent. You're forgiven and you can be restored to the ministry. However, you will have trouble for the rest of your life over it and your ministry will never be what it could have been. This has nothing to do with not being forgiven. This is further discussed under Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament.

But back in this Old Covenant passage, the other thorny issue here is that the LORD, not Satan, killed David's child with a sickness. Satan was not the source of that sickness – GOD was. I know I've probably just ruined some readers' theology, but it's plain as day in Scripture. God DOES have "evil angels" who smite people with sickness and death, even in the case of Herod in the New Testament (Acts 12:12-23). (See Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament for more cases of GOD smiting people with sickness.) The Bible says what it says, not what we sometimes WANT it to say. GOD made that child sick and GOD killed him. This was David's punishment – he did not die himself over the incident, but he did lose his child. He had dishonored God in front of everyone, including people who hated Israel. God determined that this was the price he would have to pay. It was similar to the case where Moses was not allowed to enter the promised land because he HIT a rock that he was only supposed to SPEAK to. (It seems that the rock symbolized Christ, who was only sacrificed ONCE for everyone. David was told to hit the rock on a prior occasion. But the second time, he was only supposed to speak to it. I believe that this was God's way of saying that Christ only had to be sacrificed ONCE, and now all the blessings bought by that sacrifice are yours by SPEAKING in agreement with God's Word. Jesus does NOT have to continue to be resacrificed, as the Roman Catholic Church teaches in error, believing that every "mass" is a literal resacrifice of Christ.)

The next issue people would have is that the child was innocent. However, God promised to bless children of the righteous but punish children of the wicked. You will have to take the matter up with Him if you have a problem with it.

See also:

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

1 Kings 13:33-14:11:

After this thing Jeroboam returned not from his evil way, but made again of the lowest of the people priests of the high places: whosoever would, he consecrated him, and he became one of the priests of the high places.

And this thing became sin unto the house of Jeroboam, even to cut it off, and to destroy it from off the face of the earth.

At that time Abijah the son of Jeroboam fell sick.

And Jeroboam said to his wife, Arise, I pray thee, and disguise thyself, that thou be not known to be the wife of Jeroboam; and get thee to Shiloh: behold, there is Ahijah the prophet, which told me that I should be king over this people.

And take with thee ten loaves, and cracknels, and a cruse of honey, and go to him: he shall tell thee what shall become of the child.

And Jeroboam's wife did so, and arose, and went to Shiloh, and came to the house of Ahijah. But Ahijah could not see; for his eyes were set by reason of his age.

And the LORD said unto Ahijah, Behold, the wife of Jeroboam cometh to ask a thing of thee for her son; for he is sick: thus and thus shalt thou say unto her: for it shall be, when she cometh in, that she shall feign herself to be another woman.

And it was so, when Ahijah heard the sound of her feet, as she came in at the door, that he said, Come in, thou wife of Jeroboam; why feignest thou thyself to be another? for I am sent to thee with heavy tidings.

Go, tell Jeroboam, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Forasmuch as I exalted thee from among the people, and made thee prince over my people Israel,

And rent the kingdom away from the house of David, and gave it thee: and yet thou hast not been as my servant David, who kept my commandments, and who followed me with all his heart, to do that only which was right in mine eyes;

But hast done evil above all that were before thee: for thou hast gone and made thee other gods, and molten images, to provoke me to anger, and hast cast me behind thy back:

Therefore, behold, I will bring evil upon the house of Jeroboam, and will cut off from Jeroboam him that pisseth against the wall, and him that is shut up and left in Israel, and will take away the remnant of the house of Jeroboam, as a man taketh away dung, till it be all gone.

Him that dieth of Jeroboam in the city shall the dogs eat; and him that dieth in the field shall the fowls of the air eat: for the LORD hath spoken it.

Notes on 1 Kings 13:33-14:11:

Jeroboam attempted to cheapen the things of God by doing the equivalent of setting up a modern mail-order ordination mill. Whoever wanted to be a priest would be installed as one, despite the Law's insistence that only the Levites were to perform priestly duties. This brought judgment on Jeroboam in the form of sickness on his son.

Let's clarify the term "him that pisseth against the wall." This MAY refer to a young boy, as a grown man might be more discreet than to do that in public, though there are some places where the men aren't that discreet to this day. This was a prophecy directly from God, so if you have a problem with God's word choice, you would have to take it up with him. The King James is the only major translation to word the passage the way it is above. Most others say "males" or "male descendants" while Young's Literal Translation, for reasons I can't fathom, says "those sitting on the wall." Thus, most translations assume that ALL men would urinate against walls. It is certain from the Hebrew that the literal words male or male descendants are nowhere to be found; the King James is the only translation to literally and correctly express the Hebrew verb for urinate, which IS definitely in the verse. My assumption is that the other translators knew this, but they wanted to avoid having parents flinch and kids snicker when this and similar passages are read aloud from the pulpit.

See also:

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

2 Kings 1:2-4:

And Ahaziah fell down through a lattice in his upper chamber that was in Samaria, and was sick: and he sent messengers, and said unto them, Go, enquire of Baalzebub the God of Ekron whether I shall recover of this disease.

But the angel of the LORD said to Elijah the Tishbite, Arise, go up to meet the messengers of the king of Samaria, and say unto them, Is it not because there is not a God in Israel, that ye go to enquire of Baalzebub the god of Ekron?

Now, therefore thus saith the LORD, Thou shalt not come down from that bed on which thou art gone up, but thou shalt surely die. And Elijah departed.

Notes on 2 Kings 1:2-4:

Ahaziah died, just as Elijah said he would. This was similar to the death of King Saul when he consulted a medium instead of the Lord. (“So Saul died for his unfaithfulness which he had committed against the LORD, because he did not keep the word of the LORD, and also because he consulted a medium for guidance.” – 1 Chronicles 10:13.) Note that the word medium refers to someone who tries to talk to dead people and actually talks to evil spirits; it does not refer to the person’s clothing size.

See also:

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

2 Kings 5:27:

The leprosy therefore of Naaman shall cleave unto thee, and unto thy seed for ever.

Notes on 2 Kings 5:27:

This verse has Elisha's words to his deceitful servant Gehazi. Elisha wanted Naaman to be healed for free, but Gehazi went after Naaman and said that Elisha wanted some provisions for two guests. Naaman was happy to oblige. Elisha knew about this incident supernaturally and pronounced this judgment upon Gehazi. This is yet another example of sickness being a curse and a judgment.

See also:

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

Condition: Leprosy

2 Kings 15:5:

And the LORD smote the king, so that he was a leper unto the day of his death, and dwelt in a several house. And Jotham the king's son was over the house, judging the people of the land.

Notes on 2 Kings 15:5:

2 Chronicles 26:16-21 explains this incident more fully. The king's sin was performing a function that only priests were authorized to perform. As with the case of Uzzah, God showed that he does not take it lightly when a man knowingly intrudes into a ministry office where he does not belong. The king's pride caused him to take the things of God too lightly, a mistake that cost some of the Corinthians their lives in the New Testament (1 Corinthians 11:27-32).

See also:

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament
Condition: Leprosy

2 Chronicles 7:14:

If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land.

Notes on 2 Chronicles 7:14:

This verse was typical of God's dealing with man under the Old Covenant, and we can see that when man sought the Lord, the Lord was there to provide healing.

This verse does not apply today, for at least two reasons.

First, this is the THEN part of an IF-THEN statement that started with 2 Chronicles 7:13. IF God sent droughts, locusts and plagues on the land, this was the remedy. Because God does not send droughts, locusts and plagues today, this remedy does not apply. There is no use for the THEN part of an IF-THEN statement where the IF part can never be true anymore.

Second, our sins are forgiven because of the blood of Jesus. Because we who are part of "God's people, which are called by His name" in the New Testament are ALREADY forgiven, there is no need to do anything for our sins to be forgiven. God already sent Jesus to forgive our sins.

Many wrong doctrines come from trying to operate under the Old Covenant when we are under the New Covenant. When we do that, we make things a lot harder than they should be.

See also:

The Kingdom of God is Here NOW
Jesus Opened Heaven

2 Chronicles 16:12:

And Asa in the thirty and ninth year of his reign was diseased in his feet, until his disease was exceeding great: yet in his disease he sought not to the LORD, but to the physicians.

Notes on 2 Chronicles 16:12:

This verse has been used in some circles to “prove” that going to the doctor is a sin, but that error is handled in the discussion link below. Asa’s problem wasn’t simply going to the doctor; it was not seeking the Lord.

See also:

Is It a Sin to Go to the Doctor or Take Medicine?

Condition: Foot Trouble

2 Chronicles 21:12-19:

And there came a writing to him from Elijah the prophet, saying, Thus saith the LORD God of David thy father, Because thou hast not walked in the ways of Jehoshaphat thy father, nor in the ways of Asa king of Judah,

But hast walked in the ways of the kings of Israel, and hast made Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem to go a whoring, like to the whoredoms of the house of Ahab, and also hast slain thy brethren of thy father's house, which were better than thyself:

Behold, with a great plague will the LORD smite thy people, and thy children, and thy wives, and all thy goods:

And thou shalt have great sickness by disease of thy bowels, until thy bowels fall out by reason of the sickness day by day.

Moreover the LORD stirred up against Jehoram the spirit of the Philistines, and of the Arabians, that were near the Ethiopians:

And they came up unto Judah, and brake into it, and carried away all the substance that was found in the king's house, and his sons also, and his wives; so that there was never a son left him, save Jehoahaz, the youngest of his sons.

And after all this the LORD smote him in his bowels with an incurable disease.

And it came to pass, that in process of time, after the end of two years, his bowels fell out by reason of his sickness: so he died of sore diseases. And his people made no burning for him, like the burning of his fathers.

Notes on 2 Chronicles 21:12-19:

After reading this passage, you can't believe that God sends sickness to His devout worshippers as a device to build character or teach lessons! How could it be clearer? Sickness is a curse and a judgment. That is why Jesus had to bear our sicknesses for us, so that we would not have to partake of this judgment for sin the way many did in the Old Testament, including the king in question above.

See also:

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament
Condition: Tumors

2 Chronicles 26:16-21:

But when he [Uzziah] was strong, his heart was lifted up to his destruction: for he transgressed against the LORD his God, and went into the temple of the LORD to burn incense upon the altar of incense.

And Azariah the priest went in after him, and with him fourscore priests of the LORD, that were valiant men:

And they withstood Uzziah the king, and said unto him, It appertaineth not unto thee, Uzziah, to burn incense unto the LORD, but to the priests and the sons of Aaron, that are consecrated to burn incense: go out of the sanctuary; for thou hast trespassed; neither shall it be for thine honour from the LORD God.

Then Uzziah was wroth, and had a censer in his hand to burn incense: and while he was wroth with the priests, the leprosy even rose up in his forehead before the priests in the house of the LORD, from beside the incense altar.

And Azariah the chief priest, and all the priests, looked upon him, and, behold, he was leprous in his forehead, and they thrust him out from thence; yea, himself hastened also to go out, because the LORD had smitten him.

And Uzziah the king was a leper unto the day of his death, and dwelt in a several house, being a leper; for he was cut off from the house of the LORD: and Jotham his son was over the king's house, judging the people of the land.

Notes on 2 Chronicles 26:16-21:

God never authorized King Uzziah to perform priestly functions. He should have known better than to attempt to do so, because this very sin had disqualified Saul from being king over Israel. Apparently, he was too proud to care, and his pride caused him to take the holy things of God lightly. He attempted the priestly function of burning incense, and God was incensed. Taking the holy things of God lightly is the same sin sent many Corinthians to early graves as well (1 Corinthians 11:27-32). We need to judge ourselves regarding our conduct around the things of God so that judgment does not fall on us. Even under grace, this sin can disqualify you for healing unless you repent.

See also:

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament
Condition: Leprosy

Job 2:4-7:

And Satan answered the LORD, and said, Skin for skin, yea, all that a man hath will he give for his life. But put forth thine hand now, and touch his bone and his flesh, and he will curse thee to thy face. And the LORD said unto Satan, Behold, he is in thine hand, but save his life. So went Satan from the presence of the LORD, and smote Job with sore boils from the sole of his foot unto his crown.

Notes on Job 2:4-7:

Satan made Job sick, not God. There is no way to dispute this. The only dispute people can have is the claim that “God allowed it,” which seems obvious from the context. Why did God allow it? And why could He not do the same in the New Testament?

These matters are explained in detail in the answer to the common objection to healing based on Job as well as the very long discussion Job Explained. In short, you cannot be another Job because you have direct authority over Satan, who is the author of disease. Job did not have this under his covenant, and Job was unaware that there was anyone named Satan. That is why Job blamed everything on God, and that is why God did not charge Job with sin for saying that God had done it. Later, Job’s attitude deteriorated and he did make unfair accusations against God for which he had to repent. Even Job said that if there had only been a mediator between him and God, he would not have stayed sick. We do have a Mediator today. Even one of his foolish friends understood the concept of atonement bringing healing: “Deliver from going to the pit, for I have found an atonement...His flesh shall be like a child’s....” These themes and many others are far more developed in Job Explained.

Job was sick for less than 1% of his life and God completely healed him and blessed him. We would see many people similarly healed and blessed if preachers would harp on God’s healing of Job’s Satan-inflicted illnesses as much as they harp on Job’s sickness. You are supposed to see the Lord’s mercy when you read about Job according to James 5:11.

See also:

Job Explained

Objection: Job Was a Godly Man, Yet God Let Him Get Sick

Condition: Bad Breath \(Chronic\)

Condition: Boils

Condition: Sores

Psalm 23:

The LORD is my shepherd; I shall not want.

He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: he leadeth me beside the still waters.

He restoreth my soul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.

Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.

Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.

Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the LORD for ever.

Notes on Psalm 23:

“I shall not want” does not mean “I don’t want anything good in my life;” it literally means “I shall not lack.” When the Lord is your shepherd, you should not be in lack of any good thing. If you’re sick, you are lacking – you’re lacking health! If you’re unable to work because you’re sick, you can end up in lack. If you must remain sick, Psalm 23 would have to be revised to read, “The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not lack anything except physical healing. He maketh me to lie down in green gowns on my hospital bed so that I cannot walk the paths of righteousness for His name’s sake. The hospital staff, they comfort me with drugs. Thou preparest an operating table before me in the presence of mine enemies. My nose runneth over.” If you are sick, you lack healing. Because God is your Shepherd, you should not lack healing.

We see that healing for your emotions is included in the package when God is your Shepherd. He makes you lie down in green pastures, He leads you beside still waters and He restores your soul. Will God take care of you emotionally but not physically? Is a hospital a green pasture?

Healing is described as a mercy in the New Testament. The sick cried out for mercy and received it. If goodness and mercy are following you daily, how can you be excluded from the mercy of healing for your sick body? This whole Psalm shows God’s provision and care for you. That is why you can confront the fear of death without giving into it. The Psalmist does not describe himself dying helplessly without God’s intervention. This Psalm points to victory in every area of your life.

Psalm 23 is not just a pretty poem to read at funerals! It applies to you NOW in this life!

See also:

God’s Mercy and Compassion

Healing Is a Good Thing

Dealing with Fear

Objection: Psalm 103:3 Is Poetic Hyperbole

Objection: David Didn’t Have His Youth Renewed – He Had to Have Abishag Keep Him Warm

Objection: James Set Patient Endurance of Sickness as the New Testament Standard for Believers \(James 5:10-11\)

Psalm 34:9-10:

O fear the LORD, ye his saints: for there is no want to them that fear him.

The young lions do lack, and suffer hunger: but they that seek the LORD shall not want any good thing.

Notes on Psalm 34:9-10:

Can you describe yourself as not wanting any good thing when you are sweating and sneezing and coughing in your bed, taking medicine to partially relieve your symptoms? No, you would want a good thing – healing!

Notice that as with other such verses, this is a conditional promise. If you just live any old way and don't care about God much, He hasn't promised you anything in these verses. Having no lack is promised only to the man who seeks God.

See also:

Healing Is a Good Thing

Psalm 78:49-51:

He cast upon them [Egypt] the fierceness of his anger, wrath, and indignation, and trouble, by sending evil angels among them.

He made a way for his anger; he spared not their soul from death, but gave their life over to the pestilence;

And smote all the firstborn in Egypt; the chief of their strength in the tabernacles of Ham:

Notes on Psalm 78:49-51:

I included this verse because it offers insight into how “the Lord” smote Egypt. There are many passages about “the Lord” smiting people, and this passage makes it clear that “evil angels” (not demons) did the actual smiting in at least some cases. The idea that angels who are “on God’s team” could smite people with illness and/or death when they have made themselves His people’s enemies is known in other Scriptures. The angel OF THE LORD, not of the devil, smote Herod in the New Testament (Acts 12:21-23).

The death of the firstborn is attributed to “he that destroyed the firstborn” in Hebrews 11:28.

See also:

Notes on Exodus 12:12-13

Psalm 84:11:

For the LORD God is a sun and shield: the LORD will give grace and glory: no good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly.

Notes on Psalm 84:11:

If this verse means anything, God will not withhold healing from those who walk uprightly. (If healing is a good thing and God withholds no good thing from those who walk uprightly, it logically follows that God does not withhold healing from those who walk uprightly.)

This verse, like similar ones, is conditional upon walking uprightly. You cannot claim it as a promise unless you walk uprightly. You don't have to go on a witch-hunt. Just ask yourself whether you're doing anything that you know is sin! Then you know if you qualify or not, and if you don't, you can repent so that you do qualify.

You might think, "I'm under the New Covenant, so I can claim this based on my righteousness in Christ regardless of the uprightness of my walk." But the terms of this condition don't allow for that. God isn't talking about the legally righteous in this verse; He's talking about those who walk uprightly. A legally righteous person could still not walk uprightly and thus not meet the condition of this blessing.

This verse says that God gives grace and glory. How much glory do you have on an IV in a hospital? Not much! If God will give you glory, He surely must give you healing. This is underscored by the fact that God told the Israelites many times that they would be held in derision by neighboring countries when they were plagued for disobedience. So God considers sickness a source of derision. Therefore He cannot consider it a source of glory. Neither should you.

See also:

Healing Is a Good Thing

The Kingdom of God is Here NOW

Jesus Opened Heaven

Psalm 89:20-23:

I have found David my servant; with my holy oil have I anointed him:
With whom my hand shall be established: mine arm also shall strengthen him.
The enemy shall not exact upon him; nor the son of wickedness afflict him.
And I will beat down his foes before his face, and plague them that hate him.

See also:

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

Psalm 103:20:

Bless the LORD, ye his angels, that excel in strength, that do his commandments, hearkening unto the voice of his word.

Notes on Psalm 103:20:

Angels obey God when He speaks, but they also hearken to the voice of His Word when they hear it from another source – your mouth! That’s one reason why it’s so important to speak the Word out of your mouth – angels will go out and work for you when you do it!

See also:

Say What

God’s Word Is Seed

Your Heavenly Father and Your Healing

Speaking to Mountains, Trees and Diseases

The Confession UNTO Faith and the Confession OF Faith

Objection: If Proverbs 18:21 Meant What Faith Preachers Say It Does, Old Testament People Could Have Gone Around Speaking Health to the Sick and Death to Cancer and Other Diseases before Jesus Came

Objection: Faith Must Be IN GOD \(Mark 11:22\), So It Is Not Something You Can Use Yourself to Change Things

Psalm 115:16:

The heaven, even the heavens, are the LORD'S: but the earth hath he given to the children of men.

Notes on Psalm 115:16:

This verse clears up a lot of questions, the most common ones being, "If God is in control, why is everything such a mess?" and "If God is in control, why is there such awful suffering and sickness?"

The answer is simple. God is NOT in control of the earth. Man is. God gave man dominion over the earth; He made the earth for man. Man messed it up. Man is still messing it up.

When God has his way, people don't sin and sickness is healed. But man doesn't always give God His way.

See also:

YOU Can Do Miracles

The Kingdom of God is Here NOW

Who Is in Control of Your Life?

Job Explained

Speaking to Mountains, Trees, and Diseases

How to Be Baptized with the Holy Spirit

Does Mark 11:23 Work for Unbelievers?

Objection: We Cannot Demand Healing from God Because God Is Sovereign

Objection: God Is in Control

Objection: To Preach that Jesus COULD NOT Do Miracles at Nazareth Is to Deny His Deity and God's Sovereignty. Therefore, the Only Reason He Could Not Would Be that People Did Not Bring the Sick.

Objection: Everything Happens for a Reason

Objection: God Gives and Takes Away

Objection: Faith Must Be IN GOD \(Mark 11:22\), So It Is Not Something You Can Use Yourself to Change Things

Objection: Any Other Objection Not Specifically Covered in This Book

Psalm 127:2:

It is vain for you to rise up early, to sit up late, to eat the bread of sorrows: for so he giveth his beloved sleep.

Notes on Psalm 127:2:

Think about this. If you had no other promise in the Bible that God would remove pain from your body, you would have one right here. You can't sleep when you're racked with pain, can you? You have a right to be healed of anything that interferes with your sleep – not just insomnia!

One BIG sleep stealer is anxiety. You can and should cast your cares on the Lord (1 Peter 5:7). You NEVER have to toss and turn all night because you're anxious about a situation.

You have the right to believe God for sleep at night!

See also:

Condition: Insomnia

Psalm 145:8-9:

The LORD is gracious, and full of compassion; slow to anger, and of great mercy.

The LORD is good to all: and his tender mercies are over all his works.

See also:

God's Mercy and Compassion

Psalm 145:19-20:

He will fulfill the desire of them that fear him: he also will hear their cry, and will save them.
The LORD preserveth all them that love him: but all the wicked will he destroy.

See also:

Healing is a Good Thing

Proverbs 3:21-24:

My son, let not them [My words] depart from thine eyes: keep sound wisdom and discretion:

So shall they be life unto thy soul, and grace to thy neck.

Then shalt thou walk in thy way safely, and thy foot shall not stumble.

When thou liest down, thou shalt not be afraid: yea, thou shalt lie down, and thy sleep shall be sweet.

See also:

Condition: Insomnia

Ecclesiastes 5:12:

The sleep of a laboring man is sweet, whether he eat little or much: but the abundance of the rich will not suffer him to sleep.

Notes on Ecclesiastes 5:12:

You would think that it would be the poor who would toss and turn all night because of their financial situation. While that could happen, Solomon shows here that a rich person, who has much more to lose, could actually have it worse at night, at least if he is not trusting God to be his Provider. Even today there are well-off people who are nervous at night wondering what their financial investments might be doing overnight.

See also:

Condition: Insomnia

Ecclesiastes 7:17:

Be not over much wicked, neither be thou foolish: why shouldest thou die before thy time?

Notes on Ecclesiastes 7:17:

God's time for you to die is after He has satisfied you with long life. (See Psalm 91.) This is not necessarily a specific date and time. The idea is that you should live a long life, but if you are wicked or foolish, you will live a shorter life, thus dying before your time. As proved elsewhere in this book, you have far more to do with your lifespan than God does! You can lengthen or shorten your life in many ways.

See also:

Is There an Appointed Time for Each Person to Die?

Jeremiah 50:13:

Because of the wrath of the LORD it shall not be inhabited, but it shall be wholly desolate: every one that goeth by Babylon shall be astonished, and hiss at all her plagues.

Notes on Jeremiah 50:13:

Do you hiss at something good? No, you hiss at something bad. I am not suggesting that you go to the local hospital and hiss at the sick, but God clearly considers sickness disgusting. If no one would glorify the Babylonians for their plagues, let's not consider enduring of sickness to be the way to glorify God in the earth. Surely God does not want you "glorifying" Him with something that makes people want to hiss at you.

See also:

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

Ezekiel 34:1-4:

And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel, prophesy, and say unto them, Thus saith the LORD God unto the shepherds; Woe be to the shepherds of Israel that do feed themselves! should not the shepherds feed the flocks?

Ye eat the fat, and ye clothe you with the wool, ye kill them that are fed: but ye feed not the flock.

The diseased have ye not strengthened, neither have ye healed that which was sick, neither have ye bound up that which was broken, neither have ye brought again that which was driven away, neither have ye sought that which was lost; but with force and with cruelty have ye ruled them.

Notes on Ezekiel 34:1-4:

This shows God's protest that the sick were not being healed in Israel, despite His promises to heal everything and everyone. He was talking to the priests, not literal shepherds. God was upset that His work of healing (among other things) was not being done.

You can fall into this same trap if you're not careful. For example, you could treat this book as a means to stuff yourself with healing knowledge, but never use this knowledge to help anyone else. God doesn't want you to just feed yourself. Feeding yourself spiritually is important, but God wants you to minister to the needs of the hurting, including the sick!

Ezekiel 47:1-12:

Afterward he brought me again unto the door of the house; and behold, waters issued out from under the threshold of the house eastward: for the forefront of the house stood toward the east, and the waters came down from under from the right side of the house, at the south side of the altar.

Then brought he me out of the way of the gate northward, and led me about the way without unto the utter gate by the way that looketh eastward; and behold, there ran out waters on the right side.

And when the man that had the line in his hand went forth eastward, he measured a thousand cubits, and he brought me through the waters; the waters were to the ankles.

And again he measured a thousand, and brought me through the waters; the waters were to the knees.

Again he measured a thousand, and brought me through; the waters were to the loins.

Afterward he measured a thousand; and it was a river that I could not pass over: for the waters were risen, waters to swim in, a river that could not be passed over.

And he said unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen this? Then he brought me, and caused me to return to the brink of the river.

Now when I had returned, behold, at the bank of the river were very many trees on the one side and on the other.

Then said he unto me, These waters issue out toward the east country, and go down into the desert, and go into the sea: which being brought forth into the sea, the waters shall be healed.

And it shall come to pass, that every living thing that liveth, which moveth, whithersoever the rivers shall come, shall live: and there shall be a very great multitude of fish, because these waters shall come hither: for they shall be healed, and every thing shall live whither the river cometh.

And it shall come to pass, that the fishers shall stand upon it from En-gedi even unto En-eglaim; they shall be a place to spread forth nets; their fish shall be according to their kinds, as the fish of the great sea, exceeding many.

But the miry places thereof and the marishes thereof shall not be healed; they shall be given to salt.

And by the river upon the bank thereof, on this side and on that side, shall grow all trees for meat, whose leaf shall not fade, neither shall the fruit thereof be consumed: it shall bring forth new fruit according to his months, because their waters they issued out of the sanctuary: and the fruit thereof shall be for meat, and the leaf thereof for medicine.

Notes on Ezekiel 47:1-12:

You could say a lot more about this passage, but I will restrict my comments to the healing part. The river flowed from the throne of God and it brought healing to everything it touched. This is yet another illustration that healing comes from God. In this case, healing of human bodies is implied because the trees that drink the water that flows from God's sanctuary produce leaves for medicine. The water from God definitely does not produce sickness, kill or destroy anything. Instead, it heals that which is sick.

This river has marvelous healing and quickening powers. If God were the source of sickness for His followers, we would read instead that the river from His sanctuary killed off all the fish and provided water to trees of sickening, whose fruit is inedible and whose leaves give you cancer.

Where the presence of God is, healing is.

Micah 6:12-13:

For the rich men thereof are full of violence, and the inhabitants thereof have spoken lies, and their tongue is deceitful in their mouth.

Therefore also will I make thee sick in smiting thee, in making thee desolate because of thy sins.

See also:

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

Zechariah 14:12-15:

And this shall be the plague wherewith the LORD will smite all the people that have fought against Jerusalem; Their flesh shall consume away while they stand upon their feet, and their eyes shall consume away in their holes, and their tongue shall consume away in their mouth.

And it shall come to pass in that day, that a great tumult from the LORD shall be among them; and they shall lay hold every one on the hand of his neighbour, and his hand shall rise up against the hand of his neighbour.

And Judah also shall fight at Jerusalem; and the wealth of all the heathen round about shall be gathered together, gold, and silver, and apparel, in great abundance.

And so shall the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camel, and of the ass, and of all the beasts that shall be in these tents, as this plague.

See also:

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

Condition: Blindness

Condition: Flesh-Eating Diseases

Condition: Tongue Problems \(Literal\)

Zechariah 14:16-19:

And it shall come to pass, that every one that is left of all the nations which came against Jerusalem shall even go up from year to year to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, and to keep the feast of tabernacles.

And it shall be, that whoso will not come up of all the families of the earth unto Jerusalem to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, even upon them shall be no rain.

And if the family of Egypt go not up, and come not, that have no rain; there shall be the plague, wherewith the LORD will smite the heathen that come not up to keep the feast of tabernacles.

This shall be the punishment of Egypt, and the punishment of all nations that come not up to keep the feast of tabernacles.

See also:

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

Matthew 7:11:

If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask him?

Notes on Matthew 7:11:

If there were no explicit healing promises in the Bible, you could get healed just by believing this statement about God. God loves His children and longs to bless them with good things, just as you long to bless your children with good things. Once you see this, you can't possibly believe that God wants you sick, because the Bible calls sickness a curse, not a good thing. Sickness is bad. Healing is good. I hope that you don't need this book to tell you that, but you'd be surprised how many people think sickness can be a good thing (a "blessing in disguise") because of man-made religious traditions. If sickness is good, why are there constant TV ads with remedies to alleviate its effects?

Any earthly parent would want to see a sick child be healed. God is an even better Father, so He is even more willing to bless you with healing! In fact, He's paid the price for you to have it, so He doesn't even have to make a decision about whether or not He'll let you have it on this side of the cross. It's already decided!

See also:

Healing Is a Good Thing

Healing – a Gift from God

Objection: Jesus Literally Said to "Keep On Asking." Therefore, We Should Bug God Like the Widow in Jesus' Parable.

Matthew 7:21-23:

Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven.

Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works?

And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity.

Notes on Matthew 7:21-23:

This shows the power invested in the name of Jesus – unbelievers could use it with results! In fact, even the disciples weren't born again and they rejoiced that the demons were subject to them in Jesus' name (Luke 10:17).

This passage might rattle people because they might conclude that entry to the kingdom of heaven depends on doing good works instead of knowing Jesus. But that can't be true. "Doing the will of the Father" now is receiving Jesus. The people who were commanded to depart were NOT people who never did any good works. In fact, they cited their many wonderful works! But the problem will be that they never knew Him. No one goes to hell for a lack of good works; hell awaits only those who do not know Jesus – who never receive Him as Lord. You can't earn your way to heaven with many wonderful works; you can only receive Jesus and get entry to heaven that has nothing to do with your works.

See also:

Notes on Ephesians 5:5-7

What Faith Is

The Power in the Name of Jesus

Healing Is Not a Formula

If You Blow It

Healing and the Holy Spirit

How Much Faith Does It Take to Heal a Serious Illness?

Why Does God Keep Using a Certain Healing Minister So Mightily when His Personal Life Is So Messed Up?

Objection: Jesus Said that Those Who Came after Him and Did Miracles Would Be Unsaved Deceivers \(Matthew 7:22-23\)

Objection: If Everyone Could Perform Miracles, Paul's Signs of an Apostle Would Be Meaningless – He'd Be Just Like Everyone Else

Objection: Healing and Miracles Are Not for This Current Dispensation

Matthew 11:11:

Verily I say unto you, Among them that are born of women there hath not risen a greater than John the Baptist: notwithstanding he that is least in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he.

Notes on Matthew 11:11:

Moses was a great prophet who gave the Law. Elijah and Elisha were great prophets who did miracles. Isaiah was a great prophet who foretold Jesus' crucifixion. John the Baptist is the greatest prophet because he was the one who got to introduce Jesus to the world IN PERSON.

But YOU have far more than any of these great men ever had. These great men were all sinners. The new birth was not available to them. Think what they would have given to get 24/7 access to the Holy of Holies that you now have because of Jesus' blood! They never knew God as Father the way that you do. They could not pray out mysteries in other tongues as you can. They had no access to the many other Church Age blessings (see Who You Are and What You Have).

A three-year-old girl who gets saved has MORE than John the Baptist ever had! And so do you.

See also:

Who You Are and What You Have

Objection: The New Testament Emphasizes Spiritual Blessings, Not Material Blessings

Matthew 15:11:

Not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man; but that which cometh out of the mouth; this defileth a man.

See also:

Say What

Matthew 18:18-20:

Verily I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever ye shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.

Again I say unto you, That if two of you shall agree on earth as touching any thing that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven.

For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them.

Notes on Matthew 18:18-20:

This passage is a complete answer to the people who think that everything is up to God's sovereignty. Far from it! Most of what goes on here is up to us! When we bind something on earth, only then does God consider it bound in heaven. When we loose something on the earth, only then does God consider it loosed in heaven. This is why prayer is so vital! Many things will simply not get done until WE do something! WE are the ones with the keys to the kingdom; the keys Jesus is holding are the keys of death and hell (Revelation 1:18).

Don't make this hard! There are only three rules for praying the prayer of agreement:

1. Two or more of you must agree on what you want.
2. Those agreeing must be on the earth.
3. Those agreeing must explicitly ask God for the result.

Yes, but what if it isn't God's will? Watch out! As proved elsewhere in this book, God will sometimes give you what you agree for even if it isn't His will, so find out first! This passage is another proof that healing is available to all, because you could certainly make healing the subject of this prayer and get it. In the case of healing, healing has already been paid for, so you would be agreeing for a manifestation of what has already been purchased.

The end of this passage is often quoted at church services with low attendance to console those who bothered to show up with the fact that Jesus is present. That use of the verse is out of context. The idea is that Jesus is in the midst of you to do whatever you agree for. He was not suddenly talking about sparsely attended worship services in the middle of His discourse. And by the way, Jesus lives in you. So when YOU walk into an empty church building, He just walked in there with you whether a second or third person ever shows up!

The fact that the people agreeing must be on the earth negates the error that you can agree with Mary, Jude, or anyone else who is not still on the earth for something to be done.

As far as the binding and loosing part goes, in this passage you could argue that the binding and loosing is only in the context of disciplining an unruly person at church. I don't think that's clear-cut, as the next two verses aren't about church discipline; they are about agreeing for God to do something. In any case, Jesus' statement about binding and loosing is also found in Matthew 16:19, where church discipline definitely isn't the subject.

See also:

Notes on Mark 6:7

Different Ways to Get Healed

Healing Is a Good Thing

Where's Jesus?

Healing and Dead Works

Can I "Stand in Proxy" for Someone Else in a Healing Line?

Matthew 21:18-22:

Now in the morning as he [Jesus] returned into the city, he hungered.

And when he saw a fig tree in the way, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaves only, and said unto it, Let no fruit grow on thee henceforward for ever. And presently the fig tree withered away.

And when the disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, How soon is the fig tree withered away!

Jesus answered and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, If ye have faith, and doubt not, ye shall not only do this which is done to the fig tree, but also if ye shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; it shall be done.

And all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive.

Notes on Matthew 21:18-22:

Jesus said that you can move a mountain if you have faith AND doubt not. Therefore, doubt cannot logically be the opposite of faith. If it were, Jesus' statement would make no sense.

If doubt were the opposite of faith, you could doubt and it would mean that you have no faith. But the Bible says that you DO have faith (Romans 12:3), whether you use it or not, and whether you let doubts drown it out or not.

Thus, it must be possible to have faith AND doubt at the same time. Doubt in your HEAD would not actually be an issue; only doubt in your heart (which will come out of your mouth) can mess up your attempt to receive by faith.

The tree immediately began to wither, but the time when the disciples saw it was actually the next day (Mark 11:20).

People have read this passage and thought, "I need to really build my faith until it becomes huge mountain-moving faith!" But the context in Mark's gospel disproves that. Right before Jesus talked about the mountain, He said to have faith in God (Mark 11:22). That's important. It is not YOUR spiritual oomph that will move that mountain when you speak to it. You speak to it because you have faith that you are doing the will of God and that therefore God will back what you say. You don't have to produce POWER; you only have to produce WORDS! The power will follow your words. You speak to the mountain and God will back your words by moving it into the ocean. The "pressure to produce" is on Him, not you. You have the easy part – speaking. You have faith in God and in His Word that says that you can really do it! God says that you can move something by speaking to it and He will back His Word!

You might also think to yourself, "That's a mean thing to do, cursing a poor innocent fig tree." But Jesus showed us that we can kill things with our mouths. That's very good to know! At some point you will meet someone with a serious cancer case, and you should be very glad that you have the same right to speak death to that cancer that Jesus had to speak death to that fig tree.

You might also wonder where Jesus got the idea that He could speak death to something and make it die. I assume that He learned that from Proverbs 18:21.

See also:

Notes on Mark 11:23-24

Speaking to Mountains, Trees and Diseases

Different Ways to Get Healed

Say What

Objection: Faith Is Simply Trust in God, Not a Force That You Use to Change Things Yourself

Matthew 28:18:

And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth.

Notes on Matthew 28:18:

Do the math. If Jesus has ALL power, how much does Satan have now?

The word power here could also be translated authority. Because He immediately followed this with “Go ye therefore,” we know that this power (or authority) is available to us as we go out and preach in His name. Otherwise, the “therefore” would not make sense. If Jesus were to keep this power to Himself, it would not be a reason to go out and evangelize. Compare this to Mark 16:15-18 and Mark 16:20 and you’ll see that the Lord works this power through us as we go out in His name. Our right to lay hands on the sick and cast out devils in the name of Jesus is proof that Jesus gave His authority to His Church, which is His body on the earth. This should be no big shock, because the Church is one with its Head. Something can’t belong to your head and not belong to the rest of your body, can it? Would it make sense to say, “This car belongs to my head but not to my body?” No, your body is one with your head. It is our oneness with Christ that allows us to go out and use His authority in the earth today.

See also:

Do the Math

How to Deal with the Devil

Objection: Laying Hands on the Sick Is Not Part of the Great Commission

Mark 11:23-24:

For verily I say unto you, That whosoever shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that those things which he saith shall come to pass; he shall have whatsoever he saith.

Therefore I say unto you, What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them.

Notes on Mark 11:23-24:

Once you discover that healing is yours, this passage of Scripture settles the question, “How do I get it?” There are actually two valid methods here. One is to speak to your condition and command it to be gone. The other is to believe that you receive your healing from God when you pray. These methods are covered in detail in the discussions under “See also:” below.

The context includes an admonition to forgive in the very next verse, so if you are holding onto unforgiveness, you aren’t praying the way that Jesus said to pray.

How much faith would it take to move a mountain? Only a “mustard seed” quantity of faith would get the job done, according to a similar passage in Matthew (Matthew 17:20).

I’ve seen some teaching on the fact that different Greek words are used for “say” in Mark 11:23, though I’m not convinced of their significance after looking them up and seeing their use throughout the New Testament. According to this teaching, the word “say” (to the mountain) really means “command” and having whatever you say refers to a “systematic set discourse.” However, in point of fact, the word used both here and in Matthew’s version to speak to the mountain is almost always rendered say as we would normally use the word, and command would not even fit the vast majority of cases where that Greek word (eipon) is used in the New Testament! You could make a case that you’re commanding the mountain to move (which would be correct), but you wouldn’t make that case on a Greek basis. And if you’re speaking to a mountain to make it move, you would only SAY something once, not systematically! If you had to speak to the mountain a second time in your systematic speaking, you spoke the first time in unbelief!

One modern translation used in a “faith” Study Bible renders Mark 11:24 as saying “believe that you will receive...” but that is wrong. All other translations I know of correctly say “believe that you receive” or something to that effect. The Greek verb tense for “receive” is definitely present; future tense is used only for “shall have.” (One would think that Mark 11:24 would be the last verse that a “faith” Bible would want to mess up, but I realize that going with a certain modern translation was an all-or-nothing decision despite the horrible rendition of Mark 11:24, and I can understand not using the sometimes difficult King James Version for the entirety of a modern Study Bible. Also, at this writing, the only publishing company to offer this particular “faith” translation happens to be the same one that puts out the “faith” Study Bible in question.)

A LOT more can be said about this passage. See the discussions below.

See also:

Notes on Matthew 21:18-22

The #1 Mistake People Make When They Need Healing

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

Grace + Faith = Miracles

According to YOUR FAITH Be It Done unto You!

Speaking to Mountains, Trees and Diseases

Healing Does Not Require Great Faith

YOU Can Do Miracles

No Limits

It Isn't YOUR Sickness

The Flesh Freakout Factor

Believing in God vs. Believing God

How NOT to Pray for Your Healing

What Faith Isn't

Say What

Different Ways to Get Healed

The Healing Anointing

You Have Faith

Healing and Deliveries

Healing Is a Good Thing

God's Promises Have Conditions

Who You Are and What You Have

How Much Do You Desire Healing?

Healing Is Not a Formula

Everything's Yours, Including Healing

Quit Worrying about Your Health!

Don't Believe These Alcoholics Anonymous Lies

Can I Lay Hands on Myself for My Own Healing?

Can I Believe and Receive a Healing for Someone Else?

Does Mark 11:23 Work for Unbelievers?

I Lost My Healing – Now What?

Should I Believe that I Receive Healing or Command Sickness to Leave?

Does Faith Come from Your Spirit, Your Mind or Somewhere Else?

What Is the Difference between Unbelief and Doubt?

How Can I Tell if Doubt Is in My Heart or Just in My Head?

What Is "Therefore" There For in Mark 11:24?

Do I Have to Wait for a Healing Service to Receive a Healing?

If Unforgiveness Is a Hindrance, How Did ALL the Multitudes Get Healed – Surely There Were Some Who Hadn't Forgiven Their Ex-Spouses?

I Have a Birth Defect. I Need a Miracle. How Do I Get It?

Objection: Christ's Healings Were Mostly Instantaneous; We Cannot Claim to Be Able to Do His Works When We Have So Few Instantaneous Miracles

Objection: Faith Is Simply Trust in God, Not a Force that You Use to Change Things Yourself

Objection: If We Really Had Authority over Sickness, We Would Not Need GIFTS OF HEALING

Objection: We Should Use Our Faith for Souls Rather than Selfishly Seeking Our Own Healing

Objection: "Faith Healing" Is Simply Mind over Matter. Unbelievers Can and Do Get Healed Just by Having a Positive Mental Attitude, and It Has Nothing to Do with Jesus.

Objection: Divine Healing is Practiced by False Cults

Objection: I Tried That Faith Stuff, and It Didn't Work

Objection: It Is Presumption to Think that Life and Death Are in Your Power

Objection: THIS MOUNTAIN in Mark 11:23 Refers to the Temple Mountain and Symbolically the Jewish Worship System

Objection: Faith Must Be IN GOD \(Mark 11:22\), So It Is Not Something You Can Use Yourself to Change Things

Objection: Mark 11:23 Is Just an Expansion of Mark 11:22 and Trusting IN GOD

Objection: Occult Practitioners Attempt to Confess Things into Existence and Speak to Material Things to Make Them Change

Objection: Throughout Scripture God Heals Those Whom He CHOOSES to Heal

Objection: God Wants You to Bring SUPPLICATIONS and REQUESTS to HIM \(Philippians 4:6\), Not to "Take Authority" Yourself

Objection: The Doctrine of Faith Healing Is Cruel to Parents Who Have Lost Children to Illness

Objection: Sometimes God Says, "Yes," Sometimes He Says, "No," and Sometimes He Says, "Wait" When You Ask for Healing

Objection: Jesus Said to Say, "Thy Will Be Done," Instead of Demanding Healing

Mistake: Unforgiveness

Luke 6:45:

A good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is good; and an evil man out of the evil treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is evil: for of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaketh.

Notes on Luke 6:45:

Don't try to force your mouth to speak good things by exercising will power and making New Year's resolutions. James said that no man can tame the tongue (James 3:8). The only way you can do it is by storing God's Word in your heart. When your heart is full of God's Word, your mouth will speak God's Word out of your heart's abundance. So the secret is not trying harder to say the right things, but storing up an abundance of God's Word in your heart, which will cause what you're saying to change.

See also:

Say What

Luke 12:8-9:

Also I say unto you, Whosoever shall confess me before men, him shall the Son of man also confess before the angels of God:

But he that denieth me before men shall be denied before the angels of God.

See also:

Say What

Luke 12:32:

Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom.

Notes on Luke 12:32:

God isn't holding back revival, His Spirit, your healing, your provision, or anything else – and best yet, you don't have to try to talk Him into giving you anything. It is His good pleasure to give you everything.

Some people will object that you aren't allowed to you have your new body yet or live in heaven yet, and those are part and parcel of His kingdom. While that statement is true, the usual implication that you will have to do without any assurance of healing until you get your new body is not.

See also:

Healing Pleases God

Luke 17:5-6:

And the apostles said unto the Lord, Increase our faith.

And the Lord said, If ye had faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye might say unto this sycamine tree, Be thou plucked up by the root, and be thou planted in the sea, and it should obey you.

Notes on Luke 17:5-6:

The apostles asked Jesus for more faith and He refused the request. He is the same today, so He will refuse any request of yours for more faith. Faith does not come by praying for faith; it comes by hearing God's Word. The important thing is to use the faith you have, not wait for more faith. Even a little faith, when USED, is extremely powerful, as Jesus taught here.

You can learn an important lesson here: Faith speaks! The apostles wanted more faith, but Jesus said that if you had a little faith, you could SPEAK to a tree and it would obey you. He was showing them how to use faith. There is little practical use for telling a tree to fly into the ocean, but this example shows that nothing is impossible to the person who has faith and then speaks to physical circumstances. Note that it only works when you speak. You can't just "believe it in your heart." With the mouth confession is made unto salvation (Romans 10:10).

The idea that you can speak to situations and they have to obey you makes some people very upset, yet Jesus Himself said that you can speak to a mountain and speak to a tree! Jesus did so Himself in the case of the fig tree, proving this principle. This wasn't just something for Jesus to do – He said that YOU can speak to THINGS in faith and have them obey you! The obvious applications for healing are that you can (a) speak to the sickness and command it to leave your body and (b) speak to your body and command it to function normally.

See also:

Speaking to Mountains, Trees and Diseases

How to Build Your Faith

Healing Does Not Require Great Faith

What Mark 11:22 Really Means

The Flesh Freakout Factor

The Insecure Preacher

How Much Faith Does It Takes to Heal A Serious Illness?

If I Lay Hands on Someone and Nothing Happens, Should I Apologize to That Person for My Lack of Faith?

Objection: Faith Is Simply Trust in God, Not a Force that You Use to Change Things Yourself

Objection: Faith is a Gift from God \(Ephesians 2:8\), So You Can't Believe unless God Gives You the Faith to Do It

John 8:32:

And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.

Notes on John 8:32:

The truth only makes you free when you know it. It was already true that Jesus hung on a cross and paid the full punishment for your sins before you were born again. However, you were not free until you KNEW that truth. It is the same with healing or anything else.

Some preachers love to use this as a pay-attention trick: “The truth shall make you free, Amen! No, wrong, ha-ha, gotcha! You have to know the truth before it makes you free.” While this is so, it is very annoying when preachers do this, especially because “The truth shall make you free” is correct in this verse, even though its context is that you have to know it. Actually, it is rather irritating when a preacher deliberately misquotes scripture to see if he can catch people who are not really paying attention. I don’t see Jesus doing that, so I never do it.

See also:

How to Deal with the Devil

John 12:31:

Now is the judgment of this world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out.

See also:

How to Deal with the Devil

John 14:12-14:

Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father.

And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that I will do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son.

If ye shall ask any thing in my name, I will do it.

Notes on John 14:12-14:

Jesus said we would do the works He did. He was not talking about helping little old ladies across the street. Jesus' works were preaching, teaching, healing and casting out demons. We will do these works also. There is no sense fighting with God over this. It is plainly what Jesus said in the Bible. I think that Jesus said "verily" twice because He knew how few people would actually believe these amazing words.

Jesus said that we would do His works because He was going to His Father. In other words, He would not be around in a physical body to do miracles in person that way that He had been doing them up until then. Therefore, it would be up to US as His Body on the earth to do in person the works that He would not be able to do in person. Jesus still works miracles, but today He uses believers to accomplish them.

He went on to assure us that we could ask for anything in His name, HE would do it. This is another way to see His works done; we can ask the Father for things in the name of Jesus and receive them. Jesus said that if we ask anything in His name, He will do it, so we can ask for healing in His name and He will do the healing, because healing is a subset of anything. Anyone can go to the Father and receive healing in the name of Jesus for himself. In verse 12, He talked about doing works that meet the needs of others. In verses 13 and 14, he talked about what receiving WE want (within the confines of Scripture) when we ask the Father for things in His name.

You don't have to feel like you're full of power when you use the name of Jesus to command sickness to leave. All YOU have to do is command the healing to be done in the name of Jesus and HE backs up His name by doing the healing. It's so simple! Don't make it hard.

Many other things that need to be said about this passage are found in the discussions below.

See also:

Notes on John 15:16

The Works He Did You Can Do: Here's How

YOU Can Do Miracles

Authorized Distributors

Jesus the Healer Has Never Changed

Your Authority over Sickness

We Hold the Keys

Different Ways to Get Healed

Power, Then and Now

The Power in the Name of Jesus

Healing and the Holy Spirit

God Uses Real People

Preparing to Minister Healing

BEING Anointed vs. FEELING Anointed

Conformed to Christ's Image

Laying Hands on the Sick

All About Healing Services

The Insecure Preacher

Who You Are and What You Have

Healing and God's Glory

What Galatians 2:20 Really Means

What if I Lay Hands on People and They Don't Get Healed?

Is Deliverance a Dangerous Practice Best Left to Trained Exorcists?

Objection: John 14:12 Does Not Mean that We Can Heal as Jesus Did because NO ONE Has Ever

Duplicated His Ministry

Objection: John 14:12 in the Greek Is Collective – We Collectively Do Jesus' Works but No One Person Will Do Them

Objection: John 14:12 Was Fulfilled in the Ministry of the Apostles

Objection: The Greater Works Jesus Talked about Were Spiritual – Raising the Spiritually Dead to Life

Objection: To Say that You Received Your Healing by Your Faith Glorifies You instead of God

Objection: We Cannot Expect to Heal As Jesus Did because We Are Not the Son of God

Objection: We Cannot Heal as Jesus Did Because He Had the Spirit without Measure, While We Have the Spirit Given by Measure

Objection: Christ's Command to HEAL THE SICK Stopped before the Cross and Has Never Been Repeated Since Then, Even in Other New Testament Writings

Objection: Jesus Healed and Did Miracles to Prove His Deity

Objection: Signs Were Only to Follow Those Who Were There to Hear the Original Apostles

Objection: Teaching that Jesus Healed as an Anointed Man Is Heresy because It Denies His Deity

Objection: Not All of "Those Who Believe" Will Pick Up Snakes, So Not All of "Those Who Believe" Are Supposed to Lay Hands on the Sick and Have Them Recover \(Mark 16:17-18\)

Objection: Mark 16:17-18 Can't Mean that All Believers Can Lay Hands on the Sick because Not All Believers Did So in the Bible

Objection: Christ's Command to HEAL THE SICK Stopped before the Cross and Has Never Been Repeated Since Then, Even in Other New Testament Writings

Objection: Mark 16:9-20 Was Not in Some Early Manuscripts

Objection: We Cannot Say that We Can Do the Acts that the Apostles Did, Because We Cannot Write Scripture, and They Did

Objection: Christ's Healings Were Mostly Instantaneous; We Cannot Claim to Be Able to Do His Works When We Have So Few Instantaneous Miracles

Objection: If Everyone Could Perform Miracles, Paul's Signs of an Apostle Would Be Meaningless – He'd Be Just Like Everyone Else

John 15:7-8:

If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you. Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be my disciples.

Notes on John 15:7-8:

This is not a blanket promise. There are two conditions. You must abide in Christ, and His words must abide in you. If you meet these conditions, you can ask what you will and it will be done unto you. Do you want to be healed? Then meet these conditions, and you can ask for healing and get it. However, realize that your “asking” is really just coming to take by faith something that God already says belongs to you. You are not trying to change God’s mind in the matter.

This is far from the talk about the sovereign will of God that we hear so much about these days. God has given us more freedom than most people realize! YOU can decide what you want to receive from God. Of course, if His words abide in you, you already know God’s will in a particular matter and you can line up your will with His. Through study of God’s Word, you can know for sure that healing is God’s will for you.

Even if there were no healing promises in the Bible, this verse alone would prove that you can ask for healing and get it. Your Father is glorified when you ask for things and receive them. He wants you to do this even more than you want to do it!

See also:

No Limits

Healing Is a Good Thing

How Much Do You Desire Healing?

We Hold the Keys

Objection: “Faith Healers” Call Attention to Man and Thus Rob the Lord of Due Glory

Objection: We Should Pray, “If It Be Thy Will” Concerning Our Healing

Objection: Getting “Healed by Faith” Is Too Difficult

Objection: To Say that You Received Your Healing by Your Faith Glorifies You Instead of God

Objection: God Only Answers Prayer When You Ask Something that Is His Will

Objection: “If It Be Your Will” Must Always Be Implied – If You Could Literally Ask for ANYTHING, You Could Ask to Become God

John 15:16:

Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain: that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you.

Notes on John 15:16:

If there were no specific promises of healing in the Bible, this would prove that you could ask for it and receive it from your Father. God delights in answering prayer. He is not holding back answers! He considers praying prayers and getting answers to be bearing fruit!

Remember that your healing is already paid for, so your asking in Jesus' name would really be just "receiving" ("taking") what God has already provided for you when you pray.

This is different from John 14:12-14, where you demand that something be done in the name of Jesus. Here you ask your Father for something and receive it from Him. Both are legitimate means of obtaining healing. God has provided many different valid ways to be healed!

See also:

Healing Is a Good Thing

The Power in the Name of Jesus

We Hold the Keys

Who You Are and What You Have

John 16:23-27:

And in that day ye shall ask me nothing. Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name, he will give it you.

Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full.

These things have I spoken to you in proverbs: but the time cometh, when I shall no more speak unto you in proverbs, but I shall shew you plainly of the Father.

At that day ye shall ask in my name: and I say not unto you, that I will pray the Father for you:

For the Father himself loveth you, because ye have loved me, and have believed that I came out from God.

Notes on John 16:23-27:

“Whatsoever” includes healing. Healing is a subset of whatsoever. Therefore, you can ask the Father for healing in the name of Jesus and receive it. Jesus put no limits on this promise, and neither should you.

God wants your joy to be full. If you are laid up in the hospital or your kid is dying of leukemia, your joy will not be full. When you ask for and receive healing, then you’ll have great joy! I’m not saying that you can’t still have the joy of the Lord when you’re sick – you can. But your joy will be fuller if you’re healed!

The disciples could not pray in the name of Jesus during Jesus’ earth ministry. Jesus indicated that the rules for prayer would change after His ascension. Men would be able to pray to the Father in the name of Jesus, which no one until this time was able to do. The “Lord’s Prayer” does not contain any petition to the Father in the name of Jesus, so there are plenty of things you can pray in the New Testament that are not included in the so-called “Lord’s prayer.” So that prayer is definitely not an all-inclusive prayer for the believer.

The Father Himself loves you enough to heal you!

See also:

No Limits

Who You Are and What You Have

We Hold the Keys

Healing Is a Good Thing

How NOT to Pray for Your Healing

The Power in the Name of Jesus

Acts 11:19-21:

Now they which were scattered abroad upon the persecution that arose about Stephen travelled as far as Phenice, and Cyprus, and Antioch, preaching the word to none but unto the Jews only.

And some of them were men of Cyprus and Cyrene, which, when they were come to Antioch, spake unto the Grecians, preaching the Lord Jesus.

And the hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number believed, and turned unto the Lord.

Notes on Acts 11:19-21:

The phrase “hand of the Lord” is used throughout Scripture to refer to the manifested power of God. In this passage, some believers who were NOT among the apostles went and preached and God backed them with His power.

There were no apostles mentioned from Cyprus or Cyrene, so these men were not apostles. In fact, there is no indication that these men held any kind of New Testament ministry office. It appears that they were “ordinary” laypeople. This is further confirmation that Jesus’ words in the “Great Commission” were for ALL believers, not just those separated to ministry offices.

There are too many references to “the hand of the Lord” to justify listing them all, but a few should prove the point that “the hand of the Lord” above indicates that God was doing miraculous things through these unnamed believers. Only a couple of chapters later (Acts 13:6-12), Paul said that the “hand of the Lord” would be upon the false prophet Bar-Jesus, and he went blind for a season. In Joshua 4:23-24, God said, “For the LORD your God dried up the waters of Jordan from before you, until ye were passed over, as the LORD your God did to the Red sea, which he dried up from before us, until we were gone over: That all the people of the earth might know the hand of the LORD, that it is mighty: that ye might fear the LORD your God for ever.” In 1 Kings 18:46, we see: “And the hand of the LORD was on Elijah; and he girded up his loins, and ran before Ahab to the entrance of Jezreel.” In this case the hand of the Lord allowed Elijah to perform a “superhero” feat – running ahead of Ahab’s chariot. You can find many other such examples of the use of the phrase “hand of the Lord.”

See also:

Objection: Mark 16:17-18 Was Only for the Early Apostles, Not All Believers

Objection: “The Acts of the Apostles” Does Not Show Rank-and-File People Doing Miracles

Acts 12:21-23:

And upon a set day Herod, arrayed in royal apparel, sat upon his throne, and made an oration unto them.

And the people gave a shout, saying, It is the voice of a god, and not of a man.

And immediately the angel of the Lord smote him, because he gave not God the glory: and he was eaten of worms, and gave up the ghost.

Notes on Acts 12:21-23:

For those who believe that God would NEVER make anyone sick, this verse presents a serious problem. It was the angel of the Lord who smote Herod with a fatal illness, not an evil spirit from the devil. Even in the New Covenant, God can judge serious sin (in this case, trying to steal glory that rightfully belongs only to God). God has not hired out His judgment to the devil. He says that vengeance is HIS (Romans 12:19), so He does not send the devil to take vengeance upon people.

See also:

Notes on Psalm 78:49-51

Notes on 1 Samuel 16:14-23

YOU Can Do Miracles

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

Did God PUT Sicknesses on Old Testament People in the Old Testament or ALLOW the Devil to Do It?

Condition: Worms

Acts 13:6-12:

And when they had gone through the isle unto Paphos, they found a certain sorcerer, a false prophet, a Jew, whose name was Bar-Jesus:

Which was with the deputy of the country, Sergius Paulus, a prudent man; who called for Barnabas and Saul, and desired to hear the word of God.

But Elymas the sorcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstood them, seeking to turn away the deputy from the faith.

Then Saul (who is called Paul,) filled with the Holy Ghost, set his eyes on him,

And said, O full of all subtilty and mischief, thou child of the devil, thou enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease to pervert the right ways of the Lord?

And now, behold, the hand of the Lord is upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun for a season. And immediately there fell on him a mist and a darkness; and he went about seeking some to lead him by the hand.

Then the deputy, when he saw what was done, believed, being astonished at the doctrine of the Lord.

Notes on Acts 13:6-12:

Some people are convinced that God would NEVER make anyone sick, but the Bible clearly teaches otherwise. It was the hand of the Lord, not the hand of Satan, that sickened the sorcerer. Trying to stop someone from sharing the words of eternal life with someone else is a very serious offense in God's eyes because God wants everyone to be saved. I once had a fake minister try to interfere with my public preaching during which I led 3 members of his fake church to Christ. Very shortly thereafter, that man was reassigned to the remotest county in the state and that was the end of that problem.

You don't have to worry about this kind of judgment on yourself unless YOU are trying to interfere with the proclamation of the good news!

See also:

Notes on Acts 11:19-21

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

Signs and Wonders!

Free Refills

What Are the Differences between the Gift of Faith, the Gifts of Healings, and the Working of Miracles?

Objection: God Wouldn't Heal Paul's Thorn in the Flesh

Objection: God Creates Dumb, Deaf and Blind People \(Exodus 4:11\)

Condition: Blindness

Acts 26:18:

To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me.

Notes on Acts 26:18:

Jesus commissioned Paul to preach to the Gentiles so that they could be turned from the power of Satan to God. When you receive Jesus, you are set free from the power of Satan. You still have to resist him, but you have total victory over him. You also receive forgiveness of sins at the same time that you receive the rest of your inheritance – you do not have to continue to receive God’s forgiveness on an installment basis! However, you do need to keep forgiving YOURSELF as well as others just as God has forgiven you (Ephesians 4:32 and elsewhere).

I’m convinced that some people think that they are receiving forgiveness from God progressively because they “feel forgiven” for different sins at different times. The reality of forgiveness may “sink in” over time for different things. It may take longer for someone to really understand being forgiven for being involved in an abortion than it takes to understand being forgiven for getting drunk. But I think that what is really happening is that they are progressively forgiving themselves. All their sins (past, present and future) were actually forgiven as far as GOD was concerned as soon as they received Christ. However, they may not SENSE His forgiveness and WALK IN the reality of that forgiveness all at once, so it seems to them as if they are “receiving” forgiveness over time. In a sense they are, in that they are “receiving” for themselves a benefit of the cross in the soulish sense and walking in the light of it. What was already imparted spiritually becomes a reality in their soulish realm. This is part of the process of being set free from a guilty conscience. (However, this is NOT what 1 John 1:9 is talking about. 1 John 1:9 is about God forgiving you, not you being able to comprehend that forgiveness. If you want to know what 1 John 1:9 IS talking about, see What 1 John 1:9 Really Means.)

Finally, notice that you are sanctified – which means “set apart” or “made holy” – by faith in Jesus, not by your own efforts to be good. Holiness as your legal status with God is not the result of holiness in your actual conduct, though the latter should still be your goal.

See also:

The Kingdom of God is Here NOW

What Mark 11:22 Really Means

What 1 John 1:9 Really Means

Romans 1:26-27:

For this cause God gave them up to vile affections: for even their women did change the natural use into that which is against nature:

And likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another; men with men working that which is unseemly, and receiving in themselves that recompense of their error which was meet.

Notes on Romans 1:26-27:

This passage is as true as it ever was, despite its unpopularity among the “politically correct” crowd and ministerial cowards who will not make a bold public stand for Biblical truth. (Some like to “avoid controversy,” which they indeed do; they also avoid pleasing God.) This is part of the New Testament, so please don’t call yourself a Full Gospel pastor if you never preach it. You don’t have to ride it like a hobbyhorse, but most pastors shy away from ever proclaiming this part of the truth due to the fear of man, which brings a snare (Proverbs 29:25). I have made bold public stands on this issue in Maine (where I lived and pastored for many years), and the owner of the two local newspapers printed attack articles against me, telling everyone to get away from me and my church. He refused to print my letters in response and he would never print my press releases either. (No one left because of him, by the way, and they were his papers, so he had the right to express any opinion he wanted and filter news as he saw fit.) But that never stopped me. Persecution is part of living godly in Christ Jesus (2 Timothy 3:12).

How are people going to get set free from a vile, unnatural, erroneous, lustful, disease-breeding lifestyle if no one tells them that it’s wrong, let alone that there is Someone who wants to set them free? The devil has been very busy telling everyone, especially schoolchildren, that various forms of immorality and perversion are to be celebrated and welcomed. If we clam up, that is the ONLY side they will hear. People who engage in these practices are sinners for whom Christ died. How can we not tell them that there is a better way and let them know the plan of salvation? Some people in Corinth were homosexuals before they were saved (1 Corinthians 6:9-11), so sexually perverted people are certainly not beyond God’s loving reach.

See also:

Notes on John 9:1-7

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

What Did I Do to Deserve This Sickness?

Am I Sick because I Left a Door Open to the Devil?

Objection: Because We Are Still Capable of Sinning, We Must Be Subject to Sickness, an Effect of Sin

Objection: God Wouldn’t Heal Paul’s Thorn in the Flesh

Condition: Venereal Diseases

Romans 2:4:

Or despisest thou the riches of his goodness and forbearance and longsuffering; not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance?

Notes on Romans 2:4:

It is God's goodness, not His judgments, that lead men to repentance. You can see in the book of Revelation that God's judgments, though fully deserved by those subject to them, do NOT lead people to repentance. They are punishment for those who do not repent, not incentives for people to repent. (See Revelation 16:1-2, Revelation 16:10-11). Jesus did not run around punishing everyone for sin. Instead, He demonstrated God's goodness as He healed the sick.

See also:

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

Be Bold with Your Healing Testimony

Would God Heal an Unbeliever?

If Unforgiveness Is a Hindrance, How Did ALL the Multitudes Get Healed – Surely There Were Some Who Hadn't Forgiven Their Ex-Spouses?

To What Extent Are Prolific Miracles Limited to Those Called to the Ministry?

Is a Particular Epidemic God's Judgment on Our Country?

Objection: God Works All Things for Good \(Romans 8:28\); This Includes Sickness

Objection: God Uses Sickness to Draw Us Closer to Himself

Objection: God Could Use So-and-So Powerfully because She was Paralyzed When She Was Young

Romans 5:5:

And hope maketh not ashamed; because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us.

Notes on Romans 5:5:

God's love is in you. His compassion is now part of your makeup. YOU can have compassion on the sick just as Jesus had compassion on the sick. Let God's love and compassion flow through you into others.

See also:

Who You Are and What You Have

The Kingdom of God is Here NOW

Mistake: Unforgiveness

Romans 5:17:

For if by one man's offence death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ.)

Notes on Romans 5:17:

I am convinced that one of the biggest roadblocks to healing is not understanding who you really are in Christ. Many Christians still think that they are on a performance basis with God, meaning that the better they live, the more they think that God will bless them. That is not the New Covenant! God has ALREADY blessed you (Ephesians 1:3) before you do anything right or wrong! Your right standing with God that enables you to access everything in the New Covenant was already handed to you as a GIFT when you made Jesus your Lord. You cannot work it up, so don't try. Just be humble enough to accept what's free!

See also:

What If You Sin?

You Have Faith

You Are Holy and Worthy to Receive Healing

Who You Are and What You Have

If You Blow It

You Win!

Healing – a Gift from God

You're Dead!

The Insecure Preacher

Healing and Repentance

What 1 John 1:9 Really Means

Ruined Righteousness

What Did I Do to Deserve This Sickness?

Did Jesus Literally Bear ALL Our Diseases or Just Representative Samples of Each One?

Job Explained

Objection: Paul Told Timothy to Drink Wine Instead of Believing God for Healing

Objection: If We Are Subject to Death, We Are Subject to Sickness

Romans 8:32:

He that spared not his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how shall he not with him also freely give us all things?

Notes on Romans 8:32:

Let any man who believes that God withholds healing from us “for a reason, for a season” read this verse and get his head straightened out. God freely gives us all things. That means that God freely gives us healing, because healing is included in all things. He does not hold it back; He freely gives it to us. God is a giver! He is not a tightwad with His blessings.

See also:

Who You Are and What You Have

Healing Is a Good Thing

Your Heavenly Father and Your Healing

The Kingdom of God is Here NOW

Jesus Opened Heaven

All About Healing Services

Objection: God Sometimes Withholds Healing to Test Your Faith

Romans 10:9-10:

That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved.

For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation.

Notes on Romans 10:9-10:

Because salvation in the New Testament incorporates forgiveness, healing, and deliverance from evil in this life (see Saved!), it should follow that with your heart you believe and with your mouth confession is made unto healing. In other words, you must say that you are healed before your body will be healed. You can't wait until after your body is healed to say so any more than you can wait to feel saved from your sins before you confess that Jesus has saved you from your sins. Confession is made unto, not after, salvation! This point is elaborated upon in the discussions below.

See also:

Notes on Joshua 1:7-8

Notes on Mark 16:15-18

Notes on Luke 17:5-6

Saved!

How to Be Saved from Your Sins

Say What

Don't Drag People to the Altar

Who You Are and What You Have

Prayers God Won't Answer

How to Build Your Faith

The Confession UNTO Faith and the Confession OF Faith

You're Dead!

What Romans 8:11 Really Means

Does Faith Come from Your Spirit, Your Mind or Somewhere Else?

Objection: Faith Is Simply Trust in God, Not a Force that You Use to Change Things Yourself

Objection: David Was Honest Enough to Sing to God about His Sicknesses; We Should Pray "Honest"

Prayers Like His Rather Than Saying We're Healed When Our Bodies Say Otherwise

Objection: It Is Presumption to Think that Life and Death Are in Your Power

Objection: Faith Preachers are Trinity-Denying Heretics because They Teach that Jesus Died Spiritually

Objection: Occult Practitioners Attempt to Confess Things into Existence and Speak to Material Things to Make Them Change

Objection: Only Some People Have the "Gift of Faith" to Believe for Healing

Condition: Venereal Diseases

Romans 10:17:

So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God.

Notes on Romans 10:17:

You already have the measure of faith (Romans 12:3), which gives you the ABILITY to believe. However, you have no idea WHAT to believe until you hear the Word of God. Then faith comes for specific blessings.

Some teachers have said that this verse should be punctuated to say that faith comes by “hearing and hearing” by the Word of God, meaning a continuous hearing. I understand the point they’re trying to make – that you should keep hearing the Word rather than just saying, “I heard that already” without studying anything twice. It is true that the original Greek is unpunctuated, which gives us liberty to repunctuate anything in a way that doesn’t cause a contradiction. However, the “hearing and hearing” rewrite of this verse is incorrect from a Greek perspective because of the Greek word dia, which is translated by in this verse. It usually does mean by or through. So the rewrite would work without the word dia – “Faith cometh by hearing and hearing the Word of God” – but the presence of the word dia ruins that translation, as “hearing and hearing by the Word of God” does not make grammatical sense. The verse is best left as-is.

You could cite plenty of other Scriptures about abiding in the Word; you don’t have to mispunctuate this verse to prove that you should keep hearing the Word.

See also:

How to Build Your Faith

Don’t Do This

Preparing to Minister Healing

Preaching the Name of Jesus Christ

Don’t Preach a D- Gospel

Healing and Effort

Laying Hands on the Sick

The Insecure Preacher

How Can We See More Miracles Today?

How Can Faith COME by Hearing When We Already HAVE the Measure of Faith?

Objection: I Tried That Faith Stuff, and It Didn’t Work

Objection: Faith is a Gift from God, Not Something You Work up Yourself

Objection: Only Some People Have the “Gift of Faith” to Believe for Healing

Romans 12:3:

For I say, through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but to think soberly, according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith.

Notes on Romans 12:3:

God has given you faith as a gift. It is not something that you work up; it is something that you already have. Don't let the devil lie to you, telling you that you don't have any faith. This verse proves that you do! The word measure is the Greek word metron, which indicates a measure designed to contain a fixed amount of something. Thus, God gives everyone the same measure of faith, though some people do more with it than others. Because Jesus had to be made a REAL MAN like you, God gave you and Jesus the same measure of faith, though it's safe to say that He made the greatest use of it of all people who have ever lived. He showed you what is possible for YOU walking as a person who exercises faith. What HIS faith did, YOUR faith can do, because it's the same faith. Thus, it's not necessary to ask God for "the God-kind of faith" because you already have it!

See also:

Notes on Matthew 21:18-22

Notes on Romans 10:17

You Have Faith

Faith Is a Gift from God

Who You Are and What You Have

You're Not an Exception

Peace in a Storm

What Mark 11:22 Really Means

The Insecure Preacher

Would God Heal an Unbeliever?

Does Mark 11:23 Work for Unbelievers?

What Are the Differences between the Gift of Faith, the Gifts of Healings, and the Working of Miracles?

How Can Faith COME by Hearing When We Already HAVE the Measure of Faith?

How Can My Faith GROW if I Already Have the Fixed Measure of Faith?

Is Faith a Force?

If God Gives Everyone Faith, How Can Anyone Ever Be in Unbelief? Isn't Unbelief the Absence of Faith?

How Can Faith Be Both a Fruit of the Spirit and a Gift of the Spirit?

Does Faith Come from Your Spirit, Your Mind or Somewhere Else?

Objection: Many Who Are "in Faith" for Their Healing Die Anyway

Objection: We Cannot Expect to Heal As Jesus Did Because We Are Not the Son of God

Objection: Mark 16:18 Does Not Say, "They Shall Recover IF They Have Enough Faith," Yet Faith Healers Blame the Sick for Not Believing

Objection: Teaching Grace Gives People a License to Sin

Objection: Faith is a Gift from God (Ephesians 2:8), So You Can't Believe unless God Gives You the Faith to Do It

Objection: Faith is a Gift from God, Not Something You Work up Yourself

Objection: Faith Teaching Negates Compassion on the Sufferer; We're Taught Instead to Blame the Person for Not Having Enough Faith

Objection: Only Some People Have the "Gift of Faith" to Believe for Healing

1 Corinthians 2:12:

Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God.

Notes on 1 Corinthians 2:12:

God wants every person to know that healing has been freely given to him. The Holy Spirit will help illuminate you on this matter. When you realize that healing has been freely given to you by God, you'll know better than to ever beg Him for it again!

See also:

Everything's Yours, Including Healing

Why God Can Never Withhold Healing from You

Healing and the Holy Spirit

Who You Are and What You Have

God's Mercy and Compassion

Objection: God Sometimes Withholds Healing to Test Your Faith

Objection: God Is Not a Vending Machine

1 Corinthians 6:9-11:

Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind, Nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God.

And such were some of you: but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God.

Notes on 1 Corinthians 6:9-11:

Here is proof that Jesus can set you free from fornication, idolatry, adultery, being an passive homosexual, being an aggressive homosexual, thievery, covetousness, alcoholism, a nasty mouth, and being an extortioner. Such were some of the people at Corinth, which means that they no longer were any of those things. They were set free, and you can be set free, too!

(Effeminate is the translation of the word for a passive homosexual who allows an abuser of himself with mankind – an aggressive homosexual – to perform unnatural acts on him.)

There is no point in watering down the message of this passage. It means exactly what it says plainly.

Anyone claiming to be a “Christian homosexual” is just as deceived as someone claiming to be a “Christian extortioner” or a “Christian thief.” If you buy into the person’s lie, you are deceived too!

See also:

Notes on Romans 1:26-27

Can I Get Healed of Alcoholism, Drug Abuse, Pornography and Homosexuality?

Who or What Causes Sickness?

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

What 1 John 1:9 Really Means

Objection: Healing Cannot Be in the Atonement because Healing Can Be Lost, but Salvation Cannot Be Lost

Condition: Venereal Diseases

1 Corinthians 11:27-32:

Wherefore whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord, unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord.

But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup.

For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himself, not discerning the Lord's body.

For this cause many are weak and sickly among you, and many sleep.

For if we would judge ourselves, we should not be judged.

But when we are judged, we are chastened of the Lord, that we should not be condemned with the world.

Notes on 1 Corinthians 11:27-32:

This doesn't mean what many people think it does. Many people are afraid to partake of the Lord's Supper because of a misunderstanding about the word unworthily. It means in an unworthy manner, not in an unworthy state. You aren't in an unworthy state if you're born again, anyway, but many churches have no revelation of that either. God will not strike you with sickness or premature death if there is sin in your life when you receive the Lord's Supper, which is a good thing because there IS sin in your life and in the lives of everyone else who receives the Lord's Supper! The only time judgment could fall on you relating to the Lord's Supper is if you steal other people's elements so that they can't obey Jesus themselves by partaking, or otherwise show gross contempt for Christ's body when this should be a time that inspires unity.

"Not discerning the Lord's body" would seem to refer to the Church, because if it referred to the elements themselves, it seems that Paul would have to have said, "Not discerning the Lord's body and blood." Besides, the elements are not LITERALLY the Lord's body and blood (despite some groups that teach "transubstantiation," meaning that the bread and wine literally become the body and blood of Jesus – which is NEVER stated in Scripture), so you don't literally see the Lord's body; you see a SYMBOL of the Lord's broken body.

Even then, it is true that failure to understand that Jesus' body was broken can result in staying sick. So taking communion lightly is taking lightly a symbol of the provision for your healing, which can result in you staying sick. However, in the passage above, it seems that they became sick as judgment as opposed to staying sick with sicknesses that originally had nothing to do with judgment. Good people read this both ways and it's not a life-or-death issue, but I'm satisfied with my take on it.

While the chastening that went on might make it seem on the surface that God was reacting in anger to the Corinthians, the passage ends by saying that His judgment was to avoid having them be condemned with the world. If these people were not taken out, they could have continued down a path that would have led them away from Christ completely. The ones who were simply made sick were being warned to get off a path that would hurt them.

See also:

Notes on 1 Samuel 5:1-6:5

Notes on 2 Kings 15:5

Notes on 2 Chronicles 26:16-21

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

Different Ways to Ge Healed

Healing and the Lord's Supper

If You Are Sick, Does that Mean There Is Sin in Your Life?

Am I Sick because God is Mad at Me?

Can I Get Sick or Die By Partaking of Communion While Unworthy to Do So?

Objection: David Said that It Was GOOD that He Was Afflicted, So It Can Be with Us

Objection: God Clearly SENT Plagues in the Old Testament. We Cannot Say that God Never Makes People Sick, because He Obviously Did.

Objection: Sickness Can Be the Chastening of the Lord

Objection: God Creates Evil \(Isaiah 45:7\), Kills, and Wounds \(Deuteronomy 32:39\)

Objection: God Wouldn't Heal Paul's Thorn in the Flesh

Objection: Paul Told Timothy to Drink Wine Instead of Believing God for Healing

Objection: God Works in Mysterious Ways, His Wonders to Perform. We'll Never Know Why God Lets Some People Stay Sick.

Condition: Weakness

Mistake: Wrong Treatment of the Body of Christ

1 Corinthians 15:57:

But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

Notes on 1 Corinthians 15:57:

This doesn't say to thank God who "lets you win" the victory. You don't have to win the victory – it's a gift from the Lord Jesus Christ! If a man wins a million dollars going through horrific ordeals on a reality TV show, he's a conqueror, but if he goes home to his wife and she gets to spend some of it, she's more than a conqueror! Jesus has made you more than a conqueror, not a conqueror. That's because you didn't have to do the conquering.

You don't have to bind a strong man before you can plunder his house. Jesus talked about that (Matthew 12:29, Mark 3:27), but HE is the strong man who plundered Satan and took his armor away. That isn't YOUR job! You receive the victory that Jesus won for you; you don't fight for it yourself.

If you have victory through Jesus, that includes victory over sickness and pain! Thanks be to God!

See also:

Who You Are and What You Have

You Win!

The Temporary Curse

Does a Serious Sickness Attack Prove that a Major Breakthrough Is Just Ahead?

Objection: Just As We Will Never Have Victory Over Sin in This Life, We Will Never Have Victory over Sickness

Objection: We Are Supposed to Thank God for Everything, Which Would Include Sickness \(1 Thessalonians 5:18\)

Objection: God Works All Things for Good \(Romans 8:28\); This Includes Sickness

2 Corinthians 2:14:

Now thanks be unto God, which always causeth us to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the savour of his knowledge by us in every place.

Notes on 2 Corinthians 2:14:

“Always triumphing” in Christ includes always triumphing over sickness! God doesn’t just give you victory over things other than sickness and leave you to tough it out if you’re sick. Believe that you triumph in Christ over sickness! God gives you the victory through Christ!

See also:

Who You Are and What You Have

You Win!

What Is “Inner Healing,” and Do I Need It?

Dealing with Fear

The Temporary Curse

Does a Serious Sickness Attack Prove that a Major Breakthrough Is Just Ahead?

Objection: We Are Supposed to Thank God for Everything, Which Would Include Sickness \(1 Thessalonians 5:18\)

Objection: God’s Healing Covenant in the Law of Moses Was Only for the Jews

Objection: God Wouldn’t Heal Paul’s Thorn in the Flesh

Objection: Job Was a Godly Man, Yet God Let Him Get Sick

Objection: Paul Told Timothy to Drink Wine Instead of Believing God for Healing

Objection: God Works All Things for Good \(Romans 8:28\); This Includes Sickness

2 Corinthians 4:13:

We having the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, I believed, and therefore have I spoken; we also believe, and therefore speak;

Notes on 2 Corinthians 4:13:

If you say, "I believe I'm healed but I don't want to say anything to anyone until it manifests," you're lying. A person who REALLY believes that he has received his healing is willing to testify that he has that healing right now regardless of what things look like.

See also:

Notes on Joshua 1:7-8

Notes on James 2:14-26

What Faith Isn't

Say What

Speaking to Mountains, Trees and Diseases

How to Tell if You're in Faith or Not

The Confession UNTO Faith and the Confession OF Faith

2 Corinthians 5:21:

For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him.

Notes on Corinthians 5:21:

People stumble over the idea that Jesus could be “made sin” as well as the idea that we could be “made righteousness,” but that is what the Bible teaches! Jesus didn’t just bear sin; He had to BECOME sin – die spiritually, so that He could be RAISED spiritually as well as physically. This opened the door for us to be RAISED spiritually with Him. If Jesus only BORE our sins but He never BECAME sin and had to be born again, His bloodshed on the cross would have paid for the forgiveness for all our sins, but to this day we would only be forgiven sinners instead of “the righteousness of God in Him.”

See also:

Notes on Numbers 21:5-9

Notes on John 3:14

Notes on Galatians 3:10-14

Who You Are and What You Have

You’re Dead!

What If You Sin?

God’s Promises Have Conditions

How to Deal with the Devil

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

What 1 John 1:9 Really Means

Does UNCONFESED Sin in My Life Stop Me from Getting Healed?

Objection: Christ Did NOT Actually Bear the Deuteronomy 28:15-68 Curse Himself because He Could Not Have “Borne” Our Mildew, Droughts, Bad Crops, Children Sent to Captivity, and Other Things Mentioned in That Curse

Objection: It Makes No Sense to Say that Jesus Bore Our Sins but Only ONE of Their Consequences \(Sickness\)

Objection: Jesus Could Not Literally BECOME SIN because Sin Is a Thing, Not a Person

Objection: Jesus Was Not Really PUNISHED for Our Sins; He Just Shed Blood to Aton for Them

Objection: We Should Never Teach that Jesus Was Cursed because No One Speaking by The Holy Spirit Can Call Jesus Cursed \(1 Corinthians 12:3\)

Objection: Faith Preachers are Trinity-Denying Heretics because They Teach that Jesus Died Spiritually

Condition: Tumors

2 Corinthians 10:3-5:

For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war after the flesh:

(For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds;)

Casting down imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ;

Notes on 2 Corinthians 10:3-5:

Many Christians misinterpret this passage as proving the need to “pull down” demonic strongholds over cities. Our warfare does not go on in the upper troposphere somewhere; it goes on between people’s two ears! It is thoughts (imagination) that are being cast down here, not demons. The high “things” are not demons, but thoughts, as you can see here – we bring into captivity every thought (not every demon) to the obedience of Christ. Jesus already defeated the demons themselves (Colossians 2:15), so you don’t need to defeat them again! God gives us His armor, which is primarily defensive in nature, not for attacking Satan but for “standing” your ground. The ground has already been taken and you are part of God’s occupying army, not part of His warring army. Now you’re just defending what you already have been given; you’re not taking new ground.

You don’t see Jesus, His disciples, or any other New Testament believers “binding” principalities over areas. If principalities were what you were supposed to bind, there would be instruction on doing so and examples of people who did it. There are no such examples. Trying to do so is waste of time that serves only to glorify demons, not Jesus. Frankly, they like the attention, and they’ll probably come hang out where they can get it. Often so-called “spiritual warfare” experts lament how Satan is ceaselessly attacking them, supposedly because Satan and his cohorts are so afraid of their special spiritual warfare methods. Actually, they open doors to Satan’s team by talking all the time about how big and powerful Satan and his principalities are. Just walking in the victory over Satan that Jesus already won for me is preferable to the idea of struggling to win a won battle. When you walk in that victory, you don’t feel like you’re under attack all the time because you don’t feel like you’re in a spiritual slugfest all the time. You’re not; Jesus already punched the devil’s lights out for you. You can just go ahead and enjoy your free victory that Jesus won for you.

We saw amazing miracles at the church we pastored, and we never “bound demons” over that town. We didn’t have to; they were already defeated. They just had to stay there and sulk while watching Jesus perform signs and wonders. Nothing can stop the Word from working when it’s mixed with faith! Our job is to preach the Word, not to defeat a defeated foe.

See also:

Casting Out the Spirit of Stupidity

How to Deal with the Devil

Condition: Depression

Galatians 6:7-9:

Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.
For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting.
And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not.

Notes on Galatians 6:7-9:

This is a spiritual law that will either work for you or against you. If you choose to live in the flesh, you will reap corruption, which will certainly interfere with your healing. On the positive side, if you sow to the Spirit by fellowshiping with God, reading and thinking about His Word and living right, you will reap the benefits of the life of God, including healing. This is not talking about mere salvation, because Paul says that in due season we shall reap. He is talking about receiving the benefits of the Spirit in this life.

This passage does not mean that you can sow good works and thereby “merit” healing. Healing is based on 100% grace and 0% personal merit. However, if you pray and read the Word, you will build yourself up so that you are able to walk in the privileges that eternal life gives you. If you never pray but just indulge your flesh all evening watching TV, you will be dominated by your flesh, which will lead to corruption.

See also:

Am I Sick because I Left a Door Open to the Devil?

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

Paper Roadblocks to Healing

Healing and Repentance

Objection: God Wouldn't Heal Paul's Thorn in the Flesh

Objection: Teaching Grace Gives People a License to Sin

Ephesians 1:3:

Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ:

Notes on Ephesians 1:3:

“All blessings” certainly include healing! You are already blessed with healing; it is there for the taking.

It’s a great day when you learn that Jesus has already provided everything you’ll ever need! Our part is only to receive, not to harass God into doing something new about our needs. You don’t have to pray to be blessed as Jabez did in the Old Testament; you’re already blessed!

You can be much more productive in prayer when you just receive what’s yours. That will give you more time to intercede for others.

See also:

Notes on Romans 5:17

Notes on Colossians 2:10

Notes on 2 Peter 1:3-4

Everything’s Yours, Including Healing

God’s Healing Provision is Past Tense

Who You Are and What You Have

The #1 Mistake People Make When They Need Healing

You Have Faith

If You Blow It

The Kingdom of God is Here NOW

Why God Can Never Withhold Healing from You

Jesus Opened Heaven

Healing and the Prodigal Son

All About Healing Services

Must I Engage in Spiritual Warfare to See the Manifestation of My Healing?

Objection: It Is More Humble to Ask for Grace than to “Claim Your Rights”

Objection: 3 John 2 Is a Greeting and Cannot Be Claimed as a Promise

Objection: We Are Healed by Jesus’ Stripes, Not by Jesus’ Stripes PLUS Our Faith

Objection: God Sometimes Withholds Healing to Test Your Faith

Objection: God Afflicted Jacob with a Hip Problem \(Genesis 32:25, 31\)

Ephesians 1:15-23:

Wherefore I also, after I heard of your faith in the Lord Jesus, and love unto all the saints,
Cease not to give thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers;
That the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give unto you the spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of him:
The eyes of your understanding being enlightened; that ye may know what is the hope of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints,
And what is the exceeding greatness of his power to us-ward who believe, according to the working of his mighty power,
Which he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead, and set him at his own right hand in the heavenly places,
Far above all principality, and power, and might, and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this world, but also in that which is to come:
And hath put all things under his feet, and gave him to be head over all things to the church,
Which is his body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all.

Notes on Ephesians 1:15-23:

You are seated with Christ in heavenly places (Ephesians 2:6), so it's good to know where that is.
According to this passage, it's far above all principality, power, might and dominion! You outrank Satan and all his cohorts. That's why it's improper to point up at the devil when resisting him. He isn't UP to you – he's FAR DOWN!

Paul did not pray for people to get power. Anyone baptized with the Holy Spirit already has power. Paul prayed that the people with the power would get a revelation of the power they already had! That is a very worthwhile prayer for you to pray for yourself. You know it's God's will because it's His Word, so
He will definitely answer that prayer!

All things are under Jesus' feet. He is the Head and we are the Body. Your feet are part of your body.
Thus, all things are under OUR feet because we are part of Christ's body. This means that Satan is under OUR feet.

We can see God's vision for His Church in this passage – Christ's body. We are to be His "fullness." In other words, what Jesus has, we have. We should act the way Jesus did and thus represent Him faithfully to the world. If we do not offer healing to the world the same way that Jesus did, we are not
His fullness after all – we're only His partiality!

While your English teacher may disagree, this Scripture passage proves that writing run-on sentences is not a sin.

See also:

God's Power toward You

How to Deal with the Devil

Your Authority over Sickness

Everything's Yours, Including Healing

Authorized Distributors

Why God Can Never Withhold Healing from You

Jesus, the Best Faith Teacher

Crossing the Bridge from Head Knowledge to Revelation Knowledge

Paper Roadblocks to Healing

What 1 John 1:9 Really Means

What Can I Do to Make God's Written Word Become "Rhema" to Me?

Is Deliverance a Dangerous Practice Best Left to Trained Exorcists?

Objection: 3 John 2 Is a Greeting and Cannot Be Claimed as a Promise

Objection: Wesley Said, "Whatever Is True Is Not New, and Whatever Is New Is Not True." Nobody Believed that Healing Was in the Atonement until Recently, So It Is Not True

Ephesians 2:6:

And [God] hath raised us up together, and made us sit together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus:

Notes on Ephesians 2:6:

If the Body of Christ would just understand this one concept, there would be a lot less sickness. As far as God is concerned, you rule and reign with Jesus Christ in this life. (Paul also said that you would reign in life through Jesus Christ in Romans 5:17.) You sit with Christ, far above the devil and all his cohorts. You have authority over the devil. You don't have to sit there and let the devil oppress you with sickness. You can put a stop to it. The devil is way, way, below you because you're seated with Christ FAR above him! You need to start acting on that reality and stop putting up with the garbage that the devil tries to get you to "just live with."

See also:

Notes on Ephesians 1:15-23

God's Power toward You

Paper Roadblocks to Healing

How to Deal with the Devil

Who You Are and What You Have

Free Access to the Throne!

Ruined Righteousness

Should We Plead the Blood when Dealing with Demons?

Is Deliverance a Dangerous Practice Best Left to Trained Exorcists?

Ephesians 3:20:

Now unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us,

Notes on Ephesians 3:20:

The fact that God can do more than we can think shows the necessity of praying in other tongues. Otherwise, we'll limit God to answering prayers that our heads can think up.

Many people forget the end of this verse; they just say that God can do exceedingly abundantly above all that we ask or think, and they leave it at that. But the way that He does it is based on the power that works in us! We need to be aware of His mighty power that works in us.

See also:

God's Power toward You

Who You Are and What You Have

No Limits

Ephesians 4:24:

And that ye put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness.

Notes on Ephesians 4:24:

Very few Christians really understand this great truth. Your new spirit has never been anything but righteous. As far as your spirit man (the real you) is concerned, you were never changed from unrighteous to righteous. The “new you” was created in righteousness. So you are righteous because you were literally born that way! You’ve been that way ever since the moment you surrendered your life to the lordship of Jesus.

Thus, you are most definitely NOT a “sinner saved by grace.” You WERE a sinner before you were saved by grace. Now you are a saint, not a sinner. You are a righteous, holy new creation.

See also:

Notes on Proverbs 18:14

Notes on John 11:1-44

You Are Holy and Worthy to Receive Healing

Who You Are and What You Have

Different Ways to Get Healed

Mistaken Prayer Mindsets

Your Spirit Isn't Sick

You Have Authority over Your Body

Ridiculous Healing Confession Bondage

Healing and Citizenship

You're Dead!

What 1 John 1:9 Really Means

How to Be Baptized with the Holy Spirit

How Much Faith Does It Take to Heal a Serious Illness?

How Can I Get Rid of Unbelief?

Does Faith Come from Your Spirit, Your Mind or Somewhere Else?

What Is the Difference between Unbelief and Doubt?

How Can the Leaves of the Tree of Life in Heaven Be for the Healing of the Nations If There is No Sickness in Heaven?

Can a Christian Have a Demon?

Objection: Galatians 3:13's "Curse" Speaks of Spiritual Death, Not Sickness or Poverty

Objection: Faith Preachers Embrace Mormon-Like Teaching that We Can Become Gods, or are "Little Gods" Already, So They are Evil Cultists

Objection: James 5 in Context Speaks of a Believer Who Has Sinned and Spiritual Healing

Objection: Jesus Said It Is Better to Enter Heaven with One Eye or Hand than to Go to Hell

Ephesians 4:27:

Neither give place [opportunity] to the devil.

Notes on Ephesians 4:27:

The fact that you are commanded not give the devil an opportunity proves that you have the power to shut him out. It is not a matter of asking God to do something about the devil. He did something about the devil when Christ defeated him. He gave YOU authority over the devil, so it is up to you to use it. If you don't use your authority, nothing will improve, because God will not do anything about the devil for you. It's your job to resist the devil, not God's job to resist him for you.

See also:

Casting Out the Spirit of Stupidity

How to Deal with the Devil

Who Is in Control of Your Life?

Hop on It!

Am I Sick because I Left a Door Open to the Devil?

Is There a Danger that a Demon that Has Just Been Cast Out Will Go into Another Person Who is Present?

Ephesians 5:5-7:

For this ye know, that no whoremonger, nor unclean person, nor covetous man, who is an idolater, hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God.

Let no man deceive you with vain words: for because of these things cometh the wrath of God upon the children of disobedience.

Be not ye therefore partakers with them.

Notes on Ephesians 5:5-7:

MANY people are being deceived with vain words in our day. These vain words say that you can do the types of things Paul describes and still be a Christian. Don't be one of the deceived ones. There are fake Christians out there whom Jesus never knew (Matthew 7:21-23). You'll know them by their fruits.

The ongoing presence of these sins can never be the cause of a believer losing his salvation, but they CAN be the EFFECTS! The ongoing presence of these sins proves that the person is NOT a believer!

See also:

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

Objection: Healing Cannot Be in the Atonement because Healing Can Be Lost, but Salvation Cannot Be Lost

Ephesians 5:23:

For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the church: and he is the saviour of the body.

Notes on Ephesians 5:23:

This is another proof that God is the Healer of His people not only in the Old Testament but also in the New Testament. Of course, when Paul says that Christ is the savior of the body, the word body refers to His Church as opposed to a physical body of an individual. If the word body were the only issue here, you could dismiss this as not being a healing scripture. However, this is a healing scripture because it states that Christ is the savior of the body. The word savior is derived from the same Greek word translated save, heal, make whole and preserve elsewhere in the New Testament.

In other words, Jesus does more for His Church than simply saving us from sin. He is the savior of the body, meaning that He is its healer and deliverer as well as its redeemer from sins. Just as God is The Lord Your Healer on an ongoing basis, Christ is the Healer of His body on an ongoing basis. He saves us from all of our difficulties. He is far more than simply the One who redeemed us from hell. He is our merciful High Priest who ever lives to make intercession for us. He is our Savior, in every sense of the word, in the here and now.

Ephesians 6:10-18:

Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might.

Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil.

For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places.

Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand.

Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness;

And your feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace;

Above all, taking the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked.

And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God:

Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance and supplication for all saints;

Notes on Ephesians 6:10-18:

God's armor is not designed to enable you to stand against the power of the devil. Read the verses carefully. God's armor is provided to protect you from the wiles (deceit) of the devil, NOT the power of the devil! Satan lost his power over you the day you exited his kingdom, which was when you gave your life to Jesus (Colossians 1:13). Now he can't overcome you with spiritual power – he doesn't have any over you. His weapon now is deception. Just as he deceived Eve into disbelieving God's words, he tries to deceive you into thinking that God's Word really isn't true, or that at least it doesn't really apply to you personally.

God's armor is defensive because you don't use it to attack Satan; you use it to defend what God already gave you. The armor all revolves around the Word in one way or another. Just as Jesus repelled Satan by quoting what was written, you repel him when you quote what is written to him. Of course, you have to read your Bible so that you know what's written before you can do that.

You aren't commanded to be strong in yourself, to just be a man and suck it up when things go wrong. You are to tap into GOD'S might and be strong in that. You could be very weak from a fleshly perspective, but when you tap into God's might, you're more than a match for any situation.

Many are confused into thinking that they are fighting a spiritual war in the atmosphere somewhere. But Paul said that we wrestle, which denotes hand-to-hand combat, not launching prayer ICBM's up at demons in the sky. The principalities try to promote deception. They want you to do the wrong thing. That's why you need God's armor – so that you know the Word and are not deceived.

You don't see anyone in the Bible engaged in the modern false concept of spiritual warfare, trying to "battle" demons over cities. If the people in the Bible didn't need to do it, neither do you.

See also:

Casting Out the Spirit of Stupidity

How to Deal with the Devil

What Faith Is

You're Dead!

Healing and Effort

Must I Engage in Spiritual Warfare to See the Manifestation of My Healing?

Should We Plead the Blood when Dealing with Demons?

Objection: Faith Does Not Always Overcome – God Can Give Both OVERCOMING and ENDURING Faith

Objection: Faith Preachers are Trinity-Denying Heretics because They Teach that Jesus Died Spiritually

Objection: You Can Have Greater Peace by Accepting Your Illness than by Struggling to Get Healed

Condition: Weakness

Philippians 2:9-11:

Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name:
That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth;
And that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

Notes on Philippians 2:9-11:

This very misunderstood passage does not speak of a coming day when all demons and people will have to bow before Jesus. It isn't even about bowing before Jesus, if you read it carefully. It is about bowing before the NAME of Jesus. Who uses that name? Jesus doesn't. YOU do! When you command a demon to leave in the NAME of Jesus, that knee has to bow. When you command cancer or any other sickness to leave in the NAME of Jesus, its knee has to bow.

Jesus' name is above every name. Does a certain condition in question have a name? (Or these days, at least initials; they count as a name for our purposes!) If the condition has a name, it must bow before the NAME of Jesus, which is above every name – arthritis, diabetes, hypertension, glaucoma, carpal tunnel syndrome, angina, AIDS, hepatitis, Lyme disease and so on!

I realize that by saying that this refers to what the Church does, it leaves the interesting question of how anything “under the earth” would bow at the Name of Jesus when used by the Church, as we don't go there. I think a reasonable answer is that in the future, we will judge angels (1 Corinthians 6:3), and that will be done by Jesus' authority, that is to say, in His name. Those angels will be sent to damnation “below the earth” being subject to the name of Jesus through the Church.

See also:

Paper Roadblocks to Healing

How to Deal with the Devil

Your Authority over Sickness

Who You Are and What You Have

The Power in the Name of Jesus

YOU Can Do Miracles

How Can Birth Defects Be Part of the Curse for Breaking the Law from which We Are Redeemed? It

Would Make No Sense for God to Say that If You Break His Law, He'll Give You Birth Defects.

I Have a Birth Defect. I Need a Miracle. How Do I Get It?

Must We Fast and Pray to Make Certain Demons Leave?

Objection: Paul Told Timothy to Drink Wine Instead of Believing God for Healing

Objection: Jesus Now Has ALL Authority, So if Satan Afflicts You, He Has to Get Jesus' Permission First

Philippians 4:19:

But my God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus.

Notes on Philippians 4:19:

The immediate context here is finances, but meeting “all” your need would include any need you have for healing. God considers healing a need in light of Luke 9:11, where Jesus healed those who “had need of healing.”

Contrary to the impression many people have, this verse does not mean that Jesus will take something in heaven (which they see as the meaning of “glory”) and use it to meet your need. The end of this verse can also be translated “in Christ Jesus” and the point is that your needs are already met in Christ. So when God meets your need, He is simply releasing something that is already earmarked for you based on His covenant. He is not whipping up some new provision that wasn’t there before.

See also:

The #1 Mistake People Make When They Need Healing

Everything’s Yours, Including Healing

Who You Are and What You Have

Grace + Faith = Miracles

Dealing with Fear

What 1 John 1:9 Really Means

Objection: God Meets Your Spiritual Needs, Not Your Physical Needs

Objection: God’s Healing Covenant in the Law of Moses Was Only for the Jews

Colossians 1:12-14:

Giving thanks unto the Father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light:

Who hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son:

In whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins:

Notes on Colossians 1:12-14:

You are delivered! You don't have to pray to be delivered from evil – you ARE delivered as a New Testament believer. You are no longer part of Satan's kingdom. You are "out of bounds" to him now because you're in another kingdom – Jesus' kingdom.

You HAVE forgiveness for all your sins NOW because of the redemption Jesus wrought with His blood. You do not have a mixed bag of forgiven and unforgiven sins, and you don't have to confess or repent of individual sins to get forgiven. (You DO need to repent to get the sins out of your life so that you stop doing them, but that is a different matter from obtaining forgiveness for them, which you already have.)

Some people question whether Jesus could have paid for your future sins as well as your past ones, but all your past sins were "future" sins from Jesus' perspective when He hung on the cross. His sacrifice was enough to take care of them. So the forgiveness you now have is for ALL your sins, past, present and future. Being forgiven does not mean that you can't be ensnared by them, though, and that is where repentance comes in.

See also:

Notes on Ephesians 6:10-18

Notes on Hebrews 2:14-15

How to Deal with the Devil

How NOT to Deal with the Devil

Delivered!

Who You Are and What You Have

Sickness Is the Power of the Devil

Forgiven People Can Be Healed

Job Explained

Where's Jesus?

Deliverance Myths

You're Dead!

Paper Roadblocks to Healing

Breaking Generational Curses?

Don't Believe These Alcoholics Anonymous Lies

What 1 John 1:9 Really Means

Is All Sickness Demonic?

Does a Serious Sickness Attack Prove that a Major Breakthrough Is Just Ahead?

Can I Get Healed of Alcoholism, Drug Abuse, Pornography and Homosexuality?

Can a Christian Have a Demon?

Will God Heal My Pets or Livestock?

Objection: David Was Honest Enough to Sing to God about His Sicknesses; We Should Pray "Honest" Prayers Like His Rather Than Saying We're Healed When Our Bodies Say Otherwise

Objection: Jesus, Not the Devil, Now Has the Keys of Death, So HE Is the One Who Makes People Die Today

Objection: In the Lord's Prayer, We Are Supposed to ASK GOD to Deliver Us from Evil, Not "Claim" Deliverance from It

Objection: God Sometimes Leads Faithful Saints into "Wilderness Experiences"

Objection: God Uses Sickness to "Break" Us

Colossians 2:10:

And ye are complete in him [Christ], which is the head of all principality and power:

Notes on Colossians 2:10:

This is yet another Scripture proving that God has already done everything for you to provide what you need in this life. This goes right along with the facts that God has already given to you all things pertaining to life and godliness (2 Peter 1:3) and that He has already blessed you with all spiritual blessings (Ephesians 1:3). You do not have to try to weasel blessings out of God. As far as He is concerned, they are already granted. All you need to do is receive the blessings that God already offers you, including healing.

Because Jesus is the Head over ALL principality and power, you know that He has dominion over the devil and all his cohorts who operate on the earth.

See also:

[Who You Are and What You Have
Dealing with Fear](#)

Colossians 2:15:

And having spoiled principalities and powers, he made a shew of them openly, triumphing over them in it.

Notes on Colossians 2:15:

“It” here is the cross. Jesus triumphed over the devil and all his principalities and powers on the cross, not in hell. (This matter is part of a long discussion elsewhere.)

Jesus Christ defeated the devil for you. The devil and his subordinates have been stripped of their power. (The word spoiled actually does mean stripped!) That means that the devil does not have any power over you other than the power that you give him. He does not have authority, but you do. The devil’s ploy is to get you to use your own authority against yourself by speaking the wrong things out of your mouth. The devil can’t make you do that, but if he can trick you into doing it, you will end up ruining your own life with your mouth.

There is no reason to fear Satan. He has no authority over you. You are seated with Christ in heavenly places far above him. He cannot defeat you unless you allow him to. His only real weapon is deception. He can’t win unless he can trick you into believing, speaking and doing the wrong things.

See also:

Notes on 2 Corinthians 10:3-5

Notes on Hebrews 2:14-15

Paper Roadblocks to Healing

How to Deal with the Devil

Delivered!

It Works!

The Kingdom of God is Here NOW

What 1 John 1:9 Really Means

Must I Engage in Spiritual Warfare to See the Manifestation of My Healing?

Does a Serious Sickness Attack Prove that a Major Breakthrough Is Just Ahead?

Should We Plead the Blood when Dealing with Demons?

Objection: Faith Preachers are Trinity-Denying Heretics because They Teach that Jesus Died Spiritually

Objection: God’s Healing Covenant in the Law of Moses Was Only for the Jews

Hebrews 2:14-15:

Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same; that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil; And deliver them who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage.

Notes on Hebrews 2:14-15:

The actual Greek word used in this verse and translated him that had in the King James Version is actually a present active participle – a better translation would be “him who has the power of death” or “him having the power of death.” Many current translations correctly use a present-tense rendering in this verse.

If Satan still HAS the power of death, how can the writer say that Satan was destroyed through Jesus’ death? The answer is that when you are saved, you are brought out of Satan’s kingdom (Colossians 1:13). By providing salvation, Jesus provided a way that Satan’s grip on you could be permanently destroyed. However, those who do not receive him are still subject to Satan’s power.

If Jesus defeated principalities on the cross (Colossians 2:15), how can it be that Satan was destroyed through Jesus’ DEATH? The Greek word for destroyed (katargeo) is a fairly general-purpose word that is also translated made/make of none effect (Romans 4:14, Galatians 3:17), make void (Romans 3:31), loosed (Romans 7:2), brought to nought (1 Corinthians 1:28), come to nought (1 Corinthians 2:6), fail (1 Corinthians 13:8), vanish away (1 Corinthians 13:8), be done away (1 Corinthians 13:10, 2 Corinthians 3:7), put away (1 Corinthians 13:11), put down (1 Corinthians 15:24), abolished (Ephesians 2:15, 2 Timothy 2:10) as well as some other things. It does not mean that Satan was destroyed in the sense of ceasing to exist – he was just made of no effect. He was brought to nothing. But there is really no contradiction between this and Colossians 2:15 because dying is something that Jesus did on the cross! But now we need to clarify what this “death” was. Jesus tasted death for all of us to redeem us from ever tasting it (Hebrews 2:9). That CANNOT refer to physical death because we all still have to experience that. So the “death” that Jesus tasted on the cross was spiritual death, which Jesus had to experience before His physical death on the cross – otherwise He could not have died physically! He had to enter into our common lot of spiritual death and then be raised by the Holy Spirit – the same way that we are raised from spiritual death by the Holy Spirit when we first call on Jesus as Lord. He identified with our spiritual death so that we could identify with His spiritual resurrection. His death opened the way for our resurrection that puts us beyond the legal control of Satan.

Stop looking at Satan as an evil counterpart of God and start seeing him for what he really is – someone who has been stripped and destroyed, a fallen angel over whom you have authority, not vice versa. He may still lord it over his unredeemed human subjects, but once you are in Christ, you are taken out of Satan’s kingdom, power and control. He has been rendered harmless as far as you should be concerned. (You still have to be sober and vigilant lest you believe his lies and end up living below your privileges in Christ, but he can never force you to do anything.)

So how does this fit with the fact that Revelation 1:18 tells us that Jesus currently has the keys of hell and of death? I will at least offer this explanation, which you are free to accept or reject: In the context (“I am he that liveth, and was dead; and, behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen; and have the keys of hell and of death”), Jesus refers to having been dead. I believe this is a reference to His time in hell. (I know that many Christians do not believe that Jesus went to hell, and while I think it is quite clear from Scripture that He went into the “lower parts of the earth,” which I would interpret as hell [Ephesians 4:9: “Now that he ascended, what is it but that he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth?”]), believing that Jesus went to hell is not a prerequisite to receiving divine healing, nor is not believing that Jesus went to hell a hindrance to receiving divine healing.) Thus, in this context, I would see this as proclaiming that He has the keys of hell and the second death (the lake of fire).

Satan cannot have the keys to hell or the lake of fire that is the second death, because if he did, he could let himself out after God sends him there!

However, death, which the Bible calls an enemy (1 Corinthians 15:26: “The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death.”), has not been abolished yet. If Jesus were currently exercising lordship over death, there would be none. Death will not be destroyed until a future point. Death, which is a direct result of Adam’s fall, which allowed Satan to be the “god of this world,” is still a part of reality on the earth. Certainly, Satan cannot go around killing believers who know who they are in Christ, though the time will come when we, like Paul, should be able to say that we have finished our course and are ready to depart with Christ, which is far better, and then choose to go home to heaven rather than having the devil’s diseases evict us from our bodies. Even choosing to go home would not be necessary if death had already been conquered in this life. However, no Christian needs to fear death and thus be in bondage, because death for the believer is simply a relocation to a much better address. Even if you were to die prematurely, Satan would not win ultimately because you would be with Jesus in a place where Satan could never touch you again.

One thing is certain – the statement that Satan has “the power of death” does not mean that he can just go around killing Christians! You are redeemed from his diseases that steal, kill and destroy. You won’t live forever in your current body, but the life you live in it can be free from Satan’s influence now that you have power over him.

See also:

Dealing with Fear

Who You Are and What You Have

Does a Serious Sickness Attack Prove that a Major Breakthrough Is Just Ahead?

Should We Plead the Blood when Dealing with Demons?

Objection: Jesus, Not the Devil, Now Has the Keys of Death, So HE Is the One Who Makes People Die Today

Hebrews 6:12:

That ye be not slothful, but followers of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

Notes on Hebrews 6:12:

If all healings were instantaneous, you would not need patience; faith alone would be enough. But when you don't see the answer immediately, patience comes in.

Bible patience is not resignation! You're not just throwing up your hands, saying, "Oh, well, I guess God will do something about this in His time when He sees fit." Bible patience is like the bite of a bulldog – it lays hold of something and refuses to let go, regardless of circumstances. It is not even saying, "I'm just twiddling my thumbs waiting for a manifestation." Real patience never backs down until that manifestation comes. It does not slide back into "neutral" or give up hope.

You have patience because it is a fruit of the Spirit (Galatians 5:22-23). Some people say, "I don't have any patience," but what they really mean is, "I have the fruit of patience, but it is not in manifestation because I allow my flesh to dominate me."

See also:

All About Healing Services

What Faith Is

How NOT to Pray for Your Healing

Why You Don't Need to Pray the Power Down

"They Shall Recover" – How Long Should It Take?

I Thought I Was Healed. Why Did the Symptoms Just Start to Return?

How Can I Hasten the Manifestation of My Healing after I Believe I Receive It?

I've Stood for a LONG Time and Nothing Has Changed. Now What?

Was Paul in Unbelief in Galatia?

Objection: Hebrews 11:39 Proves that You Can Have Faith and NOT Receive the Promises

Objection: We Are Supposed to Glory in Tribulations and Count Them All Joy \(Romans 5:3, James 1:2-4\)

Objection: Sickness, While Unpleasant, Is Used by God to Build Character

Objection: Christ's Healings Were Mostly Instantaneous; We Cannot Claim to Be Able to Do His Works When We Have So Few Instantaneous Miracles

Hebrews 10:35-36:

Cast not away therefore your confidence, which hath great recompense of reward.
For ye have need of patience, that, after ye have done the will of God, ye might receive the promise.

Notes on Hebrews 10:35-36:

This “patience” is not resignation, where you wait for God to do something thinking that it’s all up to Him to do something new. Biblical patience here means that you have taken something when you prayed and you won’t let go of it, regardless of physical circumstances that look like you haven’t got it.

See also:

How NOT to Pray for Your Healing

All About Healing Services

The Healing Anointing

Objection: Sickness, While Unpleasant, Is Used by God to Build Character

Hebrews 11:1:

Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.

Notes on Hebrews 11:1:

Here is the simplest definition of faith. Faith is having the title deed to something you can't see. It means that you have something that you can't see. If you're born again, you have faith because you have eternal life even though you can't see it. You believe that you have a place reserved for you in heaven even though you have never seen it. That proves that you are able to receive something and know that you have it without seeing it first.

Faith for healing works the same way. You believe you have your healing before you can see your healing. (If you could see it, you wouldn't need faith; you'd just know it!) Faith is the evidence, or title deed, to the healing that you have but you can't see yet.

You can see Boardwalk on a Monopoly game board, but you can't see who owns it by looking at it. The owner is the one who has its title deed.

The greats of faith in Hebrews 11 acted on things that they believed but couldn't see. If you are in faith, you act on something that you can't see. You declare that you have your healing before you have any sense evidence to support your claim.

Some people have taught that the phrase, "Now faith is..." proves that faith only works in the present tense. It proves no such thing. Actually, it proves that the person who said it never looked up the word now in a Greek concordance before doing an elaborate teaching on it. Such carelessness gives opponents of divine healing a legitimate gripe.

There is a Greek word for now that refers to now in a time sense, but this one isn't it! The Greek word in Hebrews 11:1 (de) has nothing to do with time. If it means "at this moment, as opposed to in the past or future" you will have a hard time explaining a lot of other verses that use this same Greek word. Here are just a few of them, so that you can see what I mean: "Now Moses in the law commanded us" (John 8:5). "Now when these things were thus ordained, the priests went always into the second tabernacle" (Hebrews 9:6). "Now when Jesus was risen early the first day of the week" (Mark 16:9). "Now when they had passed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica" (Acts 17:1). "Now when the congregation was broken up..." (Acts 13:43). "Now when this was noised abroad, the multitude came together..." (Acts 2:6). "Now to Abraham and his seed were the promises made" (Galatians 3:16). It would be fun to extrapolate this "now" teaching to these verses, but I'll spare you now!

The idea that faith only works now is completely true. But please don't use the first word of Hebrews 11:1 to prove it!

This verse is also mistakenly used to "prove" that faith is a substance, but the Greek word used there would probably better be translated "confidence."

See also:

What Faith Is

What Faith Isn't

You Have Faith

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

Looking at the Unseen

Descent into Stupidity

What Is the Difference between Unbelief and Doubt?

Mistake: Fear

Hebrews 11:28:

Through faith he [Moses] kept the passover, and the sprinkling of blood, lest he that destroyed the firstborn should touch them.

Notes on Hebrews 11:28:

“He that destroyed the firstborn” is no doubt one of the “evil angels” mentioned in Psalm 78:49-51. This phrase does not appear refer to God Himself, but rather to an angel (not a demon) whom God permitted to kill Egypt’s firstborn. (God has never subtracted vengeance to Satan – vengeance is His – Romans 12:19).

If the blood of Jesus kept this evil angel away, the blood of Jesus is surely just as effective today at keeping the devil and his associates from touching you.

See also:

Notes on Psalm 78:49-51

Why Does Exodus 15:25-26 Talk about God Putting Diseases on People?

Hebrews 13:8:

Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and to day, and for ever.

Notes on Hebrews 13:8:

Just as Malachi 3:6 and James 1:17 declare that God does not change, this verse proves that Jesus does not change either. His location has changed, but He Himself has not changed. His will concerning healing has not changed since His days on earth when He “healed all that were oppressed of the devil” (Acts 10:38). Look at the Scriptures in this book concerning His ministry on the earth and see His will – healing for all. Because He has not changed, His will must still be healing for all. He still heals when His name is used. He is your merciful and compassionate High Priest. He was moved with compassion and He healed the sick then, so He is still moved with compassion and He still wants to heal the sick today!

Much more is said about this passage in the discussions below.

See also:

Notes on Malachi 3:6

Notes on Matthew 4:23-24

Notes on Mark 16:5-18

Notes on Luke 4:18-19

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

God’s Mercy and Compassion

Jesus the Healer Has Never Changed!

You Are Christ on the Earth

What Is “Inner Healing,” and Do I Need It?

Don’t Get Sick When You Get Old

The SAME Test

Why You Don’t Have to Touch Jesus as He Passes By

Ministering to the Sick

Beating Ministerial Jealousy and Insecurity

Can I Get Healed of Injuries from Accidents as Well as Diseases?

Objection: If You Could Always Get Healed, You Would Live Forever

Objection: Jesus Healed and Did Miracles to Authenticate His Messiahship

Objection: Healing and Miracles Are Not for This Current Dispensation

Objection: Today Doctors Have Replaced the Ancient Practice of Faith Healing

Objection: Sickness Can Be Proof of God’s Special Favor

Objection: God Wouldn’t Heal Paul’s Thorn in the Flesh

Objection: God Won’t Heal Your FINAL ILLNESS that He Uses to Take You Home

Objection: Sickness is a Blessing in Disguise

Objection: Jesus Healed and Did Miracles to Authenticate His Messiahship

Objection: The Man in John 9 Exercised No Faith until AFTER He Was Already Healed

Objection: God Does Great Miracles Only During Crucial Times in History

Objection: Healing Will Not Be Available UNIVERSALLY until the Millennium

Objection: If Hebrews 13:8 Really Means what Faith Healers Say It Does, Jesus Will Be Healing Us Forever in Heaven as He Did on the Earth

Objection: God Uses Sickness to Draw Us Closer to Himself

Objection: God Sometimes Has an Older Person Get Sick to Make That Person Want to Come Home to Heaven

Objection: Suffering Glorifies God \(Romans 8:17\)

Objection: God Manifests Himself as Healer to Some and as Comforter to Others

Objection: God Creates Dumb, Deaf and Blind People \(Exodus 4:11\)

Objection: Throughout Scripture God Heals Those Whom He CHOOSES to Heal

Objection: Healing Is in the Atonement, But It Is up to God How to Dispense It

Objection: Mental Illness is Treatable but Not Curable

Objection: Sometimes God Has to Heal Someone when a Healing Evangelist Makes a Bold Claim Just to Stop People in the Audience from Backsliding or Getting Confused

Objection: Sometimes God's Path for Your Healing Is through a Doctor Rather Than the Supernatural

Objection: Sometimes God Withholds Healing in His Love because He Knows that If a Person Were Instantly Healed, He Would Backslide

Objection: Like Any Loving Parent, God Sometimes Has to Tell His Children NO for Their Own Good

Objection: Sometimes God Says, "Yes," Sometimes He Says, "No," and Sometimes He Says, "Wait" When You Ask for Healing

Objection: God Sometimes Withholds What We Request Because He Knows What's Best for Us

Objection: I Got a Debilitating Disease and Cried, "Why Me?" And the Lord Answered, "Why NOT You?"

Objection: Any Other Objection Not Specifically Covered in This Book

Condition: Brokenheartedness

Condition: Paralysis

Condition: Swelling

James 1:5-8:

If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him.

But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering. For he that wavereth is like a wave of the sea driven with the wind and tossed.

For let not that man think that he shall receive any thing of the Lord.

A double minded man is unstable in all his ways.

Notes on James 1:5-8:

This passage proves that you cannot pray for healing saying, "If it be thy will..." and get healed. If you are saying IF, you are in doubt and you will receive nothing. Rather than thinking that God in His sovereignty will either say "yes" or "no" to your prayer, you must realize that you cannot receive anything from the Lord when you pray like that. If you want something from God, you must ask in faith without wavering. If you're wondering, "I prayed, but where's my healing?" you are wavering and you will not get healed. If you really believed that you received when you prayed, as Jesus told us to do, you would never ask, "Where is it?" You would say, "I know where it is – I have it even though I don't see it yet!"

See also:

Your Body Is God's Property

Do You Really Believe in Healing?

Mistaken Prayer Mindsets

Prayers God Won't Answer

How to Tell if You're in Faith or Not

Why You Might Not Want to Pray to Receive Your Healing Right Away

The Prayer of Nothing

Can I Believe to Become Smarter?

What Is the Difference between Unbelief and Doubt?

Do I Have the Authority to Cast Out Computer Viruses?

Objection: We Had 24/7 Prayer Asking God to Heal So-and-So, and He Chose Not to Do It

Objection: Faith Is Simply Trust in God, Not a Force that You Use to Change Things Yourself

Objection: James Did Not Teach that Healing Was in the Atonement in His Instructions

Objection: Only Some People Have the "Gift of Faith" to Believe for Healing

Objection: Like Any Loving Parent, God Sometimes Has to Tell His Children NO for Their Own Good

Objection: Sometimes God Says, "Yes," Sometimes He Says, "No," and Sometimes He Says, "Wait" When You Ask for Healing

Objection: Jesus Said to Say, "Thy Will Be Done," Instead of Demanding Healing

Objection: "If It Be Your Will" Must Always Be Implied – If You Could Literally Ask for ANYTHING, You Could Ask to Become God

Mistake: Spiritual Laziness

Mistake: Doublemindedness

James 1:17:

Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning.

Notes on James 1:17:

This is a New Testament confirmation of Malachi 3:6.

God gives you good and perfect things. If something isn't good and perfect, it didn't come from God. Sickness is not good and it is not perfect, therefore it is not from God.

See also:

Notes on Malachi 3:6

Notes on Exodus 15:25-26

Jesus the Healer Has Never Changed!

Healing – a Gift from God

Healing Is a Good Thing

Would You Rebuke a Christmas Present?

You Have Faith

Objection: Healing and Miracles Are Not for This Current Dispensation

Objection: God's Healing Covenant in the Law of Moses Was Only for the Jews

Objection: God Gives and Takes Away

Objection: We Cannot Demand Healing from God Because God Is Sovereign

Objection: If God Wanted Us to Enjoy Perfect Health NOW, He Would Have Already Given Us Immortal Bodies

Objection: God Does Great Miracles Only During Crucial Times in History

Objection: Like Any Loving Parent, God Sometimes Has to Tell His Children NO for Their Own Good

James 2:14-26:

What doth it profit, brethren, though a man say he hath faith, and hath not works? can faith save him? If a brother or sister be naked, and destitute of daily food, And one of you say unto them, Depart in peace, be ye warmed and filled; notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needful to the body; what doth it profit? Even so faith, if it hath not works, is dead, being alone. Yea, a man may say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: shew me thy faith without thy works, and I will shew thee my faith by my works. Thou believest that there is one God; thou doest well: the devils also believe, and tremble. But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith without works is dead? Was not Abraham our father justified by works, when he had offered Isaac his son upon the altar? Seest thou how faith wrought with his works, and by works was faith made perfect? And the scripture was fulfilled which saith, Abraham believed God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness: and he was called the Friend of God. Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only. Likewise also was not Rahab the harlot justified by works, when she had received the messengers, and had sent them out another way? For as the body without the spirit is dead, so faith without works is dead also.

Notes on James 2:14-26:

Faith always involves action based on something you believe but can't see. If you say you have faith, but your actions don't agree with what you say you believe, you're not in faith, and you don't believe it in the Bible sense.

The main action associated with faith is speaking what you believe. The spirit of faith says, "I believe, therefore have I spoken" (2 Corinthians 4:13). Dead faith is faith that you never act on and never speak. It does not produce any results.

If you're unwilling to say that you've received your healing, you aren't in faith. If you're not willing to praise God for the healing that you believe you already have, you aren't in faith. Real faith acts and speaks in agreement with what it believes.

The last verse of this passage makes a great argument that life begins in the womb, not at birth.

This passage does not prove "salvation by works." James's point is that real faith is made known by works. Works don't produce faith (or eternal life), but they can be evidence of it, or in some cases evidence of the lack of it.

See also:

Notes on Acts 14:7-10

Believing in God vs. Believing God

You Are Holy and Worthy to Receive Healing

Crossing the Bridge from Head Knowledge to Revelation Knowledge

Is Faith a Force?

If God Gives Everyone Faith, How Can Anyone Ever Be in Unbelief? Isn't Unbelief the Absence of Faith?

Does Faith Come from Your Spirit, Your Mind or Somewhere Else?

Objection: Hebrews 11:39 Proves that You Can Have Faith and NOT Receive the Promises

Objection: Healing is a GIFT \(1 Corinthians 12:28\), Proving that It Is Not Earned by Our Works or Our Faith, Which Would Be Pelagianism

Objection: Faith Must Be IN GOD \(Mark 11:22\), So It Is Not Something You Can Use Yourself to Change Things

Mistake: Inaction

James 3:2-6:

For in many things we offend all. If any man offend not in word, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body.

Behold, we put bits in the horses' mouths, that they may obey us; and we turn about their whole body.

Behold also the ships, which though they be so great, and are driven of fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very small helm, whithersoever the governor listeth.

Even so the tongue is a little member, and boasteth great things. Behold, how great a matter a little fire kindleth!

And the tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity: so is the tongue among our members, that it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the course of nature; and it is set on fire of hell.

Notes on James 3:2-6:

If this passage doesn't prove that your tongue can control your body, I don't know what does. If you can control your tongue, you can control your whole body. Note that your tongue can also defile your whole body. Speaking health will result in health, but speaking sickness will result in sickness. Also, speaking things you ought not to speak can result in sickness even though you are not explicitly "confessing" sickness. If you use your tongue to gossip, criticize and backbite, you will undermine your health, "setting on fire the course of nature" in your body and defiling it. This is a good example of why you need to know Scripture in general, not just healing Scriptures. Failure to keep your tongue in line can keep you from getting healed. This agrees with Proverbs 18:21 that death and life are in the power of your tongue.

See also:

You Have Authority over Your Body

Say What

Healing Does Not Require Great Faith

Who Is in Control of Your Life?

You Have Authority over Your Body

Say What

Can an Unbeliever Exercise Faith?

Does Mark 11:23 Work for Unbelievers?

Objection: God Is in Control

Objection: It Is Presumption to Think that Life and Death Are in Your Power

Objection: If Proverbs 18:21 Meant What Faith Preachers Say It Does, Old Testament People Could Have Gone Around Speaking Health to the Sick and Death to Cancer and Other Diseases before Jesus Came

James 4:7:

Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you.

Notes on James 4:7:

Before you resist the devil, make sure you've submitted to God. If you're in rebellion against God's plan for you, you won't have much success resisting the devil – you're doing what he wants you to do!

YOU are the one who must resist the devil. That means that God will not resist the devil for you. It is a waste of your prayer time to ask God to make the devil go away. YOU have authority over him, but that means that YOU are responsible for exercising your authority. God won't do it for you.

See also:

How to Deal with the Devil

How NOT to Deal with the Devil

Am I Sick because I Left a Door Open to the Devil?

Casting Out the Spirit of Stupidity

Who Is in Control of Your Life?

Job Explained

Healing and Effort

Can a Christian Have a Demon?

Objection: Jesus Now Has ALL Authority, So if Satan Afflicts You, He Has to Get Jesus' Permission First

Objection: In the Lord's Prayer, We Are Supposed to ASK GOD to Deliver Us from Evil, Not "Claim"

Deliverance from It

1 Peter 3:22:

Who [Jesus Christ] is gone into heaven, and is on the right hand of God; angels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him.

Notes on 1 Peter 3:22:

Not only are angels subject to Jesus, demons are as well. When we use His authority that He has granted to us, demons must submit to that authority.

See also:

How to Deal with the Devil

1 Peter 5:8-9:

Be sober, be vigilant; because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour [gulp down]:

Whom resist stedfast in the faith, knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the world.

Notes on 1 Peter 5:8-9:

The devil is looking for whom he may devour, which shows you that the devil can't just go devour someone. He can't devour those who resist him steadfastly in faith. He will try various subtle plots to destroy you, but you can avoid being tricked and devoured by staying in fellowship with God and by knowing His Word.

See also:

How NOT to Deal with the Devil

Casting Out the Spirit of Stupidity

If You Blow It

Who Is in Control of Your Life?

Job Explained

Healing and Effort

Am I Sick because I Left a Door Open to the Devil?

Does a Serious Sickness Attack Prove that a Major Breakthrough Is Just Ahead?

Can a Christian Have a Demon?

Objection: God Has Satan on a Leash and Only Permits Him to Do Certain Things to You

Objection: Jesus Now Has ALL Authority, So if Satan Afflicts You, He Has to Get Jesus' Permission First

Objection: God Sometimes Heals You Only after He Has Let You Suffer a While \(1 Peter 5:10\)

Objection: God Gives and Takes Away

Objection: In the Lord's Prayer, We Are Supposed to ASK GOD to Deliver Us from Evil, Not "Claim"

Deliverance from It

2 Peter 1:3-4:

According as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us to glory and virtue:

Whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises: that by these ye might be partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust.

Notes on 2 Peter 1:3-4:

Does healing pertain to life and godliness? I would say so! If you don't receive your healing, you can have a much shorter life, and certainly a less enjoyable life, and you won't be as equipped to do works of godliness. If healing were not provided, Peter could not say that God's divine power has given you all things pertaining to life and godliness.

This is another passage like Ephesians 1:3 that shows you that everything you need has already been provided. Therefore, you need to receive these things, including healing, rather than begging God for what you already have been granted.

See also:

Notes on Colossians 2:10

The #1 Mistake People Make When They Need Healing

God's Healing Provision Is Past Tense

Who Is in Control of Your Life?

Everything's Yours, Including Healing

Who You Are and What You Have

The Kingdom of God is Here NOW

Dealing with Fear

Why God Can Never Withhold Healing from You

Jesus Opened Heaven

Healing and the Prodigal Son

All About Healing Services

How Long Does It Take to Build Faith for Healing that Works?

Objection: "Faith Healers" Call Attention to Man and Thus Rob the Lord of Due Glory

Objection: It's up to God – God Will Heal Me if He Wants to

1 John 3:8:

He that committeth sin is of the devil: for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that he might destroy the works of the devil.

Notes on 1 John 3:8:

The Son of God destroyed the works of the devil, not the works of God. If sickness were a gift from God to teach you something or even if it were God's discipline, Jesus went around everywhere destroying the works of God! You can be sure that He didn't, because Acts 10:38 says that He healed all those who were oppressed by the devil, not oppressed by God!

If the Son of God was manifested to destroy the works of the devil, then any works of the devil, including sickness, that exist today are works that Jesus was manifested to destroy. Sickness in your body is the work of the devil. Jesus came, among other reasons, to free you from this work of the devil.

Addictions in general, witchcraft and other occult practices, drug abuse, alcoholism, pornography and homosexuality are also works of the devil that Jesus came to destroy. He wants people to be "free indeed" from these and other harmful snares.

See also:

Notes on John 10:10

Sickness Is the Power of the Devil

Do the Math

Job Explained

Hop on It!

Don't Believe These Alcoholics Anonymous Lies

Can I "Believe Away" the Side Effects of the Drugs Being Used to Treat Me?

Does Satan Have the Legal Right to Afflict Me if I Leave a Door Open to Him?

Can I Get Healed of Alcoholism, Drug Abuse, Pornography and Homosexuality?

Can I Cast a Demon out of a "Haunted" Location?

Will God Heal My Pets or Livestock?

Objection: We Cannot Demand Healing from God because God Is Sovereign

Objection: We Are Supposed to Thank God for Everything, Which Would Include Sickness \(1 Thessalonians 5:18\)

Objection: Lazarus Was Sick for the Glory of God \(John 11:4\)

Objection: My Trials Only Come to Make Me Strong

Objection: God Has Satan on a Leash and Only Permits Him to Do Certain Things to You

Objection: Job Was a Godly Man, Yet God Let Him Get Sick

Objection: The Man in John 9 Was Born Blind, and That Was God's Will

Objection: Jesus Now Has ALL Authority, So if Satan Afflicts You, He Has to Get Jesus' Permission First

Objection: Jeremiah 17:9 Literally Means That the Heart Is SICK, So Jesus Came to Heal the Sickness in Our Hearts, Not in Our Bodies

Objection: 1 John 3:8 in Context Refers to SIN, Not Sickness

Objection: God Created the Destroyer to Destroy (Isaiah 54:16), So Satan Is Just Doing the Job that God Created Him to Do

Condition: Bad Breath (Chronic)

Condition: Broken Bones

Condition: Fever

1 John 4:1-4:

Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God: because many false prophets are gone out into the world.

Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: Every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is of God:

And every spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is not of God: and this is that spirit of antichrist, whereof ye have heard that it should come; and even now already is it in the world.

Ye are of God, little children, and have overcome them: because greater is he that is in you, than he that is in the world.

Notes on 1 John 4:1-4:

You have already overcome antichrist spirits! Therefore, you do not have to engage in “spiritual warfare” to “defeat” them. Jesus already defeated them for you. Why should you fear evil spirits when you have already overcome them?

Someone (or something) can only confess that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh if he believes that (1) Jesus pre-existed before He was conceived and born on the earth (2) Jesus came to earth as a real Man, not as God in a man costume. Anyone who does not believe these things is of the antichrist and should be avoided.

See also:

How to Deal with the Devil

Who You Are and What You Have

The Kingdom of God is Here NOW

Sickness Is the Power of the Devil

What Mark 11:22 Really Means

What Romans 8:11 Really Means

How NOT to Deal with the Devil

Can Satan Heal?

How Can I Know that It's God and Not the Devil Doing the Healing?

Does a Serious Sickness Attack Prove that a Major Breakthrough Is Just Ahead?

Should We Plead the Blood when Dealing with Demons?

Can I Cast a Demon out of a “Haunted” Location?

Objection: “Divine” Healings Today are the Prophesied Lying Signs and Wonders of the Antichrist

Objection: The “Word of Faith” Movement Is a Cult

1 John 5:4:

For whatsoever is born of God overcometh the world: and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith.

Notes on 1 John 5:4:

Mainstream Bibles are split over whether this means “whatsoever” or “whosoever.” Young’s Literal Translation says, “...every one who is begotten of God doth overcome the world....” So who’s right? The Greek word pas could be translated either way. Even in the King James Version, it is translated whosoever in Matthew 5:22 when Jesus talked about whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause, in Matthew 5:28 referring to whosoever looks on a woman to lust after her, in Matthew 7:24 about whosoever hears Jesus’ sayings and does them, in Matthew 10:32 about whosoever shall confess Jesus before men, in Mark 10:44 about whosoever among you wants to be the greatest, and in Romans 9:33 and Romans 10:11 about whosoever believes in Jesus shall not be ashamed. There are other places, but I’ll stop there because I’ve cited enough cases to make my point.

Jesus said that He has overcome the world (John 16:33), and you are in Him as a believer, so His victory is your victory. But the best proof of all that YOU (not just “things” born of God) have overcome the world is found in the very next verse!

1 John 5:5:

Who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God?

So as a believer, you are already a world overcomer, whether you know to walk in that privilege or not.

So why did Jesus talk about “he who overcomes” to all seven churches in Asia Minor in Revelation chapters 2 and 3? I don’t think that there’s a contradiction. If you are in Christ, you are one who has overcome. If you stay in Christ, you continue to be one who has overcome. If you renounce Christ, you cease to be one who has overcome. Jesus was not saying that you have to do something that He already did.

See also:

How to Deal with the Devil

You Win!

The Temporary Curse

Objection: We Are Supposed to Glory in Tribulations and Count Them All Joy \(Romans 5:3, James 1:2-4\)

1 John 5:14-15:

And this is the confidence that we have in him, that, if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us:

And if we know that he hear us, whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions that we desired of him.

Notes on 1 John 5:14-15:

How can you KNOW that what you're requesting is God's will? The foremost way to know is to know His Word on the matter! (You have to read His Word to know what is in it.) There are cases where you may have a direct word from Him about something. In such a case, that direct word will never contradict God's written Word. In a case where God has already given you His Word in the Bible, you do not need any further word from Him. For example, you don't need a direct word that He wants to heal you of a particular disease. You have His Word that His will is to heal you of ALL diseases! It's a mistake to wait for a specific word when you have a general word. For another example, you don't have to ask for a specific word that it's okay to share Jesus with someone. He already told you as part of His Church to go into all the world and tell everyone the gospel.

We don't know that He hears us AFTER we get what we ask for. We have confidence that He hears us and will do what we ask when we know up front what His will is.

See also:

Pre-approved for Healing

Mistaken Prayer Mindsets

No Limits

We Hold the Keys

Objection: We Had 24/7 Prayer Asking God to Heal So-and-So, and He Chose Not to Do It

Objection: Before We Pray for a Healing in Faith, We Must Pray to See If It Is God's Will in This Case

Objection: My Trials Only Come to Make Me Strong

Objection: Jesus Literally Said to "Keep On Asking." Therefore, We Should Bug God Like the Widow in Jesus' Parable.

Revelation 1:18:

I am he that liveth, and was dead; and behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen; and have the keys of hell and of death.

Notes on Revelation 1:18:

Jesus HAS the keys of hell and of death, but this verse does NOT state that Jesus took the keys of hell and of death from the devil when he visited hell. The devil doesn't hang around hell anyway; it's a place designed to torment him, so why would he want to be there? If the devil had all the keys to hell before Jesus died, he could have just let his fallen-angel cohorts go free rather than leaving them in everlasting chains. This whole matter is developed elsewhere in this book, so you can look into this in more detail if you like.

See also:

Notes on Matthew 18:18-20

Notes on Hebrews 2:14-15

How to Deal with the Devil

We Hold the Keys

Objection: Faith Preachers are Trinity-Denying Heretics because They Teach that Jesus Died Spiritually

Revelation 2:20-23:

[Jesus speaking] Notwithstanding I have a few things against thee, because thou sufferest that woman Jezebel, which calleth herself a prophetess, to teach and to seduce my servants to commit fornication, and to eat things sacrificed unto idols.

And I gave her space to repent of her fornication; and she repented not.

Behold, I will cast her into a bed, and them that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, except they repent of their deeds. And I will kill her children with death; and all the churches shall know that I am he which searcheth the reins and hearts: and I will give unto every one of you according to your works.

Notes on Revelation 2:20-23:

Things would be simpler for us as faith preachers if this verse were not here, as we could oversimplify by saying, “Jesus would never kill anyone or make anyone sick.” But then we have this passage that disproves this. However, you do not have to fear having Jesus make you sick or kill you if you aren’t messing with His Church the way that this false prophetess did.

Even though her actions were debaucherous and destructive, Jesus is merciful, so He still gave her time to repent. However, this shows that the mere fact that God or Jesus has not “lowered the boom” on you for doing something does not prove that what you’re doing is OK.

See also:

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

How to Deal with the Devil

What If You Sin?

Why Does Exodus 15:25-26 Talk about God Putting Diseases on People?

Objection: David Said that It Was GOOD that He Was Afflicted; So It Can Be with Us

Objection: God Creates Evil \(Isaiah 45:7\), Kills, and Wounds \(Deuteronomy 32:39\)

Mistake: Wrong Treatment of the Body of Christ

Revelation 16:1-2:

And I heard a great voice out of the temple saying to the seven angels, Go your ways, and pour out the vials of the wrath of God upon the earth.

And the first went, and poured out his vial upon the earth; and there fell a noisome and grievous sore upon the men which had the mark of the beast, and upon them which worshipped his image.

See also:

Notes on Romans 2:4

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

Who or What Causes Sickness?

Does Satan Literally Invent All Diseases?

Condition: Sores

Revelation 16:10-11:

And the fifth angel poured out his vial upon the seat of the beast; and his kingdom was full of darkness; and they gnawed their tongues for pain.

And blasphemed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores, and repented not of their deeds.

Notes on Revelation 16:10-11:

Let those who think that God sends plagues, sores and calamities to draw people closer to Himself consider this – it's not a reliable method! The people in this passage were made sick, but that sickness did NOT result in repentance! It is the goodness of God that leads men to repentance (Romans 2:4).

See also:

Notes on Romans 2:4

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

Objection: God Uses Sickness to Draw Us Closer to Himself

Objection: God Could Use So-and-So Powerfully because She Was Paralyzed When She Was Young

Condition: Sores

Other Scriptures Referenced in Articles

Genesis 1:1:

In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth.

Genesis 1:2:

And the earth was without form, and void; and darkness was upon the face of the deep. And the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters.

Genesis 1:26-28:

And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth.

So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them.

And God blessed them, and God said unto them, Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it: and have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth.

Genesis 1:31:

And God saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good. And the evening and the morning were the sixth day.

Genesis 2:21:

And the LORD God caused a deep sleep to fall upon Adam, and he slept: and he took one of his ribs, and closed up the flesh instead thereof;

Genesis 4:10:

And he said, What hast thou done? the voice of thy brother's blood crieth unto me from the ground.

Genesis 5:32:

And Noah was five hundred years old: and Noah begat Shem, Ham, and Japheth.

Genesis 6:5:

And GOD saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually.

Genesis 7:6:

And Noah was six hundred years old when the flood of waters was upon the earth.

Genesis 9:28:

And Noah lived after the flood three hundred and fifty years.

Genesis 12:3:

And I will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee: and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed.

Genesis 12:12-13:

Therefore it shall come to pass, when the Egyptians shall see thee, that they shall say, This is his wife: and they will kill me, but they will save thee alive.

Say, I pray thee, thou art my sister: that it may be well with me for thy sake; and my soul shall live because of thee.

Genesis 15:12-13:

And when the sun was going down, a deep sleep fell upon Abram, and lo, an horror of great darkness fell upon him.

And he said unto Abram, Know of a surety that thy seed shall be a stranger in a land that is not theirs, and shall serve them; and they shall afflict them four hundred years;

Genesis 15:13-16:

And he said unto Abram, Know of a surety that thy seed shall be a stranger in a land that is not theirs, and shall serve them; and they shall afflict them four hundred years;

And also that nation, whom they shall serve, will I judge: and afterward shall they come out with great substance.

And thou shalt go to thy fathers in peace; thou shalt be buried in a good old age.

But in the fourth generation they shall come hither again: for the iniquity of the Amorites is not yet full.

Genesis 17:1:

And when Abram was ninety years old and nine, the LORD appeared to Abram, and said unto him, I am the Almighty God; walk before me, and be thou perfect.

Genesis 17:5:

Neither shall thy name any more be called Abram, but thy name shall be Abraham; for a father of many nations have I made thee.

Genesis 18:14:

Is any thing too hard for the LORD? At the time appointed I will return unto thee, according to the time of life, and Sarah shall have a son.

Genesis 18:23-32:

And Abraham drew near, and said, Wilt thou also destroy the righteous with the wicked?

Peradventure there be fifty righteous within the city: wilt thou also destroy and not spare the place for the fifty righteous that are therein?

That be far from thee to do after this manner, to slay the righteous with the wicked: and that the righteous should be as the wicked, that be far from thee: Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right?

And the LORD said, If I find in Sodom fifty righteous within the city, then I will spare all the place for their sakes.

And Abraham answered and said, Behold now, I have taken upon me to speak unto the Lord, which am but dust and ashes:

Peradventure there shall lack five of the fifty righteous: wilt thou destroy all the city for lack of five? And he said, If I find there forty and five, I will not destroy it.

And he spake unto him yet again, and said, Peradventure there shall be forty found there. And he said, I will not do it for forty's sake.

And he said unto him, Oh let not the Lord be angry, and I will speak: Peradventure there shall thirty be found there. And he said, I will not do it, if I find thirty there.

And he said, Behold now, I have taken upon me to speak unto the Lord: Peradventure there shall be twenty found there. And he said, I will not destroy it for twenty's sake.

And he said, Oh let not the Lord be angry, and I will speak yet but this once: Peradventure ten shall be found there. And he said, I will not destroy it for ten's sake.

Genesis 19:9:

And they said, Stand back. And they said again, This one fellow came in to sojourn, and he will needs be a judge: now will we deal worse with thee, than with them. And they pressed sore upon the man, even Lot, and came near to break the door.

Genesis 19:10-11:

But the men [who were actually angels] put forth their hand, and pulled Lot into the house to them, and shut to the door.

And they smote the men that were at the door of the house with blindness, both small and great: so that they wearied themselves to find the door.

Genesis 19:22:

Haste thee, escape thither; for I cannot do any thing till thou be come thither. Therefore the name of the city was called Zoar.

Genesis 21:17:

And God heard the voice of the lad; and the angel of God called to Hagar out of heaven, and said unto her, What aileth thee, Hagar? fear not; for God hath heard the voice of the lad where he is.

Genesis 25:1-2:

Then again Abraham took a wife, and her name was Keturah.

And she bare him Zimram, and Jokshan, and Medan, and Midian, and Ishbak, and Shuah.

Genesis 25:7-8:

And these are the days of years of Abraham's life which he lived, an hundred threescore and fifteen years.

Then Abraham gave up the ghost, and died in a good old age, an old man, and full of years; and was gathered to his people.

Genesis 26:34-35:

And Esau was forty years old when he took to wife Judith the daughter of Beerli the Hittite, and Bashemath the daughter of Elon the Hittite:
Which were a grief of mind unto Isaac and to Rebekah.

Genesis 28:22:

And this stone, which I have set for a pillar, shall be God's house: and of all that thou shalt give me I will surely give the tenth unto thee.

Genesis 32:24-28:

And Jacob was left alone; and there wrestled a man with him until the breaking of the day.
And when he saw that he prevailed not against him, he touched the hollow of his thigh; and the hollow of Jacob's thigh was out of joint, as he wrestled with him.
And he said, Let me go, for the day breaketh. And he said, I will not let thee go, except thou bless me.
And he said unto him, What is thy name? And he said, Jacob.
And he said, Thy name shall be called no more Jacob, but Israel: for as a prince hast thou power with God and with men, and hast prevailed.

Genesis 35:11:

And God said unto him [Jacob], I am God Almighty: be fruitful and multiply; a nation and a company of nations shall be of thee, and kings shall come out of thy loins.

Genesis 47:28:

And Jacob lived in the land of Egypt seventeen years: so the whole age of Jacob was an hundred forty and seven years.

Exodus 6:18:

And the sons of Kohath; Amram, and Izhar, and Hebron, and Uzziel: and the years of the life of Kohath were an hundred thirty and three years.

Exodus 6:20:

And Amram took him Jochebed his father's sister to wife; and she bare him Aaron and Moses: and the years of the life of Amram were an hundred and thirty and seven years.

Exodus 7:10-12:

And Moses and Aaron went in unto Pharaoh, and they did so as the LORD had commanded: and Aaron cast down his rod before Pharaoh, and before his servants, and it became a serpent.
Then Pharaoh also called the wise men and the sorcerers: now the magicians of Egypt, they also did in like manner with their enchantments.
For they cast down every man his rod, and they became serpents: but Aaron's rod swallowed up their rods.

Exodus 8:6:

And Aaron stretched out his hand over the waters of Egypt; and the frogs came up, and covered the land of Egypt.

Exodus 8:24:

And the LORD did so; and there came a grievous swarm of flies into the house of Pharaoh, and into his servants' houses, and into all the land of Egypt: the land was corrupted by reason of the swarm of flies.

Exodus 10:13:

And Moses stretched forth his rod over the land of Egypt, and the LORD brought an east wind upon the land all that day, and all that night; and when it was morning, the east wind brought the locusts.

Exodus 15:2:

The LORD is my strength and song, and he is become my salvation: he is my God, and I will prepare him an habitation; my father's God, and I will exalt him.

Exodus 15:23-25:

And when they came to Marah, they could not drink of the waters of Marah, for they were bitter: therefore the name of it was called Marah.

And the people murmured against Moses, saying, What shall we drink?

And he cried unto the LORD; and the LORD shewed him a tree, which when he had cast into the waters, the waters were made sweet: there he made for them a statute and an ordinance, and there he proved them,

Exodus 34:5-7:

And the LORD descended in the cloud, and stood with him there, and proclaimed the name of the LORD. And the LORD passed by before him, and proclaimed, The LORD, The LORD God, merciful and gracious, longsuffering, and abundant in goodness and truth, Keeping mercy for thousands, forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin, and that will by no means clear the guilty; visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children, and upon the children's children, unto the third and to the fourth generation.

Leviticus 18:22:

Thou shalt not lie with mankind, as with womankind: it is abomination.

Leviticus 20:13:

If a man also lie with mankind, as he lieth with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination: they shall surely be put to death; their blood shall be upon them.

Leviticus 26:41:

And that I also have walked contrary unto them, and have brought them into the land of their enemies; if then their uncircumcised hearts be humbled, and they then accept of the punishment of their iniquity:

Numbers 11:1-2:

And when the people complained, it displeased the LORD: and the LORD heard it; and his anger was kindled, and the fire of the LORD burnt among them, and consumed them that were in the uttermost parts of the camp.

And the people cried unto Moses; and when Moses prayed unto the LORD, the fire was quenched.

Numbers 16:21:

Separate yourselves from among this congregation, that I may consume them in a moment.

Numbers 23:19:

God is not a man, that he should lie; neither the son of man, that he should repent: hath he said, and shall he not do it? or hath he spoken, and shall he not make it good?

Numbers 23:22:

God brought them out of Egypt; he hath as it were the strength of an unicorn.

Numbers 23:23:

Surely there is no enchantment against Jacob, neither is there any divination against Israel: according to this time it shall be said of Jacob and of Israel, What hath God wrought!

Numbers 24:8:

God brought him forth out of Egypt; he hath as it were the strength of an unicorn: he shall eat up the nations his enemies, and shall break their bones, and pierce them through with his arrows.

Numbers 33:39:

And Aaron was an hundred and twenty and three years old when he died in mount Hor.

Deuteronomy 6:9:

And thou shalt write them [God's words] upon the posts of thy house, and on thy gates.

Deuteronomy 9:18:

And I fell down before the LORD, as at the first, forty days and forty nights: I did neither eat bread, nor drink water, because of all your sins which ye sinned, in doing wickedly in the sight of the LORD, to provoke him to anger.

Deuteronomy 9:25:

Thus I fell down before the LORD forty days and forty nights, as I fell down at the first; because the LORD had said he would destroy you.

Deuteronomy 18:10-11:

There shall not be found among you any one that maketh his son or his daughter to pass through the fire, or that useth divination, or an observer of times, or an enchanter, or a witch, Or a charmer, or a consulter with familiar spirits, or a wizard, or a necromancer.

Deuteronomy 21:23:

His body shall not remain all night upon the tree, but thou shalt in any wise bury him that day; (for he that is hanged is accursed of God;) that thy land be not defiled, which the LORD thy God giveth thee for an inheritance.

Deuteronomy 22:5:

The woman shall not wear that which pertaineth unto a man, neither shall a man put on a woman's garment: for all that do so are abomination unto the LORD thy God.

Deuteronomy 24:1-2:

When a man hath taken a wife, and married her, and it come to pass that she find no favour in his eyes, because he hath found some uncleanness in her: then let him write her a bill of divorcement, and give it in her hand, and send her out of his house.

And when she is departed out of his house, she may go and be another man's wife.

Deuteronomy 28:4:

Blessed shall be the fruit of thy body, and the fruit of thy ground, and the fruit of thy cattle, the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheep.

Deuteronomy 28:7:

The LORD shall cause thine enemies that rise up against thee to be smitten before thy face: they shall come out against thee one way, and flee before thee seven ways.

Deuteronomy 33:27:

The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms: and he shall thrust out the enemy from before thee; and shall say, Destroy them.

Joshua 6:2:

And the LORD said unto Joshua, See, I have given into thine hand Jericho, and the king thereof, and the mighty men of valour.

Joshua 6:16:

And it came to pass at the seventh time, when the priests blew with the trumpets, Joshua said unto the people, Shout; for the LORD hath given you the city.

1 Samuel 2:5:

They that were full have hired out themselves for bread; and they that were hungry ceased: so that the barren hath born seven; and she that hath many children is waxed feeble.

1 Samuel 15:29:

And also the Strength of Israel will not lie nor repent: for he is not a man, that he should repent.

1 Samuel 25:3:

Now the name of the man was Nabal; and the name of his wife Abigail: and she was a woman of good understanding, and of a beautiful countenance: but the man was churlish and evil in his doings; and he was of the house of Caleb.

1 Samuel 25:17:

Now therefore know and consider what thou wilt do; for evil is determined against our master, and against all his household: for he is such a son of Belial, that a man cannot speak to him.

1 Samuel 25:25:

Let not my lord, I pray thee, regard this man of Belial, even Nabal: for as his name is, so is he; Nabal is his name, and folly is with him: but I thine handmaid saw not the young men of my lord, whom thou didst send.

1 Samuel 26:12:

So David took the spear and the cruse of water from Saul's bolster; and they got them away, and no man saw it, nor knew it, neither awaked: for they were all asleep; because a deep sleep from the LORD was fallen upon them.

2 Samuel 6:14-16:

And David danced before the LORD with all his might; and David was girded with a linen ephod. So David and all the house of Israel brought up the ark of the LORD with shouting, and with the sound of the trumpet. And as the ark of the LORD came into the city of David, Michal Saul's daughter looked through a window and saw king David leaping and dancing before the LORD; and she despised him in her heart.

2 Samuel 16:10:

And the king said, What have I to do with you, ye sons of Zeruiah? So let him curse, because the LORD hath said unto him, Curse David. Who shall then say, Wherefore hast thou done so?

1 Kings 18:46:

And the hand of the LORD was upon Elijah; and he girded up his loins, and ran before Ahab to the entrance of Jezreel.

1 Kings 19:4:

But he himself went a day's journey into the wilderness, and came and sat down under a juniper tree: and he requested for himself that he might die; and said, It is enough; now, O LORD, take away my life; for I am not better than my fathers.

1 Kings 19:11-12:

And he said, Go forth, and stand upon the mount before the LORD. And, behold, the LORD passed by, and a great and strong wind rent the mountains, and brake in pieces the rocks before the LORD; but the LORD was not in the wind: and after the wind an earthquake; but the LORD was not in the earthquake: And after the earthquake a fire; but the LORD was not in the fire: and after the fire a still small voice.

1 Kings 22:22-23:

And the LORD said unto him, Wherewith? And he said, I will go forth, and I will be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And he said, Thou shalt persuade him, and prevail also: go forth, and do so. Now therefore, behold, the LORD hath put a lying spirit in the mouth of all these thy prophets, and the LORD hath spoken evil concerning thee.

2 Kings 3:14-15:

And Elisha said, As the LORD of hosts liveth, before whom I stand, surely, were it not that I regard the presence of Jehoshaphat the king of Judah, I would not look toward thee, nor see thee. But now bring me a minstrel. And it came to pass, when the minstrel played, that the hand of the LORD came upon him.

2 Kings 13:14:

Now Elisha was fallen sick of his sickness whereof he died. And Joash the king of Israel came down unto him, and wept over his face, and said, O my father, my father, the chariot of Israel, and the horsemen thereof.

2 Kings 18:4:

He [Hezekiah] removed the high places, and brake the images, and cut down the groves, and brake in pieces the brasen serpent that Moses had made: for unto those days the children of Israel did burn incense to it: and he called it Nehushtan.

2 Kings 20:8:

And Hezekiah said unto Isaiah, What shall be the sign that the LORD will heal me, and that I shall go up into the house of the LORD the third day?

1 Chronicles 16:22:

Saying, Touch not mine anointed, and do my prophets no harm.

2 Chronicles 18:21-22:

And he said, I will go out, and be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And the LORD said, Thou shalt entice him, and thou shalt also prevail: go out, and do even so. Now therefore, behold, the LORD hath put a lying spirit in the mouth of these thy prophets, and the LORD hath spoken evil against thee.

2 Chronicles 24:15:

But Jehoiada waxed old, and was full of days when he died; an hundred and thirty years old was he when he died.

Ezra 7:28:

And hath extended mercy unto me before the king, and his counsellors, and before all the king's mighty princes. And I was strengthened as the hand of the LORD my God was upon me, and I gathered together out of Israel chief men to go up with me.

Nehemiah 8:10:

Then he said unto them, Go your way, eat the fat, and drink the sweet, and send portions unto them for whom nothing is prepared: for this day is holy unto our Lord: neither be ye sorry; for the joy of the LORD is your strength.

Job 1:7:

And the LORD said unto Satan, Whence comest thou? Then Satan answered the LORD, and said, From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.

Job 1:16:

While he was yet speaking, there came also another, and said, The fire of God is fallen from heaven, and hath burned up the sheep, and the servants, and consumed them; and I only am escaped alone to tell thee.

Job 2:2:

And the LORD said unto Satan, From whence comest thou? And Satan answered the LORD, and said, From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.

Job 4:14:

Fear came upon me, and trembling, which made all my bones to shake.

Job 7:3:

So am I made to possess months of vanity, and wearisome nights are appointed to me.

Job 7:4:

When I lie down, I say, When shall I arise, and the night be gone? and I am full of tossings to and fro unto the dawning of the day.

Job 7:5:

My flesh is clothed with worms and clods of dust; my skin is broken, and become loathsome.

Job 7:14:

Then thou scarest me with dreams, and terrifiest me through visions:

Job 9:17:

For he breaketh me with a tempest, and multiplieth my wounds without cause.

Job 9:18:

He will not suffer me to take my breath, but filleth me with bitterness.

Job 10:10-11:

Hast thou not poured me out as milk, and curdled me like cheese?
Thou hast clothed me with skin and flesh, and hast fenced me with bones and sinews.

Job 13:14:

Wherefore do I take my flesh in my teeth, and put my life in mine hand?

Job 16:7:

But now he hath made me weary: thou hast made desolate all my company.

Job 16:8:

And thou hast filled me with wrinkles, which is a witness against me: and my leanness rising up in me beareth witness to my face.

Job 16:13:

His archers compass me round about, he cleaveth my reins asunder, and doth not spare; he poureth out my gall upon the ground.

Job 17:1:

My breath is corrupt, my days are extinct, the graves are ready for me.

Job 17:7:

Mine eye also is dim by reason of sorrow, and all my members are as a shadow.

Job 19:17:

My breath is strange to my wife, though I intreated for the children's sake of mine own body.

Job 19:20:

My bone cleaveth to my skin and to my flesh, and I am escaped with the skin of my teeth.

Job 19:26:

And though after my skin worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh shall I see God:

Job 21:6:

Even when I remember I am afraid, and trembling taketh hold on my flesh.

Job 23:16:

For God maketh my heart soft, and the Almighty troubleth me:

Job 27:2:

As God liveth, who hath taken away my judgment; and the Almighty, who hath vexed my soul;

Job 28:28:

And unto man he said, Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom; and to depart from evil is understanding.

Job 30:17:

My bones are pierced in me in the night season: and my sinews take no rest.

Job 30:18:

By the great force of my disease is my garment changed: it bindeth me about as the collar of my coat.

Job 30:27:

My bowels boiled, and rested not: the days of affliction prevented me.

Job 30:30:

My skin is black upon me, and my bones are burned with heat.

Job 38:2:

Who is this that darkeneth counsel by words without knowledge?

Job 42:8:

Therefore take unto you now seven bullocks and seven rams, and go to my servant Job, and offer up for yourselves a burnt offering; and my servant Job shall pray for you: for him will I accept: lest I deal with you after your folly, in that ye have not spoken of me the thing which is right, like my servant Job.

Job 42:11:

Then came there unto him all his brethren, and all his sisters, and all they that had been of his acquaintance before, and did eat bread with him in his house: and they bemoaned him, and comforted him over all the evil that the LORD had brought upon him: every man also gave him a piece of money, and every one an earring of gold.

Job 42:16-17:

After this lived Job an hundred and forty years, and saw his sons, and his sons' sons, even four generations.

So Job died, being old and full of days.

Psalms 1:1-3:

Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful.

But his delight is in the law of the LORD; and in his law doth he meditate day and night.

And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper.

Psalms 8:2:

Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings hast thou ordained strength because of thine enemies, that thou mightest still the enemy and the avenger.

Psalms 14:1:

The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God. They are corrupt, they have done abominable works, there is none that doeth good.

Psalms 18:1-2:

I will love thee, O LORD, my strength.

The LORD is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my strength, in whom I will trust; my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower.

Psalms 21:1:

The king shall joy in thy strength, O LORD; and in thy salvation how greatly shall he rejoice!

Psalm 34:8:

O taste and see that the LORD is good: blessed is the man that trusteth in him.

Psalm 34:15:

The eyes of the LORD are upon the righteous, and his ears are open unto their cry.

Psalm 42:5-6:

Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted in me? hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him for the help of his countenance.

O my God, my soul is cast down within me: therefore will I remember thee from the land of Jordan, and of the Hermonites, from the hill Mizar.

Psalm 42:11:

Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God.

Psalm 43:2:

For thou art the God of my strength: why dost thou cast me off? why go I mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?

Psalm 43:5:

Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? hope in God: for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God.

Psalm 46:1-2:

God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.

Therefore will not we fear, though the earth be removed, and though the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea;

Psalm 51:11:

Cast me not away from thy presence; and take not thy holy spirit from me.

Psalm 53:1:

The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God. Corrupt are they, and have done abominable iniquity: there is none that doeth good.

Psalm 68:11:

The Lord gave the word: great was the company of those that published it.

Psalm 71:16:

I will go in the strength of the Lord GOD: I will make mention of thy righteousness, even of thine only.

Psalm 84:5-7:

Blessed is the man whose strength is in thee; in whose heart are the ways of them.
Who passing through the valley of Baca make it a well; the rain also filleth the pools.
They go from strength to strength, every one of them in Zion appeareth before God.

Psalm 94:1:

O LORD God, to whom vengeance belongeth; O God, to whom vengeance belongeth, shew thyself.

Psalm 102:4:

My heart is smitten, and withered like grass; so that I forget to eat my bread.

Psalm 102:5:

By reason of the voice of my groaning my bones cleave to my skin.

Psalm 102:10:

Because of thine indignation and thy wrath: for thou hast lifted me up, and cast me down.

Psalm 105:15:

Saying, Touch not mine anointed, and do my prophets no harm.

Psalm 111:10:

The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom: a good understanding have all they that do his commandments: his praise endureth for ever.

Psalm 112:1-2:

Praise ye the LORD. Blessed is the man that feareth the LORD, that delighteth greatly in his commandments.

His seed shall be mighty upon earth: the generation of the upright shall be blessed.

Psalm 115:3:

But our God is in the heavens: he hath done whatsoever he hath pleased.

Psalm 119:89:

For ever, O LORD, thy word is settled in heaven.

Psalm 127:1:

Except the LORD build the house, they labour in vain that build it: except the LORD keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain.

Psalm 138:2:

I will worship toward thy holy temple, and praise thy name for thy lovingkindness and for thy truth: for thou hast magnified thy word above all thy name.

Psalm 138:8:

The LORD will perfect that which concerneth me: thy mercy, O LORD, endureth for ever: forsake not the works of thine own hands.

Psalm 147:15:

He sendeth forth his commandment upon earth: his word runneth very swiftly.

Proverbs 1:7:

The fear of the LORD is the beginning of knowledge: but fools despise wisdom and instruction.

Proverbs 2:5:

Then shalt thou understand the fear of the LORD, and find the knowledge of God.

Proverbs 5:8-11:

Remove thy way far from her, and come not nigh the door of her house:
Lest thou give thine honour unto others, and thy years unto the cruel:
Lest strangers be filled with thy wealth; and thy labours be in the house of a stranger;
And thou mourn at the last, when thy flesh and thy body are consumed,

Proverbs 6:32-33:

But whoso committeth adultery with a woman lacketh understanding: he that doeth it destroyeth his own soul.
A wound and dishonour shall he get; and his reproach shall not be wiped away.

Proverbs 8:14:

Counsel is mine, and sound wisdom: I am understanding; I have strength.

Proverbs 9:10:

The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom: and the knowledge of the holy is understanding.

Proverbs 10:24:

The fear of the wicked, it shall come upon him: but the desire of the righteous shall be granted.

Proverbs 10:29:

The way of the LORD is strength to the upright: but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquity.

Proverbs 13:20:

He that walketh with wise men shall be wise: but a companion of fools shall be destroyed.

Proverbs 13:22:

A good man leaveth an inheritance to his children's children: and the wealth of the sinner is laid up for the just.

Proverbs 15:33:

The fear of the LORD is the instruction of wisdom; and before honour is humility.

Proverbs 16:6:

By mercy and truth iniquity is purged: and by the fear of the LORD men depart from evil.

Proverbs 16:18:

Pride goeth before destruction, and an haughty spirit before a fall.

Proverbs 22:4:

By humility and the fear of the LORD are riches, and honour, and life.

Proverbs 26:2:

As the bird by wandering, as the swallow by flying, so the curse causeless shall not come.

Proverbs 26:9:

As a thorn goeth up into the hand of a drunkard, so is a parable in the mouth of fools.

Proverbs 30:15-16:

The horseleach hath two daughters, crying, Give, give. There are three things that are never satisfied, yea, four things say not, It is enough:

The grave; and the barren womb; the earth that is not filled with water; and the fire that saith not, It is enough.

Song of Solomon 8:6:

Set me as a seal upon thine heart, as a seal upon thine arm: for love is strong as death; jealousy is cruel as the grave: the coals thereof are coals of fire, which hath a most vehement flame.

Ecclesiastes 3:2:

A time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted;

Ecclesiastes 8:4:

Where the word of a king is, there is power: and who may say unto him, What doest thou?

Isaiah 6:10:

Make the heart of this people fat, and make their ears heavy, and shut their eyes; lest they see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and convert, and be healed.

Isaiah 10:27:

And it shall come to pass in that day, that his burden shall be taken away from off thy shoulder, and his yoke from off thy neck, and the yoke shall be destroyed because of the anointing.

Isaiah 17:10:

Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy salvation, and hast not been mindful of the rock of thy strength, therefore shalt thou plant pleasant plants, and shalt set it with strange slips:

Isaiah 41:1:

Keep silence before me, O islands; and let the people renew their strength: let them come near; then let them speak: let us come near together to judgment.

Isaiah 43:5:

Fear not: for I am with thee: I will bring thy seed from the east, and gather thee from the west;

Isaiah 43:19-20:

Behold, I will do a new thing; now it shall spring forth; shall ye not know it? I will even make a way in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert.

The beast of the field shall honour me, the dragons and the owls: because I give waters in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert, to give drink to my people, my chosen.

Isaiah 45:11:

Thus saith the LORD, the Holy One of Israel, and his Maker, Ask me of things to come concerning my sons, and concerning the work of my hands command ye me.

Isaiah 45:24:

Surely, shall one say, in the LORD have I righteousness and strength: even to him shall men come; and all that are incensed against him shall be ashamed.

Isaiah 49:5:

And now, saith the LORD that formed me from the womb to be his servant, to bring Jacob again to him, Though Israel be not gathered, yet shall I be glorious in the eyes of the LORD, and my God shall be my strength.

Isaiah 51:9:

Awake, awake, put on strength, O arm of the LORD; awake, as in the ancient days, in the generations of old. Art thou not it that hath cut Rahab, and wounded the dragon?

Isaiah 52:1:

Awake, awake, put on strength, O arm of the LORD; awake, as in the ancient days, in the generations of old. Art thou not it that hath cut Rahab, and wounded the dragon?

Isaiah 54:14:

In righteousness shalt thou be established: thou shalt be far from oppression; for thou shalt not fear: and from terror; for it shall not come near thee.

Isaiah 57:15:

For thus saith the high and lofty One that inhabiteth eternity, whose name is Holy; I dwell in the high and holy place, with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones.

Jeremiah 4:3:

For thus saith the LORD to the men of Judah and Jerusalem, Break up your fallow ground, and sow not among thorns.

Jeremiah 1:12:

Then said the LORD unto me, Thou hast well seen: for I will hasten my word to perform it.

Jeremiah 16:19:

O LORD, my strength, and my fortress, and my refuge in the day of affliction, the Gentiles shall come unto thee from the ends of the earth, and shall say, Surely our fathers have inherited lies, vanity, and things wherein there is no profit.

Jeremiah 29:11:

For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, saith the LORD, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you an expected end.

Jeremiah 31:26:

Upon this I awaked, and beheld; and my sleep was sweet unto me.

Ezekiel 1:28-2:2:

As the appearance of the bow that is in the cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness round about. This was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the LORD. And when I saw it, I fell upon my face, and I heard a voice of one that spake.

And he said unto me, Son of man, stand upon thy feet, and I will speak unto thee.

And the spirit entered into me when he spake unto me, and set me upon my feet, that I heard him that spake unto me.

Ezekiel 3:23-24:

Then I arose, and went forth into the plain: and, behold, the glory of the LORD stood there, as the glory which I saw by the river of Chebar: and I fell on my face.

Then the spirit entered into me, and set me upon my feet, and spake with me, and said unto me, Go, shut thyself within thine house.

Daniel 8:18:

Now as he was speaking with me, I was in a deep sleep on my face toward the ground: but he touched me, and set me upright.

Daniel 10:9:

Yet heard I the voice of his words: and when I heard the voice of his words, then was I in a deep sleep on my face, and my face toward the ground.

Daniel 10:12-13:

Then said he unto me, Fear not, Daniel: for from the first day that thou didst set thine heart to understand, and to chasten thyself before thy God, thy words were heard, and I am come for thy words. But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me one and twenty days: but, lo, Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me; and I remained there with the kings of Persia.

Daniel 10:20:

Then said he, Knowest thou wherefore I come unto thee? and now will I return to fight with the prince of Persia: and when I am gone forth, lo, the prince of Grecia shall come.

Hosea 6:6:

For I desired mercy, and not sacrifice; and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings.

Hosea 11:1:

When Israel was a child, then I loved him, and called my son out of Egypt.

Hosea 10:12:

Sow to yourselves in righteousness, reap in mercy; break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the LORD, till he come and rain righteousness upon you.

Joel 2:17:

Let the priests, the ministers of the LORD, weep between the porch and the altar, and let them say, Spare thy people, O LORD, and give not thine heritage to reproach, that the heathen should rule over them: wherefore should they say among the people, Where is their God?

Joel 2:28:

And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions:

Joel 3:10:

Beat your plowshares into swords, and your pruninghooks into spears: let the weak say, I am strong.

Joel 3:16:

The LORD also shall roar out of Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem; and the heavens and the earth shall shake: but the LORD will be the hope of his people, and the strength of the children of Israel.

Amos 3:3:

Can two walk together, except they be agreed?

Micah 7:18:

Who is a God like unto thee, that pardoneth iniquity, and passeth by the transgression of the remnant of his heritage? he retaineth not his anger for ever, because he delighteth in mercy.

Nahum 1:2:

God is jealous, and the LORD revengeth; the LORD revengeth, and is furious; the LORD will take vengeance on his adversaries, and he reserveth wrath for his enemies.

Habakkuk 2:4:

Behold, his soul which is lifted up is not upright in him: but the just shall live by his faith.

Malachi 3:10-11:

Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the LORD of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it.

And I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the LORD of hosts.

Matthew 1:21:

And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name JESUS: for he shall save his people from their sins.

Matthew 4:1-11:

Then was Jesus led up of the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted of the devil.

And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, he was afterward an hungred.

And when the tempter came to him, he said, If thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread.

But he answered and said, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

Then the devil taketh him up into the holy city, and setteth him on a pinnacle of the temple,

And saith unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down: for it is written, He shall give his angels charge concerning thee: and in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.

Jesus said unto him, It is written again, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

Again, the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them;

And saith unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me.

Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

Then the devil leaveth him, and, behold, angels came and ministered unto him.

Matthew 5:11-12:

Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake.

Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.

Matthew 6:10:

Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven.

Matthew 6:25-34:

Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body more than raiment? Behold the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, neither do they gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they?

Which of you by taking thought can add one cubit unto his stature?

And why take ye thought for raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin:

And yet I say unto you, that even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

Wherefore, if God so clothe the grass of the field, which to day is, and to morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith?

Therefore, take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed?

(For after all these things do the Gentiles seek:) for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things.

But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you.

Take therefore no thought for the morrow: for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

Matthew 7:7-11:

Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you:

For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened.

Or what man is there of you, whom if his son ask bread, will he give him a stone?

Or if he ask a fish, will he give him a serpent?

If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask him?

Matthew 7:12:

Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets.

Matthew 7:13-14:

Enter ye in at the strait gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat:

Because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leads to life, and few there be that find it.

Matthew 8:18:

Now when Jesus saw great multitudes about him, he gave commandment to depart unto the other side.

Matthew 8:26:

And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm.

Matthew 9:12:

But when Jesus heard that, he said unto them, They that be whole need not a physician, but they that are sick.

Matthew 9:13:

But go ye and learn what that meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

Matthew 10:14:

And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, when ye depart out of that house or city, shake off the dust of your feet.

Matthew 11:12:

And from the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven suffereth violence, and the violent take it by force.

Matthew 11:30:

For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

Matthew 12:7:

But if ye had known what this meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the guiltless.

Matthew 12:29:

Or else how can one enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man? and then he will spoil his house.

Matthew 12:34-35:

O generation of vipers, how can ye, being evil, speak good things? for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh.

A good man out of the good treasure of the heart bringeth forth good things: and an evil man out of the evil treasure bringeth forth evil things.

Matthew 12:37:

For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.

Matthew 12:45:

Then goeth he, and taketh with himself seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they enter in and dwell there: and the last state of that man is worse than the first. Even so shall it be also unto this wicked generation.

Matthew 14:17-21:

And they say unto him, We have here but five loaves, and two fishes.

He said, Bring them hither to me.

And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the grass, and took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed, and brake, and gave the loaves to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up of the fragments that remained twelve baskets full.

And they that had eaten were about five thousand men, beside women and children.

Matthew 14:28-31:

And Peter answered him and said, Lord, if it be thou, bid me come unto thee on the water.

And he said, Come. And when Peter was come down out of the ship, he walked on the water, to go to Jesus.

But when he saw the wind boisterous, he was afraid; and beginning to sink, he cried, saying, Lord, save me.

And immediately Jesus stretched forth his hand, and caught him, and said unto him, O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt?

Matthew 15:34-38:

And Jesus saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven, and a few little fishes.

And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground.

And he took the seven loaves and the fishes, and gave thanks, and brake them, and gave to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up of the broken meat that was left seven baskets full.

And they that did eat were four thousand men, beside women and children.

Matthew 16:8:

Which when Jesus perceived, he said unto them, O ye of little faith, why reason ye among yourselves, because ye have brought no bread?

Matthew 16:12:

Then understood they how he bade them not beware of the leaven of bread, but of the doctrine of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees.

Matthew 16:18:

And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon his rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.

Matthew 16:19:

And I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.

Matthew 16:22-23:

Then Peter took him, and began to rebuke him, saying, Be it far from thee, Lord: this shall not be unto thee.

But he turned, and said unto Peter, Get thee behind me, Satan: thou art an offence unto me: for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but those that be of men.

Matthew 17:24-27:

And he said unto them, Where is your faith? And they being afraid wondered, saying one to another, What manner of man is this! for he commandeth even the winds and water, and they obey him.

He saith, Yes. And when he was come into the house, Jesus prevented him, saying, What thinkest thou, Simon? of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers? Peter saith unto him, Of strangers. Jesus saith unto him, Then are the children free.

Notwithstanding, lest we should offend them, go thou to the sea, and cast an hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a piece of money: that take, and give unto them for me and thee.

Matthew 18:6:

But whoso shall offend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea.

Matthew 19:13-15:

Then were there brought unto him little children, that he should put his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them.

But Jesus said, Suffer little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me: for of such is the kingdom of heaven.

And he laid his hands on them, and departed thence.

Matthew 19:26:

But Jesus beheld them, and said unto them, With men this is impossible; but with God all things are possible.

Matthew 21:16:

And said unto him, Hearst thou what these say? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea; have ye never read, Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise?

Matthew 22:30:

For in the resurrection they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but are as the angels of God in heaven.

Matthew 23:12:

And whosoever shall exalt himself shall be abased; and he that shall humble himself shall be exalted.

Matthew 23:23:

Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye pay tithes of mint and anise and cummin, and have omitted the weightier matters of the law, judgment, mercy, and faith: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone.

Matthew 24:7:

For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes, in divers places.

Matthew 24:9:

Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name's sake.

Matthew 24:10:

And then many shall be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.

Matthew 24:11:

And many false prophets shall rise, and shall deceive many.

Matthew 24:12:

And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold.

Matthew 24:14:

And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come.

Matthew 24:20:

But pray ye that your flight might not be in the winter, neither on the sabbath day:

Matthew 24:36:

But of the day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heaven, but my Father only.

Matthew 25:36:

Naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me.

Matthew 25:41:

Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels:

Matthew 25:46:

And these shall go away into everlasting punishment: but the righteous into life eternal.

Matthew 27:32:

And as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name: him they compelled to bear his cross.

Matthew 27:50:

Jesus, when he had cried again with a loud voice, yielded up the ghost.

Matthew 28:5:

And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified.

Matthew 28:8:

And they departed quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy; and did run to bring his disciples word.

Matthew 28:17:

And when they saw him, they worshipped him: but some doubted.

Matthew 28:20:

Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. Amen.

Mark 1:15:

And saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe the gospel.

Mark 1:35:

And in the morning, rising up a great while before day, he went out, and departed into a solitary place, and there prayed.

Mark 2:17:

When Jesus heard it, he saith unto them, They that are whole have no need of the physician, but they that are sick: I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

Mark 3:27:

No man can enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he will first bind the strong man; and then he will spoil his house.

Mark 4:2-25:

And he taught them many things by parables, and said unto them in his doctrine,

Hearken; Behold, there went out a sower to sow:

And it came to pass, as he sowed, some fell by the way side, and the fowls of the air came in devoured it up.

And some fell on stony ground, where it had not much earth; and immediately it sprang up because it had no depth of earth:

But when the sun was up, it was scorched; and because it had no root, it withered away.

And some fell among thorns, and the thorns grew up, and choked it, and it yielded no fruit.

And other fell on good ground, and did yield fruit that sprang up and increased; and brought forth, some thirty, and some sixty, and some an hundred.

And he said unto them, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

And when he was alone, they that were about him with the twelve asked of him the parable.
And he said unto them, Unto you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God: but unto them that are without, all these things are done in parables:
That seeing they may see, and not perceive; and hearing they may hear, and not understand, lest at any time they should be converted, and their sins should be forgiven them.
And he said unto them, Know ye not this parable? and how then will ye know all parables?
The sower soweth the word.
And these are they by the way side, where the word is sown; but when they have heard, Satan cometh immediately, and taketh away the word that was sown in their hearts.
And these are they likewise which are sown on stony ground; who, when they have heard the word, immediately receive it with gladness;
And have no root in themselves, and so endure but for a time: afterward, when affliction or persecution ariseth for the word's sake, immediately they are offended.
And these are they which are sown among thorns; such as hear the word,
And the cares of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things entering in, choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful.
And these are they which are sown on good ground; such as hear the word, and receive it, and bring forth fruit, some thirtyfold, some sixty, and some an hundred.
And he said unto them, Is a candle brought to be put under a bushel, or under a bed? and not to be set on a candlestick?
For there is nothing hid, which shall not be manifested; neither was any thing kept secret, but that it should come abroad.
If any man have ears to hear, let him hear.
And he said unto them, Take heed what ye hear: for with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you: and unto you that hear shall more be given.
For he that hath, to him shall be given: and he that hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he hath.

Mark 6:11:

And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear you, when ye depart thence, shake off the dust under your feet for a testimony against them. Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for Sodom and Gomorrhah in the day of judgment, than for that city.

Mark 6:31:

And he said unto them, Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place, a rest a while: for there were many coming and going, and they had no leisure so much as to eat.

Mark 6:41-44:

And when he had taken the five loaves and the two fishes, he looked up to heaven, and blessed, and brake the loaves, and gave them to his disciples to set before them; and the two fishes divided he among them all.

And they did all eat, and were filled.

And they took up twelve baskets full of the fragments, and of the fishes.

And they that did eat of the loaves were about five thousand men.

Mark 7:31:

And again, departing from the coasts of Tyre and Sidon, he came unto the sea of Galilee, through the midst of the coasts of Decapolis.

Mark 8:1-9:

In those days the multitude being very great, and having nothing to eat, Jesus called his disciples unto him, and saith unto them,

I have compassion on the multitude, because they have now been with me three days, and have nothing to eat:

And if I send them away fasting to their own houses, they will faint by the way: for divers of them came from far.

And he asked them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven.

And he commanded the people to sit down on the ground: and he took the seven loaves, and gave thanks, and brake, and gave to his disciples to set before them; and they did set them before the people.

And they had a few small fishes: and he blessed, and commanded to set them also before them.

So they did eat, and were filled: and they took up of the broken meat that was left seven baskets.

And they that had eaten were about four thousand: and he sent them away.

Mark 8:31-33:

And he began to teach them, that the Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders, and of the chief priests, and scribes, and be killed, and after three days rise again.

And he spake that saying openly. And Peter took him, and began to rebuke him.

But when he had turned about and looked on his disciples, he rebuked Peter, saying, Get thee behind me, Satan: for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but the things that be of men.

Mark 9:1:

And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That there be some of them that stand here, which shall not taste of death, till they have seen the kingdom of God come with power.

Mark 9:44:

Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

Mark 10:13-16:

And they brought young children to him, that he should touch them: and his disciples rebuked those that brought them.

But when Jesus saw it, he was much displeased, and said unto them, Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God.

Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein.

And he took them up in his arms, put his hands upon them, and blessed them.

Mark 11:13-14:

And seeing a fig tree afar off having leaves, he came, if haply he might find any thing thereon: and when he came to it, he found nothing but leaves; for the time of figs was not yet.

And Jesus answered and said unto it, No man eat fruit of thee hereafter for ever. And his disciples heard it.

Mark 11:20:

And in the morning, as they passed by, they saw the fig tree dried up from the roots.

Mark 11:25:

And when ye stand praying, forgive, if ye have ought against any: that your Father also which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses.

Mark 12:25:

For when they shall rise from the dead, they neither marry, nor are given in marriage; but are as the angels which are in heaven.

Mark 12:37:

David therefore himself calleth him Lord; and whence is he then his son? And the common people heard him gladly.

Mark 14:21:

The Son of man indeed goeth, as it is written of him: but woe to that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! good were it for that man if he had never been born.

Mark 14:36:

And he said, Abba, Father, all things are possible unto thee; take away this cup from me: nevertheless not what I will, but what thou wilt.

Mark 15:21:

And they compel one Simon a Cyrenian, who passed by, coming out of the country, the father of Alexander and Rufus, to bear his cross.

Mark 15:37:

And Jesus cried with a loud voice, and gave up the ghost.

Mark 15:38:

And the veil of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom.

Mark 15:39:

And when the centurion, which stood over against him, saw that he so cried out, and gave up the ghost, he said, Truly this man was the Son of God.

Mark 16:19:

So then after the Lord had spoken unto them, he was received up into heaven, and sat on the right hand of God.

Luke 1:7:

And they had no child, because that Elisabeth was barren, and they both were now well stricken in years.

Luke 1:13:

But the angel said unto him, Fear not, Zacharias: for thy prayer is heard; and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John.

Luke 1:18-20:

And Zacharias said unto the angel, Whereby shall I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife well stricken in years.

And the angel answering said unto him, I am Gabriel, that stand in the presence of God; and am sent to speak unto thee, and to shew thee these glad tidings.

And, behold, thou shalt be dumb, and not able to speak, until the day that these things shall be performed, because thou believest not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season.

Luke 1:30:

And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary: for thou hast found favour with God.

Luke 2:10:

And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

Luke 2:40:

And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, filled with wisdom: and the grace of God was upon him.

Luke 2:52:

And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favour with God and man.

Luke 4:3-12:

And the devil said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, command this stone that it be made bread.

And Jesus answered him, saying, It is written, That man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God.

And the devil, taking him up into an high mountain, shewed unto him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time.

And the devil said unto him, All this power will I give thee, and the glory of them: for that is delivered unto me; and to whomsoever I will I give it.

If thou therefore wilt worship me, all shall be thine.

And Jesus answered and said unto him, Get thee behind me, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

And he brought him to Jerusalem, and set him on a pinnacle of the temple, and said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down from hence:

For it is written, He shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee:

And in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.

And Jesus answering said unto him, It is said, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

Luke 5:4-7:

Now when he had left speaking, he said unto Simon, Launch out into the deep, and let down your nets for a draught.

And Simon answering said unto him, Master, we have toiled all the night, and have taken nothing: nevertheless at thy word I will let down the net.

And when they had this done, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes: and their net brake.

And they beckoned unto their partners, which were in the other ship, that they should come and help them. And they came, and filled both the ships, so that they began to sink.

Luke 5:31:

And Jesus answering said unto them, They that are whole need not a physician; but they that are sick.

Luke 6:12:

And it came to pass in those days, that he went out into a mountain to pray, and continued all night in prayer to God.

Luke 6:38:

Give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosom. For with the same measure that ye mete withal it shall be measured to you again.

Luke 7:28:

For I say unto you, Among those that are born of women there is not a greater prophet than John the Baptist: but he that is least in the kingdom of God is greater than he.

Luke 7:50:

And he said to the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee; go in peace.

Luke 8:23-25:

But as they sailed he fell asleep: and there came down a storm of wind on the lake; and they were filled with water, and were in jeopardy.

And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, master, we perish. Then he arose, and rebuked the wind and the raging of the water: and they ceased, and there was a calm.

And he said unto them, Where is your faith? And they being afraid wondered, saying one to another, What manner of man is this! for he commandeth even the winds and water, and they obey him.

Luke 8:50:

And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm.

Luke 9:5:

And whosoever will not receive you, when ye go out of that city, shake off the very dust from your feet for a testimony against them.

Luke 9:16-17:

Then He took the five loaves and the two fish, and looking up to heaven, He blessed and broke them, and gave them to the disciples to set before the multitude.

Luke 10:1:

After these things the Lord appointed other seventy also, and sent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself would come.

Luke 10:7:

And in the same house remain, eating and drinking such things as they give: for the labourer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house.

Luke 11:26:

Then goeth he, and taketh to him seven other spirits more wicked than himself; and they enter in, and dwell there: and the last state of that man is worse than the first.

Luke 12:28:

If then God so clothe the grass, which is to day in the field, and to morrow is cast into the oven; how much more will he clothe you, O ye of little faith?

Luke 13:4:

Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower in Siloam fell, and slew them, think ye that they were sinners above all men that dwelt in Jerusalem?

Luke 15:11-32:

And he [Jesus] said, A certain man had two sons:

And the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the portion of goods that falleth to me. And he divided unto them his living.

And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country, and there wasted his substance with riotous living.

And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that land; and he began to be in want.

And he went and joined himself to a citizen of that country; and he sent him into his fields to feed swine.

And he would fain have filled his belly with the husks that the swine did eat: and no man gave unto him.

And when he came to himself, he said, How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger!

I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee,

And am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants.

And he arose, and came to his father. But when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him.

And the son said unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy son.

But the father said to his servants, Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him; and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet:

And bring hither the fatted calf, and kill it; and let us eat, and be merry:

For this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. And they began to be merry.

Now his elder son was in the field: and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard musick and dancing.

And he called one of the servants, and asked what these things meant.

And he said unto him, Thy brother is come; and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe and sound.

And he was angry, and would not go in: therefore came his father out, and intreated him.

And he answering said to his father, Lo, these many years do I serve thee, neither transgressed I at any time thy commandment: and yet thou never gavest me a kid, that I might make merry with my friends: But as soon as this thy son was come, which hath devoured thy living with harlots, thou hast killed for him the fatted calf.

And he said unto him, Son, thou art ever with me, and all that I have is thine.

It was meet that we should make merry, and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is alive again; and was lost, and is found.

Luke 16:23-24:

And in hell he lift up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom.

And he cried and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue; for I am tormented in this flame.

Luke 18:10-14:

Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican.

The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican.

I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all that I possess.

And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner.

I tell you, this man went down to his house justified rather than the other: for every one that exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

Luke 18:15:

And they brought unto him also infants, that he would touch them: but when his disciples saw it, they rebuked them.

Luke 22:32:

But I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not: and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren.

Luke 22:41:

And he was withdrawn from them about a stone's cast, and kneeled down, and prayed,

Luke 22:44:

And being in an agony he prayed more earnestly: and his sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling down to the ground.

Luke 23:26:

And as they led him away, they laid hold upon one Simon, a Cyrenian, coming out of the country, and on him they laid the cross, that he might bear it after Jesus.

Luke 24:45-47:

Then opened he [Jesus] their understanding, that they might understand the scriptures,

And said unto them, Thus it is written, and thus it behoved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day:

And that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem.

Luke 24:51:

And it came to pass, while he blessed them, he was parted from them, and carried up into heaven.

John 1:15:

John bare witness of him, and cried, saying, This was he of whom I spake, He that cometh after me is preferred before me: for he was before me.

John 1:27:

He it is, who coming after me is preferred before me, whose shoe's latchet I am not worthy to unloose.

John 1:30:

This is he of whom I said, After me cometh a man which is preferred before me: for he was before me.

John 2:1-11:

And the third day there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee; and the mother of Jesus was there:

And both Jesus was called, and his disciples, to the marriage.

And when they wanted wine, the mother of Jesus saith unto him, They have no wine.

Jesus saith unto her, Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come.

His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it.

And there were set there six waterpots of stone, after the manner of the purifying of the Jews, containing two or three firkins apiece.

Jesus saith unto them, Fill the waterpots with water. And they filled them up to the brim.

And he saith unto them, Draw out now, and bear unto the governor of the feast. And they bare it.

When the ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine, and knew not whence it was: (but the servants which drew the water knew;) the governor of the feast called the bridegroom,

And saith unto him, Every man at the beginning doth set forth good wine; and when men have well drunk, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept the good wine until now.

This beginning of miracles did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and manifested forth his glory; and his disciples believed on him.

John 3:3-7:

Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God.

Nicodemus saith unto him, How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter the second time into his mother's womb, and be born?

Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.

That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit.

Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again.

John 3:36:

He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him.

John 4:6:

Now Jacob's well was there. Jesus therefore, being wearied from His journey, sat thus by the well. It was about the sixth hour.

John 4:10:

Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee living water.

John 6:5-13:

When Jesus then lifted up his eyes, and saw a great company come unto him, he saith unto Philip, Whence shall we buy bread, that these may eat?

And this he said to prove him: for he himself knew what he would do.

Philip answered him, Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may take a little.

One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, saith unto him,

There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves, and two small fishes: but what are they among so many?

And Jesus said, Make the men sit down. Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand.

And Jesus took the loaves; and when he had given thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set down; and likewise of the fishes as much as they would.

When they were filled, he said unto his disciples, Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost.

Then those men, when they had seen the miracle that Jesus did, said, This is of a truth that prophet that should come into the world.

John 6:21:

Then they willingly received him into the ship: and immediately the ship was at the land whither they went.

John 6:35:

And Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that believeth on me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst.

John 6:37:

All that the Father giveth me shall come to me; and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out.

John 6:54-56:

Whoso eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life; and I will raise him up at the last day.

For my flesh is meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed.

He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.

John 7:18:

He that speaketh of himself seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him.

John 8:10-11:

When Jesus had lifted up himself, and saw none but the woman, he said unto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee?

She said, No man, Lord. And Jesus said unto her, Neither do I condemn thee: go, and sin no more.

John 8:12:

Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life.

John 8:50:

And I seek not mine own glory: there is one that seeketh and judgeth.

John 8:51:

Verily, verily, I say unto you, If a man keep my saying, he shall never see death.

John 10:11:

I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep.

John 10:27:

My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me:

John 12:10-11:

But the chief priests consulted that they might put Lazarus also to death;
Because that by reason of him many of the Jews went away, and believed on Jesus.

John 12:42-43:

Nevertheless among the chief rulers also many believed on him; but because of the Pharisees they did not confess him, lest they should be put out of the synagogue:
For they loved the praise of men more than the praise of God.

John 12:46:

I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness.

John 13:27:

And after the sop Satan entered into him [Judas Iscariot]. Then said Jesus unto him, That thou doest, do quickly.

John 14:2:

In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you.

John 14:9:

Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Philip? he that hath seen me hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou then, Shew us the Father?

John 14:16:

And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever;

John 14:17:

Even the Spirit of truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you.

John 14:20:

At that day ye shall know that I am in my Father, and ye in me, and I in you.

John 14:23:

Jesus answered and said unto him, If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him.

John 14:26:

But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and being all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you.

John 15:5:

I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me ye can do nothing.

John 15:9:

As the Father hath loved me, so have I loved you: continue ye in my love.

John 15:14:

Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you.

John 15:26:

But when the Comforter has come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me:

John 16:7:

Nevertheless I tell you the truth; it is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send him unto you.

John 16:8-9:

And when he [the Holy Spirit] is come, he will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment:

Of sin, because they believe not on me;

John 16:13:

Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will shew you things to come.

John 16:14-15:

He shall glorify me: for he shall receive of mine, and shall shew it unto you.

All things that the Father hath are mine: therefore said I, that he shall take of mine, and shall shew it unto you.

John 16:33:

These things I have spoken unto you, that in me ye might have peace. In the world ye shall have tribulation: but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world.

John 17:16:

They are not of the world, even as I am not of the world.

John 17:22:

And the glory which thou gavest me I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one.

John 17:23:

I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them, as thou hast loved me.

John 19:17:

And he bearing his cross went forth into a place called the place of a skull, which is called in the Hebrew Golgotha:

John 19:30:

When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, It is finished: and he bowed his head, and gave up the ghost.

John 20:22:

And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the Holy Ghost:

John 21:5-6:

Then Jesus saith unto them, Children, have ye any meat? They answered him, No.

And he said unto them, Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes.

Acts 1:1:

The former treatise have I made, O Theophilus, of all that Jesus began both to do and teach,

Acts 1:9:

And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld, he was taken up; and a cloud received him out of their sight.

Acts 1:10:

And while they looked steadfastly toward heaven as He went up, behold, two men stood by them in white apparel,

Acts 1:14:

These all continued with one accord in prayer and supplication, with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brethren.

Acts 2:2-4:

And suddenly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting.

And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them.

And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.

Acts 2:13-16:

Other mocking said, These men are full of new wine.

But Peter, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and said unto them, Ye men of Judaea, and all ye that dwell at Jerusalem, be this known unto you, and hearken to my words:

For these are not drunken, as ye suppose, seeing it is but the third hour of the day.

But this is what was spoken by the prophet Joel;

Acts 2:17:

And it shall come to pass in the last days, saith God, I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions and your old men shall dream dreams:

Acts 2:29:

Men and brethren, let me freely speak unto you of the patriarch David, that he is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre is with us unto this day.

Acts 2:38:

Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost.

Acts 2:39:

For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call.

Acts 2:42:

And they continued steadfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, in the breaking of bread, and in prayers.

Acts 3:17:

And now, brethren, I wot [have known] that through ignorance ye did it, as did also your rulers.

Acts 4:9:

If we this day be examined of the good deed done to the impotent man, by what means he is made whole;

Acts 4:12:

Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.

Acts 4:18:

And they called them, and commanded them not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Jesus.

Acts 4:21:

So when they had further threatened them, they let them go, finding nothing how they might punish them, because of the people: for all men glorified God for that which was done.

Acts 5:1-11:

But a certain man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, sold a possession, And kept back part of the price, his wife also being privy to it, and brought a certain part, and laid it at the apostles' feet.

But Peter said, Ananias, why hath Satan filled thine heart to lie to the Holy Ghost, and to keep back part of the price of the land?

Whiles it remained, was it not thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thine own power? why hast thou conceived this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God.

And Ananias hearing these words fell down, and gave up the ghost: and great fear came on all them that heard these things.

And the young men arose, wound him up, and carried him out, and buried him.

And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in.

And Peter answered unto her, Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much? And she said, Yea, for so much.

Then Peter said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and shall carry thee out.

Then fell she down straightway at his feet, and yielded up the ghost: and the young men came in, and found her dead, and, carrying her forth, buried her by her husband.

And great fear came upon all the church, and upon as many as heard these things.

Acts 5:18-20:

And laid their hands on the apostles, and put them in the common prison.

But the angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doors, and brought them forth, and said, Go, stand and speak in the temple to the people all the words of this life.

Acts 5:39:

But if it be of God, ye cannot overthrow it; lest haply ye be found even to fight against God.

Acts 5:41:

And they departed from the presence of the council, rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer shame for his name.

Acts 6:5-6:

And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a proselyte of Antioch:

Whom they set before the apostles: and when they had prayed, they laid their hands on them.

Acts 7:2:

And he said, Men, brethren, and fathers, hearken; The God of glory appeared unto our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran,

Acts 7:55-56:

But he, being full of the Holy Spirit, gazed into heaven and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing at the right hand of God, and said, "Look! I see the heavens opened and the Son of Man standing at the right hand of God!"

Acts 7:59:

And they stoned Stephen, calling upon God, and saying, Lord Jesus, receive my spirit.

Acts 8:39-40:

And when they were come up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip, that the eunuch saw him no more: and he went on his way rejoicing.

Acts 9:8-9:

And Saul arose from the earth; and when his eyes were opened, he saw no man: but they led him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus.

And he was three days without sight, and neither did eat nor drink.

Acts 9:10-19:

And there was a certain disciple at Damascus, named Ananias; and to him said the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord.

And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the street which is called Straight, and enquire in the house of Judas for one called Saul, of Tarsus: for, behold, he prayeth,

And hath seen in a vision a man named Ananias coming in, and putting his hand on him, that he might receive his sight.

Then Ananias answered, Lord, I have heard by many of this man, how much evil he hath done to thy saints at Jerusalem:

And here he hath authority from the chief priests to bind all that call on thy name.

But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for he is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before the Gentiles, and kings, and the children of Israel:

For I will shew him how great things he must suffer for my name's sake.

And Ananias went his way, and entered into the house; and putting his hands on him said, Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, that appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest, hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and be filled with the Holy Ghost.

And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had been scales: and he received sight forthwith, and arose, and was baptized.

And when he had received meat, he was strengthened. Then was Saul certain days with the disciples which were at Damascus.

Acts 9:31:

Then had the churches rest throughout all Judaea and Galilee and Samaria, and were edified; and walking in the fear of the Lord, and in the comfort of the Holy Ghost, were multiplied.

Acts 10:1-4:

There was a certain man in Caesarea called Cornelius, a centurion of the band called the Italian band, A devout man, and one that feared God with all his house, which gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God alway.

He saw in a vision evidently around the ninth hour of the day an angel of God coming in to him, and saying unto him, Cornelius.

And when he looked on him, he was afraid, and said, What is it, Lord? And he said unto him, "Thy prayers and thine alms are come up for a memorial before God."

Acts 10:20:

Arise therefore, and get thee down, and go with them, doubting nothing: for I have sent them.

Acts 11:5:

I was in the city of Joppa praying: and in a trance I saw a vision, A certain vessel descend, as it had been a great sheet, let down from heaven by four corners; and it came even to me:

Acts 12:3-10:

And because he saw it pleased the Jews, he proceeded further to take Peter also. (Then were the days of unleavened bread.)

And when he had apprehended him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four quaternions of soldiers to keep him; intending after Easter to bring him forth to the people.

Peter therefore was kept in prison: but prayer was made without ceasing of the church unto God for him.

And when Herod would have brought him forth, the same night Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains: and the keepers before the door kept the prison.

And, behold, the angel of the Lord came upon him, and a light shined in the prison: and he smote Peter on the side, and raised him up, saying, Arise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands.

And the angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals. And so he did. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me.

And he went out, and followed him; and wist not that it was true which was done by the angel; but thought he saw a vision.

When they were past the first and the second ward, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth unto the city; which opened to them of his own accord: and they went out, and passed on through one street; and forthwith the angel departed from him.

Acts 13:1-3:

Now there were in the church that was at Antioch certain prophets and teachers; as Barnabas, and Simeon that was called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manaen, which had been brought up with Herod the tetrarch, and Saul.

As they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Ghost said, Separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them.

And when they had fasted and prayed, and laid their hands on them, they sent them away.

Acts 13:26:

Men and brethren, children of the stock of Abraham, and whosoever among you feareth God, to you is the word of this salvation sent.

Acts 13:38:

Be it known unto you therefore, men and brethren, that through this man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins:

Acts 13:51:

But they shook off the dust of their feet against them, and came unto Iconium.

Acts 14:22:

strengthening the souls of the disciples, exhorting them to continue in the faith, and saying, "We must through many tribulations enter the kingdom of God."

Acts 15:24:

Forasmuch as we have heard, that certain which went out from us have troubled you with words, subverting your souls, saying, Ye must be circumcised, and keep the law: to whom we gave no such commandment:

Acts 15:36-39:

And some days after Paul said unto Barnabas, Let us go again and visit our brethren in every city where we have preached the word of the Lord, and see how they do.

And Barnabas determined to take with them John, whose surname was Mark.

But Paul thought not good to take him with them, who departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the work.

And the contention was so sharp between them, that they departed asunder one from the other: and so Barnabas took Mark, and sailed unto Cyprus;

Acts 16:26:

And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken: and immediately all the doors were opened, and every one's bands were loosed.

Acts 16:32-34:

And they spake unto him the word of the Lord, and to all that were in his house.

And he took them the same hour of the night, and washed their stripes; and was baptized, he and all his, straightway.

And when he had brought them into his house, he set meat before them, and rejoiced, believing in God with all his house.

Acts 17:11:

These [the Bereans] were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so.

Acts 18:26:

And he [Apollos] began to speak boldly in the synagogue: whom when Aquila and Priscilla had heard, they took him unto them, and expounded unto him the way of God more perfectly.

Acts 19:2:

He said unto them, Have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye believed? And they said unto him, We have not so much as heard whether there be any Holy Ghost.

Acts 19:13-17:

Then certain of the vagabond Jews, exorcists, took upon them to call over them which had evil spirits the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, We adjure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth.

And there were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jew, and chief of the priests, which did so.

And the evil spirit answered and said, Jesus I know, and Paul I know; but who are ye?

And the man in whom the evil spirit was leaped on them, and overcame them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.

And this was known to all the Jews and Greeks also dwelling at Ephesus; and fear fell on them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified.

Acts 19:20:

So mightily grew the word of God and prevailed.

Acts 20:20:

And how I kept back nothing that was profitable unto you, but have shewed you, and have taught you publickly, and from house to house,

Acts 20:26-27:

Wherefore I take you to record this day, that I am pure from the blood of all men.

For I have not shunned to declare unto you all the counsel of God.

Acts 21:4-5:

And finding disciples, we tarried there seven days: who said to Paul through the Spirit, that he should not go up to Jerusalem.

And when we had accomplished those days, we departed and went our way; and they all brought us on our way, with wives and children, till we were out of the city: and we kneeled down on the shore, and prayed.

Acts 22:1:

Men, brethren, and fathers, hear ye my defence which I make now unto you.

Acts 22:5:

As also the high priest doth bear me witness, and all the estate of the elders: from whom also I received letters unto the brethren, and went to Damascus, to bring them which were there bound unto Jerusalem, for to be punished.

Acts 23:1:

And Paul, earnestly beholding the council, said, Men and brethren, I have lived in all good conscience before God until this day.

Acts 23:5:

Then said Paul, I wist [knew] not, brethren, that he was the high priest: for it is written, Thou shalt not speak evil of the ruler of thy people.

Acts 23:6:

But when Paul perceived that the one part were Sadducees, and the other Pharisees, he cried out in the council, Men and brethren, I am a Pharisee, the son of a Pharisee: of the hope and resurrection of the dead I am called in question.

Romans 1:4:

And declared to be the Son of God with power, according to the spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead:

Romans 1:17:

For therein is the righteousness of God revealed from faith to faith: as it is written, The just shall live by faith.

Romans 3:18:

There is no fear of God before their eyes.

Romans 3:24:

Being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus:

Romans 3:25:

Whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God;

Romans 3:26:

To declare, I say, at this time his righteousness: that he might be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus.

Romans 4:5:

But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness.

Romans 4:17:

(As it is written, I have made thee a father of many nations,) before him whom he believed, even God, who quickeneth the dead, and calleth those things which be not as though they were.

Romans 5:1:

Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ:

Romans 5:2:

By whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God.

Romans 5:9:

Much more then, being now justified by his blood, we shall be saved from wrath through him.

Romans 5:13:

(For until the law sin was in the world: but sin is not imputed when there is no law.

Romans 5:19:

For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous.

Romans 6:4:

Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life.

Romans 6:6:

Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him, that the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin.

Romans 6:7:

For he that is dead is freed from sin.

Romans 6:11:

Likewise reckon ye also yourselves to be dead indeed unto sin, but alive unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Romans 6:14:

For sin shall not have dominion over you: for ye are not under the law, but under grace.

Romans 6:18:

Being them made free from sin, ye became the servants of righteousness.

Romans 7:2:

For the woman which hath an husband is bound by the law to her husband so long as he liveth; but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of her husband.

Romans 7:4:

Wherefore, my brethren, ye also are become dead to the law by the body of Christ; that ye should be married to another, even to him who is raised from the dead, that we should bring forth fruit unto God.

Romans 7:6:

But now we are delivered from the law, that being dead wherein we were held; that we should serve in newness of spirit, and not in the oldness of the letter.

Romans 7:9:

For I was alive without the law once: but when the commandment came, sin revived, and I died.

Romans 8:1:

There is therefore no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

Romans 8:3-4:

For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and for sin, condemned sin in the flesh:

That the righteousness of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

Romans 8:6:

For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace.

Romans 8:7:

Because the carnal mind is enmity against God: for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be.

Romans 8:8:

So then they that are in the flesh cannot please God.

Romans 8:9:

But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his.

Romans 8:12:

Therefore, brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live after the flesh.

Romans 8:15:

For ye have not received the spirit of bondage again to fear; but ye have received the Spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, Father.

Romans 8:16:

The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God.

Romans 8:17:

And if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together.

Romans 8:21:

Because the creature itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God.

Romans 8:30:

Moreover, whom he did predestinate, them he also called: and whom he called, them he also justified: and whom he justified, them he also glorified.

Romans 8:31:

What shall we then say to these things? If God be for us, who can be against us?

Romans 8:35:

Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword?

Romans 8:37:

Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him that loved us.

Romans 9:30:

What shall we say then? That the Gentiles, which followed not after righteousness, have attained to righteousness, even the righteousness which is of faith.

Romans 9:33:

As it is written, Behold, I lay in Sion a stumblingstone and rock of offence: and whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed.

Romans 10:11:

For the scripture saith, Whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed.

Romans 11:29:

For the gifts and callings of God are without repentance.

Romans 12:1:

I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.

Romans 12:2:

And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God.

Romans 12:5:

So we, being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another.

Romans 12:6:

Having then gifts differing according to the grace that is given to us, whether prophecy, let us prophesy according to the proportion of faith;

Romans 12:11:

Not slothful in business; fervent in spirit; serving the Lord;

Romans 12:14:

Bless them which persecute you: bless, and curse not.

Romans 12:15:

Rejoice with them that do rejoice, and weep with them that weep.

Romans 12:16:

Be of the same mind one toward another. Mind not high things, but condescend to men of low estate. Be not wise in your own conceits.

Romans 12:19:

Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath: for it is written, Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord.

Romans 13:1-2:

Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers. For there is no power but of God: the powers that be are ordained of God.

Whosoever therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation.

Romans 13:3-4:

For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil. Wilt thou then not be afraid of the power? do that which is good, and thou shalt have praise of the same:

For he is the minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for he beareth not the sword in vain: for he is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil.

Romans 13:11:

And that, knowing the time, that now it is high time to awake out of sleep: for now is our salvation nearer than when we believed.

Romans 13:13:

Let us walk honestly, as in the day; not in rioting and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and envying.

Romans 14:1:

Him that is weak in the faith receive ye, but not to doubtful disputations.

Romans 14:17:

For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost.

Romans 14:23:

And he that doubteth is damned if he eat, because he eateth not of faith: for whatsoever is not of faith is sin.

Romans 15:7:

Wherefore receive ye one another, as Christ also received us to the glory of God.

Romans 15:9:

And that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy; as it is written, For this cause I will confess to thee among the Gentiles, and sing unto thy name.

Romans 15:13:

Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope, through the power of the Holy Ghost.

Romans 16:1:

I commend unto you Phebe our sister, which is a servant of the church which is at Cenchrea:

Romans 16:25:

Now to him that is of power to stablish you according to my gospel, and the preaching of Jesus Christ, according to the revelation of the mystery, which was kept secret since the world began,

1 Corinthians 1:2:

Unto the church of God which is at Corinth, to them that are sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be saints, with all that in every place call upon the name of Jesus Christ our Lord, both theirs and ours:

1 Corinthians 1:30:

But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who of God is made unto us wisdom, and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption:

1 Corinthians 2:16:

For who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ.

1 Corinthians 3:9:

For we are labourers together with God: ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's building.

1 Corinthians 3:21-22:

Therefore let no man glory in men. For all things are yours;
Whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come;
all are yours;

1 Corinthians 4:16:

Wherefore I beseech you, be ye followers of me.

1 Corinthians 5:1-5:

It is reported commonly that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not so much named among the Gentiles, that one should have his father's wife.
And ye are puffed up, and have not rather mourned, that he that hath done this deed might be taken away from among you.
For I verily, as absent in body, but present in spirit, have judged already, as though I were present, concerning him that hath so done this deed,
In the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, when ye are gathered together, and my spirit, with the power of our Lord Jesus Christ,
To deliver such an one unto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus.

1 Corinthians 5:7:

Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us:

1 Corinthians 5:11-13:

But now I have written unto you not to keep company, if any man that is called a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolater, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner; with such an one no not to eat.
For what have I to do to judge them also that are without? do not ye judge them that are within?
But them that are without God judgeth. Therefore put away from among yourselves that wicked person.

1 Corinthians 6:17:

But he that is joined to the Lord is one spirit.

1 Corinthians 6:18:

Flee fornication. Every sin that a man doeth is without the body; but he that committeth fornication sinneth against his own body.

1 Corinthians 7:14:

For the unbelieving husband is sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband: else were your children unclean; but now are they holy.

1 Corinthians 7:22:

For he that is called in the Lord, being a servant, is the Lord's freeman: likewise also he that is called, being free, is Christ's servant.

1 Corinthians 7:23:

Ye are bought at a price; be ye not the servants of men.

1 Corinthians 7:39:

The wife is bound by the law as long as her husband liveth; but if her husband be dead, she is at liberty to be married to whom she will; only in the Lord.

1 Corinthians 8:1:

Now as touching things offered unto idols, we know that we all have knowledge. Knowledge puffeth up, but charity edifieth.

1 Corinthians 8:9:

But take heed lest by any means this liberty of yours become a stumblingblock to them that are weak.

1 Corinthians 9:5:

Have we not power to lead about a sister, a wife, as well as other apostles, and as the brethren of the Lord, and Cephas?

1 Corinthians 9:14:

Even so hath the Lord ordained that they which preach the gospel should live of the gospel.

1 Corinthians 9:16:

For though I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of: for necessity is laid upon me; yea, woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel!

1 Corinthians 10:5-11:

But with many of them God was not well pleased: for they were overthrown in the wilderness.

Now these things were our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as they also lusted.

Neither be ye idolaters, as were some of them; as it is written, The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play.

Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed, and fell in one day three and twenty thousand.

Neither let us tempt Christ, as some of them also tempted, and were destroyed of serpents.

Neither murmur ye, as some of them also murmured, and were destroyed of the destroyer.

Now all these things happened unto them for ensamples: and they are written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the world are come.

1 Corinthians 10:12:

Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall.

1 Corinthians 10:13:

There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it.

1 Corinthians 11:1:

Be ye followers of me, even as I also am of Christ.

1 Corinthians 11:23-25:

For I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, That the Lord Jesus the same night in which he was betrayed took bread:

And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat: this is my body, which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me.

After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.

1 Corinthians 11:26:

For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do shew the Lord's death till he come.

1 Corinthians 12:1:

Now concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, I would not have you ignorant.

1 Corinthians 12:6:

And there are diversities of operations, but it is the same God which worketh all in all.

1 Corinthians 12:7:

But the manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man to profit withal.

1 Corinthians 12:10:

To another the working of miracles; to another prophecy; to another discerning of spirits; to another divers kinds of tongues; to another the interpretation of tongues:

1 Corinthians 12:13:

For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit.

1 Corinthians 12:18:

But now God hath set the members every one of them in the body, as it hath pleased him.

1 Corinthians 12:21:

And the eye cannot say unto the hand, I have no need of thee: nor again the head to the feet, I have no need of you.

1 Corinthians 12:26:

And whether one member suffer, all the members suffer with it; or one member be honored, all the members rejoice with it.

1 Corinthians 12:27:

Now ye are the body of Christ, and members in particular.

1 Corinthians 12:31:

But covet earnestly the best gifts: and yet I shew unto you a more excellent way.

1 Corinthians 13:1-3:

Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal.

And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge; and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing.

And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.

1 Corinthians 13:4:

Charity suffereth long, and is kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up,

1 Corinthians 13:8-12:

Charity never faileth: but whether there be prophecies, they shall fail; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away.

For we know in part, and we prophesy in part.

But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away.

When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child: but when I became a man, I put away childish things.

For now we see through a glass, darkly; but then face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known.

1 Corinthians 14:1:

Follow after charity, and desire spiritual gifts, but rather that ye may prophesy.

1 Corinthians 14:14-15:

For if I pray in an unknown tongue, my spirit prayeth, but my understanding is unfruitful.

What is it, then? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray with the understanding also: I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing with the understanding also.

1 Corinthians 14:30:

If any thing be revealed to another that sitteth by, let the first hold his peace.

1 Corinthians 14:34-35:

Let your women keep silence in the churches: for it is not permitted unto them to speak; but they are commanded to be under obedience, as also saith the law.

And if they will learn any thing, let them ask their husbands at home: for it is a shame for women to speak in the church.

1 Corinthians 14:38:

But if any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant.

1 Corinthians 14:39:

Wherefore, brethren, covet to prophesy, and forbid not to speak with tongues.

1 Corinthians 15:15:

Yea, and we are found false witnesses of God; because we have testified of God that he raised up Christ: whom he raised not up, if so be that the dead rise not.

1 Corinthians 15:31:

I protest by your rejoicing which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, I die daily.

1 Corinthians 15:33:

Be not deceived: evil communications corrupt good manners.

1 Corinthians 15:49:

And as we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.

1 Corinthians 15:56:

The sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is the law.

2 Corinthians 1:3-4:

Blessed be God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort;

Who comforteth us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble, by the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God.

2 Corinthians 1:21:

Now he which stablisheth us with you in Christ, and hath anointed us, is God;

2 Corinthians 2:4-8:

For out of much affliction and anguish of heart I wrote unto you with many tears; not that ye should be grieved, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you.

But if any have caused grief, he hath not grieved me, but in part: that I may not overcharge you all.

Sufficient to such a man is this punishment, which was inflicted of many.

So that contrariwise ye ought rather to forgive him, and comfort him, lest perhaps such a one should be swallowed up with overmuch sorrow.

Wherefore I beseech you that ye would confirm your love toward him.

2 Corinthians 3:5-6:

Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think any thing as of ourselves; but our sufficiency is of God; Who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament, not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life.

2 Corinthians 3:7-11:

But if the ministration of death, written and engraven in stones, was glorious, so that the children of Israel could not steadfastly behold the face of Moses for the glory of his countenance; which glory was to be done away:

How shall not the ministration of the spirit be rather glorious?

For if the ministration of condemnation be glory, much more doth the ministration of righteousness exceed in glory.

For even that which was made glorious had no glory in this respect, by reason of the glory that excelleth.

For if that which is done away was glorious, much more that which remaineth is glorious.

2 Corinthians 3:17:

Now that Lord is the Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.

2 Corinthians 3:18:

But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord.

2 Corinthians 4:1:

Therefore seeing we have this ministry, as we have received mercy, we faint not;

2 Corinthians 4:4:

In whom the god of this world hath blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine unto them.

2 Corinthians 4:7:

But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellency of the power may be of God, and not of us.

2 Corinthians 4:11:

For we which live are alway delivered unto death for Jesus' sake, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our mortal flesh.

2 Corinthians 5:7:

(For we walk by faith, not by sight:)

2 Corinthians 5:8:

We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord.

2 Corinthians 5:15:

And that he died for all, that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which died for them, and rose again.

2 Corinthians 5:17:

Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new.

2 Corinthians 5:18:

And all things are of God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation;

2 Corinthians 6:2:

(For he saith, I have heard thee in a time accepted, and in the day of salvation have I succoured thee: behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation.)

2 Corinthians 6:5:

In stripes, in imprisonments, in tumults, in labours, in watchings, in fastings;

2 Corinthians 6:14-16:

Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness?

And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what part hath he that believeth with an infidel?

And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

2 Corinthians 6:18:

And will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty.

2 Corinthians 7:1:

Having therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God.

2 Corinthians 7:6:

Nevertheless, God, that comforteth those that are cast down, comforted us by the coming of Titus;

2 Corinthians 7:10:

For godly sorrow worketh repentance to salvation not to be repented of: but the sorrow of the world worketh death.

2 Corinthians 8:9:

For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might be rich.

2 Corinthians 8:23:

Whether any do enquire of Titus, he is my partner and fellowhelper concerning you: or our brethren be enquired of, they are the messengers of the churches, and the glory of Christ.

2 Corinthians 9:6:

But this I say, He which soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully.

2 Corinthians 9:7:

Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give; not grudgingly, of necessity: for God loveth a cheerful giver.

2 Corinthians 9:9:

For it is written in the law of Moses, Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the ox that treadeth out the corn. Doth God take care for oxen?

2 Corinthians 10:12:

For we dare not make ourselves of the number, or compare ourselves with some that commend themselves: but they measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves among themselves, are not wise.

2 Corinthians 10:15:

Not boasting of things without our measure, that is, of other men's labours; but having hope, when your faith is increased, that we shall be enlarged by you according to our rule abundantly,

2 Corinthians 11:14:

And no marvel; for Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light.

2 Corinthians 11:23-27:

Are they ministers of Christ? (I speak as a fool) I am more; in labours more abundant, in stripes above measure, in prisons more frequent, in deaths oft.

Of the Jews five times received I forty stripes save one.

Thrice was I beaten with rods, once was I stoned, thrice I suffered shipwreck, a night and a day I have been in the deep;

In journeyings often, in perils of waters, in perils of robbers, in perils by mine own countrymen, in perils by the heathen, in perils in the city, in perils in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren;

In weariness and painfulness, in watchings often, in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in cold and nakedness.

2 Corinthians 12:7:

And lest I should be exalted above measure through the abundance of the revelations, there was given to me a thorn in the flesh, the messenger of Satan to buffet me, lest I should be exalted above measure.

2 Corinthians 12:9:

And he said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me.

2 Corinthians 13:1:

This is the third time I am coming to you. In the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word be established.

2 Corinthians 13:5:

Examine yourselves, whether ye be in the faith; prove your own selves. Know ye not your own selves, how that Jesus Christ is in you, except ye be reprobates?

2 Corinthians 13:14:

The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all. Amen.

Galatians 1:4:

Who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father:

Galatians 2:11-14:

But when Peter was come to Antioch, I withstood him to the face, because he was to be blamed. For before that certain came from James, he did eat with the Gentiles: but when they were come, he withdrew and separated himself, fearing them which were of the circumcision. And the other Jews dissembled likewise with him; insomuch that Barnabas also was carried away with their dissimulation. But when I saw that they walked not uprightly according to the truth of the gospel, I said unto Peter before them all, If thou, being a Jew, livest after the manner of Gentiles, and not as do the Jews, why compellest thou the Gentiles to live as do the Jews?

Galatians 2:19:

For I through the law am dead to the law, that I might live unto God.

Galatians 3:7:

Know ye therefore that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham.

Galatians 3:9:

So then they which be of faith are blessed with faithful Abraham.

Galatians 3:24:

Wherefore the law was our schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith.

Galatians 3:27:

For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ.

Galatians 3:28:

There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus.

Galatians 3:29:

And if ye be Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise.

Galatians 4:6:

And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father.

Galatians 4:7:

Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ.

Galatians 5:1:

Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again the yoke of bondage.

Galatians 5:6:

For in Jesus Christ neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision; but faith which worketh by love.

Galatians 5:13:

For brethren, ye have been called unto liberty; only use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but by love serve one another.

Galatians 5:15:

But if ye bite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not consumed one of another.

Galatians 5:16:

This I say then, Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lust of the flesh.

Galatians 5:19-21:

Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these; Adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness, Idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies, Envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God.

Galatians 5:22-23:

But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, Meekness, temperance: against such there is no law.

Galatians 5:24:

And they that are Christ's have crucified the flesh with the affections and lusts.

Galatians 6:2:

Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ.

Galatians 6:14:

But God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world.

Galatians 6:15:

For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision, but a new creature.

Ephesians 1:4:

According as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in love:

Ephesians 1:6:

To the praise of the glory of his grace, wherein he hath made us accepted in the beloved.

Ephesians 1:7:

In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace

Ephesians 1:11:

In whom also we have obtained an inheritance, being predestinated according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will:

Ephesians 1:13:

In whom ye also trusted, after that ye heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation: in whom also after that ye believed, ye were sealed with that holy Spirit of promise,

Ephesians 2:1:

And you hath he quickened, who were dead in trespasses and sins;

Ephesians 2:3:

Among whom also we all had our conversation in times past in the lusts of our flesh, fulfilling the desires of the flesh and of the mind; and were by nature the children of wrath, even as others.

Ephesians 2:5:

Even when we were dead in sins, hath quickened us together with Christ, (by grace ye are saved;)

Ephesians 2:8-9:

For by grace are ye saved through faith, and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God:

Not of works, lest any man should boast.

Ephesians 2:10:

For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them.

Ephesians 2:11-18:

Wherefore remember, that ye being in time past Gentiles in the flesh, who are called Uncircumcision by that which is called the Circumcision in the flesh made by hands;

That at that time ye were without Christ, being aliens from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers from the covenants of promise, having no hope, and without God in the world:

But now in Christ Jesus ye who sometimes were far off are made nigh by the blood of Christ,

For he is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us;

Having abolished in his flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments contained in ordinances; for to make in himself of twain one new man, so making peace;

And that he might reconcile both unto God in one body by the cross, having slain the enmity thereby:

And came and preached peace to you which were afar off, and to them that were nigh.

For through him we both have access by one Spirit unto the Father.

Ephesians 2:19:

Now therefore ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellowcitizens with the saints, and of the household of God;

Ephesians 2:20-21:

And are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner stone;

In whom all the building fitly framed together groweth unto an holy temple in the Lord:

Ephesians 3:6:

That the Gentiles should be fellowheirs, and of the same body, and partakers of his promise in Christ by the gospel:

Ephesians 3:10:

To the intent now that unto the principalities and powers in heavenly places might be known by the church the manifold wisdom of God,

Ephesians 3:12:

In whom we have boldness and access with confidence by the faith of him.

Ephesians 3:14-19:

For this cause I bow my knees unto the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ,

Of whom the whole family in heaven and earth is named,

That he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened with might by his Spirit in the inner man;

That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith; that ye, being rooted and grounded in love,

May be able to comprehend with all saints what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height;

And to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled with all the fulness of God.

Ephesians 4:3:

Endeavouring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace.

Ephesians 4:5:

One Lord, one faith, one baptism,

Ephesians 4:6:

One God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all.

Ephesians 4:7:

But unto every one of us is given grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ.

Ephesians 4:9-10:

(Now that he ascended, what is it but that he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth?
He that descended is the same also the ascended up far above all heavens, that he might fill all things.)

Ephesians 4:11-16:

And he gave some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers;

For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ:

Till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ:

That we henceforth be no more children, tossed to and fro, and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive;

But speaking the truth in love, may grow up into him in all things, which is the head, even Christ:

From whom the whole body fitly joined together and compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the effectual working in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body unto the edifying of itself in love.

Ephesians 4:19:

Who being past feeling have given themselves over unto lasciviousness, to work all uncleanness with greediness.

Ephesians 4:25:

Wherefore putting away lying, speak every man truth with his neighbour: for we are members one of another.

Ephesians 4:28:

Let him that stole steal no more: but rather let him labour, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give to him that needeth.

Ephesians 4:29:

Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good to the use of edifying, that it may minister grace unto the hearers.

Ephesians 4:30:

And grieve not the holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption.

Ephesians 4:31:

Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil speaking, be put away from you, with all malice:

Ephesians 4:32:

And be ye kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you.

Ephesians 5:1:

Be ye therefore followers of God, as dear children;

Ephesians 5:3:

But fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not be once named among you, as becometh saints;

Ephesians 5:4:

Neither filthiness, nor foolish talking, nor jesting, which are not convenient: but rather giving of thanks.

Ephesians 5:8:

For ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord: walk as children of light.

Ephesians 5:18:

And be not drunk with wine, wherein is excess; but be filled with the Spirit;

Ephesians 5:21:

Submitting yourselves one to another in the fear of God.

Ephesians 5:25-27:

Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and gave himself for it;

That he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word,

That he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish.

Ephesians 6:8:

Knowing that whatsoever good thing any man doeth, the same shall he receive of the Lord, whether he be bond or free.

Ephesians 6:18-19:

Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance and supplication for all saints;

And for me, that utterance may be given unto me, that I may open my mouth boldly, to make known the mystery of the gospel,

Ephesians 6:23:

Peace be to the brethren, and love with faith, from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Philippians 1:6:

Being confident of this very thing, that he which hath begun a good work in you will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ:

Philippians 1:7:

Even as it is meet for me to think this of you all, because I have you in my heart; inasmuch as both in my bonds, and in the defence and confirmation of the gospel, ye all are partakers of my grace.

Philippians 1:18:

What then? notwithstanding, every way, whether in pretence, or in truth, Christ is preached; and I therein do rejoice, yea, and will rejoice.

Philippians 1:23-24:

For I am in a strait betwixt two, having a desire to depart and be with Christ; which is far better. Nevertheless to abide in the flesh is more needful for you.

Philippians 2:5-8:

Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus:

Who, being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God:

But made himself of no reputation, and took upon him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men:

And being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross.

Philippians 2:12:

Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling.

Philippians 2:13:

For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure.

Philippians 3:3:

For we are the circumcision, which worship God in the spirit, and rejoice in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh.

Philippians 3:8:

Yea doubtless, and I count all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord: for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but dung, that I may win Christ,

Philippians 3:9:

And be found in him, not having mine own righteousness, which is of the law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith:

Philippians 3:20:

For our conversation is in heaven; from whence also we look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ:

Philippians 4:2-3:

I beseech Euodias, and beseech Syntyche, that they be of the same mind in the Lord.

And I intreat thee also, true yokefellow, help those women which laboured with me in the gospel, with Clement also, and with other my fellowlabourers, whose names are in the book of life.

Philippians 4:4:

Rejoice in the Lord alway: and again I say, Rejoice.

Philippians 4:8:

Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things.

Philippians 4:13:

I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me.

Colossians 1:10:

That ye might walk worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing, being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God;

Colossians 1:11:

Strengthened with all might, according to his glorious power, unto all patience and longsuffering with joyfulness;

Colossians 1:18:

And he is the head of the body, the church: who is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead; that in all things he might have the preeminence.

Colossians 1:20:

And, having made peace by the blood of his cross, by him to reconcile all things unto himself; by him, I say, whether they be things in earth, or things in heaven.

Colossians 1:27:

To whom God would make known what is the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles; which is Christ in you, the hope of glory:

Colossians 1:29:

Whereunto I also labour, striving according to his working, which worketh in me mightily.

Colossians 2:3:

In whom [Christ] are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.

Colossians 2:12:

Buried with him in baptism, wherein also ye are risen with him through the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead.

Colossians 2:13:

And you, being dead in your sins and the uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, having forgiven you all trespasses;

Colossians 2:14-17:

Blotting out the handwriting of ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us, and took it out of the way, nailing it to his cross;

And having spoiled principalities and powers, he made a shew of them openly, triumphing over them in it.

Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of an holyday, or of the new moon, or of the sabbath days:

Which are a shadow of things to come; but the body is of Christ.

Colossians 2:18:

Let no man beguile you of your reward in a voluntary humility and worshipping of angels, intruding into those things which he hath not seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind,

Colossians 2:19:

And not holding the Head, from which all the body by joints and bands having nourishment ministered, and knit together, increaseth with the increase of God.

Colossians 3:1:

If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God.

Colossians 3:3:

For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God.

Colossians 3:8:

But now ye also put off all these; anger, wrath, malice, blasphemy, filthy communication out of your mouth.

Colossians 3:9:

Lie not to one another, seeing that ye have put off the old man with his deeds;

Colossians 3:10:

And have put on the new man, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created him:

Colossians 3:11:

Where there is neither Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free: but Christ is all, and in all.

Colossians 3:12:

Put on therefore, as the elect of God, holy and beloved, bowels of mercies, kindness, humbleness of mind, meekness, longsuffering;

Colossians 3:13:

Forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man have a quarrel against any: even as Christ forgave you, so also do ye.

Colossians 3:19:

Husbands, love your wives, and be not bitter against them.

Colossians 3:21:

Fathers, provoke not your children to anger, lest they be discouraged.

Colossians 3:22:

Servants, obey in all things your masters according to the flesh; not with eyeservice, as menpleasers; but in singleness of heart, fearing God:

Colossians 3:25:

But he that doeth wrong shall receive for the wrong which he hath done: and there is no respect of persons.

Colossians 4:3:

Withal praying also for us, that God would open unto us a door of utterance, to speak the mystery of Christ, for which I am also in bonds:

Colossians 4:6:

Let your speech be alway with grace, seasoned with salt, that ye may know how ye ought to answer every man.

Colossians 4:11:

And Jesus, which is called Justus, who are of the circumcision. These only are my fellowworkers unto the kingdom of God, which have been a comfort unto me.

Colossians 4:14:

Luke, the beloved physician, and Demas, greet you.

1 Thessalonians 1:10:

And to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus, which delivered us from the wrath to come.

1 Thessalonians 2:12:

That you would walk worthy of God, who hath called you unto his kingdom and glory.

1 Thessalonians 4:4-6:

That every one of you should know how to possess his vessel in sanctification and honour;

Not in the lust of concupiscence, even as the Gentiles which know not God:

That no man go beyond and defraud his brother in any matter: because that the Lord is the avenger of all such, as we also have forewarned you and testified.

1 Thessalonians 4:9:

But as touching brotherly love ye need not that I write unto you: for ye yourselves are taught of God to love one another.

1 Thessalonians 5:5:

Ye are all children of the light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness.

1 Thessalonians 5:8:

But let us, who are of the day, be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love; and for an helmet, the hope of salvation.

1 Thessalonians 5:9:

For God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ,

1 Thessalonians 5:25:

Brethren, pray for us.

1 Thessalonians 5:27:

I charge you by the Lord that this epistle be read unto all the holy brethren.

2 Thessalonians 1:8-9:

In flaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ:

Who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power;

2 Thessalonians 1:11:

Wherefore also we pray always for you, that our God would count you worthy of this calling, and fulfil all the good pleasure of his goodness, and the work of faith with power:

2 Thessalonians 2:11:

And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie:

2 Thessalonians 2:14:

Whereunto he called you by our gospel, to the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ.

2 Thessalonians 3:1-2:

Finally, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may have free course, and be glorified, even as it is with you:

And that we may be delivered from unreasonable and wicked men: for all men have not faith.

2 Thessalonians 3:3:

But the Lord is faithful, who shall stablish you, and keep you from evil.

2 Thessalonians 3:8:

Neither did we eat any man's bread for nought; but wrought with labour and travail night and day, that we might not be chargeable to any of you:

2 Thessalonians 3:10:

For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, that if any would not work, neither should he eat.

1 Timothy 1:4:

nor give heed to fables and endless genealogies, which cause disputes rather than godly edification which is in faith.

1 Timothy 1:5:

Now the end of the commandment is charity out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned:

1 Timothy 1:9-10:

Knowing this, that the law is not made for a righteous man, but for the lawless and disobedient, for the ungodly and for sinners, for unholy and profane, for murderers of fathers and murderers of mothers, for manslayers,

For whoremongers, for them that defile themselves with mankind, for menstealers, for liars, for perjured persons, and if there be any other thing that is contrary to sound doctrine;

1 Timothy 1:13:

Who was before a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and injurious: but I obtained mercy, because I did it ignorantly in unbelief.

1 Timothy 1:14:

And the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant with faith and love which is in Christ Jesus.

1 Timothy 1:15:

This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief.

1 Timothy 1:19:

Holding faith, and a good conscience; which some having put away concerning faith have made shipwreck:

1 Timothy 2:1-2:

I exhort therefore, that, first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men;

For kings, and for all that are in authority; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty.

1 Timothy 2:3-4:

For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour;

Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth.

1 Timothy 2:5:

For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus;

1 Timothy 2:8:

I will therefore that men pray every where, lifting up holy hands, without wrath and doubting.

1 Timothy 2:13:

For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe.

1 Timothy 3:3:

Not given to wine, no striker, not greedy of filthy lucre; but patient, not a brawler, not covetous;

1 Timothy 3:8:

Likewise must the deacons be grave, not doubletongued, not given to much wine, not greedy of filthy lucre;

1 Timothy 4:12:

Let no man despise thy youth; but be thou an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity.

1 Timothy 4:14:

Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery.

1 Timothy 5:8:

But if any provide not for his own, and specially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel.

1 Timothy 5:12:

Having damnation, because they have cast off their first faith.

1 Timothy 5:14:

I will therefore that the younger women marry, bear children, guide the house, give none occasion to the adversary to speak reproachfully.

1 Timothy 5:15:

For some are already turned aside after Satan.

1 Timothy 5:21:

I charge thee before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things without preferring one before another, doing nothing by partiality.

1 Timothy 5:23:

Drink no longer water, but use a little wine for thy stomach's sake and thine often infirmities.

1 Timothy 6:10:

For the love of money is the root of all evil: which while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows.

1 Timothy 6:11:

But thou, O man of God, flee these things; and follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness.

1 Timothy 6:12:

Fight the good fight of faith, lay hold on eternal life, whereunto thou art also called, and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses.

1 Timothy 6:17:

Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not highminded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us all things richly to enjoy;

1 Timothy 6:20-21:

O Timothy! Guard what was committed to your trust, avoiding the profane and idle babblings and contradictions of what is falsely called knowledge—by professing it some have strayed concerning the faith. Grace be with you. Amen.

2 Timothy 1:6:

Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee by the putting on of my hands.

2 Timothy 1:9:

Who hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began,

2 Timothy 1:13:

Hold fast the form of sound words, which thou hast heard of me, in faith and love which is in Christ Jesus.

2 Timothy 2:9:

Wherein I suffer trouble, as an evil doer, even unto bonds; but the word of God is not bound.

2 Timothy 2:15:

Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth.

2 Timothy 2:17-18:

And their word will eat as doth a canker: of whom is Hymenaeus and Philetus; Who concerning the truth have erred, saying that the resurrection is past already; and overthrow the faith of some.

2 Timothy 2:24:

And the servant of the Lord must not strive; but be gentle unto all men, apt to teach, patient,

2 Timothy 3:16-17:

All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness:

That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works.

2 Timothy 4:3:

For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine; but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears;

2 Timothy 4:7:

I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith:

2 Timothy 4:13:

The cloke that I left at Troas with Carpus, when thou comest, bring with thee, and the books, but especially the parchments.

2 Timothy 4:14-16:

Alexander the coppersmith did me much evil: the Lord reward him according to his works:

Of whom be thou ware also; for he hath greatly withstood our words.

At my first answer no man stood with me, but all men forsook me: I pray God that it may not be laid to their charge.

2 Timothy 4:17:

Notwithstanding the Lord stood with me, and strengthened me; that by me the preaching might be fully known, and that all the Gentiles might hear: and I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion.

Titus 1:2:

In hope of eternal life, which God, that cannot lie, promised before the world began;

Titus 1:7:

For a bishop must be blameless, as the steward of God; not selfwilled, not soon angry, not given to wine, no striker, not given to filthy lucre;

Titus 2:3:

The aged women likewise, that they be in behaviour as becometh holiness, not false accusers, not given to much wine, teachers of good things;

Titus 2:10:

Not purloining, but shewing all good fidelity; that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things.

Titus 2:15:

These things speak, and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee.

Titus 3:1:

Put them in mind to be subject to principalities and powers, to obey magistrates, to be ready to every good work,

Titus 3:5-6:

Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost;
Which he shed on us abundantly through Jesus Christ our Saviour;

Titus 3:7:

That being justified by his grace, we should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life.

Titus 3:9:

But avoid foolish questions, and genealogies, and contentions, and strivings about the law; for they are unprofitable and vain.

Philemon 6:

That the communication of thy faith may become effectual by the acknowledging of every good thing which is in you in Christ Jesus.

Hebrews 1:9:

Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity; therefore God, even thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows.

Hebrews 1:14:

Are they [angels] not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation?

Hebrews 2:1-3:

Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should let them slip.

For if the word spoken by angels was steadfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompence of reward;

How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation; which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him;

Hebrews 2:10:

For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the captain of their salvation perfect through sufferings.

Hebrews 2:11:

For both he that sanctifieth and they who are sanctified are all of one: for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren,

Hebrews 2:17:

Wherefore in all things it behoved him to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people.

Hebrews 3:1:

Wherefore, holy brethren, partakers of the heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our profession, Christ Jesus;

Hebrews 3:6:

But Christ a son over his own house; whose house we are, if we hold fast the confidence and the rejoicing of the hope firm unto the end.

Hebrews 3:8:

Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of temptation in the wilderness:

Hebrews 3:12-14:

Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God.

But exhort one another daily, while it is called To day; lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin.

For we are made partakers of Christ, if we hold the beginning of our confidence steadfast unto the end;

Hebrews 4:2:

For unto us was the gospel preached, as well as unto them: but the word preached did not profit them, not being mixed with faith in them that heard it.

Hebrews 4:3:

For we which have believed do enter into rest, as he said, As I have sworn in my wrath, if they shall enter into my rest: although the works were finished from the foundation of the world.

Hebrews 4:11:

Let us labour therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall after the same example of unbelief.

Hebrews 4:12:

For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any twoedged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.

Hebrews 5:1:

For every high priest taken from among men is ordained for men in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins:

Hebrews 5:14:

But strong meat belongeth to them that are of full age, even those who by reason of use have their senses exercised to discern both good and evil.

Hebrews 6:1-2:

Therefore leaving the principles of the doctrine of Christ, let us go on to perfection; not laying again the foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith toward God, Of the doctrine of baptisms, and of laying on of hands, and of resurrection of the dead, and of eternal judgment.

Hebrews 6:4-6:

For it is impossible for those who were once enlightened, and have tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the Holy Ghost, And have tasted the good word of God, and the powers of the world to come, If they shall fall away, to renew them again unto repentance; seeing they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put him to an open shame.

Hebrews 6:18:

That by two immutable things, in which it was impossible for God to lie, we might have a strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope set before us:

Hebrews 7:19:

For the law made nothing perfect, but the bringing in of a better hope did; by which we draw nigh unto God.

Hebrews 7:22:

By so much was Jesus made a surety of a better testament.

Hebrews 7:25:

Wherefore he is able also to save them to the uttermost who come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them.

Hebrews 8:6:

But now hath he obtained a more excellent ministry, by how much also he is the mediator of a better covenant, which was established upon better promises.

Hebrews 8:10:

For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord; I will put my laws into their mind, and write them in their hearts: and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people:

Hebrews 8:12:

For I will be merciful to their unrighteousness, and their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more.

Hebrews 9:16:

For where a testament is, there must also of necessity be the death of the testator.

Hebrews 9:22:

And almost all things are by the law purged with blood; and without shedding of blood is no remission.

Hebrews 9:27:

And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment:

Hebrews 10:6:

In burnt offerings and sacrifices for sin thou hast had no pleasure.

Hebrews 10:8:

Above when he said, Sacrifice and offering and burnt offerings and offering for sin thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein; which are offered by the law;

Hebrews 10:10:

By the which will we are sanctified though the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all.

Hebrews 10:11-14:

And every priest standeth daily ministering and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins:

But this man, after he had offered one sacrifice for sins for ever, sat down on the right hand of God;

From henceforth expecting till his enemies be made his footstool.

For by one offering he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified.

Hebrews 10:16:

This is the covenant that I will make with them after those days, saith the Lord, I will put my laws into their hearts, and in their minds I will write them;

Hebrews 10:19:

Having therefore, brethren, boldness to enter into the holiest by the blood of Jesus,

Hebrews 10:21:

And having an high priest over the house of God;

Hebrews 10:25:

Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is, but exhorting one another: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching.

Hebrews 10:29:

Of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace?

Hebrews 10:30:

For we know him that hath said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again, The Lord shall judge his people.

Hebrews 10:38:

Now the just shall live by faith: but if any man draw back, my soul shall have no pleasure in him.

Hebrews 11:6:

But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.

Hebrews 11:7:

By faith Noah, being warned of God of things not seen as yet, moved with fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house; by the which he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which is by faith.

Hebrews 11:13:

These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth.

Hebrews 11:34:

[Through faith people did these things] Quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, out of weakness were made strong, waxed valiant in fight, turned to flight the armies of the aliens.

Hebrews 12:1:

Wherefore seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us,

Hebrews 12:2:

Looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith; who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God.

Hebrews 12:5-11:

And ye have forgotten the exhortation which speaketh unto you as unto children, My son, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor faint when thou art rebuked of him:

For whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth.

If ye endure chastening, God dealeth with you as with sons; for what son is he whom the father chasteneth not?

But if ye be without chastisement, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sons.

Furthermore we have had fathers of our flesh which corrected us, and we gave them reverence: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto the Father of spirits, and live?

For they verily for a few days chastened us after their own pleasure; but he for our profit, that we might be partakers of his holiness.

Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous: nevertheless afterward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them which are exercised thereby.

Hebrews 12:15-16:

Looking diligently lest any man fail of the grace of God; lest any root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby many be defiled;

Lest there be any fornicator, or profane person, as Esau, who for one morsel of meat sold his birthright.

Hebrews 12:24:

And to Jesus the mediator of the new covenant, and to the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things than that of Abel.

Hebrews 13:4:

Marriage is honourable in all, and the bed undefiled: but whoremongers and adulterers God will judge.

Hebrews 13:5:

Let your conversation be without covetousness; and be content with such things as ye have: for he hath said, I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee.

Hebrews 13:6:

So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear that man shall do unto me.

James 1:15:

Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin: and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death.

James 2:1-9:

My brethren, have not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory, with respect of persons. For if there come unto your assembly a man with a gold ring, in goodly apparel, and there come in also a poor man in vile raiment;

And ye have respect to him that weareth the gay clothing [this means bright clothing; it does not refer to a man who showed up to the service in drag], and say unto him, Sit thou here in a good place; and say to the poor, Stand thou there, or sit here under my footstool:

Are ye not then partial in yourselves, and are become judges of evil thoughts?

Hearken, my beloved brethren, Hath not God chosen the poor of this world rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom which he hath promised to them that love him?

But ye have despised the poor. Do not rich men oppress you, and draw you before the judgment seats?

Do not they blaspheme that worthy name by the which ye are called?

If ye fulfil the royal law according to the scripture, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself, ye do well:

But if ye have respect to persons, ye commit sin, and are convinced of the law as transgressors.

James 2:10:

For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all.

James 2:19:

Thou believest that there is one God; thou doest well: the devils also believe, and tremble.

James 2:23:

And the scripture was fulfilled which saith, Abraham believed God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness: and he was called the Friend of God.

James 3:8:

But the tongue can no man tame; it is an unruly evil, full of deadly poison.

James 3:10:

Out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be.

James 4:2:

Ye lust, and have not: ye kill, and desire to have, and cannot obtain: ye fight and war, yet ye have not, because ye ask not.

James 4:4:

Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God.

James 4:8:

Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and purify your hearts, ye double minded.

James 4:17:

Therefore to him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin.

James 5:1-6:

Go to now, ye rich men, weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you.

Your riches are corrupted, and your garments are motheaten.

Your gold and silver is cankered; and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire. Ye have heaped treasure together for the last days.

Behold, the hire of the labourers who have reaped down your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth: and the cries of them which have reaped are entered into the ears of the Lord of sabaoth.

Ye have lived in pleasure on the earth, and been wanton; ye have nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter.

Ye have condemned and killed the just; and he doth not resist you.

James 5:11:

Behold, we count them happy which endure. Ye have heard of the patience of Job, and have seen the end of the Lord; that the Lord is very pitiful, and of tender mercy.

1 Peter 1:8:

Whom having not seen, ye love; in whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice with joy unspeakable and full of glory:

1 Peter 1:12:

Unto whom it was revealed, that not unto themselves, but unto us they did minister these things, which are now reported unto you by them that have preached the gospel unto you with the Holy Ghost sent from heaven; which things angels long to look into.

1 Peter 2:2:

As newborn babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby:

1 Peter 2:5:

Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.

1 Peter 2:6:

Wherefore also it is contained in the scripture, Behold, I lay in Sion a chief corner stone, elect, precious: and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded.

1 Peter 2:9:

But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light:

1 Peter 2:10:

Which in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God: which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy.

1 Peter 2:13-15:

Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme;
Or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evildoers, and for the praise of them that do well.

For so is the will of God, that with well doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of foolish men:

1 Peter 3:9:

Not rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing: but contrariwise blessing; knowing that ye are thereunto called, that ye should inherit a blessing.

1 Peter 3:12:

For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayers: but the face of the Lord is against them that do evil.

1 Peter 3:18:

For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit:

1 Peter 4:10:

As every man hath received the gift, even so minister the same one to another, as good stewards of the manifold grace of God.

1 Peter 4:17:

For the time is come that judgment must begin at the house of God: and if it first begin at us, what shall the end be of them that obey not the gospel of God?

1 Peter 5:3:

Neither as being lords over God's heritage, but being ensamples to the flock.

1 Peter 5:7:

Casting all your care upon him; for he careth for you.

2 Peter 1:1:

Simon Peter, a servant and an apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have obtained like precious faith with us through the righteousness of God and our Saviour Jesus Christ:

2 Peter 1:2:

Grace and peace be multiplied unto you through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord,

2 Peter 1:9:

But he that lacketh these things is blind, and cannot see afar off, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his old sins.

2 Peter 2:10-11:

But chiefly them that walk after the flesh in the lust of uncleanness, and despise government.

Presumptuous are they, selfwilled, they are not afraid to speak evil of dignities.

Whereas angels, which are greater in power and might, bring not railing accusation against them before the Lord.

2 Peter 2:19:

We have also a more sure word of prophecy; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day star arise in your hearts:

2 Peter 2:20-21:

For if after they have escaped the pollutions of the world through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled therein, and overcome, the latter end is worse with them than the beginning.

For it had been better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than, after they have known it, to turn from the holy commandment delivered unto them.

2 Peter 3:9:

The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness; but is longsuffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance.

2 Peter 3:13:

Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness.

2 Peter 3:18:

But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him be glory both now and for ever. Amen.

1 John 1:3:

That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us: and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ.

1 John 2:1:

My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous:

1 John 2:2:

And he is the propitiation for our sins: and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world.

1 John 2:12:

I write unto you, little children, because your sins are forgiven you for his name's sake.

1 John 2:13-14:

I write unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I write unto you, young men, because ye have overcome the wicked one. I write unto you, little children, because ye have known the Father.

I have written to you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I have written to you, young men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome the wicked one.

1 John 2:20:

But ye have an unction from the Holy One, and ye know all things.

1 John 2:23:

Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: (but) he that acknowledgeth the Son hath the Father also.

1 John 2:27:

But the anointing which ye have received of him abideth in you, and ye need not that any man teach you: but as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and is truth, and is no lie, and even as it hath taught you, ye shall abide in him.

1 John 3:1:

Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God: therefore the world knoweth us not, because it knew him not.

1 John 3:15:

Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer: and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him.

1 John 4:8:

He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love.

1 John 4:15:

Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God.

1 John 4:17:

Herein is our love made perfect, that we may have boldness in the day of judgment: because as he is, so are we in this world.

1 John 4:19:

We love him, because he first loved us.

1 John 5:1:

Whosoever believeth that Jesus is the Christ is born of God: and every one that loveth him that begat loveth him also that is begotten of him.

1 John 5:11-13:

And this is the record, that God has given us eternal life, and this life is in his Son.

He that hath the Son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life.

These things have I written to you that believe on the name of the Son of God; that ye may know that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe in the name of the Son of God.

1 John 5:21:

Little children, keep yourselves from idols. Amen.

2 John 9:

Whosoever transgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that abideth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Son.

3 John 7:

Because that for his name's sake they went forth, taking nothing of the Gentiles.

Jude 8-9:

Likewise also these filthy dreamers defile the flesh, despise dominion, and speak evil of dignities.

Jude 20:

But ye, beloved, building up yourselves on your most holy faith, praying in the Holy Ghost,

Revelation 1:6:

And hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father; to him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

Revelation 1:18:

I am he that liveth, and was dead; and, behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen; and have the keys of hell and of death.

Revelation 1:20:

The mystery of the seven stars which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden candlesticks.

The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches: and the seven candlesticks thou sawest are the seven churches.

Revelation 2:1:

Unto the angel of the church of Ephesus write; These things saith he that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, who walketh in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks.

Revelation 2:7:

He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the midst of the paradise of God.

Revelation 2:10:

Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried; and ye shall have tribulation ten days: be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life.

Revelation 2:11:

He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; He that overcometh shall not be hurt of the second death.

Revelation 2:17:

He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the hidden manna, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth saving he that receiveth it.

Revelation 2:26:

And he that overcometh, and keepeth my works unto the end, to him will I give power over the nations:

Revelation 3:5:

He that overcometh, the same shall be clothed in white raiment; and I will not blot out his name out of the book of life, but I will confess his name before my Father, and before his angels.

Revelation 3:12:

Him that overcometh will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will write upon him my new name.

Revelation 3:16:

So then because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spue thee out of my mouth.

Revelation 3:21:

To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my Father in his throne.

Revelation 5:10:

And hast made us unto our God kings and priests: and we shall reign on the earth.

Revelation 9:3-6:

And there came out of the smoke locusts upon the earth: and unto them was given power, as the scorpions of the earth have power.

And it was commanded them that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree; but only those men which have not the seal of God in their foreheads.

And to them it was given that they should not kill them, but that they should be tormented five months: and their torment was as the torment of a scorpion, when he striketh a man.

And in those days shall men seek death, and shall not find it; and shall desire to die, and death shall flee from them.

Revelation 12:10:

And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night.

Revelation 13:8:

And all that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, whose names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world.

Revelation 19:10:

And I fell at his feet to worship him. And he said unto me, See thou do it not: I am thy fellowservant, and of thy brethren that have the testimony of Jesus: worship God: for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.

Revelation 20:10:

And the devil that deceived them was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophet are, and shall be tormented day and night for ever and ever.

Revelation 20:14-15:

And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death.

And whosoever was not found written in the book of life was cast into the lake of fire.

Revelation 21:1-3:

And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea.

And I John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband.

And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God.

Read This if You Have No Idea What's Going On or What This Is About

This book was written to help you receive healing in your body through faith in Jesus Christ.

When He went to the cross, Jesus paid the price to redeem you from sin and the punishments for sin. In this book, you will learn that God considers sickness a curse and that it is part of the punishment for sin. Jesus allowed Himself to be punished in your place so that you could go free. He bore the penalty for sin Himself so that you would not have to spend eternity in hell. He also bore the curse of sickness and disease in your place to free you from having to suffer them in this life.

No matter who you are and no matter what your physical problem is, Jesus Christ has already made provision for your healing. You do not need to beg God to do something new for you. You must simply receive God's gift of healing that Jesus made available to everyone.

The central message of this book is as old as the gospel itself. The good news about divine healing has always been in the Bible. If you take the time to read what the Bible says about your healing, you will realize that God is not only able, but also willing, to heal you. You will also realize that God offers you healing right now because He has already done something about your healing. You will then be able to pray in faith and receive this gift from Him. God offers you healing right now because Jesus paid for you to have it. He is the same yesterday, today and forever. The healings that He was famous for in the four gospels are just as much His will today. They always will be His will until the day that God finally rids the earth of all sickness and creates a new earth in which righteousness dwells.

YEAH Index

Note: If you want my take on a particular verse, you can simply use the Find feature in your PDF reader to find all places where that verse appears. All book names are spelled out (Galatians as opposed to Gal., for example) throughout the book. You may also use the Find feature to look for any other topic.

1 2 3 A B C D E F G H I J K L M N O P Q R S T U V W Y Z

1 Chronicles

1 Corinthians

1 John

1 Kings

1 Peter

1 Samuel

1 Thessalonians

1 Timothy

2 Chronicles

2 Corinthians

2 Kings

2 John

2 Peter

2 Samuel

2 Thessalonians

2 Timothy

24/7 Prayer, Worship, etc.

3 John

Abba

Abed-nego

About This Book

Abraham's Blessing

Accepting Illness

Accidents

Acts

Addictions

Adversity

Afflictions

AIDS

Alcoholics Anonymous

Alcoholism

All Hell Breaking Loose

Amos

Ananias

Angels

Annihilationists

Anointing

Antichrist

Apologies

Arm-Twisting

Armor of God

Arthritis

Atonement

Authority

Baby Christians

Bad Breath

Baptism with the Holy Spirit

Bar-Jesus

Bargaining with God

Beautiful Gate

Beggar

Birth Defects

Blindness

Blonde Bombshells

Blood of Jesus

Blurred Vision

Boils

Boldness

Books, Stupid

Born Again

Bound Sins

Breaking

Breathing Difficulties

Broken Bones

Brokenheartedness

Bugging God

Burning

Café Churches

Calvinism

Cancer

Catchers

Cause of Sickness

Character

Charlatans

Chastening

Chemical Imbalances

Children

Christian Science \(So-Called\)

Chronic Illness

Colds

Colossians

Comas

Communion \(see Lord's Supper\)

Compassion

Complainers

Computer Viruses

Condemnation

Conditions

Confession

Conscience

Consecration

Consumption

Contentment

Council of Constantinople

Creation

Crosses

Crystals

Cults

Curse of the Law

Curses

Daniel

Daniel Fasts

David

Deafness

Deity

Delirium

Demon Possession

Demons

Denial

Depression

Desire

Deuteronomy

Devil

Diarrhea

Discussions about Healing

Disobedience

Dispensations

Doctors

Doctrine

Double Portions

Double-mindedness

Doubt

Drug Addiction

Drunkenness

Dumbness \(Inability to Speak\)

Dying

Early Manuscripts

Ecclesiastes

Ekklesia

Elders

Elisha

End Times

Endurance

Envy

Epaphroditus

Ephesians

Evangelism

Evangelists

Evil

Exercise

Exhaustion

Exodus

Ezekiel

Ezra

Faith

Falling Over

Fasting

Favoritism

Fear

Fear Theory

Female-Specific Illnesses

Fever

Figs

Flags

Flu

Foot Trouble

Formulas

Fornication

Galatia

Galatians

Gap Theory

Generals

Generational Curses

Genesis

Germ

Gesenius' Hebrew-Chaldee Lexicon of the Old Testament

Gift of Faith

Gifts

Gifts of Healings

Giving

Glasses

Glory

Gluttony

God's Ability

God's Will

Good Things

Gradual Healing

Grave Sucking

Gray Hair

Great Commission

Greetings

Griefs

Groaning

Habakkuk

Haggai

Hannah

Haunted Houses

Headaches

Healing Cards

Healing Lines

Healing Ministers

Healing Scriptures

Healing Services

Healing Shrines

Health

Hebrew Verbs

Hebrews

Hemorrhaging

Herod

Hexes

Hezekiah

Holiness

Holy of Holies

Holy Spirit

Homosexuality

Hopelessness

Hosea

Hospitals

Hostage, Holding God

Household Salvation

Humility

If It Be Thy Will

Ignorance

Image of Christ

Improvement

Inaction

Infertility

Inflammation

Injuries

Inner Healing

Insanity

Insomnia

Insurance

Intercessors

Isaac

Isaiah

Itching

Jacob

James

Jealousy

Jeremiah

Jews

Jezebel

Job

Joel

John

Jonah

Joshua

Jubilee, Year of

Jude

Judges

Judgment

Keys

Labor Pains

Lameness

Lamentations

Last Days

Latter Rain

Law of Moses

Laying on of Hands

Lazarus

Laziness

Leprosy

Leviticus

Liar Theory

Lice

Lifespan

Livestock

Lobster

Long Life

Longsuffering

Lord's Supper

Love

Luke

Lust

Lying

Malachi

Manifestation of Healing

Manifestations of the Spirit

Mark

Marks

Martyrdom

Matching Donation Challenges

Matthew

Medical Help

Medical Insurance

Medicine

Mental Assent

Mental Illnesses

Mercy

Meshach

Messenger

Messianic Jews

Methods of Healing

Metonymies

Micah

Miletum

Millennium

Miracles

Miscarriages

Mission Field

Mistakes

Motives

Mountains

Music

Mysterious Ways of God \(Not!\)

Nahum

Name of Jesus

Names, Asking Demons for

Narrator Rule

Native Reconciliation Meetings

Natural Laws

Nazareth

Needs

Nehemiah

Nestorianism

New Birth

New Year Prophecies

Nonviability \(Being Dead\)

Novenas

Numbers

Nursery

Nursing Homes

Obedience

Obesity

Objections

Occult

Oil

Old Age

Opponents of Healing

Ouija Boards

Overexertion

Pain

Paralysis

Partial Healing

Passover

Patience

Paul

Peace

Pelagianism

Percentage of N.T. Paul Wrote

Perfection

Perfectionism

Pets

Pharisees

Philemon

Philippians

Placebos

Plagues

Poisoning

Pool of Bethesda

Pop Christianity Books

Positive Mental Attitudes

Poultice

Power

Prayer

Preacher Tricks

Priests

Principalities

Prodigal Son

Prophetic Activation

Prophetic Mandates

Prosperity

Proverbs

Proxy, Standing in

Psalms

Psychosomatic Ailments

Pushing

Questions

Quickening

Rain

Raising the Dead

Recovery

Redemption

Repentance

Resurrection

Revelation

Revival

Righteousness

Romans

Salvation

Sapphira

Sarah

Satan

Satan's Epiphany Theory

Satan-Assisted Suicide

Scoffers

Scriptures about Healing

Seed

Selfish Dying

Selling Your Soul to the Devil

Severing

Shadrach

Shaking

Shipwrecked Faith

Shortness

Shrines

Side Effects

Signs

Sin

Smoking

Snakebites

Song of Solomon

Sores

Sorrows

Soulwinning

Sovereignty

Sowing and Reaping

Special Children \(So-Called\)

Speech Impediments

Spirit Baptism

Spirit of Faith

Spiritual Warfare

Standing in Proxy

Stephen

Stomach Disorders

Storms

Strenuous Activity

Stretch Marks

Strife

Stripes

Suffering

Swelling

Symptoms

Testimony

Thanksgiving

Thayer's Greek Lexicon

Theological Dictionary of the New Testament

Thorn in the Flesh

Thy Will Be Done

Timothy

Tithing

Titus

Tongues

Trees

Trials

Tribulation

Trophimus

Trophy Theory

Tuberculosis

Tumors

Twirly Whirly Girlies

Unbelief

Unbelievers

Unconfessed Sin

Unforgiveness

Unjust Judge

Unspoken Prayer Requests

Vending Machines

Venereal Diseases

Victory

Vine's Expository Dictionary

Viruses

Visions

Wail-and-Travail Meetings

Weakness

Wilderness Experiences

Will of Others

Will Power

Wine

Witch Hunts

Witchcraft

Withering

Wonders

Word of Faith Movement

Words

Working All Things for Good

Working of Miracles

Works

Worms

Worry

Worship

Wrath of God

Yes, No and Wait

Zechariah

1 Chronicles

1 Chronicles 10:13

1 Chronicles 13:14

1 Chronicles 16:11

1 Chronicles 16:22

1 Chronicles 16:27

1 Chronicles 21:1

1 Chronicles 21:7-27

1 Chronicles 29:12

1 Corinthians

1 Corinthians 1:1

1 Corinthians 1:2

1 Corinthians 1:7

1 Corinthians 1:18

1 Corinthians 1:21

1 Corinthians 1:30

1 Corinthians 2:4-5

1 Corinthians 2:12

1 Corinthians 2:16

1 Corinthians 3:9

1 Corinthians 3:16-17

1 Corinthians 3:21-22

1 Corinthians 4:11

1 Corinthians 4:16

1 Corinthians 4:19-20

1 Corinthians 5:1-5

1 Corinthians 5:7

1 Corinthians 5:11-13

1 Corinthians 6:3

1 Corinthians 6:9-11

1 Corinthians 6:13

1 Corinthians 6:15

1 Corinthians 6:17

1 Corinthians 6:18

1 Corinthians 6:19-20

1 Corinthians 7:14

1 Corinthians 7:15-16

1 Corinthians 7:22

1 Corinthians 7:23
1 Corinthians 7:39
1 Corinthians 8:1
1 Corinthians 8:9
1 Corinthians 8:11
1 Corinthians 9:5
1 Corinthians 9:14
1 Corinthians 9:16
1 Corinthians 9:24
1 Corinthians 9:27
1 Corinthians 10:5-11
1 Corinthians 10:12
1 Corinthians 10:13
1 Corinthians 10:27
1 Corinthians 11:1
1 Corinthians 11:23-25
1 Corinthians 11:26
1 Corinthians 11:27-32
1 Corinthians 12:1
1 Corinthians 12:3
1 Corinthians 12:6
1 Corinthians 12:7
1 Corinthians 12:8-11
1 Corinthians 12:13
1 Corinthians 12:18
1 Corinthians 12:21
1 Corinthians 12:26
1 Corinthians 12:27
1 Corinthians 12:28-30
1 Corinthians 12:31
1 Corinthians 13:1-3
1 Corinthians 13:4
1 Corinthians 13:8-12
1 Corinthians 14:1
1 Corinthians 14:4
1 Corinthians 14:5
1 Corinthians 14:12
1 Corinthians 14:14-15

1 Corinthians 14:18
1 Corinthians 14:22
1 Corinthians 14:28
1 Corinthians 14:29
1 Corinthians 14:30
1 Corinthians 14:38
1 Corinthians 14:39
1 Corinthians 15:3
1 Corinthians 15:14
1 Corinthians 15:15
1 Corinthians 15:17
1 Corinthians 15:26
1 Corinthians 15:31
1 Corinthians 15:33
1 Corinthians 15:49
1 Corinthians 15:51-52
1 Corinthians 15:53-54
1 Corinthians 15:56
1 Corinthians 15:57

1 John

1 John 1:3
1 John 1:6
1 John 1:7
1 John 1:8-10
1 John 2:1
1 John 2:2
1 John 2:6
1 John 2:12
1 John 2:13-14
1 John 2:20
1 John 2:23
1 John 2:27
1 John 3:1
1 John 3:2
1 John 3:8
1 John 3:10
1 John 3:15
1 John 3:21-22

1 John 4:1-4

1 John 4:8

1 John 4:15

1 John 4:17

1 John 4:18

1 John 4:19

1 John 5:1

1 John 5:4-5

1 John 5:11-13

1 John 5:14-15

1 John 5:16

1 John 5:21

1 Kings

1 Kings 3:14

1 Kings 8:10-11

1 Kings 8:37-39

1 Kings 13:4-6

1 Kings 13:33-14:1

1 Kings 17:17-24

1 Kings 18:27

1 Kings 18:46

1 Kings 19:11-12

1 Kings 22:22-23

1 Peter

1 Peter 1:3

1 Peter 1:6-7

1 Peter 1:8

1 Peter 1:11

1 Peter 1:12

1 Peter 1:15

1 Peter 1:17

1 Peter 1:18-19

1 Peter 2:2

1 Peter 2:5

1 Peter 2:6

1 Peter 2:9

1 Peter 2:10

1 Peter 2:13-15

1 Peter 2:19-20
1 Peter 2:20-23
1 Peter 2:24
1 Peter 2:25
1 Peter 3:3-4
1 Peter 3:7
1 Peter 3:9
1 Peter 3:10-11
1 Peter 3:12
1 Peter 3:18-20
1 Peter 3:22
1 Peter 4:1-2
1 Peter 4:6
1 Peter 4:10
1 Peter 4:17
1 Peter 5:1
1 Peter 5:3
1 Peter 5:4
1 Peter 5:5
1 Peter 5:6
1 Peter 5:7
1 Peter 5:8-10

1 Samuel

1 Samuel 1
1 Samuel 2:4
1 Samuel 2:5
1 Samuel 2:6-7
1 Samuel 5:1-6:5
1 Samuel 10:5-6
1 Samuel 10:10
1 Samuel 15:29
1 Samuel 16:7
1 Samuel 16:14-23
1 Samuel 17:44
1 Samuel 23:24
1 Samuel 25:3
1 Samuel 25:17
1 Samuel 25:25

1 Samuel 25:37-38

1 Samuel 26:12

1 Thessalonians

1 Thessalonians 1:5

1 Thessalonians 1:10

1 Thessalonians 2:9

1 Thessalonians 2:12

1 Thessalonians 2:13

1 Thessalonians 2:18

1 Thessalonians 3:10

1 Thessalonians 3:11

1 Thessalonians 4:4-6

1 Thessalonians 4:9

1 Thessalonians 5:3

1 Thessalonians 5:5

1 Thessalonians 5:8

1 Thessalonians 5:9

1 Thessalonians 5:16-18

1 Thessalonians 5:19

1 Thessalonians 5:21

1 Thessalonians 5:23-24

1 Thessalonians 5:25

1 Thessalonians 5:27

1 Timothy

1 Timothy 1:1

1 Timothy 1:4

1 Timothy 1:5

1 Timothy 1:9-10

1 Timothy 1:13

1 Timothy 1:14

1 Timothy 1:15

1 Timothy 1:19-20

1 Timothy 2:1-2

1 Timothy 2:3-4

1 Timothy 2:5

1 Timothy 2:8

1 Timothy 2:9-10

1 Timothy 2:13

1 Timothy 2:15
1 Timothy 3:3
1 Timothy 3:8
1 Timothy 3:14-15
1 Timothy 3:16
1 Timothy 4:1-5
1 Timothy 4:7-8
1 Timothy 4:10
1 Timothy 4:12
1 Timothy 4:14
1 Timothy 4:15
1 Timothy 5:12
1 Timothy 5:14
1 Timothy 5:15
1 Timothy 5:17-22
1 Timothy 5:23
1 Timothy 6:10
1 Timothy 6:11
1 Timothy 6:12
1 Timothy 6:13
1 Timothy 6:17
1 Timothy 6:20-21

2 Chronicles

2 Chronicles 5:13-14
2 Chronicles 6:28-30
2 Chronicles 7:1-2
2 Chronicles 7:13-14
2 Chronicles 16:12
2 Chronicles 18:21-22
2 Chronicles 21:12-19
2 Chronicles 24:15
2 Chronicles 26:16-21
2 Chronicles 30:18-20

2 Corinthians

2 Corinthians 1:1
2 Corinthians 1:3-4
2 Corinthians 1:5-7
2 Corinthians 1:8-10

2 Corinthians 1:11
2 Corinthians 1:18-20
2 Corinthians 1:21
2 Corinthians 2:4-8
2 Corinthians 2:14
2 Corinthians 2:17
2 Corinthians 3:5-6
2 Corinthians 3:7-11
2 Corinthians 3:17
2 Corinthians 3:18
2 Corinthians 4:1
2 Corinthians 4:4
2 Corinthians 4:5
2 Corinthians 4:7
2 Corinthians 4:8-12
2 Corinthians 4:13
2 Corinthians 4:18
2 Corinthians 5:7
2 Corinthians 5:8
2 Corinthians 5:15
2 Corinthians 5:17
2 Corinthians 5:18
2 Corinthians 5:19
2 Corinthians 5:21
2 Corinthians 6:2
2 Corinthians 6:5
2 Corinthians 6:14-16
2 Corinthians 6:18
2 Corinthians 7:1
2 Corinthians 7:5
2 Corinthians 7:6
2 Corinthians 7:10
2 Corinthians 8:9
2 Corinthians 8:23
2 Corinthians 9:6
2 Corinthians 9:7
2 Corinthians 9:9
2 Corinthians 9:14

2 Corinthians 10:3-5

2 Corinthians 10:10

2 Corinthians 10:12

2 Corinthians 10:15

2 Corinthians 11:14

2 Corinthians 11:23-27

2 Corinthians 11:28-33

2 Corinthians 12:5

2 Corinthians 12:7-10

2 Corinthians 12:12

2 Corinthians 13:1

2 Corinthians 13:5

2 Corinthians 13:14

2 Kings

2 Kings 1:2-4

2 Kings 3:14-15

2 Kings 4:12-17

2 Kings 4:18-37

2 Kings 5:1-14

2 Kings 5:27

2 Kings 6:18-20

2 Kings 13:14

2 Kings 13:20-21

2 Kings 15:5

2 Kings 18:4

2 Kings 18:25

2 Kings 20:1-7

2 Kings 20:8

2 John

2 John 9

2 Peter

2 Peter 1:1

2 Peter 1:2

2 Peter 1:3-4

2 Peter 1:5

2 Peter 1:9

2 Peter 1:21

2 Peter 2:10-11

2 Peter 2:19

2 Peter 2:20-21

2 Peter 3:5-7

2 Peter 3:9

2 Peter 3:13

2 Peter 3:16

2 Peter 3:18

2 Samuel

2 Samuel 6:6-7

2 Samuel 6:14-16

2 Samuel 12:13-18

2 Samuel 16:10

2 Samuel 22:3

2 Samuel 22:30

2 Samuel 22:33

2 Samuel 22:40

2 Samuel 24:1

2 Samuel 24:10-25

2 Thessalonians

2 Thessalonians 1:3

2 Thessalonians 1:8-9

2 Thessalonians 1:10

2 Thessalonians 1:11

2 Thessalonians 2:3

2 Thessalonians 2:8-9

2 Thessalonians 2:11

2 Thessalonians 2:14

2 Thessalonians 3:1-2

2 Thessalonians 3:3

2 Thessalonians 3:8

2 Thessalonians 3:10

2 Timothy

2 Timothy 1:1

2 Timothy 1:3

2 Timothy 1:6

2 Timothy 1:7

2 Timothy 1:8

2 Timothy 1:9
2 Timothy 1:13
2 Timothy 2:6
2 Timothy 2:9
2 Timothy 2:11-13
2 Timothy 2:15
2 Timothy 2:17-18
2 Timothy 2:20-21
2 Timothy 2:24
2 Timothy 3:1-5
2 Timothy 3:11
2 Timothy 3:12
2 Timothy 3:13
2 Timothy 3:16-17
2 Timothy 4:2
2 Timothy 4:3
2 Timothy 4:6-7
2 Timothy 4:10
2 Timothy 4:13
2 Timothy 4:14-16
2 Timothy 4:17
2 Timothy 4:18
2 Timothy 4:20

24/7 Prayer, Worship, etc.

The Kingdom of God is Here NOW

3 John

3 John 2

3 John 7

Abba

Your Heavenly Father and Your Healing

Abed-nego

Objection: Rather Than Claiming Healing, We Should Just Have “the Faith of Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-nego”

About This Book

About This Book

Abraham’s Blessing

Abraham’s Blessing Is Yours

Accepting Illness

Objection: You Can Have Greater Peace by Accepting Your Illness than by Struggling to Get Healed

Accidents

Can I Get Healed of Injuries from Accidents as Well as Diseases?

Objection: God Could Use So-and-So Powerfully because She Was Paralyzed When She Was Young

Acts

Acts 1:1-2

Acts 1:5-8

Acts 1:9

Acts 1:10

Acts 1: 14

Acts 1:20-22

Acts 2:2-4

Acts 2:13-16

Acts 2:17

Acts 2:24

Acts 2:27

Acts 2:29

Acts 2:31

Acts 2:38

Acts 2:39

Acts 2:44-45

Acts 2:46

Acts 3:1-16

Acts 3:17

Acts 3:19

Acts 4:7-10

Acts 4:8-13

Acts 4:16

Acts 4:18

Acts 4:21

Acts 4:22

Acts 4:29-33

Acts 5:1-11

Acts 5:12-16

Acts 5:18-20

Acts 5:31

Acts 5:39

Acts 5:41

Acts 6:3-5

Acts 6:5-6

Acts 6:8

Acts 7:2

Acts 7:55-56

Acts 7:59

Acts 8:5-20

Acts 8:39-40

Acts 9:3-9

Acts 9:10-19

Acts 9:31

Acts 9:32-35

Acts 9:36-42

Acts 10:1-4

Acts 10:9-16

Acts 10:20

Acts 10:34

Acts 10:38

Acts 10:44-48

Acts 11:5

Acts 11:15-17

Acts 11:18

Acts 11:19-21

Acts 12:3-10

Acts 12:21-23

Acts 13:1-3

Acts 13:6-12

Acts 13:26

Acts 13:33

Acts 13:38

Acts 13:51

Acts 13:52

Acts 14:3

Acts 14:7-10

Acts 14:19-20

Acts 14:22

Acts 15:12

Acts 15:20

Acts 15:24

Acts 15:29

Acts 15:36-39

Acts 16:6-10

Acts 16:16-18

Acts 16:19

Acts 16:26

Acts 16:31

Acts 16:32-34

Acts 17:11

Acts 17:25

Acts 17:30

Acts 18:1-3

Acts 18:26

Acts 19:1-6

Acts 19:7

Acts 19:11-12

Acts 19:13-17

Acts 19:18

Acts 19:20

Acts 19:21

Acts 19:41

Acts 20:4

Acts 20:7

Acts 20:9-12

Acts 20:20

Acts 20:21

Acts 20:22

Acts 20:26-27

Acts 21:4-5

Acts 21:29

Acts 22:1

Acts 22:5

Acts 22:16

Acts 22:30-23:6

Acts 23:1

Acts 23:5

Acts 23:6

Acts 23:11

Acts 26:14

Acts 26:18

Acts 26:20

Acts 26:29

Acts 27:33-34

Acts 27:35

Acts 28:3-6

Acts 28:8-9

Acts 28:23-24

Acts 28:25-27

Addictions

Can I Get Healed of Alcoholism, Drug Abuse, Pornography and Homosexuality?

Adversity

Objection: God Creates Both the Day of Prosperity and the Day of Adversity \(Ecclesiastes 7:14\)

Afflictions

Objection: David Said that It Was GOOD that He Was Afflicted; So It Can Be with Us

Objection: Many Are the Afflictions of the Righteous

AIDS

Found: The Cure for AIDS!

Condition: Venereal Diseases

Alcoholics Anonymous

Don't Believe These Alcoholics Anonymous Lies

Alcoholism

Don't Believe These Alcoholics Anonymous Lies

Can I Get Healed of Alcoholism, Drug Abuse, Pornography and Homosexuality?

All Hell Breaking Loose

Does a Serious Sickness Attack Prove that a Major Breakthrough Is Just Ahead?

Amos

Amos 3:3

Amos 3:7

Amos 4:6

Ananias

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

Angels

“Messenger” of Satan Defined

Annihilationists

Objection: Jesus Was Not Really PUNISHED for Our Sins; He Just Shed Blood to Atone for Them

Anointing

The Anointing in the New Testament

All About Healing Services

Anointed to Preach Deliverance

Beware: Wrong Motives for Getting into Healing Lines

Different Ways to Get Healed

Healing and Music

Can I Believe for a Double Portion of the Anointing?

Can I “Stand in Proxy” for Someone Else in a Healing Line?

Can I Believe and Receive a Healing for Someone Else?

Can We Pray and Believe for the Healing Anointing to Manifest?

I Felt Fine Before I Laid Hands on a Bunch of People at a Service. Why Do I Feel Sick Now?

If God is Really No Respector of Persons, Why Do Only Some Get Healed by the Gifts of the Spirit in Services?

I Have an Engagement to Preach Healing, but I’m Really Sick Myself! What Should I Do?

Ministering to the Sick

Objection: Anointing with Oil in James Is Intended to Be Medicinal

Should We Anoint the Sick with Oil When We Lay Hands on Them?

Signs and Wonders!

The Difference between “The Anointing” and “Your Healing”

The Healing Anointing

The Minister Called Out My Condition But Someone Else Already Went Up for It. Should I Stay in My Seat?

The Word AND the Anointing!

To What Extent Are Prolific Miracles Limited to Those Called to the Ministry?

What Are the Differences between the Gift of Faith, the Gifts of Healings, and the Working of Miracles?

What Do You Do if You're Ministering and There Are "Brick-Heads" Who Won't Receive the Anointing When You Lay Hands on Them?
Why do People Fall Over in Healing Lines?

Antichrist

Objection: The Only Signs and Wonders Predicted in These Last Days Are the Lying Signs and Miracles of the Antichrist

Objection: "Divine" Healings Today are the Prophesied Lying Signs and Wonders of the Antichrist

Apologies

If I Lay Hands on Someone and Nothing Happens, Should I Apologize to That Person for My Lack of Faith?

Arm-Twisting

Objection: "Claiming" Your Healing Is an Arrogant Attempt to Twist God's Arm

Armor of God

You're THE HEALED, Not THE SICK

Arthritis

Condition: Arthritis

Atonement

Do You Really Believe in Healing?

Healing and Atonement

Isaiah's Prophecy of Redemption

Objection: Healing Is a Secondary Benefit of the Atonement, Not a Primary One

Objection: If Healing Is in Christ's Atonement, Sick People Must Be Unsaved

Objection: Isaiah 53:4 \(Matthew 8:17\) Was Fulfilled in Jesus' Earth Ministry and Cannot Be Claimed as a Promise by Christians Today

Objection: Jesus Could Not Have Borne Both Hypoglycemia and Hyperglycemia on the Cross

Objection: The Healing Part of Isaiah 53 Does Not Refer to the Atonement

Objection: We Don't Have to Keep Getting Saved the Way We Have to Keep Getting Healed, So Healing Can't Be in the Atonement

Authority

You have Authority over Your Body

Your Authority over Sickness

Do I Have the Authority to Cast out Computer Viruses?

Objection: If We Have This Faith and Authority, We Should Go Empty Hospitals

Objection: Christ's Disciples Were Told to Heal EVERYONE. No One Does This Today, So We Cannot Say We Have the Same Authority They Did.

Objection: If We Really Had Authority over Sickness, We Would Not Need GIFTS OF HEALING

Baby Christians

Why Was It Easier for Me to Get Healed When I Was a Baby Christian?

Bad Breath

Condition: Bad Breath \(Chronic\)

Baptism with the Holy Spirit

How to be Baptized with the Holy Spirit

Bar-Jesus

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

Bargaining with God

Healing and Dead Works

Beautiful Gate

Objection: It Wasn't God's Time to Heal the Beggar at the Gate Beautiful in Jesus' Ministry; He Had to Wait for Peter and John

Beggar

Objection: It Wasn't God's Time to Heal the Beggar at the Gate Beautiful in Jesus' Ministry; He Had to Wait for Peter and John

Birth Defects

Condition: Birth Defects

Objection: The Man in John 9 Was Born Blind, and That Was God's Will

Blindness

Matthew 9:27-30

Matthew 11:4-5

Matthew 12:22

Condition: Blindness

Objection: The Man in John 9 Was Born Blind, and That Was God's Will

Blonde Bombshells

Can I Believe to Become More Physically Attractive?

Blood of Jesus

Healing and the Blood of Jesus

Blurred Vision

Condition: Blurred Vision

Boils

Condition: Boils

Boldness

How Can We See More Miracles Today?

Books, Stupid

Healing and God's Glory

Mistake: Reading Stupid Books

Born Again

How to Be Saved from Your Sins

Objection: By Jesus' Stripes We Were Spiritually, Not Physically, Healed

Bound Sins

Paper Roadblocks to Healing

Breaking

Objection: God Uses Sickness to "Break" Us

Breathing Difficulties

Condition: Breathing Difficulties

Broken Bones

Condition: Broken Bones

Brokenheartedness

To Heal the Brokenhearted

Condition: Brokenheartedness

Bugging God

How NOT to Pray for Your Healing

Objection: God Sometimes Heals Crybaby Christians Who Bug Him

Enough Just As He Gave Israel a King When They Kept Bugging Him – Even Though It Wasn't His Perfect Will

Burning

Condition: Burning

Café Churches

Notes on Mark 6:1-6

Calvinism

We Cannot Demand Healing from God because God Is Sovereign

Cancer

Condition: Tumors

Catchers

Should We Have "Catchers" in Healing Lines?

Why Do People Fall Over in Healing Lines?

Cause of Sickness

Who or What Causes Sickness?

Character

Objection: Sickness, While Unpleasant, Is Used by God to Build Character

Charlatans

Objection: Some "Faith Healers" Have Been Exposed As Greedy Charlatans

Chastening

Objection: Sickness Can Be the Chastening of the Lord

Sickness As Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

Sickness As Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

Chemical Imbalances

Objection: Mental Illness Is Treatable But Not Curable

Children

Breaking Generational Curses?

God's Blessing on Your Kids

Objection: Like Any Loving Parent, God Sometimes Has to Tell His Children NO for Their Own Good

Objection: The Doctrine of Faith Healing Is Cruel to Parents Who Have Lost Children to Illness

Christian Science (So-Called)

Objection: Divine Healing Is Practiced by False Cults

Chronic Illness

Condition: Chronic Illnesses

Colds

I Have a Cold. Should I Stay Home from Church?

Is God Really Interested in Taking Away Headaches and Colds?

Why Are So Few People Healed of the Common Cold and the Flu?

Colossians

Colossians 1:1

Colossians 1:4

Colossians 1:6

Colossians 1:10

Colossians 1:11

Colossians 1:12-14

Colossians 1:18

Colossians 1:20

Colossians 1:21-23

Colossians 1:24

Colossians 1:27

Colossians 1:29

Colossians 2:3

Colossians 2:10

Colossians 2:12-13

Colossians 2:14-17

Colossians 2:18

Colossians 2:19

Colossians 3:1

Colossians 3:3

Colossians 3:5-6

Colossians 3:8

Colossians 3:9

Colossians 3:10

Colossians 3:11

Colossians 3:12

Colossians 3:13

Colossians 3:15

Colossians 3:19

Colossians 3:21

Colossians 3:22

Colossians 3:25

Colossians 4:3

Colossians 4:6

Colossians 4:11

Colossians 4:14

Colossians 4:17

Comas

What Can You Do for Comatose or Delirious People Who Cannot Believe God for Themselves?

Compassion

God's Mercy and Compassion

Healing and Compassion

Complainers

Sickness As Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

Computer Viruses

Do I Have the Authority to Cast out Computer Viruses?

Condemnation

Objection: The Doctrine of Faith Healing Puts the Sick under Condemnation

Conditions

God's Promises Have Conditions

Confession

Say What

Objection: Saying, "I Am Healed" When You Are Actually Sick Is Lying, and Therefore Sin

Conscience

What If You Sin?

Objection: Teaching Grace Gives People a License to Sin

Consecration

Healing and Consecration

Objection: Sickness, While Unpleasant, Is Used by God to Build Character

Consumption

Condition: Consumption

Contentment

Objection: We Should, Like Paul, Learn to be Content in Every Situation

Council of Constantinople

Objection: The Council of Constantinople in 553 Said that Anyone Teaching that Jesus Ministered as a Spirit-Anointed Man Must Be Anathema

Creation

Objection: Disease Viruses Are Part of God's Creation and Are Therefore Good, Even Though We Often Don't Think So When We Catch Them

Crosses

Objection: Sickness Is One "Cross" We Must Bear

Crystals

How Can I Know that It's God and Not the Devil Doing the Healing?

Cults

Objection: Divine Healing Is Practiced by False Cults

Objection: So-and-So Who Preaches Healing Got His Doctrine from So-and-So, Who Got His Doctrine from So-and-So, Who Was into Cult Theology

Objection: The "Word of Faith" Movement Is a Cult

Objection: This Teaching Encourages People to Have Faith in Their Faith instead of Faith in God, and Is Therefore Cultish

Curse of the Law

YOU Can Be Healed

Objection: Galatians 3:13 Means that Christ Redeemed us from the Law, which was a Curse, not the "Curse" in Deuteronomy 28

Objection: Galatians 3:13's "Curse" Speaks of Spiritual Death, not Sickness or Poverty

Objection: The Curse of the Law Was Given to Israel, not to Us. We Cannot Be Redeemed from It because We Were Never under It.

Curses

Breaking Generational Curses?

Objection: The Earth Is under a Curse Because of Adam, So Sickness Will Continue until Jesus Returns

Daniel

Daniel 1:20

Daniel 3:14-18

Daniel 5:23

Daniel 8:16-18

Daniel 8:27

Daniel 10:7-11

Daniel 10:12-13

Daniel 10:15-17

Daniel 10:17-19

Daniel 10:20

Daniel 12:4

Daniel Fasts

The Kingdom of God is Here NOW

David

Healing and Music

Objection: You Can't Say that God Never Puts Sickness on the Righteous. He Killed David's Child.

Deafness

Condition: Deafness

Deity

Objection: Jesus Healed and Did Miracles to Prove His Deity

Delirium

What Can You Do for Comatose or Delirious People Who Cannot Believe God for Themselves?

Demon Possession

Condition: Demon Possession

Demons

Casting Out the Spirit of Stupidity

Should We Ask Demons Their Names Before Casting Them Out?

How Can You Tell If Certain Condition Is Demonic?

Is All Sickness Demonic?

Must We Fast and Pray to Make a Certain Demon Leave?

Objection: Demons Were Only a Superstitious Way of Explaining Illness

Long Ago

Denial

What Faith Isn't

Depression

Condition: Depression

Desire

How Much Do You Desire Healing?

Deuteronomy

Deuteronomy 5:9

Deuteronomy 5:10

Deuteronomy 5:16

Deuteronomy 5:33

Deuteronomy 6:2

Deuteronomy 6:7

Deuteronomy 6:9

Deuteronomy 7:12-15

Deuteronomy 9:18

Deuteronomy 9:25

Deuteronomy 11:8-9

Deuteronomy 11:14

Deuteronomy 11:18-21

Deuteronomy 18:10-11

Deuteronomy 21:23

Deuteronomy 22:5

Deuteronomy 24:1-2

Deuteronomy 24:16

Deuteronomy 25:3

Deuteronomy 25:4

Deuteronomy 25:17-18

Deuteronomy 27:26

Deuteronomy 28:4

Deuteronomy 28:15-68

Deuteronomy 29:19-22

Deuteronomy 29:29

Deuteronomy 30:19-20

Deuteronomy 32:39

Deuteronomy 33:27

Deuteronomy 34:7

Devil

Can Satan Heal?

How Can I Know that It's God and Not the Devil Doing the Healing?

How to Deal with the Devil

How NOT to Deal with the Devil

Who or What Causes Sickness?

Diarrhea

Condition: Diarrhea

Discussions about Healing

Discussions about Healing

Disobedience

God's Promises Have Conditions

Mistake: Disobedience

Objection: Jonah Was Brought to the Point of Death So that He Would Learn Obedience

Dispensations

Objection: God Does Great Miracles Only During Crucial Times in History

Objection: Healing and Miracles Are Not for This Current Dispensation

Doctors

Different Ways to Get Healed

You're Designed to Be Healthy, Not Sick

Do We Need to Know the Specific Condition before We Can Pray for Healing?

Is It a Sin to Go to the Doctor or Take Medicine?

Objection: Sometimes God's Path for Your Healing Is through a Doctor Rather than the Supernatural

Objection: Today Doctors Have Replaced the Ancient Practice of Faith Healing

Doctrine

Where to Get Your Doctrine

Double Portions

Boldness to Minister Healing

Can I Believe for a Double Portion of the Anointing?

Double-mindedness

Mistake: Doublemindedness

Doubt

What Is the Difference Between Unbelief and Doubt?

How Can I Tell if Doubt Is in My Heart or Just in My Head?

Drug Addiction

Can I Get Healed of Alcoholism, Drug Abuse, Pornography and Homosexuality?

Drunkenness

Signs and Wonders!

Dumbness (Inability to Speak)

Condition: Dumbness

Dying

Is It Scriptural to Pray in Agreement with a Suffering Person that He Will Die?

Is There an Appointed Time for Each Person to Die?

Objection: The Doctrine of Faith Healing Sends Many to Early Graves Because They Don't Take Medicine When They Need It

Objection: God Can Lead Others to Salvation through the Pain and Death of a Saint

Objection: If You Could Always Get Healed, You Would Live Forever

Objection: Many Who Are "in Faith" for Their Healing Die Anyway

Objection: God Sometimes Calls a Saint Home Early Because He Knows People Will Get Saved at the Funeral

Early Manuscripts

Objection: Mark 16:9-20 Was Not in Some Early Manuscripts

Ecclesiastes

Ecclesiastes 3:1

Ecclesiastes 3:2

Ecclesiastes 5:12

Ecclesiastes 5:13-17

Ecclesiastes 7:14

Ecclesiastes 7:17

Ecclesiastes 7:19

Ecclesiastes 8:4

Ecclesiastes 12:1

Ekklesia

Objection: James' Command Was for the Dispersed Jews, Not All Christians throughout Time

Elders

I Have a Headache. Therefore, I Am Sick. Should I Call for the Elders of the Church, as James 5 Says?
What Every Elder Is Commanded to Believe

Elisha

Can I Get a Certain Minister's Anointing for My Own Ministry?
If the Anointing on Elisha's Bones Was Strong Enough to Raise a Dead Man, Why Wasn't It Strong Enough to Heal Him of His Own Fatal Illness?
Objection: Elisha Did Miracles, Yet Died of an Illness

End Times

Healing and the Last Days

Endurance

Objection: God Gets Glory from Our Patient Endurance of Sickness

Envy

Mistake: Envy

Epaphroditus

Condition: Exhaustion
I'm Aching All Over because I Overexerted Myself While Out of Shape. Can I Claim Healing?
Objection: Epaphroditus Worked Closely with Paul, Yet Was Sick unto Death

Ephesians

Ephesians 1:1
Ephesians 1:3
Ephesians 1:4
Ephesians 1:6
Ephesians 1:7
Ephesians 1:11
Ephesians 1:13
Ephesians 1:15-23
Ephesians 2:1
Ephesians 2:2
Ephesians 2:3
Ephesians 2:5
Ephesians 2:6

Ephesians 2:8-9
Ephesians 2:10
Ephesians 2:11-18
Ephesians 2:19
Ephesians 2:20-21
Ephesians 3:6
Ephesians 3:10
Ephesians 3:12
Ephesians 3:14-19
Ephesians 3:20
Ephesians 4:3
Ephesians 4:5
Ephesians 4:6
Ephesians 4:7
Ephesians 4:8
Ephesians 4:9-10
Ephesians 4:11-16
Ephesians 4:15
Ephesians 4:19
Ephesians 4:24
Ephesians 4:25
Ephesians 4:27
Ephesians 4:28
Ephesians 4:29
Ephesians 4:30
Ephesians 4:31
Ephesians 4:32
Ephesians 5:1
Ephesians 5:3
Ephesians 5:4
Ephesians 5:5-7
Ephesians 5:8
Ephesians 5:18
Ephesians 5:19-21
Ephesians 5:23
Ephesians 5:25-27
Ephesians 5:28-32
Ephesians 6:1-3

Ephesians 6:4

Ephesians 6:8

Ephesians 6:9

Ephesians 6:10-18

Ephesians 6:18-19

Ephesians 6:23

Evangelism

Healing and Evangelism

It Might Only Take One

Evangelists

To What Extent Are Prolific Miracles Limited to Those Called to the Ministry?

Evil

Objection: God Creates Evil \(Isaiah 45:7\), Kills, and Wounds \(Deuteronomy 32:39\)

Exercise

Bodily Exercise Profiteth Little

Exhaustion

Condition: Exhaustion

Objection: Epaphroditus Worked Closely with Paul, Yet Was Sick unto Death

Exodus

Exodus 1:17

Exodus 1:19

Exodus 4:6-7

Exodus 4:10-12

Exodus 6:18

Exodus 6:20

Exodus 7:10-12

Exodus 8:6

Exodus 8:16-17

Exodus 8:24

Exodus 9:3-6

Exodus 9:8-11

Exodus 10:13

Exodus 12:7

Exodus 12:9

Exodus 12:12-13

Exodus 12:23

Exodus 15:2

Exodus 15:23-25

Exodus 15:25-26

Exodus 20:12

Exodus 21:19

Exodus 23:25-26

Exodus 30:11-16

Exodus 32:35

Exodus 33:18-19

Exodus 34:5-7

Ezekiel

Ezekiel 1:28-2:2

Ezekiel 3:23-24

Ezekiel 11:19-20

Ezekiel 18:19-20

Ezekiel 34:1-4

Ezekiel 34:16

Ezekiel 36:26-27

Ezekiel 43:3

Ezekiel 47:1-12

Ezra

Ezra 7:28

Faith

According to YOUR FAITH Be It Done unto You!

Believing in God vs. Believing God

Can I Believe and Receive a Healing for Someone Else?

Do You Really Believe in Healing?

Faith in the Word and the Spirit of Faith

Healing Does Not Require Great Faith

How Long Does It Take to Build Faith for Healing that Works?

How to Build Your Faith

How to Tell If You're in Faith or Not

I Prayed in Faith – Now What?

What Faith Is

What Faith Isn't

You Have Faith

Objection: If We Have This Faith and Authority, We Should Go Empty Hospitals

Objection: Faith Is a Gift from God, Not Something You Work Up Yourself

Objection: Faith Is Simply Trust in God, Not a Force that You Use to Change Things Yourself

Objection: Getting “Healed by Faith” Is Too Difficult

Objection: Greats of Faith Were Stoned, Sawn Asunder, Slain, Destitute, Afflicted and Tormented. Therefore, We Can Be Too, Even If We Have Great Faith Like Theirs.

Objection: Hebrews 11:39 Proves that You Can Have Faith and NOT Receive the Promises

Objection: I Tried That Faith Stuff, and It Didn’t Work

Objection: Preaching Divine Healing Shipwrecks the Faith of Many

Objection: This Teaching Encourages People to Have Faith in Their Faith instead of Faith in God, and Is Therefore Cultish

Objection: To Say That You Received Your Healing by Your Faith Glorifies You Instead of God

Objection: We Should Use Our Faith for Souls Rather than Selfishly Seeking Our Own Healing

Falling Over

Why Do People Fall Over in Healing Lines?

If I Fall over, Should I Try to Get up as Soon as Possible?

Should I Expect to Fall Over or Resist Falling Over When I Am Prayed Over?

Objection: I’ve Seen “Healing Ministers” Push People Down and It Was No More God than It Was Santa Claus

Fasting

The Kingdom of God is Here NOW

Repentance from Dead Works

Must We Fast and Pray to Make Certain Demons Leave?

Favoritism

If God Is Really No Respector of Persons, Why Do Only Some Get Healed by the Gifts of the Spirit in Services?

Objection: God Can and Did “Play Favorites” with Healing; Jesus Was Only Sent to the Jews, and Gentiles Were Excluded from God’s Healing Covenant

Fear

Dealing with Fear

Set Free from Fear of Punishment

Perfectionism and the Fear of Making Mistakes

Objection: Job Was a Godly Man, Yet God Let Him Get Sick

Fear Theory

Job Explained

Female-Specific Illnesses

Objection: Jesus Could Not Have Borne Female-Specific Illnesses in His Own Body on the Cross

Fever

Condition: Fever

Figs

Objection: God Told Hezekiah to Use Medicine \(a Poultice of Figs\)

Flags

Does Having Worship Leaders Wave Green Flags Help People Get Healed?

Flu

Why Are So Few People Healed of the Common Cold and the Flu?
Should Christians Get Flu Shots?

Foot Trouble

Condition: Foot Trouble

Formulas

Healing is Not a Formula
lanity

Fornication

Objection: 1 Corinthians 6:19-20 Is about Avoiding Fornication and Should Not Be Used As a Healing Proof-Text

Galatia

Objection: We Know that God Did Not Heal Paul, Because He Said that He Bore Marks in His Body \(Gal 6:17\)
Objection: God Wouldn't Heal Paul's thorn in the Flesh
Objection: Paul First Preached at Galatia Due to a Physical Infirmary

Galatians

Galatians 1:1
Galatians 1:4
Galatians 2:11-14
Galatians 2:16
Galatians 2:19
Galatians 2:20
Galatians 3:2
Galatians 3:5-6
Galatians 3:7-9
Galatians 3:10-14

Galatians 3:16
Galatians 3:22
Galatians 3:24
Galatians 3:27
Galatians 3:28
Galatians 3:29
Galatians 4:6
Galatians 4:7
Galatians 4:13-15
Galatians 4:19
Galatians 4:27
Galatians 5:1
Galatians 5:2
Galatians 5:4
Galatians 5:13
Galatians 5:15
Galatians 5:16
Galatians 5:19-21
Galatians 5:22-23
Galatians 5:24
Galatians 5:25
Galatians 6:1
Galatians 6:2
Galatians 6:7-9
Galatians 6:11
Galatians 6:14
Galatians 6:15
Galatians 6:17

Gap Theory

Where Did Demons Come From?

Generals

The Kingdom of God is Here NOW

Generational Curses

Breaking Generational Curses?

Paper Roadblocks to Healing

Genesis

Genesis 1:1

Genesis 1:2

Genesis 1:26-28
Genesis 1:31
Genesis 2:7
Genesis 2:21
Genesis 3:5
Genesis 3:16-19
Genesis 4:10
Genesis 5:29
Genesis 5:32
Genesis 6:2
Genesis 6:3
Genesis 6:5
Genesis 6:8
Genesis 7:6
Genesis 9:1
Genesis 9:28
Genesis 11:6
Genesis 12:3
Genesis 12:12-13
Genesis 15:4
Genesis 15:12-13
Genesis 15:13-16
Genesis 16:2
Genesis 17:1
Genesis 17:5
Genesis 18:14
Genesis 18:23-32
Genesis 19:9
Genesis 19:10-11
Genesis 19:22
Genesis 20:17-18
Genesis 21:1-2
Genesis 21:17
Genesis 25:1-2
Genesis 25:7-8
Genesis 25:17
Genesis 25:21
Genesis 26:34-35

Genesis 28:3

Genesis 28:22

Genesis 30:22-23

Genesis 32:24-28

Genesis 35:11

Genesis 35:28-29

Genesis 38:7

Genesis 38:10

Genesis 46:13

Genesis 47:28

Genesis 49:33

Germ

I Have a Cold. Should I Stay Home from Church?

I Have an Engagement to Preach Healing, but I'm Really Sick Myself!

What Should I Do?

Objection: Disease Viruses Are Part of God's Creation and Are Therefore Good, Even Though We Often Don't Think So When We Catch Them

Gesenius' Hebrew-Chaldee Lexicon of the Old Testament

Objection: Gesenius' Hebrew-Chaldee Lexicon of the Old Testament Says that "Healed" in Isaiah 53:5 Means "Pardoned"

Gift of Faith

What Are the Differences Between the Gift of Faith, the Gifts of Healings, and the Working of Miracles?

Objection: Only Some People Have the "Gift of Faith" to Believe for Healing

Gifts

Healing – a Gift from God

Would You Rebuke a Christmas Present?

Objection: Faith Is a Gift from God, Not Something You Work Up Yourself

Gifts of Healings

Different Ways to Get Healed

What Are the Differences between the Gift of Faith, the Gifts of Healings, and the Working of Miracles?

Objection: If We Really Had Authority over Sickness, We Would Not Need GIFTS OF HEALING

Objection: Only Some Receive GIFTS OF HEALING; This Proves that Healing is a Gift Bestowed as God Wills

Giving

Healing and Giving

Can I “Plant a Seed” toward My Healing by Giving to a Minister Who Sends a Letter Begging for Money?

Glasses

Objection: Our Bodies Wear Out. Even Some Healing Ministers Wear Glasses!

Glory

Different Ways to Get Healed

Healing and God’s Glory

Gluttony

I’m Sick Because I’m Fat! Can I Claim Healing?

God’s Ability

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

God’s Will

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

How to See God’s Will Concerning Healing

If God Wants People Healed, Why Doesn’t He Heal Them?

Objection: It’s up to God – God Will Heal Me If He Wants to

Objection: Before We Pray for a Healing in Faith, We Must Pray to See If It Is God’s Will in This Case

Objection: James Said to Say, “If the Lord Will, We Shall Live.” This Proves that We Cannot Claim Long Life

Objection: We Should Pray, “If It Be Thy Will” Concerning Our Healing

Good Things

Healing Is a Good Thing

Gradual Healing

Can I Believe God for a Gradual Healing?

Grave Sucking

Can I Get a Certain Minister’s Anointing for My Own Ministry?

Gray Hair

Can I Believe for Gray Hair to Go Back to Its Normal Color?

Great Commission

Objection: Laying Hands on the Sick Is Not Part of the Great Commission

Greetings

Objection: 3 John 2 Is a Greeting and Cannot Be Claimed as a Promise

Griefs

Objection: Jesus Bore Our Sorrows and Griefs, Not Our Sicknesses and Pains, on the Cross

Groaning

Objection: Groaning As Our Outward Man Perishes Is Part of This Life \(2 Corinthians 4:16-5:4\)

Habakkuk

Habakkuk 2:4

Habakkuk 2:14

Habakkuk 3:19

Haggai

Haggai 2:7

Haggai 2:9

Hannah

Why Does 1 Samuel 1 Say Twice that THE LORD Had Shut Up Hannah's Womb?

Haunted Houses

Can I Cast a Demon out of a "Haunted" Location?

Headaches

I Have a Headache. Therefore, I Am Sick. Should I Call for the Elders of the Church, As James 5 Says?

Healing Cards

Why Do Some Ministers Allow Only People with "Healing Cards" to Get into a Healing Line?

Healing Lines

All About Healing Services

Beware: Wrong Motives for Getting into Healing Lines

I Believe I Received My Healing When I Prayed, But My Body Doesn't Act Like It. They Called a Healing Line. Should I Get into It or Not?

If I Fall over, Should I Try to Get up as Soon as Possible?

Is It Right to Get into a Second Healing Line for the Same Condition?

Should I Expect to Fall Over or Resist Falling Over when I Am Prayed Over?

The Minister Called Out a Condition that Almost Fit Me – Should I Go Up for Prayer?

The Minister Called Out My Condition But Someone Else Already Went Up for It. Should I Stay in My Seat?

What Do You Do if You're Ministering and There Are "Brick-Heads" Who Won't Receive the Anointing When You Lay Hands on Them?

Healing Ministers

Objection: "Faith Healers" Call Attention to Man and Thus Rob the Lord of Due Glory

Objection: I've Seen "Healing Ministers" Push People Down and It Was No More God than It Was Santa Claus

Objection: Our Bodies Wear Out. Even Some Healing Ministers Wear Glasses!

Objection: Some Healing Ministers and Their Families Have Gotten Sick

Objection: Some Who Get Healed at Healing Crusades Don't Keep Their Healings

Healing Scriptures

New Testament Scriptures about Healing

Old Testament Scriptures about Healing

Other Annotated Scriptures

Other Scriptures Referenced in Articles

Healing Services

All About Healing Services

Do I Have to Wait for a Healing Service to Receive a Healing?

Massive Healing Crusades: The Will of God!

Objection: God Only Heals Some at Healing Crusades, Thus Proving It Is Not His Will to Heal All

Objection: I've Seen "Healing Ministers" Push People Down and It Was No More God than It Was Santa Claus

Objection: Some Who Get Healed at Healing Crusades Don't Keep Their Healings

Strange Ways to Get Healed

Healing Shrines

Should a Christian Go to a Healing Shrine?

Health

What's Better than Healing? Health!

Hebrew Verbs

Why Does Exodus 15:25-26 Talk about God Putting Diseases on People?

Hebrews

Hebrews 1:3

Hebrews 1:9

Hebrews 1:13-14

Hebrews 2:1-3

Hebrews 2:3-4

Hebrews 2:9

Hebrews 2:10

Hebrews 2:11

Hebrews 2:14-15

Hebrews 2:16-17

Hebrews 3:1

Hebrews 3:6

Hebrews 3:8

Hebrews 3:12-14

Hebrews 3:19

Hebrews 4:2

Hebrews 4:3

Hebrews 4:6

Hebrews 4:11

Hebrews 4:12

Hebrews 4:15

Hebrews 4:16

Hebrews 5:1

Hebrews 5:14

Hebrews 6:1-2

Hebrews 6:4-6

Hebrews 6:11-12

Hebrews 6:18

Hebrews 7:19

Hebrews 7:22

Hebrews 7:25

Hebrews 8:6

Hebrews 8:10

Hebrews 8:12

Hebrews 9:12

Hebrews 9:14

Hebrews 9:16

Hebrews 9:22

Hebrews 9:25-28

Hebrews 10:1-4

Hebrews 10:6

Hebrews 10:8

Hebrews 10:10-14

Hebrews 10:16

Hebrews 10:17-18

Hebrews 10:19

Hebrews 10:21

Hebrews 10:22
Hebrews 10:25
Hebrews 10:26
Hebrews 10:29
Hebrews 10:30
Hebrews 10:32-33
Hebrews 10:35-36
Hebrews 10:38-39
Hebrews 11:1
Hebrews 11:3
Hebrews 11:6
Hebrews 11:7
Hebrews 11:11
Hebrews 11:13
Hebrews 11:28
Hebrews 11:32-40
Hebrews 12:2
Hebrews 12:5-13
Hebrews 12:15-16
Hebrews 12:24
Hebrews 13:4
Hebrews 13:5
Hebrews 13:6
Hebrews 13:8

Hemorrhaging

Condition: Hemorrhaging

Herod

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

Hexes

Paper Roadblocks to Healing

Hezekiah

Objection: God Told Hezekiah to Use Medicine \(a Poultice of Figs\)

Holiness

You are Holy and Worthy to Receive Healing

Holy of Holies

Free Access to the Throne!

Holy Spirit

Healing and the Holy Spirit

How to Be Baptized with the Holy Spirit

Objection: We Cannot Heal as Jesus Did Because He Had the Spirit without Measure, While We Have the Spirit Given by Measure

Homosexuality

Can I Get Healed of Alcoholism, Drug Abuse, Pornography and Homosexuality?

Notes on Matthew 8:5-13

Hopelessness

Is Your Situation Hopeless?

Hosea

Hosea 4:6

Hosea 6:1

Hosea 6:6

Hosea 10:12

Hosea 11:1

Hosea 11:3-4

Hosea 13:4

Hosea 13:13

Hospitals

Objection: If We Have This Faith and Authority, We Should Go Empty Hospitals

Objection: Sometimes God Wants You to Witness to Someone in the Hospital

Hostage, Holding God

Objection: To Demand that God Use Supernatural instead of Natural Means to Heal

You Is to Hold God Hostage

Household Salvation

God's Blessing on Your Kids

Humility

Objection: God Wouldn't Heal Paul's Thorn in the Flesh

Objection: Sickness, While Unpleasant, Is Used by God to Build Character

If It Be Thy Will

Objection: We Should Pray, "If It Be Thy Will" Concerning Our Healing

Ignorance

Dealing with Two Types of Ignorance

Image of Christ

Conformed to Christ's Image

Improvement

"They Shall Recover" – How Long Should it Take?

What Do I Do if I Don't See Any Improvement after Praying?

Inaction

Mistake: Inaction

Infertility

Condition: Infertility

Inflammation

Condition: Inflammation

Injuries

Can I Get Healed of Injuries from Accidents as Well as Diseases?

Condition: Injuries

Inner Healing

What Is "Inner Healing," and Do I Need It?

Insanity

Condition: Insanity

Insomnia

Condition: Insomnia

Insurance

Because God Says I Am Healed, Can I Assume that I Do Not Need Medical

Insurance?

Intercessors

Preparing to Minister Healing

Isaac

Objection: God Does Not Heal All because He Didn't Heal Isaac or Jacob of Bad

Eyesight

Isaiah

Isaiah 5:14

Isaiah 6:9-10

Isaiah 7:14-16

Isaiah 10:27

Isaiah 11:2

Isaiah 12:2

Isaiah 12:3

Isaiah 13:8

Isaiah 14:9

Isaiah 19:22

Isaiah 21:3

Isaiah 25:4

Isaiah 29:18

Isaiah 30:15

Isaiah 33:24

Isaiah 35:3-6

Isaiah 38:1-39:1

Isaiah 40:5

Isaiah 40:29-31

Isaiah 41:1

Isaiah 41:10

Isaiah 41:13

Isaiah 42:5

Isaiah 43:3

Isaiah 43:5

Isaiah 43:11

Isaiah 43:19-20

Isaiah 44:12

Isaiah 45:7

Isaiah 45:11

Isaiah 45:15

Isaiah 45:18

Isaiah 45:21

Isaiah 45:24

Isaiah 49:5

Isaiah 49:26

Isaiah 51:9

Isaiah 52:1

Isaiah 52:14

Isaiah 53

Isaiah 54:14

Isaiah 55:10-11

Isaiah 57:15

Isaiah 57:16-19

Isaiah 58:3-5

Isaiah 58:6-11

Isaiah 59:2

Isaiah 59:19

Isaiah 60:1-3

Isaiah 60:16

Isaiah 61:1-3

Isaiah 63:8

Isaiah 65:22

Itching

Condition: Itching

Jacob

Objection: God Afflicted Jacob with a Hip Problem \(Genesis 32:25, 31\)

Objection: God Does Not Heal All because He Didn't Heal Isaac or Jacob of Bad Eyesight

James

James 1:2-4

James 1:5-8

James 1:13

James 1:15

James 1:17

James 1:22

James 2:1-9

James 2:10

James 2:12-13

James 2:14-26

James 3:2-6

James 3:8

James 3:10

James 3:16

James 4:2

James 4:4

James 4:6

James 4:7

James 4:8

James 4:10

James 4:13-16

James 4:17

James 5:1-6

James 5:7

James 5:11

James 5:14-16

James 5:19-20

Jealousy

Mistake: Envy

Jeremiah

Jeremiah 1:12

Jeremiah 3:3

Jeremiah 4:3

Jeremiah 4:22

Jeremiah 4:23-26

Jeremiah 4:27-29

Jeremiah 6:24

Jeremiah 8:22

Jeremiah 14:8

Jeremiah 16:19

Jeremiah 17:9

Jeremiah 17:14

Jeremiah 22:23

Jeremiah 22:28

Jeremiah 29:11

Jeremiah 30:17

Jeremiah 31:26

Jeremiah 31:29-30

Jeremiah 32:17

Jeremiah 32:27

Jeremiah 33:3

Jeremiah 33:6-8

Jeremiah 49:24

Jeremiah 50:13

Jeremiah 50:43

Jews

Objection: God's Healing Covenant in the Law of Moses Was Only for the

Jews

Objection: James's Command Was for the Dispersed Jews, Not All Christians throughout Time

Objection: The Curse of the Law Was Given to Israel, Not to Us. We Cannot Be Redeemed from It because We Were Never under It.

Jezebel

Sickness As Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

Job

Job 1:1

Job 1:5

Job 1:6-12
Job 1:16
Job 1:20-22
Job 2:1-6
Job 2:4-7
Job 2:9-10
Job 3:25-26
Job 4:14
Job 5:17
Job 5:26
Job 7:3
Job 7:4
Job 7:5
Job 7:14
Job 9:17
Job 9:18
Job 9:32-35
Job 10:10-11
Job 12:10
Job 13:14
Job 16:7
Job 16:8
Job 16:13
Job 16:21
Job 17:1
Job 17:7
Job 18:12-13
Job 19:17
Job 19:20
Job 19:25
Job 19:26
Job 21:6
Job 22:21-28
Job 23:16
Job 27:2
Job 28:28
Job 29:23
Job 30:17

Job 30:18

Job 30:27

Job 30:30

Job 31:1

Job 31:21-22

Job 32:2-5

Job 32:4-6

Job 32:15-17

Job 33:19-25

Job 34:14-15

Job 36:11

Job 38:2

Job 40:1-4

Job 42:3

Job 42:6

Job 42:7-11

Job 42:16-17

Objection: Job Was a Godly Man, Yet God Let Him Get Sick

Joel

Joel 2:1-11

Joel 2:17

Joel 2:23

Joel 2:24-29

Joel 3:10

Joel 3:16

John

John 1:1-2

John 1:12

John 1:14

John 1:15

John 1:17

John 1:27

John 1:29

John 1:30

John 1:33-34

John 2:1-11

John 3:3-7

John 3:14

John 3:16-18

John 3:34

John 3:36

John 4:6

John 4:10

John 4:25-26

John 4:28-30

John 4:46-53

John 5:2-19

John 5:19-20

John 5:24

John 5:36

John 6:2

John 6:21

John 6:28-29

John 6:30-31

John 6:35

John 6:37

John 6:38

John 6:54-56

John 6:66-67

John 7:18

John 7:24

John 7:37-39

John 8:10-11

John 8:12

John 8:19

John 8:29

John 8:32

John 8:36

John 8:44

John 8:50

John 8:51

John 8:58

John 9:1-7

John 9:35-38

John 10:10

John 10:11

John 10:25
John 10:27
John 10:28-29
John 10:30
John 10:37-38
John 11:1-44
John 12:10-11
John 12:31
John 12:32-33
John 12:39-41
John 12:42-43
John 12:45
John 12:46
John 13:27
John 14:2
John 14:6
John 14:7
John 14:9
John 14:10-11
John 14:12-14
John 14:16
John 14:17
John 14:20
John 14:23
John 14:26
John 14:27
John 15:2-3
John 15:5
John 15:6
John 15:7-8
John 15:9
John 15:14
John 15:16
John 15:24
John 15:26
John 16:7
John 16:8-9
John 16:12-13

John 16:14-15

John 16:21

John 16:23-27

John 16:33

John 17:4

John 17:5

John 17:14-16

John 17:22

John 17:23

John 18:4-6

John 19:17

John 19:28

John 19:30

John 19:34

John 19:36

John 20:17

John 20:22

John 20:23

John 20:27

John 21:5-6

John 21:18-23

John 21:25

Jonah

Jonah 3:4

Jonah 3:5

Jonah 3:10

Objection: Jonah Was Brought to the Point of Death So That He Would Learn

Obedience

Joshua

Joshua 1:7-8

Joshua 4:23-24

Joshua 5:6

Joshua 6:2

Joshua 6:16

Joshua 14:10-12

Joshua 22:17

Joshua 23:13

Jubilee, Year of

The Acceptable Year of the Lord

Jude

Jude 6

Jude 7

Jude 8-9

Jude 20

Jude 22-23

Jude 25

Judges

Judges 2:3

Judges 13:2-3,24

Judgment

Sickness As Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

Sickness As Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

Keys

We Hold the Keys

Labor Pains

Are Women Redeemed from Labor Pains?

Lameness

Condition: Lameness

Lamentations

Lamentations 3:22-23

Lamentations 3:38-39

Lamentations 5:16-17

Last Days

Healing and the Last Days

Latter Rain

Healing and the Last Days

Law of Moses

Objection: God's Healing Covenant in the Law of Moses Was Only for the Jews

Laying on of Hands

Laying Hands on the Sick

Different Ways to Get Healed

Can I Lay Hands on Myself for my Own Healing?

How Long Should We Keep Our Hands on Someone When We Lay Hands on Him?

I Felt Fine before I Laid Hands on a Bunch of People at a Service. Why Do I Feel Sick Now?

Must We Lay Hands on the Specific Afflicted Body Part?

Should We Wait until We Sense the Anointing to Lay Hands on the Sick?

Who Can Lay Hands on the Sick in Mark 16, Apostles or All Believers?

Why Did Paul Tell Timothy Not to Lay Hands Suddenly on Anyone?

Objection: Laying Hands on the Sick Is Not Part of the Great Commission

Lazarus

Objection: Lazarus Was Sick for the Glory of God \(John 11:4\)

Laziness

Mistake: Spiritual Laziness

Leprosy

Condition: Leprosy

Leviticus

Leviticus 9:24

Leviticus 10:1-2

Leviticus 14:1-32

Leviticus 15:13-15

Leviticus 18:22

Leviticus 20:13

Leviticus 20:20-21

Leviticus 21:16-23

Leviticus 25:8-13

Leviticus 26:14-39

Leviticus 26:41

Liar Theory

Job Explained

Lice

Condition: Lice

Lifespan

How Many Years Should We Expect to Live?

Is There an Appointed Time for Each Person to Die?

Objection: Long Life Is Not a New Testament Blessing

Livestock

Will God Heal My Pets or Livestock?

Lobster

Are Old Testament Dietary Laws God's Prescription for Good Health Today?

Long Life

How Many Years Should We Expect to Live?

Is There an Appointed Time for Each person to Die?

Objection: If You Could Always Get Healed, You Would Live Forever

Objection: Long Life Is Not a New Testament Blessing

Longsuffering

Objection: Sickness, While Unpleasant, Is Used by God to Build Character

Lord's Supper

Healing and the Lord's Supper

Love

Sickness As Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

Objection: Sickness, While Unpleasant, Is Used by God to Build Character

Luke

Luke 1:7

Luke 1:13

Luke 1:15

Luke 1:18-20

Luke 1:30

Luke 1:36-37

Luke 1:41-45

Luke 1:47

Luke 1:67

Luke 2:10

Luke 2:30

Luke 2:40

Luke 2:52

Luke 3:8

Luke 3:16

Luke 4:1

Luke 4:3-12

Luke 4:14

Luke 4:18-19

Luke 4:21

Luke 4:23

Luke 4:27

Luke 4:33-36

Luke 4:38-39

Luke 4:40-41

Luke 4:42-43

Luke 5:4-7

Luke 5:12-15

Luke 5:17-26

Luke 5:31

Luke 5:32

Luke 5:37-38

Luke 6:6-10

Luke 6:12

Luke 6:17-19

Luke 6:37

Luke 6:38

Luke 6:45

Luke 7:2-10

Luke 7:12-16

Luke 7:20-23

Luke 7:28

Luke 7:47-50

Luke 8:2

Luke 8:13

Luke 8:23-25

Luke 8:27-39

Luke 8:41-56

Luke 9:1-2

Luke 9:5

Luke 9:6

Luke 9:11

Luke 9:16-17

Luke 9:23-24

Luke 9:38-42

Luke 9:49-50

Luke 10:1

Luke 10:8-11

Luke 10:17-20

Luke 10:34

Luke 11:9-13

Luke 11:14

Luke 11:16

Luke 11:20

Luke 11:26

Luke 11:29-30

Luke 12:8-9
Luke 12:28
Luke 12:32
Luke 12:48
Luke 13:4
Luke 13:11-16
Luke 14:1-6
Luke 14:11
Luke 14:25-33
Luke 15:11-32
Luke 16:11
Luke 16:23-24
Luke 16:25
Luke 16:27-31
Luke 17:5-6
Luke 17:12-19
Luke 17:20-21
Luke 18:1-8
Luke 18:10-14
Luke 18:15
Luke 18:35-43
Luke 22:19
Luke 22:32
Luke 22:41
Luke 22:43
Luke 22:44
Luke 22:50-51
Luke 23:8-9
Luke 23:26
Luke 23:43
Luke 23:46
Luke 24:30
Luke 24:45-47
Luke 24:49
Luke 24:51

Lust

Can I Get Healed of Alcoholism, Drug Abuse, Pornography and Homosexuality?

Lying

Sickness As Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

Objection: Saying, "I Am Healed" When You Are Actually Sick Is Lying, and Therefore Sin

Malachi

Malachi 3:6

Malachi 3:10-11

Malachi 4:2

Manifestation of Healing

"They Shall Recover" – How Long Should It Take?

How Can I Hasten the Manifestation of My Healing after I Believe I Receive It?

Manifestations of the Spirit

Different Ways to Get Healed

Signs and Wonders!

What are the Differences between the Gift of Faith, the Gifts of Healings, and the Working of Miracles?

Mark

Mark 1:7-8

Mark 1:15

Mark 1:23-26

Mark 1:30-31

Mark 1:32-24

Mark 1:35

Mark 1:39

Mark 1:40-45

Mark 2:2-12

Mark 2:17

Mark 3:1-5

Mark 3:10-12

Mark 3:14-15

Mark 3:27

Mark 4:2-25

Mark 4:35-40

Mark 5:2-20

Mark 5:22-43

Mark 6:1-6

Mark 6:7

Mark 6:11

Mark 6:12-13

Mark 6:31

Mark 6:41-44

Mark 6:54-56

Mark 7:25-30

Mark 7:31

Mark 7:32-37

Mark 8:1-9

Mark 8:22-25

Mark 8:31-33

Mark 8:34-35

Mark 9:1

Mark 9:17-29

Mark 9:38-40

Mark 9:44

Mark 10:13-16

Mark 10:21

Mark 10:27

Mark 10:31

Mark 10:46-52

Mark 11:13-14

Mark 11:20

Mark 11:22

Mark 11:23-24

Mark 11:25

Mark 11:26

Mark 12:25

Mark 12:37

Mark 13:13

Mark 13:22

Mark 13:32

Mark 14:21

Mark 14:33-34

Mark 14:36

Mark 14:61-62

Mark 14:65

Mark 15:21

Mark 15:34

Mark 15:37

Mark 15:38

Mark 15:39

Mark 16:7

Mark 16:14

Mark 16:15-18

Mark 16:19

Mark 16:20

Marks

Objection: We Know that God Did Not Heal Paul, because He Said that He Bore Marks in His Body \(Gal 6:17\)

Martyrdom

Objection: Stephen Was Full of Faith and Power, but Died Anyway

Matching Donation Challenges

Can I "Plant a Seed" toward My Healing by Giving to a Minister Who Sends a Letter Begging for Money?

Matthew

Matthew 1:20-23

Matthew 2:14-15

Matthew 2:16-18

Matthew 2:23

Matthew 3:2

Matthew 3:7

Matthew 3:11

Matthew 4:1-11

Matthew 4:13-17

Matthew 4:23-24

Matthew 5:11-12

Matthew 5:17

Matthew 5:29-30

Matthew 5:44-45

Matthew 6:7

Matthew 6:10

Matthew 6:14-15

Matthew 6:25-34

Matthew 7:1-2

Matthew 7:6

Matthew 7:7-11

Matthew 7:12
Matthew 7:13-14
Matthew 7:20-23
Matthew 7:24-27
Matthew 8:2-4
Matthew 8:5-13
Matthew 8:14-15
Matthew 8:16-17
Matthew 8:18
Matthew 8:19-20
Matthew 8:25
Matthew 8:26
Matthew 8:28-32
Matthew 9:2-8
Matthew 9:12
Matthew 9:13
Matthew 9:18-25
Matthew 9:27-30
Matthew 9:32-33
Matthew 9:35
Matthew 10:1
Matthew 10:7-8
Matthew 10:14
Matthew 10:22
Matthew 10:37-39
Matthew 11:4-5
Matthew 11:11
Matthew 11:12
Matthew 11:20
Matthew 11:30
Matthew 12:7
Matthew 12:10-13
Matthew 12:15-21
Matthew 12:22
Matthew 12:29
Matthew 12:34-35
Matthew 12:37
Matthew 12:38-40

Matthew 12:45
Matthew 13:13-14
Matthew 13:15
Matthew 13:34-35
Matthew 13:54-58
Matthew 14:13-14
Matthew 14:17-21
Matthew 14:28-31
Matthew 14:35-36
Matthew 15:11
Matthew 15:22-28
Matthew 15:30-31
Matthew 15:34-38
Matthew 16:1-4
Matthew 16:6
Matthew 16:8
Matthew 16:12
Matthew 16:16-17
Matthew 16:18
Matthew 16:19
Matthew 16:21-22
Matthew 16:22-23
Matthew 16:24-25
Matthew 16:27
Matthew 17:5-7
Matthew 17:14-21
Matthew 17:24-27
Matthew 18:6
Matthew 19:2
Matthew 19:13-15
Matthew 19:26
Matthew 20:25-28
Matthew 20:30-34
Matthew 21:1-7
Matthew 21:14
Matthew 21:16
Matthew 21:18-22
Matthew 22:30

Matthew 23:12
Matthew 23:23
Matthew 24:7
Matthew 24:9
Matthew 24:10
Matthew 24:11
Matthew 24:12
Matthew 24:13
Matthew 24:14
Matthew 24:20
Matthew 24:24
Matthew 24:36
Matthew 25:1-13
Matthew 25:20-23
Matthew 25:36
Matthew 25:41
Matthew 25:46
Matthew 26:37
Matthew 26:39, 42
Matthew 26:54-56
Matthew 26:67
Matthew 27:7-10
Matthew 27:32
Matthew 27:35
Matthew 27:46
Matthew 27:50
Matthew 27:51
Matthew 27:52-53
Matthew 28:2-4
Matthew 28:5
Matthew 28:17
Matthew 28:18
Matthew 28:20

Medical Help

Different Ways to Get Healed

Medical Insurance

Because God Says I Am Healed, Can I Assume that I Do Not Need Medical Insurance?

Medicine

God's Word Is Medicine

What Faith Isn't

Is It a Sin to Go to the Doctor or Take Medicine?

Should I Throw Away My Medicine Because I Believe I Am Healed?

Objection: The Doctrine of Faith Healing Sends Many to Early Graves because They Don't Take Medicine When They Need It

Objection: Anointing with Oil in James Is Intended to Be Medicinal

Objection: God Told Hezekiah to Use Medicine \(a Poultice of Figs\)

Objection: Sometimes God's Path for Your Healing is through a Doctor Rather Than the Supernatural

Mental Assent

Crossing the Bridge from Head Knowledge to Revelation Knowledge

Mental Illnesses

Are We Redeemed from Mental as Well as Physical Illness?

Condition: Mental Illnesses

Mercy

God's Mercy and Compassion

Meshach

Objection: Rather Than Claiming Healing, We Should Just Have "the Faith of Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-nego"

Messenger

"Messenger" of Satan Defined

Messianic Jews

God Does Not Play Favorites

Methods of Healing

Different Ways to Get Healed

Strange Ways to Get Healed

Metonymies

Objection: Jesus' Bearing of Sicknesses Is Just a Metonymy

Micah

Micah 4:9

Micah 6:12-13

Micah 7:18

Miletum

Objection: Paul Left Trophimus at Miletum Sick Instead of Healing Him

Millennium

Objection: Healing Will Not Be Available UNIVERSALLY until the Millennium

The Powers of the World to Come

Miracles

What Are the Differences between the Gift of Faith, the Gifts of Healings, and the Working of Miracles?

Why Are There More Miracles on the Mission Field Than at Home?

Objection: God Does Great Miracles Only During Crucial Times in History

Objection: Healing and Miracles Are Not for This Current Dispensation

Miscarriages

Condition: Miscarriages

Mission Field

Why Are There More Miracles on the Mission Field Than at Home?

Mistakes

Mistakes to Avoid

Motives

Beware: Wrong Motives for Getting into Healing Lines

Mountains

Speaking to Mountains, Trees and Diseases

Music

Different Ways to Get Healed

Healing and Music

What Kind of Music Should Be Done During Healing Lines?

Mysterious Ways of God (Not!)

Objection: God Works in Mysterious Ways, His Wonders to Perform. We'll Never Know Why He Lets Some People Stay Sick.

Nahum

Nahum 1:2

Name of Jesus

The Power in the Name of Jesus

Names, Asking Demons for

Should We Ask Demons Their Names before Casting Them Out?

Narrator Rule

Job Explained

Native Reconciliation Meetings

The Kingdom of God is Here NOW

Natural Laws

Mistake: Violating Natural Laws

Nazareth

Objection: It's Not Always God's Will to Heal – He Didn't Heal Many at Nazareth

Needs

Objection: God Meets Your Spiritual Needs, Not Your Physical Needs

Nehemiah

Nehemiah 8:10

Nestorianism

Objection: The Council of Constantinople in 553 Said that Anyone Teaching that Jesus Ministered as a Spirit-Anointed Man Must Be Anathema

New Birth

How to be Saved from Your Sins

Objection: By Jesus' Stripes We Were Spiritually, Not Physically, Healed

New Year Prophecies

All About Healing Services

Pros and Cons of Being on TV

Nonviability (Being Dead)

Condition: Nonviability

Novenas

Healing and Dead Works

Numbers

Numbers 8:19

Numbers 11:1-2

Numbers 11:33-34

Numbers 12:1-15

Numbers 14:18

Numbers 14:21

Numbers 14:36-37

Numbers 16:44-50

Numbers 21:5-9

Numbers 23:19

Numbers 23:22

Numbers 23:23

Numbers 24:8

Numbers 25:3-13

Numbers 31:14-16

Numbers 33:39

Numbers 33:55

Nursery

Can I Leave My Sick Child in the Church Nursery Because "By Jesus' Stripes He Was Healed?"

Nursing Homes

Don't Get Sick When You Get Old

Quit Worrying about Your Health!

Obedience

Healing and Obedience

Obesity

I'm Sick Because I'm fat! Can I Claim Healing?

Objections

Objections Overruled!

Occult

Paper Roadblocks to Healing

Oil

Different Ways to Get Healed

Should We Anoint the Sick with Oil When We Lay Hands on Them?

Objection: Anointing with Oil in James Is Intended To Be Medicinal

Old Age

Don't Get Sick When You Get Old

Objection: If You Could Always Get Healed, You Would Live Forever

Opponents of Healing

About Opponents of Divine Healing

Ouija Boards

Deliverance Myths

How Can You Tell if a Certain Condition is Demonic?

Can I Cast a Demon out of a "Haunted" Location?

Overexertion

I'm Aching All Over because I Overexerted Myself While Out of Shape. Can I Claim Healing?

Objection: Epaphroditus Worked Closely with Paul, Yet Was Sick unto

Death

Pain

Objection: God Can Lead Others to Salvation through the Pain and Death of a Saint

Paralysis

Objection: God Could Use So-and-So Powerfully because She Was Paralyzed When She Was Young

Partial Healing

Can I Believe God for a Partial Healing?

Passover

Forgiven People Can Be Healed

Healing and the Blood of Jesus

Patience

Objection: God Gets Glory from Our Patient Endurance of Sickness

Objection: Sickness, While Unpleasant, Is Used by God to Build Character

Paul

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

Objection: We Know that God Did Not Heal Paul, Because He Said That He Bore Marks in his Body \(Galatians 6:17\)

Objection: God Wouldn't Heal Paul's Thorn in the Flesh

Objection: Paul First Preached at Galatia Due to a Physical Infirmary

Objection: Paul Left Trophimus at Miletum Sick Instead of Healing Him

Objection: Paul Told Timothy to Drink Wine Instead of Believing God for Healing

Objection: We Need to Fulfill What Is Left of Christ's Sufferings in the Earth \(Colossians 1:24\)

Objection: We Should, Like Paul, Learn to Be Content in Every Situation

Peace

Peace in a Storm

Pelagianism

Healing is a GIFT \(1 Corinthians 12:28\), Proving that It Is Not Earned by Our Works or Our Faith, Which Would Be Pelagianism

Percentage of N.T. Paul Wrote

Objection: James Said to Say, "If the Lord Will, We Shall Live." This Proves That We Cannot Claim Long Life

Perfection

Healing and Personal Perfection

Perfectionism

Perfectionism and the Fear of Making Mistakes

Pets

Will God Heal My Pets or Livestock?

Pharisees

Beware of Pharisees

Philemon

Philemon 6

Philippians

Philippians 1:4

Philippians 1:6

Philippians 1:7
Philippians 1:15-18
Philippians 1:19
Philippians 1:22-24
Philippians 1:28-30
Philippians 2:5-8
Philippians 2:9-11
Philippians 2:12
Philippians 2:13
Philippians 2:25-30
Philippians 3:3
Philippians 3:8
Philippians 3:9
Philippians 3:10
Philippians 3:13-14
Philippians 3:15
Philippians 3:20-21
Philippians 4:2-3
Philippians 4:4
Philippians 4:6-7
Philippians 4:8
Philippians 4:13
Philippians 4:19

Placebos

Objection: Medical Studies Have Proven that Faith Healing Works by the Placebo Effect

Plagues

Objection: God Clearly SENT Plagues in the Old Testament. We Cannot Say That God Never Makes People Sick, Because He Obviously Did.

Poisoning

Healing and Deliverance from Poisoning

Condition: Poisoning

Pool of Bethesda

Objection: Jesus Did Only What He Saw the Father Do. He Only Saw the Father Heal ONE Person at the Pool of Bethesda.

Objection: Jesus Didn't Heal Everyone in His Earthly Ministry; He Left Many Sick at the Pool of Bethesda

Pop Christianity Books

Objection: God Manifests Himself as HEALER to Some and as COMFORTER to Others

Positive Mental Attitudes

Objection: "Faith Healing" Is Simply Mind over Matter. Unbelievers Can and Do Get Healed Just by Having a Positive Mental Attitude, and It Has Nothing To Do with Jesus.

Poultice

Objection: God Told Hezekiah to Use Medicine \(a Poultice of Figs\)

Power

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

God's Power toward You

Power, Then and Now

The Power in the Name of Jesus

The Powers of the World to Come

Why You Don't Need to Pray the Power Down

Prayer

Different Ways to Get Healed

Healing and Prayer

Ministering to the Sick

Can We Pray and Believe for the Healing Anointing to Manifest?

Do We Need to Know the Specific Condition before We Can Minister Healing?

How Can We See More Miracles Today?

How NOT to Pray for Your Healing

I Prayed in Faith – Now What?

Is It Scriptural to Pray in Agreement with a Suffering Person that He Will Die?

Must We Fast and Pray to Make Certain Demons Leave?

Should I Expect to Fall Over or Resist Falling Over When I Am Prayed Over?

The Minister Called Out a Condition That Almost Fit Me – Should I Go Up for Prayer?

What Do I Do if I Don't See Any Improvement after Praying?

Why Do People Fall Over in Healing Lines?

Why You Might Not Want to Pray To Receive Your Healing Right Away

Objection: Before We Pray for a Healing in Faith, We Must Pray to See If It is God's Will in This Case

Objection: God Only Answers Prayer When You Ask Something That Is His Will

Objection: If God Could Even Refuse to Answer Jesus' Prayer \(Matthew 26:39, 42\), He Can Refuse to Answer Yours

Objection: Jesus Literally Said to "Keep On Asking." Therefore, We Should Bug God Like the Widow in Jesus' Parable.

Objection: Many Do Not Get Healed after Prayer Is Made for Their Healing

Objection: We Should Pray, "If It Be Thy Will" Concerning Our Healing

Preacher Tricks

Why Some People Will Never Get Healed

Priests

Priests Should Not Be Sick, and You're a Priest

Principalities

The Kingdom of God is Here NOW

Prodigal Son

Healing and the Prodigal Son

Prophetic Activation

What Are the Differences Between the Gift of Faith, the Gifts of Healings, and the Working of Miracles?

Prophetic Mandates

The Kingdom of God is Here NOW

Prosperity

Healing and Prosperity

Abraham's Blessing is Yours

Objection: God Creates Both the Day of Prosperity and the Day of Adversity \(Ecclesiastes 7:14\)

Proverbs

Proverbs 1:7

Proverbs 1:33

Proverbs 2:5

Proverbs 3:1-2

Proverbs 3:5

Proverbs 3:7-8

Proverbs 3:16

Proverbs 3:21-24

Proverbs 3:25-26

Proverbs 4:10

Proverbs 4:20-22

Proverbs 5:8-11

Proverbs 6:32-33

Proverbs 7:22-23, 26

Proverbs 8:14

Proverbs 9:10

Proverbs 9:11

Proverbs 10:7

Proverbs 10:22
Proverbs 10:24
Proverbs 10:27
Proverbs 10:29
Proverbs 11:1
Proverbs 11:17
Proverbs 12:6
Proverbs 12:18
Proverbs 13:3
Proverbs 13:20
Proverbs 13:22
Proverbs 14:23
Proverbs 14:30
Proverbs 15:1
Proverbs 15:24
Proverbs 15:33
Proverbs 16:6
Proverbs 16:15
Proverbs 16:18
Proverbs 16:24
Proverbs 16:31
Proverbs 17:22
Proverbs 18:12
Proverbs 18:14
Proverbs 18:21
Proverbs 19:16
Proverbs 19:23
Proverbs 22:4
Proverbs 23:7
Proverbs 24:5
Proverbs 25:16
Proverbs 25:19
Proverbs 26:2
Proverbs 28:1
Proverbs 26:9
Proverbs 29:25
Proverbs 30:15-16
Proverbs 31:30

Proxy, Standing In

Can I "Stand in Proxy" for Someone Else in a Healing Line?

Psalms

Psalm 1:1-3

Psalm 3:7

Psalm 5:12

Psalm 8:2

Psalm 8:4-5

Psalm 14:1

Psalm 16:10

Psalm 18:1-2

Psalm 18:29

Psalm 18:32-33

Psalm 19:14

Psalm 20:1-2

Psalm 21:1

Psalm 21:4

Psalm 22:14

Psalm 22:19

Psalm 22:23-24

Psalm 23

Psalm 25:10

Psalm 27:1

Psalm 27:13-14

Psalm 28:7-8

Psalm 29:11

Psalm 30:2-3

Psalm 31:4

Psalm 31:10

Psalm 31:24

Psalm 34:8

Psalm 34:11-14

Psalm 34:17-20

Psalm 35:27

Psalm 37:25

Psalm 37:34

Psalm 37:39

Psalm 38:3-18

Psalm 39:11

Psalm 41:1-3

Psalm 41:4

Psalm 42:5-6

Psalm 42:11

Psalm 43:2

Psalm 43:5

Psalm 46:1-2

Psalm 46:4-5

Psalm 48:6

Psalm 50:10

Psalm 50:15

Psalm 51:11

Psalm 52:6-7

Psalm 53:1

Psalm 55:23

Psalm 58:6

Psalm 59:17

Psalm 61:6

Psalm 62:7

Psalm 62:8

Psalm 63:9

Psalm 66:18

Psalm 67:1-2

Psalm 68:11

Psalm 68:28

Psalm 68:35

Psalm 69:23

Psalm 71:16

Psalm 72:19

Psalm 73:26

Psalm 77:3

Psalm 78:41

Psalm 78:49-51

Psalm 81:1

Psalm 82:6

Psalm 84:5- 7

Psalm 84:11

Psalm 89:20-23

Psalm 89:34

Psalm 90:10

Psalm 91

Psalm 92:13-14

Psalm 94:1

Psalm 100:4

Psalm 101:3

Psalm 102:3

Psalm 102:4

Psalm 102:5

Psalm 102:10

Psalm 103:1-5

Psalm 103:19

Psalm 103:20

Psalm 104:29

Psalm 105:4

Psalm 105:15

Psalm 105:31

Psalm 105:37

Psalm 106:21

Psalm 106:28-30

Psalm 107:1-2

Psalm 107:17-20

Psalm 111:10

Psalm 112:1-2

Psalm 113:9

Psalm 115:3

Psalm 115:16

Psalm 118:14

Psalm 118:17

Psalm 118:18

Psalm 119:28

Psalm 119:72

Psalm 119:89

Psalm 119:126

Psalm 126:1-2

Psalm 127:1

Psalm 127:2

Psalm 127:3-5

Psalm 128:3-4

Psalm 136

Psalm 138:2

Psalm 138:3

Psalm 138:8

Psalm 144:1

Psalm 145:8-9

Psalm 145:14

Psalm 145:19-20

Psalm 146:8

Psalm 147:3

Psalm 147:15

Psychosomatic Ailments

Objection: Some People Have Been “Healed” in Crusades of Illnesses that Were Purely Psychosomatic Anyway

Pushing

Objection: I’ve Seen “Healing Ministers” Push People Down and It Was No More God than It Was Santa Claus

Questions

Questions Answered

Quickening

Quickened by the Holy Spirit

Rain

Healing and the Last Days

Objection: It Rains on the Just as Well as the Unjust \(Matthew 5:45\)

Raising the Dead

Can We Believe for a Dead Person to be Raised?

Recovery

“They Shall Recover” – How Long Should It Take?

Redemption

Who You Are and What You Have

Isaiah’s Prophecy of Redemption

Objection: Jesus Redeemed Us from Disease, But the Fulfillment of That Won’t Come until We Get Glorified Bodies

Objection: Our Bodies Are Not Yet Redeemed, So We Are Still Subject to Sickness

Repentance

Healing and Repentance

Resurrection

Objection: Romans 8:11 Refers to the Resurrection, Not This Life

Revelation

Revelation 1:6

Revelation 1:17

Revelation 1:18

Revelation 1:20

Revelation 2:1

Revelation 2:5

Revelation 2:7

Revelation 2:10

Revelation 2:13

Revelation 2:16

Revelation 2:17

Revelation 2:20-23

Revelation 2:25

Revelation 2:26

Revelation 3:3

Revelation 3:5

Revelation 3:12

Revelation 3:16

Revelation 3:19

Revelation 3:21

Revelation 5:10

Revelation 9:3-6

Revelation 9:20

Revelation 9:21

Revelation 11:9-11

Revelation 12:2

Revelation 12:10

Revelation 12:11

Revelation 13:8

Revelation 13:13-14

Revelation 14:14

Revelation 16:1-2

Revelation 16:10-11

Revelation 17:9
Revelation 18:2
Revelation 18:23
Revelation 19:6
Revelation 19:10
Revelation 19:15
Revelation 20:10
Revelation 20:14-15
Revelation 21:1-3
Revelation 21:4
Revelation 21:14
Revelation 22:2-3
Revelation 22:19

Revival

The Kingdom of God is Here NOW

Righteousness

You are Holy and Worthy to Receive Healing

Ruined Righteousness

Romans

Romans 1:1
Romans 1:4
Romans 1:16
Romans 1:17
Romans 1:18-24
Romans 1:26-27
Romans 2:4
Romans 2:5
Romans 2:11
Romans 3:1-3
Romans 3:3-4
Romans 3:8
Romans 3:18
Romans 3:22
Romans 3:23
Romans 3:24
Romans 3:25
Romans 3:26
Romans 4:3

Romans 4:5

Romans 4:11

Romans 4:16-21

Romans 5:1

Romans 5:2

Romans 5:3-4

Romans 5:5

Romans 5:8-9

Romans 5:10

Romans 5:12

Romans 5:13

Romans 5:17

Romans 5:19

Romans 5:20

Romans 5:21

Romans 6:1-14

Romans 6:15

Romans 6:18

Romans 6:23

Romans 7:2

Romans 7:4

Romans 7:5

Romans 7:6

Romans 7:9

Romans 7:12

Romans 7:16

Romans 8:1

Romans 8:2

Romans 8:3-4

Romans 8:6

Romans 8:7

Romans 8:8

Romans 8:9

Romans 8:10-13

Romans 8:15

Romans 8:16

Romans 8:17

Romans 8:18

Romans 8:21
Romans 8:22-26
Romans 8:29
Romans 8:30
Romans 8:31
Romans 8:32
Romans 8:35
Romans 8:37
Romans 9:2
Romans 9:15
Romans 9:30
Romans 9:33
Romans 10:1
Romans 10:6-7
Romans 10:8
Romans 10:9-10
Romans 10:11
Romans 10:14
Romans 10:17
Romans 11:20
Romans 11:22
Romans 11:23
Romans 11:26
Romans 11:29
Romans 11:30
Romans 11:32
Romans 12:1
Romans 12:2
Romans 12:3
Romans 12:5
Romans 12:6
Romans 12:11
Romans 12:14
Romans 12:15
Romans 12:16
Romans 12:19
Romans 13:1-2
Romans 13:3-4

Romans 13:11

Romans 13:13

Romans 14:1

Romans 14:15

Romans 14:17

Romans 14:23

Romans 15:7

Romans 15:9

Romans 15:13

Romans 15:18-19

Romans 15:29

Romans 16:1

Romans 16:7

Romans 16:25

Salvation

Saved!

How to Be Saved from Your Sins

Sapphira

Sickness as Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

Sarah

Objection: The LORD Stopped Sarah from Having Children \(Genesis 16:2\)

Satan

Can Satan Heal?

How Can I Know that It's God and Not the Devil Doing the Healing?

How to Deal with the Devil

How NOT to Deal with the Devil

Who or What Causes Sickness?

Satan's Epiphany Theory

Job Explained

Satan-Assisted Suicide

Selfish Dying and Satan-Assisted Suicide

Prayers God Won't Answer

Objection: God Sometimes Has an Older Person Get Sick to Make That Person Want to Come Home to Heaven

Scoffers

Can I Command a Scoffer to be Healed as a Sign to Him?

Scriptures about Healing

New Testament Scriptures about Healing

Old Testament Scriptures about Healing

Other Annotated Scriptures

Other Scriptures Referenced in Articles

Seed

God's Word Is Seed

Can I "Plant a Seed" toward My Healing by Giving to a Minister Who Sends a Letter Begging for Money?

Selfish Dying

Selfish Dying and Satan-Assisted Suicide

Selling Your Soul to the Devil

What Is the Difference Between Demonic Possession and Demonic Oppression?

Severing

Condition: Severing

Shadrach

Objection: Rather Than Claiming Healing, We Should Just Have "the Faith of Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-nego"

Shaking

Why Do People Fall Over in Healing Lines?

Condition: Shaking

Shipwrecked Faith

Objection: Preaching Divine Healing Shipwrecks the Faith of Many

Shortness

Condition: Shortness

Shrines

Should a Christian Go to a Healing Shrine?

Side Effects

Can I "Believe Away" the Side Effects of the Drugs Being Used to Treat Me?

Signs

Signs and Wonders!

Can I Command a Scoffer to be Healed as a Sign to Him?

Sin

Sickness As Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

Sickness As Chastening and Judgment in the Old Testament

If You Are Sick, Does That Mean There Is Sin in Your Life?

Does Sin in My Life Stop Me from Getting Healed?

Does UNCONFESED Sin in My Life Stop Me from Getting Healed?

Smoking

I'm Sick Because I'm Fat! Can I Claim Healing?

Snakebites

Condition: Snakebites

Song of Solomon

Song of Solomon 2:5

Song of Solomon 5:8

Song of Solomon 8:6

Sores

Condition: Sores

Sorrows

Objection: Jesus Bore Our Sorrows and Grievs, Not Our Sicknesses and Pains, on the Cross

Soulwinning

Why Are You Here?

Sovereignty

Objection: To Preach That Jesus COULD NOT Do Miracles at Nazareth Is to Deny His Deity and God's Sovereignty. Therefore, the Only Reason He Could Not Would Be That People Did Not Bring the Sick.

Objection: We Cannot Demand Healing from God Because God Is Sovereign

Sowing and Reaping

Sickness As Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

Special Children (So-Called)

Objection: Sickness Can Be Proof of God's Special Favor

Speech Impediments

Condition: Speech Impediments

Spirit Baptism

How to Be Baptized with the Holy Spirit

Spirit of Faith

Faith in the Word and the Spirit of Faith

Spiritual Warfare

The Kingdom of God Is Here NOW

Must I Engage in "Spiritual Warfare" to See the Manifestation of My Healing?

Standing in Proxy

Can I "Stand in Proxy" for Someone Else in a Healing Line?

Stephen

Objection: Stephen Was Full of Faith and Power, but Died Anyway

Stomach Disorders

Objection Paul Told Timothy to Drink Wine Instead of Believing God for Healing

Condition: Stomach Disorders

Storms

Peace in a Storm

Strenuous Activity

I Believe that I Have Received My Healing But I Do Not Feel Any Better. Should I Go Do Some Strenuous Activity that I Had Planned?

Stretch Marks

Can I Believe for Excess Flab and Stretch Marks to Disappear after I Have Lost a Lot of Weight?

Strife

Mistake: Strife

Stripes

Healed by Jesus' Stripes

Suffering

Suffering

Objection: God Sometimes Heals You Only after He Has Let You Suffer a While \(1 Peter 5:10\)

Objection: All Christians Are Clearly Told that They Will Suffer in This Life

Objection: We Need to Fulfill What Is Left of Christ's Sufferings in the Earth \(Colossians 1:24\)

Swelling

Condition: Swelling

Symptoms

I Thought I Was Healed? Why Did the Symptoms Just Return?

Is There a Difference between Having a Disease and "Just Having Its Symptoms?"

Can I Leave My Sick Child in the Church Nursery Because "By Jesus' Stripes He Was Healed?"

Objection: Faith People Sometimes Say They're Healed but Just Have Symptoms.

What Good Is It to Be Healed if You Have Symptoms?

Testimony

How NOT to Testify about Your Healing

Thanksgiving

Objection: We Are Supposed to Thank God for Everything, Which Would Include Sickness \(1 Thessalonians 5:18\)

Thayer's Greek Lexicon

Objection: Thayer's Greek Lexicon Says that the Word for "Healed" in 1 Peter 2:24 Means "to Bring About \(One's\) Salvation"

Theological Dictionary of the New Testament

Objection: The Theological Dictionary of the New Testament Says that "Healed" in 1 Peter 2:24 Refers to Restoration of Divine Fellowship

Thorn in the Flesh

Objection: God Wouldn't Heal Paul's Thorn in the Flesh

Thy Will Be Done

Objection: Jesus Said to Say, "Thy Will Be Done," Instead of Demanding Healing

Timothy

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

Objection: Paul Told Timothy to Drink Wine Instead of Believing God for Healing

Tithing

Is It Easier to Get Healed if I'm a Tither?

Titus

Titus 1:1

Titus 1:2

Titus 1:3

Titus 1:7

Titus 2:3

Titus 2:10

Titus 2:11-12

Titus 2:15

Titus 3:1

Titus 3:4

Titus 3:5-6

Titus 3:7

Titus 3:9

Tongues

How NOT to Pray for Your Healing

How to Build Your Faith

Trees

Speaking to Mountains, Trees and Diseases

Is It Right to Get in a Second Healing Line for the Same Condition?

Trials

Objection: You Should Not Try to Hurry out of Trials \(Like Sickness\), Because They Are More Precious than Gold \(1 Peter 1:7\)

Tribulation

Objection: We Are Supposed to Glory in Tribulations and Count Them All Joy \(Romans 5:3, James 1:2-4\)

Objection: We Are Promised Tribulation in This World

Trophimus

The Baseball Diamond of Healing

Objection: Paul Left Trophimus at Miletum Sick Instead of Healing Him

Trophy Theory

Job Explained

Tuberculosis

Condition: Consumption

Tumors

Condition: Tumors

Twirly Whirly Girlies

Does Having Worship Leaders Wave Green Flags Help People Get Healed?

Unbelief

Get Away from Unbelief

Can Someone Else's Unbelief Stop Me from Getting Healed?

What Is the Difference Between Unbelief and Doubt?

Objection: To Preach That Jesus COULD NOT Do Miracles at Nazareth Is to Deny His Deity and God's Sovereignty. Therefore, the Only Reason He Could Not Would Be That People Did Not Bring the Sick.

Mistake: Reading Stupid Books

Unbelievers

Would God Heal an Unbeliever?

Unconfessed Sin

Does UNCONFESSED Sin in My Life Stop Me from Getting Healed?

Unforgiveness

Mistake: Unforgiveness

Unjust Judge

Objection: Jesus Literally Said to "Keep On Asking." Therefore, We Should Bug God Like the Widow in Jesus' Parable.

Unspoken Prayer Requests

How NOT to Pray for Your Healing

Prayers God Won't Answer

Vending Machines

Objection: God Is Not a Vending Machine

Venereal Diseases

Condition: Venereal Diseases

Victory

The Temporary Curse

You Win!

Objection: Just As We Will Never Have Victory over Sin in This Life, We Will Never Have Victory over Sickness

Vine's Expository Dictionary

Objection: Vine's Expository Dictionary Says that Afflictions in Colossians 1:24 Are "Afflictions of Christ from which His Followers Must Not Shrink, Whether Sufferings of BODY or Mind"

Viruses

Do I Have the Authority to Cast Out Computer Viruses?

Objection: Disease Viruses Are Part of God's Creation and Are Therefore Good, Even Though We Often Don't Think So When We Catch Them

Visions

Objection: So-and-So Had a Vision Where Jesus Said that a Relative Who Died in the Prime of Life Was Called Home by God and Had Finished His Course

Wail-and-Travail Meetings

The Kingdom of God is Here NOW

Weakness

Condition: Weakness

Wilderness Experiences

Objection: God Sometimes Leads Faithful Saints into "Wilderness Experiences"

Will of Others

What If Someone Doesn't Want to Be Healed?

Can I "Stand in Proxy" for Someone Else in a Healing Line?

Will Power

What Faith Isn't

Wine

Objection: Paul Told Timothy to Drink Wine Instead of Believing God for Healing

Witch Hunts

What Did I Do to Deserve This Sickness?

If You Are Sick, Does That Mean that There Is Sin in Your Life?

Objection: Everything Happens for a Reason

Witchcraft

The Kingdom of God is Here NOW

Withering

Condition: Withering

Wonders

Signs and Wonders!

Word of Faith Movement

Objection: The “Word of Faith” Movement Is a Cult

Words

Different Ways to Get Healed

Say What

Working All Things for Good

Objection: God Works All Things for Good \(Romans 8:28\); This Includes Sickness

Working of Miracles

What Are the Differences Between the Gift of Faith, the Gifts of Healings, and the Working of Miracles?

Works

The Works He Did You Can Do: Here’s How

Objection: Saying That Healing Depends on You Creates a New Gospel of Works

Worms

Condition: Worms

Worry

Quit Worrying about Your Health!

Worship

How NOT to Pray for Your Healing

Wrath of God

Sickness As Chastening and Judgment in the New Testament

Yes, No and Wait

Things the New Testament DOES NOT SAY about Healing

Objection: Like Any Loving Parent, God Sometimes Has to Tell His Children NO for Their Own Good

Objection: Sometimes God Says, “Yes,” Sometimes He Says, “No,” and Sometimes He says, “Wait” When You Ask for Healing

Zechariah

Zechariah 10:1

Zechariah 12:4

Zechariah 14:12-15

Zechariah 14:16-19

About This Book and Its Author

Young's EBook About Healing Release 1.01 Release Date: May 4, 2020

Important Technical Information

This book is intended to be read using an Adobe PDF Reader. You should save this book on your local machine and then use a real Adobe PDF Reader to read it. You don't need a live Internet connection once you save this book locally.

If you follow the instructions at cstephenyoung.com, you should be able to have an enjoyable experience reading this book. Please be aware that if you try to open this book in your Internet browser instead of in the Adobe PDF Reader, you may have a less than enjoyable experience depending on the browser and how your machine is set up.

I don't recommend printing a hard copy of this book. The hard copy would not let you follow the convenient links and it would be many inches high! A physical book that almost requires you to have a forklift to carry it is not very convenient. However, you could print just certain pages that interest you or that might interest someone else. The book is NOT set up to allow cutting and pasting of content within the free Adobe PDF reader. If you want someone else to see something in this book, please email him the whole book and just tell him the page number(s) that he might want to check out. Alternatively, you can have the person download this book from cstephenyoung.com.

General Information about This Book and about Me

I'll spare you the tradition of writing this in the third person as if some biographer stepped in to write it about me. Nobody has bothered writing a biography of me yet as of this writing!

My name is C. Stephen Young (the C stands for Chester; I go by Steve). I originally put out a smaller version of this book, called Healing for Windows, as a free Windows Help file, in 1997. My goal then, as now, was to disseminate as much knowledge of divine healing to as many people as possible – for free. This expanded version would be over 4,100 pages long if it were printed out in typical fonts used in “classic faith library” books. If printed using the print conventions of some modern faith books, it would be over 7,000 pages long. At least using the PDF format allowed me to put more content on each page and keep this book under 3,000 pages long. Unlike a website, which I considered as the new format for a while, this book keeps the original premise that you can download it ONCE from the Internet and use it without an Internet connection forever. Unlike a site with thousands of links, putting this out as one file lets people copy the book and send it to whomever they wish very easily with a single attachment. You can even copy it onto a portable drive and give it to someone who has no Internet access as long as he has the free Adobe PDF file reader.

Despite its length, this book is not a “be-all-and-end-all” reference on divine healing. There are other good books out there on the subject by authors who have other insights and experience, and I’m sure that more will be written that will offer insights you won’t find here. There are many biographies of famous healing ministers available elsewhere. I don’t attempt to get into that realm, as others are better qualified to write such books. This book is not an attempt to put out a semi-plagiarized modern version of F. F. Bosworth’s excellent book “Christ the Healer” nor an attempt to combine the contents of other books I’ve read into one free volume with my name on it. I did all my own Bible research. I don’t purpose to parrot popular preachers. The result is a book that contains some teachings that I have never seen published elsewhere. Some of them contradict ideas that are fairly well-accepted at this writing. I never took anyone’s word for what something said “in the Hebrew” or “in the Greek.” I found that studying the underlying original words sometimes led to different conclusions from what I had been taught. In some cases, seminary professors objecting to the use of certain verses in faith circles had legitimate points.

The opinions expressed in this book are mine, so don’t blame anyone else for them, including the church and ministerial association to which I belong! I wrote this whole book myself without using any ghostwriters or assistants. I don’t expect that everyone will like my style or my sense of humor or the broad range of content in this book, but other books are out there written in other styles with narrower scopes.

Before I put out the 1997 first edition of this book, called Healing for Windows, I wanted to address many of the common objections to divine healing, so I deliberately set up a healing forum on America Online with the idea of not only promoting healing but collecting objections for my book to answer for readers who were sure to encounter those objections themselves. And the objections came! “Hate mail” exceeded “fan mail” by about 4 to 1. I was somewhat surprised how some of the people, including seminary professors, would call me nasty and derogatory names and accuse me of being a heretic. But that’s nothing new; most people who preach divine healing get labeled that way sooner or later by those who don’t know any better. The main arguments against healing are the same ones people use 22 years later, though I added some other lesser-known ones for this version of the book.

The original Healing for Windows ended up circulating around the world. I got some grateful emails from people who read it. Because it did not require an Internet connection once you had it, it could go into countries where open Christian preaching to general audiences was banned. However, one issue was that only people with Windows machines could use it – Apple and Linux users (and later, Android users) were left out in the cold. My most frequent request was for a version that people with non-Windows systems could use.

Once Windows 7 came out, Microsoft “deprecated” (dropped!) the internal Windows feature that allowed the processing of all Windows help files that used to work with Windows 3 and up. This rendered Healing for Windows unusable for modern Windows users. A patch could allow Windows 7 users to still use it, but after Windows 7 no patch was available – no one could use Healing for Windows anymore. I knew that at some point I would have to come up with a new version.

I reworked the book into a PDF format with thousands of internal links, Anyone who can read PDF files can now read this book. I used this opportunity to update and expand the book into its current form.

This book always uses the masculine in statements like, “Everyone has his own tastes in grammar.” This is grammatically correct and it is not intended to limit the statement to males. I didn’t need to clutter an already long book with phrases such as “Everyone has his or her own tastes in grammar” or use the commonly-spoken but grammatically mismatched “Everyone has their own tastes in grammar.” So I’m not sexist, just in case you were wondering.

Within Scripture verses, my comments and clarifications that are not part of the original text are in square brackets. For example: “Surely he has borne our griefs [literally sicknesses] and carried out sorrows [literally pains].” These remarks are not found in the official King James Version, which I use throughout unless otherwise noted. I am not a KJV stickler; I don’t think that people in other countries have to learn 1611 English in order to read God’s true Word or that no one had the real Word until the day of King James. However, it is one of the most faithful translations from the original languages, and most importantly for me, it’s in the public domain. I use too much Scripture to be permitted to use other copyrighted versions within their licensing terms. Any time that a particular part of a verse is underlined, that is my emphasis on that part of it – nothing is underlined in the original text.

You are welcome to post this book on online forums, websites, download centers, and so on, email it to all your friends and make non-audio CD’s and thumb drives with this book as a PDF file on it, as long as you don’t modify it and you do not charge anyone for it or the media onto which you copy it. I’m not charging anyone for it, so it would be unfair for others to make money off a book that I put all the work into and gave out for free.

I thank God for the people whom the previous version helped to receive healing, and I expect that far more people will be healed as they read the truths contained in this version. Don’t worry, I’ll get an ample reward in heaven for blessing the Body of Christ (and maybe some people who aren’t yet Christians) with this book.

The fact that I am offering this book free to everyone in the world is not intended to make any kind of statement against ministries that charge for their books, CD's and DVD's. I have absolutely no problem with any ministry that makes money on product sales. If the ministry is good, I hope that it makes a lot of money! My motive behind the free distribution is to get the message of divine healing out as quickly as possible to as many people as possible, including people in places where Christian books cannot be sold or distributed openly.

This book has 220 primary discussions with 2 side discussions reachable from other ones, answers to 204 questions and refutations of 426 objections. The total book (without the index) contains over a million words. It has been a labor of love.

As of this book's release date, this is my only book, though this one file could easily have been a collection of smaller books – they just couldn't link to each other as easily with hyperlinks. My only other "product" at this writing is my 2009 music CD entitled "Be Healed" that has about an hour and fifteen minutes of original healing songs that are consistent with the teachings in this book. I played all the instruments and sang all the vocals and background vocals. (There are even cases of 30-piece chorales in the background where I sang all 30 tracks one at a time. Modern digital technology is a wonderful thing.) At this writing, it's still available from Amazon, Apple, CD Baby and other outlets, and there is a link for "hard-copy" CD's on my website, cstephenyoung.com. There, that is the sole "commercial pitch" in this entire book! (I've just proved that I'm not against Christian product sales.)

I deliberately do NOT list the sources of the objections answered in this book because I'm not out to embarrass anyone by name. Besides, this is a book to help you understand healing, not a term paper. So you won't see footnotes or the word "ibid," and I felt free to make up some of my own words that would flunk any spell checker just because I felt like it!

This book is yours to enjoy free of charge. No donation is requested.

At this writing, I do not have an office staff that can answer questions and take prayer requests. Other ministries have prayer hotlines that you can call. While you can go to cstephenyoung.com for my current contact information, I can't guarantee a reply.

My wife Rosie and I founded and co-pastored a church in Maine for many years, though at this writing the Lord has led us to travel instead of pastor. We are now based in the Blue Ridge Mountains in Eastern Tennessee. Before pastoring, I preached healing in the United States and overseas and also led worship and played/sang on worship teams at various conferences here and abroad.

I'll answer a question that I get asked a lot, usually in jest. No, I am not the former NFL quarterback. I am a famous-name preacher. A quarterback made the name Steve Young famous, so I have a famous name. However, I am a different Steve Young. He was a passer and I was a pastor. We both labored in the field, hoped for good receptions, went for conversions and did plenty of kneeling, but only one of us thought that possession was a good thing.

While I go by Steve among friends, I found out that there was an unrelated Steve Young Ministries that also happened to put out music and there was a famous secular singer/songwriter named Steve Young who lived in Tennessee, which is where I also live at this writing. So I go by C. Stephen Young as an artist and C. Stephen Young Ministries in ministry to avoid confusion.

I don't claim to know everything on the subject of healing – nobody does. This book is my effort to share what I DO know. I want people to receive the healing that Jesus already paid for them to have.

I hope that you enjoy reading my book as much as I enjoyed writing it!

Steve